3 County Men Named To State Development Council

Reed, Miller And Draffen Are Named

FRANKFORT—Three Marshall County leaders have been invited to become members of the new Kentucky State Development Council, Lieutenant Governor Wilson W. Wyatt has announced.

They are: Luther Draffen, executive vice president, Calvert Bank, Calvert City; Crosson Miller, Miller-Johnson Construction Company, Benton; and Clyde Reed, Reed Crushed Stone Co., Gilbertsville.

Thus far, Wyatt said, more than 350 leaders from all parts of Kentucky have accepted membership on the Council. Wyatt issued the invitations at the request of the 21-man Economic Development Commission, of which he is chairman.

First meeting of the Council is set for June 29 and 30 at Franklin County High School in Frankfort. A full informational program covering all aspects of Kentucky's expanded economic development effort has been arranged.

In his letters of invitation Wyatt said:

"It is the belief of the Commission that a significant representation of Kentucky's leading citizens from the various parts of Kentucky will be of great assistance in helping the Commission to achieve its objectives for a broadly based advance in employment opportunities in our state through the development of both our agriculture and our industry."

Damages of $3,100 Awarded In Accident

A jury in Marshall County Court Wednesday awarded damages to Mr. and Mrs. Grover Drexler as the result of an automobile accident last fall.

The jury awarded Drexler $900 for damage to his car, and awarded Mrs. Drexler $2,500 for personal injuries.

The Drexler car was in collision with one driven by Charlie Ross of Benton. The accident happened on the Access Road as Mr. Ross and several women passengers were en route to work at Ky. Dam Village.

Mr. Ross lives in Benton. The Drexlers live parttime at the lake and parttime in St. Louis.

The trial started Tuesday morning, and the jury received the case before noon Wednesday. The jury deliberated about two hours.

The case of Mrs. Roy Henson, also injured in the same accident, was settled out of court. Amount of the settlement was not disclosed.

The damage suit of Paul Huebner versus Paul Bridgman was tried Monday in court. The suit resulted from a dispute over a property line.

The verdict directed that Bridgman buy the land under dispute, and the court appointed Pal Howard as master commissioner to determine value of the land.

Bridgman is a local resident, and Huebner lives out of the state.

Carl Ligon of Gilbertsville was fined $25 on a charge of failing to display properly the registration numbers on a boat. The case had been appealed from County Court. Ligon was arrested on May 14 by B. N. Dossett, boat inspector at Ky. Lake.

Calvert Pony Team Defeats Gilbertsville

The Calvert City Pony League team defeated Gilbertsville Monday night, June 26, by a score of 6 to 5.

Both teams played a superb ball game and battled it out neck to neck down to the last inning, when Calvert shoved across the winning run.

Smashing out timely hits for the Calvert Bombers were Gerald Barrett, Sonny English, Tommie Tomsic and Gary Holland.

Burl Cutsinger and Donald King were the battery for the Bombers, and L. Beth and H. Beth for Gilbertsville.

The Bombers have won 24 regular season league games without a loss and have the best record in the history of the Three Rivers League. In compiling this record the Bombers took the championship trophy last year with a 17-0 record and have won their first seven games of this season.

The Bombers again met Gilbertsville Friday night, June 30, at Community Park in Calvert City at 7 p. m.

Local Officers Catch Suspect After Holdup

State Troopers Walter Thurtell and Dennis Smith, both of Benton, captured a holdup suspect Monday afternoon near Paducah only 10 minutes after robbery of the Standard Service Station, Bridge Street and Beltline, at Paducah.

The suspect, Venroe Hicks, 34, who said his home was near Dresden, Tenn., was jailed in Paducah on a robbery charge. The filling station manager said $68 was taken at pistol point in the holdup.

Trooper Thurtell heard the robbery report on his car radio and headed toward Paducah. Near Reidland, he passed the robbery car, turned around and gave chase at 90 miles an hour.

He radioed for State Police to set up a road block, which Trooper Smith did near Palma. Near Sharpe, Thurtell fired one pistol shot at the fleeing car and luckily hit the gas tank.

When the fugitive saw the police car blocking the road near Palma, he tried to steer around it but hit the police car and knocked it sideways. The blow also knocked down Trooper Smith, who was behind his car with a loaded shotgun at ready.

The fugitive's car went out of control and crashed off the highway. Thurtell and Smith both "covered" the robbery suspect and he surrendered without a fight, although he was armed with a .38 pistol. The car he was driving had been stolen earlier in Paducah, and officers said he was a parolee from Illinois.

Trooper Thurtell, a southpaw, holds a sharpshooter medal from the State Police Department.

10-YEAR-OLD-GIRL IS HIT BY CAR ON MAIN ST.

Brenda Kay Pace, 10 years old, was slightly injured Tuesday night at 7:55 o'clock when hit by a car as she was crossing Main Street in Benton near her home. She was with her parents at 1308 Main.

Driver of the car was H. H. Montgomery of Memphis. Police reported the speed of the car at about 20 miles an hour when the child was hit. The child was taken to McClain Clinic, where she was treated for "bruise burns" and bruises.

Friday night's meeting will be held in Legion park on Ridge Road and potluck supper will be served at 6:30. The business meeting will follow. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holland will be among the group attending the Lexington convention.

Mrs. Helen Wiseman, formerly of Kuttawa, has been appointed village manager at Kentucky Dam Village and will begin her duties July 1. She will come here from a hotel in Jackson, Tenn., where she has been employed since 1957. She will succeed Harold Youngblood, who resigned.

Mrs. Annie York was in Paducah Friday to visit her stepdaughter, Mrs. Julian Bohannon, who underwent major surgery at the Lourdes Hospital. She is reported to be doing fairly well.

2 Comical Games at Calvert

Spectators saw two games of comical baseball Wednesday night, June 21, at the Calvert City ball park. First, a group of high school girls made a good stand against a women's team.

In the second game, a group of old men played a serious game. The dresses and fancy bonnets. These games produced a lot of hits and fielding errors, but mostly sore muscles the next day.

The program was prepared in order to acquaint people throughout town with the progress that has been made in the city ball park facilities and Little League-Pony League baseball teams.

This year there are four Little League teams playing in Calvert City. These teams are the Cardinals, coached by Orville Culliver, assisted by Henry Davis; the Pirates, coached by Charles Champlin, assisted by Coleman Hawkins; the Braves, coached by Garland Carter, assisted by Charles Bowman; and the Giants, coached by Shelby Johnston.

There are two Pony League teams who travel to various places in the Three Rivers League. The teams are managed by Frank Tomsic. Assistant manager is Virgil Kampen. The Pony League has a 6-0 record.

The traveling Little League "A" team is currently leading the League with a 4 won, 1 lost record. This team is managed by Buck Dowell, with Bill Smith as assistant manager. President of the Three Rivers League is Charles Kilcoyne.

Considerable work has been performed on the ball park this year—such things as new fencing, benches for ball players, new and improved lighting and field grading, just mentions a few. Much of this work has been done by a list of interested citizens. In reviewing some of this work to the spectators, Fred Powell mentioned the help given by Solomon Construction Company and Riley Electric.

Over the past several years, Little League and Pony League baseball have come a long way in Calvert City. This year there are 110 boys playing ball. During all of these years, Frank Tomsic has been actively working and starting these various teams and improvements. This effort on the part of Mr. Tomsic has taken a great deal of time, thought and hard work.

Mr. Tomsic, as president of the Calvert Recreation Association and chairman of the City Park Commission, has again pushed to improve the baseball and playground facilities. Money and help from these two organizations has been the big factor in helping the baseball organization to grow.

Contributions and help have also come from the Calvert Women's Club and the Lions Club. Other persons active in this work were Buck Dowell, Bill Smith, Charles Kilcoyne, Shelby Johnston, Garland Carter, Charles Champlin, Coleman Hawkins and many others.

Sox Still Holding Lead In The Farm League

With the approach of mid-season in the Farm League, the Sox still hold the lead and the Braves have climbed to second place.

On Saturday, June 24, the Sox beat the Tigers 13 to 7. Fulton hit a double for the Sox, and Davenport and Oliver both got triples for the Tigers. Clark was the winning pitcher and Ham was the loser.

Also on June 24, the Braves defeated the Pirates 10 to 8. The Braves used 23 players in the game. Lindell Lovett slammed out a homer in the 4th inning, and Eddie Poe and Barry Faith each got a triple. For the Pirates, Robert Locke and Howard hit doubles. Barry Faith was the winning pitcher, and Jones was the loser.

On Thursday, June 22, the Pirates blasted the Tigers 19 to 5. Larry Ham and Roger Oliver each doubled for the Pirates in the first inning, and Howard got a double in the second. Morgan was the winning pitcher. Parker, on the mound for the Tigers, was pitching his first game and was a little wild but did a good job.

On Tuesday, June 20, the Braves bested the Sox 14 to 8, with Robert Proctor hurling for the Braves. Lindell Lovett got a triple and Barry Faith hit a double for the Braves. Robert Cothron doubled for the Sox in the 3rd inning.

Farm League team managers will pick the "all stars" within the next two weeks. Four players will be chosen from each team. The all-star game with the 10-year-old Little Leaguers will be played July 22. The Farm League has lost only once to the Little League in the last three years in these all-star games.

Farm League team percentages are as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Sox	8	2	.750
Braves	5	3	.625
Pirates	4	3	.568
Tigers	1	6	.142

Uncle Ned - - - From Dogtown

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The Constitution says everybody is entitled to the pursuit of happiness, and, come next Tuesday, the pursuit will be on.

I aim to come through Independence Day this year without a scratch. My plans call for setting in a rocking chair on the front porch and rocking with the grain. I might get a musquito bite or two but that'll be pritty good compared to all the broken bones I'll be reading about in the papers.

Back when I was a boy it wasn't so dangerous to venture out of the house on July 4. We had a old mule named Jerry and he had a heap of faults but he never turned the buggy over on account of rounding a curve at 90 mile a hour.

And they wasn't no 7-cent road tax on his oats. Pa would hitch up the wagon and we'd all go to town on Independence Day. First off, we'd go in some store that was open and git a nickel's worth of cheese, a ten-cent can of sardines and a box of crackers and then we'd all eat like a hog.

Nowadays if a family wants to come to town and eat like a hog, they'd have to sell a hog to git the money.

I was reading a piece in the papers about a feller named Elwood Haynes and his contribution to Independence Day. On July 4, 1894, at Kokomo, Indiana, ole Elwood cranked a one-horse-power, two-cycle engine on a rubber-tired buggy and took off at 7 mile a hour.

When Elwood twisted the crank that Independence Day, he started sompun. The piece said a stone marks the place where Americas first gasoline automobile sputtered off down the road. And I reckon, Mister Editor, they is a million stones today in this country erected in memory of folks who has died by that device in the pursuit of happiness on Independence Day.

Of course, I ain't hankering to go back to them days of crackers and sardines and ole Jerry. But sometimes I do git right homesick to pick up a newspaper and read where the big argument of the day is somepun gentle like gitting off the gold standard.

Back in them days the papers was full of discussions about things. Now everything is a argument. In a discussion folks exchange ideas but in a argument they just swap ignorance. You could have a real discussion around a store counter eating crackers and sardines. Around these new-fangled eating places today, about all you git is a argument.

Talking about arguments, I see where two writers is having a argument on how many wimmen a man can love at the same time. I don't know nothing about wimmen, but I know men, and I'd say that if a feller has a hankeling for wimmen he can love as many as time, opportunity and wimmen permits.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ned.

How Use Of Water May END YOUR CONSTIPATION WORRIES

As you grow older, your system begins to dry out. This is true of your digestive system, and it may lead to constipation. SERUTAN, taken daily with plenty of water, produces a smooth gel that provides the proper moisture, bulk and peristaltic stimulation to help end your constipation worries.

SERUTAN is the all-vegetable laxative aid that moistens hard, dry food wastes and forms it for easy, regular elimination. SERUTAN is entirely different from harsh chemical pills, salts, bran or oils. Take SERUTAN daily with water and enjoy regular elimination or your money back.

Ask Amy
BY AMY ADAMS

NAIL-NIBBLERS OFFER THEIR CURES

Dear Amy:
I know an Indian woman who says some kind of mumbo-jumbo then breaks a raw egg on your hand and it's supposed to cure you of nail biting. If the man who signed his letter 'Will' wants to give it a try, I'll get her address for him. My girl friend swears that it worked for her.

Helene

Dear Amy:
This man of 30 who bites his nails should be ashamed. If there's anything that ruins a man's appearance, it's nail biting. What do his girl friends say about it?

L.M.R.

Dear L.M.R.:
I didn't ask them.

Dear Amy:
Tell Will, who bites his nails, to go to a doctor who specializes in hypnosis. Under hypnosis, I was told I would never bite my nails again and when I woke up, I never did. That was five years ago. It cost me 25 dollars but it was worth it.

Not Ashamed

Dear Amy:
I used to bite my nails until I met my wife. She got me out of the habit by making me drop a dollar in her piggy bank every time she saw me put my fingers in my mouth. I had to marry her to get my money back but she cured me.

Artie

Dear Amy:
It's no wonder that poor guy bites his nails. Handling all that money in the bank every day would make anybody nervous. I think he should change his job. Money is the root of all nail biting. If you saw a bank teller's paycheck you would know why the poor guy bites.

Another Bank Teller

Dear Amy:
I'm twelve years old and in the seventh grade. I have a girl friend who has a bad habit of taking things. One day she and I went to the store together. The owner of the store was talking to me and he didn't see my girl friend take some candy but I didn't say anything because it might have hurt her feelings.

She has taken wallets and money, too. Two of the wallets were mine but she gave them back. Should I still be friends with her?

Confused

Dear Confused:
A friendship with one who stoops to stealing is anything but desirable. You should have told the storekeeper right then and there. Her feelings are not nearly as important as the embarrassment she would have suffered which might have cured her. Her parents should be told. If you can't tell them, the guidance counselor at school will do it for you. If she doesn't know right from wrong, it's time she learned!

Dear Amy:
In September of 1960, my daughter, age 18, started to go with a young man, age 24. A month later they were engaged and planned to get married in January, 1961. I was told that he used to take narcotics and was in the hospital for treatment two years ago. He said he was not taking narcotics at that time and his mother also told me that he was not taking narcotics nor anything else. So we planned a wedding.

In November he was back in the hospital for drug addiction. He is still hospitalized and plans to come back next month. . . and they are still engaged and want to be married. I just cannot accept this in my mind and am very much against this marriage. But what can I do to stop them?

Mrs. S. (California)

Dear Mrs. S.:
The laws of your state permit 18 year old girls to marry without their parents' consent. But if your daughter is sensible, you can talk her out of it. Urge her to go out with other boys. This boy is a poor marriage risk.

If talking to her is futile, ask her to write me. I'm confident I can change her mind.

Mrs. S.

Edna Mae Johnson Honored Guest At A Lovely Shower
Miss Edna Mae Johnson, bride-elect of Mr. Reece M. Collins, was complimented last Thursday, June 22, at a personal shower held at the home of Mrs. Henry Richardson, Hardin Route 1.
Hostesses were Misses Marilyn Johnson and Donna Jones. The bride-elect chose for the occasion from her trousseau a blue and white sun-dress. She was presented a white rosebud corsage by the hostesses.
The gift table was overlaid with an off-white linen cloth and centered with a miniature bride doll. Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mrs. Jerry Hopkins and Miss Jones. The prizes then were presented to the honoree by the winners.
The tea table was overlaid with an off-white lace cloth over green linen, and centered with white tapers. The appointments were in crystal. Punch, minis, nuts and cake were served.
Present and sending gifts were Mesdames Joe Gardner, Jerry Hopkins, Grady McNeely, L. A. Moore, Howard Johnson, J. B. Richardson, and Misses Ann Nanny, Mary Frances McNeely, Nettie Weatherby, the honoree and the hostesses.
Mr. and Mrs. Johnny English and children spent the weekend in Florence, Ala., with his brother, Lester English and family.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I feel compelled to write you in the interest of justice in the hopes that you will print my letter. Politics, in Kentucky, especially, has sunk to a new low when a 19-year-old handicapped boy is fired from a summer job because he did not play politics. Is this democracy working? Think again.

Let me state here and now that I'm not asking any handout or anything I do not earn on my own ability. All I have ever asked is a chance. First of all (those who do not know me) I'm one of the thousands of cerebral-palsy victims; my legs being affected.
I have worn and slept in braces most of the years of my life. I have had years of physical therapy treatments and my father paid for everything including the six sets of braces. I have had two painful operations, and another one is planned. But by guts and determination I graduated from North Marshall High School in 1960.

I knew that if I went to college I would have to find something to help pay my expenses. After years of heavy medical expenses, and now unemployment as well as his own failing health, my father was unable to bear all the expenses. So last year I was fortunate to find employment at Kentucky Dam State Park, working in the concession stand at the beach.
I worked hard and was praised by the superintendent. I was told that I would get the same job in the spring of '61 after attending Lambuth College at Jackson, Tenn. I filed my application, was interviewed and told to report as soon as school ended—which I did on May 26. When I went to work, the superintendent said my application was not signed by the local politicians, but he was sure he could get it cleared.

Letter to the Editor

I worked four days and was informed that for political reasons I was being let out. It seems the two-bit politicians of Marshall County decided I was unfit for employment. You see the fact that my uncle (unsuccessful candidate for clerk) was in a race against their slated man made me unemployable. When I told them the superintendent said that he tried to clear my application, they said, "Such stunts as that is why he is being removed." He has since been transferred.

I am not so stupid as to believe that a certain amount of patronage must occur in any administration, but when it dips to a small job, and because of relatives in a political race—that is too, too low. Is this America, where everyone has a chance? I call it discrimination. They say hire the handicapped. Why not give them a chance to prove what they can do. We do not want any handouts, only a chance.

Thank you for printing this and others for reading it. Then let us clean-up politics in this County.
I remain,
Yours truly,
EDDIE MOSER,
