Mayor Hart Announces Park Plans Approved

Mayor George Hart was advised Wednesday by the office of Geo. H. Goodman, Louisville, federal works agency of the Works Projects Administration, that the city park project, sponsored by the City of Murray, has been approved and that work will commence by November 25.

The project calls for the expenditure of $80,545.00, and the Federal government will furnish $49,877.00 of this amount. The balance of $30,668.00 will be furnished by the City of Murray with funds of $15,000.00 received from a bonds authorized by the voters on a proposal to issue $25,000.00 in bonds to finance the city's portion of the cost.

The park will be located in North Murray between Eighth and Tenth streets on a site consisting of 18 acres.

Included in the improvement will be a swimming pool, wading pool, bath houses, one large, picnic shed, 5 small picnic sheds, a baseball diamond, softball park, artificial lake, four tennis courts and the reconstruction of Payne Street through the park property.

Mayor Hart proposed the park project to the City Council last year and it was overwhelmingly approved by the voters on a proposal to issue $25,000.00 in bonds to finance the city's portion of the cost.

Mr. Hart stated that he has been advised that the plans have been forwarded and that construction will begin immediately after completion of the Sixth street project.

Wilkins Produces Big Citron Vine in Yard

D. D. Wilkins, College Addition, read last week's Ledger & Times concerning the length of a tomato vine. Mr. Wilkins went out in his back yard and loaded on his truck what he says is "a real one". He brought to the Ledger & Times office a citron vine 43 feet long from tip root to the end. This fruit bearing vine still had 12 citrons on it and Mr. Wilkins stated that he had pulled an equal amount and that some boys had "chopped" some more several weeks ago.

One of the citrons weighed 26 pounds and on estimate it was believed that the average of fruit was produced on this vine alone.

Mr. Wilkins stated that it was thrown in his back yard from the faucet.

Bill Colson Laid to Rest Sunday

Funeral services for W. S. "Bill" Colson, 76 years of age and resident of Elm Grove community who died at a local clinic Friday at 1 a. m., were held Sunday at 3 p. m. at Elm Grove with the Rev. J. H. Thurman in charge. Mr. Colson had been ill with pneumonia for seven days prior to his death.

Survivors are four sisters, Miss Fannie Colson, Paducah; Mrs. Walter Mays, Trowbridge, Ky.; Mrs. Susan Johnson, Denver, Colo.; and Mrs. Bessie Howard, Paducah; three daughters, Mrs. B. J. Priester, Paducah; Mrs. W. D. Trowbridge, Winona, Miss.; seven sons, W. J. of Nashville, A. J. and Starkie C. of Murray, J. R. of East Prairie, Mo., Prentice of Murray, Elbert of Paducah and Dennis of Detroit; and one brother, Joe Colson, of Livingston County, Ky.

Mr. Colson was active in church and community affairs and was a valued member of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR J. C. GLASGOW HELD SATURDAY

J. C. "Jim" Glasgow, one of Murray's pioneer businessmen and educators, passed away at his home on Miller Avenue of College Addition, early last Friday morning.

The funeral service was conducted by his minister, Rev. J. Mack Jenkins, at the First Methodist Church, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial was in the city cemetery.

Mr. Glasgow had not enjoyed good health for several years, but a 11-day illness of pneumonia was the immediate cause of his death. He was 72 years of age.

He is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. C. V. Townsend of Hickman, Mrs. A. D. Buttermore of the city, Prentice Glasgow of Frankfort, Perry Glasgow of Macon, Ga., and Joe Glasgow of Paris, Tenn. Other survivors are 11 grandchildren and an aunt, Mrs. Wash Boyd.

J. C. "Jim" Glasgow, pioneer hardware dealer and partner of the late W. W. Baker in the firm of Baker & Glasgow who were in business for many years on the West side of the Murray court square, and in later years mathematics instructor in Murray High School and Murray State College, was widely and well-known in the city and surrounding counties.

Hundreds of his former pupils mourn his passing. According to some of his former students, who are listeners today and have been guiding lights down the years, Mr. Glasgow was truly interested in youth and their well-being. It was some 30 years ago that he built one of the first tennis courts in Murray. The court was located on the corner of Sixth and Olive and it was open to all children in the entire city for early morning hours to late afternoon when the more experienced players took over. Mr. Glasgow was a skilled player and was noted for his hard service and forehand drives to the base line.

He was not only interested in tennis but was an enthusiastic bird hunter, a lover of baseball and football and any and all clean, wholesome recreation.

For many years Mr. Glasgow had been an exceptionally faithful and loyal member of the First Methodist Church where he had served since the different offices of the church and Sunday School. His life was an outstanding example of Christian manhood.

Civic Clubs to Hear Dr. Richmond, Hurt

The Red Cross and the clubs of Murray which includes the Rotary, Women's, Lions and Young Business Men's clubs, will give a dinner for all people in Murray interested in the Red Cross and its work Monday evening, November 10, at 6:30 o'clock. Anyone interested should call Mrs. A. A. Tucker at 391-W by Saturday noon.

R. Bruce Holland, 69, Dies at Home Here Friday

Funeral services for R. Bruce Holland, 69, who passed away at his home on North Fourth street last Friday morning at about 7 o'clock after a several months' illness of complications, were held from the Church of Christ, on Monday at 2 o'clock with the Rev. C. L. Francis officiating. Burial was in the city cemetery.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Mackie Holland; three daughters, Mrs. J. L. Williams, Mrs. R. M. Walker and Mrs. D. Boaz; two sons, Gary Holland of Omaha, Neb., and Everett Holland, Memphis; and sister, Mrs. Mayne Ransom of the city and three grandsons and one granddaughter.

Mr. Holland was a member of the WOW and Temple Hill P. & A. M. lodges. Before moving to Murray he was a prominent and influential farmer of the East side of the county where he had long made his home.

Mrs. Mose Clayton Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mose Clayton, 76, who died at the family home near Mt. Pleasant, four miles southeast of Hazel, early Sunday morning, were held from Mt. Pleasant Methodist Church, where she was a faithful member, Monday with her pastor, Rev. Harry Williams, officiating. Burial was in the cemetery at that place.

Survivors are her husband and nine step-sons, Albert, Elisha, Bun, Naylor, Chalmers, Marshall, and Tolly, all of the Mt. Pleasant community, and Rev. Brent Clayton of Florida and Ivan Clayton of Detroit.

Palbearers were Tullus, Zolene, Elvis, Hubert, Wilburn and Bill Clayton, step-grandsons of the deceased.

ANNOUNCEMENT

All my life I have lived and worked among you, a plain man trying to do my daily work honestly and conscientiously with charity toward all and malice toward none.

Thirteen years ago I realized my ambition to become a part owner in the newspaper business in Murray where I had already spent many of my best years in the employment of others.

Four years ago, when some of my associates retired from the Ledger & Times, I assumed the additional responsibilities of principal owner and publisher. During this time, you are my witness as to how well I have attained my desire to serve you faithfully, well and modestly, and to deserve your patronage in a clean, honorable newspaper with no favorites for undeserved preference and no enemies for unjustified punishment.

Now I find that my health will not permit me to carry on as publisher of the Ledger & Times, and as I write this I realize that the most important thing for me and my faithful wife is the complete recovery of my health.

I would not place this newspaper, which has meant so much to me through the years and which I expect to mean much to me in the years to come, in other hands unless I was convinced that they were capable.

In Mr. W. P. Williams, who has been our neighbor in the adjoining city of Paris for almost 15 years, I relinquish the destinies of the Ledger & Times to a real Southern gentleman who has demonstrated his ability through many years as a successful newspaper man and is the type of man I know you will be glad to accept as a Murray business man and friend.

This is not a farewell, for when my health is recovered I expect to become a member of Mr. Williams' organization in the production of the Ledger & Times and look forward to the day, which I hope will be soon, when I again can serve and mingle with you in building a better Murray and Calloway County.

To each and all of you who have patronized the Ledger & Times I will always be grateful, and I assure you that in Mr. Williams you have a publisher who will measure up to your highest expectations in every particular.

Light Vote Is Cast in County Election Tuesday

Interest in two proposed amendments to the state constitution and in the selection of a county judge resulted in only a light turnout of voters in Calloway County Tuesday at the polls numbered only slightly over 2,000 which was natural because of the lack of opposition for most of the offices.

C. A. Hale, in the only contested race of the election, swamped his Republican opponent, the Griffin, in the race for County Judge. Hale polled 1,064 votes to Griffin's 297.

Both of the Amendments went over handsily in Calloway. Amendment No. received 1,642 yeas and 124 nays while Amendment No. 2 received 1,040 yeas and 286 nays.

Persons from Kirksey attending the WMS Zone Rally in Paris, Tenn., Saturday, were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ursey and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Waples and son, Mrs. Sula Cunningham, Mrs. Lacie Hawley, Mrs. Letha Chambers, Mrs. Staples, Mrs. Ursey and Mrs. Watson appeared on the program.

Faxon's Coyotes Open County Basketball Season by Defeating Farmington, 20-18

Calloway County's winter sport, basketball, got under way Tuesday night, October 28, with the Faxon Coyotes breaking the ice and winning over the Farmington Grizzlies by a score of 20-18. Not to be outdone, the Faxon "B"s swept over the Graves County reserves 23-8.

R. R. MELOAN SELLS L. & T. INTEREST TO PARIS PUBLISHER

R. R. Meloon, president of the Calloway Publishing Co., publishers of The Ledger & Times, has announced the sale of his majority interest in the business to W. P. Williams, of Paris, Tenn.

At a meeting of the directors at the office of The Ledger & Times last Wednesday night Mr. Williams was placed in charge of the newspaper as editor and publisher and assumed his new duties Thursday morning.

Mr. Williams does not come to Murray as a stranger as he has been associated with the daily Paris Post-Intelligencer for the past 14 years. Prior to that time he was publisher of the Florence, Ala., Times for 11 years.

Mr. Meloon, a native of Calloway County and member of a family which has been active in the newspaper business in Murray since before the turn of the century, has been associated with and holding an interest in The Ledger & Times since the paper was formed, by merger of The Murray Ledger and The Times-Herald, in the fall of 1928. Prior to that he was with The Murray Ledger for many years.

When Joe T. Lovett retired as president of the corporation and publisher of The Ledger & Times in 1937, Mr. Meloon succeeded him as president and publisher and served continuously as controlling factor in the property until he sold his holdings to Mr. Williams.

Since the establishment of The Ledger & Times has been regarded as an outstanding Kentucky weekly newspaper and for many years has merited a place on the American Press Association's "Blue List" of the 500 leading weeklies in America.

Mr. Williams states that he plans no changes in the Ledger & Times personnel and that he will devote a major portion of his time to its affairs.

It was announced that Mr. Meloon, who has been in ill health for several months and is now residing in his home, would be connected with the mechanical department of the newspaper and job printing plant when he recovered.

Mr. Williams is a highly regarded newspaper publisher in Tennessee and brings a wealth of successful experience to the newspaper which, with the predecessor, has become a part of it, has served the people of Murray and Calloway County faithfully and well for more than half a century.

Beef Cattle Show To Be Held Next Monday

Calloway County's first Beef Cattle Show will be held at the Murray stockyards Monday, November 11, at 1 o'clock. A total of $115 in premiums will be given, there will be rings for all ages and classes, and all entries must be in by 12 o'clock noon Monday.

The interest in this type of cattle is growing in this county and every farmer having beef cattle is urged to show them, that the interest may be shown to the fullest. The show and sale may be a success, made for him many lastings friends.

Active palbearers were V. E. Stubbard, Sr., Grove Hood, P. F. Waterfield, L. D. Williams, Prentice Holland and Elliott Wear. Honorary palbearers were the stewards of the Methodist Church.

High School Bands To Be Guests at College Game

The Madisonville High School band accepted an invitation to be guests of Murray State College at the football game Saturday afternoon, November 8, and make a pre-game maneuver. This band is directed by Dean Dowdy, a Murray State alumnus, and has won highest in the national band contest.

Association Releases Probable Advance Rate

The proposed schedule has not been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture but we have every assurance that it will be approved at an early date.

L. L. Venle, manager of the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Association, said today as he released the schedule of advance rates as listed below.

The Association advances on 6,812,220 pounds of tobacco last year totaled $68,717.57 to the growers. According to the Association figures this would be an average of 7 1/2 cents per pound. The association now has a membership of 11,355 and is expecting to increase that figure.

The advances show that a 25 per cent increase has been scheduled and tobacco men are looking forward to a big season here in Murray.

The first column gives the grade, the second is the advance rate on the 1940 crop. The third column is the proposed rate of advance on the 1941 crop.

1942 TOBACCO ALLOTMENTS TO BE SAME AS IN 1941

Tobacco allotments for burley, dark air-cured and dark fire-cured types will be the same in the 1942 agricultural conservation program as in 1941, the State AAA office announced.

B. W. Edmonds, chairman of the Calloway County Agricultural Conservation Association, points out that this means all farm allotments will remain the same except where adjustments are required because of marketing quota violations or other special conditions defined by the allotment regulations.

Total State allotments for the three major types of tobacco grown in Kentucky are: Burley, 294,175 acres; dark air-cured, 30,730 acres; and dark fire-cured, 33,150.

Edmonds points out that farmers who have kept their tobacco acreage within allotments under the program and who have used the program's soil-building allowances to build up their land are now in position to produce larger quantities of foods needed in the defense program.

Many farmers, he states, may find it profitable to shift some of their time from tobacco growing to production of meat, poultry and dairy products for which there is a growing demand.

Breds to Meet Memphis State Saturday

Coach Moore's Murray State Thoroughbreds, who journeyed to Cleveland, Miss., Friday, and held the Delta Statesmen to a 0-0 tie in a SIAA contest, will play the highly touted Memphis Staters here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Carlisle Cutchin stadium.

To date, the Blueblooms have won one, lost three, and tied one in SIAA competition. The Delta game at Cleveland was played on a rain-soaked and muddy turf with neither team being able to maneuver an offensive drive. According to reports, Murray's pass defense looked better.

In meeting the Tennesseeans Saturday, the Moorebreds will face as tough an opponent as they have tangled with this year. The Memphians have long looked for a time that they could pin Murray's ears back. Defeating Union on the Jackson grid definitely shows the Tutors' strength. On October 24, the Tennesseeans soundly defeated Delta 23-7. However, last week-end the Middle Tennessee Blue-Backs nosed the Tutors 14-13 in an upset affair.

In the 11-game series, between the Memphians and the Blueblooms, the boys from Jackson Purchase have won seven games, lost two and two games have ended in ties. All high school students will be admitted free to this game.

● PURELY PERSONAL—
The editor of one of the South's greatest newspapers once said "a newspaper that makes nothing but money isn't worth having."
I have bought the interest of Mr. R. R. Melton in the Calloway Publishing Company because I have known for many years that the Murray Ledger & Times has made much more than money.
Its standing in this community, in Calloway County, in the State of Kentucky, and its superior subscription list, prove it.
It is a simple matter to buy a weekly paper. It is next to impossible to buy a good newspaper, either daily or weekly.
Among legitimate causes for change in ownership of the better newspapers are illness, death, extreme age, and the like.
The illness of Mr. R. R. Melton accounts for his sale of the majority interest in the Calloway Publishing Company.
I do not feel that I deserve the "send off" he is giving me in his announcement on the front page of this issue, but I wish to promise him publicly that I will do my best to merit it.
I am conscious of the responsibility involved in taking over the management and editorial policy of a newspaper like the Murray Ledger & Times.
I will do the best I can to maintain its standards, which have won for it a position of distinction in Kentucky journalism, and to add improvements within the limits of my abilities and resources.
I do not feel that I am coming to Murray as a complete stranger. I have resided in Paris, Tennessee, where I operate a daily newspaper, for the past fourteen years.
My son, Herbert Lee Williams, is a graduate of Murray State Teachers College and was editor of the College News one year.
Through him I came in contact with some of the business men and women of Murray, and I know of many others because of his respect for them.
The duties of an editor are exacting. His success is measured by his ability to serve the people of his newspaper's community.
I appeal to the readers, advertisers and patrons of the job department of the Ledger & Times for their support.
W. P. WILLIAMS.

● MISTAKE TO RAISE SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES
Secretary Morgenthau says Congress will be asked within two months to increase social security taxes on wages from one per cent to five per cent so that all the extra money workers are making now will be taken from them through taxation because there will be no increase in consumer goods for them to buy. This, he says, will prevent inflation. It might do the trick if the matter were as simple as Mr. Morgenthau states it, but it isn't. In the first place the overwhelming majority of workers have no "extra money" for the simple fact they have received no wage increases. Wages for one group, union workers, have been increased but they, by no means, represent the majority however important they may be in a political sense.
Another flaw in Mr. Morgenthau's plan to prevent inflation is that it is already here and, when goods are short, no amount of taxes will cause the prices to go down. Workers are already paying more for the necessities of life—things they have to buy in order to live—and it would be manifestly unfair to increase their taxes five hundred per cent under such conditions.
Most of the money being wasted is government money. The average citizen is having a harder time than during normal times to make ends meet and the universal ambition of people is to get on the public payroll in order to get enough income to enable them to cope with present prices.
Mr. Morgenthau's tax pattern is based on the assumption that government and union wages are the rule rather than the exception. If he proposed to tax workers, on defense jobs only, five per cent instead of one it would come nearer being fair to all concerned but he knows he can't do that. So he proposes to make at least three-fourths of the workers suffer in order to reach the less than one-fourth who are getting higher wages.
It would appear there would be some demand on the part of the people that the old-fashioned American democratic process be allowed to function despite dangerous incident thereto. We hate bombs and depressions as badly as anyone but we prefer them to regimentation, paternal federal administration of one's personal affairs and dictatorship.
Social Security taxes are too high as it is; enormous surpluses piling up in these departments prove it. If these funds were left in the hands of those who provide them, to do with as they see fit, the country would be better off, regardless of the dangers of inflation and depression.

● THIS WEEK'S BIGGEST STORY
There is a lot of important news in this issue of the Ledger & Times, but none more interesting to the farmers and those who depend on Calloway County agriculture (and that means all of us), than the announcement that government loans on tobacco are approximately 25 per cent higher than last year.
And, in passing, we think it is appropriate that we call attention to the fact that these advances are made possible by the untiring efforts of the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association.

● ARMISTICE DAY—
In this issue of the Ledger & Times some of the leading business firms of Murray have used their advertising space to call attention to the 1941 observance of Armistice Day, and to pay tribute to the men of this country who answered the nation's call during the World War to "make the world safe for democracy."
We can think of nothing more fitting, because on this Armistice Day the sons of those men, and the sons of their neighbors and friends, are in the armed forces of the country ready to do their part, if need be, to defend democracy and perpetuate the American way of life for unborn generations of Calloway Countians.
And it is fitting, also, because on this Armistice Day democracy is being challenged as never before. We hear a great deal about a "new order" that is foreign to our way of life and we have already witnessed enough to prove the sponsor of that "new order" will make it worldwide if the force of arms can bring it about.
This Armistice Day may not be an occasion for celebration on the part of the parents, families and friends of our boys in army camps, or on the high seas with the United States fleet, but it can be a day on which we can give silent thanks for the American spirit that causes men to fight rather than give up their freedom.
And it can be a day on which we can give expression to our appreciation of that spirit through some specific act on our part, and we suggest that each and every one of us find time on Armistice Day to write one or more letters to the Editor.

Letter To Editor

Kirkland, Texas
October 24, 1941
Editor, Ledger & Times
Gentlemen:
Cotton and feed crops are good in Childress and Hardeman Counties. If it wasn't for so much rain everybody would be very busy harvesting, but it has rained every day for over a week. The weather is clear today (Sunday), but cool. Wheat crops were good. One farmer near us put up 9,000 bushels of wheat and 1,000 bushels of alfalfa hay. Monday, October 20, his barn caught fire. Two fire trucks from Quanah, 25 miles east, came at his call and one from Childress, 22 miles west, came but could save but little after such a long drive. However, the firemen did their very best. The estimated loss was $10,000.
On the 13th and 14th of October, the Texas and Oklahoma Wolf Hunters got together at the Neal Ranch six miles south of Quanah for the annual Wolf Hunt. I and I were present as always. Monday night, ready to see the dogs turned loose Tuesday morning at day break.
The day dawned cool and dry but cloudy. Two hundred dogs were turned loose and started on down the draw. Due to pollen on the weeds, the wolves were very hard to trail but within the hour a light shower came up to the dogs' advantage. Soon you could hear packs of dogs trailing. In 50 minutes about 50 dogs caught, soon another pack caught, then another. Four wolves in all lost their lives before noon and numbers were seen to leave the ranch and cross a nearby wheat field.
The bench show was a success with a fine judge, Dave Wear, an Indian from Bartlesville, Okla. Everyone seemed to be pleased with the judging. There were so many good dogs to judge he said it was hard to tell who was first.
"Uncle Bill" Sanders of Nacogdoches, Tex., was master of ceremonies. Silver King, owned by Lewis Ackers, of Abilene, Tex., was grand champion dog and Top Flight also owned by Ackers was grand champion of the opposite sex. Field judges were Pat McChesney, Bill Scott, Jewell Parsons, John S. Williams, M. C. Lear, C. Young, Jim Todd and Leo Pruitt.
So much for the hunt but you have a special invitation to come and enjoy the hunt with us. It's lots of fun. Come next year.
Not raining today. Maybe we can get some cotton gathered. It dropped 82 per cent at Childress and seed is off $20 per ton.
Well good luck and thanks. I'll be going.
Weather forecast: Rain today and tomorrow.
A friend and reader,
Mrs. Lawrence L. Parker,
Kirkland Tex., Route 1.

Aid to Britain and Russia
OPM Materials Director Batt said in a radio speech from Washington he had returned from the said conference in Moscow with the thought that the "sensible and selfish" course for the U. S. is to deliver the goods—everything we possibly can provide—into the hands of people who can use them... against the enemy while he is still thousands of miles from our shores.
The Maritime Commission announced delivery of the first of 60 emergency cargo boats being built for the British. The President signed the $5,860,000,000 second lend-lease appropriation and created in the Office for Emergency Management a Lend-Lease Administration, with Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as Administrator.
Pan-American Relations
The Export-Import Bank authorized a $5,000,000 credit to the Banco de Venezuela, and announced special credit arrangements with banks in Latin America. It will be made to facilitate trade and resources designed to facilitate the Hemisphere to enable the American Republics to procure essential requirements for development of their economies.
Prices
The Labor Department reported its price index of 28 basic commodities rose 1.3 per cent during the week of October 17 to 24, bringing prices in the index to the 34 per cent higher than a year ago.
Price Administrator Henderson announced a comprehensive program to stabilize prices of all products made of copper, brass, or their alloys. He also issued a price schedule on glycerine and bed sheets. Sheet prices will be approximately 15 per cent below current market levels, Mr. Henderson said.
Facts and Figures
Archibald Leitch, Librarian of Congress, was appointed by the President to direct a new Office of Defense Facts and Figures to formulate programs designed to facilitate a widespread and accurate understanding of the status and progress of the national defense effort.
The new office will advise Government agencies how they can best present information and data to the public fully informed.
Employment and Wages
Secretary of Labor Perkins reported average hourly earnings of defense workers were 74.3 cents during August. Federal Security Administrator McNutt announced 34,500 jobs were filled through the State employment services during September—55 per cent more than last year.
Age-Honored Administrator Fleming said he favored a program of wage stabilization which would not freeze wages at present levels but would first adjust existing differences between plant and another doing the same work and make provisions for adjustments in salaries in the cost of living.
Labor Disputes
The President directed Secretary of War Stimson to take possession of and operate the Bendix, N. J., plant of Air Associates, Inc., after a dispute developed at the plant over the reinstatement of strikers on the recommendation of the Defense Mediation Board. Colonel Roy M. Jones, in charge of 2,100 soldiers who took over the plant, said, "employees desiring to return to their jobs will be given all necessary protection."
The Defense Mediation Board began hearings on the labor dispute involving captive cost miners in the Appalachian area after the United Mine Workers voted to accept the President's request to return to work in the interest of the nation.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q When will the "drive" to sell Defense Bonds begin?
A There will be no drive. Many people think of the Defense Savings Program as like the Liberty Loan campaign of the first World War, when it was conducted for short periods to raise specific quantities. The Defense Savings Program is a long-range campaign to encourage the public to buy more and more Defense Bonds and Stamps monthly by means of a program to promote saving as well as to provide money for defense.
Q Are the Defense Savings Bonds sold at retail stores?
A Yes. They are the same as Stamps on sale at post offices and elsewhere.
NOTE: To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association, or to the nearest branch of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps now on sale at retail stores.

TOWARD A NEW DAY

By CHARLES E. BELL, JR.
NOT BY BREAD ALONE
While in Washington recently I visited the beautifully new National Gallery of Art, and I found it one of the most impressive sights in a city known for its sights and buildings. Every American who can possibly do so ought to visit this gallery when in Washington.
The building and a large portion of the art within it were given by the late Andrew W. Mellon to the people of the United States. In a letter to the Executive, Mellon asked permission to make this gift. The generous offer was readily accepted by Congress and today, less than five years after Mellon's death, it stands almost completed for the citizens of our nation to enjoy.
I doubt if there is a gallery in all the world that quite compares with this one. To be sure there are several galleries with more valuable collections and with more paintings, but taken as a whole of Europe, it stands in a class to itself. The famous Petit Gallery in Florence would come nearer surpassing it in this respect than any other gallery so far as I know. In the first place the building itself, commanding and beautiful, is ideal for a collection of great art. Built for a collection of great art, it is lovely pink Tennessee marble and fronting the great mall which extends from the Capitol to the Washington Monument, one is inspired just to see its exterior.
The interior of the building is likewise perfect in every detail. The stunning rotunda, supported by the elegant columns of Italian marble, is almost breath taking, and each room, holding a small number of pictures, is a work of art.
At the present two great collections are housed here. There is the priceless collection of Mr. Mellon's which has been gathered at unknown cost from the art centers of Europe, and the wonderful collection of S. H. Kress, the chain store magnate. One of Mr. Mellon's pictures, a Raphael Madonna, was bought from the Soviet government for more than a million dollars. Others probably cost very near that amount.
To walk through these halls and see this collection of beauty is an experience one never forgets. Here is assurance, if ever man needed it, that one cannot live by bread alone. And as you walk through room after room there is ample reminder that life can be high and fine if one is willing to make it so.
I think the most impressive picture in the entire gallery is a portrait of a young man, done by Raphael. I had never even heard of the picture and knew nothing of its presence in the gallery, but it caught my eye the minute I saw it in one of the rooms. Moderate in size, yet not small, and done in the most unusual shade of green, this portrait is worth the trip to Washington by itself.
After I had been looking at the picture and admiring the almost incredible perfection of detail that Raphael wrought in it, I noticed a man standing there examining it closely through a glass. I engaged him in conversation and learned that the picture had been in Munich until a few years ago and was thought to be the product of another artist, but in some way it was discovered to be a Raphael and was placed in this new gallery. One has no difficulty in believing it, for it must surely be one of the greatest pictures in the entire gallery.

ARMISTICE DAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1941
Standing in the gloom of despair and reality and looking back on the sunshine of that spontaneous demonstration of hope and confidence twenty-three years ago, we look at this Armistice Day as one on which AMERICA MUST UNITE as never before to make this nation one firm, solid unit of defense. Let's make this Armistice Day one on which the two minutes of silence will find every heart and mind pledged to making America safe and secure by a united effort of every soul.

Holland Ferguson purchased a cow from Mrs. Robert Carlisle. Mrs. Carlisle and children plan to join Mr. Carlisle in Detroit within the next few days.

New Concord Kinklets

November's here again with its cool, enervating atmosphere, and we have a little more pop than formerly, even if it is muddy underfoot.

We don't know so much news for we haven't been around the days are just too short and we're too busy.

Miss Gray Farley is at home from Louisville where she has been employed for several years. Perhaps she is thinking of taking another position?

Misses Mary and Sally Nance, John Nance and two friends from Chicago spent last week-end at Mrs. Emma Nance's. John remained for awhile.

Highway trucks and "dam" trucks and cars are keeping traffic heavy in our little vicinity now, and there is more money in circulation, apparently than has been in a good while.

We saw Mr. Euel Allbritten while he was in on a visit to his parents last week before going back to work in Detroit. He evinced much pride in his 20th birthday since it evicted him from the army. Mrs. Noble Lyons accompanied him home for a short visit.

Several attended church at Sulphur Spring last Sunday and were glad to hear that the preacher's salary was paid in full before his last sermon until conference decision.

School at Concord is progressing nicely and most prosperously under the clever management of our capable, "if youthful, principal," Pat McCusick.

Friday night, "Hamburgers" went like hot cakes, the fish pond was fishless in a few minutes, the bicycle tickets yielded an untold amount of profit, bingo seats were scarcely sufficient, everything went off with a host present in spite of the weather and about one hundred and twenty-five dollars was totalized, besides a crown was won by Miss Patricia Gibson and Mr. Keys Patterson.

Already we have had a very successful pie supper and results of our prosperity are being seen. The old basement has been cleared of its rubbish, had a concrete floor made and shower baths have been installed. Several new books have been added to the library, some much needed maps are in the study hall and the basketball boys are equipped to begin playing ball with a will.

The first game was with Hardin Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lovins visited Mr. and Mrs. Rainey Lovins Friday night and attended the carnival. Also, we had a "pie" supper last Saturday night.

I wasn't exactly present at the homecoming at Murray but I saw the bonfire and heard the celebrating while spending the night at Otis Lovins' after enjoying the show, "Virginia."

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Linus Spiceland, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Cathey and Mrs. Johnnie Ahart went to Stewart County and attended church at Newell's church. Saw another discharged soldier, Ray Whitford, who was rejoicing over a lame back.

Cedar Knob

"If my memory serves me right, October 15, 1936, the Cedar Knob column made its first appearance in the good, old Ledger & Times and it is still attempting to report the news from this section. I am not getting tired of this job of gathering news, either. I will be right here until the Editor gets worried and says 'go.' I want to thank each and everyone for the news you have handed to me during these years and ask you to continue sending your news items to me that they may be published. Thanked.

Mr. and Mrs. Tip Williams and daughters, Jean and Dorothy, of this place and J. C. Williams of near Frog Creek were business visitors in Murray Wednesday.

Miss Bobbie Grubbs, Miss Shirley Ann Gibson and Kentucky Belle, visited Macedonia School Thursday afternoon.

George E. Banks, near Freeland, Mill, who has been ill for the past two years with heart trouble and unable to work, was carried to the County Home at Paris Wednesday where he will make his home. We hope for George a speedy recovery.

Hatten Lewis and his sister, Mrs. Monnie Mitchell, were in New Concord Thursday morning.

Mrs. George Freeland, Mrs. John Freeland and Mrs. Tolly Christian spent Monday afternoon at the bedside of Mrs. Billy McClure who remains very ill at this writing.

Mrs. Johnnie Simmons and her daughter, Pernie Mae, shopping at Freeland's Store Wednesday and also were guests in the home of Mrs. Ada Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayron McClure and daughter were Wednesday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rainey Lovins of New Concord.

Miss Mary Mitchell was the guest of Miss Bobbie Grubbs, Saturday afternoon.

Kentucky Belle was indeed sorry to hear of the death of an old neighbor, Mrs. Sallie Clayton, which occurred Sunday morning. Mrs. Clayton, before her marriage, was Miss Sallie Freeman of the Mt. Pleasant vicinity. Kentucky Belle lived near her for 21 years. Mrs. Clayton was a good woman and a good neighbor and friend to everyone she came in contact with.

October went out with heavy rains with more inch fall than the three preceding months combined. September was the driest month since 1920. However, in 1941 we had an average crop year for which we are thankful unto Him who rules above.

On "Choozey" night, October 28, frost and ice were seen, but the ground was so wet that vegetation was not killed. Now, on November 3, pastures and gardens are as green as ever—"I think".

Mrs. Bertha Dunn, out Elm Grove way is staying in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cochran and assisting in the housework. Mrs. Cochran seems to be getting in strength.

"Olive-Oyl" said: "They were driving 2-foot sticks with white flags on top by side of highway and some body asked, 'why?' 'None of your business,' they snapped. Well, they did the same thing on Highway No. 121. But I guessed at the reason they were doing it and saved getting a cussing 'I think' 'struck oil'."

At the noon-hour I was sitting in the rocker reading how the war was progressing and I went sound asleep. I dreamed two ladies neatly dressed and their bench-legged "ice" dogs met in the four house yard. Then the pups engaged in a terrific fight which caused the women to plunge at each other with one letting go with a left hook to the chin and the other one struck a right at the burr of the ear, and on and on until it became so intense that I awoke suddenly with my heart fluttering like a wounded bird.

As the scene opens, we find Hitler and Mussolini in a submarine in American waters on the high sea. Suddenly they come in contact with a large sea monster—the powerful WIALE, that uses only his tail in combat. Do you know what is next? The neutrality act repealed—I think.

My U. S. flag has faded out white as snow and now looks like a flag of truce. Well, I never did surrender but once. That was when we (?) stood up before the parson and shook me head "yes". Am still shaking?!

Now, with due respect to all the readers of the Ledger & Times I sign—"Ole Eagle".

Lynn Grove High School News

The Lynn Grove Wildcats will meet the Almo Warriors on the Almo floor, next Friday evening for their first basketball game of the season. A well-supervised school staff will afford a means of transportation for those in our community who wish to attend. The students in each room of the grade department enjoyed a Halloween party last Friday afternoon. Entertainment consisted of games and contests. Refreshments of popcorn, peanuts, apples, and cookies were served. Mary Todd and Jessie Myers Gilbert, former graduates of Lynn Grove High School, were visitors in our school last Wednesday. During the past week, there has been a decided increase in the number of students eating in the cafeteria. An average of 215 students are served each day. The menu for this week is as follows: Monday, creamed potatoes, green beans, cooked tomatoes, raw apples and corn muffins; Tuesday, school, Wednesday, turnip greens, sweet potatoes, raw apples, corn muffins and dried beans; Thursday, vegetable stew, cake and sauce; Friday, scalloped potatoes, lima beans, dried prunes, greens, corn muffins and oatmeal cookies. Sadie Hawkins Day at Murray State November 8

Sadie Hawkins Day at Murray State College has been set for Saturday, November 8. It was announced today by Dyke Mayo, editor of the Shield, Murray College annual. This event is sponsored by the Shield with the cooperation of the Murray Student Organization. November 8 is the national Sadie Hawkins Day. The observance of which is based upon Al Capa's comic strip "Li'l Abner." A "Li'l Abner" and a Daisy Mae will be chosen by the Student Organization, and these students will be crowned king and queen of Murray State's Sadie Hawkins Day. The Murray State Teachers' Association will take place at the half-time intermission in the football game between the Murray Thoroughbreds and the Memphis State Teachers on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 8. There will be a costume ball in the Carr Health Building at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. Prizes will be awarded the most appropriately dressed couple, said Mr. Mayo. Sadie Hawkins tags for all prospective Daisy Maes to pin on their little Abners will be on sale here beginning Thursday, November 6. The Shield staff announced. These tags will also admit the couple to the dance Saturday night.

According to an article in one of the local papers last week, a per cent of all Kentucky men examined for military service have been rejected because they were physically or mentally unable to meet the requirements. Heading the list as causes for rejection were defective teeth. More than 21 boys of each hundred were turned down because their teeth were in poor condition. It would be interesting to find out how many of these 21 drank little or no milk as children. Second highest "in causing rejection" was a lack of wholesome nourishing foods. How shocking to know that so many Kentucky boys do not have good teeth. Do the parents of these boys realize that it is their responsibility? That they had handicapped their boy perhaps for life? Not because they didn't have the food but because they did not see that the child ate the kinds he needed. It does not matter how much food is put on the table. The important part is how much and what kinds the children and the adults eat. A child may be badly underfed in the midst of plenty because of poor food habits, like disliking, because the food is not properly cooked, or because his parents do not realize the importance of certain foods in the daily meals. A child that drinks milk has a head start over the one that does not, just as the child eating much sweets is handicapped. No child can have perfect health and growth without an abundance of fruits and vegetables, yet many parents do not encourage the child to eat these necessary foods. We are the best fed nation in the world, yet a really well-fed nation would not have a large number of boys below par. Neither would it have the hundreds of underfed children which we know are in every state throughout the United States. Only when the youth of our country show good health and are nourished can we say we are a well-fed nation and it is the responsibility of every individual to help bring this about.

Concord School News

The Halloween carnival last Friday night was a great success. A large crowd was present and everyone had lots of fun. The "King and Queen" of the carnival, Keys Patterson and Patricia Gibson of the Junior class, were crowned and their attendants were Tom Hamlin and Elva Williams of the senior class. The Junior-class won the contest, selling tickets on the bicycle, by a few hundred votes. The senior class was runner-up. We were glad to have our county superintendent, Mr. T. C. Arnett, present at our pep meeting last Thursday. He said a few words in behalf of Amendment No. 1 to our Constitution. Our yell leaders, Laura Farley, Chae Gordon and Patricia Gibson, were working hard and improving greatly. Our basketball season started when the Redbirds defeated the Hardin Eagles by a score of 18-5. We hope to have the same luck at our first home game and show the basketball squad we're back of them. Everyone is working hard this week because it is the end of another school week and they are preparing for six weeks exams. Wayne Nelson visited our school last week. The health nurse was here to give the tuberculin test. An old time fiddlers contest will be given at this school Saturday night, November 15. Everyone is invited to come and bring your fiddle and win that big prize or if you can jig dance you get a small acquisition fee for every one except the contestants. Come and bring someone with you.

Cherry Corner

Jolly Halloween is over at last with rain rather than frost on the pumpkins. Some "spooked" with the crowd at Murray, while others attended the party at Cherry School. Everyone reported a nice time despite the stormy weather. Jean Parker, Shirley Arnold and Matthew Russell received prizes for their disguise. Mrs. Rupert Outland is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Sam Stevenson, who has been quite ill. Mr. and Mrs. John Parker and children of Ohio are visiting their parents, Bob Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pogue. Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Ridings were bedtime guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Forrest Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heath were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pogue. Mrs. Mary Henry was in the home of Mrs. Alice Manning Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Forrest and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Betty Winchester Sunday. Mrs. Bill Baucum is visiting her mother, Mrs. Zora Hendon and family.

Galloway Farmers Cooperating With Extension Group

Calloway County farmers are cooperating with the County Extension Service and the Tennessee Valley Authority in carrying out a woods improvement program. C. L. Ross and H. P. Ezell, both of the Kirtsey community, are cooperating in this program. Primarily the program as agreed to by these men, John T. Cochran, County Agent, and representatives of the TVA Forestry Relations Division, is as follows: The landowners agree to protect the existing woods from both grazing and fire and to use care in cutting and removing timber; the TVA agrees to furnish trees for replanting, if needed, and to furnish technical assistance in marking trees to be removed. The tracts of woods involved in the demonstration on the Ross farm contains about six acres, while the Erwin farm contains about 10 acres. It will be with sincere interest the farmers of this county will watch these tracts of woods to see the improvement that protection will bring.

"Calm Yourself" to Be Presented by Sophomores of Almo

"Calm Yourself," by James F. Stone, a non-sensical farce, will be presented by the sophomore class of Almo High School on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The play is a story of a woman who has social ambitions. She invites Harold Ainsworth, a famous interior decorator, for the week-end under the impression that he is an old admirer of hers from the old home town. Hoping for a quiet time, he accepts and for a time tries to carry out the deception. Then Fred Smith, the husband with many ailments, decides to live up to the party by having a party to carry out the deception. Complications begin and general confusion reigns. The entire insane jumble makes for a hilarious evening's entertainment for the audience and a pang of laughs at the expense of the players. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the school.

Card of Thanks

Our bereavement was made easier by the deep understanding and sympathy expressed in words and deeds by our friends during the long illness and passing of our husband and father. We wish to thank each and everyone. Mrs. T. G. Rogers and children.

"In Flanders' Fields the poppies blow

Straight lines of them. One in back of another. Aisles of them, side by side. Stretching, reaching, climbing back over the curved brow of the hill. Hundreds of them. Thousands. Neat and white. Uniform. Crosses, each the same, each one a tabulator: one man dead. And in a tomb at Arlington sleeps another—unknown.

"... That these dead shall not have died in vain..." We remember that. "... If ye break faith with us who die, we shall not sleep..." We remember that, too. And we keep faith. We keep faith with those who die, with those who sleep, row on row in Flanders' Fields, with the one who sleeps alone at Arlington. "... That these dead shall not have died in vain..." PEACE. Ours to guard. Ours to cherish. PEACE.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Sunday, November 9, 1941

The services Sunday will mark the close of the five year pastorate of Rev. J. Mack Jenkins with the Methodist Church of Murray, and man likely will terminate his pastorate with this congregation.

Our Methodist people believe that it is profitable to change pastors from time to time, regardless of one's fitness for the task, or of the work that one has done. The years have been pleasant and happy ones, and there has been a good growth in the membership of the church.

The stewards and the pastor are grateful to the members and friends of the church for their generous contributions to the fund for them to report "OUT IN FULL" on all items of the church budget for the year. Thus this congregation in five years has met its obligations regularly and has shown that any church can do so if that church puts its work and its finances on a business basis. It has been a great delight to work with this fine body of stewards.

At the morning worship hour, 10:30 o'clock, the pastor will preach on the text: "The Church is the Pillar and Ground of the Truth" (I Tim. 3:15). Something must be the basis of civilization.

Certainly no organization has furnished such basic principles for progress and civilization as the Church. With all her human faults, the Church is still the hope of civilization, the salt of the earth, the light of the world. Yes, the pillar and ground of the truth.

You can give and should give to this Church the best that is in you.

At the evening hour, 7:45, the pastor delivers his closing message to the congregation from the text: "Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you." (II Cor. 13:11). Certainly this is a wonderful way in which to say "goodbye."

REMEMBER the Sunday-school in your community. As a good citizen you owe it your time and support. There is no organization that can take its place. Find your way there and your place is of service in it.

Our young people meet at 6:45 in three groups. Mrs. J. F. Dale has charge of the children from 6 to 13 years of age. Miss Lila Clayton Beale has charge of the high school group and the junior high. There is an age group for your boy or girl. Send them to the meeting.

The Methodist Church, as a church, has no fault to find with any other denomination. It recognizes all religious bodies as members of the Body of Christ and makes no claims to any divine favoritism. We are simply a part of the spiritual body of Christ and pray the blessings of God upon all who call upon his name.

J. Mack Jenkins, Pastor

Thompson To Head Red Cross Gift Drive

Financial support in difficulties experienced by America's fighting men has become the chief work of the Red Cross in this past year. Due to this vast expansion, the Red Cross expects and must have even larger gift donations than last year, according to Rev. Charles C. Thompson, gift drive chairman. The drive starts November 4.

The Calloway County chapter of the Red Cross has already helped more than 45 Calloway soldiers clear up some social and economic problems brought about by their sudden departure. As a result these men are less worried about home matters and will be able to devote all their energy toward helping America defend its shores. Morale, which military experts agree is the main factor in any country's fighting force, has been and will be helped immensely by the Red Cross. One Army leader declared: "Take away the Red Cross and you would reduce the Army's strength 20 per cent."

The Rev. Thompson added: "It is important for the people of Calloway County to remember that the RED CROSS IS THE AMERICAN PEOPLE."

To beat the drought, Fayette County farmers cleaned ponds, springs, wells, and other water-holes, and constructed spillways on earth dams.

Pat Ryan Family Featured in Golfer And Sportsman

A feature article in the October issue of "Golfer and Sportsman," a magazine published in Minneapolis, Minn., relates interestingly the story of Pat Ryan and his family. Mr. Ryan is the son of Mrs. J. Ryan and the late Mr. Ryan of West Main Street. Pat is well remembered here where he attended public school and was ever ready to entertain his friends at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan and their three children, Pat, 13, Philip, 9, and Bill, 9, reside at 4215 West Main Street. Mr. Ryan is general manager of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., having worked with the company since 1926 in different cities of the United States.

In the early 1930s Mr. Ryan played the piano in a band, composed of University of Kentucky classmates who called themselves "Kentucky Kernels." Paul Whitman, later in the band, and finally signed them up as one of his units. Mr. Ryan was with the Whitman unit at Philadelphia, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Later they played the old Keith circuit in the east.

The feature entitled "Meet the Ryans," occupied a space of four full pages. The pages also contained photos of each member of the family and gave the hobby of each.

"We like Minneapolis and we like living in Edina," Mr. Ryan said. "It's homelike and healthy. There's a very definite sense of stability here," the former Murray resident stated.

Government Film Coming to Varsity

"Harvests For Tomorrow," a new government documentary film dealing with farm life in New England, is scheduled for showing at the Varsity Theatre, on November 16-17.

Produced by the AAA, United States Department of Agriculture, with narration by Frank Craven, the celebrated star of "Our Town" and an original musical score, this picture is designed to bring home to farm and city people alike their basic interest in what is happening to the soil of New England farms.

It has been widely acclaimed as film entertainment of the highest type, combining a portrayal of the strength and security that come from the land, with pastoral scenes of unsurpassed beauty and a pulse-quickenning musical accompaniment.

LIMESTONE IS UNLIMITED, SAYS COUNTY AGENT

The amount of limestone available to Calloway County farmers is, for the present year, practically unlimited, according to Richard M. Sandefur, Assistant County Agent.

The 20 trucks hauling lime into the county from the TVA quarry moved 1,400 tons into the county last week. These trucks moving lime at this rate makes it possible for the farmer to receive delivery of his lime now in approximately two weeks.

Whereas the supply of limestone as grant of material is plentiful, the supply of phosphate fertilizers is somewhat curtailed, shipments of 20% phosphate.

The cost of using phosphate fertilizer as a means of earning soil building goals in the farm program is $2.11 per unit. The farmer receives credit at the rate of $1.50 per unit which means that the difference of 61 cents for each unit earned with phosphate must come out of other payments due the farm.

character roles in Broadway plays and on the screen, represents with his voice, a kindly and philosophic New Englander, in running comments on the unfolding scenes. All characters who appear in the film are real farm people.

Mrs. Bertice Lasater Dies in Paris

Funeral services for Mrs. Bertice Bomar Lasater, 62, who died at six o'clock Friday evening, October 24, at her home on Highland street, were held at Palestine Church Sunday afternoon, October 26, conducted by Rev. W. D. Burke, pastor. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were Capt. J. W. Travis, N. W. Wilson, Charles D. Trevathan, A. B. Casey, T. A. Barnes and Lucian Bomar.

Mrs. Lasater, daughter of the late John and Mrs. Mary Louise Bowden Bomar, early settler of Henry County, and a family prominent in the affairs of this section, was the widow of L. A. Lasater of Murray, who died 23 years ago.

Surviving Mrs. Lasater, who was the first of a family of nine children to be taken in death, are four sisters, Mrs. J. T. Taylor and Miss Louise Bomar of Henry; Mrs. H. H. Wynns, Paris, and Miss Evelyn Bomar, Vera Cruz, Mexico; and by four brothers, Walter and Clark Bomar of Ardmore, Okla.; Herbert Bomar, Johnson City; and Clifford Bomar, Elkhart, Ind.—The Parisian, Paris, Tenn.

Dr. Garrett Attends Clinical Congress

Dr. Evan L. Garrett, surgeon at the William Mason Memorial Hospital, spent the first part of this week at Boston, Mass., attending the Thirty-First Clinical Congress.

ASK FOR BIDS

Clyde Phelps, secretary of the Shiloh Telephone Company, announced today that all who wish to bid on the Telephone Switchboard have their bids into the Shiloh office by 9 a. m. Saturday, November 8.

Dr. Garrett's work locally made it necessary for him to make the trip to and return from, via American Air Lines, thus saving about two days going and two days on return trip.

The William Mason Memorial Hospital is one of the 32 hospitals in Kentucky on the accredited list of the American College of Surgeons as released at the Boston convention last Tuesday.

After putting in a busy day at the local institution, Dr. Garrett returned to Nashville late at night, boarding the plane which landed him at Boston for the convention, beginning Monday, illustrating once more that travel by air is proving to be a wonderful blessing to the medical profession.

A favorable report has been submitted to the Chief of Air Corps. The successful passing of the Cadet Board is the last hurdle to overcome by the cadets, and a commission ordinarily follows as a matter of course. It is expected that the cadets will be made 2nd lieutenants within the next three or four weeks.

O. M. Corbin Jr. to Be Made Officer

O. M. Corbin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. LET'S MAKE ARMISTICE DAY A REAL NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

THANK GOD FOR PEACE. It is the most treasured heritage we have. But not a peace bought at the price of dishonor. France, Poland, Greece—all have peace—would we like its kind?

We are faced with the tremendous task of welding our forces into a defense mechanism that will stand as a watchdog to any movement in our direction. On this Armistice Day let us pledge ourselves sincerely and completely to do all that we can to bring about a unified action to preserve our nation by making it one hundred per cent ready to combat every force that would attempt to submerge it.
