Lieut. Governor—JAMES D. BLACK.

Comm. of Agriculture—MATT S. COHEN.

Late returns from Saturday's state democratic primary give Judge James Black, of Barbourville, a lead of 1,396 votes over James P. Edwards, of Louisville, in the race for the nomination for lieutenant governor. A. O. Stanley's total vote went over the 100,000 mark last night. The democratic gubernatorial nominee now has 100,684 votes, which gives him a plurality of 40,020 votes over H. McChesney. Late figures confirm the nomination of Barksdale Hamlett for secretary of state, Robt. Greene for auditor and Sherman Goodpaster for treasurer.

DISTRICT NOMINEES.

Court of Appeals—GUS THOMAS.
Circuit Judge—J. T. HANBERY.
Commonwealth's Atty.—DENNY P. SMITH.
State Senator—SELDON R. GLENN.
Hon. Gus Thomas, of Mayfield, for judge of the Court of Appeals, carried every county west of the river and his plurality over his nearest opponent, Judge Nunn, will reach several thousands. Judge J. T. Hanbery, of this judicial district, was given a certificate of nomination owing to the fact that he had no opposition and his name was not placed on the ballot. He will have no opposition in the November election. Hon. Denny P. Smith, of Cadiz, for commonwealth's attorney, carried every county in the district, receiving a majority of over 400 in Christian; the home of his opponent, Hon. James B. Allensworth. Hon. Seldon R. Glenn, of Edyville, for state senator, also carried every county in the district, defeating Prof. Thom by a majority that will reach between 1,500 and 1,600.

COUNTY NOMINEES.

Circuit Court Clerk—L. C. TREVATHAN.

Representative—T. R. JONES.

As is always the case greater interest was manifested in the races for county offices, circuit court clerk and representative, the official vote in these races, together with official vote of the county in the state and district contests, are published in tabular form in this issue of the Ledger. The county candidates have engaged in a strenuous campaign the past several weeks and during the two weeks' speaking campaign hundreds of voters availed themselves of the opportunity to hear the different aspirants. Possibly the greatest gain made in any of the races was by C. W. Adams, for circuit court clerk, who forged to the second place. His friends are pleased with his showing and frankly say that he "won if he did lose."

It was a quiet election so far as Calloway was concerned, nothing occurring at any of the polls to attract more than ordinary attention. The total vote was considerably less than was anticipated, being about 2,750. There will be no opposition to the county, senatorial or judicial district nominees in the November election.

The official returns of the republican votes cast in Calloway county shows a very light vote cast, it being generally conceded that the ticket recently endorsed by the Lexington convention, would win without much effort. The vote as certified by the election commissioners is as follows:

Governor—Edwin P. Morrow, 165; Latt F. McLaughlin, 20. Lieutenant Governor—George Osborne, 39; Z. L. Proctor, 24; Lewis L. Walker, 69. Secretary of State—L. P. Cole, 35; J. W. Cox, 24; James P. Lewis, 74. Auditor—James H. Ashlock, 31; J. M. Perkins, 35; Edward A. Weber, 32; Roy Wilhoit, 35. Treasurer—W. A. Hunter, 47; Robert L. Moore, 55; James A. Wallace, 21. Clerk Court of Appeals—Earl C. Hunstman, 64; J. L. McCoy, 45; B. McGuire, 20. Superintendent Public Instruction—R. P. Greene, 127. Commissioner of Agriculture—William C. Hanna, 73; Sam J. Patrick, 16; Jeff Pratie, 7; James W. Rankin, 26.

Progressive Nominate Ticket.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 9.—It is said that the progressives propose to inject a statewide prohibition platform into their party for the general election on Tuesday, November 2.

Little interest was manifested in their primary Saturday, only a few votes being cast in each county. The ticket nominated is as follows:

Governor—Fred J. Drexler; Lieut. Governor, J. R. Eskridge; Secy. State, Charles Reynolds; Atty. General, Allen D. Cole; Auditor, J. F. Holtzclaw; Treasurer, C. I. Groves. No nominations were made for the remainder of the state offices.

The Republican Nominees.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 9.—Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, was chosen the republican standard bearer by an overwhelming majority over his opponent, Latt F. McLaughlin, of Madisonville, whose vote was negligible.

There was little opposition to the republicans who were decided upon at the Lexington convention held two months ago.

The following ticket was nominated: Governor, E. P. Morrow; Lieut. Governor, Lewis L. Walker; Secy. State, James P. Lewis; Atty. General, Tom B. McGregor; Auditor, Ed A. Weber; Clerk Court of Appeals, Earl Hunstman; Supt. Schools, R. P. Greene; Comm. of Agriculture, William C. Hanna.

Socialists Name Ticket.

Charles Dobbs, of Louisville, was nominated for governor by the Socialist party of Kentucky at the state convention of the organization at Newport Saturday. Nominations for other offices were as follows: For lieutenant governor, John Gamble, Newport; for attorney general, J. Milton Clark, Greenville; for secretary of state, A. O. Grigsby, Tolesboro; for auditor, A. R. Boswell, Paducah; for treasurer, A. S. Cullin, Livermore; for superintendent of public instruction, E. L. Nance, Hickory Grove; for commissioner of agriculture, K. O. Shephard, Valley Station; for clerk of the court of appeals, Victor B. Hardy, Lexington.

I Am the Newspaper.

From an address delivered by Joseph H. Finn, president of the Nichols-Finn Advertising Co., Chicago, before the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World Convention.

"Born of the deep, daily need of a nation—I am the Voice of Now—the incarnate Spirit of the Times—Monarch of Things That Are.

"My 'cold-type' burns with the fire-blood of human action. I am fed by arteries of wire that girdle the earth. I drink from the cup of every living joy and sorrow. I sleep not rest not. I know not night, nor day nor season. I know death, yet I am Born Again with every morn— with every noon—with every twilight. I leap into fresh being with every New World's event.

"Those who created me cease to be the brains and heart's blood that nourish me go the way of human dissolution. Yet I live on—and on.

"I am Majestic in my Strength—Sublime in my Power—Terrible in my Potentialities—yet as Democratic as the ragged boy who sells me for a penny.

"I am the consort of Kings—the partner of Capital—the brother of Oil—the right arm of the needy—the champion of the Oppressed—the conscience of the Criminal. I am the Epitome of the world's comedy and Tragedy.

"My responsibility is Infinite. I speak and the world stops to listen. I say the word and battle flames the horizon. I counsel peace and the war lords obey. I am greater than any individual—more powerful than any group. I am the dynamic force of Public Opinion. Rightly directed, I am a Creator of Confidence. A builder of happiness in living. I am the Backbone of Commerce, The Trail-Blazer of Prosperity. I am the teacher of Patriotism.

"I am the Hands of the Clock of Time—The Clarion Voice of Civilization.

TWISTING TAIL OF THE GOLDEN RULE

The Golden Rule is a good rule, but we often twist its tail to a frazzle.

It was laid down as a guiding star to the faltering and wayward footsteps of humanity. But there are many feet in this town that neglect to tread the golden pathway of life.

It has been taught us at the mother knee, preached to us from the pulpit, fed us in the schools, declaimed from the lecture platform and advocated from a thousand other sources.

But there are local ears that hear not and eyes that refuse to see.

The tail of the Golden Rule is receiving some vigorous twists in this town.

Often we are asked by some merchant to preach the doctrine of "trade at home." We preach it, and it helps to enrich the merchant who made the request.

That is good, for we believe in patronizing local institutions—we like to see them grow—we want the money kept at home.

But when the same merchant whose money till we have helped to fill sends out of town for his job printing we cannot but pity the isolation of the poor Golden Rule.

Some people make their money in this community, enjoy life in the community, educate their children at the expense of the community and then buy their goods from merchants who are NOT in or of the community.

It is some tug at the Golden tail.

There are some people who want the earth for what they sell and then expect to receive some of their own purchases for less than cost.

And the Golden Rule is helpless—forgotten—kicked into discard.

A few people make a practice of parading their own virtues and sneering at the frailties of their neighbors.

Some want to hog everything in sight, though the less fortunate experience the gnawing

CAIRO MINISTER SHOOT HIMSELF

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 7.—Rev. A. P. Garrett, pastor of the Cairo Baptist church, shot and killed himself in the basement of the church last evening. A note which he sent to one of the officials of the church led to the discovery.

Gossip which charged him with immoral conduct led to the severance of his connection with the church recently. He left the city Saturday, returning yesterday evening and going immediately to the church. Coming in on the train he wrote several notes which he sent to friends on reaching the city, leaving a taxi at the church. Entering the church he went to the basement and there shot himself two times. In the notes Garrett denied in toto the charges against him and exonerated those accused with him. Garrett was 38 years of age and was single. He left aged parents in North Carolina from whence he came.

pangs of hunger.

Occasionally we see a sanctimonious countenance in church while the mind within is devising means of skinning others out of their hard earned dollars.

The Golden Rule?

Why, the poor, decrepit old rule is strangling three hundred and sixty-five days in the year.

Its coat of gold has turned to rust, and the once sparkling waters of its purity are stagnant from disuse.

The Golden Rule?

Can you point to a soul in all this wide world who in all things does unto others as he would have them do unto him?

Possibly we, too, are twisting the tail of the Golden Rule when we publish this article, for we are telling others of their faults when we have many of our own—which we too often forget.

And yet we repeat, the Golden Rule is a GOOD rule.

We may not walk steadfastly in accordance with its teachings, but we may at least practice a portion of that which we preach. We may accord to others a slight degree of that which we demand for ourselves.

We may even trail along in the shadow of the Golden Rule, though our steps be faltering and our limbs over-weary.

For we are but human, and no human being of today is perfect.

Yes, the tail of the Golden Rule receives many twists, yet it is the tail that never knows disjointment.

RUSSIA REJECTS OFFER OF PEACE

CZAR DETERMINES TO WAGE FIGHT AGAINST THE KAISER TO FINISH.

WOULD ELIMINATE RUSSIA

Original Plan Having Failed, Tautou Would Transfer All Fighters to West Front Against Allies. Warsaw a Luxury.

Petrograd. From absolutely trustworthy sources, the Bourse Gazette learns that Emperor William, through the king of Denmark, offered the Russians terms of peace. The reply of the czar to the Danish monarch's letter was the categorical decision that at the present time there could be no question of peace negotiations.

Having failed to carry out her original programme of crushing France in the first few months of the war, Germany has now altered her general plan and is straining every nerve to eliminate Russia from the number of her antagonists in order to be able to concentrate all her energies against the allies in the west when they at last are in a position to cause her serious inconvenience.

Germany had hoped, by the momentum of her assault on both flanks of the Polish salient, to cut off and utterly destroy the Russian armies occupying it and thus reduce Russia to impotence.

No doubt her calculations were largely based on the idea that the Russians would cling desperately to the Warsaw and Vistula fortresses and thus allow themselves to be caught in a trap.

It must have become clear to the Germans that their plot was frustrated. Thanks to the timely decision of the Russian chief of command, Warsaw was evacuated promptly and with thoroughness. The Germans will find that the Polish capital is an embarrassing luxury.

The evacuation of Riga, which is being done, is now described as merely a precautionary measure. Telegrams from the town suggest that certain officials who are of the German race are seeking to retard the work.

Large numbers of refugees from Riga have arrived here and filled up the hotels. The railway stations in the Baltic capital are still crowded with people to secure tickets and register their luggage.

GERMANS TAKE WARSAW

Prince Leopold, Heading Bavarians, Enters Polish Capital August 5. Russians' Retreat Orderly.

London.—The Germans hold Warsaw, capital of Poland, and the third largest city in the Russian empire. Bavarian troops entered the city on the morning of August 5, having taken successively the Biala lines and the outer and inner fortresses of the city itself. The Russians only fighting rear guard actions to allow their main army to escape.

While the Bavarians under Prince Leopold have fallen the honor of taking over Warsaw in the name of the German emperor and his consort, who are expected to make a state entry within a few days, the real conquerors are Von Hindenburg's troops, fighting along the Narew river to the north-east; the Austro-Germans, who crossed the Vistula to the south of the city; and the armies of the Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and the German field marshal, Von Mackensen, advancing northward between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

The Russians are fighting desperately and stubbornly to check the progress of these four armies and have had several successes, inflicting heavy losses on their pursuers, but they are being steadily pressed back, and this made the longer occupation of the Warsaw salient a hazardous undertaking.

Even now, although the steadiness of the Russian troops and their fierce counterattacks have gained much valuable time for them, it is problematical whether the whole Russian army will reach new positions chosen or whether, if it should get there, it will not find those positions turned by the Austrians who have crossed the Bug southward of Chelm and the Germans under Von Scholtz and Von Gallwitz, who have crossed the Narew.

From refugees who left Warsaw some days ago and have arrived at Moscow, it has been learned that Warsaw even at that early date had been denuded of virtually everything that might be useful to the Teutons. Factories had been stripped.

Labor Will Probe Disaster.

Chicago.—American Federation of Labor officials will conduct an investigation of the Eastland disaster, Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, announced here. Mr. Gompers said no definite plans for the investigation had been made, but expressed the opinion that it should be considered in such a way as to be not merely punitive, but preventive of similar accidents. Secretary of Commerce Redfield has decided to continue the hearing before the steamboat inspection service board.

CZAR HOLDS VISTULA FORT

Strong Position Still Garrisoned to Fight Germans and Prevent Them Using Railroad and River.

London.—With the exception of the great entrenched camp of Novogeorgievsk, the Russians have evacuated the whole line of the Vistula River. Ivangorod, the southern fortress, having fallen into the hands of the Austro-German army, the Russians are making their way eastward to the Brest-Litovsk line.

The decision of the general staff to leave the garrison in Novogeorgievsk is announced in Petrograd dispatches. The object is to deprive the Germans of the use of railway communications and of the Vistula River for bringing up supplies for their armies.

Novogeorgievsk is situated at the junction of the Vistula, Narew and Wkra rivers, to the northwest of Warsaw. It has two powerful bridgeheads, eight citadels and 74 redoubts containing 11 and 12-inch batteries. It is calculated by military observers here that an army corps can hold out there for many months, as the camp is protected by massive earthworks, which doubtless have been enlarged and improved since the Russians were compelled to begin their retreat.

The laying of siege to Novogeorgievsk may prove one of the most interesting operations of the war, as it doubtless will show whether earthworks are less susceptible to the fire of high explosives than are cupola forts.

Of the retiring Russian armies the official reports say nothing. The Russians, however, destroyed bridges over the Vistula and placed other obstacles in the path of their pursuers, while others of their forces continue to offer stubborn resistance to the Germans and Austrians south and north who are trying to forge a ring around them.

UNYIELDING IN FRYE CASE

Berlin Will Not Admit That Treaty With U. S. Violated When Ship Was Sunk.

Washington.—Germany is unyielding in her refusal to concede that the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye by the auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich was a violation of American rights under the Prussian-American treaty or international law.

In reply to the last American representations, the German foreign office, in a note made public here, reiterates a previous justification of Germany's course, reiterates her willingness to pay for the ship and accepts a proposal first advanced by the United States—that the amount of damages be fixed by two experts, one to be selected by each country.

Such a sum the German government pledges itself to pay promptly, with the stipulation, however, that the payment shall not be viewed as a satisfaction for violation of American rights. Should that method be unsatisfactory, Germany invites the United States to arbitration at The Hague.

The unofficial view here is that arbitration by a commission of experts probably will be satisfactory to the United States with the express provision, however, that it is not a waiver of treaty rights for which the United States contends, but applies only to the matter of damages.

The entire dispute revolves about the treaty of 1823, which the United States contends specifically protected the William P. Frye from being sunk, although it did not protect a contraband cargo. Germany takes an opposite view, holding that the articles only obliges her to pay damages.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR BOAT

Dangerous Explosives Are Discovered Aboard White Star Liner Arabic in Nick of Time.

New York.—The great trans-Atlantic liner Arabic, owned by the White Star Company, has had a narrow escape from serious accident and perhaps destruction at sea, as the result of the discovery of dynamite concealed aboard the steamer before she sailed from this port for Liverpool July 23.

The explosive, in such a state of deterioration that the slightest jar would have exploded it, according to experts, was discovered by a stewardess on board the liner. It was carefully concealed between the hot and cold water pipes. The explosive was wrapped in newspapers.

The steamer sailed with more than 10,000 tons of cargo, almost all of which was war supplies, and 188 passengers, among them 12 Americans.

Riga Deserted.—The archbishop of Riga held the last service at the Riga cathedral Aug. 5, and with the consistory left the capital of the Baltic provinces.

Three Children Cremated.—Delavan, Wis.—Three children were burned to death, eight cottages were destroyed and three dynamited to save others in a fire at Lake Delavan, a resort near here, early on the morning of Aug. 5. The dead are Helen, Lucy and Mary Bryant, children of George W. Bryant, president of the Racine Rubber Company, in whose cottage the fire is believed to have started from an overheated chimney. Because of cold weather, grate fires have been lighted in the cottages for several nights.

RANGERS BATTLE BORDER BANDITS

MEXICAN OUTLAWS MAKE TWO ATTACKS AGAINST TEXAS RANCH HOUSE.

FIVE AMERICANS WOUNDED

Several Mexicans Believed to Have Met Death in Charge—United States Soldiers Hurried to Relieve Situation.

Harlingen, Tex.—Five American ranchmen were wounded, two seriously, and several Mexican outlaws reportedly killed and wounded in a fight between Texas Rangers and American ranchers and a band of Mexican bandits at Norias ranch, 30 miles north of Lyford, Cameron county, Texas, on the night of August 8, according to a telephone message received here from Norias. The number of casualties to the Mexicans, it was said, could not be ascertained, owing to darkness.

The outlaws, estimated to number between 30 and 50, attacked the Norias ranch houses shortly before dark. Fourteen ranchmen barricaded themselves in the house and defended the place until 10 o'clock, when, the message said, the Mexicans withdrew temporarily. Shortly after the bandits had withdrawn sixteen Texas Rangers and armed civilians arrived.

At 10:30 o'clock the report says the Mexicans returned and again charged the house and were met by a volley of shots from the Rangers and several of the Mexicans were killed, the number not being known. The Mexicans apparently were unaware of the arrival of the Rangers and armed citizens and again withdrew.

A special train left Harlingen carrying 35 United States soldiers and 12 armed civilians to reinforce the Americans on the Norias ranch. Passenger trains are running through the affected district tonight without lights.

SEES GOOD COTTON PRICE

President of New Orleans Exchange Believes New Demand Will Take a Million Bales.

Washington.—President E. J. Glenn of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, who takes an optimistic view of the cotton situation, notwithstanding Great Britain's action in declaring it contraband, predicts that this year's crop will be satisfactory marketed.

Mr. Glenn sees a new and unexpected demand for 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 additional bales of American cotton as a result of the action of Great Britain in placing an embargo on jute. He argues that if the need of jute bags in the construction of breastworks is sufficient to consume India's jute production, cotton will have to be substituted for a great variety of articles for which jute is now used. Wherefore, in his opinion, cotton will take the place of jute in such a volume as to make an appreciable difference in the South's production of this year's crop. India's crop of jute this year is estimated at 12,000,000 bales.

CATTLEMEN WILL MEET

Big Birmingham Convention Expected to Do Much for Beef-Raising in South—2,000 Will Attend.

Birmingham, Ala.—Extensive preparation for the entertainment of the Southern Cattleman's Association convention, which will be held in Birmingham Aug. 18 and 19, are being made.

Delegates from all Southern states to the number of 2,000, who will be in attendance, will attempt to locate in some of the Southern cities several large packing plants to take care of the South's production of beef cattle. A delegation of Chicago packers will be in attendance.

Berlin Hears Warsaw News.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—Details of the fall of Warsaw have not reached Berlin. The newspaper correspondents before Warsaw have as yet had no opportunity to send dispatches and the German general staff has no details. News of the occupation of the Polish capital was received here quietly, almost without enthusiasm or demonstration. So sure had the authorities been of the fall of the fortress that preparations for the appointment of a civil governor and the installation of a civil administration are almost complete.

A B C PARLEY A FAILURE

Latin-American Diplomats Quit When Question of Force in Mexico Is Considered.

Washington.—The Pan-American conference on the Mexican situation adjourned suddenly on the night of Aug. 6, with an announcement that it will meet at New York some time in the future to resume consideration of the problem.

The conference broke up with every appearance of failure. The Latin-American diplomats emerged from the office of Secretary of State Lansing looking weary and worn. It was evident there had been sharp differences of opinion. They were followed in a short time by Secretary Lansing, and he, too, wore a discouraged expression, which indicated that the long session had utterly failed of its purpose. He admitted somewhat dejectedly that no communication had been sent to the warring factions of Mexico as the result of the deliberations of the conference.

The point on which the conferees were unable to agree was the question of the course to be taken in the event it is found impossible to induce the leaders of the factions to agree to a peaceable settlement of their differences and to unite on a provisional president. In general, their view was that there is nothing essentially wrong in the settlement of the affairs of a nation by revolution. They were unable, therefore, to come to an agreement on any plan which contemplates the use of force by the United States in case all other plans fail.

If intervention should be decided on, Gen. Scott would proceed to the border. The great problem for the War Department would be the concentration of the troops at the proper places along the Mexican boundary. The department has long been prepared, so far as its present forces go, for any work it would have to do. A complete plan of action has been determined upon by the war college, theoretically, of course, for the contingency of an invasion of Mexico. The plan is to concentrate somewhere near Camacho, on the border.

The departure of Gen. Scott at this time indicates to some authorities that the administration has in mind a plan of action within less than 60 days, and that the best place for Gen. Scott in the event of intervention being forced by the obstructive tactics of Carranza or Villa would be at a definite headquarters on the border.

DEATH TRAILS AUTO RACE

Two Killed and Two Injured in Initial 30-Mile Derby at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Ia.—Two killed and two injured marked the initial 30-mile derby on the new mile speedway here August 7, in which Ralph De Palma was declared the winner, Ralph Mulford second, Eddie O'Donnell third. Joe Cooper was killed during the thirty-eight lap, when his car literally sailed over the outer edge of the bowl, as he was nearing the grand stand, and landed outside, with Cooper and his mechanic, Louis Piel, pinned underneath.

The second accident came near the close of the race, when in the 23rd lap Billy Chandler's car crashed against the inside rail, almost opposite the point where Cooper had met his death.

Morris S. Keeler, mechanic to Billy Chandler, was so badly hurt that he died at the hospital shortly before 9 o'clock August 8.

Chandler has less than an even chance for recovery, according to physicians. Piel, one of the victims of the first accident, was reported also to be in a critical condition, with better prospects, however, than Chandler. In both accidents the blowouts were ascribed as the cause, although in the case of Cooper a broken steering knuckle was said to have been the immediate reason for his loss of control.

Customs Office Taken.

Washington.—Rear Admiral Caperton, commanding the American naval forces in Haiti, on August 5, reported that he had taken over the administration of the customs office at Cape-Haitien and had placed Paymaster Chas. Morris of the cruiser Washington temporarily in charge. No mention was made of the reported seizure of the customs office at Port-au-Prince. Except for a slight disturbance at St. Marc, 60 miles north of Port-au-Prince, the entire island was reported quiet. American marines were sent to St. Marc to restore order.

More Marines to Haiti.

Washington.—Nine hundred marines will be sent to Haiti on the cruiser Tennessee. An announcement at the navy department Aug. 6 says the force in Haiti is being increased, not because of any change in the situation, but to lighten the work.

WALL STREET BLIND?

SEEMS TO THINK IT CAN CONCEAL WAVE OF PROSPERITY.

Country's Immense Riches, Multiplying Rapidly, Cannot Be Manipulated by Stock Market Ticker.

What is the matter with Wall Street?

This country, with nearly a billion bushels of wheat, with nearly three billion bushels of corn, with all other crops in proportion, is now about to take out of the ground more natural wealth than was dreamed of by the whole world only a few generations ago.

This country, with the steel plants operating nearly 100 per cent full, with thousands of our other mills and factories running day and night, with the railroads once more earning a living, with general business steadily gaining headway, is again set out upon the road of fabulous industrial and commercial wealth making.

This country, with its sales abroad of war and all other supplies at the rate of a net foreign trade balance of $5,000,000 a day, $5,000,000 a day, $5,000,000 a day—certainly a billion and a half a year, probably two billion a year—is going out of Europe's debt-like magic, is piling up international credits mountain high, is founding a financial power incomparable.

Does Wall street fancy that when it has cold feet it must freeze the great red-blooded throbbing heart of the nation into paralysis? If it does it has mental chills.

Does Wall street imagine that any records of discouragement and gloom that it can write on the stock market ticker conceal the tidal waves of prosperity which are sweeping up and down this country? If it does it is blind.

Does Wall street conceive that the immeasurable riches of the United States, multiplying faster than the stars can be counted, can be manipulated or huggers-muggers or panicked spilled off this favored and happy land into the bottom of the sea? If it does it is cracked.

What is the matter with Wall street?—Washington Times.

Provisions for Defense.

Speaker Champ Clark is for peace, but not for peace at any price. On the contrary, he is a firm believer in adequate provision for defense. This, in his opinion, does not require a large standing army, or "a navy equal to the two biggest navies in the world." Here is his program, as outlined in the reception discussion inspired by the reception of the liberty bell at San Francisco:

"I am in favor of doubling the number of cadets at West Point and of making it obligatory upon the secretary of war to detail an army officer to any school, college or university which will furnish a minimum of two hundred students to drill. In that way and at the least possible cost we could in a few years have enough drilled men to officer a volunteer army of a million soldiers, if need be. In fact, there would be wisdom in a scheme by which, in addition to the cadets at West Point and Annapolis, any boy possessing the prescribed qualifications might on reasonable terms be educated at those two great institutions."

He went on to declare also in favor of a "well-equipped national guard to be used for strictly national purposes," and he concluded:

"It seems that if little Switzerland can mobilize in a few days an army of half a million well-drilled men by means of her system of military education and discipline—the cheapest system known among men and sufficiently effective—we could by such application of her system as fits our case in a year or two be able to mobilize an army of two millions of well-disciplined men at a cost which to us would be a mere bagatelle—which would be a most effective insurance for this country and all her citizens and their interests."

This is a moderate program that will suit moderate men.—Evening Wisconsin.

Securing Foreign Trade.

England and Germany—particularly the latter—understand perfectly how much commerce depends on knowing much of the customer's language. The foreign customer for a long time the vast home market carefully secured by outrageous tariffs, has secured nothing to develop a foreign sales force. It is a defect which will have to be remedied if this country is going to get its rightful share of the world's business.

Sad Blow.

It is a sad blow to the Republicans that the income tax is likely to yield $10,000,000 more than the estimates.—Philadelphia Record.

Takes Time for Business.

If Mr. Wilson were like some other presidents he would have to put in a large share of his time riding around the country and shaking hands and only in his off moments would he have opportunity to consider serious problems.

Not Really Suffering.

The income tax has been roundly denounced by its half million victims, but a taxable income is a comfortable thing, and the sufferers ought to be the happy half million.

What Holds a Man.

Good men are attracted and held not alone by salaries, but by the conditions under which they work. The efficiency of the board of water supply force compares favorably with any large public or private engineering organization. This board has been noted also for its esprit de corps and enthusiasm for its work. These desirable qualities, the report states, were obtained by selecting the most suitable available men for the leading positions, giving great weight not only to technical fitness, but also to those personal qualifications which cannot be learned or rated by examinations.

Too Sour.

Professor Copeland of Harvard, as the story goes, reproved his students for coming late to class. "This is a class in English composition," he remarked with sarcasm, "not an afternoon tea."

At the next meeting one girl was 20 minutes late. Professor Copeland waited until she had taken her seat. Then he remarked bitingly: "How will you have your tea, Miss Brown?"

"Without the lemon, please," Miss Brown answered quite gently.—Christian Register.

NO IDEA

What Caused the Trouble.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table."

"I had been troubled for some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily."

"Sometimes it would beat fast, and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain."

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am glad to say that I am now entirely free from heart trouble and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum."

"A number of my friends have abandoned coffee and have taken up Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if made according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. "There's a Reason" for Postum.—sold by Grocers.

CZAR DETERMINES TO WAGE FIGHT AGAINST THE KAISER TO FINISH.

WOULD ELIMINATE RUSSIA

Original Plan Having Failed, Teutons Would Transfer All Fighters to West Front Against Allies. Warsaw a Luxury.

Petrograd. From absolutely trustworthy sources, the Bourse Gazette learns that Emperor William, through the king of Denmark, offered the Russians terms of peace. The reply of the czar to the Danish monarch's letter was the categorical decision that at the present time there could be no question of peace negotiations.

Having failed to carry out her original programme of crushing France in the first few months of the war, Germany has now altered her general plan and is straining every nerve to eliminate Russia from the number of her antagonists in order to be able to concentrate all her energies against the allies in the west when they at last are in a position to cause her serious inconvenience.

Germany had hoped, by the momentum of her assault on both flanks of the Polish salient, to cut off and utterly destroy the Russian armies occupying it and thus reduce Russia to impotence.

No doubt her calculations were largely based on the idea that the Russians would cling desperately to the Warsaw and Vistula fortresses and thus allow themselves to be caught in a trap.

It must have become clear to the Germans that their plot was frustrated. Thanks to the timely decision of the Russian chief of command, Warsaw was evacuated promptly and with thoroughness. The Germans will find that the Polish capital is an embarrassing luxury.

The evacuation of Riga, which is being done, is now described as merely a precautionary measure. Telegrams from the town suggest that certain officials who are of the German race are seeking to retard the work.

Large numbers of refugees from Riga have arrived here and filled up the hotels. The railway stations in the Baltic capital are still crowded with people to secure tickets and register their luggage.

GERMANS TAKE WARSAW

Prince Leopold, Head of Bavarians, Enters Polish Capital August 5. Russians' Retreat Orderly.

London.—The Germans hold Warsaw, capital of Poland, and the third largest city in the Russian empire. Bavarian troops entered the city on the morning of August 5, having taken successively the Blonie lines and the outer and inner fortresses of the city itself. The Russians only fighting rear guard actions to allow their main army to escape.

While the Bavarians under Prince Leopold have fallen the honor of taking over Warsaw in the name of the German emperor and his consort, who are expected to make a state entry within a few days, the real conquerors are Von Hindenburg's troops, who crossed the Vistula to the south of the city, and the armies of the Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and the German field marshal, Von Mackensen, advancing northward between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

The Russians are fighting desperately and stubbornly to check the progress of these four armies and have had several successes, inflicting heavy losses on their pursuers, but they are being steadily pressed back, and this made the longer occupation of the Warsaw salient, a hazardous undertaking.

Even now, although the steadiness of the Russian troops and their fierce counterattacks have gained much valuable time for them, it is problematical whether the whole Russian army will reach new positions chosen or whether, if it should get there, it will not find those positions turned by the Austrians who have crossed the Bug southeast of Chelm and the Germans under Von Scholtz and Von Gallwitz, who have crossed the Narew.

From refugees who left Warsaw some days ago and have arrived at Moscow, it has been learned that Warsaw even at that early date had been denuded of virtually everything that might be useful to the Teutons. Factories had been stripped.

Labor Will Probe Disaster. Chicago.—American Federation of Labor officials will conduct an investigation of the Eastland disaster, Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, announced here. Mr. Gompers said no definite plans for the inquiry had been made, but expressed the opinion that it should be conducted in such a way as to be not merely punitive, but preventive of similar accidents. Secretary of Commerce Redfield has decided to continue the hearing before the steamboat inspection service board.

CZAR HOLDS VISTULA FORT

Strong Position Still Garrisoned to Fight Germans and Prevent Them Using Railroad and River.

London.—With the exception of the great entrenched camp of Novogeorgievsk, the Russians have evacuated the whole line of the Vistula River, leaving the southern fortress, having fallen into the hands of the Austro-German army, the Russians are making their way eastward to the Brest-Litovsk line.

The decision of the general staff to leave the garrison in Novogeorgievsk is announced in Petrograd dispatches. The object is to deprive the Germans of the use of railway communications and of the Vistula River for bringing up supplies for their armies.

Novogeorgievsk is situated at the junction of the Vistula, Narew, and Wkra rivers, to the northwest of Warsaw. It has two powerful bridgeheads, eight citadels and 74 redoubts containing 11 and 12-inch batteries. It is calculated by military observers here that an army corps can hold out there for many months, as the camp is protected by massive earthworks, which doubtless have been enlarged and improved since the Russians were compelled to begin their retreat.

The laying of siege to Novogeorgievsk may prove one of the most interesting operations of the war, as it doubtless will show whether earthworks are less susceptible to the fire of high explosives than are cupola forts.

Of the retreating Russian armies the official reports say nothing. The Russians, however, destroyed bridges over the Vistula and placed other obstacles in the path of their pursuers, while others of their forces continue to offer stubborn resistance to the Germans and Austrians south and north who are trying to forge a ring around them.

UNYIELDING IN FRYE CASE

Washington.—Germany is unyielding in her refusal to concede that the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye by the auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich in the South Atlantic last January was a violation of American rights under the Prussian-American treaty or international law.

In reply to the last American representations, the German foreign office, in a note made public here, reiterates a previous justification of Germany's course, reiterates her willingness to pay for the ship and accepts a proposal first advanced by the United States—that the amount of damages be fixed by two experts, one to be selected by each country.

Such a sum the German government pledges itself to pay promptly, with the stipulation, however, that the payment shall not be viewed as a satisfaction for violation of American rights. Should that method be unsatisfactory, Germany invites the United States to arbitration at The Hague.

The unofficial view here is that repatriation by a commission of experts probably will be satisfactory to the United States with the express provision, however, that it is not a waiver of treaty rights for which the United States contends, but applies only to the matter of damages.

The entire dispute revolves about the treaty of 1828, which the United States contends specifically protected the William P. Frye from being sunk, although it did not protect a contraband cargo. Germany takes an opposite view, holding that the article only obliges her to pay damages.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR BOAT

Dangerous Explosives Are Discovered Aboard White Star Liner Arabic in Nick of Time.

New York.—The great trans-Atlantic liner Arabic, owned by the White Star Company, has had a narrow escape from serious accident and perhaps destruction at sea, as the result of the discovery of dynamite concealed aboard the steamer before she sailed from this port for Liverpool July 28.

The explosive, in such a state of deterioration that the slightest jar would have exploded it, according to experts, was discovered by a stewardess on board the liner. It was carefully concealed between the hot and cold water pipes. The explosive was wrapped in newspapers.

The steamer sailed with more than 10,000 tons of cargo, almost all of which was war supplies, and 188 passengers, among them 12 Americans.

Riga Deserted. Petrograd.—The archbishop of Riga held the last service at the Riga Cathedral Aug. 5, and with the consistory left the capital of the Baltic provinces.

Three Children Cremated. Delavan, Wis.—Three children were burned to death, eight cottages were destroyed and three dynamited to save others in a fire at Lake Delavan, a resort near here, early on the morning of Aug. 5. Because of cold weather, grate fires have been lighted in the cottages for several nights.

RANGERS BATTLE BORDER BANDITS

MEXICAN OUTLAWS MAKE TWO ATTACKS AGAINST TEXAS RANCH HOUSE.

FIVE AMERICANS WOUNDED

Several Mexicans Believed to Have Met Death in Charge.—United States Soldiers Hurried to Relieve Situation.

Harlingen, Tex.—Five American ranchmen were wounded, two seriously, and several Mexican outlaws reported killed and wounded in a fight between Texas Rangers and American ranchers and a band of Mexican bandits at Norias ranch, 10 miles north of Lyford, Cameron county, Texas, on the night of August 8, according to a telephone message received here from Norias.

The number of casualties to the Mexicans, it was said, could not be ascertained owing to darkness. The outlaws, estimated to number between 30 and 50, attacked the Norias ranch houses shortly before dark. Fourteen ranchmen barricaded themselves in the house and defended the place until 10 o'clock, when the message said, the Mexicans withdrew temporarily. Shortly after the bandits had withdrawn sixteen Texas Rangers and armed civilians arrived.

At 10:30 o'clock the report says the Mexicans returned and again charged the house and were met by a volley of shots from the Rangers and several of the Mexicans were killed, the number not being known. The Mexicans apparently were unaware of the arrival of the Rangers and armed citizens and again withdrew.

A special train left Harlingen carrying 35 United States soldiers and 12 armed civilians to reinforce the Americans on the Norias ranch.

Speaker Champ Clark is for peace, but not for peace at any price. On the contrary, he is a firm believer in adequate provision for defense. This, in his opinion, does not require a large standing army, or "a navy equal to the two biggest navies in the world." Here is his program, as outlined in the discussion inspired by the reception of the liberty bell at San Francisco:

"I am in favor of doubling the number of cadets at West Point and of making it obligatory upon the secretary of war to detail an army officer to any school, college or university which will furnish a minimum of two hundred students to drill. In that way and at the least possible cost we could in a few years have enough drilled men to officer a volunteer army of a million soldiers, if need be. In fact, there would be wisdom in a scheme by which in addition to the cadets by which the government at West Point and Annapolis, any boy possessing the prescribed qualifications might on reasonable terms be educated at those two great institutions."

He went on to declare also in favor of a "well-equipped national guard to be used for strictly national purposes," and he concluded:

"It seems that if little Switzerland can mobilize in a few days an army of half a million well-drilled men by means of her system of military education and discipline—the cheapest system known among men and sufficiently effective—we could by such application of her system as fits our case in a year or two be able to mobilize an army of two millions of well-disciplined men at a cost which to us would be a mere bagatelle—which would be a most effective insurance for this country and all her citizens and their interests."

This is a moderate program that will suit moderate men.—Evening Wisconsin.

Securing Foreign Trade. England and Germany, particularly the latter, understand perfectly how much commerce depends on knowing the foreign customer's language. The United States, content for a long time with the vast home market carefully secured by outrageous tariffs, has done nothing to develop a foreign sales force. It is a defect which will have to be remedied if this country is going to get its rightful share of the world's business.

Sad Blow. It is a sad blow to the Republicans that the income tax is likely to yield $10,000,000 more than the estimates.—Philadelphia Record.

Takes Time for Business. If Mr. Wilson were like some other presidents he would have to put in a large share of his time riding around the country and shaking hands and only in the off moments would he have opportunity to consider serious problems.

Not Really Suffering. The income tax has been roundly denounced by its half-million victims, but a taxable income is a comfortable thing, and the sufferers ought to be the happy half million.

Miss Julia May's Candles.

It was Miss Julia May's birthday, and in honor of the occasion a cake had been baked to be decorated with candles, one candle for each anniversary. Dinner was being delayed and Miss Julia May called to Aunt Piney: "What is holding dinner, Aunt Piney?"

Aunt Piney's answer called for no further explanation: "Lafayette, honey, is you forgot how many of these candles dey is to light?"—Nashville Banner.

What Holds a Man.

Good men are attracted and held not alone by salaries, but by the conditions under which they work. The efficiency of the board of water supply force compares favorably with any large public or private engineering organization. This board has been noted also for its esprit de corps and enthusiasm for its work. These desirable qualities, the report states, were obtained by selecting the most suitable available men for the leading positions, giving great weight not only to technical fitness, but also to those personal qualifications which cannot be learned or rated by examinations.

Too Sour. Professor Copeland of Harvard, as the story goes, reproved his students for coming late to class.

"This is a class in English composition," he remarked with sarcasm, "not an afternoon tea."

At the next meeting one girl was 20 minutes late. Professor Copeland waited until she had taken her seat. Then he remarked bitterly:

"How will you have your tea, Miss Brown?"

"Without the lemon, please," Miss Brown answered quite gently.—Christian Register.

Just So.

"Dad, what is meant by carrying coals to Newcastle?"

"It's a figure of speech, my boy. Like trying to tell something to a graduating class that they don't know."

NO IDEA

What Caused the Trouble.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for I seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table."

"I had been troubled for some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily."

"Sometimes it would beat fast, and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast—and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain."

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am glad to say that I am now entirely free from heart trouble and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum."

"A number of my friends have abandoned coffee and have taken up Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if made according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 20c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. "There's a Reason" for Postum.—Sold by Grocers.

MISSIONARIES IN ANNUAL MEETING

Paris, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The business session of the district meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Paris district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, convened at 9:30 o'clock this morning with devotional exercises by Rev. L. D. Hamilton, presiding elder of the Paris district of the Methodist conference, to which institution the society in session is a forceful auxiliary for good.

Mrs. T. B. King, of Memphis, who has the distinction of being the president of the Woman's Missionary Society of the entire Memphis conference work, took the chair and organized the body into the district meeting.

The reports showed marked improvements over former annual meetings of these societies. All but three or four of the 68 societies sent messengers bearing their reports, and these few sent in their reports by mail to the district secretary, Mrs. Dobbins.

There is a campaign on over Southern Methodism in these societies for an increase of membership, and to organize unorganized churches.

The platform committee introduced Mrs. Warner Moore as one of the pioneer members of the Paris society. Mrs. Moore, who is the widow of that eminent Methodist divine, Rev. Warner Moore, and who is waiting to join him across the river, spoke with much feeling of her fifty years' work in the society.

Mrs. Dobbins, the district secretary, spoke of the growing interest throughout the district, and the hopeful, bright prospects in all of the societies.

The program was interspersed by songs and comments by the president. This brought the services up to the noon devotionals, which were conducted by the pastor, Dr. Waterfield. Mrs. S. E. Cozatt of the entertainment committee announced that dinner was served in the dining room in the basement, where there was an elaborate spread for all, both delegates and visitors.

Miss Phipps took the chair for the president in the afternoon. The first thing on the program was the memorial services for the dead members and honorary members who had died during the past year. There were only three, Rev. H. Witt, of McKenzie, and Mesdames Lizzie Scott and J. L. Lemonds, of Paris.

Mrs. J. A. Robbins, of McKenzie, held an institute on Mission Study: Mrs. L. D. Hamilton, of Paris, one of Mission Literature; Mrs. C. A. Waterfield, of Paris, one of Social Service; R. H. Phipps, of Fulton, Ky., and Mrs. O. J. Jennings, of Murray, Ky., on Young People's Work. The last institute was by Mrs. T. B. King, of Memphis, and Mrs. J. D. Sexton, of Murray, Ky., on Children's Work. This concluded the afternoon work and the evening was devoted to two addresses, one by Mrs. T. B. King, president of the missionary societies of Memphis, and Mrs. R. N. Phipps, secretary of the societies of Fulton, Ky. These lectures were heard by crowded houses.

The meeting adjourned Wednesday evening to meet with the Murray Methodist church in 1916.

Purse, Notes and Money.

Mrs. George Oakly, of near Golden Pond, carries the mail from that place down to Emery and Bleidt, and last Friday she returned from her usual trip about noon and left her purse lying on a bed in one of the front rooms. Soon after the family went into the dining room to dinner, and when they returned the purse was gone, and not being able to locate it they telephoned Deputy Sheriff Charley Humphries, at this place, and he left at once, reaching their home Friday night after dark. Taking a light, he made a thorough inspection of the premises and found where some one had come in back of the place, through the garden, into a window leading into the cellar and on up through the cellar into the house, and was evidently in the cellar watching Mrs. Oakly through the window when she came into the house. After securing the purse they also left the house through the cellar.

Suspicion was soon centered upon a certain citizen of the neighborhood and Mr. Humphries went to him that night and talked to him, and the next morning when Mr. Oakly's family arose they found the purse and most of its contents on the front porch. The purse, when stolen, contained $1,000 in notes, $60 in due bills and over $100 in money, and when returned it contained all the notes and due bills, and $56.59 in money. No arrests have yet been made.—Cadiz Record.

Poultry Parasites.

You keep the chicken house clean to keep the parasites off the chickens. You spray to kill germs—but what do you do to get the germs and parasites inside the chickens? Hens especially show it at molting time and during the winter. How can you expect them to lay? Free them of all internal parasites by feeding B. A. Thomas Poultry Powder occasionally. If it doesn't make your hens happy, we will return your money.—Sold by Sexton Bros.

Golden Pond Store Robbed.

The large mercantile store of J. D. Gatlin & Co., at Golden Pond, was entered last Sunday night and about $8 in nickels and pennies were stolen. Entrance was gained by prizing open a window.

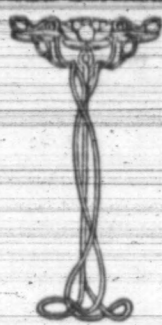

Deputy Sheriff Charlie Humphries was telephoned early Monday morning and at once went to Golden Pond. Mr. W. W. Wiseheart, of Paris, Tenn., was also telephoned for and reached Golden Pond about noon with his blood hounds. They soon took a trail, which led to the arrest of three young men, but as no other evidence could be secured at that time, they were released from custody, and no further arrests have yet been made.—Cadiz Record.

A TWICE TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Murray man is confirmed after three years: J. A. Ellison, Murray, says: "I suffered for a long time from a lame back and often was hardly able to stoop. The trouble was worse when I got up in the morning. In fact, I was hardly able to get out of bed. I took a great many medicines, but had no benefit until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Before I had finished two boxes, I was feeling like a different man, all symptoms of the trouble had gone." (Statement given in Feb., 1908.) Over three years later Mr. Ellison said: "I have had no occasion to use any kidney medicine since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Large Tobacco Warehouse Burned.

The large tobacco prize and storage house owned by Eugene Tarry and located just north of the depot at Dexter, was destroyed by fire last Friday night together with about one hundred hogheads of association tobacco that had been stored in the house since the past year. The fire which was of unknown origin, was under such great heatway when discovered that it was absolutely impossible to remove any of the contents. The building and tobacco were partially covered by insurance.

What makes a calf scrawny—off its feed? Germs—parasites—in the intestines. Why not free them of this trouble? If you give the calf some of the B. A. Costs you but a few cents and we will refund that if it doesn't do as we say.—Sexton Bros.

Elkins, New Mexico.

I presume a few friends in old Calloway might be interested in knowing where I am and what I am doing.

Cullie and myself recently purchased a ranch and are now engaged in the cattle business. We are located 45 miles north of Roswell and 20 miles northwest of Elkins, the latter being our nearest trading point. Cullie is still holding down his same old job while I am holding down the ranch. But it's pretty lonesome job by the way, and especially to a fellow who has been hanging around where there was lots of company.

Neighbors in this part of the country are few and far between, but I like the job fine. When I get real lonesome I get on one of my saddle ponies and ride out through my cattle, and I do that quite often for that is about all I have to do, especially at this time of the year.

Speaking about being lonesome, I remember very well the first night I stayed in my shack, for I was all alone. I decided in the early part of the night that all the coyotes in the country had found out that there was a tenderfoot at the Cave shacks in the Crockett draw and had arranged for a special meeting real close in, which they had, and howling, they did some of it. It seemed to me that the Hoo Owls had found out the same thing and they also drew in very near, propounding the "Hoo, Hoo, Hoo are you," to me and by this time I was both pretty mad and pretty scared, and I said to the outfit, "I am from Kentucky and came here to stay" and since that time I have had no trouble. I didn't tell them what county I was from—but I presume they had an idea that I was from Breathitt, because they have been mighty nice to me ever since.

Talk about eating. Now, it would be a pleasure to some of you long, lean, hungry looking fellows back in old Calloway to watch a cow-puncher eat, and we have lots to eat. But a cow-puncher's special dish is "free holie bean," and if you will give him plenty of them, lots of sour dough biscuits and black coffee he can get in the branding pen and flank calves all day. All he wants is some fellow to rope for him and he will put Mr. Calf on the ground, and you can hear him yell a half mile, "bring on the hot steel."

In regard to this "free holie bean" will say that it is a native product and the Mexicans call it "free holie," but it is about as well known as the "cow puncher's delight."

For fear that space will be in greater demand for news of more importance I had better ring off for this time. If a lot of you fellows who know me and claim to be my friends and can get the time I would appreciate a letter from you. Put a fellow out like this and he is glad to get hold of a newspaper, even the Ledger or Hogwallow-Kentuckian, either of these seem like a letter from home to him.

With best regards to the editor and the readers of the Ledger, I am
Yours truly,
J. H. STEELE.

Prominent Citizen a Suicide.

Clarence Story, who lived a few miles west of Murray and just north of West Fork church, and one of the most widely known citizens of that section of the county, committed suicide last Sunday evening at about 6 o'clock by shooting himself with a shotgun. Mr. Story had been in ill health for the past several months and this is the only reason assigned for the terrible deed. He was a son of Mr. S. J. Story and his wife is a daughter of Mr. Bud Rogers. He is survived by a wife and four children. He was about 43 years of age.

Mr. Story was alone in the house at the time and evidently placed the muzzle of the gun against his throat and discharged the weapon. The lead penetrated the neck and death was instantaneous.

A WORD PERSONAL.

We find that a number of small accounts are due us for advertising and job work done the past year, and it is our purpose to make strenuous effort to collect these accounts during the next few weeks. We hope that every friend will make the same endeavor to pay us when presented with his small account. Hal Jennings and O. J. Jennings, Jr., will come to see you and we ask you to help them and help the "old man" get them through college another year. We are going to try and cram something into their heads instead of their pockets, believing that an investment in brains is a better asset than a legacy of a few dollars. We will thank you for a prompt settlement, and we know the boys will appreciate it and treat you with courtesy.

We thank you for your patronage, and when you need publicity or printing of any character come and see us.
Yours truly,
O. J. JENNINGS.

Those in the car were Mrs. J. E. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hunt, Lindsay Hale and the chauffeur. The cause of the car overturning was due to a sharp turn made by the driver. Robt. and Dan Clayton returned the past week from a visit to her bedside and also to see their brother, W. A. Clayton, who is also ill of cancer.

The splendid rains throughout the county the past week insure the maturity of the early corn crop of Calloway, and we understand that hundreds of farmers are already buying thousands of rails for the purpose of building pens around their fields, realizing that they will be unable to house their crops in any other manner. Late corn is leaping from the ground and tobacco is advancing splendidly. In every respect the prospects are for the largest crops grown in the county in many years.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamlike sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bower, Bloomfield, N. J.

Here's a Sentence.

There was the savor, the desideratum, the force and quantity that we have been talking of—a savor immense and extraordinary, in relation to which the muddledness that I have called subjective came directly from the fact that it is not, like the savor to which I just paid tribute, "established," administered after the fashion of previous things in general, isn't perhaps in any degree the result of what passes in other societies for preparation, it grows wild, and I had doubtless partaken of it crude—with the marvelous effect of its not disagreeing with me.—The Sun.

COAL PRODUCTION OF STATE LARGE

PIKE COUNTY LEADS ALL OTHERS IN NUMBER OF TONS PRODUCED DURING LAST YEAR.

OUTPUT WAS 20,168,150 TONS

Official Report Large Increase Over Previous Years—New Law Calls For Three Inspections a Year.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort, Ky.—It cost a human life for every 330,625 tons of coal mined in 1914, or 3.02 for every million tons, and 199 deaths occurred among each 1,000 men employed in the industry, according to the annual report of the State Mine Inspector C. J. Norwood. Fifty-three fatalities occasioned by forty-eight accidents within forty-one mines is the record for the year, eleven more than in 1913 or 1912, and while the number of fatalities to the tonnage of production is less than for those years, Prof. Norwood said the serious phase of the situation is that the numerical increase is due to accidents connected with non-observance of rules in regard to riding motors and mine cars, and the use of explosives, accidents the reduction of which must be accomplished through the personal attitude of the miners themselves. Inspector Norwood says that if the three inspections a year required by law are to be made, he must have three more inspectors, as it is a physical impossibility for them to get around. In fact, he says, some mines should be inspected as many as five times a year, and with the present force he is compelled to exercise discretion in deciding which mines can with most safety be inspected fewer than three times annually.

While 99 per cent of the coal production of Kentucky in 1914 came from twenty-five counties, and commercial operations were conducted in only twenty-nine counties, adequate transportation facilities would make commercial production profitable in forty-four counties, fourteen in the Western field and thirty in the Eastern. The total output of coal for 1914 was 20,168,150 short tons, 743,968 more than in 1913. The Western field produced 7,794,807 short tons; the Southeastern 6,137,824 and the Northeastern 6,235,519. Pike county led in production, going up from fourth place and exchanging with Muhlenberg, which led in 1913.

Would Take Job at $4,000.

Kentucky has an opportunity to secure the services of Col. L. M. Maus, United States Army Medical Corps, retired, as secretary of the tuberculosis commission. Col. Maus was second in command in the sanitary department in the Panama canal zone, and is given credit for cleaning up Manila, as well as participating in the work in Havana. His practical administration has been coupled with research work. He discovered the active agency of rodents in spreading bubonic plague and conducted in Manila the greatest rat hunt the world has ever known, destroying more than a million by actual count. The cockroach, the flea, the mosquito, the fly and other insects have been suspected by him and proven guilty in the laboratory of conveying germs. His department rid Manila of, and practically all of the Philippines, of smallpox, a disease that had numbered its victims by the thousands every year, and his vaccination crusade made history, both by its effectiveness and by the executive management shown in corralling and subjecting to the operation hundreds of thousands of superstitious natives. The metropolis of the archipelago was teeming constantly with all the forms of contagions that infest the tropics, as well as every section of the earth, where sanitation is not observed, and Dr. Maus did pioneer work in the study of causes and the adoption of drastic preventative methods.

Freed From Quarantine.

The entire State of Kentucky is now freed from quarantine for foot and mouth disease, the order releasing it taking effect last week. In the Bourbon Stock Yards at Louisville, however, the management has arranged to limit the handling of animals intended for feeding, stocking and dairy purposes to the new sheep and cattle division in which no infection has existed.

Planning to Entertain Bankers. Local plans for the entertainment of the State Bankers' Association, which will meet here in October, have been started and a committee, of which J. B. Blanton is chairman, with J. Swigert Taylor and E. B. Weitzel, was appointed to take charge of arrangements.

Report on Coal Fields.

J. B. Hasing, state geologist, completed his report to the state geological survey of the history of the coal fields of the Nortonville Quadrangle, Drakesboro Quadrangle, Dismor Quadrangle, and the Little Muddy Quadrangle. The location, topography, drainage, culture and geology of the coals of Western Kentucky are contained in these four groups. He says that bituminous, Mississippi, Pennsylvanian, post-carboniferous, cenozoic, tertiary and quaternary periods. The report also gives the faults of Western Kentucky fields.

An End to Illiteracy.

The speaking campaign of the Kentucky illiteracy commission covered 25 counties during July, and will be waged with increasing vigor during August. Reports coming in to the commission show remarkable results following the efforts of these speakers. Senator H. M. Brock, of Harlan, has the honor of having opened the campaign. His speech on July 5 to a record-breaking crowd in Harlan, Perry county, announced the fact that the ball had opened and would not close until the gospel of moonlight schools to cure adult illiteracy was preached in each of the 120 counties of the state. Senator Brock pleaded for the mountains of Kentucky to support and lead in the movement which had originated in that section. A fine organization was effected there as a result of his earnest efforts. W. J. Vaughn, field worker of the Kentucky Sunday-school association, and Miss Frances Grant Haverlo, head of the domestic science department of Eastern Kentucky State Normal school, preached moonlight schools in Monticello to a great crowd of teachers and citizens at Monticello, Wayne county, on July 9. Fifty-three teachers volunteered to teach moonlight schools.

Commissioners Grant Paroles.

The State Board of Prison Commissioners recently paroled John Martin, Webster county, two to twenty-one years, for manslaughter; Harry Banks, Graves county, two to ten years for forgery; Marvin Johnson, Muhlenberg county, two to ten years for robbery; Jones Simpson, Garrard county, who has served eight years of a twenty-one year sentence for manslaughter; Will Woolfolk, of Louisville, who has been in prison since 1905 for killing John Hall in a fight at Clay and Market streets; John Laffoon, Madison county, who has served thirteen years of a twenty-one year sentence for manslaughter, and George Sims, a Louisville negro, who killed Emanuel Edley in 1910 and was sentenced to serve twenty-one years.

Wage War on Locusts.

The locust bore has been discovered at work in the state tree nursery at Louisville, and State Forester J. E. Barton and State Entomologist J. H. Garman are engaged in an effort to stop its ravages. This pest has been under observation in locust groves in Kentucky and other states for more than a year. State Forester Barton said that all the bees are doing well with the exception of those attacked by the locust bore and this fall there will be a stock of black locust, black walnut, silver maple, catalpa, chestnut and a few other varieties of seedlings for distribution. A limited supply of red oak, black walnut and chestnut seedlings will be available in the Frankfort nursery also.

Is Now Part of L. & N.

The Kentucky Highlands railroad passed away as a separate entity when the final documents transferring its ownership to the Louisville and Nashville were filed in the office of County Clerk Crawford Lee. The road, now becomes a part of the Louisville & Atlantic division, the headquarters of which are in Richmond, but there probably will be no changes as far as the public is concerned in its operation. It has been practically part of the L. & N. system for a long time. P. F. Manning, who has been president of the Highlands as well as general manager of the Frankfort & Cincinnati, retires as the Highlands' president, but continues in charge of the F. & C.

Health Survey in Bell County.

The health survey of Bell county has developed 51 cases of trachoma among school-children in less than one-third of the schools. In three schools with 243 pupils 14 acute cases were found. The survey also has developed among the school children 25 cases of tuberculosis and 30 cases of pellagra, according to the report made to the Kentucky tuberculosis commission. Mrs. Martin Sager is assisting County Health Officer J. B. Foley in the work. This is the first county to undertake a complete survey and an effort to eradicate these diseases. Miss Marian Williams has been engaged as visiting nurse in Muhlenberg county, the county to which she is assigned.

Dove Season Opens.

Thirty-nine hunters' licenses have been taken out for the dove season, which has recently opened in Kentucky and will continue until February. The number of licenses issued in the state will not be known by the Game and Fish Commission until the county clerks report in September. J. Q. Ward, Executive Agent for the commission, has sent his wardens into the field with assistants in each county they visit, to protect the birds from hunters before the season opens and to arrest all unlicensed hunters.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once children there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Danger in Delay

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. It is the best recommended special kidney remedy.

A Mississippi Case

Mrs. Anne Hanley, "Terry Teller's Star" 132 S. Gallatin St., Jackson, Miss., says: "I was all doubled up with pains in my back and they kept getting worse. The kidney secretions became unnatural and I lost weight. After three weeks' treatment in the hospital, I came home no better than when I went. On a friend's advice I used Doan's Kidney Pills, and in a week I was able to sit up. I kept on taking them and in a month they restored me to good health."

In the PUBLIC EYE

YOUNG MAN HAS OLD JOB

One of the youngest officials of the Wilson administration is at the head of the oldest scientific department of the government, and his appointment was not the result of luck, accident or political influence, but the recognition of remarkable qualifications which fitted him for the position.

It was on the fifteenth of April, the day following his thirty-ninth birthday, that Dr. E. Lester Jones became superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, the service which, according to Secretary Redfield, "deals first with humanity and second with commerce."

Perhaps no one in the survey, no matter how long he has been in the service, has spent more of his life in the open than has Doctor Jones. Indeed, it would seem, that by environment, training, education and temperament, he had been qualifying for the superintendency of the coast and geodetic survey all his life. He was born in Orange, N. J., and as a small boy was the companion of his father, himself a scientist and a student of nature.

Doctor Jones was educated at Princeton and Heidelberg; in Germany he hunted, fished and studied in the Black forest and specialized in zoology. For five years he was connected with the New Jersey fish and game commission, and his first service in the national government was as deputy commissioner of the bureau of fisheries.

BRUCE ISMAY, RECLUSE

There is one man in the British Isles, at least, to whom the memories of the Titanic disaster are a dread and ever present reality. That man is Bruce Ismay. He was managing director of the White-Star line at the time of the Titanic disaster, and was among those saved when the liner sank.

He has voluntarily withdrawn himself into almost complete seclusion. He is a tragic figure whom care and premature age have marked for their own. A great part of the year he passes, oftentimes alone, in Costelloe, one of the most remote, most unfrequented and desolate spots on the west coast of Ireland. Here his sole employment is fishing for days and weeks on end, occasionally with a friend, or perhaps two, but for the greater part of his time accompanied only by his servant.

Ismay is very popular among the cottagers around. He found them sympathetic and friendly, and he has given them employment in many ways in connection with the fishing and his lodge. In fact, whatever drove Bruce Ismay to this remote, inhospitable shore, it was a blessing in disguise to those poor people, and they appreciate his presence very keenly. They don't care whether or not his escape from the Titanic aroused a storm of criticism; for that matter they take no stock in the Titanic story anyway.

WORKING HIS WAY UP

At the 1915 commencement exercises of Columbia university Ensign Louis Randolph Ford, U. S. N., received the degree of master of arts. That was only one incident in the determined fight this young naval officer is making to achieve his childhood ambitions, which ambitions, it may well be, do not stop short of the insignia of rear admiral.

As a barefooted lad in Texas, where he was born thirty-two years ago, Louis Ford made up his mind to enter the navy, but his parents were not able to send him to college and the influence to obtain an appointment to the naval academy was lacking. So at the age of fourteen Louis went to work on a Sabine river tugboat, and three years later became an apprentice in a machine shop. In two years more he was a full-fledged machinist and enlisted as such in the navy. Starting in at Mare Island, he worked his way steadily up to the rank of chief machinist, and in 1912 he took the examination for an ensign's commission, passing with the highest marks ever made by a warrant officer. Service on various vessels was followed by a post-graduate course at Annapolis, which included radio engineering, structural engineering, naval construction, ordnance and gunnery. Then came the welcome order to enter Columbia, where, as one of the professors said, he "worked his head off." Ford is now attached to the New York navy yard and eventually will devote himself to the designing of all sorts of naval machinery and the organization of the shops in the yards.

KENT TELLS A NOME STORY

Representative William Kent of California has many quaint tales of the north country. One of them deals with the early days in the Nome region, when gold was plentiful and everything else was decidedly scarce. One of the residents, the story runs, wandered into a rough, ready-made saloon and beheld four bewhiskered, rough-looking individuals.

They were deeply dejected. They sat far back in their chairs, hands in pockets. Occasionally one of them sighed or swore. In front of them were stacks of chips representing several thousand dollars in gold.

"What's the matter?" asked the visitor.

"This here poker game is busted up!" was the reply.

"Busted up?" repeated the visitor, in astonishment.

"Why, you're got enough money there to play for a week!"

"Yep, stranger," agreed the bewhiskered man, moodily, "we got that, but somebody's lost all the aces and two jacks in the deck!" and resumed his stare at the useless chips.

I Guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tonic" Will Give You the Best Liver and Bowel Cleansing You Ever Had—Don't Lose a Day's Work!

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver.

HAD TO HAVE TIME TO EAT

Regular Meals Were Necessary After the Slight Repasts Incident to Business Hours.

A tall, slim young man entered the office of the Globe Museum and Family theater and asked for the manager.

"What can I do for you?" inquired a portly man in a check suit.

"I want an engagement as a freak."

"Who are you?"

"I am Enoch, the Egg King."

"What is your specialty?"

"I eat three dozen hen eggs, two dozen duck eggs, and one dozen geese eggs at a single sitting."

"I suppose you know our policy?"

"What's that?"

"We give four shows a day."

"I understand that."

"And do you think you can do it?"

"I know I can."

"On Saturdays we often give as many as six shows."

"All right."

"And on some holidays we give a performance every hour."

The young man hesitated.

"In the case," he finally said, "I must have one thing understood before I sign a contract."

"What that?" asked the manager.

"No matter how rushing business is at the museum," the egg king replied, "you must give me time enough to eat my regular meals at the hotel."

HOUSE HELP AND THE WAR

So Many People Are Staying Home That It Is Hard to Get Good Servants.

"Well," snapped a New York lady as she came out of an intelligence office, "I don't think the war in Europe would make any difference to me in my daily affairs, as I don't run over to the other side every few weeks as some do, and miss it ever so much when they don't, but I am learning that it is really a great inconvenience."

"You know usually in summer good servants are not nearly so hard to get, but now so many people are staying home and keeping their servants that it is almost impossible to get a good one."

One agent I saw yesterday told me she had had 12 calls in the morning from ladies who wanted house help of one kind or another and she had absolutely nothing to offer. I understand that 200,000 people will not be going abroad this year and every one of them, or their families, are exhausting the summer servant supply. I always did think war was dreadful, and now I think it is worse than ever."

RICHES LIE IN OURSELVES

What the Man Is, Not What He Has: Makes Him Wealthy or Poor.

In my own life, as I wander farther and farther along the vagabond trail in search of truth and beauty, I find it easier and easier to find contentment without the riches of the world. Leave me imagination, and I shall still be rich; but give me all the wealth of the world and take from me the imagination and you will plunge me deep into a bottomless hell of indescribable misery.

We cannot own things without being owned by them. Thoreau understood this. His life was so successful that Emerson wrote of him, "Wherever there is beauty, he will find a home. I cannot live Thoreau's life. But I can live my own."

"In the transmission of heavenly waters," says Emerson, "every house fits its hydrant."—Thomas Drier, in the Nautilus.

A Modern "Zigzag" Journey

That once famous series of books, the "Zigzag Journeys," should be brought up to date by including a chapter on women who drive electric cars.—Chicago News.

To die for a woman may be an act of bravery; but the man who leads her to the marriage altar and agrees to earn a living for her is a real hero.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations, Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, and you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

and geodetic survey all his life. He was born in Orange, N. J., and as a small boy was the companion of his father, himself a scientist and a student of nature.

Doctor Jones was educated at Princeton and Heidelberg; in Germany he hunted, fished and studied in the Black forest and specialized in zoology. For five years he was connected with the New Jersey fish and game commission, and his first service in the national government was as deputy commissioner of the bureau of fisheries.

There is one man in the British Isles, at least, to whom the memories of the Titanic disaster are a dread and ever present reality. That man is Bruce Ismay. He was managing director of the White-Star line at the time of the Titanic disaster, and was among those saved when the liner sank.

He has voluntarily withdrawn himself into almost complete seclusion. He is a tragic figure whom care and premature age have marked for their own. A great part of the year he passes, oftentimes alone, in Costelloe, one of the most remote, most unfrequented and desolate spots on the west coast of Ireland. Here his sole employment is fishing for days and weeks on end, occasionally with a friend, or perhaps two, but for the greater part of his time accompanied only by his servant.

Ismay is very popular among the cottagers around. He found them sympathetic and friendly, and he has given them employment in many ways in connection with the fishing and his lodge. In fact, whatever drove Bruce Ismay to this remote, inhospitable shore, it was a blessing in disguise to those poor people, and they appreciate his presence very keenly. They don't care whether or not his escape from the Titanic aroused a storm of criticism; for that matter they take no stock in the Titanic story anyway.

At the 1915 commencement exercises of Columbia university Ensign Louis Randolph Ford, U. S. N., received the degree of master of arts. That was only one incident in the determined fight this young naval officer is making to achieve his childhood ambitions, which ambitions, it may well be, do not stop short of the insignia of rear admiral.

As a barefooted lad in Texas, where he was born thirty-two years ago, Louis Ford made up his mind to enter the navy, but his parents were not able to send him to college and the influence to obtain an appointment to the naval academy was lacking. So at the age of fourteen Louis went to work on a Sabine river tugboat, and three years later became an apprentice in a machine shop. In two years more he was a full-fledged machinist and enlisted as such in the navy. Starting in at Mare Island, he worked his way steadily up to the rank of chief machinist, and in 1912 he took the examination for an ensign's commission, passing with the highest marks ever made by a warrant officer. Service on various vessels was followed by a post-graduate course at Annapolis, which included radio engineering, structural engineering, naval construction, ordnance and gunnery. Then came the welcome order to enter Columbia, where, as one of the professors said, he "worked his head off." Ford is now attached to the New York navy yard and eventually will devote himself to the designing of all sorts of naval machinery and the organization of the shops in the yards.

Representative William Kent of California has many quaint tales of the north country. One of them deals with the early days in the Nome region, when gold was plentiful and everything else was decidedly scarce. One of the residents, the story runs, wandered into a rough, ready-made saloon and beheld four bewhiskered, rough-looking individuals.

They were deeply dejected. They sat far back in their chairs, hands in pockets. Occasionally one of them sighed or swore. In front of them were stacks of chips representing several thousand dollars in gold.

"What's the matter?" asked the visitor.

"This here poker game is busted up!" was the reply.

"Busted up?" repeated the visitor, in astonishment.

"Why, you're got enough money there to play for a week!"

"Yep, stranger," agreed the bewhiskered man, moodily, "we got that, but somebody's lost all the aces and two jacks in the deck!" and resumed his stare at the useless chips.

Centralization of population in great cities at the expense of town community development threatens the prosperity of future America. This was the warning sounded at the recent banker-farmer conference at Hotel La Salle, Chicago, by J. R. Moorehead, of Kansas City, Mo., secretary of the Southwestern Lumbermen's Association.

"Back to the town," said Mr. Moorehead, "if you would sustain the price of farm lands; avoid future evils growing out of child labor, strikes, poverty and the high cost of living in our great cities; if you would solve your moral, social, economic and political problems; if you desire to keep thousands of young boys and girls in the right paths and permit them to grow up as independent and self-sustaining business men and women; if you would save our cities from themselves and from their ever increasing and unsolved problems; if you really want to prevent further centralization of business, distribute wealth, and cure the nation of its many ills."

In nine of the leading states of the Union—Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, New York, Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania—6,956 towns have lost population, notwithstanding the fact that the population of the entire country increased 21 per cent in the last decade, Mr. Moorehead said.

"What does this mean to you and to me and to all the 40,000,000 people living in these towns?" Mr. Moorehead continued. "I mean, first, a continued loss of business; it means depreciation of property values in these towns; it means a depreciation of farm land values, for the better the town the higher the farm land value because of its proximity to the town; it means less deposits in your banks; it means that you will have less money to lend the farmer and business man; it means the boys are not going to stay in the towns; it means that the boy is not going to stay on the farm unless the town affords some attraction.

"The boy must have companionship. You must provide him with means of recreation and amusement. If he longs for outdoor sports in summer and bowling, billiards, roller skating or indoor baseball, or even dancing under proper restrictions, as winter pastimes, see that he gets them.

"Give him commercial opportunities at home. Educate your country town merchants in advertising. Show them the value of their home town papers. These are the cheapest and best advertising mediums in the world. Teach both the editor of the weekly newspaper and the merchants how to copy the display advertisements of the big stores of the city. Show them the necessity of the up to date methods of quoting prices in plain figures. That will enable them to hold their own in getting their share of the business. It will improve the business of the country town, and will give the boy and the girl a chance at home. That will help to settle the whole question."

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended for this purpose. 25c at all drug stores.

GREATEST CROP EVER PRODUCED

Washington, Aug. 9.—Three billion bushels of corn, billion and half bushels of oats and one billion bushels of wheat is the prospect for this year's American harvest. Record crops of rye, white and sweet potatoes, tobacco, rice and hay are also predicted for the prosperous farmers who have planted three hundred and ten million five hundred and forty-six thousand acres more than last year, to their principal products. The wheat crop, the greatest grown in the history of any country, will be worth more than a billion dollars, while the corn crop value may reach two and a half billions. The estimates of all the principal crops, announced today by the department of agriculture are based on the conditions on August 1, which shows all crops to be greater than last year. Interest was centered on wheat and corn and both showed an improvement over July conditions, though excessive rains and cold weather in the central states interfered with wheat threshing. Oats also suffered in those states but in other sections the improvement more than offset this.

RESOLUTIONS BY THE INSTITUTE.

Before adjourning last Friday the following resolutions were adopted by the Calloway County Teachers Institute:

- 1st. That Calloway county schools shall be based upon Calloway county conditions; that we build our ideals upon the human hearts, heads and bodies of our county.
- 2nd. That we as teachers will do all we possibly can to make the home, the kitchen, the farm and community serve as laboratories for our school.
- 3rd. That we shall try to make the school become the social, cultural and industrial center of the community.
- 4th. That we shall not be afraid to make a trial at leadership; that we will endeavor to become leaders of nerve and vision, who will fully appreciate the opportunities offered us in Calloway county, and will become social and civic pioneers and directors in industrial progress.
- 5th. That we as teachers with a vision will realize our responsibilities in training the child of today for the citizenship of tomorrow, and that we strive to make noble childhood rise in all its glory and become the greater Calloway county, the greater leadership, the greater spiritual and industrial power that will make our county the foremost in the state.
- 6th. That we will, to the best of our ability, follow the course of study as given by our superiors, realizing that they are more capable of judging what the young people of Kentucky need, and that without a uniform basis of work children will be unequally prepared for high school and normal work in the future.
- 7th. That there be suitable supplementary books in the libraries of each school in the county, and especially books for the primary grades and those treating on sanitation, domestic science, manual arts and scientific agriculture.
- 8th. That we are in favor that the teachers in Calloway county shall have by the year 1917 at least a two year high school course or its equivalent in the Western Kentucky State Normal or the State University, and by the year 1919 they shall have at least four years high school training or its equivalent.
- 9th. That we read more professional literature of a nature adopted to the needs of the rural schools, and that we are greatly indebted to Mr. Hutson and Mr. Bailey for placing so select an assortment of school journals conveniently before us.
- 10th. That we, as a body, will do all that is in our power to make the teachers' associations that shall be held the present year the most helpful and instructive that we have ever had, and to this end we must insist that each teacher who is placed on the program respond to the very best of his ability.
- 11th. That we are greatly indebted to the committee on music for their effort to entertain. We especially appreciate the vocal solos by Mrs. Swan, Misses Wear and Edwards, the duet by the Misses Coleman and the piano duet by Misses Owen and Pool.
- 12th. That we thank our noble instructor, Prof. Charles D. Lewis, for his most efficient and effective work done in the institute this week; that we do our utmost to give to our pupils the many useful and usable things he has given us; that we also thank our instructor for his willingness to go into the rural districts and do the many great things we believe he did there; that we are in favor of inviting Dr. Lewis back to our institute

IGNORANCE THE CAUSE OF DEATHS

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 2.—Profligacy, worse than race suicide, in the waste of human life and money, that costs one infant in every twelve born in Kentucky each year, and takes a toll of one out of every seven before they reach school age, is the charge against the commonwealth summed up in the report of the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health for 1914, now in the hands of the state printers.

This is not all; this infant mortality is due—80 per cent of it, the report says—to lack of care and attention to the kind of food and water given them. Diarrhoea carried off in 1914, 1,342 children under 2 years old out of a total of 5,304 cases, while diphtheria and croup accounted for 498 of all ages; scarlet fever for 55; measles, despised ailment of childhood, 277; whooping cough, often treated as a joke, 362, and tuberculosis, grip and bronchial pneumonia claimed their annual percentage of the population.

Typhoid, a filth disease, took down 38,530 persons in Kentucky of whom 1,060 died, as compared to 792 the year before; 998 in 1912 and 994 in 1911. There were 49,080 cases of adult diarrhoea reported, with 2,454 deaths resulting.

Aside from the sorrow and misery occasioned, the financial sacrifice to sloth is estimated in the report at $7,000,000 for the year chargeable for the most part to the lack of sewerage disposal facilities on the farm and in the smaller towns.

Tuberculosis of the lungs, intrenchment in ignorance, holds its own against the efforts of community organization and has to its credit for the year 4,251 deaths, as against 4,116 in 1913, 4,259 in 1912 and 4,625 in 1911. Other forms of tuberculosis practically double the total number of deaths attributable to the stealthy progress of this germ.

Comparative figures make it worse. The death rate in Kentucky from this disease is 201.8 in every 100,000 of population. In the whole United States the death rate is 128.6. So Kentucky loses from tuberculosis annually seventy-three more to the 100,000 of population than the country from all causes.

In every 100 deaths in the state in 1914 preventable diseases caused forty-two and half the sickness reported. It cost the people in round numbers in 1914 just $28,000,000 for their contentment under these conditions, and the report suggests that if the tax rate had to be doubled and redoubled to revolutionize conditions of living money would be saved.

next year.

13th. That we thank our good secretary for her faithfulness and punctuality the entire week.

14th. That we express our heartfelt thanks to our superintendent for her earnestness and ever enthusiastic work; that we stand by her, as we have always done, in any effort she may make for the uplift of the children and the schools of our county.

SPOTS ON SUN; NOTE RESULTS.

If sun spots cause unusual and trying freaks of weather disturbances the public may as well be resigned to prolonged agony, astronomers say.

There are three groups of spots, each large enough to terrorize all the actual and theoretical inhabitants of the solar system.

The largest group, now making for the center of the sun, is serpentine in appearance and can be seen with an opera glass or a smoked piece of common glass.

Sun spots reach their maximum every eleven years, and since meteorological data fails to support the theory that they cause unusual weather conditions, scientists scout that theory.

Just why these spots become so active, numerous and large every eleven years, has mystified astronomers.

Father Martin S. Brennan, astronomer-priest of St. Louis, declares the periodicity is similar to the cause of periodic geysers. It is a case of accumulation of expansion, he says.

"Above the nucleus of the sun—that is, the body we do not see," said Father Brennan, "there is the photosphere, or granular blanket which is presented to our eye; between these gas accumulates for a long period—say, five years—then begins to burst through the photosphere in spots.

"First there are small spots, then large ones, as the gas increases and until the maximum period is reached.

"These spots always appear along the equator because that part of the sun, just like in all other stellar bodies, is swelled and larger in circumference from centrifugal force, the force gathered from its revolution on its axis.

"This being the case and gas being light it uses and presses against the under side of the equator of the photosphere, and when the pressure is strong enough, bursts through. I cannot explain this in a more simple manner.

"I am often asked how the sun spots affect our magnetic poles. The magnetic influences of the sun extend in every direction throughout the planetary system.

"Now, if there is a great explosion on the body of the sun, it naturally would cause vast undulations, which, obviously enough, must disturb the direction of the magnetic fluid flowing constantly from the sun's body.

"While I do not believe sun spots cause unusual weather conditions, I will not say they have no weight in aiding certain conditions. I have failed to relate them with unusual storms or calms."
