Decrease In Malaria Cases Noted in 1946
Down to 108 From 355 In 1945, Says Co. Sanitarian

DROPP MAY CONTINUE

The number of malaria cases reported here in 1946 showed a marked reduction from those reported for 1945, according to a statement made by Harry J. White, county health officer.

Mr. White said that local authorities had made no estimate of the number of cases in the county for 1946. However, he said that the number had dropped to 108, as compared with 355 in 1945.

Mr. White said that the reduction was due to a combination of factors, including the availability of medications, the efforts of the local health department, and the cooperation of the public.

A Losing Battle

The United States, heads of state, and commanders of the Western Front did not expect a major action to start in the Netherlands. But the Germans were ready. They launched a massive attack on the Western Front, beginning on May 10, 1940. The Battle of the Netherlands was fought from May 10 to May 15, 1940. It was a major battle in World War II.

En Phosphorus Step Taken

Another NAACP member died in a car accident (June 18, 1943) by which the community has lost a valuable, active citizen.

Wertler's chief talking point had been his desire to have the state government take over the operation of the state penitentiary and the correctional institutions of the state. He felt that this was necessary in order to make the institutions more efficient and to provide better care for the inmates. He also believed that the state government was better equipped to handle the financial aspects of running these institutions.
