Sen. Howard, Pres. Pro-Tem, Is Suicide

Takes Own Life With Gun Blast; Found By His Son

ILL. HEALTH BLAMED

Covington, Ky., March 3.—(AP)—State Senator Alex Howard, president pro tem of the Kentucky Senate, was found dead at his suburban home yesterday. A shotgun wound in the head. Coroner Tressa Riffe returned a verdict of suicide in the death of the 45-year-old Democratic party leader. As Senate temporary presiding officer, Howard had been in line to serve as acting governor in the absence of both Gov. Simeon Willis and Lt. Gov. Kenneth H. Tugle, Republicans, from the state. In Frankfort, Willis paid tribute to Howard, saying: "His death is a real loss to the state. I am very sorry indeed. I have known him a long time and he was a great respect for him. He was a public official who was very faithful and regular at his work." At the 1946 session of the legislature, Coroner Louis Cox, Frankfort, had been listed as a contender for the post of president pro tem, but before the Democratic caucus, Cox, after an apparent agreement, put Howard's name in nomination. His election was unanimous at the caucus.

Senator Howard's body was discovered in his den, called the "White Room," in his suburban South Fort Mitchell home. The body was found by his son, Alex, Jr., 14, who had been sleeping upstairs. Coroner Riffe said the boy did not hear a shot. Apparently Howard stood in front of a mirror placed the shotgun against his forehead and pulled the trigger, the coroner reported.

A note addressed to "My beloved family" was reported by the coroner as declaring: "I couldn't stand the pain any longer." Friends of Howard said he had been in ill health for some time.

His wife and their daughter, Lucy, 9, were vacationing in Florida at the time. Funeral arrangements are not expected to be completed until their arrival home.

The senator was the son of Ullie J. Howard, Kenton county commonwealth's attorney, and was elected to his first four-year term as 24th District Senator in 1941. He was re-elected without opposition in November, 1945. His death left the party lineup in the senate 20 Democrats, 16 Republicans.

Senator Howard had appeared last Wednesday in federal district court here as defense counsel in disbarment proceedings against his father. A group of Kenton county ministers are seeking to have commonwealth's attorney Howard disbarred from federal court practice for alleged laxity in enforcing anti-gambling laws. Court attaches said Senator Howard last week appeared in good health in what was believed to have been his last courtroom appearance. He and his father were partners in a law firm here.

Senator Howard received an A. B. degree from Centre College, Danville, Ky., and his law degree from the University of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Fortner Dies Sunday

Was Life Long Baptist; Funeral Wed. Afternoon At Liberty Church, 2:30

Mrs. Lora Cruce Fortner of 908 East State Line, died Sunday evening, March 2, at 11:20.

Early in life Mrs. Fortner professed faith in Christ and thru the years has been a faithful member of the Baptist church. On Oct. 15, 1904, she was married to William Duncan Fortner, who preceded her in death 13 years ago. An infant son, Richard Ardell, passed on, before her, June 9, 1913.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Eunice Mallard and Mrs. Mildred Bush of Fulton; six sons, Capt. Carl Fortner of Battle Creek, Mich., Raymond Fortner of Treasvart, Tenn., J. W. Fortner of Dyersburg, Tenn., Eugene Fortner, James "Buddy" Fortner, and Thomas Fortner of Fulton. Three step children, Oscar Fortner of Detroit, Mrs. Mary Moore of Huntington, Tenn., and Mrs. Ella Phillips of Fulton also survive, as well as twenty-four grandchildren; one brother, Joe Cruce of Fulton; one sister, Miss Maude Cruce of Harrison, Ark., two half-sisters, Mrs. Maggie Adair of Harrison, Ark., and Mrs. Tom Bollew of Fulton; and two half-brothers, Ray Cruce, Silana, Kansas and Charles Cruce of Oklahoma; also many nieces and nephews, one of whom is Mrs. Alvin Rogers of Fulton.

The body will be at the home until the time of the funeral. Services will be held at Liberty Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. J. T. Drace officiating, assisted by Rev. L. R. Strickland and Mrs. Dan Horton.

Active pallbearers will be her six sons. Honorary pallbearers are the following: Roy Greer, James Nabors, Chip Roberts, Ralph Breeden, Gilbert Walker, Carl Wright, Henry Bethel, Claude Rozzell, Robert Walker, Master Sgt. R. W. Ridd of Brigham City, Utah, W. O. Windham and A. R. Windham of Atlanta, Ga., Dan Horton, Everett Jordan, Raymond Williams and J. LeComau.

The Hornbeak Funeral Home will be in charge of burial.

YOU CAN'T USE PULL WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Salem, Ill.—(AP)—A Boy Scout mayor-for-a-day, Bob Gofstetter, collected $50 in fines from traffic offenders—including $1 from the actual Mayor, C. A. McGraw, for illegal parking. McGraw's remonstrance to Alfred Myers, Scout stand-in city attorney, was futile.

Blast Jars Chicago Loop Area; Levels 3-Story Building Sunday

Chicago, March 3.—(AP)—The body of a third victim was recovered today and firemen continued digging through debris for the corpse of a restaurant operator missing since an explosion jarred a wide area of the loop yesterday and leveled a three-story brick building.

More than 30 persons were injured in the mysterious blast which authorities said would have claimed a high toll of dead and injured had it occurred on a business day.

The body dug from the rubble today was that of a man about 40 years old. In the clothing, county morgue attendants found a paper bearing the name George A. Henry. The paper was a post-office slip and police began an inquiry at the postoffice in an effort to establish identity.

Fulton Lady Dies Today

Many Relatives Survive Funeral Tuesday P. M., For Mrs. Kitty Bizzle

Mrs. Kitty Netherland Bizzle died this morning March 3, at 7:15 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Neal Clinard in South Fulton.

Mrs. Bizzle was born January 31, 1878, in Obion county. She united with the Johnson Grove Baptist church at the age of 18. Later she moved her membership to the First Baptist church in Fulton where she was an active member until ill health prevented her attending the services. She married W. O. Bizzle in 1903. To this union were born four boys and two daughters. One daughter, Opal, preceded her in death 34 years ago.

She is survived by her husband; four sons, Orlis, Odell, Ellis and Lewis; one daughter, Mrs. Helen Clinard, five grandchildren, Shirley Ann, Gilbert Wayne, Netra Carolyn, Judith Ann, and Nell Elizabeth; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Miller, and Mrs. Anna McKinney of Fulton; and several nieces and nephews.

Her body will lie in state at the home of her daughter on Peachall street. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. J. T. Drace assisted by Rev. Sam Ed Bradley at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist church with burial in Johnson Grove cemetery in charge of Hornbeak Funeral home.

Active pallbearers are Hartz Ruston, Glenn Williams, Jones Dickerson, Ben Davis, Russell Johnson, Joe Brown, and John E. Bard.

The missing man was Louis Pappas, who operated a restaurant on the ground floor of the building at Wells and Van Buren streets. Police said his wife told them he had gone to the building about two hours before the explosion.

The other dead are Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Koons (3522 N. Clinton) Fort Wayne, Ind., who were blown from the street to the elevated structure of the Chicago rapid transit tracks. Koons, a taxidermist, and his wife had arrived in Chicago only about an hour before the blast shook the area and shattered hundreds of windows in buildings over a radius of a block.

Only three of the injured were described as in critical condition and fire commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said the city escaped a major disaster only by the fact that the blast occurred on Sunday. Had it been on any other day, he said, "hundreds would have been killed."

State Attorney William J. Tuohy said he would begin an investigation into the cause of the blast today.

Corrigan estimated loss of the building and its contents at about $1,000,000 but Ray Crane, chief of uniformed police, said "potential loss" of property, including exposed merchandise in nearby buildings, might total $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. Window damage alone was estimated as high as $250,000.

LATE AP NEWS

Washington—President Truman recommends that congress let draft law expire March 31 and disallows army expects to release all non-volunteers.

Cape Elizabeth, Mt.—Coast guard rescues 36 crewmen of wrecked ship by breeches buoy; vessel broken in two by fierce storm.

Mexico City—President Truman arrived by plane here today, the first United States chief executive ever to pay a visit to this capital.

He is here for a three-day official visit.

Artillery fired a 21-gun salute when the President landed at 9:37 a.m. (CST).

Troops formed a line before the airport building as the President's plane touched Mexican soil.

The ship left Kansas City at 2:59 a.m. (CST).

President Truman was welcomed by President Aleman, his cabinet, the governor of the federal district, Fernando Casas Aleman, not a relative of the president, and other dignitaries.

Truman came in seven hours from the cold and snow of Kansas City into the summer warmth and sunshine of Mexico.

The airport was transformed for the visit. A great platform flanked by high columns was erected for the unprecedented official session of the consultative council which made President Truman a "guest of honor" of the city. Governor Casas Aleman presented the President with an inscribed gold medal and a parchment.

The "Sacred Cow" cleared the field for five minutes before landing. Then it taxied toward the buildings and stopped before the platform and the balcony where the receiving party was assembled.

Truman was the first man out of his plane. He was met near the bottom of the steps by U. S. ambassador Walter D. Dill.

They stood talking a few minutes while President Aleman and foreign secretary Jaime Torres Bodet, ahead of the Mexican party, stood 20 feet away for photographers to get the scene of the meeting.

As artillery fired a 21 gun salute the two presidents advanced and shook hands. Then there was a round of introductions among the several officials and the U. S. Embassy staff.

The two presidents met at 10:09 a.m. (CST) and six minutes later, introductions concluded, they advanced to the platform for the presentation of the medal.

President Truman, replying to President Aleman's welcome and the presentation of the medal, addressed himself to both of them.

"I deeply appreciate the cordial welcome" he said "to the ancient and noble city of Mexico."

He spoke of the growing familiarity with Mexico through tourists from the United States and of the "full understanding" between the two peoples.

"We are the inheritors of a great civilization" he added, "and it is the task of the democracies of America to nurture their political and intellectual heritage until democracy has achieved its full fruition in world peace, justice and brotherhood."

Col. Browning is a veteran of both World Wars I and II and is an attorney in private life.

Membership of the local post now stands at 661.

Meanest Thief In World Found

Tiptonville, Tenn.—Something of a new low in human degradation was set in Tiptonville on Tuesday night last week, when some unknown character made away with a "March of Dimes" box which sat on the counter of Ann's restaurant. Lilienthal Takes Stand In Own Behalf

Denies Testimony Of Opponents; Shows Contract

CALLS CHARGE IRONIC

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—David E. Lilienthal today showed the senate atomic committee a 1931 contract which he contended proved that he received no pay from a Chicago firm for current services while he was a Wisconsin public utilities commissioner.

Lilienthal began his testimony shortly after Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) had issued a statement saying he would oppose Lilienthal's nomination as chairman of the atomic energy commission because he "has held and continues to hold to the philosophy of the New Deal."

Lilienthal told the committee it was "ironic" to face charges that he had violated Wisconsin law by receiving outside compensation while he was on the state payroll.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), chief opponent of Lilienthal, had charged the nominee with such a violation in previous committee hearings.

"The imputation made 10 or 16 years later, that I violated the letter or the spirit of a law which requires a commissioner to devote his entire time to the duties of his office and not to pursue any other business or vacation seems a bit on the ironic side to me, Lilienthal testified.

The witness read a contract under the commerce clearing house, a subsidiary of the Corporation Trust Co., agreed to pay him $240 weekly while he was a Wisconsin commissioner.

The contract stipulated that he was to "render no personal services and receive no compensation" for such services, but was to be paid for the expenses of maintaining his office and staff. This staff was to continue to put out a loose leaf reporting service on legal opinions, a service for which the then 31-year-old Lilienthal had been paid $385 weekly for editing.

The contract said that an additional margin of payments would be made to Lilienthal for past services he had performed in setting up the reporting service. It said these payments would average $2,000 a year.

Two Car Wrecks Here Sat. Night Caused By Ice

Snow and ice on the streets and roads in and around Fulton caused two wrecks Saturday night.

The first accident happened on the east approach to the overhead bridge near the city limits on the Union City highway. A city owned truck was scattering cinders on the slippery road surface when a Chevrolet sedan loaded with colored passengers approached from Fulton. Slowing suddenly the Chevrolet went out of control and skidded. Two cars, following closely on the Chevrolet, were unable to stop in time to avoid becoming entangled with it. The three cars were slightly damaged.

Only one person was injured. A colored girl riding in the Chevrolet was cut slightly on the forehead.

The second accident took place on Highway 51 near the turn off to Crutcheid. Two autos of the same make and model, driven by two colored men, one coming from Chicago and the other going to Chicago, collided at 11 p. m.

The witnesses reported that the car from Chicago, with Charlie Ridd driving, pulled out to pass a taxi and skidded on the icy pavement. The car going to Chicago with Joe Westmoreland driving, plowed headlong into the southbound car. Ridd's car was almost completely destroyed and Westmoreland's car was badly damaged.

The wife of Westmoreland was cut about the face and required hospital treatment. No one was seriously injured.

Hershey, Pa. March 3.—(AP)—This probably is the best town in America for a boy to grow up in—Imagine a village of less than 4,000 population, set off among the Pennsylvania firs, where a kid can use seven swimming pools, three or four gymnasiums, several golf courses, including one which is reserved for juveniles until five p. m., and then go ice skating or watch first rate professional hockey in the big Hershey arena.—There also is a stadium (capacity 15,000) where occasional college and pro football games are played.

where the Pittsburgh pros. hold their pre-season workouts. Perhaps the most amazing feature of this unusual town is the Hershey Industrial school, operated solely for orphan boys. Its athletic record isn't outstanding, but it has the finest equipment of any school this writer ever has seen.

THE OBVIOUS DECISION

After Oklahoma's basketball team clinched the Big Six title the other night, a horde of students besieged President George Cross demanding a holiday to celebrate—here's how the prey explains what happened: "I raised the question if they were a representative group. They hoisted me to their shoulders where I could see, breathing one of my garters during the maneuver. A band was playing, auto horns were blaring, flash bulbs were popping. By that time it was after midnight and I could plainly see that it was a representative group and that if I didn't make some concession, that were in there swinging with all they had. The winners in the open class received a pair of miniature golden gloves with a diamond setting and the sub-victors got silver gloves with a ruby setting. All winners were permitted to keep their blue or white trunks and their boxing gloves.

To the amateur such prizes mean fame and glory. It was plain to see that not one of them ever was associated with "bribe"—the ugly word that has been popping up so frequently of late. Eddie Egan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, was a first row spectator with Gene Tunney, the former heavyweight champion. They left when the show was half over but they were amazed to see kids from 15 to 22 show as much heart as these Golden Gloves showed.
It would be nice if the professionals fought that way. Maybe Egan or Tunney spoke these words as they left. Maybe they didn't. But I have a hunch one of them thought as much.

SIAA Tournament Opens Thursday At West Ky. State

Bowling Green, Ky., March 3.—(AP)—Western Kentucky State Teachers College, the host school, and the University of Miami, Fla., headed the pairings today for the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association's basketball tournament, which opens here Thursday after a four-year wartime lapse.
The top-seeded teams were put in separate brackets for the pairings made here yesterday. Coach Ed Diddle's western team won the recent Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Cage Championship in Louisville, dethroning Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College. Miami was selected as a co-seeded team on its league record of five wins and no losses.
Western won the first S. I. A. A. meet held here, in 1934, and then, starting in 1937, copied six consecutive S. I. A. A. titles.
Delta State of Cleveland, Miss., with eight wins against two losses this season in S. I. A. A. play, meets Wofford College of Spartanburg, S. C., with a record of seven and one, in the tournament opener at 1:30 p. m. Thursday. This is an upper bracket tilt, at 3 p. m. Thursday, Pitts College of Bourbonville, Ky., with 10 wins and three losses, against Tennessee Tech of Cookeville, five and three.
Western Kentucky plays Northwestern Louisiana of Natchitoches, with nine victories against two losses, at 7 p. m. Thursday in an upper bracket game. At 9 p. m. Thursday, Miami, top-seeded in the lower bracket, meets college of Charleston, S. C., six victories in the lower bracket, meets college of Charleston, S. C., six victories and two losses.
Semi-finals Friday match the winner of the Delta-Wofford game against the winner of the Western Kentucky-Northwestern Louisiana game at 7:30 p. m., and the winner of the Union-Tennessee Tech game against the winner of the Miami-Charleston game at 9 p. m. The consolation will be played at 8:15 p. m. Saturday and the championship at 9:30 p. m. all games are on central standard time.

New York.—Ging Todd is the interesting, and who knows, possibly even authentic, name of the young lady who succeeds Miss Chilli Williams to the now doubtful exciting title of Miss Polka Dot. For the next three years, according to her contract with the Polka Dot Fashion Guild, she must wear polka dots night and day and for every possible occasion, including swimming.

Gink's contractual concern with this style of decoration even will extend to her undies. William Schiller, president of the P. D. F. Guild, has assigned his fanciest designers to whip up every possible version of the globular textile ornamentation for the former Cedar Rapids, Iowa, young lady who won the national contest which picked her for the dotty—pardon, I mean dotted—fabric role.

Chilli Williams basked contentedly and lengthily in the light of her eminence in her field but it finally got her down before her contract was up and she quit, saying that she "became tired of wearing polka dots all day." Last we heard she had retired to the comparative quiet of Hollywood.

Schiller filed suit against Miss Williams, but dropped it when he discovered 150,000 young ladies wanted to follow her polka-dotted footsteps—yes, the shoes were dotted too.

Cuff Stuff: Monte Proser, owner of the Copacabana, announced he has turned all his stock in his famed Manhattan saloon over to his year-old son Chipper, thereby making the infant, whose mom is beautiful Jane Ball of the films, the youngest saloon keeper on Broadway.

When Danny Thomas was overseas, his wife Rosemarie worried a bit about his safety and penned a poem which she mailed to the comedian. He memorized it and has been humming it ever since to a sketchy tune he made up. A songwriter heard it, asked permission to polish it a little, and now Danny is co-author of a new song, "Just Before I Sleep," which Frances Langford will feature.

Eleanor Powell, dancing star of stage and screen who called it a career temporarily when she retired to have a baby a couple of years ago, is making a come-

Biggest year of telephone
expansion for 1947

Telephone folks have their sleeves rolled up high! They are in the thick of activity, 1947 plans call for the biggest, fastest expansion and improvement program in our history in Kentucky. It is expected that $8,973,000 will be required for this program and thousands of miles of additional long distance circuits will be needed. Plans also call for the installation of 63,500 new telephones—plus enlargements of local and long distance central office facilities and construction of new buildings and building additions. A year of expansion—more and better service for you... COMING UP!

Did "He" Evade Draft, Or Didn't "She"?

Memphis, Tenn., March 3—(AP)—U. S. attorneys here have referred this puzzling question to the attorney-general at Washington:

What do you do when a person indicted for violation of the selective service act turns out to be a woman?

"Robert X"—the FBI's identification for the person in question—was located in Chicago recently after a five-year search through a dozen cities. The FBI was seeking a husky blond 31-year-old who had married a woman named Geneva in Brookhaven, Miss., had been reported delinquent by a Memphis draft board, and had been indicted by a federal grand jury.

When "Robert" disappeared, the FBI trailed Geneva and located her with a person she called her cousin Bessie, FBI agent D. S. Hostetter related. But Hostetter added, Bessie turned out to be "Robert"—and "Robert" turned out to be a woman.

Hostetter said the woman was not under arrest. He would not divulge her whereabouts, but the date of the discovery.

Officials of the U. S. District Attorney's office here said the matter was being referred to the attorney general for advice.

Veterans Corner

This column is published weekly through the cooperation of this paper. Questions should be mailed to the Veterans Employment Representative, Kentucky State Employment Service, Louisville, Kentucky.

Q. Will the Veterans Administration guarantee a G. I. loan for a boat which I can use during my vacation and for taking occasional fishing trips?

A. No. Loans for pleasure purposes cannot be guaranteed or insured by Veterans Administration.

Q. For what term of year can a guaranteed loan be made?

A. Payments must be such that the veteran will repay his home or business real estate loan within 25 years, a farm loan within 40 years and a non-real estate loan within 10 years.

Q. I want to change the beneficiary of my National Service Life Insurance, but I don't want the old beneficiary to know about it. Am I permitted to do this?

A. Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his NSLI at any time without their knowledge or consent.

Q. Can I borrow $300 on my converted National Service Life Insurance policy from the Veterans Administration and then assign my terminal-leave bonds in repayment of the loan to avoid having to hold the bonds for five years?

A. No. Assignment of terminal-leave bonds to the Veterans Administration for repayment of policy loans applies only to loans obtained before July 31, 1943. This provision was made specifically to prevent Veterans from obtaining cash for their bonds earlier than the 5-year period required by the law.

Q. My husband was induced into the army six months ago. Shortly after his induction I learned I was going to have a child. Can my husband get his discharge after our child is born?

A. He may apply now if he has a physician's certificate attesting to your condition.

In the smaller cities of America, trolley coaches and bus carry more than 80 percent of all passengers using public transportation.

ALTHOUGH the war is over, we still have nearly a million men in uniform, in training in the United States, as occupation forces in Europe and Japan, as security troops and technicians in out-of-the-way places throughout the world. They need the Red Cross.

Thousands of once sound fighting men lie in our hospitals and veterans facilities. They need the Red Cross.

Floods, fires, explosions and similar disasters strike somewhere almost daily. Their victims need the Red Cross.

Those who need, get. Those who can, give.
