R. H. Wade Dies At Home Early Sunday Had Returned To Fulton After Florida Vacation

WIFE AT 3 TUESDAY

Robert Hillary Wade, 74, civic leader, successful business man and beloved citizen of Fulton, died suddenly at his home yesterday, Feb. 23. His death came as a shock to his many friends and relatives here, in spite of his advanced age. Mr. Wade had just returned from a vacation in Florida, apparently in the best of health. He died in his sleep sometime during the early hours of Sunday morning.

Mr. Wade was born in Gibson county, Tenn., August 11, 1872, the son of Richard Charles Wade and Mary Elizabeth Lett Wade. In 1896, he married Lillian of Humboldt, Tenn., and moved with his bride to Fulton where he and his brother, Charles Wade, organized the Fulton company. Subsequently he purchased his brother's interest since that time has owned and operated this extensive business.

Mr. Wade's civic activities in Fulton were wide and numerous. He served as mayor of Fulton for two terms; was secretary of the Fulton Fair Association for the life of that organization; president of the First National bank, member of the school board for several years; an elder of the Cumberland Presbyterian church; member of the Chamber of Commerce; director in West Kentucky Finance; 32nd Degree Mason, and a Rotarian. He also held office in the Western Kentucky and National Ice Association.

He is survived by his widow, five daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Snow, Mrs. H. H. White, Mrs. Frank Beadles, all of Fulton; Mrs. Len Askew, Whitfield, Calif.; and Mrs. Byron Blagg, Nashville, Tenn.; two brothers, W. L. Wade and John L. Wade of Trenton, Tenn.; eight grandchildren, Jack and Bobby Snow; Barbara and Wade Askew; Marie Beadles; Jane and Bob White, Jr.; and Byron Blagg, Jr.; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Funeral services at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, conducted by the Rev. W. R. Reid, pastor, assisted by the Rev. E. M. Oakes of the First Christian church, will be held tomorrow afternoon, Feb. 25, at 3 o'clock. Burial, with Hornbeak Funeral Home in charge, will follow in the mausoleum in Fairview cemetery.

Active pallbearers will be: Jack and Bobby Snow, Frank Beadles, R. H. White, Byron Blagg, Nashville, Tenn., R. C. Wade, Memphis, Tenn., Emmett Wade, Jackson, Tenn., and Joe Penn, Kenton, Tenn.

Honorary pall bearers will be: Will Terry, Dick Thomas, N. G. Cook, J. D. Tuttle of Chicago, Frank Cary, G. J. Williamson of Chicago, Bert Newhouse, Winfrey Shepherd, Wilson Martin, John Melton, M. I. Boulton, Gilbert DeMyer, Gilson Latta, Louis Weaks, Billy Blackstone, Coy Young of Chicago, T. K. Russell, Joe Beadles, Shelby Roberts, R. Owen of Paducah, Dr. R. L. Bushart, Dr. D. L. Jones, Dr. J. C. Hancock, Dr. P. J. Trinca, Larry Beadles, R. V. Putnam, Sr., Roy Fields, Dudley Morris, John T. Price, Felix Gossum, members of the Rotary and Lions clubs, members of the Masonic Lodge and employees of Fulton Ice Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, at which time several hundreds of their friends called to pay their respects.

(A separate article, written by Curdin Reed, appears on page 2 of this issue, in honor and tribute to Mr. Wade.)

Mayor Boas Asks Fulton Businesses To Close At 3

Kentucky Today

Louisville—Lt. Col. Allen Carrel, Louisville, was elected president of the Kentucky National Guard Association at a meeting at nearby St. Matthews. He succeeded Lt. Col. James R. Dorman, Jr., Louisville. Col. Arthur Bonny Castle, Louisville, was chosen vice-secretary-treasurer.

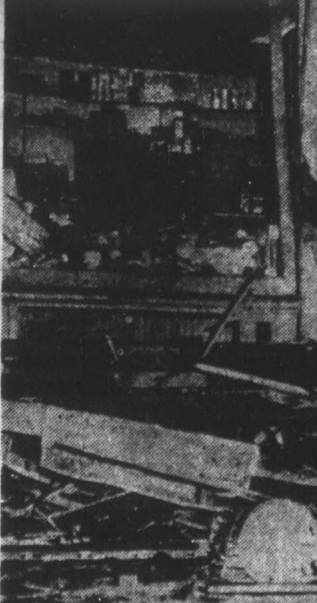

Lexington—Southeastern Greyhounds Lines promoted two Lexington men to executive positions. W. E. Jones, general manager of "Lines North" division was named executive assistant to President Guy A. Huguleit. W. T. Drury, former maintenance manager, was named Jones' assistant.

Lexington—City manager Will White issued a directive ordering city police and firemen to enforce rigidly laws prohibiting overcrowding of Lexington theaters. White said he is issued the order after receiving a complaint that persons waiting to be seated at a theater here made escape difficult in case of fire.

Irvine—A circuit court jury convicted Elijah King, 24, of voluntary manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of Rollie Callahan, 23, and fixed King's punishment at 21 years imprisonment. Callahan was shot to death at a filling station here last Nov. 10. King testified he was "greatly disturbed" because his wife told him that at different times Callahan had tried to detain her.

Paducah—The body of Mrs. Maureen List, who had been missing since Tuesday, was found yesterday in her automobile parked on a little used side road near here, Coroner C. J. Bazzell reported. Bazzell said Mrs. List, wife of Louis List, prominent Paducah druggist, apparently died of exposure. No evidence of foul play was discovered, the coroner said, but he added an autopsy would be conducted to determine officially the cause of death.

Captain, 43, To Be Graduate Of Mayfield High Herbert G. Spees Now In Germany With U. S. Army

FORMERLY LIVED HERE

A 43-year-old army captain who formerly lived in Fulton will be graduated with the class of 1947 at Mayfield high school. He is Captain Herbert G. Spees, a native of Graves county. He left Fulton in November, 1946, for Germany, where he is stationed with the army of occupation. His name will be called at the graduation exercises, and his diploma will be mailed to him in Germany.

Captain Spees, born in Graves county in 1904 and reared in the Palmersville, Tenn., section, where his family moved a few years after his birth, never attended Mayfield high school. He attended grade school at Palmersville and went to high school when his farming duties would permit. He said he was somewhere between the tenth and eleventh grades when he left school to join the navy.

Since that time Captain Spees, who served with distinction in World War II, has devoted most of his spare time to securing an education. He is a graduate of the U. S. Navy Musicians School at Hampton Roads, Va., and the Army Air Corps Photographic School at Chantute Field, Ill. Recently, Captain Spees decided he wanted official credit for his work and applied for a high school diploma from Mayfield.

He is the father of three children. One of his daughters, Patricia, travels more than 75 miles to school in Germany, since there are only five American schools in that country. Patricia previously attended Fulton high school at a boarding school. Mrs. Spees, a native of Murray, made her home in Riceville before joining her husband in Germany.

It's Confusing And Amusing

Those Ruddle Twins Are Hard To Tell Apart—
As A Friend Discovered

(By Mary E. Farham)

A few days ago, as I stood talking in one of the stores in Fulton, a familiar boy walked in dressed in navy dungarees, hat and pea coat. At first I was quite surprised, for this sailor, James Coy Ruddle, I had not expected to see. I called him by name and talked with him several minutes when I noticed a bewildered and amused smile cross his face. Incidentally James Coy has a twin brother, LeRoy, both of whom I have known for many years.

Not realizing my blunder at this time I continued with the usual, "How long will you be here? How do you like the navy?" and many more questions which I know baffled him. As our conversation drew to a close, no one had to tell me my mistake. There was no doubt about it! The twins had fooled me again. The boy I was talking with was the other twin.

I'm sure I haven't been the first to mistake these boys and probably not the last. James Coy and LeRoy, 17, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Ruddle of this city. James Coy joined the navy three and one half months ago and has spent the past week on leave with his parents in Fulton. LeRoy is a student at Fulton high school. Like many other people I have mixed and unmixed these boys until I don't know quite who is who.

Do you?

Timely Tips On Taxes Told As March 15 Deadline Nears

By James Marlow

Washington, Feb. 24.—(AP)—March 15 is the income tax deadline for about 50,000,000 people.

Who must file an income tax return by that date? You, if you had $500 or more income in 1946. By you is meant man, woman, child, married or single.

Suppose you had $500 or more income in 1946 but full tax was withheld from you. Must you file a return anyway? Yes.

This is the final settlement and check-up between you and the government.

It doesn't have a thing to do with any of the tax-cutting talk now going on in Congress. This March 15 settle-up date is for last year's taxes.

If you still owe any tax on 1946 income, you must pay it in full by March 15 when you file your return.

Your return must show what your 1946 income was, how much tax was withheld, if any, and how much tax still is owed, if any.

If your returns show too much tax was withheld, you'll get a refund by filing a return.

If your 1946 income was less than $500, you don't have to file a return.

Special Bill For S. Fulton Is Requested Would Change City Government To A Commission

SOLONS ASK OPINIONS

It was reliably reported here today that a bill will be introduced in the Tennessee Legislature in Nashville this week calling for the substitution of the commission form of government for the present mayor-council government in South Fulton.

Authoritative sources, who asked that their names not be mentioned, said that six petitions bearing over 200 signatures requesting this change in the form of city government, had been forwarded to Representative Charles B. Fields and Senator George Cloy.

A special act of the legislature must be passed before the change can be made. Rep. Fields and Sen. Cloy ask interested citizens of South Fulton to wire or telephone them immediately, explaining their approval or opposition to the proposed change.

They may be contacted at the State capital in Nashville from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. and at the Memorial Apartment Hotel when the Legislature is not in session.

Farm Bureau Still Growing

45,000 Farm Families
Are Members, Increase
Of 16,000 In Past Year

There are now 45,000 farm family members of the Kentucky Farm Bureau, says Lewis F. Allen, Bowling Green, president. This is an increase of 16,000 over Jan. 1, 1946.

The membership is scattered over 106 counties, leaving only 14 eastern Kentucky counties unorganized. A number of these are now in the process of being organized.

Several of the larger counties already have more than 1,000 members, and many have in excess of 500. Thirty counties finished 1946 with more than 500. Five years ago only 75 were organized and membership totaled 14,911.

According to the best information now available, the present membership puts Kentucky in twelfth place in the nation. The first of the year the organization was fourteenth in size.

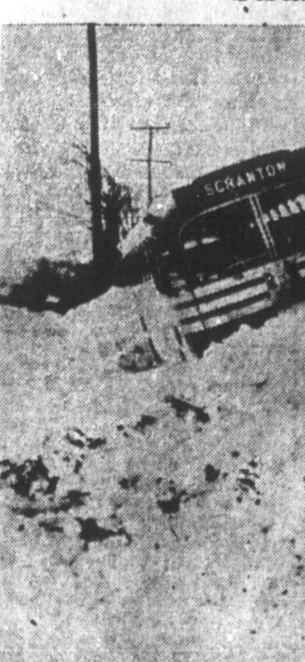

Mr. Allen declared that it now looks like the goal of "50,000 members in 1947" will be easily passed. Growth of affiliated organizations has surpassed that of the Federation percentage-wise, Allen said.

The Highway Department reported all roads in the state passable, but advised caution in the sections named and in the vicinity of Ashland and Somerset.

Overnight minimum temperatures included 10 degrees at Corbin, 14 at Lexington, 16 at Frankfort and 17 at Louisville. The U. S. Weather Bureau at Louisville predicted a low between 17 and 20 degrees for most of the state tonight, occasional snow flurries and "not so cold" tomorrow.

Getting A-Head

Writing a good headline is considerably more of a task than it seems, as copyreaders on any newspaper in the land will testify. The old printers' expression, "Type isn't made of rubber," expresses very succinctly the difficulties one has in putting the gist of a news story into a few short words.

Occasionally, in a flash of inspiration, literary gems are produced. The Mayfield Messenger headlined the story of Herman Talmadge's confirmation by a second Georgia court, "In Georgia It's Herman Two To One." The Frankfort State Journal put this whimsical caption on a weather story: "Winter Ends Brief Vacation and Buys Round-Trip Ticket."

The Madisonville Messenger said of the Louis-Godoy fight: "Louis Chills A Chilean Chilly."

Transposed lines sometimes give a ludicrous effect, such as this example in the Frankfort Daily: "Upon Meters Work Starts." And a typographical error in the Dyerburg State-Gazette resulted in "Injuries Six In Road Explosion."

Then there's the headline which isn't understandable until the story is read, like this one from Dyerburg: "Famous Dancer With Met Head Of Group Here." The dancer wasn't bringing along a head he had met—he was a Metropolitan Opera star.

And some heads are just plain over our heads. For instance, there was this one in the Madisonville Messenger: "Ex-TVA Man Red 18 Months Bays."

Cops And Cowboys

Philadelphia. (AP)—A fire in a police garage was averted by two officers who thought quick—and then turned "cowboy."

A backfiring police car, one of 50 being serviced, started a blaze in a portable greasing machine.

Capt. Howard McBridge and Patrolman John Davidson tossed the apparatus to "tow it into the street."

A Hot Seat

Chicago. (AP)—Police today were looking for a gunman who robbed and bound two victims and fled with pants afire.

Carly Whiddon and Guy Mooney said they surrendered $40 and a pistol to the intruder who fled with a rope and shoved them into a closet. Whiddon added:

"Then, through a crack in the door, we saw him back into the oil stove, scream, and run out the door with his trousers smoking."

Convenient Arrest

Fredrup, Wash. (AP)—While on patrol Police Officers Frank Doolin and James Roobin came upon a motorist having trouble with the lights of his car.

While they were helping him fix the lights their patrol car radio announced the license number of a stolen automobile—that of the car they were fixing.

Timely Topic

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—Dr. Carl M. McCarty of Indiana University's School of Medicine prepared to address the Mid-South Post Graduate Medical Assembly convention Tuesday on "the significance of hoarseness."

The meeting was interrupted for an announcement. Dr. A. F. Cooper, secretary of the assembly, could not attend. His trouble: hoarseness.

A CITIZEN

By Carlin Reed

I am writing this on Sunday night. All of today the hearts and minds of Fulton people have been brimming over with thoughts, with immediate remembrances, with more distant memories of one man, Mr. R. H. Wade—Mr. Bob Wade is the better known name. All day it has been hard to think of anything else.

All day, in the churches, in homes, on the streets, in the restaurants, people have spoken of him to each other, speech has rushed out, each one has felt a necessity to speak of him. I hope that what I say here may be, in a way, what so many want to say and are saying.

When a man is considered a great man, a man above men, in his nation, that is a fine thing. But when a man is considered a great man, a man above men, in his own town, in a small town where he is personally known to almost everyone in it, where his virtues and faults at all times are in view of all, where no one is so far from him that he is not a part of his life, that is a different thing. And such a man, to be

Militarism Still Lives

By Dewitt MacKenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Last week our column remarked that while the German people are thoroughly beaten physically there are many who aren't beaten mentally and would launch another war if they could; yesterday the truth of this was demonstrated.

American and British military forces struck suddenly in their zones against a widespread Nazi underground movement. They arrested some hundreds of plotters, including a number of high ranking officers in the Wehrmacht (elite guard) organization—the Fuehrer's crack blackguards.

British officials said the movement had ramifications in the Soviet and French zones and that its aims included restoration of German militarism and a Nazi dictatorship "in order to lead the nations of Europe against Russia." The plotters claimed to have a secret bacteriological weapon to use against the occupying powers.

Of course this isn't the first time the allies have encountered the Nazi Frankenstein's monster since the occupation, but Sunday's drive was the biggest this far made against the underground. Indications are that we needn't be unduly concerned over the current situation, especially since the Anglo-American team is on the alert and both headquarters have indicated that they don't consider the movement particularly dangerous.

However, what we do have to worry about is potentialities—about the fact that militarism still lives in the Reich. To be sure, as U. S. authorities in Berlin point out, "as long as we are able to maintain our army in Germany, detection and suppression of future subversive movements can be made before they become dangerous." Still, control of the situation is contingent on maintenance of an adequate allied military force there, and as signs now read it will be many years before our troops can be withdrawn from the Fatherland.

The consensus of impartial observers is that military occupation must continue until the German population has been reeducated in Democratic ways—and that will be a long and arduous job. When I toured Germany last year I reported in this column that the toughest section of the population to educate was that between the ages of fourteen and thirty-five.

This all-important group, representing the youth of the country, was so thoroughly militarized that many allied experts believed it never could be won over. In short, the educational program would in the main be effective only among the very young. Consequently it would take a generation or so to remould German opinion—if it could be done at all.

American army authorities in Germany point out that subversive activity "must naturally be expected from a people who are completely indoctrinated in nationalistic propaganda, and who are still smarting under a defeat." You get the full significance of the estimate when you see, as I have, the bitterness and hatred in the glances which many Germans direct at allied nationals in the Reich. It is the same look I saw in the eyes of the Germans who signed the treaty of Versailles after the first World War. You knew then that they would fight again if they could.

We can't expect that feeling ever to change among those members of the population who were more than mere youngsters when Hitler's Reich collapsed. Still, there is hope for the new generation which, by and large, seems friendly enough to the occupation forces.

Intimately known, and by the very fact of being so known to be so completely beloved—it is a superlative thing to say of any man.

I once heard him speak of himself as "a country boy." I think he was. I don't imagine he ever possibly wanted to be anything else. He loved the country, his farm, his town, his neighbors. I have never known another person who seemed more in harmony with living than he was, a person more thoroughly contented with his work, his home, his town, a man more in harmony with his environment. Nor have I ever known another who by his own personality, by his own being contributed more to that environment than he did. What a goal for any man to have achieved!

All today I have heard this thing and that thing said of him. And very frequently there have been these particular words "He got so much out of life." And we should all know why. Because he put so much into it. He had such a full capacity for life, he gave to the fullest, his spirit, his love, his means. There was nothing timid in his approach to life, no drawing back, no shrinking in his acceptance

VICTORY HOMEMAKERS REGULAR MEETING

Those Homemakers who do not own a pressure sauce pan will want to buy one after their February lesson on Foods. The Victory Homemakers Foods leaders, Mrs. Jim Dawes and Mrs. Roy Carver prepared a most appetizing and delectable noon meal for their club group at the home of Mrs. Cecil Burnette on Tuesday, which proved that they had learned their lesson on food preparation well.

The roll call was answered with new ways the members had learned to prepare everyday foods. Mrs. Cecil Burnette conducted the devotional. Mrs. Pete Brown gave some interesting hints from her winter landscape leaflet. Mrs. Roy D. Taylor took the group on an armchair tour of Paraguay.

Hooked rugs interest still is high and three members brought their rugs to the club meeting. Two were completely finished and the third was more than half completed. Everyone in the club plans to make some hooked article before the year is through. The rugs were quite lovely.

Mrs. John Dawes, recreation leader, gave an interesting program consisting of two contests, state nicknames and word completion, and two songs, "Morning Comes Early" and "Homemakers Hymn."

Due to remodeling in Mrs. Eugene Bondurant's home, the club will meet in March with Mrs. Pete Brown.

Mrs. Herman Roberts, club president, was the lucky winner of the mystery package the club is featuring each month.

The package this month contained a beautiful handmade luncheon cloth and napkins to match made by Mrs. Pete Brown. Next month Mrs. Erwin Bard will bring a package.

Visitors were Mrs. Roy Ballow, Mrs. Lucy Burnette and Miss Myrtle Burnette.

VICTORY HOMEMAKERS VALENTINE PARTY

The Victory Homemakers and their families enjoyed a Valentine party in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Roberts recently.

Mr. H. C. Brown and Mrs. Gene Dowdy were winners of a heart matching contest, and Mr. Brown was again winner in piercing the center of a heart with an arrow. Mrs. James Wade won her "Heart's Desire."

The main feature of entertainment for the evening was an interesting report of her recent trip to Lexington and a delegate to Farm and Home week by Mrs. James Wade from the Palestine Homemakers Club. She was presented with a pair of nylon hose as a gift of appreciation from the Victory Club for bringing the report to them. Roy D. Taylor, a delegate to the Farmer's convention from the Farmer's group, added some interesting items from a man's angle of their part in the convention.

At the close of the evening Mrs. Roberts, together with Mrs. Ernest Carver and Mrs. Cecil Burnette, served fruit juice, Valentine candy and cookies to the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dowdy, Mr. and Mrs. John Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Taylor, a delegate to the Farmer's convention from the Farmer's group, added some interesting items from a man's angle of their part in the convention.

Successful in his business, in his work, he might so easily, as so many do, have put that absorbingly first. Instead he always seemed able to take time for the sweeter more intimate delights of daily life. A small grandson had a birthday—Mr. Wade wasn't too busy a man to drive a hundred and fifty miles to celebrate a third birthday, to mark with his own presence the significance of such a great day. He wasn't a man too soberly conscious of his years, too pompously aware of his maturity to resort at times to the sheer recklessness, to yield to the sheer delight of an impulse. A few years back, accompanied by two quite young boys, he went to Memphis for the express purpose of purchasing a wholly practical unexciting thing, something much needed by him. The wholly practical thing happened not to be available on that very day. But there was available a much less badly needed, much more exciting thing, a thing of great delight to the boys; a thing they in no wise had meant to buy, but to be persuaded to the thing of great delight—that they came riding home in it, the three of them.

The Sports Mirror

By The Associated Press

Today a year ago—Felix (Doc) Blanchard, fullback of Army's unbeaten football team, received 1946 Sullivan Award.

Three years ago—Shortstop Marty Marion of St. Louis, Cardinals accepted for limited military service.

Five years ago—Dixie Walker of Brooklyn Dodgers and Johnny Mize of New York Giants signed 1942 contracts.

Ten years ago—Larry Kelley, Yale All-American, refused all professional football offers to help coach at Peddie Institute.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Word from the snowbound south is that the Southern Conference colleges are ready to string along with Col. William Couper's proposal to limit the football season to ten games and to rule out all "bowl" contests—the V. M. I. colonel listened to a lot of snickers, especially from the Big Nine, when he sprang that one on the National Collegiate A. A. meeting in January, but there haven't been any laughs from his home territory—not even from schools reputed to be slightly commercial in their gridiron operations.

FAN-CLAY LAYOUT

Various offices in the new minor league baseball headquarters at Columbus, Ohio, are named first base, second base, home plate, etc.—one fan who should know, observed that they overlooked a "bull pen" for the numerous "foul balls" with drop in put to kill time—and a lot of baseball men figure the pace would be better if they still could find the Old Judge on the bench.

MONDAY MATINEE

Eddie Dyer is the first non-playing major league manager to have his picture on the cover of Cliff Bloodgood's "Who's Who in Baseball"—when Bernie Moore, veteran Louisiana State football and track coach, took his fling at golf recently he scored 113—just 41 over par—lost nine brand new golf balls and ruined three borrowed clubs—take three laps around the course for punishment, Coach.

NATIONAL GAME NOTES

Jack Coffey, who made his big league baseball debut by trying to hit against Christy Mathewson, starts his 25th season as Fordham baseball coach today—when Ohio State opened its drills last week, Coach Floyd Shahl found he had more than 200 candidates and less than a month to trim his squad for a spring trip to Texas—Yale fans are predicting another Ivy League baseball title for Ethan Allen's team. A flock of prewar players are back to augment last year's championship team.

A CLOSE McCALL

When Jim Tatum was looking over Oklahoma football movies last fall, he was impressed by the shoving of Aubrey McCall, star end who had been moved away with a heavy unit—recently Tatum, now at Maryland, was checking his list of prospects and found a McCall among the '47 team players—it was the same Aubrey, and Jim hopes that's an indication of what kind of material he'll have next fall.

Radio-Equipped Cabs Aid Police

Lewiston, Me.—(AP)—Radio equipment installed in cabs by the Union Square Taxi Company to expedite office-drivers communication has proved an unexpected ally to public safety.

When a cabbie was shot Jan. 4 in a holdup attempt by two passengers the slightly wounded driver called for police help by radio, and the pair were quickly captured.

A driver who saw an 18-year-old girl injured by a truck Jan. 4 radioed the taxi dispatcher to send police, who arrived three minutes later to hospitalize the girl.

Beau Jack Carried To Corner

Rivers Broadcast By Themselves

Vinita, Okla.—(AP)—Automatic

gauges and radio transmitters which turn themselves on broadcast daily reports to keep engineers of the Grand River Dam Authority posted on water levels of three major streams flowing into the big northeastern Oklahoma reservoir.

The gauges broadcast coded signals over the radio from prechips on bridges spanning the Elk river in Missouri, the Spring near Quapaw, and the Neosho near Commerce, Okla.

Transmissions are recorded in field headquarters at Pryor and at the Pensacola dam, where the information is used in computing the "head" that will be available to drive the power plant's five hydroelectric turbines.

Bozo Tells Time By His Stomach; Ask The Butchers

Chattanooga, Tenn.—(AP)—

Bozo is a remarkable pup. Butchers at a Chattanooga market vouch for that. Every day at 11 a. m. the brown pooch with a pleasant terrier boxer face and a hind leg limp puts in an appearance at the meat market back door for this container of hamburger. Nobody knows the dog's owner because the pup won't let anyone close enough to examine his tags. The pooch can tell time, too. According to market owner R. G. Gambill, when the store closes at 1 p. m. on Wednesday Bozo is always at his post early.

Grain and Hay Recommended As Feed For Lambs

While milk is the best feed for young lambs, they also should be fed grain and good hay until there is plenty of grass, says Richard C. Miller in UK College of Agriculture circular "Lambing Time." Creeps provide the best way to feed grain to lambs while they are running with the ewes.

"Lambs usually begin to eat grain by the time they are two weeks old," states Miller. "A mixture of equal parts of corn, oats and bran, or 2 parts of corn, 2 parts of oats, 1 part of bran and 1 part of linseed oil meal may be used as a starter. The proportion of corn in the ration should be gradually increased."

"After the lambs are six weeks old, 6 parts of corn and 1 part of protein concentrate such as cottonseed meal or linseed oil meal may be used, or corn alone will give good results. The grain should be ground or crushed until the lambs are about six weeks old, after which whole grain should be used. Troughs should be kept clean and the lambs fed only what they will clean up."

Water 100 feet below the surface of the Great Lakes tends to remain at a temperature of 39 degrees Fahrenheit.
