Adoree Jones Is Wed In Church Ceremony

Miss Adoree Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones of Sharpe and William G. Haus, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Haus of Pittsburgh, Pa., were married in the Sharpe Church of Christ on Saturday, May 20, at 2:30 o'clock.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Ewing Wray, minister of the church, before an altar banked with ferns, palms and large baskets of white gladioli and carnations, illuminated with white tapers in branched candelabra. Tall candles and greenery marked the white-carpeted aisle as Mr. Jones escorted his daughter to the altar.

As the wedding guests assembled Jack Boyd and chorus presented a program of pre-nuptial music.

The bride wore a wedding gown of hand-embroidered Chantilly lace and marquisette over taffeta which featured a molded bodice. Seed pearls and sequins enhanced the hand-trimmed Chantilly lace Sabrina neckline. The long-fitted sleeves formed petal points over the hands and were closed with tiny covered buttons. The tiered skirt fell aisle-wide from lace appliques studded with seed pearls and iridescent sequins to form a chapel train. She wore a double-tiered fingertip veil of illusion caught to a contour crown of pearlized orange blossoms and carried a bridal bouquet of carnations, lilies of the valley and ivy centered with a white orchid. Her jewelry was tiny pearl earrings.

Miss Aquilla Barnes, maid of honor, wore a street-length dress of Nile green taffeta. Her headpiece was an emerald green circular veil enhanced with rhinestones and topped with green taffeta bows and lilies of the valley. She wore emerald green mitts and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Miss Sandra Parkes and Miss Bertha Riley served as bridesmaids. They wore dresses identical to that of the honor attendant and carried arrangements of yellow carnations.

Janet Darnell was the flower girl, wearing a yellow taffeta and net dress and carrying a white wicker basket of rose petals. Stephen Wray carried the rings on a heart-shaped white satin pillow trimmed with wide lace and satin streamers knotted with lilies of the valley.

Richard Rollins attended the groom as best man. The ushers were Tom Coleman, brother-in-law of the bride, and Frank Wagar, Valerie and James Thomas Coleman, niece and nephew of the bride, served as acolytes.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Reiland Community Center. Serving and presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. Nell Coleman, sister of the bride, Mrs. Evelyn Barrett and Mrs. Colleen Wallace. The register was kept by Mrs. Jean Sanderson.

Immediately following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Haus left for an extended wedding trip to Nassau and points of interest en route.

Upon their return they will be at home in the Charleston Apts. in Paducah. Mr. Haus will resume his duties at Cumberland Chemical Corp., a division of Air Reduction Chemical and Carbide Co. at Calvert City where he is plant engineer.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William C. Haus and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gestrich of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Wayne Cleveland and daughter, Jeanie of Butler, Pa.; Mrs. Walter Morgott and Scotty, Johnny and Tommy of Irwin, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blesack of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

IT'S TIME TO 'MOVE' YOURSELF

Dear Amy: My husband works in a large city about 60 miles from where our home is. He doesn't commute to work daily but comes home just for the week-ends. By accident, I came across a letter from a girl (who lives in the city) addressed to him at his rooming house. The letter sounded as though they knew each other pretty well. When I questioned him, he explained that she was just a friend and there was nothing between them. As far as he was concerned, the incident was closed. . . . but I called the girl. I didn't let on who I was and pumped her. The story she told was much more romantic than my husband's version.

Amy, what should I do? I don't want to leave him and I know he children to think of. I know he still loves me.

No Name Please

Dear Amy: At a distance, your husband offers no resistance. A lonely man in a big city is a sitting duck for a slick chick. Before you are replaced by a part-time Miss, join him as a full-time Mrs.!

Dear Amy: I have never written to a newspaper column before so this is something new to me. I have two questions I would like to ask you as I have been faced with these problems many times. Do you consider it "cheap" if you let a boy who don't know put his arm around you in the movies? Do you and he talk to each other? Do you act "cheap" if you accept a date with him? The majority of the girls in our high school don't consider anything wrong with it and do not think that it ruins one's reputation in any way.

Dear Amy: My husband's boss and wife have invited my husband and me to their home for dinner. They are shrimp eaters (I know), but my religion forbids eating shrimp. What shall I do if they serve this type seafood? Our actions that might determine my husband's chance for advancement and a raise. If I refuse the shrimp, they might be insulted. If I force myself to eat it (I've never tasted it before), I don't know how to handle it or what to do with it. What would you do under the circumstances? Eat it or leave it?

Mrs. E. G.

Dear Mrs. E. G.: Don't you think you are worrying foolishly over an "incident" that is not likely to occur? However, should they serve shrimp, don't eat it. The "boss" would respect and admire you more for your honesty than if you clumsily struggled through it. Honesty is still the best policy and the raise will take care of itself!

Dear Amy: I am a girl of 19 and my future husband is 22. We have planned a wedding in the late summer or early fall but my problem is about the reception. My fiancé and I are of different faiths and I plan on marrying him in his church and having a reception with dancing and drinking in keeping with the custom of his religion. My relatives are very much against all these things. They would feel very uncomfortable witnessing the festivities but they do expect to be invited to the wedding. I have always loved to dance and so I have my mind set that that's the way the wedding should be.

Can you give me some way of having the wedding the way I like it and yet please my relatives so that they will be able to enjoy themselves.

20 Years Ago

Twenty years ago, on June 6, 1941, our county was in the big middle of a political campaign, similar to the one just ended here. Back in those days, however, the primary was in August instead of May.

John Hall was seeking re-election as county judge, and H. B. (Henry) Holland was running for county attorney. Jamie Dotson was a candidate for District 1 magistrate, and Elmus E. Rudolph was running for jailer. And Charlie X. Jones was running for Benton City Judge.

The hosiery mill in Benton was closed, but efforts were being made to re-open it. An option on the property had been taken by a Mr. Deal, and he was trying to obtain orders from eastern hosiery firms. The story didn't give Mr. Deal's first name, but we're guessing that it probably was BIG.

This was getting ready for a big strawberry festival, which was to be held in Paducah. Marshall County's Strawberry Queen was Miss Thelma Boulard, and she was going to represent this county in the queen contest at the Paducah Strawberry Festival.

Kendra and Sherry Henson, Brenda Houser, Kenny, Jeffrey and Glenda Morris, Barbara and Brenda Thompson, Tony and Alan Smith, Jimmy and Steve Ealey, Jane Harrison, Donna Hatfield, Lou Etta Walston, Bennetta Thompson, Tommy Smith, Alan, David and Shelia Henson.

Mothers present were Mrs. Donna Ealey, Mrs. Donna Smith, Mrs. Sue Thompson, Mrs. Harold Morris, Mrs. Etta Houser and Mrs. Clara Henson.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, for the ones who brought food and the beautiful floral offerings, during the recent illness and death of Thurman Mobley. We especially thank Lou Riley and John Hicks for their comforting words, Dr. Billington and Dr. McClain, staff at Lourdes Hospital, Filbeck-Cann Funeral Home, pallbearers and friends.

May God bless all of you.
