Thoroughbreds Tackle First Opponent Of Season Monday

INITIAL TILT WILL TEST BREDS' NEW TYPE OFFENSE

Coach Jim Moore's Murray State Thoroughbreds will make the curtain on college football for Murray and this vicinity Monday night, September 22, when they will endeavor to entertain the highly-touted Culver-Stockton eleven of Missouri in the Carlisle Cutchin Stadium at 8 o'clock.

That Culver-Stockton plays a game Friday night, September 19, and then travels on to Murray for Monday night's affair is proof enough for Coach Jim Moore to believe that the Missouri team are strong in reserve strength and have a large, tough bunch of grid experts.

Moore stated this morning that at different times it would probably be hard to make necessary substitutions, especially if injuries are numerous.

For the opening kickoff the Thoroughbreds will present a giant line and a rather small group of backs. Of course this set-up calls for quick-opening plays, passes and open football tactics.

In checking over his probable starters for Monday night, Coach Moore pointed out that the tackle positions were especially strong and likewise the all-important end posts. For the end spots Bob Salmons and Jack Haines, both regulars from last year's team, are slated for a great season and it now appears they will have some assistance from Ellison and Tucker, sophomores who are showing up nicely.

Roger Fuller, a reserve guard and Jerry Glover, switched from tackle position, are out in front as guard candidates. Marquess and Nichols will see plenty of the pigskin game from the scrimmage line.

With "Big George" Speth and Jess Hahn, both starters from last season, Coach Moore is optimistic over their capabilities in taking the tackle. In Ted Sessens and Rew White and Tom Johnson he has a pair of excellent boys to shove in for relief roles.

Harold Fuson, Bill Lee and Brack Sanford are in a 3-way battle for the pivot office. Sanford apparently will get first call because of his edge in weight.

According to the Bluebloods' coaching staff, the backfield presents a problem this year that has hitherto caused no trouble at Murray State. Murray State will present the lightest backfield combination in the history of the college. In Ted Sessens Coach Moore has a brilliant back, one capable of seating with the best of that class back, however the former Mayfield flash has lost much time in rounding into condition for college football and weighs in at the top of 180 pounds. Bob Perkins can honest 180-pounder, will add punch to Moore's Midgets.

Carl Ferrara, one of the best defensive players ever to don the Gold and Blue and who packs a mean wallop going into the line, is tipping the scales at 150 pounds this season, but should pound Ferrara will be hard to beat. Jack Lambert will take over the driving post when "Little Carl" isn't on the job.

Gene Syers will get into the opening fray as a blocking back and Gene serves up a good job at the line. In Ted Sessens, Pate Koss is suffering with an injured shoulder and will be kept off the field Monday night. Both lads weigh 175 each and are fine blockers.

A MESSAGE FROM DR. RICHMOND

On Monday, September 22, Murray State will open its nineteenth year of work, and we hope and believe it will be the best year in the history of the college. During these years, this institution has conferred over fifteen hundred degrees and has won and now maintains unimpaired standing in every standardizing agency to which it should belong. It has established itself on a most substantial basis. Few schools have developed as rapidly and have won favorable recognition as speedily as Murray. This is a matter of gratification and pride to our people and is a challenge to them to do everything possible to maintain the high standing that the college now enjoys. All records for enrollment have been broken during each of the last two years. One can scarcely hope for another record-breaking enrollment this year, for reasons that are well understood; but every indication points to a good enrollment; and those of us here on the campus are looking forward to a great year. It is the deep-seated purpose of faculty and students alike to make it the best year of all thus far, and the people of Murray and western Kentucky can aid us in this high endeavor, and we ask their sympathetic support to this end.

Our Big Circulation Drive Has Been Extended One Week

Campaign Will Close September 27

The Ledger & Times has extended the subscription campaign one more week, thus giving the candidates the benefit of third period votes up to and including Saturday, September 20, after which all subscriptions will be placed in the sealed ballot box to be counted by the judges after the closing hour, 7 p. m., Saturday, September 27.

One week longer to run your score up in the Ledger & Times' subscription drive. Tuesday, September 16, the hour will pass swiftly and 7 o'clock Saturday, September 27, will come all too soon for those who are interested.

There is more interest being manifested in the campaign just at this time than at any other time during the campaign. Calloway county candidates are now doing better work than at any other time. Their friends are rallying to their support in a very satisfactory manner.

The goal is now in sight! Each candidate for the $300.00 and other cash prizes can now take his or her final aim and go forward with a winning stride.

Each contestant is requested to check up carefully with the campaign manager some time during the next week that his or her count may be verified before the shadow of a doubt.

Who will get the $300.00 and who will win the other cash prizes, the candidates themselves will have to answer that question.

No subscriptions whatever will be accepted through the Campaign Department the last few days from Monday morning until the closing hour of the campaign—7 o'clock Saturday evening, September 27.

When the final hour arrives the judges will break the seal, unlock the box, and immediately thereafter, or as soon as the votes can be issued on subscriptions contained therein, the last count will begin. The winners will be determined by merely adding the published totals which appear for the last time in the next issue of the Ledger & Times to reserve votes and those contained in the ballot box. There'll be no waiting, no complicated count, but simply a matter of adding the totals and announcing the winners.

Let each candidate exert himself or herself another week, and then the strain will be over. All that will be left then will be the shaking of the hands of the winners.

After attending the public schools of Murray, Mr. Churchill began working for himself, although then only 20 years of age, and after teaching school in his native country for one term he began learning the cabinetmaking trade at Hickman, Ky., continuing his apprenticeship at St. Louis, Mo. In 1888 he returned to Murray and established himself here as a funeral director and embalmer, being the leading man in his profession in Calloway County. The principles of the democratic party were in accord with his personal ideas. For many years he served Calloway County as coroner.

Mr. Stokes stated that this preview of the new 1942 model cars would take place at the Louisville Motor Company and would be attended by dealers throughout the state. The Ford Company has contributed so many of its plants to national defense that it was first thought that the new models would be delayed but a hurry-up program was effected and the schedule met.

TIGERS TO OPPOSE GLEASON ELEVEN AT 7:45 O'CLOCK

With "Lady Luck" continuing to be good to Coaches Ty Holland and Dub Russell, the Murray High School Tigers went through their last scrimmage session Wednesday before their opening game Friday night with Gleason, Tenn., in the Murray-High School stadium.

Early practices had been built around a well rounded-out backfield of Fenton, Buchanan, Williams and Polly which will have plenty of strength from the line which is composed of men such as Crider, Cunningham, Gibbs, Blalock, Saunders and Russell.

Coach Holland has more than 40 candidates out for the team, and declared that reserves are more than a year than they've been in several years. He was rather pessimistic about his team's chances for winning a major percentage of their games this year, but with the fine crop of youngsters who are out he believes there is a good chance to spring a few surprises.

With very little information obtainable about the Gleason eleven, Coach Holland is sparing no effort in the Friday night game and he and his "Tiger" are ready to turn the "play bag" upside down to bring a victory for the opening encounter.

The Tigers have taken on added life during the practice sessions this week and according to Coach Williams, who by the way will present a beautiful running game as one would wish to see, and Co-Captain Burl Cunningham the boys have the ability and spirit to push over a win Friday.

Although Coach Joe Brown, former Murray State grid star, refused to issue a statement for the press, we may rest assured that Joe and his team will be out to show Murray how it's done down in Tennessee.

In all probability Stock will present a well-balanced team brimming over with powerhouse tactics. This is Joe's first season as a coach and his Murray friends will be glad to welcome him back to Murray for a visit.

Coach Holland said that no doubt Friday night would find Odgen, Mason, Parker, Stone, Max Blalock, Starks, Huie, Hamrick and other dependable reserves would get in the game for some action.

Officials for the Murray-Gleason tilt will be F. Siedel, Paul Perdue and Lanam of Paducah.

The game will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

The Murray playing field is in excellent condition considering that it has been conditioned only two years. The stadium, one of the best high school structures in the state, will seat an unusually large number of persons. The lighting system has been checked by experts and they have given their o. k. on the amount of light falling on the playing field. All in all, Murray High is ready for her seasonal debut on the gridiron and a large crowd is expected to be present to lend necessary incentive to the snarling Murray Tigers.

For Murray running attack will offer speed, maneuverability, cut backs and power-drivers and a potentially brilliant line with plenty of weight to make a bid for conference recognition.

The Murray High Band, which just last week won first prize in a contest with several other school bands at Fulton, will be in full dress and will perform at halftime. The band is making excellent progress.

Lasting Impressions

Murray State will open its doors next week to hundreds of boys and girls from over the state and from other states. These young people come to secure a higher education and they are influenced not only by the college but by our town itself. We are proud of Murray, its homes, its churches, its citizenry. We feel we have something to offer these students in the way of hospitality and friendliness—something in the way of showing them how people really live under the true American way of life. Let's make our efforts count for more this year.

The world is torn under the stress of many conflicting plans; but we firmly believe in the old, safe, secure and neighborly American way. Let's put these values before our young students that they may carry what are in reality the ultimate values of life. Murray has a great opportunity to leave lasting impressions. Murray will accept this task with pride and carry it through to a successful end. Lessons learned in youth are lessons carried forever.

Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt

"A touch of sympathy makes the whole world kin," and the nation mourns with President Roosevelt in the loss of his mother. The aged Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, eighty-six, died Sunday (Sept. 7) at her ancestral home overlooking the Hudson at Hyde Park. She was spared a long illness, and her distinguished son was at her bedside when she died.

Gently born, and marrying likewise into a family of prominence and affluence, Mrs. Roosevelt lived to become the best known mother in the world. She had the grace and the strength of body and mind to share, on occasions, the attentions bestowed upon the President, but she never intruded, and never spoke foolishly. Her pride in him was natural but not excessive, and she never committed an act or uttered a syllable that irked the country.—Elizabethtown News, Sept. 9.

To make fairly sure that an unpleasant job won't be done, plan to do it yourself.

Attend the Calloway County Fair, October 1-3, and view with pride the agricultural progress and stability of our county.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS THINK

HUMANS ALSO HERD

When we use the word "herd," we usually associate it with cattle or sheep. The word is used as a noun to designate the name of the group and also is used as a verb to indicate the act of controlling such a group. The more docile the animals, in the herd, the less authority and force necessary to control them. Some herds, such as buffalo, will follow a leader and will also be guarded by other males who can also, and will, on proper occasions, fight. Sheep will follow any leader who happens to be in front. A stockyard company once had a trained goat that would lead herds of sheep from the stockyards to the packing houses for slaughter.

In many parts of the world today human beings are being herded like cattle. In some countries they are huddled together like sheep, helplessly awaiting their drive. A herd is helpless against the authority and power of the herder.

The word "herd" may be used as applying to human beings today because of the comparative helplessness between the people and those who have been permitted to seize the power and authority to herd them. In the old world it is not only a matter of controlling the people by force of arms but also of controlling them through controlling their supply of food and other necessities of life.

The important difference between the herding of men and the herding of animals comes from the fact that animals are herded by a force and an authority outside of their own group, but mankind has invented the authority and the force and then allows one of its own group to exercise that authority and force to the point of treating the rest of the group as animals.

When dictators grab control of a country, they take control of the economic lives of the people as well. Because they use fighters to man the machines of destruction used to keep people in subjection, the dictators must also use a very potent weapon called propaganda. They must lie to get desired results. They must prevent others from telling the truth. People must be convinced they are fighting for a good cause. Somehow or other people just will not stand up and fight for something they believe to be wrong.

In these days of delegated authority, the only way people can know the difference between truth and propaganda is to have a free press, free speech and free assembly. In addition to these there must be a standard of morals and an accepted theory of the rights of man to guide us in shaping our course. To preserve the best that we have, and to make it possible to go on to better things, there must rest in the hands of the people the power to remove ineffective or improper leadership. We still have that power in this country—may we never lose it.—Woodruff Randolph.

This Week In Defense

Defense Planning
The Supply Priorities and Allocation Board ordered its executive director, Donald M. Nelson, to compile an overall list of U. S. and lend-lease defense needs as part of a detailed master plan for the defense effort. The SPAB ruled that no materials will be allowed for new plants for civilian goods if the materials were needed for military purposes.

Aid to Britain
British Foreign Minister Eden informed the United States that materials received by Great Britain under the Lend-Lease Act were used exclusively for war purposes and that none is being diverted to private channels. Secretary of State Hull said there had been some misunderstanding about British exports and the message explained what the two Governments are undertaking to do cooperatively.

Federal Security Administrator
McNutt said the U. S. Employment Service plans to seek several thousand American specialists between 18 and 50 for employment by the British Civilian Technical Corps as radio and automobile mechanics, electrical wiremen, instrument repairers, metal workers and other technical tradesmen for service in England repairing vital equipment used by the British.

The Commodity Credit Corporation
made available for Lend-Lease operations in the past two weeks 100,000 bushels of corn, 1,345,000 bushels of corn. The Red Cross announced it will send a delegation to Russia to study and report on most urgent needs in that country and how to meet them.

Ships Built
The Maritime Commission announced the largest mass launching of ships since the World War. Twelve ships will be launched on September 27 when 12 ships will be launched. The 500-ship long-range program are being delivered to operators between September 1 and September 19, making a total of 110 vessels completed under the program.

The Navy Department
announced the launching of two new destroyers, one of which will be named "Montana." The Maritime Commission said to meet increased demand for officers in the merchant marine, applications must be submitted to the Commission before November 1.

Ships Attacked
The Maritime Commission announced the U. S. freighter "Steel Salsar" was sunk in the Gulf of Mexico. The State Department reported the "Sessa," operated by an American firm, was sunk near Iceland with 24 men lost. The "Montana," an American-owned ship was torpedoed on the way to Iceland with a cargo of lumber.

Army Safety
The War Department estimated that, despite rigors of field maneuvers this fall, there will be a considerable loss of life and death rate for the 732,000 troops participating in a corresponding number of civilians. The estimate predicted 236 deaths and 40,000 admissions to hospitals for disease and injury.

Air
Assistant War Secretary for Air Lovett told the press Army war games will provide a preview of the "world's finest military aircraft" by the end of the year. We still have a long way to go, although production is now being enabled to equip combat units with one squadron every other day.

The Air Corps
announced it is testing a new type of flying fortress which is bigger, and has more fire power than models now in use by the U. S. and Great Britain.

Oil, Gasoline
The Special Senate Committee investigating the oil situation said the only source of petroleum products is a shortage in a large amount, which is desired. A statement saying the oil situation is a "critical one" and the low condition of petroleum stocks on the East coast continues to "widen."

The Security
for public cooperation continues. SPAB refused to grant priority on steel plates for construction of a 1,500-mile petroleum pipeline from Texas to New York. Mr. Davies said, the Southeastern pipeline between Port St. Joe, Fla. and Chattanooga, Tenn., will deliver 1,200,000 gallons of gasoline and other petroleum products daily to Georgia and Tennessee within 60 days.

Prices, Inflation Control
The Labor Department announced retail food prices are at the highest level in 10 years—123 per cent higher than a year ago. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, speaking in Boston, said "inflation is no longer distant. We are facing it and... if we are selfish and shortsighted... the consequences may haunt us and our children for years; but if we look at the problem with firm resolve we can beat this thing."

Mr. Morgenthau
said control of consumer installment credit, purchase of defense bonds and stamps and ex-emption from war taxes are enough to prevent consumer purchasing power from forcing prices up. He suggested extension and improvement of unemployment compensation "wage" for the workers and reduction in non-essential expenditures.

New Plants
The Defense Plant Corporation and the War Department authorized and awarded contracts to 20 contractors for the construction of six aluminum, magnesium and ordnance plants, totaling $94,579,000. OPM recommended to the War Department construction of an aluminum plant at Troutdale, Ore., to produce 90,000,000 pounds annually.

Farming Out
Acting Navy Secretary Forrestal announced creation of the Naval Contracts Distribution Division to cooperate with the OPM in speeding up production by using facilities of small plants and employees whose industries are threatened by shutdown or dislocation because of priorities. Undersecretary of War Patterson directed the Army's 815 purchasing offices to bring more of the nation's industrial facilities into the defense program "to eliminate distress caused by loss of business" because of defense priorities.

Defense Housing
The Defense Housing Coordinator distributed to all Federal Reserve banks and branches application forms for special credit for the repair and remodeling of homes in defense areas.

Agriculture
Agriculture Secretary Wickard announced the 1942 farm program, calling for all-time record production—especially of hogs, eggs, evaporated milk, skim milk, cheese and chickens—to improve nutrition in this country and to aid other nations.

KENTUCKY BOYS WILL NOT BE MOVED TO INDIANA

WITH THE 38TH DIVISION IN LOUISIANA, Sept. 17—Persistent rumors that the 18,000 men of the 38th Division (Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia) would be moved to a new training camp near Columbus, Ind., at the close of the current maneuver period were declared to be without foundation today by Major General Daniel S. Sultan, division commander.

"I dislike being a source of disappointment to many of our men who had hoped to be transferred to the camp in the Division's home area—but I know of no plan to move the Division to any other station," General Sultan said.

"Anything can happen in the Army but the only move definitely scheduled for us is that the entire Division will return to Camp Shelby as soon as practicable after the close of the maneuvers."

The 38th Division will return to its old place in the Fifth Army Corps about October 1 and will continue its training program at Camp Shelby as a unit of that corps. So far as I know we will not take part in the late fall maneuvers in North Carolina."

Further denial of the rumored move to Indiana came from Melvin Lottetter, editor of the Columbus Republican, in a letter to the editor of The Reville, official Camp Shelby newspaper.

"War Department officials insist that this camp has never been authorized beyond the planning survey," Mr. Lottetter wrote. "There never has been any statement as to what troops will be housed here when, and if the camp is built. No signs saying 'Future Home of the 38th Division' stand on the proposed campsite unless some way has at some time or another erected one."

Parents Asked to Assist in Forming Bicycle Club

With bicycles riding becoming an ever increasing sport in Murray and with it, of course, increasing danger of traffic accidents to their riders, it has been suggested that a cyclist club be formed among the riders of Murray in an effort to promote a safety campaign.

No objection to bicycle riding was pointed out by city and school officials but it was thought wise to organize the cyclists and develop rules and regulations and each member be presented a club card.

and when riders are caught breaking club rules the offender will be asked to refrain from riding for a certain number of days as a fine for his reckless riding.

The entire set-up would be one with one single thought in mind—the protection of children bicycle riders. There should be some set rules as at time one can see cyclists riding down the street with a part of the riders on one side and a part on the other and it makes it extremely dangerous for all concerned, especially when this practice occurs at dusk or in the evening.

The parents of Murray are sincerely urged to lead in the formation of such a club. It is thought that city policemen and state patrolmen would be glad to assist in such a movement.

New Nash Cars On Display Here

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 17.—Harvesting the fruit of a long-term planning program, which provided Nash with new production lines, machines and dies before the national defense emergency set in, Nash Motors Division of the Nash-Kelvinator Corporation this week presented 15 new 1942 models. They are in three series of five models each and include the low-price Nash Ambassador '400, the medium-priced Nash Ambassador Six and the Nash Ambassador Eight.

Four years ago," W. A. Blos, general sales manager, said, "Nash began preparing to build a new and advanced automobile to enter a car in the Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth mass market. Millions were invested in new machines, new and advanced mass production lines, and new tools. This most complete modernization of an automobile plant in years was virtually completed before the national defense emergency set in, and so Nash was in a position to go ahead with its completely new cars."

The cars are now on display at the Murray Nash showrooms at Parker's Garage.

MEN WANTED FOR U. S. NAVAL RESERVE NOW

According to an announcement made this week in Washington by order of Secretary of the Navy Knox, "All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years but, if a man enlists today and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be returned to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over, and will not be required to complete his four year term in active service.

Four classes of service in the United States Naval Reserve need men urgently today. They are Class V-3, which includes radio and communications; V-5, aviation; V-6, for trade specialists or men desiring trade or vocational training; V-7, fleet officers. A more detailed outline of each class follows below.

Men with specialized training in radio, searchlight and semaphore signaling or Morse telegraphy may be enrolled in Class V-3, the communications class of the Naval Reserve. These men will be enlisted as petty officers with ratings according to their degrees of proficiency. Pay for men enrolling in this group ranges from $60 a month for a petty officer third class to $80 a month for a chief petty officer. An additional allowance of $1.15 per day is made for men with dependents who have the rating of petty officer second class or higher.

LIVING FROM THE FARM

By RACHEL ROWLAND,
Home Demonstration Agent

The busy homemaker intent on filling her remaining jars with food should not overlook the possibilities of drying various foods. With such an abundance of apples every pantry or storage room should have a good supply of this fruit dried for use during the winter and spring months.

The process of drying apples is simple. The apples should be mature but not soft. They are peeled, quartered and sliced quite thin. Any bruised places should be removed as these will dry a darker color. Spread the slices thinly on trays or on cloths or heavy papers, which are then placed in the direct sun. Try to place the trays where they will be in the sun all day.

The apples are thoroughly dry when a handful of slices gripped firmly in the hand has an elastic springy feel; and when the hand is opened the slices separate at once. They will become hard if left in the sun too long.

Dried products should be properly stored to keep them from absorbing moisture and to prevent infestation by insects. When the apples are completely dry place them in containers that are airtight and easily resealed after opening. Tin cans with close fitting tops are usually available. Glass jars, as satisfactory except that they do not exclude light.

Paper or cloth bags are not at all satisfactory for storing dried foods unless the product is inspected often and regularly for moisture and insects.

By C. O. BONDURANT,
Associate County Agent

At this season Calloway County farm people are very busy cutting and curing tobacco, and those jobs are, and must be, given first consideration. But, these farm families which are wide-awake and doing the best job are not passing up any possible opportunities for getting lots of food stored up for winter, and getting all land, which has been in cultivation this year, seeded to some kind of fall and winter growing crop which will provide a protective cover for the land and thus save soil, plant food, and fertility that would waste away through erosion and leaching, if the land were left without a growing cover.

The question might well be asked, what has this "Winter Cover Crop" idea got to do directly with "Living From the Farm." The point is that living from the farm in the future is dependent upon saving the soil and plant food now. Many farm families are planning to take advantage of the AAA ruling which permits the use of AAA phosphate on gardens, provided the garden is seeded to a winter growing cover crop. Chab grass and corn stalks provide some protective, dry mulch, but are not winter-growing cover crops and will not take up plant food to prevent its leaching and wasting away.

Better Gardens Next Year

Gardening on an enlarged scale in town and country alike next year, as suggested by the Kentucky Agricultural Defense Board, in a statement issued by the chairman, M. D. Royce of Winchester. Backyards and vacant lots in towns and cities are to be used, and farmers are urged to have bigger and better gardens.

The garden program is launched months in advance of the 1942 planting season so that family heads will have time to plan and to prepare garden plots, to secure the use of vacant lots and to turn, fertilize and sow cover crops.

Once again food may be the deciding factor in war, the state defense board chairman pointed out. In any event, he feels that a good supply of garden products—even an oversupply—may be better than risking a shortage of food. Families with gardens can produce at least a part of their needs, and thereby release canned products for shipment abroad, he pointed out.

MAGIC IN THE FUR DEPT.

HERE I AM, MRS. JONES JUST WHAT YOU WANT

Did you ever—we mean You, Madam—walk through a store and have a coat fairly leap out at you and proclaim: "We were made for each other!"

Well, that's just about what happens in stores that have found out how to use the new Fluorescent Lighting!

LIKE MOST "magic" this kind has a simple scientific explanation. Scientists say it actually takes time to see—and that the speed with which your eye can focus on new objects depends on the amount of light! So if you're walking through a store, and the light is not up to par, your eye can't help missing bargains you would like to stop and look at.

IT USED TO BE difficult for stores to get good light—really enough light—in sufficient quantities to put everything in the "spotlight." But not with fluorescent lighting! For this new kind of light is actually a brand-new light source, so much cooler and more efficient that it comes close to bringing real daylight indoors!

READ THIS IF YOU OWN A STORE!

You've already heard a lot about fluorescent lighting with its long, cool tubes of "indoor daylight." But how much do you really know about it?

Did you know, for example, that it can double or triple the light you now have and yet produce less glare? Do you know exactly what shade of white (there are several) will produce the best effect in your store? Do you know where to get attractive fixtures that will give long, dependable service?

We'll be glad to supply the answers to all these questions and many more. Phone us and get the facts today!

EAT TO LIVE BETTER

By M. E. REATED TRAINING CLASS

MILK

Do you know that there are about fifty billion quarts of milk distributed to American homes a year? This makes the dairy business one of the largest in the country.

Milk is known as one of our best nutritive foods. It contains calcium for our teeth, fat and nearly all of the vitamins. Is this not important to our national defense, which is becoming more essential every day? Many of our young men were rejected in the draft because of bad teeth. There is no excuse for this. The United States has the best food that can be bought on the market. Also the Federal government realizing its value has underwritten the market in order to increase production.

Milk is plentiful in the United States and not expensive. Today we have no worry concerning the purity and freshness of milk. The farmers have healthy, tested cows. After the milk is approved by experts at the dairy, it is pasteurized. By pasteurization is meant heating to 143 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes. This kills all harmful bacteria but leaves the milk fresh and with the same food value.

There is real profit for the farmer in the milk industry. He usually sells through farmers' associations that act to adjust prices. A buyer arranges the milk contract with the individual farmer. He is assured a good price for his milk and cream, and knows that he is being treated fairly.

Therefore let us help the farmers and ourselves by drinking at least a quart of milk a day. It is a refreshing, wholesome, drink containing the best food values necessary to good health.

Robert Schumann once remarked in a letter to a friend concerning his Third Symphony: "The 'Rhineland' that it is always important that a work which cost so much time and labor should be reproduced in the best possible manner. Were he alive today, we may be certain that he would have been more than satisfied with the magnificent recording and interpretation given this romantic and joyous brain-child of his by Bruno Walter and the New York Philharmonic-Symphony. Schumann's original intention was to portray in the symphony as a whole the joyous folk life along the Rhine."

MILK

Do you know that there are about fifty billion quarts of milk distributed to American homes a year? This makes the dairy business one of the largest in the country.

Milk is known as one of our best nutritive foods. It contains calcium for our teeth, fat and nearly all of the vitamins. Is this not important to our national defense, which is becoming more essential every day? Many of our young men were rejected in the draft because of bad teeth. There is no excuse for this. The United States has the best food that can be bought on the market. Also the Federal government realizing its value has underwritten the market in order to increase production.

Milk is plentiful in the United States and not expensive. Today we have no worry concerning the purity and freshness of milk. The farmers have healthy, tested cows. After the milk is approved by experts at the dairy, it is pasteurized. By pasteurization is meant heating to 143 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes. This kills all harmful bacteria but leaves the milk fresh and with the same food value.

There is real profit for the farmer in the milk industry. He usually sells through farmers' associations that act to adjust prices. A buyer arranges the milk contract with the individual farmer. He is assured a good price for his milk and cream, and knows that he is being treated fairly.

Therefore let us help the farmers and ourselves by drinking at least a quart of milk a day. It is a refreshing, wholesome, drink containing the best food values necessary to good health.

30 Sophomores On Kentucky Grid Squad

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 17.—Success this fall for the University of Kentucky Wildcats rests largely in the hands of 30 men—30 erratic sophomores.

And as Ab Kirwan, ringmaster of the Cats said, "It is hard to tell what a sophomore is going to do on a football field—or for that matter, anywhere."

"Some of the boys have the stuff to stand the pressure of varsity competition, while others simply blow up. I've got a dozen sophomores who will make excellent material this season if they can stand the pressure."

"Six of my ends are sophomores—untired for varsity work. The other two ends are juniors and only one has played enough to earn a letter. Say, that puts a coach on a spot. You never know what a sophomore might do in a game."

"Now at the tackle position I have only two experienced players—Clyde Johnson, 230-pound Ashland boy, and Clark Wood, the South's best sophomore tackle last season. When these two boys are ready to come out of a game, the only thing I can do is substitute a sophomore. Just think, two juniors and four sophomores working at tackle."

"Take the guards for instance—here again it's a fifty-fifty proposition. Four juniors and four sophomores. I've got five centers and four of them are sophomores—all green. The fullback position is the only backfield post where I have more juniors and seniors than sophomores. I have two juniors, senior and two sophomores. The halfbacks are even—five sophomores, four seniors and a junior. At the quarterback post, the juniors are one up—three to two. If they come through everything might be okay, but if they don't!"

Stock Show Notes

As all of you know we are enabled to use the various tobacco barns in Murray to hold the fair from year to year free of rental charge through the courtesy of the owners, without these buildings we could not have the fair we do.

September 26 and 27 have been set as the dates on which to get this year ready for the fair. A great deal of work needs to be done in arranging the tie places for the cattle, make tables for the farm crops, home-makers displays, and otherwise arrange for chickens, hogs, etc.

Men who are interested in this fair are requested to be at the A. G. Outland & Co. Barn early Friday, September 26, bring your hammer, saw and pinch bar if you have one, if enough men come we can do most of the needed work that day.

All Smith-Hughes teachers and their FFA boys are requested to be there early Saturday, September 27, also with tools, as we want to complete in every detail arrangements for the fair, so that nothing remains to be done on the day to start entering the exhibits on Tuesday.

A great number of tobacco baskets will have to be moved. If anyone questions the results of the "Live at Home" program that the Agricultural Extension Department has been pushing all this year they should look at some of the fruit cellars or storages in the county.

One cellar with four shelves 26 feet long and 12 inches wide was loaded up with over 300 cans of most everything you could think of to eat and there were just four tin that family and the lady remarked that she had several other things to can yet this fall.

It is from these home stores, houses that the Homemakers club will bring the foods for these 15 special "Live at Home" displays to be shown in the Woman's department at the County Fair, October 1, 2 and 3.

If you haven't canned all you need this year, better look these displays over closely and plan to do a better job next year, in fact, a lot of things can still be canned for this coming winter.

After eating the good things their wives have canned for winter some of the men are going to be so much overweight they won't be able to even set a tobacco plant next year unless they get down on their knees.

If you have had trouble persuading your wife to put up all the things you will want to eat this winter, better see that she takes in these special Homemakers food shows and see if you can't shame her into doing likewise. Of course better be prepared to grow what she tells you next year and furnish plenty of cans and stove-wood to cook with.

The merchant's booth that attracted more attention from the kiding than any other was the doll booth of the National Stores. It was well arranged and had every kind of doll you could think of and all the girls of doll playing are managed in one way and another to get their parents to inspect it closely. I can imagine Santa Claus kept notes on lot he heard at that booth last year.

Every merchant could well afford to have booths, display some timely, seasonable merchandise and then keep some member of the firm at the booth to meet all the fair visitors, because most every one in the county will pass by these booths once and probably several times during the three days and two nights of the 1941 fair.

The committee of the special new feature—the school program are not talking for publication, but if you don't arrange to be at the main building at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, October 23, you will miss the show you will ever be able to see for a dime. Eight high schools will be entered with each trying to win the top prize for their school. Better see it!

Most everybody loves a dog and if you don't have a dog to show then come and see who wins at the County-wide Dog show on Thursday, October 3, at 7:30 p. m.

We understand that the sheriff won't try to collect dog tax nor the assessor list your dogs for taxation at any value you might place on your favorite hound or hunter while under the influence of showing your dogs.

Two more weeks until the show is under way—brushes curryscombs and elbow grease will do a lot to improve the appearance of those cattle, hogs and hogs.

Rollie Kelly promised the Fair committee that if he were given the extra prize-money that he got that the poultry show would cost less than ever held in Murray, and sure you poultry men would not want to make Rollie a fiber for lack of bringing in those chickens and all in show shape, too.

If you haven't a fair catalogue there are a few left. Get one at the Chamber of Commerce office in rear of Peoples Savings Bank building next time you are in town, and then check this catalogue to see who makes the fair position—their names are all in that booklet.

The directors have arranged to incorporate the Fair under the Non-Profit Public Enterprise Corporation Act of Kentucky.

Frequently the people who want publicity can't get it, and those who get it don't want it.

NYA Boys Receive Navy Posters

Navy posters, pictorials, and literature describing existing opportunities in the Navy have been sent to all NYA boys projects in the state. Robert K. Salvers, State Youth Administrator, announced today. Project supervisors were instructed to display the posters and pictorials on their projects and to make the literature available to all male youth under their supervision.

"The National Youth Administration," Mr. Salvers said, "wants to cooperate in every way possible with the U. S. Recruiting Bureau's efforts to adequately man our expanding Navy. Many of the youth working on our projects will be glad to know what the Navy offers them. Many of them will be able to offer a great deal to the Navy."

We are enjoying cool weather with little showers nearly every day.

Some are cutting hay and the reports of the men say the crop is a good one.

Try Jones has his mare in a pasture belonging to his mother in an effort to wean his fine milk cow.

TVA workers have cleared Jonathan Creek from the Tennessee River to Henry Bryant farm near here.

Kentucky dam workers are also working on the Charley Burken farm, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Will Wyatt. They are clearing the land in preparation of digging a ditch.

Mr. and Mrs. Toy Jones have returned to their home here after visiting in Detroit since August 4.

Misses Julia and Junior Ramsey, daughter of John Ramsey, entered high school at Alamo, their young brother, Equip, goes with them to Alamo school.

Miss Mae Woodall is preparing nicely with her school here.

If the coming winter is a severe cold one here we will have plenty reports of blizzards and snow.

TVA employees are now working on the J. W. Jones farm known as the Swift place. Better giving sentences about the Bible spoken by the great men is worthy of a place in the Scrapbook.

The frequent showers have caused the greens to grow rapidly. Some folks are now enjoying salad for a needed change from potatoes and beans—Old Glory.

Classic Sweaters-Woolknits Choice of All College Girls

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE big news in classic sweaters for college girls this fall is V-necks and longer lengths. They wear sweaters with smartly styled, two-piece skirts. If every college wardrobe could be checked up it is safe to predict that the go-away-to-school "clothes" collection, that did not include a sweater-and-skirt two-piece, would be the exception.

Girls love to wear shirts under their sweaters so that V-necks are solving the problem that crew necks couldn't. See the picture of a college girl's sweater-and-skirt two-piece below in the foreground of the accompanying illustration. Have it as a sweater-and-skirt two-piece, the very best in sweaters for general wear. The skirt is a wonderful touch in red, blue and beige with a texture that makes it look like wool.

Those present were Patricia Furell, Ann Curry, Jennie Sue Stubblefield, Carolene Ward, Sue Plaugit, Janet Miller, Edwin Kirk, Margaret Nell Ward, Lennox, Hal Houston, Bobby Guard, Bruce Gardner, Wells Pardon, Billy Nash, Bobby Beale, and the hostess.
