

9-9-1915

The Murray Ledger, September 9, 1915

The Murray Ledger

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tml>

Recommended Citation

The Murray Ledger, "The Murray Ledger, September 9, 1915" (1915). The Murray Ledger. 610.
<https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tml/610>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Murray State's Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Murray Ledger by an authorized administrator of Murray State's Digital Commons. For more information, please contact msu.digitalcommons@murraystate.edu.

THE MURRAY LEDGER.

VOL. 57. NO. 14.

MURRAY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1915

$1.00 PER YEAR.

THIRTEEN OF 22 DEAD RECOVERED

Honolulu, Sept. 3.—Ten more bodies were found in the hull of United States submarine F-4 today, crowded in the engine room when a hole was cut through the steel plates to effect an entrance. One body was identified as that of Irvan L. Mahan, machinist's mate, of Lima, O.

Members of the Board of Inquiry declined to discuss the question of whether the finding of so many bodies in the compartment indicated the nature of the accident which caused the vessel to sink in Honolulu Bay March 25 with 22 officers and men aboard.

It was suggested by some of those working on the submarine that an explosion elsewhere in the vessel caused the men to seek refuge in the engine room. So far 13 bodies have been taken from the hold of the submarine. Others, many in fragmentary state and badly decomposed, have been located, covered with wreckage.

NAVAL HONORS FOR DEAD
Honolulu, T. H., Sept. 4.—Naval honors with burial here of the dead of the submarine F-4, whose bodies have been recovered, was planned to night by naval officers. The date of the funeral has not been set.

Search yesterday and today in the hull of the raised diver, which took its fatal plunge in Honolulu harbor March 25, brought forth no more bodies, nor have any further identifications of those recovered been made. Whether or not the body of Lieut. Louis Alfred Ede, commander of the F-4, who went down with his crew of 21 men, was among those recovered has not been determined. Little credit was given by the members of the board of inquiry investigating the accident to the F-4 to the report that this type may be withdrawn from the service.

A Clogged System Needs Attention.
Are you bilious, dizzy and listless? Dr. King's New Life Pills taken at once seize upon constipation and starts the bowels moving naturally and easily. Moreover it acts without griping. Neglect of a clogged system often leads to most serious complications. Poisonous matters and a body poorly functioning need immediate attention. If you wish to wake up to-morrow morning happy in mind and entirely satisfied, start your treatment to-night. 25c a bottle.

Mr. J. J. Hutson.

Mr. J. J. Hutson, of near Buchanan, died Monday after a long illness, age about 65 years.

Mr. Hutson was one of the most prominent men in that community and has a large number of friends throughout the county.

He leaves a wife, eleven children and two brothers to mourn his death. Burial was at Mt. Pleasant Tuesday. He was a member of the Christian church.

School Work Advanced Monday.

The regular 1915-16 term of the Murray school was convened Monday and the opening exercises were attended by a large number of citizens of the town and county. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. A. Hassell, pastor of the Methodist church. Following this service addresses were made by the principal, J. W. Jones, Elder Green, Elder Brooks, Rev.

Hart, R. T. Wells and Judge Langston.

The enrollment in all the grades reached 457, with 120 high school pupils, about 20 of these from the county. Prof. Jones states with authority that the out of town enrollment will reach the half hundred mark within the next two weeks, many who have made arrangements to enter being prevented on account of tobacco and hay cutting on the farm.

The prediction is that the present term will be one of the very best in the history of the school, and with an increased attendance will come increased interest on part of both pupils and faculty.

Dalton—Brandon.

Our correspondent from Hazel reports the following marriage:

Last Tuesday evening at the residence of Will Hudspeth in North Hazel, T. H. Brandon and Miss Mollie Dalton were happily married, Rev. W. P. Pritchard officiating.

They are popular young people of Hazel, where they have many friends who extend hearty congratulations and best wishes. They will reside at Hazel.

Facts for Sufferers

Pain results injury or congestion. Be it neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, toothache, sprain, bruise, sore, stiff-muscles or whatever pain you have yields to Sloan's Liniment—brings new fresh blood, dissolves the congestion, relieves the injury, the circulation is free and your pain leaves as if by magic. The nature of its qualities penetrate immediately to the sore spot. Don't keep on suffering. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. Use it. It means instant relief. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle holds six times as much as the 25c size.

Tennessee Found Dead.

Dresden, Tenn., Sept. 4.—Erwin Glasgow, aged 27, who lived east of Dresden, was found dead yesterday near his home. He left home the day before with his gun and did not return that night, but there was no uneasiness until next morning, when he did not return, and an effort was made to locate him, when his body was found with a shotgun wound in his left side, which hit his heart. It is said he had been dead for several hours. It is believed he took his life and that he did it soon after he left home. It is also believed that ill health and despondency were the causes of the act.

Our Tennessee Neighbors.

For her attractive little guest, Miss Mary Campbell, of Murray, Miss Demetra Wilkinson entertained Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkinson, Jr. Numerous children's games were played and music furnished for the diversion of the many little guests who participated in the happy event. Following the games delightful refreshments were served on the lawn.

Mrs. A. T. Melton, and little daughter, Dorothy, of Murray, Ky., are guests of her mother, Mrs. R. C. Young.—Paris Post-Intelligencer.

Mrs. S. E. Bynum, of Murray, is the guest of her brother, Dr. Wm. P. Pool, on Thompson street.

Roy Edwards, of Murray, is here attending the tent meeting. Miss Madge Cain, of Murray, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jno. Parks in this city.

Mrs. G. O. Gattin, of Murray, visited relatives here this week.—Paris Post-Intelligencer.

Home Town Building.

I have been through the mill of the city and country life and the farm will hold me for the balance of my days. Six years of semi-slavery in several different lines of trade, coupled with a boarding house life in the city, when I was between the years of 19 and 26, gave me an ample stock of experience for the rest of my life. Then I came back to the farm to stay. It was my father who figured it out, that it was too expensive to raise children to the age where they might be of some value at home and then have some other fellow coax them away from him.

I know more about keeping young folks contented at home on the farm than about the affairs of our town people, but it don't require the brains of King Solomon to discover that a scarcity of young people on the streets of a country town, especially Saturday night signifies a town that is on the down-hill road.

One of our village aldermen made the boast in my hearing some years ago, that he had killed a proposed licensee for a tent circus which wanted to show in the town, and that he had also "just tied a tin can" on the merry-go-round which had been picking up the children's pennies in town for some two or three days. I said to him, "stick to that policy, alderman, and within a few years there won't be anything between the town and the grave yard except the fence." He refused to take the hint and the funeral sermon of the village was printed in the last issue of the town newspaper when it went out of business four years ago.

Now then, Mr. Editor, my opinion of the problem of keeping the young folks at home, is to treat them like human beings. Give them a chance to grow. Let them spread themselves. Encourage amusements of every kind. Don't worry about a merry-go-round, a picture show or a billiard room leading your young men astray or bankrupting the town because of the pennies or nickels which are contributed to the support of such places. That money is not wasted or destroyed. It soon gets

The Colds of Mankind Cured by Pines

Have you ever gone through a typical pine forest when you had a cold? What a vigorous impulse it sent! How you opened your lungs to take in those invigorating and mysterious qualities. Yes, Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey possesses those stimulating qualities and overcomes hacking coughs. The inner lining of the throat is strengthened in its attack against cold germs. Every family needs a bottle constantly at hand. 25c.

Benton Postmaster Removed.

Benton, Ky., Sept. 2.—At the instance of his bonders, the United States Fidelity & Guarantee company, of Baltimore, Md., Postmaster Robt. I. Blagg was removed from his office by Post-office Inspector Fred B. Ashton, of Paducah. The bonding company by telegram requested Inspector Ashton to remove Blagg, stating that because of certain "irregularities" in the conduct of his office they desired to be removed from the responsibility of his bond.

William Rowe, of Benton, was installed in the deposed postmaster's place by Inspector Ashton and will serve until Blagg is permanently removed or reinstated.

back into the regular channels of trade.

If you and I start out to figure as wasted all money which goes into the frivolous things of life, we would arrive at a conclusion which would put ninety out of every hundred workmen of the world out of employment and beggar the universe.

Get your young people into the habit of excelling their companions in pastimes and amusements, and you may rest assured that they will take the leadership in business, when the opportunity presents.

The next move is to develop commercial openings at home. Give the boy and girl a chance to get into business. Keep them busy. They must have an opportunity to earn a living. This cannot be done if the trade of the outlying districts is allowed to drift to the nearest large city. How can we prevent it? Is the universal cry of the merchant in the small town. The answer is, employ the city man's methods. Your home town paper can be made to reach every man, woman and child of the neighborhood every few days. If printed advertisements in a catalogue pull business to the amount of $100,000,000.00 per year for a single house, the same thing in a smaller way will get paying results for you.

But, says one storekeeper, if I make the home town paper a catalogue, quoting my lowest prices, my competitors will do likewise and I will get no more of the trade than I am getting now. Your competitor is not the store in the next block or across the street. He is in the big city and will eventually put you out of business. Every cent that any other merchant in your town spends for advertising in the local paper, is boosting your interest by assisting in pulling buyers to town. That means additional prospects for you.

Send to your wholesaler for electrotype cuts to illustrate your goods and put the plan into operation immediately. The wholesaler will supply the cuts free of charge, or at a nominal price. Then prosperity in your business will result just as sure as daylight follows the sun.

Parcel Post Charges.

Postmaster Robertson is just in receipt of a communication from the Postoffice Department at Washington which makes a considerable change in the insurance of the parcels post packages.

Heretofore there has been some complaint because $50 has been the limit of insurance on a parcels post. The new ruling as just received at the local post office increases the value to $100 and it also makes some desirable changes in the rates.

Heretofore the insurance fee on any package valued under $50 was 5 cents; above that sum up to $50, 10 cents. The new rates are: Value up to $5, 3 cents; up to $25, 5 cents; up to $50, 10 cents; up to $100, 25 cents.

The size of the package has also been increased. A package can now be received which measures seven feet, or 64 inches in length and girth combined.

The new changes ruling on the parcels post took effect on Sept. 1. It also prevents the sending of any fourth class matter (merchandise) by registered mail and requires it all to go by insured parcels post.

Teacher's Association Program

Program for teachers associations to be held at Kelley school house, Saturday, Sept. 25, 1915.

Devotional Exercise.

Welcome Address.—Geo. Hart.

Response.—T. R. Jones.

Outline and Discuss a lesson in Agriculture for an Eighth Grade Class.—Guy Montgomery and J. H. Fitch.

The Importance of Regular Attendance.—J. W. Jones and C. A. Hale.

Reading.—Miss Ruth Rains.

Noon

Music.

Enumerate some things you would teach in a nature study course and how would you teach them.

How do You Keep 5th and 6th Grade Boys and Girls Interested in School?—R. M. Phillips.

Discuss the Importance of Beautifying the School Room and School Ground.—Miss Rhoda Outland and W. H. Jones.

Reading.—Miss Beatrice Crisp.

Show the Importance of the Cooperation of the Three Factors Teachers Pupils and Patrons.—Frank Radford and B. H. Crawford.

New Concord.

Cutting tobacco is the order of the day.

We have a fine crop of tobacco but corn has been damaged by wind and rain.

Messrs. Bell and Garrison, our hustling merchants are having good trade.

The trustees of school division No. 5, met at Concord school house Monday and elected Gardie Lassiter, chairman and Thos. L. Moody, secretary. We think these gentlemen will make good officers.

We are for the no fence law good and strong down here.—Goo Goo Eyes.

Two Nude Women in Death Battle.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 4.—In a grim duel for the love of a man, carried on in a candle-light cellar of an apartment house at 475 Commercial street, early Sunday, two nude women were so badly cut with the ten inch knives they used that both will die, surgeons say.

The women, Mrs. Lureda Jaques, twenty-eight years old, and Mrs. Mary Gozalles, twenty years old, were hurried to a hospital, both bleeding from wounds.

The dying women said they fought for the love of Juan Perez, a handsome Mexican, especially renowned for his dashing ways.

For several months past Mrs. Jaques, police say, had been favored by Juan. Then, a week ago, Juan transferred his attentions to Mrs. Gozalles.

The first love challenged her rival and a time was set for the accounting. The women early Sunday morning met in the darkened cellar of the house where they both lived. They stripped to the skin. Each was armed with a ten inch knife.

Circling about like gladiators, they fought fiercely. When police broke into the apartment they found the women in a death struggle, each stabbing the other mechanically.

WOODMEN HERE IN ENCAMPMENT

Camp Wells, Fair Grounds, Murray, Ky., Sept. 7-11.—The annual encampment of the Woodmen of the World for this district, composed of the States of Tennessee and Kentucky, begun here Tuesday and will last for four days. The Uniform Rank of the Woodmen of the World here represents 17,000 Woodmen in Kentucky and 30,000 in Tennessee. Each Uniform rank has no less than sixteen men and a captain, and may have thirty-five.

About three hundred members of the uniform rank are in attendance, representing sixteen different towns and cities of the two states. The officers in charge are Brigadier General, R. T. Wells, Murray, Ky.; Commander, Capt. Claude Harris, Madisonville, Ky.; Colonel's Adjutant, Capt. Ben Wilfrey, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Asst. Adjutant General, Col. C. L. Mather, Omaha, Neb.; Majors, Capt. G. T. Blasingame, of Mayfield and Capt. Ben Wilson, of Earlington, Ky.

The daily program is made up as follows: First call, 6 o'clock, a. m.; mess, 7; officers school, 8; mess, 12; guard mount, 3; parade, 5; mess, 6; band concert, 7; taps, 11.

An automobile parade was arranged for the entire membership Wednesday afternoon through the principal streets of the city and was enjoyed by every member and witnessed by a large crowd. The Almo band is furnishing the music for the occasion and during the parade Wednesday gave a concert in the court yard. The citizens of the town and county who own autos have aided in the entertainment of the visitors and have generously responded with their machines in transporting the guests from the train to the camp.

Thursday's program included a dress parade through the city from the grounds and speaking at the grounds at 1:30 o'clock by Judge Voris Gregory, of Mayfield, and Congressman Barkley, of Paducah, and an address at the court yard at 3:30 o'clock by A. G. Mathis, head consul, Memphis, Tenn., and J. H. Brewer, state manager, Louisville, Ky.

Madisonville Camp was honored by being given the work of exemplifying the Protection Degree Thursday evening. Capt. W. H. Barton and the Eureka Uniform Rank, No. 25, has been honored several times by having this work in charge. This Uniform Rank is well known in the State of Kentucky as being the best drilled team for the degree work.

The Uniform Ranks at the encampment are in charge of Commander Claude Harris, of Madisonville, who is an expert militarian and who until recently was captain of Company E. K. N. G., of Madisonville.

The encampment is an educational feature and the lovers of woodcraft are taught all kinds of military tactics and each and every rank is given a chance to be at its best in competitive drills. Loving cups, which are now on display, medals and cash prizes are given for the encouragement for perfection in the work.

The competitive drills will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock and Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be participated in by every camp attending. Camp will break Saturday morning.

BIG CROPS IN SIGHT MONEY PLENTIFUL

REPORTS OF THE TWELVE RE-SERVE BANK AGENTS ARE MADE PUBLIC.

IMPROVEMENT IS SHOWN

Cheerful View Taken As To Marketing of the Cotton Crop.—The Railroad Men Are Optimistic.
Big Grain Crop.

Washington.—Business conditions throughout the United States have changed but little in the last month, according to reports from the twelve Federal reserve agents, made public by the Federal Reserve Board. The reports indicate slight improvement, with large crops in sight, manufacturing in special lines stimulated by foreign orders, and money easy and plentiful.

The feature of the month in the Atlanta district was the revival of the iron industry around Birmingham. The blowing in of several additional furnaces and a demand for labor had a good effect on general trade. No fear is felt, according to the report, as to the ability to warehouse the cotton crop of the district, or to take care of it financially through the Atlanta reserve bank. Railroad men feel optimistic that their business is about to improve.

The Richmond district report that it is reglized in the cotton territory there can be no excuse this year for repetition of the experience of last fall. Knowledge that well organized agencies are at hand to assist in taking care of the crop has had a steady influence and is expected to insure a natural price subject to supply and demand. Southern tobacco markets have opened at satisfactory prices.

Dallas had a six weeks' drought in a part of the district, which reduced materially the cotton yield, but the report says it frost does not interfere there may be a fall crop. General business conditions have been improving steadily, but much depends on the cotton crop.

Boston reported increased emergency orders, with direct or indirect effect in all lines of trade, but retail dealers and department stores show business below normal figures. Unsettled labor conditions are troubling manufacturers.

From New York it is reported that industry, particularly in iron, steel, machinery, wool and leather, is more active, with foreign orders the principal stimulus. Wholesale trade is good and stock transactions were notably larger in volume.

There has been little change in the Philadelphia district and the report adds "the expected general improvement has not appeared and the outlook is uncertain." Emergency business continues in the iron and steel trade, with the hope that it will soon create activity in other lines. Railroad freight traffic is increasing, but coal mines still are working only half time.

Cleveland reports that gains shown last month are being held, although there has been no decided new advance. Domestic trade has not reached normal. Crops are suffering somewhat from wet weather.

Chicago reports that "August" development show the general business advance, with better than average crops in sight, and iron and steel plants running to capacity. The automobile cities report an unusual demand.

Changes in conditions in the St. Louis district are reported as for the better, with a still more clearly defined feeling of confidence. There is increased activity in general business and with the promise of an excellent harvest if "conditions should continue to improve."

The northwest is harvesting its big grain crop. Minneapolis reports, and wholesale and retail business is responding promptly to that influence. The yield in small grains is expected to be unusually large.

No important changes are noted in the Kansas City district, except an increased demand for money to move the crops.

The unsettled condition of exchange has affected the San Francisco district in its foreign trade, as has the lack of ships. Railroads are busy. Oranges are bringing satisfactory prices, but lemons are moving slowly at low prices.

Serbia to Give In.

Paris.—The Serbian government has informed Greece that it intends to comply with the requests of the quadruple entente concerning the concessions demanded by Bulgaria, says an Athens dispatch to the Matin.

RECORD COLD WEATHER.

Frost is Reported From Some Sections of Country.

Washington.—Abnormally low temperatures prevailed Aug. 30, over the Upper Mississippi River and Lower Mississippi River valleys and the upper lake regions. In some places the weather bureau reported the thermometer showed temperatures which made records for the month of August. Frosts were reported in many places. In some instances they were heavy and caused considerable damage to crops.

VIOLENT ARTILLERY FIRE

Lipak Captured By Teuton Forces.
Big Gun Battles Damage Kaiser's Trenches.

Berlin.—German forces have made a further advance on the Russian front near Grodno, the only one of their fortified positions near the German border which still remains in possession of the Russians.

Official announcement was made here of the capture of Lipak, in northern Russian Poland, about twenty miles to the west of Grodno.

SEVERE ARTILLERY FIGHTING.

Many Places in Argonne District Seriously Damaged.

Paris.—Violent artillery fighting took place at many points in the Argonne district as a result of which trenches of the Germans were seriously damaged, according to the French official report. The communication Aug. 31 reads:

"Yesterday evening saw severe artillery fighting, accompanied by the explosion of mines, and engagements with bombs and hand grenades, at a large number of positions in the Argonne district. The trenches of the enemy were seriously damaged at Courtes, Chausseaux-Meurissons and at Balaute.

"The advent of night brought relative quiet to this region.

THE SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Ottoman Army on Gallipoli Is Completely Surrounded by Allies.

London.—The names of 69 officers killed or wounded at the Dardanelles were made public here September 1. The name of Brig-Gen. F. C. Lloyd was among those wounded.

An Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company stated that a British submarine had shelled and partly destroyed the bridge at Galata, a suburb of Constantinople.

A Geneva dispatch says: "Members of the Turkish colony here are in receipt of letters from Constantinople, stating that the situation on Gallipoli is most critical. The Ottoman army is completely surrounded, according to these letters.

"A sudden attack by the Italians is feared. The Turkish army is hampered by a lack of rifles and munitions. Germany was to have sent 300,000 rifles to the Turks, but it has been found impossible to transport them."

100,000 MEN IN THE FIGHT

Losses of Allies in Dardanelles Campaign Are Reported Heavy.

Berlin.—The British employed 100,000 men in their attacks on Turkish positions on the Gallipoli peninsula Aug. 29, according to a dispatch from Constantinople to the Frankfurter Zeitung, and their losses were extremely heavy.

The correspondent estimates that since Aug. 6 the British losses have been in excess of 50,000.

According to the correspondent, the killed among the British troops in the fighting of Aug. 28 and 29 included about 500 officers. A cavalry division, he declared, was almost completely wiped out. The dispatch continues:

"British prisoners knew nothing of the fall of Warsaw and other Russian fortresses. They had been told that the Russians held the entrance to the Bosphorus and were working toward a junction with the British.

THE REAR GUARDS RESIST

Desperate Fighting Retards Advance of Teutonic Invaders.

London.—The Russian rear guards are making a desperate resistance to Prince Leopold of Bavaria and Field Marshal von Hindenburg's southern wing, trying to cut off the Russian troops still clinging to Vilna and Grodno, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Times. "The nature of the terrain necessitates the Russian task of regrouping in new positions."

"The new movement of Gen. Mackensen's army against the trunk line between Kovland Kier, which might isolate Russian troops in Galtia is regarded seriously in Petrograd, but the broken and woody nature of the ground is expected to retard the advance.

"It is persistently rumored that President Rodzianko, of the Douma, will shortly be appointed premier with wide powers as to the formation of a cabinet."

THAW ASKS DIVORCE.

He Charges Misconduct of Evelyn With New Yorker.

Pittsburg.—Harry K. Thaw, through his attorneys, Stone & Stone, filed a petition in common pleas court asking a divorce from his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, charging misconduct with John Francis of New York.

The petition is very brief, covering less than one typewritten page. Thaw alleges that his wife was guilty of misconduct with Francis in New York in December, 1909.

TWO KILLED AT WILMINGTON.

DuPont Powder Plant Is Heavily Damaged by Explosion.

Wilmington, Del.—Two workmen were instantly killed and considerable damage was done to property by an explosion of two black powder mills of the DuPont Powder Co. in the Upper Yard, near here. The two reports were terrific, being heard more than a dozen miles away. The cause of the explosion has not been determined, but officials say it probably was due to a spark or to grit in the powder.

MEXICAN BANDITS KILL 2 AMERICANS

U. S. INFANTRYMEN HAVE BATTLE WITH SIXTEEN NEAR BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS.

ONE MEXICAN IS SLAIN

Slain Men Were Kidnaped and Later Riddled With Bullets.—Soldiers Patrolling Country and More Trouble Expected.

Brownsville, Tex.—The bullet-ridden bodies of two Americans who were kidnaped by Mexican bandits about 12 miles north of here Sept. 2, were found late in the afternoon in the bed of a dried lake. They were Earl McDonald, a farmer, who came here from Fayette, Mo., and an engineer named Smith, engaged in concrete construction work on an irrigation canal. The bodies were brought into Brownsville on the night of Sept. 2.

Donaldson, Smith and Stanley Dadds, the contractor, were taken by the Mexicans. Because a member of the band told the others Dadds was a German, he was not harmed, but his hat and shoes were taken. Later in the day when the Mexicans became engaged in a fight with American soldiers, Dadds escaped.

Officers say Aniceto Pizano, a Mexican who was engaged in the Los Tules fight last month and escaped to Mexico, and whose name later was signed to a circular distributed in Mexico urging Mexicans to rise in arms against Americans, was the leader of the band.

One Mexican was also killed in a running battle between 16 Mexican bandits and half a company of United States infantry 11 miles north of here Sept. 12.

Lieut. Falkner, who commanded the American detachment, said the automobile truck bearing the men was traveling along the old Alice stage coach road when the Mexicans were seen. Six of the band put up a fight, using an irrigation canal as a trench. Ten made a quick escape down the canal and the remaining five finally escaped, leaving their dead comrade.

Following a flight Aviation Lieut. Joseph C. Morrow, pilot, with Lieut. B. Q. Jones as observer, reported the United States cavalry and infantry are well disposed throughout the section in which there are believed to be from 50 to 60 Mexican bandits.

Further fighting is expected momentarily.

LINERS WILL GET WARNING

Germany Accepts Submarine Stand of United States, Wilson's Contentions Triumph.

Washington.—Germany accepted the declarations of the United States in the submarine warfare controversy when Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who hurried here from New York Sept. 1, gave oral and written assurances to Secretary Lansing that no more passenger ships will be sunk without warning.

President Wilson has achieved the most notable personal triumph in the annals of American history and henceforth he is a world figure of commanding proportions and a factor in world affairs to a degree never before attained by an American statesman. Without the loss of a scintilla of the dignity that attaches to his great office, without casting the faintest shadow upon the most cherished traditions of his country and with every element of peace with honor preserved and vindicated, he has brought Germany to recognize the high principles which he himself laid down for the safeguarding of the lives of noncombatants on merchantmen.

By the open seas and caused the government to make official guarantee that its submarine commanders will not seek the destruction of unarmed merchant vessels without visit and search, and without first giving the passengers of such ships due notice and opportunity to save themselves.

In other words, Germany through its American ambassador, Von Bernstorff, gave assurance to the United States that there would be no repetition of the Lusitania and Arabic horrors at sea, thus establishing the principles of the right of neutrals on peaceful missions to visit belligerent countries.

Received Arabic S. O. S. Call.

New York.—The American steamer Surgenia, arriving from London, reported that on Aug. 19 she received a distress call from the Arabic. At the time the Surgenia was 120 miles distant from the Arabic.

TENNESSEAN KILLED BY BANDITS

Dallas, Texas.—Lorenzo P. Williams, connected with a telephone company at Smithville, Texas, was attacked by highwaymen here and received injuries from which he died next day.

Robbery, according to the police, was the purpose of the attack. Williams is said to have come to have been manager of a telephone company at Coffeyville, Miss. His home is believed to have been at Lexington, Tenn., where he is reported to have been prominently connected.

BORDER POSSE KILL ORZCO

Battle Took Place in Green River Canyon of the High Lonsome Mountains, Culberson County.

Sierra Blanca, Tex.—The body of Gen. Pascual Orzoco, hero of the Mexican revolution of Mexico, lies in an undertaker's establishment at Van Horn, Tex. Beside him are the bodies of his companion killed during the fighting Aug. 31 with a posse composed of troops of the Thirtieth United States Cavalry, customs officials and civilians.

The body has been identified as that of Orzoco by a government official from El Paso.

El Paso, Tex.—Gen. Pascual Orzoco, prominent military leader in Mexico's many revolutions of the last five years, was killed in a fight with a posse of American civilians, customs officers and troops of the Thirtieth United States Cavalry, according to government reports received here September 1. The battle took place in Green River canyon of the High Lonsome Mountains in Culberson County, Texas, following a raid on the Dick Love ranch yesterday.

Orzoco and four companions were pursued from the Sierra Blanca country into the foothills. The last of the band died at dusk.

How desperately they fought was shown by four bullet wounds in the body, positively identified, according to reports, as that of the Huerta general.

At the home of Gen. Orzoco's family here the report of his death could not be confirmed.

Gen. Victoriano Huerta would make no comment when informed of the reported death of his former chief of fier.

All the bodies of the raiders have been ordered shipped to Van Horn.

NO INDICTMENTS FOUND

Grand Jury Investigating Frank Hanger Reports That It Is Unable to Place the Blame.

Marietta, Ga.—The Cobb County grand jury, investigating the lynching of Leo M. Frank near Marietta, reported Sept. 2 that:

"We have found several clues, but we have been unable to find any one who could identify any party. We have done our best, under our oath, and we regret to state that we have been unable to find enough evidence to indict any one for this crime."

The jury had the active co-operation of Gov. Nat. E. Harris, the state's attorney-general, Solicitor Herbert Clay and other officials of Cobb County.

Upwards of 35 witnesses were examined. They included the chief of police and other citizens of Atlanta and individuals of every walk of life in Marietta. Anonymous letters referred to in the report are still being received by the officials of Cobb county and others, but the tendency now is to ignore them.

TURK TRANSPORTS SUNK

British Submarines Operating in the Dardanelles Straits Get Four Allied Troops Gain.

Paris.—Four Turkish transports have been torpedoed by British submarines. The announcement was made Sept. 2 officially, as follows:

"In the Dardanelles last week of August has been calm throughout on the southern front. In the northern zone British troops delivered several attacks which put them in possession of a hillock to the west of Buynk Anafarta, which had been contested keenly.

"To the transport sunk on the 20th of August by one of our aviators in the anchorage at Achashliman it is necessary to add four transports torpedoed by British submarines, two of them at the same point and two others between Gallipoli and Nagara.

"The guns of the battleships have hit several vessels anchored in the straits."

FRANCE IN GOOD SHAPE.

Could Send Gold to United States Without Trouble.

Paris.—"France could send before the end of the war a billion and a half francs gold to the United States without affecting her financial position in Europe," Senator E. A. Aldrich, an authority on financial questions and spokesman of the finance committee of the Senate, said Sept. 1st.

"While we can do this and will do it, if America insists," he continued, "we on this side consider that the greatest service which can be rendered to France is to co-operate in stabilizing the exchange market, which Americans do to their own advantage as well as to ours, by granting a loan, the proceeds of which would pay for supplies purchased in America."

Strengthen Defenses.

Washington.—President Wilson has made public letters he wrote to Secretaries Garrison and Daniels last month asking them to formulate for him definite programmes for strengthening the national defenses that he might make recommendations in his next message to congress. The secretaries have been at work on the reports for more than a month and now have them virtually completed. The president will discuss them with the chairmen of the committees of congress.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! ACTS LIKE DYNAMITE ON LIVER

I Guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Give You the Best Liver and Bowel-Cleansing You Ever Had—Doesn't Make You Sick!

Stop using calomel! It makes you sick. Don't lose a day's work. If you feel lazy, sluggish, bilious or constipated, listen to me! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you feel "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated, or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store or dealer and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable; therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

WELL AND IN GOOD HEALTH

Since Taking Cardui. After Seven Years of Suffering, Says South Carolina Lady.

Columbia, S. C.—Mrs. L. C. Heilmann, of 331 Washington St., of this city, says: "I have received so much benefit from Cardui, I feel like speaking a good word for it to every lady I come in contact with, that I think needs it, hoping to help some one to get well, as I did."

I had been sick in bed for a long time with the change of life. The doctor tended me all along, and finally one morning when he came he said he believed I would have to go to the hospital yet. I said No. I then read all of the testimonials in the Ladies' Birthday Almanac and then I phoned for a bottle of Cardui and commenced taking it. I began to improve from then on. I took five bottles continuously, then off and on for awhile, and I was well . . . and have had good health ever since, I am glad to say. I have recommended it to a lot of my friends.

I was troubled for seven or eight years before I took Cardui. I think it is the best medicine on earth for female troubles. . . . If this testimonial will help some one else you are at liberty to use it if you like."

Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need. Your druggist sells it. Get a bottle from him today.

Working Up an Appetite. "I don't know why we came in here," said Mrs. Bored, as she settled herself down in a restaurant. "I'm not a bit hungry."

"That's all right," said hubby. "Just you sit here and wait."

"Wait! But why? I'm not hungry, as I said before."

"Never mind, dear. You will be by the time the waiter brings us our food."—Philadelphia Record.

One Commandment Broken.

Bridget—The new neighbors want to cut their grass, mum, and they sent over to ask the loan of your lawnmower.

Mistress—Lend them our lawnmower to cut grass on the Sabbath. Certainly not. Tell them, Bridget, that we haven't one. —Boston Transcript.

NEGLECT YOUR SCALP

And Lose Your Hair. Cuticura Prevents It. Trial Free.

Cuticura Soap shampoos cleanse and purify the scalp of dandruff while the Ointment soothes and heals the irritated scalp skin. Dandruff and itching are hair destroyers. Get acquainted with these supercreamy emollients for the skin and scalp.

Sample postcard, Cuticura, Dept. XV, Boston. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

The Least of Two. "Your money or your life!"

"Take me life, I'm savin' me money for me old age."

In affairs of the heart, judge a man by his conduct in public and a woman by her conduct in private.

10c Worth of DU PONT

Will Clear $1.00 Worth of Land

Get rid of the stumps and grow big crops on cleared land. Now is the time to clean up your farm while products bring high prices. Blasting is quickest, cheapest and easiest with Low Freezing Du Pont Explosives. They work in cold weather.

Write for Free Handbook of Explosives No. 59F, and name of nearest dealer.

DU PONT POWDER COMPANY

WILMINGTON DELAWARE

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

AGENTS WANTED To sell Perfek Blood Tonic. This is an opportunity for you to earn big money. Someone in your locality will be made agent. Write for particulars.

PERFEK DEVICE CO.,
1507 Garfield Avenue, KANSAS CITY, MO.

DROPSY TREATMENT

usually gives quick relief, soon removes swelling and short breath, often gives entire relief in 10 to 25 days. Trial treatment sent FREE. DR. THOMAS S. GREEN, Successor to Dr. H. H. Green's Sons, Box 1, Chatterbox, Ga.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM

A toilet preparation of merit. Relieves itching dandruff. For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair. 50c and $1.00 at Druggists.

BOTH ADEPTS IN DECEIT

How Signals Arranged For Between Soldier and His Wife Really Were Carried On.

The captain had not been long married when he was ordered into camp. To be sure, the camp was in plain view of the captain's residence, but then it was still a separation; and to lighten this terrible condition it was arranged that the bereaved husband and wife should signal to each other often with their handkerchiefs. It was on the second day that the young wife was seated on the porch reading. "Tell me, Jane," said she, "is the captain still signaling?" "Yes, ma'am," answered the maid. "Then keep waving your handkerchief. I want to finish this novel." At the same time, in camp an officer from an adjoining company stepped up to the captain. "I say, old fellow," he asked, "why do you keep that man out there all day waving a handkerchief?" "Oh, it's merely a bit of signal-code practice for him."

The Signs.

"The fellow under a gunman." "How can you tell?" "By his bullet head."

No such thing as "rubber roofing"

A lot of manufacturers call their roofing "Rubber Roofing." "Rubbering." "Rubber that." The life is all out of rubber if exposed to the daylight for six months. There is no such thing as "Rubber Roofing" of any kind. There is no rubber in it.

Certain-teed Roofing

It is made of the very best Roofing Felt thoroughly saturated in our properly blended asphalt and coated by a harder grade of asphalt which keeps the soft saturation within the life of the roofing—from drying out quickly.

It is guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years, according to whether the thickness is 1, 2 or 3 ply respectively.

Your local dealer will quote you reasonable prices on our goods.

General Roofing Manufacturing Co.

World's largest manufacturers of Roofing and Building Papers.

New York City Chicago Philadelphia St. Louis Boston Cleveland Pittsburgh Detroit San Francisco Cincinnati Minneapolis Kansas City Atlanta Houston London Birmingham Sydney

WE HAVE THE GREATEST SELLER

most needed article ever invented for houses, hospitals, hotels, offices and schools. Gives light, ventilation and privacy. All-In-One. Exclusive territory to agents and managers. High quality and integrity. Sample postcard. ADJUSTER CO., 1222 EXCHANGE BLDG., MEMPHIS, TENN.

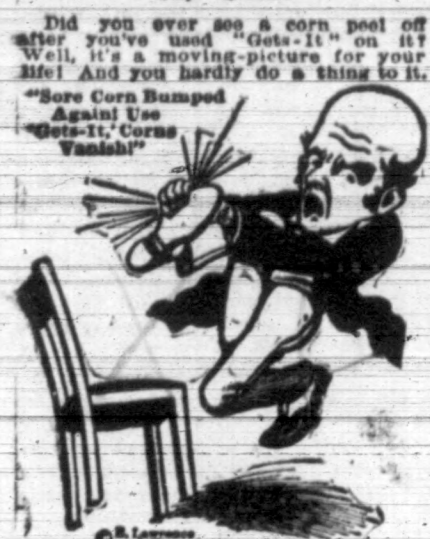

THE MURRAY LEDGER

O. J. JENNINGS, EDITOR.

Entered at the postoffice at Murray, Kentucky, for transmission through the mails as second class matter.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1915

"OO-y! My Corn-n!"
H-m, Use 'Gets-It'
Then You'll Have No Corns to Bump!
Your Corns Will Come "Clean Off," Quick!

Put a little "Gets-It" on, it dries at once. There's nothing to stick. Put shoes and stockings on right over it. No pain, no fuss. 48 hours—corns gone. "Gets-It" never hurts the true flesh, never makes toes sore. If you have tried almost everything else for corns, you will be much more surprised to see how quickly and easily your corns and calluses will come right off with "Gets-It." Quit limping and wringing up your face with corn-wrinkles. Try "Gets-It" tonight on that corn, callus, wart or bunion, and you'll be glad you read this.

"Gets-It" is sold by all druggists.

Write or mail direct to E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Murray and recommended as the world's best corn cure by H. P. Wear.

Market Grows Brisk.

The association reports 110 hogsheds in sales for the week. About two-thirds of this was leaf and a greater part of it medium to good grades, selling at 9 to 12 cents. The low and common grades sold at 7 to 9 cents. They sold a few very common hogsheds of nondescript leaf at 6 1/2 cents. The lug sales they report at 4 to 6 cents.

There has been considerable trading going on in the district privately, and I would say there had been something like 125 hogsheds of medium to good leaf which sold from prize and private storage houses, and the prices for these sales were about the same as the association quotations. Besides those sales there have been about 220 hogsheds sold privately, which also sold about the same as the association quotations.

I would say that the market was active and firm on such tobaccos as are being sought after. The great drawback is there is very little demand for the better grades of dark, heavy leaf, which is accumulating in the markets. Unsold stocks are small though and sellers are disposed to not try to push sales and force the market down.

The weather for the past week has been very much more favorable for the growing crop than it has been now for some weeks. We have had some sunshine every day during the week with heavy dews at night, which is greatly benefiting the growing crop, and will say that I have seen quite a good deal of the crop during the past week and find the condition generally better than I expected. The recent wet, cold weather has caused the tobacco to become rough and bony and a great part of the crop is defective, being full of holes which were made by insects, but there is quite a good per cent of tobacco on the hill that will make good quality and good yield if weather conditions continue favorable. Quite a good deal of cutting has been done though during the past week, and I fear that all this tobacco will be common, rough and bony, and it is to be hoped that farmers will leave their tobacco in the field to get the benefits from the good weather conditions, which will improve the quality and increase the yield. I don't think more than eight to ten per cent of the crop has been cut, but no doubt cutting will become general during the next week.—W. B. Kennedy.

Notice.

This is to notify the public that I have this day set my son, Lubie Linn Christenberry, free to sue and be sued, to contract and be contracted with as if he was of legal age, and hereafter I will not be responsible for any contracts he might make. All persons transacting business with him will be governed accordingly. This Aug. 26, 1915.

J. W. Christenberry. 8263

THE PLAIN TRUTH

What More Can Murray People Ask?

When well-known residents and highly-respected people of Murray make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader:

W. R. Broach, ex-county assessor of Murray, says: "I have had attacks of kidney trouble occasionally and have always taken Doan's Kidney Pills. They have never failed to help me. Others have also told me what great good they have had from this medicine."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Broach had.—Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Sun Brother's Shows Coming.

The coming of Sun Brother's Great Railroad Shows and Allied Wild Animal Tourney is an event of much great interest to the citizens of Murray. In a country having but few holidays and where work to often shuts out play, the advent of Sun Brother's Shows is always hailed with delight.

Then it is that population of town and county turns out to celebrate and every incoming road by wagon, vehicle, automobile or train is filled with joyous throngs.

The people patronize Sun Brother's Shows because they have been taught by experience that it is a great, meritorious and pleasing show from start to finish.

This big show will exhibit at Murray on Tuesday, September 28. Performances take place afternoon at two o'clock and at night time eight o'clock, opening the doors for the reception of the public one hour earlier.

State of Ohio, city of Toledo, ss.

Lucas county. Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner or the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December A. D. 1886.

(Seal) A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, CO. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Feel languid, weak, run down? Headache? Stomach "off"? A good remedy is Burdock Blood Bitters. Ask your druggist. Price $1.00.

The Murray Furniture & Undertaking Co. handle the finest line of coffins, caskets and robes of any house in Western Kentucky. "Low in price, but high in quality," our motto.

A Good Tip.

THERE are just two ways of getting the finest candies. One is to ask for Nunnally's, and the other is to have Nunnally's offered you.

No other candies are received here so constantly from the manufacturers direct by express.

We are glad to add our guarantee to Nunnally's, that every box purchased at this store will be found in perfect condition.

H. P. WEAR

Fall Style Show

WEDNESDAY
THURSDAY
FRIDAY

3 BIG DAYS
FOUR BIG NIGHTS

September 22, 23, 24
PADUCAH'S
Third Annual Fall Style Show

Every store in Paducah will be ready with a display that will emphasize anew the advantages the people of this section enjoy in having such a splendid market within their convenient reach. The newest, the best, the most stylish, will be here for you to see; it's a real opportunity to post yourself on what the world of Fashion is doing.

ENTERTAINMENT EVERY MINUTE

All Paducah will be on tiptoe to make you have a good time throughout your visit. Your friends and acquaintances from all over this section will be here.

On the night of September 21st a giant FLORAL AUTO-MOBILE PARADE and HARVEST PAGEANT has been arranged, in which everyone is invited to participate. King Carnival will hold sway—the SNOLLYGOSTERS will be here in fancy costumes—there will be contests and good fellowship everywhere.

COMPLIMENTARY BALL NIGHT OF 22ND

The most spacious Ball Room in the city has been reserved for a Ball, on the night of the 22nd, in compliment to visitors to The Style Show. Music will be furnished by the famous SAXA-PHONE ORCHESTRA. Guests tickets may be procured, without cost, upon application in person to any of the merchants, during The Style Show. Come! We're expecting you!

Fares Refunded Visiting Buyers

RACE PROGRAM OF COUNTY FAIR

October 6th.—First Day.
3:00 Mixed Race (6 counties) $100.00
2:25 Trot 200.00
2:15 Pace 250.00
3-4 Mile Run 50.00

October 7th.—Second Day.
Roadster Pace (Calloway county only) best 2 in 3 35.00
2:15 Trot 250.00
2:20 Pace 200.00
5-8 Mile Run 50.00

October 8th.—Third Day.
Roadster Trot (Calloway county only) best 2 in 3 35.00
Free for all Trot 200.00
2:25 Pace 200.00
Murray Derby, 1 1/2 mile 100.00

October 9th.—Fourth Day.
2:20 Trot 200.00
Free for all Pace 200.00
Consolation Run, for horses that have not been 1-2 50.00

Only horses owned in the counties of Calloway, Graves and Marshall, Ky., and in Henry, Weakley and Stewart, Tenn., eligible to start in the 3:00 race, and must have been owned in one of these counties at least three months previous to entry.

In the roadster races, horses are to be driven to buggy by owner. Horses that have been trained for professional racing are not eligible to this class. No horse can win more than one money in any event.

Fourth Day, Continued.

Mule Race (Calloway county only) 1-2 mile $5.00
Green Horse Run (Calloway county only) 1-2 mile 5.00
Money divided $3.00-$2.00.
No entrance money; must be at least five starters.

Cheapest accident insurance—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. For burns, scalds, cuts, and emergencies. All druggists sell it. 25c and 50c.

W. L. Baucum & Son have just received a car of Universal Wire Fencing, get their prices before buying.

Notice.

All persons who have not paid their 1914 taxes must come and arrange this matter by Sept. 1, 1915, or I will proceed to collect as the law directs.—P. F. Waterfield, City Marshal.

For any itchininess of the skin, for skin rashes, chaps, pimples, etc., try Doan's Ointment. 50c at all drug stores.

City Taxes.

The city tax books for 1915 are now in my hands for collection. Come as early as you can and pay your taxes as the city needs the money.—P. F. Waterfield, City Marshal.

Reduced rates on all railroads to the great Henry County Fair to be held at Paris, Tenn., September 22, 23, 24 and 25.

TAXES

The Tax Books are Now in my Hands for

1915 TAXES

I will say to the people that under the law the taxes must and will be collected. Make your arrangements to meet them promptly. Make deposit with your sheriff and get your tax receipt.

I or One of my Deputies Will be at the Following Places and Dates:

Dexter, Hico and Taylors Store, Saturday, September 4, and Saturday October 2.

Hazel, Concord and Lynn Grove, Saturday, September 11, and Saturday, October 9.

Almo, Brandon and Backsburg, Saturday, September 18, and Saturday, October 16.

Crossland, Faxon and Kirksey, Saturday, September 25, and Saturday, October 23.

Respectfully yours,

W. A. PATTERSON

Sheriff of Calloway County

One, Two Lookout!

You are going to miss a bargain in Mens' and Boys' Suits,

If you dont come to
CHERRY & WOFFORD'S, Cherry, Ky.,
within the next fifteen days.

In fact, everything in our entire store of general merchandise is going cheap for CASH. Come on and get first choice.

A Little Money Buys Lots of Goods.

Highest Market Price for Produce of all Kinds.

Cherry & Wofford

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Eggs, 16 cents per doz. at W. L. Baucum & Son, Cherry.

Sam Bynum, of Paducah, spent last Sunday in the city the guest of relatives.

Seed Wheat. Good grade of seed wheat for sale at $1.25 per bushel. See Geo. W. Overby.

Eggs, 16 cents per doz. at W. L. Baucum & Son, Cherry.

Jim Morris has been nursing a very sore hand the past week, suffering with blood poison.

Buy your Grass seed from W. L. Baucum & Son, Cherry, Ky., and save money.

J. L. Caton, of Clifton, Tenn., editor of the Clifton Courier, was in the city last week on a short business trip.

Roy Holland, of Lexington, Tenn., was in the city the past week the guest of his parents, E. G. Holland and wife.

Hayden Roberts left today for Georgetown, Ky., where he will again enter the Georgetown college.

Mr. Lee Wells, of Martin, Tenn., was in the city the past week the guest of his brother, J. K. P. Wells and family.

Mrs. Maggie Forest and son, Vernon, left the latter part of the past week for Oklahoma where they will reside in the future.

Luther Parker, west of the city, was called to Whitlock the past week on account of the serious illness of a sister.

Two autos left here Tuesday morning with a number of Murray citizens for Fulton to attend the Fulton fair.

Mrs. Bennetta Frazier left last Saturday morning for Paris, Tenn., where she will be the guest of relatives for several days.

Mrs. John Clopton returned last week from a several week's stay in Denver, Col., and was very much benefited by her stay in the western city.

Mrs. A. C. Finley, of Paducah, has been in the city the past several days the guest of Henry Theobald and wife.

Colt Show.—We will hold our annual colt show at the residence of J. H. Ellis on the fourth Saturday in September.—Story & Ellis.

Quite a number of Murray citizens motored to Paris Sunday afternoon to hear the Methodist evangelist, Rev. Burke Culpeper, who is conducting a meeting in that city.

A lazy liver leads to chronic dyspepsia and constipation—weakens the whole system. Doan's Regulax (25c per box) act mildly on the liver and bowels. At all drug stores.

Oron Keys and wife and Otis Butterworth, of Brookport, Ill., were in the city Sunday and Monday the guests of relatives and friends. They came in Mr. Keys' car.

A second dividend of 25 per cent was declared by the deputy banking commissioner in charge of the affairs of the defunct Hazel bank and checks were mailed to depositors the first of the month.

Miss Hontas Dunn left last week for Elkton; Miss Nina Rudd for Mayfield, and Miss Ruth Houston for Bedford, Ky., in which places they will be engaged as teachers in the public schools.

Murray Chapter No. 92, R. A. M., meets Friday night of this week in regular convention for the purpose of electing officers. All members are urged to attend.

Marion Pogue, of Princeton, was the guest of his uncle, T. F. Pogue, and transacted business in connection with the state department of education here the past week.

Hon. Joseph E. Washington, for ten years a Congressman from the Nashville, Tenn., district, died in that city last Saturday of typhoid fever. He was a brother of Mrs. Felix G. Ewing, of Glenraven, Tenn.

Louise Johnson, the four year old daughter of Elsie Johnson, living a few miles west of the city, died Wednesday night after a brief illness of diphtheria. The burial took place Thursday at Goshen.

Miss Lucy Darnall, a young woman living with her parents near Hardin on the Hardin and Wadesboro road, killed herself last Monday by cutting her throat with a razor. She was in poor health and her mind was affected.

Zel Ferguson came in home last Saturday to spend some time the guest of his mother, Mrs. S. J. Ferguson. He has been employed in the office of the Park City Times, of Bowling Green, Ky., the past several months.

Mr. Eldridge Banks has been suffering with a sore hand for the past week and compelled to give up his work at the mill for a while. He had a tumor removed from the hand some several days ago.

Felix Bailey, deputy sheriff of the east side, returned last Sunday from Paducah where he carried his five year old son for an operation on the jaw. The little fellow had a tooth pulled some several weeks ago and a diseased bone resulted.

Ed Drinkard, brother of Clint, Wes and Dee, of this county, died at his home the past week in Clarksville, Texas, after a very brief illness of stomach trouble. Mr. Drinkard left Calloway county about twenty-four years ago and has resided in Texas since that time. He was about 48 years of age and is survived by a wife and seven children.

Miss Gracie Hughes left Tuesday morning for the Nashville and Louisville millinery markets where she will spend some time. She will be in charge of the millinery department of the McElrath store, of Benton.

Hood, Hughes & Ryan have purchased the J. B. Hay lumber business and are now in charge. The purchase of this property gives this popular firm the entire control of the lumber business in this city.

Colt Show.—I will hold my colt show Saturday, September 18th, at my house 6 miles east of Murray. Come on boys and bring your colts to the show whether paid for or not. Come on and be at home with us.—F. T. Rogers.

Colt Show.—I will hold my annual colt show at my home the fourth Saturday in September. Persons indebted to me must come prepared to make settlement of the amount. Please bear this in mind.—J. F. Seaford. 923*

Mr. Wiley Young, a well known farmer, has purchased the interest of C. W. Wofford in the store of Cherry & Wofford, at Cherry, and will take charge of the interest at an early date. The Ledger learns that Mr. Wofford will go west to locate at an early date.

Mrs. S. Higgins and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, will leave Friday for Rome, Ga., where Miss Higgins will enter college for the year. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Whitnell, who with Mrs. Higgins will visit relatives in Dalton, Ga., before returning to Murray.

Cane Mills, Pans, Furnaces, Jugs, etc. "Gold Medal" field seeds, consisting of the best Red Top, Timothy, Rye and Winter Turf Oats. Ox Brand Fertilizer for wheat and grass. Prices right on all of above named goods, also see us if you are in the market for a good buggy.—Sexton Bros. 992

The Ledger is in receipt of a notice from the district federal court, of Bowling Green, to the effect that L. D. Grace, formerly of Murray, now a resident of Franklin, Ky., had filed a petition in bankruptcy. Mr. Grace has many friends in this county who will regret to learn of any financial reverses that he might have suffered.

Irvan Haynes, the eleven year old son of Jack Haynes and wife, of this city, died last Friday after a lingering illness of meningitis. The remains were carried to Benton for burial. The young boy was well known in the city and had many friends who regret to learn of his untimely death.

Asa Collier, son of Fayette Collier, and Miss Vada Stubblefield, daughter of "Billie" Stubblefield, both prominent and popular young people of the east side of the county, were united in marriage last Sunday at New Hope church by Rev. Mac Pool. Quite a number of friends witnessed the ceremony. The Ledger joins their host of friends in happiest wishes.

Dr. B. E. Berry accompanied by his son and Dr. Wildy Graves left Murray last Sunday morning at 3 o'clock for Illinois where they spent several hours at the bedside of Dr. Berry's sister, who is quite ill. They returned the same day, reaching Murray at 12 o'clock Sunday night. The trip was made in Dr. Berry's car.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life. If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions. It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength. Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Farms for Sale.—The J. H. Ellis home place, 80 acres, 7-room house, 2 barns, stables, outbuildings. See J. H. Ellis, Ross Paschall or Leslie Ellis. Also 68 acres at South Pleasant Grove, 40 acres open, all fenced, no other improvements. See J. H. or Duncan Ellis. 993

J. H. Alley and wife arrived here the first of the week on a visit to Rob Lee and family. Mr. Alley has just completed the installation of a light and water plant for the city of Dresden, Tenn., and will leave the latter part of the week for Oklahoma to install a sewer and water plant at Okuma. Mrs. Alley will remain here for some time.

Mr. S. H. Dees returned home last Saturday night from an extended pleasure trip through the west and northwest, visiting Washington, Oregon and California while absent. He was delighted with the natural beauty of the western country and admired the pluck of the energy of the citizenship of that section, but declared that Kentucky and Calloway county were the most splendid sections of the world.

Bob Hodge, of Fulton, Ky., driving a Maxwell auto, collided with a buggy driven by Burl Valentine accompanied by Mrs. Hawk Valentine, on the streets of Murray Sunday afternoon, resulting in the vehicle being almost completely demolished. Neither of the occupants of the vehicle were injured. The buggy was the property of Linn Valentine and the damage to the vehicle was settled by the owner of the car.

Elder W. T. Brooks, of Ohio, is conducting a series of meetings at the First Christian church this week. The first sermon was delivered Sunday morning. The song service is being conducted by Miss Wilhite, also of Ohio. Elder Brooks is a very convincing talker and a considerable interest is being aroused from the very outset. The meeting will continue for some time.

Cures Hog Cholera. B. A. Thomas Hog Powders has a record of 95 cures out of every one hundred. The makers of this medicine say they know what it will do and authorize us to guarantee a 90 per cent cure. This means that if B. A. Thomas Hog Powders do not cure 90 per cent of your hogs, it does not cost you a penny. Better look into this right now. Remember we do the guaranteeing.—Sexton Bros.

Durrett Padgett died last Monday at his home in Hardin, Ky., after a lingering illness of tubercular meningitis. The remains were brought to this place Tuesday morning and carried to Martins chapel for burial. Mr. Padgett was a son of Foster Padgett and wife and was a native of this county. He was about 25 years of age and is survived by a wife and one child. The many relatives and friends in this county have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Farm Sales.—Mr. Farmer, why not go South, where crop failure is practically unknown; alfalfa grows naturally 6 tons per acre; corn 80 to 100 bushels; oats 135 bushels; wheat, cotton, etc., in proportion; hogs and cattle big money makers; send for descriptive literature of farms for sale and lease on easy terms in Alabama and Mississippi. The A. C. Burnett Company, Cadiz, Ky. Agents Wanted. 924

Coughs That Are Stopped. Careful people see that they are stopped. Dr. King's New Discovery is a remedy of merit. It has held its own on the market for 46 years. Youth and old age testify to its soothing and healing qualities. Pneumonia and lung troubles are often caused by delay of treatment. Dr. King's New Discovery stops those hacking coughs and relieves ja grapple tendencies. Money back if it fails. 50c and $1.00.

Fall Millinery

We beg to announce that we have just received an up-to-date line of all the new creations in Fall and Winter Millinery.

We have a complete line of trimmings, shapes and ready-to-wear Hats, and Feather Boas.

Your Inspection Invited.

Mrs. Inez B. Sale

EAST SIDE COURT SQUARE

Quick Eyeglass Repairs

It is certainly a relief to know that you can get repairs here quickly, without serious inconvenience or loss of time. Only the exceptional mechanical facilities and a complete record system such as we maintain make this sort of optical service possible.

JOE T. PARKER
Jeweler and Optician
MURRAY, KY.

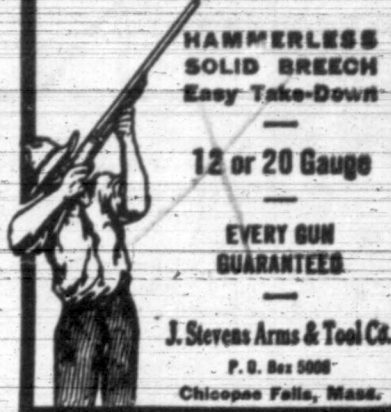

I. W. KEYS ATTORNEY

Office With Drs. Keys & Keys,
GATLIN BUILDING.

STEVENS Repeating Shotguns

The Stevens Hammerless
costs no more than some hammer guns.

It has the celebrated
STEVENS RECOIL UNLOCK providing safety against
"hang-fires."

Mrs. Ziba H. Williams, of Paducah, captured first prize on embroidery work at the fair at Anna, Ill., this week, according to word received from Mr. Williams, who entered the exhibits. They were a gown, a pair of pillow slips and a baby dress. Mr. Williams will enter the exhibits at the fair at Murphysboro, Ill., next week and Mrs. Williams will compete for the prizes at the Paducah fair on October 5, 6, 7 and 8. Mrs. Williams has previously won prizes at various points for her excellent needle work.—Paducah Sun.

Buy your Grass seed from W. L. Baucum & Son, Cherry, Ky., and save money.

Ledger ads pay 100 per cent.

Broach & Fain

Have Some

Cash Bargains TO OFFER YOU

- 1 barrel half patent Flour $5.60
- 1 barrel of fancy patent Flour - - - - - 6.50
- 1 bag half patent Flour - .75
- 1 bag Omega Flour - .95
- $1.00 size can Coffee - .90
- 1 package of Arbuckle's Coffee - - - - - .20
- 1 pound of good roasted Coffee - - - - - .10
- 3 cans Salmon - - - .25
- 8-pound can Soda - - .10
- 1 gallon pure Apple Vinegar - - - - .25
- 1 gallon Cane Vinegar - .20
- 4 pounds Paris Green - .95
- 10-pound bucket of Snow Drift Lard - - - - 1.00
- 5-pound bucket of Snow Drift Lard - - - .50
- 50-pound can of pure hog Lard - - - - - 4.55
- 50-pound can Compound Lard - - - - - 3.85
- Dry salt Meat, per pound .10
- 100 pounds of Granulated Sugar - - - - - 6.10

We Will Pay 15 Cents per Dozen for Good Fresh Eggs

10 Cents per Pound for Young and Old Chickens

These Prices are for CASH ONLY

Broach & Fain

For its wonderful accuracy, its safety and convenience, and its effectiveness for small game and target shooting, you should buy

The Marlin

Repeating Rifle

The Marlin .22 pump-action repeater has simple, quick mechanism and strong safety construction. Has sensible, visible hammer. It takes down easily. You can look through the barrel—it cleans from both ends. Its Solid Steel Top protects your face and eyes against injury from defective cartridges, from shells, powder and gases. The Side Ejection throws shells away to the side—never across your line of sight. Handles all .22 short, .22 long and .22 long rifle cartridges, including the hollow-point hunting cartridges. Accurate to 200 yards. A perfect gun for rabbit, squirrel, hawk, grouse, etc.

Marlin .22 repeaters also made with lever action; ask your dealer.

The Marlin Firearms Co., 42 Willow St., New Haven, Conn. Send 3c postage for complete catalog of all Marlin repeating rifles and shotguns.

A School Day Sale

DING! DONG!! The School Bell is ringing! Now is the right time to get ready, and our store can give you the very best help in this line and save you money. We can't start to tell you everything we carry in the school line, but name a few:

- | | | | |
|--------------------------------|-------------|---------|----------------------------|
| Tablets | Pencils | Pens | Handkerchiefs |
| Composition Books | | | Childrens Dresses, etc. |
| Note Books of all kinds | | | Corset Waists |
| Inks | Crayons | Erasers | Silk Ribbons |
| Pencil Sharpeners | | | Hose Supporters |
| Baskets | Lunch Boxes | | Tooth Brushes |
| Book Satchels | | | Pocket Scissors and Knives |
| Boys' Pants, Shirts and Blouse | Hose | | Pocket Combs |

We will give away one Drinking Cup filled with Candy to every boy or girl FREE, with every purchase of 25c.

Come to Our School Sale. Starts Sat., Aug. 28.

Johnson & Broach

5, 10 and 25c Variety Store

HIS LOVE STORY

MARIE VAN VORST
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

COPYRIGHT BY THE BOBBY MERILL COMPANY

CHAPTER I.

A Serious Event.

Le comte de Sabron, in the undress uniform of captain in the Cavalry, sat smoking and thinking.

What is the use of being thirty years old with the brevet of captain and much distinction of family if you are a poor man—in short, what is the good of anything if you are alone in the world and no one cares what becomes of you?

He rang his bell, and when his ordonnance appeared, said sharply:

"Que diable is the noise in the stable, Brunet? Don't you know that when I smoke at this hour all Tarascon must be kept utterly silent?"

Tarascon is never silent. No French meridional town is, especially in the warm sunlight of a glorious May day.

"The noise, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "is rather melancholy."

"Melancholy!" exclaimed the young officer. "It is infernal. Stop it at once."

The ordonnance held his kerf in his hand. He had a round good-natured face and kind gray eyes that were used to twinkle at his master's humor and caprices.

"I beg pardon, mon Capitaine, but a very serious event is taking place."

"It will be more serious yet, Brunet, if you don't keep things quiet."

"I am sorry to tell, mon Capitaine, that 'Michette' has just died."

"Michette?" exclaimed the master. "What relation is she of yours, Brunet?"

"Ah, mon Capitaine," grinned the ordonnance, "relation! None! It is the little terrier that Monsieur le Capitaine may have remarked now and then in the garden."

Sabron nodded and took his cigarette out of his mouth as though in respect for the deceased.

"Ah, yes," he said, "that melancholy little dog! Well, Brunet?"

"She has just breathed her last, mon Capitaine, and she is leaving behind her rather a large family."

"I am not surprised," said the officer. "There are six," vouchsafed Brunet, "of which, if mon Capitaine is willing, I should like to keep one."

"Nonsense," said Sabron, "on no account. You know perfectly well, Brunet, that I don't surround myself with things that can make me suffer. I have not kept a dog in ten years. I try not to care about my horses even. Everything to which I attach myself dies or causes me regret and pain. And I won't have any miserable little puppy to complicate existence."

"Bien, mon Capitaine," accepted the ordonnance tranquilly. "I have given away five. The sixth is in the stable. If Monsieur le Capitaine would come down and look at it."

Sabron rose, threw his cigarette away and, following across the garden in the bland May light, went into the stable where Madame Michette, a small wire-haired Irish terrier had given birth to a fine family and herself gone the way of those who do their duty to a race. In the straw at his feet Sabron saw a ratlike, unprepossessing little object, crawling about feebly in search of warmth and nourishment, uttering pitiful little cries. Its extreme loneliness and helplessness touched the big soldier, who said curtly to his man:

"Wrap it up, and if you don't know how to feed it I should not be surprised if I could induce it to take a little warm milk from a quill. At all events we shall have a try with it. Fetch it along to my rooms."

And as he retraced his steps, leaving his order to be executed, he thought to himself: The little beggar is not much more alone in the world than I am! As he said that he recalled a word in the meridional patois: Pitchoune, which means "poor little thing."

"I shall call it Pitchoune," he thought, "and we shall see if it can't do better than its name suggests."

He went slowly back to his rooms and busied himself at his table with his correspondence. Among the letters was an invitation from the Marquise d'Esclignac, an American married to a Frenchman, and the great lady of the country thereabouts.

"Will you not," she wrote, "come to dine with us on Sunday? I have my niece with me. She would be glad to see a French soldier. She has expressed such a wish. She comes from a country where soldiers are rare. We dine at eight."

Sabron looked at the letter and its fine clear handwriting. Its wording was less formal than a French invitation is likely to be, and it gave him a sense of cordiality. He had seen, during his rides, the beautiful lines of the Chateau d'Esclignac. Its towers surely looked upon the Rhone. There would be a divine view from the terraces. It would be a pleasure to go there. He thought more of what the place would be than of the people in it, for he was something of a hermit, rather a recluse, and very reserved.

He was writing a line of acceptance when Brunet came in, a tiny bundle in his hand.

"Put Pitchoune over there in the sunlight," ordered the officer, "and we shall see if we can bring him up by hand."

CHAPTER II.

Julia Redmond.

He remembered all his life the first dinner at the Chateau d'Esclignac, where from the terrace he saw the Rhone lying under the early moonlight and the shadows falling around the castle of good King Rene.

As he passed in, his sword clanking—for he went in full dress uniform to dine with the Marquise d'Esclignac—he saw the picture the two ladies made in their drawing-room: the marquise in a very splendid dress (which he never could remember) and her niece, a young lady from a country whose name it took him long to learn to pronounce, in a dress so simple that of course he never could forget it! He remembered for a great many years the fall of the ribbon at her pretty waist, the bunch of sweet peas at her girdle, and he always remembered the face that made the charm of the picture.

Their welcome to him was gracious. The American girl spoke French with an accent that Sabron thought bewilderingly charming, and he put aside some of his reserve and laughed and talked at his ease. After dinner (this he remembered with peculiar distinctness) Miss Redmond sang for him, and although he understood none of the words of the English ballad, he learned the melody by heart and it followed with him when he left. It went with him as he crossed the terrace into the moonlight to mount his horse; it went home with him; he hummed it, and when he got up to his room he hummed it again as he bent over the little roll of flannel in the corner and fed the puppy hot milk from a quill.

This was a painstaking operation and required patience and delicacy, both of which the big man had at his fingertips. The tune of Miss Redmond's song did for a lullaby and the puppy fell comfortably to sleep while Sabron kept the picture of his evening's outing contentedly in his mind. But later he discovered that he was not so contented, and hunted the hours when he might return.

He shortly made a call at the Chateau d'Esclignac with the result that he had a new picture to add to his collection. This time it was the picture of a lady alone; the Marquise d'Esclignac doing tapestry. While Sabron found that he had grown reticent again, he listened for another step and another voice and heard nothing; but before he took leave there was a hint of a second invitation to dinner.

The marquise was very handsome that afternoon and wore yet another bewildering dress. Sabron's simple taste was dazzled. Nevertheless, she made a graceful picture, one of beauty and refinement, and the young soldier took it away with him. As his horse began to trot, at the end of the alley, near the poplars at the lower end of the rose terrace he caught a glimpse of a white dress (undoubtedly a simpler dress than that worn by Madame d'Esclignac).

CHAPTER III.

A Second Invitation.

"I don't think, mon Capitaine, that it is any use," Brunet told his master.

Sabron, in his shirt-sleeves, sat before a table on which, in a basket, lay Michette's only surviving puppy. It was a month-old Sabron already knew how bright its eyes were and how alluring its young ways.

"Be still, Brunet," commanded the officer. "You do not come from the south or you would be more sanguine. Pitchoune has got to live."

He had taken him as far as the high road and on this day, as it were in order that he should understand the struggle for existence, a bicycle had cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until

HOLDS THE RECORD

United States Leads the World in Trade.

Expansion Must Be Classed as Extraordinary—Country May Well Be Called the Workshop of the World.

For the week ended August 1 the balance of trade in favor of the United States was in excess of $24,000,000. The figures are based on the imports and exports from the thirteen principal customs districts of the country.

The favorable balance of $24,000,000 for a single week is simply an incident in the extraordinary expansion of the American export trade. The figures setting forth the foreign trade of the United States have reached a point beyond ordinary comprehension. In the fiscal year ended June 30 last the sales of domestic products by the United States to foreign countries totaled the stupendous value of $2,768,645,532.

As the foreign trade bureau of the Philadelphia Commercial museum says, the only way in which a conception of this enormous trade can be obtained is by comparison. How great this trade is can be better understood when it is remembered that the export total was nearly double the value of the corn crop of last year, over three and one-half times that of the wheat crop and over five times that of the cotton crop.

The United States is recognized as the greatest workshop in the world. Yet the value of the exports in the year ended June 30 was 15 per cent of the total capital invested in manufacturing in the last census year. Another comparison shows that the value of all the minerals produced in the United States in 1913 was $325,000,000, short of the total exports in the fiscal year of 1915.

The United States has established a new world's record.

With the return of fancy needlework to fashion in the belongings of grown people, it is sure to appear on children's clothes, where it seems more appropriate than any other sort of trimming. The small and dainty patterns in laces are chosen when laces are used.

The little empire gown shown in the picture has a body of narrow lace and fine embroidery. It is sleeveless, with a ruffle of wider val lace finishing the arm eyes. This is a pattern for summer wear and few sleeveless gowns are made for little girls. For between seasons, little models are made with high neck and long sleeves, finished with fancy needlework and small tucks. These are to be replaced, as the cold weather comes on, by gowns of canton flannel, made long.

The small boy's pajamas hardly need description. They are made of light cotton materials. The pants are fastened at the waist with a tape which is run through a hem in the top. They are as plain as can be and so is the coat. This is usually bound with braid and provided with a pocket at one side. The same pattern is used for the canton flannel pajamas used in cold weather.

For the comfort of little ones who sleep in cold rooms and are liable to kick their feet from under cover, bed shoes of canton flannel or of elder-down are recommended. They are easily made and easily laundered and they are most comforting.

There are numbers of patterns for little nightdresses—the simplest ones are the best. For the little boy, pajamas, like those shown in the picture, cannot be improved upon.

There is no reason to doubt the sincerity of a woman who voluntarily wears a Salvation army bonnet.

Secretary Lansing's Record.

Still in the prime of life, Secretary of State Lansing has not only been a profound student of international law but he has had valuable experience in applying it. He was one of counsel for the United States in the Bering sea arbitration in 1892; he was one of counsel for the United States before the Bering sea claims commission in 1896; he was solicitor for the United States before the Alaskan boundary tribunal in 1903; he was American counsel at the arbitration at The Hague of the Atlantic coast fisheries controversy in 1909, and he was agent of the United States at the time of the American and British claims arbitration in 1912. Whether Mr. Lansing's tenure is long or short, it will end, no doubt, as it begins, honorably and patriotically.

No More Tariff Bounty.

Today Big Business faces the certainty of no more tariff bounty. It must set about adjusting itself to the new and fairer order of things. If it cannot meet competition on equal terms it must get out of the way.

No problem of readjustment confronts legitimate business. The prospect of a fair field and no favors is not a problem. It is an opportunity.

That is the opportunity the country has been asking. It is the opportunity the Democratic party pledged itself to deliver. The Democratic party welcomes the responsibility. The head of the party has spoken.

Time for Appropriate Action.

Surely this is a fit time to emphasize the announced purpose of the government to put its seal of approval only upon banking institutions that serve the legitimate commercial needs of the country.

Country's Prosperity.

There are four great lines upon which the prosperity of this country is based—agriculture, industry, finance, transportation. As for the first, the crops this year are going to be the biggest ever; and the farmers are going to make a lot of money because they will find labor plentiful. As for finance, the banks are full of money. As for transportation, the situation is in the control of the Interstate Commerce commission. As for industry, in the middle West and other sections that is prospering.

cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose. Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table: he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others, often, giving preference to the first, when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner. "See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet, "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

Folk We Touch In Passing

By Julia Chandler Marz

© BY MCLURE NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE

THE GIRL AND THE SCREEN

When The Mother entered the combination delicatessen shop and ice cream parlor a group of girls seated at a table were so much absorbed in their discussion that they had even forgotten the refreshments before them. Nor did they see The Mother as she stood waiting for one of the busy clerks to come her way.

"Why, we've just got to find a way to keep her out. I tell you we can't have her in the sorority. She would spoil all the fun. Every last one of you know how rude and unfair she is capable of being," and little Miss Bright Eyes, who had the floor propped, mixed in a name with her spirited protest which sent the hot blood to The Mother's temples and made her leave the shop without making the purchase for which she had entered it.

For you see the subject of all the talk was The Girl—the listener's own young daughter.

And what was worse The Mother knew in her heart of hearts that the criticism she had heard was true.

Throughout the afternoon of the crisp November day The Mother sat alone in her sewing room. The work she had begun lay untouched in her lap, nor did she stir in answer to either door or telephone bell. Her gaze was riveted on the expanse of lawn which circled her pretty home, and as she watched the little dead leaves blown away into hollows and corners and trenches for their long winter's sleep her thoughts ran back today it was quite obvious that she had not wholly succeeded.

The Mother sat in her sewing room, the work she had begun immediately after lunch lying untouched for hours in her lap. She heard The Girl open the front door; lay her books on the library table, and come slowly down the hall. When she opened the door of the sunny little sewing room The Mother had picked up the work in her lap and was plying her needle industriously.

To The Girl she gave a smile and went on with her work, ignoring the troubled look in the young eyes as they watched her from the doorway.

There was obviously something wrong, but The Mother, for the first time in her life, made it difficult for The Girl to tell her.

"Oh, mother, I have got in so wrong!" finally from The Girl, who, in the sudden memory of the embarrassing time she had been having, did not notice The Mother's unusual silence.

"I called that little Mrs. Lee a perfect fool today, and she overheard. I was talking to Marjorie Mason about the party for which Mary Lee has sent out invitations and I had no idea her mother was within a mile around, when I suddenly turned and saw her standing back of me when I had just said that it was a pity for Mary to have such a dowd for a mother."

"You'll make it alright with her won't you mother?" ended The Girl in keen distress.

The Mother regarded her with grave, calm eyes—this pretty young daughter who had never learned to over all the sixteen years of The Girl's life, and, as though it had happened yesterday, the scene of the child's first quarrel came with grave importance to her memory.

"Oh, Mother, I Have Got in So Wrong."

The Girl had been to blame. She had been intolerably rude to Little Neighbor, beastly unfair, and when her small guest had stood out against her The Girl had burst into a storm of tears which so touched The Mother's sympathy that it quite ran away with her judgment.

From that day on The Mother had been nothing better than a screen behind which The Girl might find protection.

From this far-away picture of the first quarrel of The Girl The Mother's thoughts came back to the group of serious young faces in the ice cream parlor where her schoolmates were discussing ways and means of keeping The Girl out of their sorority, assigning as their reason that she was "rude and unfair."

The words rang through The Mother's mind with the persistency of some lilting tune from a musical comedy. They seemed to dance away with the scurrying leaves out on the broad lawn, and then came back to sear their way like a burning brand into The Mother's brain. She remembered innumerable instances when, in her dealings with her companions, The Girl had shown no sense of justice, and as many others in which her domineering egotism and intolerable selfishness had appalled The Mother's heart, but each time the adoring parent had believed that only she saw the hideous faults of The Girl and so she had gone on from year to year, screening them from the public eye, or at least thinking that she did, for guard her tongue because she had never had to suffer the consequences of its stings. And the Girl, amazed at the slowness of The Mother's consent to "make it alright with Mrs. Lee," reiterated her question.

It was almost dusk when The Girl left the sewing room to wash her tear-stained face. The Mother watched her dejected steps take their way down the street toward the home of Mary Lee, and her heart ached for her.

Even now The Mother's impulse was to rush out of the house, overtake The Girl and save her the painful apology to her neighbor. She had been a screen for so long that the thing had become habitual, and it was only the realization that The Girl's womanhood would be permanently dwarfed if she did not begin at once to do a little fighting on her own account that held The Mother beside the window watching for the returning steps.

The Girl's feet almost ran along the street as they brought her home. Her head was held high; red spots burned her cheeks, and when she threw open the door of the room in which The Mother waited there was a glorious light of conquest in her eyes which argued happily for her growth.

Vicar for Six Gets $4,500.

The living of St. Alphege, London, Wall, England, which recently became vacant, is a sinecure. There is no congregation, the average number of worshippers on Sunday being about six. The stipend of the incumbent is $4,500 a year, and it has been suggested that the church should be annexed with another and the salary of the vicar put to better use within the church.

IN ALL OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

There Is Hardly A Woman Who Does Not Rely Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Princeton, Ill.—"I had inflammation, hard headaches in the back of my neck and a weakness all caused by female trouble, and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with such excellent results that I am now feeling fine. I recommend the Compound and praise it to all. I shall be glad to have you publish my letter."

There is scarcely a neighbor around me who does not use your medicine."—Mrs. J. F. JOHNSON, R. No. 4, Box 30, Princeton, Illinois.

Experience of a Nurse.

Poland, N.Y.—"In my experience as a nurse I certainly think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a great medicine. I wish all women with female troubles would take it. I took it when passing through the Change of Life with great results and I always recommend the Compound to all my patients if I know of their condition in time. I will gladly do all I can to help others to know of this great medicine."—Mrs. HORACE NEWMAN, Poland, Herkimer Co., N.Y.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Constipation Vanishes Forever

Prompt Relief—Permanent Cure CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price. Genuine must bear Signature.

A Treat for Ma.

"Yes, we girls are going to camp out."

"Oh, we are going to take mother along to cook. She needs a vacation."

Judge.

HOW TO HEAL STUBBORN TORMENTING SKIN DISEASES

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable drugstore get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.—Adv.

In Time of Due Prepare for Drought.

Brother Cassius Cautious Kish came forward to be baptized at the colored campmeeting. The parson was tired of baptizing Brother Cassius and said: "Wait! you always come forward to be baptized into the fold! You have been baptized 17 times. I've baptized you my own self every fall since the big woods burned and Marse Honeycutt died from over-exertion! Hissel, Ain't dat de truth?"

"Amen," said Cassius.

"How many times you'll expect to be baptized, dat's what I ax ye?" "I reckon," replied Cassius Cautious Kish, "I'll be baptized every year. Do ottomer I gets dis mortal clay soaked down, de safer I'll be from sparks on dat great day when de world am all on fire. Hallelujah!"—Judge.

Nora's Delusion.

Lady—You quite understand, Nora, I shall only be "at home" every Wednesday from 3 to 5.

Nora—Yes, mum. (To herself) Nora, you've got a heavenly situation. The mistress, only at home for two hours a week.

Perfectly at Home.

"Are the summer boarders making themselves at home?"

"Yep," replied Farmer Cornstossel; "they sit down to the table and kick about the food same as if they was among their own relations."

Invokes God's Reward For Pellagra Cure

Jumbo, Va.—J. H. Satterwhite writes: "I want to thank you for what you have done for me. You have cured my wife, God bless you in your work. I hope some day to see you; if I never see you I hope to meet you in heaven. God will reward you for your grand and noble work."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address: American Compounding Co., Box 2086, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—Adv.

TO KNOW FROM EXPERIENCE

Evidently Mr. Jimso Was to Get a Plentiful Quantity of Fresh Air That Night.

Mr. Jimso was in the habit of attending meetings which, often detained him after the usual hour of retirement. One night he was exceedingly late, and his wife, after fretting herself into a temper, went to bed determined to give her husband a lesson. When she had been upstairs about ten minutes she heard a knock, so, putting her head out of the window, she inquired:

"Is that you, Tom?"

"Yes, Kate, come and open the door," was the answer.

"What has kept you out so late?" asked his wife.

"We have been discussing the real benefits of fresh air," answered he.

"Well," returned his better half, "you can lecture tomorrow night from experience," and down went the window with a bang.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic, because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.—Adv.

Carrying Them Out.

Youth (with tie of the Stars and Stripes)—I sent you some suggestions telling you how to make your paper more interesting. Have you carried out any of my ideas?

Editor—Did you meet the office boy with the wastepaper basket as you came upstairs?

Youth—Yes, yes, I did.

Editor—Well, he was carrying out your ideas.

Large hopes grow from small seed.

MIGHTY POWER OF LOVE

Great Truth in Words Which Emerson Is Put on Record as Having Spoken.

It was Emerson who said: "An acceptance of the sentiment of love throughout Christendom for a season, would bring the felon and the outcast to our side in tears, with the devotion of his faculties to our service. Love would put a new face on this weary old world, in which we dwell as pagans and enemies too long, and it would warm the heart to see how fast the vain diplomacy of statesmen, the impotence of armies and navies and lines of defense, would be superseded by this unarmed child." Alas that the sentiment has not been accepted, but instead the world and the individual have been laying their plans, and directing their action, by a calculation of chances which, of course, can be no bigger than the human mind that does the calculating. That love has not been tried is proved by the collapse of commercial civilization, but the things of commerce are of no account, perish, while the sentiment of love endures, because it is of God, and being of God, is sure in the end to triumph.—Universalist Leader.

Putting His Foot in It.

Niece—I do think you are clever, aunt, to be able to argue with the professor about sociology.

Aunt—I've only been concealing my ignorance, dear.

Professor—Bills (gallantly)—Oh, no, Miss Knowles. Quite the contrary, I assure you.

Wise Fish.

Bill—I see the herring catch of England last year exceeded by far that of any previous season.

Bill—They probably wanted to get in out of the wet before the submarine was started.

Disenchanted.

A party of young men and women, members of a sketching club, were motoring along a country road. Just within the fence on the left grew innumerable graceful stalks, each bearing globes of pale green that shaded into gray and purple.

"How enchanting!" exclaimed one young woman.

"Do tell us," said another young woman, equally enthusiastic, to a gardener standing near, "what those beautiful things are."

"Them? Them's onions gone to seed."—New York Times.

Art Discussion.

"I understand the war department is sculpturing an army," remarked the man who likes action.

"I wonder what kind of a model he's using."

"I don't know. I hope it isn't patience on a monument."

It is a painful paradox but true that a man who means everything to a girl may mean nothing.

Backache is Discouraging

Nothing is more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. If the urine is disordered, passages too frequent or scanty, there is further proof. Delay is dangerous. Prompt use of Doan's Kidney Pills now may spare you serious trouble later. Doan's is the world's best recommended kidney remedy.

A Tennessee Case

John Vail, 323 E. 18th St., Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "My kidneys were weak and the kidney secretions were scanty and painful in passage. A 150 grain dose of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me up all right. One of my children was also cured of kidney weakness by Doan's Kidney Pills."

Get Doan's at Any Store, 50c a Box

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

POSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Putting His Foot in It.

Niece—I do think you are clever, aunt, to be able to argue with the professor about sociology.

Aunt—I've only been concealing my ignorance, dear.

Professor—Bills (gallantly)—Oh, no, Miss Knowles. Quite the contrary, I assure you.

Wise Fish.

Bill—I see the herring catch of England last year exceeded by far that of any previous season.

Bill—They probably wanted to get in out of the wet before the submarine was started.

Disenchanted.

A party of young men and women, members of a sketching club, were motoring along a country road. Just within the fence on the left grew innumerable graceful stalks, each bearing globes of pale green that shaded into gray and purple.

"How enchanting!" exclaimed one young woman.

"Do tell us," said another young woman, equally enthusiastic, to a gardener standing near, "what those beautiful things are."

"Them? Them's onions gone to seed."—New York Times.

Art Discussion.

"I understand the war department is sculpturing an army," remarked the man who likes action.

"I wonder what kind of a model he's using."

"I don't know. I hope it isn't patience on a monument."

It is a painful paradox but true that a man who means everything to a girl may mean nothing.

W. N. U., MEMPHIS, MO. 37-1915.

For Thrush and Foot Diseases

Antiseptic, Cleansing and Healing

Save Your Stock

HANFORD'S BALSAM OF MYRRH

For Cuts, Wire Cuts, Lameness, Strains, Bunches, Thrush, Old Sores, Nail Wounds, Foot Rot, Fistula, Bleeding, Etc., Etc.

Made Since 1846. Ask Anybody About It

Price 25c, 50c and $1.00

All Dealers

W. N. U., MEMPHIS, MO. 37-1915.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

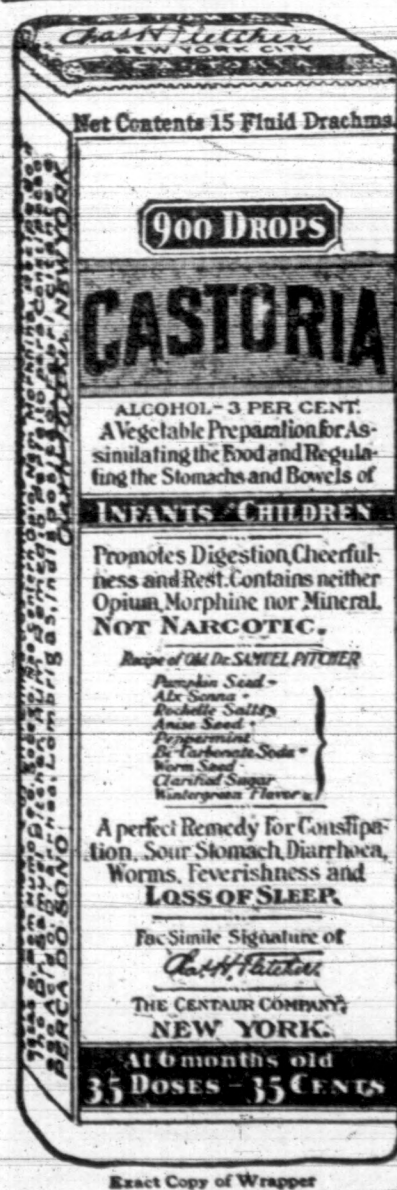

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Gold Proposition.

Hubb—Meet any icebergs, coming over on the steamer?

Gotham—Well, yes; I was introduced to a girl from Boston.

Better a song in the heart than two in the flat upstairs.

FOR HALF A CENTURY

WOOD'S FEVER PILLS have stood the test as the best remedy for Chills and Fever and all Bilious and Malarial Diseases. Once tried always used. Sold by your druggist.

DR. WM. WOOD & SONS, CAIRO, ILL.

Death Lurks In A Weak Heart

If Yours is fluttering or weak, use "RENOVINE." Made by Van Vleet-Manfield Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn. Price $1.00

Great Calloway County Fair

OCTOBER 6-7-8-9, 1915

For all N., C. & St. L. Trains
SEPTEMBER 22
 ONLY
$2.50 ROUND TRIP
 MURRAY TO TENNESSEE STATE FAIR.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 20-25, 1915.

Tickets at this rate will have return limit of Sept. 24, 1915.

$4.45 IS USUAL RATE. Tickets on sale Sept. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25.
 RETURN LIMIT SEPTEMBER 27, 1915.

For Further Particulars Address

O. L. BOREN, Agent N., C. & St. L. Ry.,
 Murray, Kentucky.

Farm for Sale.

A farm of about 37½ acres, located about 1 mile from Cherry, Ky., on R. F. D. No. 7, in graded school district; near Methodist, Baptist and Christian churches, in good neighborhood; with a new 3-room house, new stable; all under fence, lies well and all tenable; some timber and wood may be had near it for the cutting. This place is worth $1,200, but will take $900 for a quick sale. Address, J. H. Yarbrough, 403 Jackson St., Paris, Tenn., or see C. C. Yarbrough, 1 mile east of Cherry, Ky. 924

 If its a buggy you are in need of and want a bargain, see J. W. Denham, Hazel, Ky. 8263*

Opening of Hazel School.

The Hazel High and Graded School opened last Monday with a record breaking enrollment. Twenty five more pupils were enrolled than were enrolled the first day of last year's school. Eighteen pupils coming from other districts are attending this school; this is another record breaker for the opening of the school. A large number of patrons were present at the opening and some excellent talks were made by them to the pupils. The predictions are that Hazel will have the best school of its history.

Card of Thanks.

We take this method of publicly thanking our friends, neighbors, medical profession and every one, who so kindly and lovingly aided and comforted us during the darkest trial of our lives, the illness and death of our dear little Irvan. Our appreciation is deeper than words can express. The Father will bless you for your brave and noble deeds.—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haymes and family.

Colic in Horses.

Farris Horse Colic Remedy is simply dropped on the tongue through a medicine dropper. It has a proven record of 59 cures in sixty cases. The women folks can give it. Get a 50c bottle and be safe.—Sexton Bros.

Commissioners Sale

Calloway Circuit Court, Kentucky

Farmers National Bank, of Madisonville, Ky., Plaintiffs,
 VS. Supplemental Interlocutory Judgment.

H. B. Gilbert, L. Y. Woodruff and Citizens Bank of Murray, Kentucky, Defendants.
 By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Calloway Circuit Court, rendered at the August term thereof, 1915 in the above cause for the purpose of paying debt amounting to $4,837.00 and accrued interest, and costs herein expended.

I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Murray, Kentucky, to the highest bidder at public auction on the 27th day of September, 1915, between the hours of 1:00 o'clock p. m. and 3:00 o'clock p. m., being county court day, upon a credit of 6 months, the following described property, or as much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the above named judgment, to-wit:

Lying north of the city limits of Murray, Kentucky, and bounded on the south by the land of N. L. Gilbert, on the east by the property of D. W. Morris, on the north by the property of D. W. Morris and on the west by the Murray and Wadesboro road, and being the same land which was bequeathed to the said H. B. Gilbert under paragraph 7 of the last will and testament of J. W. Gilbert, dated May 24, 1904, and recorded in Will Book "D," page 273, in the office of the clerk of the Calloway county court.

For the purchase price, purchaser with approved surety or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. Edwards, Commissioner.

Commissioners Sale

Calloway Circuit Court, Kentucky

A. D. Thompson, Executor of A. J. Slaughter, deceased, Plaintiff,
 VS. Judgment.

Margaret Slaughter, et al, Defendants.

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Calloway Circuit Court rendered at the August term thereof, 1915 in the above cause for the purpose of paying debts of $1,700.04, interest and costs herein expended.

I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Murray, Kentucky, to the highest bidder at public auction on the 27th day of Sept. 1915, between the hours of 1:00 and 3:00 o'clock p. m., being county court day, upon a credit six months the following described property, or as much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the above named judgment, same lying in Calloway county, Kentucky, to-wit:

A part of the southwest quarter of section 23, township 2, range 4 east; beginning at a point on the Wadesboro and Murray road at the northeast corner of the M. L. Slaughter (now L. D. Slaughter) lot; thence north with said road 125 feet, more or less, to an alley or passway to the brickyard, thence west 21 poles more or less, thence south 21 poles more or less to the north line of the J. W. Gilbert three-acre tract, thence east 7 poles more or less to the southwest corner of the said M. L. Slaughter (now L. D. Slaughter) lot; thence north 13 poles more or less to the northwest corner of said M. L. Slaughter lot, thence east 13 poles more or less to the point of beginning, containing the brick residence of the said A. J. Slaughter, deceased, and which place was the home tract of the said decedent at the time of his death.

For the purchase price, purchaser with approved surety or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the date of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. Edwards, Commissioner.

For Fresh, Clean Groceries, go to McElrath's.

PUBLIC SALE

On the third Saturday, September 18th, at 2 p. m., at my home 6 miles west of Murray, Ky., I will offer for sale to the highest bidder, on six months' time, without interest, some registered studs, year old and weanling colts; will make horses about 16 hands high. Sired by Artist Charming 2391, out of registered Squinell and Denmark mares; some nice jacks. One registered Starlight jack, 4 years old, black with white points, 15 1-2 hands. Indian and Shetland ponies; pair of twin mule colts.

I will have my colt show at 3 p. m., same day. I am not going out of the stock business, but I am raising the young stock for sale. If you want to buy some fine blooded stock come to this sale.

I. T. CRAWFORD

LYNN GROVE, KENTUCKY

Commissioners Sale

Calloway Circuit Court, Kentucky

T. B. Thurmond, Administrator of T. G. Thurmond, deceased, Plaintiff,
 VS. Judgment.

C. A. Ellison and G. W. Wallis, Defendants.

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Calloway Circuit Court rendered at the August term thereof, 1915, in the above cause for the purpose of paying debts of $594.76, accrued interest and costs herein expended.

I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Murray, Kentucky, to the highest bidder at public auction on the 27th day of September, 1915, between the hours of 1:00 and 3:00 o'clock p. m., being county court day, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, or as much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the above judgment, same lying in Calloway county, Kentucky, to-wit:

A part of the southwest quarter of section 16, township 2, range 4 east; beginning at the southeast corner of said quarter, thence north 61½ poles to a corner, thence west 80½ poles to a corner, thence south 62 poles to a corner, thence east 80½ poles to the beginning; containing 31 acres and 10 poles. Also 20 acres of land lying due east and adjoining the said 31 acres and 10 poles tract.

For the purchase price purchaser with approved surety or securities must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. A. Edwards, Commissioner.

Handling Pea Hay

Peas should be cut for hay when the first yellow pods are seen. If cut later, too many of the leaves are lost, and, as they contain a great deal of nutriment, the vines should be cut when the leaves will not shatter off; also at this stage the vines will not be woody and coarse after they are dry and cured. Peas should be cut after the dew dries off in the morning and allowed to wilt before raking into windrows. If no rain has fallen for two or more weeks and the surface of the ground is thoroughly dry, the vines can be baled from the windrow in about four days, but they should be thoroughly tested for moisture by taking a small handful and twisting it very hard. If any moisture appears they should be left a few days longer and then baled, about 40 pounds in a bale, and allowed to stand on end two or three days before housing. If the weather is cloudy, the vines should be thrown into small shocks, or, better still, stacked around a pole. The hay will cure nicely and retain its color and flavor in these small stacks and can be baled a month later.—U. S. Agricultural Bulletin.

Bring your Produce to McElrath's and get highest market prices.

Remington-UMC
Rifles and Cartridges
for Real .22 Sport

IN the .22 caliber as in the high-power arms, your shrewd sportsman selects his rifle and cartridges for results. And when you start to be critical, there's nowhere to stop short of Remington-UMC. Made in Single Shot, Slide-Action, and Pump-Action models, the famous Remington-UMC solid bullet—now, the Autoloading model that successfully handles 18 Remington Autoloading rim-fire cartridges without reloading. For real .22 sport, get your rifle and cartridges from the dealer who displays the Red Bull Mark of Remington-UMC.

Sold by your home dealer and 3095 other leading merchants in Kentucky
 Remington Arms-Union Metallic Cartridge Co.
 Westworth Building (233 Broadway) New York City

E. S. DIUGUID

H. O. DIUGUID

...TAKE NOTICE...

In order to make room for our new Fall Stock of Furniture we are offering some remarkably CLOSE PRICES ON Bedroom Suites. Oak and Iron Beds. Dining Tables and Chairs.

 Cooking Stoves and Ranges. Dressers. Wash Stands.
 Davenport and Davenettes. Rugs and Druggetts.
 Window Shades. Queensware and Tableware.
 Library Tables.

It will Pay You to see our line of Sewing Machines

We are going to run for a while---
 ONE AT $9.90, WITH A 5 YEAR GUARANTEE.
 ONE AT $16.00, WITH A 10 YEAR GUARANTEE.

These two Sewing Machines as strictly First-Class in every respect and machines that we will gladly recommend to you to be easy running and long life.

COME TO SEE US BEFORE YOU BUY.

RESPECTFULLY,

E. S. Diuguid & Son