If We Want Industry We Need Industrial Park

If the twin cities are serious about their efforts to get more industry, they had better make up their minds to establish an industrial park. Recent experiences with industrial site-seekers coming to Fulton have proved that the prospect asks if there is an industrial park available even before he asks the name of the community.

Sure, Fulton has landed an industry in the past without an industrial park, but that was nearly six years ago. Times change, as any calendar will tell you, and they are changing so fast in the industrial world, that any community that finds itself without an industrial park two years from now won't even be listed on the prospect list of the many factory-location services in the Nation.

Why the need for an industrial park in Fulton or anywhere else? Well, a simple example would be like the teen-ager going into a record shop wanting the latest hit tune of the Dave Clark Five. (The Beatles are now history.)

If the record shop doesn't have that disc on the shelf and suggests that it be ordered for arrival next week, the teen-ager isn't about to delay the search, especially if he's made up his mind to find that record now. He goes to the next shop, maybe the next, until he finds what he's looking for. When he finds it, he buys it and scratches off the other shops as "square." When he wants another record, you can bet he's going first to the record shop that proved it was "hep" to the times.

It's just that simple. And it's just that way in the world of industry-seeking today. Industrial parks are "the thing" and we may as well face it. Look at such living examples as Princeton, Russellville and Glasgow in Kentucky. In Tennessee, almost every community of any competence has, or is in the process of establishing, an industrial park.

And what is an industrial park? It is a plot of acreage, owned by a government agency or an industrial development corporation, or some other holding company. Instead of trees and benches in the park, the improvements are the availabilities of sewer, gas, electric and water lines. Access roads, water towers, and other improvements can come later, unless needed immediately. But that's it.

The News has been reliably informed that while industrial prospects were coming into Fulton right frequently several months ago, the apparent lack of an industrial park has sharply curtailed the inquiries, even obliterated them.

Facing the urgent need to get back in the competitive industrial market, a group of Fulton, Ky. citizens met to form the Fulton Development Association, chartered in Kentucky. Another development group, the Twin-City Development Association is chartered in Tennessee. The new group was necessary in order to be in the legal position of securing funds from those Kentucky State agencies involved in making industrial development loans.

The group met Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce office. Presided over by FDA president Foad Homra, a group of leading civic leaders heard the "industrial facts of life," bared to the group.

Homra said in effect:

Landing an industry in today's fiercely competitive market, is a far cry from what it was a decade ago, even five years ago. Where, at one time, only the large cities were in a position to attract the giant firms, today, every small and middle-sized community in the Nation is burning the midnight oil to have all the "tools" ready and waiting when the industrialist gets on the site-seeking prow.

There was a time when an abundant water supply, transportation facilities, land options, tax emoluments, schools, and community attitude were the primary considerations for enticing industry to a community. While these requirements are still vitally necessary (and we have them all), they appear obsolete compared to the modern demand of an industrial park.

In free and easy discussion, Tuesday night the proponents and opponents of an industrial park made their views known. But, it was abundantly clear that even those who feel that "if an industry wants us bad enough they will wait for us to get ready," the industrial park has got to come someday, why not now?

NOW, will be in the immediate future, perhaps about February 15, (Industry Appreciation Week) when a team of civic leaders will call on business and professional people and individuals to raise about $50,000.00 to be matched with the same amount from the Kentucky Industrial Foundation Agency, making a total of $100,000.00 to establish an industrial park.

As this writer sees it, to delay the establishment of the industrial park, means only to say to ourselves that we're out of the industry-seeking competition until we do, and that's that.

Commercial Interests Approve Route Of Purchase Parkway To Fulton Area

(By Paul Westpheling)

Since the Purchase Parkway (Fulton to Gilbertsville) was first announced last fall as a forthcoming project of the Kentucky Department of Highways, there has been much conjecture—and downright concern by motels and restaurants—as to where the toll road would end in the vicinity of Fulton. Would it be close by, so it could afford easy and rapid access to food and lodging already located here, or would it make a wide sweep a mile or so around town and leave local tourist accommodations high and dry.

The proposed "corridor" (see map) seems to be just about all that commercial interests could hope for, and as far as The News could gather this week in talking to businessmen in West Fulton, the proposed routing meets with enthusiastic approval.

It was a foregone conclusion that the super-highway wasn't going to end at the north edge of town and dump its load of trucks and autos, and tankers, and mobile homes right into Fulton's maze of narrow streets, blind corners, sharp turns and stop signs, adding congestion and bewilderment anew just to please a few downtowners who wanted traffic to continue to pass by their doors. Nothing wrong with the idea, you understand, except that today's through arteries (and this will be one from Northeast to Southwest U. S.) just don't contain stop signs and routes through congested business districts anymore. They by-pass everything. You can even drive through gigantic St. Louis now at 55 miles an hour without even slowing down.

But we think Fulton fortunate in that this proposed routing brings this heavy traffic potential within a stone's throw of the west side of town, with southbound traffic having easy access to the town either by way of 307 or of 51.

A study of the proposed corridor also indicates that

- (1) It will overpass West State Line and overpass the middle road;
- (2) It will provide rapid non-stop routing for Union City to Clinton traffic or Union City to Fulton traffic around Highlands;
- (3) It will cement once and for all Fulton's location as a traffic center;
- (4) It will nearly untangle what has been for years a monumental highway routing headache here.

Tennessee To Link Highway To Parkway

Union City — State Highway Commissioner David Pack Friday night assured Kentucky highway officials that Tennessee plans a four-lane highway from near Union City on Highway 51 to link with the proposed Purchase Parkway in Kentucky.

Pack's statement, reported by the Associated Press, was in response to a question put to Tennessee officials earlier Friday by Kentucky Highway Commissioner Henry Ward regarding Tennessee plans to construct a link from the Purchase Parkway to U. S. Highway 51.

"Since the feasibility of a facility of this kind (referring to the Purchase Parkway) is being studied," (Continued on page ten)

Kentuckians To Pay Billion Dollar Bill

Kentucky taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $1,056,820,000 in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending program of $99.7 billion proposed by President Johnson for the Federal fiscal year beginning July 1, 1965, according to an estimate today by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

This estimate was based on the State Chamber's calculations that Kentucky's taxpayers bear 1.06 per cent of all Federal taxes.

CORRIDOR BEING DISCUSSED — This is the proposed corridor location for the Purchase Parkway in Fulton County which is presently being discussed by Kentucky and Tennessee highway officials. As shown here, the proposed corridor begins at the Kentucky-Tennessee State Line (heavy dashed line) west of Fulton and moves northeast to connect with US 51 and Ky. 307 north of Fulton. Kentucky Highway Commissioner Henry Ward has written a letter to David Pack, Commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Highways, asking if Tennessee will construct a four-lane connection to the Parkway from US 51 in Tennessee (bottom left) if this corridor is used. Ward says studies have proven the Parkway to be a feasible project and Kentucky is ready to move on final design as soon as the matter of a connection at the Kentucky-Tennessee State Line can be finalized.

South Fulton Radio Auction On Saturday

Remember, Saturday, January 30 at 1:00 p. m. is the South Fulton March of Dimes auction. There will be lots of good pies and cakes, as well as other home-made goodies and handicraft items to be auctioned over Radio Station WFUL.

Everyone is asked to please have their donations at the Chamber of Commerce by twelve noon. If it is desired that items be picked up, just call Mrs. I. M. Jones at 1057 or Mrs. Richard Bodker at 2284 and they will be glad to have it picked up.

Langford Seeking Re-election As Clerk

Dee Langford, completing his first four-year term as County Court Clerk of Fulton County, announced today that he will seek re-election to a second term at the Democratic primary May 25.

Langford is a native of the Brownsville community, and before becoming County Court Clerk was a salesman. During his term of office he has continued the policies established by his predecessor of offering many services to the residents of Fulton by setting up a temporary office here for the sale of auto licenses, etc.

In an announcement elsewhere in today's issue, Langford states that he expects to see each voter personally before the primary.

Buck Menees Seeks Office Of Sheriff

James C. "Buck" Menees, popular service station operator of Fulton and a lifelong resident of the Cayce community, announces his candidacy for Fulton County sheriff this week.

In his announcement elsewhere in today's issue, Menees points out that he has had varied business experience in Fulton County which has enabled him to get to know a wide number of residents. He owns and operates a farm at Cayce, where he and his family reside.

Menees states that he expects to make an aggressive campaign, and hopes to see every voter before the primary on May 25.

A. L. Cox Making Bid For Magistrate

A. L. Cox, a resident of District Two, Fulton County, is today announcing his candidacy for magistrate of that area.

In his announcement, which appears on another page of this issue, he says, "I feel that I am qualified to serve you. Having lived and worked in this district for the past 19 years, I know its needs."

The Democratic Primary is Tuesday, May 25th.

Regional Travel Conference Scheduled February 2 At Murray; Attendance Of

A look at the travel scene in 1965 is in store for those Kentuckians who attend the Regional Travel Conference scheduled at the Murray Women's Club House, Murray, Ky. on Feb. 2.

These annual conferences, sponsored by the Kentucky Travel Council, Inc., will include the latest information and latest techniques of travel development in order that Kentucky may continue to enjoy its prosperous travel business.

The meeting will begin at 10:30 A. M. The morning session will be devoted to state and national travel and the afternoon session devoted to regional and local travel, according to Council Director, Paul W. Grubbs, Louisville.

Some of the highlights of the conference will include a discussion of the State legislation that now enables local travel development groups to match funds with State appropriations for travel promotional purposes; a complete review of travel facts as they affect each and every Kentuckian; and a general discussion on developing golf courses, camp sites, etc.

Available to those who attend the conference is a travel handbook for 1965 including such features as the "Travel Host" program, the "Travel Colonels" program, the Travel Shows, Society of American Travel Writers Convention - 1965, Special Events, Publicity, Private Campgrounds, Golf Map, Fact Sheet, and Travel Who's Who.

BEATITUDES FOR FRIENDS OF THE AGED

Blessed are they who understand
My faltering step and palsied hand.

Blessed are they who know that my ears
today
Must strain to catch the things they say.

Blessed are they who seem to know
That my eyes are dim and my wits are slow.

Blessed are they who looked away
When coffee spilled at table today.

Blessed are they with a cheery smile
Who stop to chat for a little while.

Blessed are they who never say,
"You've told that story twice today."

Blessed are they who know the ways
To bring back memories of yesterdays.

Blessed are they who make it known
That I'm loved, respected and not alone.

Blessed are they who know I'm at a loss
To find the strength to carry the Cross.

Blessed are they who ease the days
On my journey Home in loving ways.

"A" students at Fulton High for the first semester were Joe Davis, Billy Murphy and Jimmy James.

The first quarterly conference of the First Methodist Church was held here January 19, with Rev. R. A. Clark, presiding elder, in charge.

The Fulton Pure Milk quintet, an independent basketball team, defeated the Martin Coca-Cola team at the South Fulton gym on January 18, the score being 31 to 19. Phelps was top scorer for the Fulton aggregation, with nine points to his credit. The line-up for the Pure Milkers were: Covington, Phelps, Burnett, McAlister and H. McKinney.

The Palestine Homemakers met in an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Thompson on January 19. A March of Dimes collection was taken, which amounted to $15. The program was on "How To Make Your Work Easier."

The Junior Class sponsored the Curtis magazine contest this year.

C. D. Jones sold $74 in magazines and Obara Nabors came second with $41. Magazines amounting to $304.25 were sold by the class.

The various circles of the Baptist Church met as follows this week: Circle No. 3 with Mrs. R. B. Allen; Circle No. 5 with Mrs. Ed Bonduant; Circle No. 6 with Mrs. J. S. Mills; Lottie Moon Circle with Mrs. Charles Ann.

Group A of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met with Mrs. J. L. Jones, with Mrs. R. C. Long as co-hostess; Group B met with Mrs. Abe Jolley, with Mrs. W. E. Baucum co-hostess; Group C met with Mrs. R. M. Lynch, with Mrs. Jessie Harris and Mrs. Silas Bruce co-hostesses, and the East Fulton Group met with Mrs. G. W. Dummitt.

Students of Terry Norman School purchased a grand total of $1,050 in war stamps for the first semester. This school has an average of 110 students. War stamps purchased do not include war bonds purchased by the teachers and parents.

It's Homecoming Time In Kentucky During 1965; Official Aid Asked

Governor Edward T. Breathitt has appointed a commission to help Kentucky and its counties, cities and regions be gracious hosts during 1965, Kentucky's Homecoming Year.

This year the Commonwealth, by invitation of the Governor, urges the many thousands of Kentuckians living outside the state to visit their "Kentucky home." Breathitt's proclamation designating 1965 as Homecoming Year asks that mayors, judges and governing bodies issue similar proclamations. Named by Breathitt to the 1965 Kentucky Homecoming Commission to help heads of local governments develop homecoming plans are:

J. K. Smith, general manager, Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, Louisville; Mrs. Martha Comer, editor, Maysville Independent, Maysville; David Stucker, tour director, Louisville Automobile Club, Louisville; Marvin Music, businessman, Prestonsburg; Mayor Thomas W. Wilson, Paducah; Byron R. Dickey, general manager, Greater Cincinnati Airport, Erlanger; Gene T. Lowe, merchant, London; Lawrence W. Adams, manager, radio station WBRT, Bardonia; Thomas H. Maxedon, executive director, Kentucky Petroleum Council, Louisville; John W. Smith, president of Kentucky Hotel-Motel Association, Horse Cave; David F. Cocks, business consultant, Louisville; Glenn W. Denham, attorney, Middlesboro; Frank Rankin, businessman, Louisville; Miss Linda Sawyer (Miss Kentucky), Louisville; Mrs. James Cox (Mrs. Kentucky), Richmond; Walter Dear, publisher, Gleaner-Journal, Henderson; Paul Crowder, public relations director, University of Kentucky, Lexington; Albert J. Grisanti, president, Kentucky Restaurant Association, Louisville; W. L. Knight, director of the Travel Division of Department of Public Information, and Miss Cattie Lou Miller, commissioner of the Department of Public Information, both of Frankfort.

Breathitt wants former Kentucky residents, who "retain strong bonds of sentiment and lasting affection for their native Bluegrass state," to renew home ties and to view the progress Kentucky has made in such things as highway development, resort vacation parks and a lake system.

Breathitt said many homecoming celebrations are being planned across the state and urged Kentucky citizens to invite their friends and relatives to visit the state this year. Billboards, national advertising campaigns and other promotional material will advertise the 1965 homecoming, Breathitt said.

U-K Student Body A Cosmopolitan Group, Survey Of Names Reveals

The student body at the University of Kentucky presents a cosmopolitan atmosphere when one glances through the 1964-65 Student Directory.

The 213 foreign students and the many American students from across the United States provide a unique assortment of family names.

The longest name in the directory is Udiakartaprawiradawan. Perhaps the most unique hometown listed by a student is North Pole, Alaska.

The largest group of names found in the alphabet is the letter "S".

The letter "X" is not represented in the UK directory and the fewest names are found under "U".

For each name there is, perhaps, an unusual story. However, in an attempt to be clever, a story has been written using only surnames from this directory.

Thanks for the reminder about my subscription. I've not missed one copy of The News in 32 years and I sure wouldn't want to be without it. I usually read Jo's note book first and enjoy it very much.

Age has crept up on me in spite of myself. I can hardly write so that it can be read, tho' it has not always been so. Thanks over and over for all the good news. I remain a steady reader.

Property Assessments Like The Weather Everybody Talks About 'Em... Nobody Does Much

Are the schools of this area deficient in matters that up-to-date yardsticks measure them by?

The recently-completed Fantus survey of this area—Fulton included—casts a critical eye on our schools in general. As a result of this appraisal, a lot of soul-searching has come about, resulting in many howls from those school districts that feel that the report on general conditions tended to downgrade their system in particular.

The fact of the matter is that EVERY school in this area is suffering from malnutrition, financially. While every superintendent is doing his level best to upgrade his schools in every way possible with what money he has, he knows that he should be getting thousands of dollars more each year from taxes in his district than he is getting. That applies to everyone, from Fulton to Mayfield to Paducah and points in between.

School administrators today find themselves much in the same position as the old-age pensioner. The figure on the pension check is almost the same as it was 20 years ago, yet the cost of living has doubled, even tripled, in the post-World War II period.

The same is true in many of our school systems. Revenues, based on property assessments, are the same today as they were twenty, maybe forty years ago, yet the cost of school supplies, the cost of maintenance and the cost of day to day operations have sky-rocketed upwards just as they have in living and in any other business. Moreover, the property values have spiraled skyward, commensurate with today's robust economy. Yet, property assessments, for revenues purposes, remain the same. Is that fair?

Is that fair to our schools, who are being criticized for something that only unwilling taxpayers can help them correct? Is it fair to the city government which seeks to provide livable salaries for city employees and add more services that the public continually demands? Is it being fair to a hard-pressed County government, which has to operate on a shoestring from year to year because the revenue with which it operates—our taxes—is pinched down to a trickle by those unwilling to fairly raise their property valuations to fair market prices?

We can get by on this sort of thing for a long time, if we are willing to build a wall around our area

Kentucky "Industry Appreciation Week" Slated February 15-20; Cooperation Urged

The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the State Department of Commerce, local chambers, public officials, and local civic clubs, will sponsor an Industry Appreciation Week for all existing industry in Kentucky during the six-day period of February 15-20. The announcement was made today by Albert M. Brinkley, Jr., Chairman of the Board of the Citizens Fidelity Bank & Trust Company, Louisville, who is Chairman of the State Chamber's Industrial Development Committee.

Actual details and formats of this testimonial week will be worked out on the local level, Brinkley pointed out.

"This activity is sponsored by the Industrial Development Committee of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce," Brinkley said, "in cooperation with the Kentucky Department of Commerce. Its implementation will depend upon activity and participation at the local level. President Jack Tankersley and I feel that this recognition is quite timely and should express our interest in the economic contributions made by Kentucky industry."

Governor Edward T. Breathitt gave his enthusiastic approval to this program and Commissioner Katherine Peden of the Kentucky Department of Commerce offered the cooperation and assistance of her organization. The Governor pointed out that the program, which is the first of its kind held in the Commonwealth since 1958, is quite timely and ties in with his great interest in industrial development.

new industry we are never un-mindful of the importance of our industrial citizens who are already with us," the Governor said. Commissioner Peden added her endorsement, saying that the program is most timely and that the importance of industrial payrolls to Kentucky's economy cannot be overemphasized. She particularly pointed out that industrial payrolls in Kentucky now exceed $1 billion annually, comprising about 1-5 of total personal income.

Bert Combs Heads State Fund Drive

Appointment of former Governor Bert Combs as Kentucky chairman of the 1965 March of Dimes was announced today by trustees of The National Foundation.

The Lexington attorney is directing a campaign to raise the Commonwealth's quota of $275,000 for combating birth defects in infants. The campaign, being waged by chapters in each of the state's 120 counties, ends Jan. 31.

"Birth defects kill and cripple more American children than any other human disorder," Combs said. "In Kentucky alone last year, 5,000 babies were born with recognizable birth defects." More than 50 per cent of them died.

Contributions to the March of Dimes finances both research and treatment of children born with defects such as deformities of the brain, spine and limbs, cleft palates and facial blemishes. March of Dimes funds pay for medical and hospital care to families without adequate resources.

Kentucky has two centers for research and treatment. One is the University of Kentucky Medical Center. The other is at Louisville General Hospital under sponsorship of the University of Louisville Medical School.

March of Dimes contributors helped to stamp out polio in Kentucky. Their funds financed research on both the Salk and Sabin vaccines, which are credited with eradication of polio. Not one case of the disease has been reported particular period as "Industry Appreciation Week" will be issued by Governor Breathitt shortly, urging all citizens to cooperate and participate in this event. Detailed materials to local chambers of commerce, the mayors of Kentucky communities, and all newspapers in Kentucky were sent out from the State Chamber office on December 30. The materials contained detailed recommendations for the observance of this week by local chambers, public officials and civic clubs.

Opportunities For The New Year!

The beginning of anything new is always filled with doubts and suspicions by many. This is natural, as time will recall when new inventions, discoveries and ideas have been announced, a cloud of doubt and wondering if all claims offered would be fact or fallacy.

No doubt, this same idea rings in the minds of many farmers as we close the old year and enter a new one. The new year could bring new problems, many of which will be easily solved, and others, such as the weather, we cannot control. As we enter the new year, however, there are many bright spots on the horizon for the farmer and his family who are willing to accept the challenge and adopt themselves to modern methods and research. True, there are many problems, but with them come unlimited opportunities. The cost of production and operation must be watched closely. Strict and every day adherence to good management practices must be applied.

Farmers today are more than field hands, they are businessmen and among the nations largest, too! Industry that has followed these simple rules have become very successful; farming can be, too.

I would like to offer a bit of advice to farmers and farm families. Firm decisions should be made concerning farming plans early. Sit down with pencil and paper and jot down your ambitions for the coming season. While doing this, be sure to list your problems as well. Determine as best you can what your expenses will be this year, and also estimate the income expected from each project under operation. This could be a guide to select for expansion or elimination. I believe it sound business to use the guidelines set out by the various experiment stations. These are usually proven moves, tried by specialists in their respective fields.

Have your soil tested NOW! Follow the recommendations that the test calls for, these testing solutions the local laboratories use are made by the University of Kentucky and, according to Mr. Harold Miller, Soils Specialists for the University, they are designed for Kentucky soils. Mr. Miller says the local laboratories are checked every month for accuracy and if they do not come up to specification, a visit is made to the laboratory to check it out for the error. We all know mistakes are made even by machines. There is one thing for sure, if you have sampled your fields correctly, handled the soil properly, and give an accurate field history . . . you will have a very good soil test report. Be careful with your sample, it will make you a profit.

Many facts and ideas can be found in farmer meetings. Attend all of them if possible. It will keep you up to date. It is also a fine place to see your neighbors and exchange ideas and farming facts as well as information from your farm leaders.

SCATTERED PATTEN

About People and Things

Hickman, Kentucky on the mighty Mississippi River is proud of its name and its heritage. You can take it from this writer, (the world's greatest authority on the subject,) that even the most unintended innuendo cast toward the community, brings forth some fighting folks, who aren't about to switch to anything but love of Hickman. Yet, once a year, the folks at Hickman, almost, but not quite change the name of the town to Hatterstown. The switch, without any fightin' or feudin' will be made this year, for one day ONLY, on February 10th, when the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church in Hickman, makes a heroic, and successful attempt to bedeck the head of every woman around here with a beautiful, Spring hat at prices you can hardly believe.

We have always found it a little unusual for the past few years to find ladies coming out in Spring hats long before the robins start singing. With just a little thought we know why... it's because so many Fulton folks journey over to Hickman for the "Hatterstown" sale, buy three or four of the bonnets, and, like women, just can't wait to show 'em off. Most of the hats, all spanking brand new in the latest fashions, sell below five dollars. This year, Mildred Whipple tells us, that some will be just a little bit higher, not on the head (though they will be) but in price, and they'll be beautiful.

The WSCS makes hat buying pleasurable and gay, too. While the ladies fill their hearts with trying on all the hats they please, the church ladies will be around refreshing their tastes with coffee and other light refreshments. If it can be said that there is a Valhalla of Fashion on this earth, it is when the WSCS of Hickman conducts its annual hat sale. It will start at nine a. m. on Wednesday, February 10, and last until the last little blossom on every chapeau is taken home and brought to rest on the soft plateau atop every woman's head... no matter what color it is.

OUR HEART BLENDS FOR THEM DEPARTMENT: Viron and Grace (Hill) Beard have just returned from a vacation trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico... Montez and Horton Baird, Foad and Monira Homra and Martha and Rupert Hornsby will be leaving on various days this week-end for Florida to soak up some sunshine... They'll join at Venice, (Florida)... and so will Ruby and Maxwell McDade, who have been attending a contractor's meeting in Hollywood (Florida)... gee those Floridians don't seem to have much imagination about the names of their towns... that's why we stay home in the winter... Ann and Herbie Hunt and Max and Linda McDade will be returning this week-end from the Florida trip and a trip to Nassau... tell you the truth we can't write anymore... we're just crying for these folks having to do all that travelling...

Kenneth and Agnes Turner and all the nice folks at WFUL had a lovely supper last week honoring the most wonderful gent that the world has ever known. J. O. Lewis, who needs no introduction, has retired from his sales position at WFUL for the most well earned rest a man ever deserved. We hear that the Lewises will enjoy Florida for an extended stay. We don't get facetious when we talk about Mr. Lewis. He's the greatest! Soon, we're going to take time to give him the best "flowers for the living" bouquet a swell guy ever got.

Kay Morris, a lovely young lady, with whom we had such pleasant associations when she was editor of the Fulton High School "Kennel," is going to get married this Friday to Danny Robbins. Such a life-long arrangement could not have happened to nicer people. Kay has been the inspiration for many nice parties, and nobody so richly deserves all the attention that has been given to her wedding.

One such party was a luncheon given by Mrs. Maxwell McDade and Mrs. Gilson Latta, at the beautiful McDade home on Third Street. Kay is a striking brunette, and the stunning cherry red woolen dress she selected for the party, together with the white glamelia corsage presented her by the hostesses, made Kay the recipient of more compliments than she could handle.

The guests were seated at the dining-room table, where the centerpiece was an arrangement of white caryanthemums, in a silver bowl, embellished with the satin hearts in the bridal motif. Imported linen placemats were laid for twelve guests.

Knowing what an efficient young lady the bride-elect is, the hostesses presented her with a recipe file for all those unusual meals, Kay intends to place before the master of her household.

The guest list included the honoree, her mother, Mrs. L. J. Morris, Mrs. Ray Robbins, mother of the groom, Mrs. Dan Hastings, paternal grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Horace Reams, Mrs. Cecil Wade, Mrs. W. T. Barnes, Mrs. J. E. Fall, Jr., Mrs. Flynn Powell, Mrs. Bob Binford, Mrs. Vic Voegell, Mrs. Win Whitnel, Mrs. Ellis Beggs, Mrs. Nicky Forrester, Mrs. Bill Wade and Miss Cleta Beggs.

Other pre-nuptial parties, the dates and their hostesses are as follows:

December 29th - Miscellaneous shower - Home of Mrs. Ellis Beggs co-hostesses Mrs. Nicky Forrester, Miss Cleta Beggs and Mrs. Bobby Barclay.

January 5th - Miscellaneous shower - Murray State Dormitory - Misses Priscilla Alley and Donna Snyder.

January 9th - Miscellaneous shower - Mrs. Bobby Barclay in her home.

Mrs. Durbin, Mr. Holland Wed In Florida

Mrs. Kellena Cole Durbin, of Fulton, Kentucky, became the bride of Mr. Paul Crider Holland, of Detroit, Michigan, on January 9. The marriage took place in the Rader Methodist Church in North Miami, Florida, with Rev. George Fowler, pastor of the church, officiating.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Holderman of Miami. Mrs. Holderman is a sister of the bride. Mrs. Myrtle Merriwether, organist, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and also played the traditional wedding marches.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of Mrs. Donald Humphrey, niece of the bride, after which Mrs. Humphrey served a buffet supper to the fami-

Miss Shirley Maxwell Betrothed To Mr. Richard Hollingsead

MISS SHIRLEY MAXWELL

Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Jones, 503 Third Street, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley Jean Maxwell, to Mr. Richard Everett Hollingsead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burton Hollingsead of Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Maxwell's maternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. David Lonzo Jones of Fulton. She is a graduate of Fulton High School and of the University of Kentucky, and is a member of Chi Omega Sorority. She is presently employed as Research Advisor in the General Home Service Department of Columbia Gas of Ohio in Columbus.

Mr. Hollingsead is a graduate of Kentucky Military Institute, Lyndon, Kentucky, and Ohio State University College of Commerce and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. He is Vice President of the General Tire Sales Company of Columbus and is a Captain in the United States Air Force Reserve.

The wedding, which will take place in Columbus, will be an event of May 8.

ly and intimate friends.

YOU'RE INVITED!

Mr. and Mrs. Holland arrived in Fulton last Monday for a couple of weeks and are at Mrs. Durbin's home on Eddings Street. They will return to Miami, where they will make their home temporarily.

Elder V. L. Lorange, from Don-aldson, Arkansas, will preach at Church on Friday night, January 29th. Everyone is invited to hear him.

Labor Survey Determines Bardwell Factory Hope

The results of a labor survey scheduled Jan. 15-16 apparently will determine whether a New York garment company will locate a $280,000 plant at Bardwell which would eventually employ 150 persons.

Bardwell Mayor Gregory Roberts said officials of the company have indicated to him that if the results of the survey are favorable, they would begin construction of the plant within 60 days and would begin operations about June 1.

The company has requested that its name not be disclosed at this time, Roberts said, but if it located here it would manufacture women's clothing.

Application forms have been distributed by the Bardwell Lions Club to merchants in Milburn, Cunningham, Kirbyton, Arlington, Berkeley, Bardwell, Wickliffe, Barlow, La Center, Lovelaceville and Blandville.

Persons interested in working at the plant are asked to fill out one of the forms and bring it in person to the Bardwell Elementary School between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. Jan. 15 or between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. Jan. 16.

Company representatives will be present to interview the applicants. Completing a form will not be treated as a formal job application, Roberts said, but it will indicate a desire to work at the plant.

Initial employment would be between 50-100 during the first six months of operation and would be increased to 150 after a year.

The Bardwell Development Corporation has offered the company a 10-acre tract on U. S. 51 for the factory site.

Financing for a 26,000 square foot building will be arranged through a local non-profit organization.

American Art History To Be Murray Course

Art 524, "American Art History," will be offered on Monday evenings by Murray State College next semester.

The course, which carries three semester hours of credit, will be open to all graduate students without prerequisites in art. A background course in the history of American life, the course would be of great value to all graduate students, regardless of their majors, according to Clara Eagle, head of the art division.

Gerald DeScheppar will teach the course which will meet from 6-9 p. m. each Monday. Registration will be at 8:30 a. m., Feb. 6, in the Administration Building.

Rev. Russell Rodgers filled regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 a. m. and the evening hour, which precedes the BTU meeting.

Mrs. T. T. Harris is doing as well as can be expected at Hillview Hospital, where she underwent surgery ten days ago. Every good wish is sent by all friends here that she may soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lassiter and baby son, Richard Alan, visited parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Carroll, Dresden Route, the past Saturday.

Get well wishes are sent to Mrs. Lizzie Vincent, near Public Wells. She is a victim of arthritis and has been suffering much pain. Mrs. Vincent is the wife of the late Lee Vincent and resides with her mother, Mrs. O. D. Rowlett.

During the past week some of our most energetic farmers took to the woods with their mechanical equipment and cut cords of wood, replenishing their supply for the remainder of the winter months.

Mrs. Naomi Tuck and son, Richard, left Friday for their home in Orlando, Florida, after spending the past week at the bedside of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. T. T. Harris.

Mrs. Mae Byars remains a patient in the Hillview Hospital under treatment. We hope she will very quickly be restored and be home to all her friends around Dukedom.

The condition of Mrs. Haldon Glover is no better at this writing and this reporter, along with many, regret to hear of her serious illness. The family has been at her bedside for many weeks.

Marshall Countians Sell Stock For New Industry

Jerry Lovett, President of the South Marshall Industrial Association, announced today that the drive to raise between $40,000 and $50,000 will start Monday, January 18 and be concluded on Saturday January 23rd.

The Industrial Association is raising money to provide the necessary funds for participation in a Small Business Administration loan of nearly $300,000 to build a plant for an unidentified clothing manufacturer. A comprehensive labor survey has just been completed that showed a sufficient labor supply to fill the 200 needed for the plant.

Mr. Lovett said the stock certificates will be sold in shares of $100 each, and the buyer may take up to three years to pay. The buyer will be asked to sign a negotiable contract for the entire purchase price of the stock. This in turn could be used as collateral to borrow the necessary funds. Most are expected to pay the full purchase price of the stock.

Seven prominent Marshall county men have been named co-chairmen of the fund drive. They are: County Judge John Rayburn, W. J. "Toad" Bryan, Shelby McCallum, Scott Smith, Jim Gay, Crass Gardner and Robert Lee Ross.

Officers of the Association are: Jerry Lovett, President, Donald Lynch, Vice President and Crass Gardner, Secretary-Treasurer.

Lovett said that the proceeds of the stock sale, would be used to attract another plant, should the textile plant fail to materialize. This will insure an active Industrial Foundation for the Hardin community. John Hicks, Chairman of the Industrial Board, expressed full confidence that the plant would build in Hardin if the funds are raised.

South Fulton Faculty Names State Delegates

Members of the junior class at South Fulton High School have selected delegates to Girls State at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and Boys State at Lebanon, Tenn., the first week in June. Two alternates also were named.

Selection is made from a list of students recommended by faculty members.

Linda Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Holland, South Fulton and Donny Parr, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Parr, Union City Rt. 4, were named delegates. Susan Burrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Burrow, South Fulton Rt. 5, and Dickie Gossum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gossum, South Fulton, were named alternates.

The whole routing scheme will serve Gilbertsville-to-Dyersburg traffic just fine, but we submit that the State of Tennessee needs to get busy on another linking project besides the short leg from US 51 to the intersection with the Parkway on east State Line.

A considerable amount of traffic into Fulton comes south from Cairo and has to fight congestion through the heart of downtown as it leaves US 51 and gets on US 45-E. We sincerely hope that the Tennessee Department of Highways takes this opportunity to run a new by-pass from South Fulton over to the new intersection (also in Tennessee) with US 51, affording our heavy St. Louis-to-Florida traffic a rapid routing around town but yet close enough that existing food and lodging and mercantile establishments will be benefited. This would be the final, complete step in bringing complete modernization to the Fulton and South Fulton traffic pattern.

We don't think that Fulton is going to lose too much of its US 51-US 45E traffic, even with the construction of I-24 and the other interstate routes. I-24 will begin in Southern Illinois and will not have a connecting link to Cairo; therefore southbound traffic coming into Cairo and headed for West Tennessee is nearly bound to continue coming into Fulton over US 51 and transferring at Fulton to US 45-E, and vice-versa for northbound traffic out of Northeast Mississippi and northwest Tennessee bound for Cairo, St. Louis, Kansas City or Des Moines.

We understand that Tennessee eventually contemplates adding two more lanes on US 45-E into Fulton, which leads us to assume that they, too, share our view.

We would hope that this by-pass from US 45-E to US 51 will be constructed soon, and we urge our good friends in South Fulton to get busy and actively seek it while it can yet be brought close to town and in sight of the good restaurants, motels and service stations there who can benefit from it.

County Students Study At UT Martin Branch

Winter quarter enrollment at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch has reached a new high with a total of 1,901 full-time day students registered. This figure compares with the 1,427 enrolled for winter quarter last year.

Enrolled at U-T Martin from Fulton County are: Jean S. Dallas, Ruby K. French, Jackie Graves, Harold W. Martin, Jo M. Powell, and Ann C. Ragsdale from Fulton; William G. Adams, Phyllis J. Choate, David H. Moss, Mary N. Rogers and Joyce P. Robinson from Hickman.

TIME CHANGED

The South Fulton PTA has changed its regular night meeting to 3 p. m. on February 4 in order not to conflict with the basketball tournament. Mrs. Lester Betty has charge of the Founders Day program.

Chestnut Glade Enjoys Program On Libraries

The Chestnut Glade Club met January 21 in the home of Mrs. Harvey Vaughan. The president, Mrs. Laverne Owensby, read the thought for the day and Mrs. W. C. Morrison led the song, "Smile." The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Lucy Gibbs, with Mrs. Jim Burke leading the prayer and Mrs. Jim Hicks reading the collect. The roll was answered with each member naming a trip she would like to take.

After the regular business and a plan of work for the year, hostesses, devotional leaders and recreation leaders were named. The reading chairman introduced the bookmobile librarian, Mrs. Margaret Futrell, from the Regional Library, who explained the reading program for 1965. She invited members to make selections of books from the Bookmobile.

After a bountiful potluck lunch, the vice-president, Mrs. Jim Hicks, presented Mrs. Wiley Sims, who gave an interesting lesson on the nutritional values saved by correct preparation of foods. Mrs. Paul Reams also gave an interesting lesson on clothing and presented members with score sheets on being well-dressed and charts for assisting in wisely shopping for clothing.

The recreation was directed by Mrs. Orvin Morrison and Mrs. Jim Burke.

Fourteen members and the following visitors were present: Mrs. Irvin Brundige, Mrs. Bettie Oliver, Mrs. James Clark and Janice, Mrs. Felts Rawls, Mrs. Ellen Rawls, Mrs. John Verhines, Mrs. Arthur Matheny and Mrs. Margaret Futrell.

CUT UP

That's exactly what Mrs. Elmer Mansfield, of South Fulton, will be from now on. She won the electric carving knife at City Drug Company last Saturday.

METHODISTS AID 1.7 MILLION

Sports Final

R. Paul Westpheling, III

Fulton City was defeated Friday night by the Murray High Tigers 56-55 in the best game of the season for the Bulldogs. Harold Hutcherson was the star as he made a whopping 23 points and grabbed 21 rebounds. This was the first game in which Harold dressed out. He has been ineligible prior to this game.

At half-time the Bulldogs were in possession of a 30-26 lead. When the third began, Murray grabbed the ball and, in a quick succession of baskets, caught up with our team. With about 30 seconds to go in the game, Fulton had possession of the ball; then, as the seconds ticked away, Fulton lost the ball. Everyone, on both sides of the gym, was in a panic. With 08 showing on the clock, a Murray player grabbed the ball, shot, and ripped the net.

David Mann quickly grabbed the rebound and raced down the court with the ball. With :02 on the clock, David shot a jump shot from about fifty feet out. The ball hit the back of the rim and almost went in. Everyone in the gym was in a daze.

MAYFIELD HIWAY

FULTON, KY.

To The Citizens Of Fulton County

I wish to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for Fulton County Sheriff, subject to the Democratic Primary on May 25, 1965, and to solicit your vote on my behalf. In the coming months I am going to do my best to see every voter in the county personally, and anything that you can do for me will be sincerely appreciated.

I am 43 years of age, was born and reared on a farm in the Cayce Community. I am married to the former Marie Lynn of near Reaves, Tenn. and we have two children Cheryl and Keith who attend school in the Fulton County School System.

My father J. C. Menees is a retired farmer at Cayce and my mother is the former Manila Cason of the Cayce community.

Our church affiliation is the Church of Christ, I am a member of the Fulton County Farm Bureau, the Fulton and South Fulton Chamber of Commerce and I have been a Democrat all my life.

A graduate of Cayce High School, I attended Murray State College majoring in Business Administration, after which I worked for the Craddock Canning Company in and near Hickman for four years. I owned and operated a fleet of school-buses in the east end of Fulton County for eight years. I was Nursery Supt. for Ky. Dept. of Fish and Wild-life for four years. I have been engaged in Service Station operation at Fulton for the past five years. We own and live on a farm at Cayce, Ky.

I wish to see each voter and citizen of the County between now and election time. In the meantime, I hope if you do not know me that you will ask my neighbors and friends about me. I am willing to rely upon their judgment as to my qualification for the office of Sheriff. Your Vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully

James C. "Buck" Menees

Announcing New TOUCH-TONE[®] Phone Coming To Fulton

This is the remarkable, new telephone which has buttons instead of a dial. To make a call, you simply push the buttons and listen to the pleasant musical tone — a different tone for each button. Many people find that the electronic sounds "dial" their number — faster than regular dial phones.

These phones come in all standard colors and most models for your home or business. To see the exciting, new Touch-Tone phone, visit our business office and place your order right away. And you'll be ready to go when dial service comes to Fulton later this year.

Labor Survey Determines Bardwell Factory Hope

The results of a labor survey scheduled Jan. 15-16 apparently will determine whether a New York garment company will locate a $280,000 plant at Bardwell which would eventually employ 150 persons.

Bardwell Mayor Gregory Roberts said officials of the company have indicated to him that if the results of the survey are favorable, they would begin construction of the plant within 60 days and would begin operations about June 1.

The company has requested that its name not be disclosed at this time, Roberts said, but if it located here it would manufacture women's clothing.

Application forms have been distributed by the Bardwell Lions Club to merchants in Milburn, Cunningham, Kirbyton, Arlington, Berkeley, Bardwell, Wickliffe, Barlow, La Center, Lovelaceville and Blandville.

Persons interested in working at the plant are asked to fill out one of the forms and bring it in person to the Bardwell Elementary School between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. Jan. 15 or between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. Jan. 16.

Company representatives will be present to interview the applicants. Completing a form will not be treated as a formal job application, Roberts said, but it will indicate a desire to work at the plant.

Initial employment would be between 50-100 during the first six months of operation and would be increased to 150 after a year.

The Bardwell Development Corporation has offered the company a 10-acre tract on U. S. 51 for the factory site.

Financing for a 26,000 square foot building will be arranged through a local non-profit organization.

American Art History To Be Murray Course

Art 524, "American Art History," will be offered on Monday evenings by Murray State College next semester.

The course, which carries three semester hours of credit, will be open to all graduate students without prerequisites in art. A background course in the history of American life, the course would be of great value to all graduate students, regardless of their majors, according to Clara Eagle, head of the art division.

Gerald DeScheppar will teach the course which will meet from 6-9 p. m. each Monday. Registration will be at 8:30 a. m., Feb. 6, in the Administration Building.

Mrs. T. T. Harris is doing as well as can be expected at Hillview Hospital, where she underwent surgery ten days ago. Every good wish is sent by all friends here that she may soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lassiter and baby son, Richard Alan, visited parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Carroll, Dresden Route, the past Saturday.

Get well wishes are sent to Mrs. Lizzie Vincent, near Public Wells. She is a victim of arthritis and has been suffering much pain. Mrs. Vincent is the wife of the late Lee Vincent and resides with her mother, Mrs. O. D. Rowlett.

During the past week some of our most energetic farmers took to the woods with their mechanical equipment and cut cords of wood, replenishing their supply for the remainder of the winter months.

Mrs. Naomi Tuck and son, Richard, left Friday for their home in Orlando, Florida, after spending the past week at the bedside of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Ty T. Harris.

Mrs. Mae Byars remains a patient in the Hillview Hospital under treatment. We hope she will very quickly be restored and be home to all her friends around Dukedom.

The condition of Mrs. Haldon Glover is no better at this writing and this reporter, along with many, regret to hear of her serious illness. The family has been at her bedside for many weeks.

Marshall Countians Sell Stock For New Industry

Jerry Lovett, President of the South Marshall Industrial Association, announced today that the drive to raise between $40,000 and $50,000 will start Monday, January 18 and be concluded on Saturday January 23rd.

The Industrial Association is raising money to provide the necessary funds for participation in a Small Business Administration loan of nearly $300,000 to build a plant for an unidentified clothing manufacturer. A comprehensive labor survey has just been completed that showed a sufficient labor supply to fill the 200 needed for the plant.

Mr. Lovett said the stock certificates will be sold in shares of $100 each, and the buyer may take up to three years to pay. The buyer will be asked to sign a negotiable contract for the entire purchase price of the stock. This in turn could be used as collateral to borrow the necessary funds. Most are expected to pay the full purchase price of the stock.

Seven prominent Marshall county men have been named co-chairmen of the fund drive. They are: County Judge John Rayburn, W. J. "Toad" Bryan, Shelby McCallum, Scott Smith, Jim Gay, Crass Gardner and Robert Lee Ross.

Officers of the Association are: Jerry Lovett, President, Donald Lynch, Vice President and Crass Gardner, Secretary-Treasurer.

Lovett said that the proceeds of the stock sale, would be used to attract another plant, should the textile plant fail to materialize. This will insure an active Industrial Foundation for the Hardin community. John Hicks, Chairman of the Industrial Board, expressed full confidence that the plant would build in Hardin if the funds are raised.

South Fulton Faculty Names State Delegates

Members of the junior class at South Fulton High School have selected delegates to Girls State at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and Boys State at Lebanon, Tenn., the first week in June. Two alternates also were named.

Selection is made from a list of students recommended by faculty members.

Linda Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Holland, South Fulton and Donny Parr, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Parr, Union City Rt. 4, were named delegates. Susan Burrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Burrow, South Fulton Rt. 5, and Dickie Gossum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gossum, South Fulton, were named alternates.

Girls State is held annually at Middle Tennessee College at Murfreesboro and Boys State at Castle Heights Military Academy at Lebanon.

Purchase Parkway—

The whole routing scheme will serve Gilbertville-to-Dyersburg traffic just fine, but we submit that the State of Tennessee needs to get busy on another linking project besides the short leg from US 51 to the intersection with the Parkway on east State Line.

A considerable amount of traffic into Fulton comes south from Cairo and has to fight congestion through the heart of downtown as it leaves US 51 and gets on US 45-E. We sincerely hope that the Tennessee Department of Highways takes this opportunity to run a new by-pass from South Fulton over to the new intersection (also in Tennessee) with US 51, affording our heavy St. Louis-to-Florida traffic a rapid routing around town but yet close enough that existing food and lodging and mercantile establishments will be benefited. This would be the final, complete step in bringing complete modernization to the Fulton and South Fulton traffic pattern.

We don't think that Fulton is going to lose too much of its US 51-US 45E traffic, even with the construction of I-24 and the other interstate routes. I-24 will begin in Southern Illinois and will not have a connecting link to Cairo; therefore southbound traffic coming into Cairo and headed for West Tennessee is nearly bound to continue coming into Fulton over US 51 and transferring at Fulton to US 45-E, and vice-versa for northbound traffic out of Northeast Mississippi and northwest Tennessee bound for Cairo, St. Louis, Kansas City or Des Moines.

We understand that Tennessee eventually contemplates adding two more lanes on US 45-E into Fulton, which leads us to assume that they, too, share our view.

We would hope that this by-pass from US 45-E to US 51 will be constructed soon, and we urge our good friends in South Fulton to get busy and actively seek it while it can yet be brought close to town and in sight of the good restaurants, motels and service stations there who can benefit from it.

County Students Study At UT Martin Branch

Winter quarter enrollment at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch has reached a new high with a total of 1,801 full-time day students registered. This figure compares with the 1,427 enrolled for winter quarter last year.

Enrolled at U-T Martin from Fulton County are: Jean S. Dallas, Ruby K. French, Jackie Graves, Harold W. Martin, Jo M. Powell, and Ann C. Ragsdale from Fulton; William G. Adams, Phyllis J. Choate, David H. Moss, Mary N. Rogers and Joyce P. Robinson from Hickman.

TIME CHANGED

The South Fulton PTA has changed its regular night meeting to 3 p. m. on February 4 in order not to conflict with the basketball tournament. Mrs. Lester Betty has charge of the Founders Day program.

Chestnut Glade Enjoys Program On Libraries

The Chestnut Glade Club met January 21 in the home of Mrs. Harvey Vaughan. The president, Mrs. Laverne Owensby, read the thought for the day and Mrs. W. C. Morrison led the song, "Smile." The devotionals was conducted by Mrs. Lucy Gibbs, with Mrs. Jim Burke leading the prayer and Mrs. Jim Hicks reading the collect. The roll was answered with each member naming a trip she would like to take.

After the regular business and a plan of work for the year, hostesses, devotional leaders and recreation leaders were named. The reading chairman introduced the bookmobile librarian, Mrs. Margaret Futrell, from the Regional Library, who explained the reading program for 1965. She invited members to make selections of books from the Bookmobile.

After a bountiful potluck lunch, the vice-president, Mrs. Jim Hicks, presented Mrs. Wiley Sims, who gave an interesting lesson on the nutritional values saved by correct preparation of foods. Mrs. Paul Reams also gave an interesting lesson on clothing and presented members with score sheets on being well-dressed and charts for assisting in wisely shopping for clothing.

The recreation was directed by Mrs. Orvin Morrison and Mrs. Jim Burke.

Fourteen members and the following visitors were present: Mrs. Irvin Brundige, Mrs. Bettie Oliver, Mrs. James Clark and Janice, Mrs. Felts Rawls, Mrs. Ellen Rawls, Mrs. John Verhines, Mrs. Arthur Matheny and Mrs. Margaret Futrell.

CUT UP

That's exactly what Mrs. Elmer Mansfield, of South Fulton, will be from now on. She won the electric carving knife at City Drug Company last Saturday.

Sports Final

R. Paul Westpheling, III

Fulton City was defeated Friday night by the Murray High Tigers 56-55 in the best game of the season for the Bulldogs. Harold Hutcherson was the star as he made a whopping 23 points and grabbed 21 rebounds. This was the first game in which Harold dressed out. He has been ineligible prior to this game.

At half-time the Bulldogs were in possession of a 30-26 lead. When the third began, Murray grabbed the ball and, in a quick succession of baskets, caught up with our team. With about 30 seconds to go in the game, Fulton had possession of the ball; then, as the seconds ticked away, Fulton lost the ball. Everyone, on both sides of the gym, was in a panic. With 08 showing on the clock, a Murray player grabbed the ball, shot, and ripped the net.

David Mann quickly grabbed the rebound and raced down the court with the ball. With :02 on the clock, David shot a jump shot from about fifty feet out. The ball hit the back of the rim and almost went in. Everyone in the gym was in a daze.

Harold was high man of the night, with 23 points and 21 rebounds. The Bulldogs played the best ball game of the season. They actually beat the Tigers, play-wise,

CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

Silas Jones is unimproved at the home of his sister, Mrs. Daisy Twigg in Dresden. They moved there several weeks ago, due to both Silas's and Libby's declining health.

Bobby, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Melton, was transferred from the Fulton Hospital to Campbell's Clinic in Memphis Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Pate and daughter, from New Jersey, have returned to their home after a visit with homefolks.

Jim Brundige, who has been very sick for the past few weeks and is a patient in Jones Hospital, is reported to be improving.

Mrs. Ray Bondurant has returned to her home, after being a patient in the Baptist Hospital at Memphis.

Brother Newman, the Weakley County Missionary Baptist missionary, preached at Ruthville Sunday night.

Taylor Thomas, who lived in this community several years ago and has lived in Lansing, Michigan, the past several years, passed away there last Friday. The funeral service was at Gleason on Monday.

He is survived by his wife and daughter; two brothers, Calvin and Bonnie, and two sisters, Gertrude and Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cummings, who are living in Paducah at this time, spent the week end with homefolks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughn attended the Martin football banquet at Reelfoot Lake last Saturday night. Not often is a group privileged to hear as wonderful an address as that given by Coach Don Shelton, from Murray.

DUKEDOM HT. 2

Mrs. O. F. Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Puckett, of Lone Oak, spent Saturday night with his mother, Mrs. Hattie Puckett of Pilot Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGuire attended a Farm Bureau meeting in Jackson Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Arthur J. Hicks remains a patient in the Mayfield Hospital, after having surgery several days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Thacker on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ruth Weems is home, after spending two and a half weeks in Hillview Hospital, and is getting along fine.

Tremor Rickman had dinner with his sister, Mrs. Hazel Ellegood, near Arlington, one day last week.

H. W. Ruddle is back in the hospital, after spending a few days at home. He hopes to be back home in a few days for good.

Mrs. Mary Jane Vincent was the guest of her parents, near Palmersville, Saturday. She visited in the A. A. McGuire home for a while Saturday night.

Mrs. Mae Byars, of Dukedom, remains in Hillview Hospital. Here's hoping she gets to come home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Almus Ferrell of Dresden and Mrs. Lena Taylor of Martin visited in the H. W. Ruddle home Tuesday of last week.

I'm sure a lot of people in this community remember Wilson Adams, who lived here during his childhood and finished school at Pilot Oak. He had heart surgery in Los Angeles, Calif., on January 12, it was a success, and the doctors told that he will now be able to live a normal life.

DUKEDOM NEWS

By Mrs. Hillman Westbrook

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Cantrell have a new daughter, born at Fulton Hospital. Rev. Cantrell is pastor of the Dukedom Methodist Church.

Garrett Bailey left Wednesday for Detroit, where he will begin working on Monday.

Lorenzo Bowden is seriously ill in Detroit. He is the son of Mrs. Vinus Bowden of Dukedom.

Mrs. Carrie Marr is ill at the home of her niece, Mrs. Roy Puckett. She has not been well all winter.

Mrs. Lurline Grissom has gone to her daughter's, Mrs. John Reeves, in Del Rio, Texas. Mrs. Reeves visited with her mother and they flew from Memphis, leaving on Tuesday.

The body of Taylor Thomas was brought from Lansing, Michigan, to Gleason by plane. He had been seriously ill for some time. He is the brother of Calvin Thomas of the Dukedom community. Burial will be at New Hope, near Gleason.

The Webb Brown farm has been sold, the house place to Jodie Hedge and wife and the land to Harvey Cloys.

A good crowd attended church at Good Springs Sunday. Rev. Dale Shelton, pastor, brought a message on the subject, "Seeing The Unseen." Everyone is invited to these services each Sunday at 9:45.

Burns Westbrook is not as well as usual at his home in Mayfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Bryant and children, of Memphis, were here over the week-end, visiting with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Bell, who has been in Hillview Hospital the last two weeks and is not making much improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie James Roberts have moved to the Reed Douthitt home place.

Mrs. Zue Webb is in Jones Hospital at Fulton.

Mrs. Alf Cunningham is hospitalized at Fulton.

Mrs. Mae Byars has been in Hillview for some time and is still quite unwell.

"I was glad when they said unto me—let us go into the house of the Lord."

PROTECTION FROM THE ELEMENTS

It has been said in the Lone Star State that there is nothing between Texas and the North Pole but a barbed wire fence. That certainly gives you the idea that in Texas you're not given much protection from the cold North wind.

There are times when you might think there is no protection and comfort afforded from the hardness and cruelty of the world. But there is a buffer between you and the world. This help and protection is the church. As members of the church, you are with good people of like minds who love you, pray with you, comfort you and assist you. They are the ones who "by love serve one another." (Gal. 5:13)

We invite you to attend the church of your choice this week. You will find a warm welcome there.

"And this commandment we have from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also."

1 John 4:21

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Industrial Parks—

But then, Fulton never fails to come through, and they will this time. Who knows, we may hit another two for one jack-pot with an industrial park.

Remember the crisis we faced when we were about to lose the Siegel factory on the Kentucky side? We showed our real colors then, and came out with not one, but two factories... both of them growing and employing more people all the time.

Suppose we had failed then? Where would we be today? Surely there wouldn't be a story released by the Department of Commerce, that our retail sales have increased eighteen per cent since 1953.

And that's when we raised $100,000.00, in big money and little to save about 500 jobs. Today we have paralyzed that investment into about 1000 jobs, and that ain't hay.

Let's get that industrial park! Don't let us have to sell you. You start selling Fulton like you always have.

JOHN WATTS

Clothing leaders of Fulton County Homemakers Clubs will have a training school on Thursday, February 4, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, for their second lesson on "Making A Cotton Dress." The session, which will be held at the Hickman-Fulton R. E. C. C. building in Hickman, will include training on Pattern Alteration.

Leaders attending the meeting and the clubs they represent will include:

Bennett Club - Mrs. L. P. Carney and Mrs. Bill Fenwick.
Central Club - Mrs. Luther Clark and Mrs. Ross McCollum.
Crutchfield - Mrs. Thomas Webb and Mrs. Jack Graham.
Fulton - Mrs. David Phelps and Mrs. Milton Exum.
Hickman - Mrs. Joe Lattus and Mrs. Lynn Wiley.
Palestine - Mrs. Avery Hancock and Mrs. Hurman Owens.
Rush Creek - Mrs. Albert Moss and Mrs. Larry Cardwell.
Victory - Mrs. Fred Collier and Mrs. J. L. Howell.
Western - Mrs. Worden Grey and Mrs. Kelly Conder.

Fulton County Homemakers Clubs Presidents will meet Tuesday, February 2, from 9:30 to 11:30 A. M. at the Hickman-Fulton R. E. C. C. building in Hickman to work on planning the program for next year. They will evaluate the program the group has studied during the past year and consider needs for the coming year.

Mrs. Ernest Jenkins, President of Fulton County Homemakers Clubs will have charge of the meeting according to a report from Mrs. Anna C. Thompson, Fulton County Home Demonstration Agent.

County Agent John Watts attended the National Cotton Production and Mechanization meeting (Sponsored by the National Cotton Council) at Atlanta, Georgia, January 14 and 15th where 1964 cotton production research was reviewed to study practices that would produce higher yields at lower production cost.

Practices that seem to give best results were:

(1) Skip row planting with rows running east and west.
(2) Good cultural practices using fertilizer according to need as indicated by soil test.

chase Parkway) depends upon good access to population centers and connections to major highways, for the best traffic service, it would be most helpful if Tennessee could construct a four-lane connection." Commissioner Ward said in a letter to the Tennessee

Highway Dept.

The letter asked for an early reply. Commissioner Ward said the matter of a connecting road must be resolved to clear the way for the final design of the Purchase Parkway.

"We are ready to start the development of plans for this project," Commissioner Ward said,

"and we are most anxious to meet the schedule outlined."

The two roads would meet at the Kentucky line just west of Fulton.

The design and right-of-way acquisition on the Purchase Parkway toll road will be completed this year, Commissioner Ward said.
