Ward Announces Fulton County Road Projects

Highway Commissioner Henry Ward today allocated more than $16,000 in state funds for four initial blacktopping projects in Fulton County.

Ward said the allocation will cover the cost of blacktopping portions of Tyler Road, Ky. 1212 (Rice Lane), McFadden Road and Bowers Road.

He detailed the four projects as follows: Tyler Road—this 1.8 mile project will begin at Ky. 94 at Caldwell's Grocery and extend westerly to the junction with the No. 9 Lake Road. Estimated cost of the project is $7,797.

Ky. 1212 (Rice Lane)—project will begin at Ky. 116 east of Jordan and extend northerly to Ky. 166, a distance of one mile. Estimated cost, $4,331.

McFadden Road—this road will be blacktopped from US 51 north of Fulton to Ky. 94, a distance of one-half mile. Estimated cost, $1,895.

Bowers Road—this project is a continuation of the McFadden Road improvement. It will begin at Ky. 94 and extend northerly a distance of one-half mile. Estimated cost, $2,168.

Ward said all four projects will be completed this year. He said the allocation for improving these roads consists of 100 per cent state funds and is in addition to the $169,304 already allocated to Fulton County under the Rural Secondary and Rural Highway programs for the 1965-66 fiscal year.

Bids for bituminous concrete surfacing on the Lodgeston School Crutchfield Road in Fulton County will be received by the Highway Department on April 23, Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward announced today.

The project will begin at Ky. 94 approximately 2.5 miles west of US 51 and extend northerly a distance of 1.771 miles.

Bids for blacktopping portions of the Roper School Road and Upper Bottom Road in Fulton County will be opened April 23, Highway Commissioner Henry Ward announced today.

The Roper School Road project will begin at Ky. 94 and extend northerly to 100 feet north of the bridge over Rush Creek, a total distance of one mile.

Upper Bottom Road will be blacktopped from Ky. 94 near the east city limits of Hickman to the bridge over Bayou De Chien, a distance of 0.9 mile.

Ward said that these improvements will be financed with 100 per cent state funds.

Cancer Drive Leaders Named For South Fulton Campaign

J. U. McKendree and Mrs. Harry Moss Latta have been named chairman and co-chairman of the South Fulton 1965 by Mrs. Mildred Freeman, president of the Obion County Unit.

Key workers named by Mr. McKendree and Mrs. Latta are: Floyd Martin and Albert Johnson, business and industry; Mrs. Sue Hurt, special events; Mrs. Paul Blalock, publicity; Mrs. Emily Dame, memorial chairman; Mrs. Clyde Fields, service chairman; Mrs. W. C. Jacob, public education chairman. A complete list of the volunteer workers will be published later.

Plans are under way for an extensive drive for funds to help carry on the work in research, public education and service.

It is hoped that the South Fulton and all Obion County residents will respond generously when called upon. Several in Obion county are now undergoing treatment made possible through the County Unit.

The Life Saving Theme of the American Cancer Society's 1965 crusade is, "One million three hundred thousand Americans, now alive, are cured of cancer." Heed the seven-day signals. Help fight cancer with a checkup and a check.

Petition Sent To School Board

The South Fulton City commission, at their meeting Monday night, voted unanimously to petition the Obion County Board of Education to allow religious organizations to use facilities of the South Fulton School.

The petition was aimed directly at granting a request of the Jehovah's Witnesses for a convention at the school "as a gesture of friendship and good will".

A copy of the resolution is being sent to all members of the Obion County Board, which recently turned down the request of the local church to use the South Fulton school facilities.

Thieves Plague Obion County

A wave of burglaries extending over the past several weeks has hit Obion County communities and clubhouses in the Reelfoot Lake area, according to the Union City Messenger.

TV sets, radios, guns and appliances have been stolen from many homes while the occupants were away. Last week, two schools in Union City were burglarized.

Police and Sheriff's office personnel are conducting an intensive investigation.

Investigation For Murder Follows Fatal Fire At Tavern Near Dukedom

State and Weakley county authorities are investigating the possibility of murder in connection with the death of a Dukedom, Tenn. man whose remains were found March 25 in the smoking ruins of his tavern near Dukedom.

Dist. Atty. Gen. Fleming Hodges of Dyersburg last Saturday, in a telephone conversation with a Union City Newspaper, confirmed reports that a murder investigation is under way.

The death of Forrest Edward Kelly, 59, first was believed to have been accidental. The remains were found just inside a door to the outside of the tavern. It was thought that Mr. Kelly had been awakened by the fire and was attempting to leave the building when he was overcome. "But Mr. Kelly was known to have possessed a pistol which has not been found in the ruins of the burned tavern," Mr. Hodges said. "In addition, an examination of some vending machines in the tavern has shown the absence of some parts, specifically the coin boxes."

The district attorney general said the body of Mr. Kelly has been sent to Memphis for an autopsy but that no report has yet been made. The investigation, Mr. Hodges said, is being led by Sheriff L. C. Gardiner of Dresden, with assistance by FBI Agent Ancel McDuffee and State Deputy Fire Marshal Bill Lewis.

Reed McAlister Held In Hickman Jail Following Shooting Of Son

Reed McAlister, Hickman County farmer who lives near Fulton on Highway 307, is in the Fulton County jail this week in connection with the shooting of his son, Curtis McAlister, a Highlands service station operator.

The shooting occurred around noon last Friday at the Shell station in Highlands and was a result of personal matters between the two, the News was advised. Following words, Curtis got in his truck to go to lunch, whereupon the father got out a pistol and fired at least six shots into the truck from the back side. One bullet pierced the metal cab and entered the driver's back; others shattered the glass in the rear window and the windshield.

Curtis drove the truck downtown, located police, parked the vehicle on Lake Street and was immediately rushed to Hillview hospital. Dr. John Ragsdale, attending physician, said that the bullet entered just below the left shoulder blade, but did not penetrate far enough to be fatal. He was dismissed Monday from the hospital.

Reed McAlister was arrested by Hickman County sheriff Stanley Hopkins at his home, to which he returned following the shooting. He was returned to the Fulton County jail by Sheriff Joe Campbell, who accompanied Hopkins, where he is being held on $15,000 bail and a peace bond. His case will go to the grand jury.

Curtis McAlister lives at 412 McCall Street in South Fulton.

Dateline, Campaign Trail; Festival Is Growing; Civic Center Project Moving

Dateline, Campaign Trail; — The past few days have been busy ones for this reporter-candidate. I have set a pattern for myself that begins at dawn and ends at sun-down. The staff at the News office and my family have adjusted their normal duties so that the responsibilities I share with them will go on without too much interruption.

Annabelle Edwards and Connie Pawlukiewicz said the other day they'll be glad when the campaign's over because I can give them more work to do while I'm away than I can when I'm at the office all the time. Connie, you know, has been named as secretary of the Banana Festival Association. She's a whizz! With some quick conferences each day before I hit the trail the plans for this year's Homecoming Banana Festival are moving right along. We have been organizing the Arts and Crafts exhibit, the world's first "Banana Golf Match," a program to have Latin-American students attend our schools during the Festival, and even finalized arrangements for housing all activities under a giant tent that will seat 3000 people. This way we can set up lights, staging, cameras, exhibits, etc. all under one roof, and if it rains . . . just let it rain, we're covered.

In addition to that, the Regional Director of the Community Facilities Administration has received, acknowledged, and put into motion a $54,000.00 grant to do a feasibility study on the Latin-American Friendship Civic Center that we hope will be dedicated during the 1966 Banana Festival.

You can see that this is a kind of busy place around here. So busy in fact I haven't even had time to read a newspaper, see a television show, or turn a spade-full of dirt in the garden. I have scarcely had time to even read my mail, but Wednesday morning I did. I found one from my dear and devoted friend Max Hurt, President of the Murray Chamber of Commerce, and president of the West Kentucky Productions Association (Stars In My Crown) with whom I have worked so closely for these past three years.

Another letter I read Wednesday was from Harry Lee Waterfield, a fellow weekly newspaper publisher, who began his long political career as State representative from Fulton and Hickman counties. Harry Lee, besides having served in many high positions as an elected official is now head of one of America's fastest growing insurance companies.

But anyway here are the letters:

Dear Jo:

I am, along with my wife, constantly thinking about your race down there and deeply anxious for you to win. I know you are making a hard campaign. It seems there is so little we can do. However, as a token of our concern, please find herewith a little pittance which can go in the gas tank or buy some drinks or sandwiches, or pay for some cards - or anything that will help to make a day brighter for you.

In all my life I have met few folks like you and none that I admire and appreciate more. God bless you! Also, it is about time for me to renew my subscription to the best small town newspaper I ever saw. An enclosing check for subscription.

With kindest regards,
Max

Harry Lee's letter to me was in answer to a letter I wrote, at the same time, to all leaders in the Democratic party, asking for their support in my race, if they were not previously committed. In a warm and friendly manner, indicating that he felt it an honor that I had asked for his support, Harry Lee advised me that he had already committed himself to another candidate.

Of course, I understood and I appreciated his honesty. In fairness to Harry Lee's friends, who are also my supporters, I am printing only that portion of Harry Lee's letter that makes it clear that his position in the state representative's race in Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard counties is not necessarily compatible with the views expressed by Earl Sensing concerning the moral fitness of either Ralph Graves or myself to be elected to replace the incumbent Henry Maddox.

Here's the letter, in part:

"Jan. 20, 1965

"My dear Jo:

"I have never tried to interfere to any great extent nor press my opinion or wishes or desires on local people in local races where I felt that the individuals at home knew the principal involved as well as I did.

"While there have been times when you and I have been on opposite sides, each of us fighting as best we know how for that cause in which we believed or for the personality which we felt best suited the situation generally or from a personal standpoint, I wish you would believe that I have always had a kindly feeling toward you and Paul. I like you both very much as individuals and I like both of you as professional contemporaries.

"With kindest best wishes, I am
Sincerely,
Harry Lee"

I had a rather interesting experience last week. I got a nice campaign contribution. It wasn't exactly intended as such, but when I told the generous donor that I knew of no way to accept it in the manner he specified, he insisted that I keep the money. I told him that I would and use it to further the cause for which he so

Gossum, Lohaus Attend Affairs Institute

Dickie Gossum, South Fulton High school, and Wayne Lohaus, Fulton High school, attended the annual World Affairs Institute at Cincinnati over the weekend. They were accompanied by James Needham, Fulton Rotary Club president. The Fulton Rotary club sponsors a student from the two local high schools each year to attend the Institute. Over 900 junior boys from all over the United States registered for the Institute.

The delegates are chosen through a competitive examination at the two schools.

Scouts Attend Conference At Prestonsburg

Seven Fulton Scouts and Field Executive Ted Simmons spent last weekend at Prestonsburg, Ky. attending a conference of the Order of the Arrow.

Local Scouts attending included Stuart Gayle Voelpel, Lodge chief; Steve Jones, Buddy Hefley, Mike Butts, David Dunn, Leslie Cheatham and Charles Mark Allen.

Hail Damage Here Is Light, Survey Shows

A brief, violent hailstorm dumped tons of the frozen ice on Fulton Tuesday night, flooding streets and whitening yards just like a snowstorm. The barrage of hail was accompanied by high winds and driving rain.

A check of some of the local insurance agencies Wednesday revealed, however that damage was comparatively light and confined mostly to roofs and awnings in the downtown Fulton area. Few windows were reported broken and no crop or auto losses had been reported at that time.

The storm first arrived in Hickman, causing damage there, then moved to Fulton, and then apparently jumped to Owensboro.

Although in volume of ice it rivaled the disastrous hail storm of April 19, 1959, the stones Tuesday night generally were small and bounced off glass, one insurance company told a News reporter Wednesday.

HERE IS SOME OF THE HAIL that fell in the Highlands area Tuesday night. Many stones were larger than the 25c piece (arrow) and a few were nearly as large as the 50c piece. This cupful was scooped out of a yard after it fell, frozen, and displayed Wednesday morning for the News photographer.

Four Entry Points To The New Parkway Will Help Fulton More Than Just Two!

Following publication in last week's NEWS of the proposed route of the new Purchase Parkway around the western edge of Fulton, speculation has arisen as to whether the new 4-lane road as it approaches Fulton will be a high-speed "fenced" route to the Tennessee line, or will it be a reduced-speed ground-level route that will permit access and exit as it crosses US 51 north of Riceville, the Middle road west of the Deepwood subdivision, and West State Line out past the west city limits.

The map indicates two evident interchanges in Kentucky: one at Ky. 307, and the other at U. S. 51. It indicated no interchanges on either the middle road or on State Line.

It would appear from the map released by the highway department that the road will be a high-speed, "fenced" right of way that will overpass US 51, the middle road and West State Line, say some. And if this is the case, traffic will be thus encouraged to speed right by Fulton without stopping, they point out, thus losing Fulton and the State of Kentucky thousands of dollars in potential revenue from loss of sale of services to the tourist.

This is a point that is worth debating, we think. There would seem to be several good arguments for making the leg around West Fulton fully accessible to all routes it crosses:

1. While by-passes in Kentucky (such as the new Mayfield by-pass) are built to high-speed, limited-access specifications, those in Tennessee are not. The by-pass around Dyersburg is a reduced-speed unfenced route that affords access and exit at all roads that it crosses. Commercial development, therefore, is not prohibited, even though it may be several hundred yards off the right-of-way.

2. If Kentucky fences the route to the State line and overpasses the Middle Road crossing, it will forever deny that area to tourist-service accommodations. Yet when all this traffic arrives in Tennessee, it will be running right through the middle of all kinds of accommodations to the south of us. It would seem that Kentucky may unwittingly siphon off a lot of potential future income that might accrue to motels, service stations and restaurants of Fulton.

3. Tourists hate to go out of their way for anything. If a place is not convenient to get to, they just keep going till they find one that is.

4. The new by-pass around west Fulton will obviously not be a part of the toll parkway and thus will not be built with bond money. It would save the State a lot of money by making it a ground-level route and eliminating some expensive bridges and fills.

5. Fulton, by its proximity to Tennessee would seem to place the Kentucky highway department in the peculiar position of keeping an eye on Tennessee access-road specifications, so that it may enjoy the same advantage as that of its neighbors to the south of the border.

We commend these thoughts to Henry Ward and to the Kentucky Department of Highways when they make their final surveys on this leg. We are very happy to be getting this fine road and hope for speedy conclusion of its surveying and construction, and we know that Henry Ward, in building it, will do all he can for us. Whatever helps us, of course, helps Kentucky.

For Those Fultonians With Iatrophobia, Here Is A Cure That Will Work

Do you have iatrophobia? It's not a serious disease. It's easy to cure. But too many people have it. Iatrophobia means fear of going to the doctor. The cure? Picking up the phone and making an appointment with your doctor for a complete physical checkup.

If Americans with iatrophobia would only take the cure, 92,000 lives could be saved from cancer this year which otherwise will be lost. These deaths are caused as much by people's attitudes as by cancer. Too many people whose cancers could be cured wait too long to call their doctors. They don't know that cancer can be cured if it's found early and treated promptly.

The American Cancer Society has mobilized a neighborhood army of over 2,000,000 volunteers to reach people with this vital message — see your doctor once a year for a check-up and be alert between checkups to Cancer's Seven Danger Signals:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere
3. A sore that does not heal
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits
5. Hoarseness or cough
6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing
7. Change in a wart or mole

See your doctor immediately if any of Cancer's Seven Danger Signals last more than two weeks.

See your doctor every year for a health checkup!

SERMONETTE OF WEEK

Want To Make Your Day Better? Try This Now!

Just for today I will try to live through this day only, and not tackle my whole life problem at once. I can do something for twelve hours that would appall me if I felt I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

Just for today I will be happy. This assumes to be true what Abraham Lincoln said, that "Most folks are as happy as they make up their minds to be."

Just for today I will be unafraid.

Especially I will not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful, and to believe that as I give to the world, so the world will give to me.

Just for today I will try to strengthen my mind. I will study. I will learn something useful. I will not be a mental loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways. I will do somebody a good turn, and not get found out; if anybody knows of it, it will not count. I will do at least two things I don't want to do—just for exercise. I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may be hurt, but today I will not show it.

Just for today I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress becomingly, talk low, act courteously, criticize not one bit, not find fault with anything, and not try to improve or regulate anybody but myself.

Just for today I will have a quiet half hour all by myself, and relax. During this half hour, sometime, I will try to get a better perspective of my life.

FROM THE FILES— Turning Back The Clock—

April 13, 1945

Lions and Rotary Clubs, assisted by the Boy Scouts, will sponsor the annual drive by the United National Clothing Collection which is now under way. This collection of used clothes, shoes and bedding will begin April 1 and will continue through April 30.

Four Fulton students are included on the winter quarter honor roll at Murray State College. They are: Margaret Nell Brady, Camille L. Nette Bug, Hazel Louise Meacham and Norma Katherine Samons.

During the regular meeting of the Fulton Lions Club last week, a resuscitator was presented to the twin cities of Fulton and South Fulton. This will be a valuable machine for use by the community in emergency cases of drowning, suffocation and electrical shock.

Seventh War Loan drive started April 9th and any E-Bonds purchased after that date will be counted on the quota set for the east end of Fulton County. The quota here has been set up at $295,000, according to Clyde Williams, local chairman.

Hon. Harry Lee Waterfield will speak to the graduates of the Cayce High School at the annual graduation exercises on May 4.

dent: If you want to see something interesting and worth while, visit the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Check Bennett. White Rocks - the flock reminds one of a big white cloud - about 250 that will average 2 lbs. each.

From Beelerton correspondent: Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDaniel entertained Sunday with a fish fry. Those attending were Supt. and Mrs. Dennis McDaniel and Junior and Danny of Clinton, Charlie Stephens of Oakton and Delmer McDaniel of Chicago. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Clapp and Tommie and Mrs. Capitola McAllister called.

From Crutchfield: Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Elliott and daughter, Beverly Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Veatch and son, Max, attended a birthday dinner Sunday given in honor of Mrs. Veatch's and Mrs. Elliott's father, George Huitt of Springfield.

From Latham: The sanitation officer, Mr. J. F. Montgomery, scored our school recently, giving us 98 percent. The other two percent are impossible in a rural school or we'd be trying to reach the goal.

From Austin Springs: Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mathis entertained both young and old the past week with a musical party. Old time string music was enjoyed by all.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission
By JOE JORDAN

One hundred years ago this week residents of Kentucky received, first, an incorrect report that Gen. Robert E. Lee had surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia to Gen. Philip H. Sheridan on April 7, and then the true report that he had surrendered to Gen. U. S. Grant at Appomattox Court House on April 9. There were comparatively few Kentuckians among the 27,805 Confederate officers and men surrendered by Lee.

Lee's surrender, then, did not mean an immediate end to the war for the great majority of Kentuckians who were serving in either the Union Army or the Confederate Army. Members of surrendered Confederate forces were permitted to start home as soon as their paroles had been given, but the Union soldiers were retained in the service for an orderly mustering out later. Although Lee's surrender convinced a great many people that the Confederacy was doomed and further resistance was useless, it did not so convince President Jefferson Davis — and the South still had more than 140,000 soldiers in the field and under arms.

According to Collins' "History of Kentucky," an army which Gen. Joseph E. Johnston commanded in North Carolina included "a large portion of the Confederate troops from Kentucky." Johnston would not surrender until April 26. His army numbered at that time 31,248, and thus was a larger force than the one Lee surrendered. There were Kentuckians also among the 42,293 which Lt. Gen. Richard C. Taylor had in the Department of Alabama, not surrendered until May 4, and others with Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith in the Trans-Mississippi, not surrendered until May 26.

Three brigades of Kentucky cavalry, including the survivors of Morgan's old cavalry command, were in southwestern Virginia under the command of Confederate Brig. Gen. John Echols, who had started marching east in an attempt to join up with Lee's army. Brig. Gen. Basil W. Duke, commanding one of the Kentucky brigades, wrote after the war: "The command had halted for the night; Gen. Echols and I were dismounted and standing upon the turnpike surrounded by the soldiers. Just then Lt. James B. Clay, who had been sent ahead three days before to gain information, galloped up and handed Gen. Nichols a dispatch. The latter's face flushed, and then grew deadly pale. The dispatch was from Gen. Lomax, and in these words: 'Gen. Lee surrendered this morning at or near Appomattox Court House. I am trying with my own division and the remnants of Fitz Lee's and Rosser's divisions to arrange to make a junction with you.'

"After a brief conference we agreed that the news should be concealed from the men until the next day, if possible. But to conceal such a fact when even one man was aware of it was impossible. Before we had concluded our brief conversation, we knew from the hum and stir in the anxious, dark-browed crowds nearest us, from the excitement which soon grew almost to tumult, that the terrible tidings had gotten abroad."

LET'S LOOK IT OVER

By Gov. Edward T. Breathitt

Frankfort—The Kentucky Commission on Economy and Efficiency, by my recent direction, is currently engaged in a top-priority study of the State's procedures for contracting for services with professional consultants.

To facilitate this study, the State's Highway Department, also at my direction, has discontinued for a period not to exceed 30 days from January 25 the awarding of consulting engineer contracts.

I hope that within the 30-day period the commission, headed by Senator Shelby C. Kinkadee, Lexington, will have made a recommendation I will be able to use to improve the State's method of awarding these contracts.

My instructions both to the commission and to the highway department were issued because I want the State's business conducted as efficiently as possible and want to make sure that our contract procedures operate fairly and economically.

The commission, in carrying out its study, has been requested to give particular attention to the awarding of architectural and engineering contracts. I asked it, also, to meet with representatives of appropriate professional societies to explore their thinking and to find out from other governmental agencies throughout the country what procedures they follow in awarding professional consulting contracts.

Another request to the Commission on Economy and Efficiency was that it make available its findings and information to the Legislative Research Commission, and that it give due consideration to any recommendations this commission might make for safeguarding such contracts against abuse.

With my approval, Commissioner Henry Ward on January 22 appointed a Board of Review within the Highway Department to study all proposed engineering contracts. This board has Mitchell W. Tindler, deputy highway commissioner, as its chairman, and Dwight H. Bray, E. Bob Bond, and James Shannon as other members. Bray and Bond are departmental executives. Shannon is an assistant attorney general.

Mr. Ward instructed the Board to determine the qualifications of all engineering firms under consideration for contracts, to determine terms of contracts and fees to be paid, and to recommend action to be taken on the proposals. I asked the Board to make known its findings to the Commission on Economy and Efficiency and the commission to stay in communication with the Board.

A review of procedures in an effort to improve the long-established custom of negotiating professional contracts was begun several weeks ago by the Commission on Economy and Efficiency. Mr. Kinkadee's request for information, in letters dated November 17, met with prompt and complete cooperation by Mr. Ward and Finance Commissioner L. Felix Joyner.

The Commission on Economy and Efficiency has my full support. It will receive the unqualified cooperation of every State agency and department. The action I have taken with regard to the commission will furnish me at the earliest possible date, I believe, with information for any needed improvement of our contract procedures.

SCATTERED PATTEN

About People and Things

And suddenly, it's Spring! The sun is shining, the skies are blue, everyone has suddenly developed a spring in their steps and a lilt in their voices. Have you ever noticed how golden the colors are - jonquils, daffodils, even the hyacinths which have colors of pink, white, blue, have these colors tinged with a golden hue. Emperor tulips are red but not an ordinary red; they too have that golden touch. And who can outdo the "shine" of the flamboyant forsythia? The trees that are not actually blooming, are putting their woody little hearts into the business of budding. To parody Rogers and Hammerstein: "Spring is bustin' out all over."

Pretty girls always seem to go hand in hand with Spring and the South Fulton Booster Club presented beauties galore last Thursday at its Annual Pageant. Miss Andrea Melton, 17, was chosen Miss South Fulton Booster Princess of 1965. First maid was Miss Mollie Alexander, 17, and Miss Linda Kay Nanney, second maid, Andrea is a Senior at Fulton High School; Mollie and Linda Kay are both students of South Fulton High. The other two finalists were Donna Gossum, 17, and Helen Fay Harwood, 16, both students at Fulton High. Kenneth Turner was the master of ceremonies and Neil Etheridge provided the organ music. Robert Lowry was chairman of the Beauty Pageant. The South Fulton Booster Club is grateful to all the sponsors, and those who gave their assistance, for helping make this Pageant such an outstanding success.

All the work that went into the Pageant must have tired Floyd

Martin out completely because he and his wife, Daisy, are taking off for Cincinnati to visit with their son, Richard, until after the Easter Holidays.

Brown Shoe Begins Construction At Clinton May 1st; Will Hire 500

Construction work on the Brown Shoe Company factory in Clinton is expected to start by May 1st, according to the company engineer. Kentucky Water Service will at its own expense extend an eight inch water main from just north of the hospital along So. Washington to the factory site as requested by Patton. Cost of this extension has been estimated in excess of four thousand dollars.

Kentucky Utilities has agreed to remove high voltage transmission lines across the factory site at the corner of So. Washington and Clayton from over where the building will be located to clear the way for construction.

Moving of the lines, estimated to cost about seven thousand dollars, will be done at KU's expense. In addition, KU last week announced that it was making a $2,500 cash donation to the building fund.

Arrangements were also worked out at the meeting for gas and sewer lines to serve the industrial site.

Brown Shoe Company and the city of Clinton have entered into an agreement for the location of the factory here which is expected to employ about 500 persons with an annual payroll of more than a million dollars.

The city is to provide the building site with all utilities and a cash contribution of $75,000 on construction costs. In addition, the city will finance the remainder of the cost with a $425,000 revenue bond issue.

Letters To Editor

B-12 Cooperstown
Lexington, Kentucky
March 8, 1965
Mrs. Jo Westpheling, Editor
The News
Fulton, Kentucky
Dear Mrs. Westpheling:

I have a two fold purpose for writing you this letter concerning the displacement of married students from campus housing at the University of Kentucky.

First, as a candidate for representative you should be informed of my opinion of the situation since I am a registered voter in Fulton County and as an editor of a paper you have contact with many residents of the Fulton area.

The approximately 300 families in Cooperstown, the larger of the two family housing complexes, have had their leases terminated to make room for 1021 in-coming single students. The Cooperstown Family Housing Council, of which I am a councilman, feels that this sudden reversal of policy by the administration is not ethical. The graduate student residents have been provided an alternative in the other housing complex but the undergraduates have had inflicted upon them a serious financial crisis. These married students came to UK with the justified expectation of continued campus housing. After committing their time and resources they have been forced to move to extremely high rent housing in Lexington.

Their rent per month for a one bedroom apartment will increase from $82 per month to approximately $125. We realize the University has a housing shortage and needs to make its facilities house as many students as possible but we feel there are better alternatives than the eviction of existing, established students. The possible alternatives are house trailers, remodeling an old hospital in town, or placing these single students in private rooms in town. It is much, much easier for the single students to find rooms since they only need them for sleeping; whereas a family must have other facilities. Another problem is that the apartments in town, besides being unreasonably high, do not in many cases accept children. Those that will accept children are those that are not usually satisfactory in terms of a place for children to play.

This will also hamper the graduate program since there are only a limited number of available apartments on campus. The long-range plan for the University is to increase the graduate program on the main campus here in Lexington, yet the Administration has somewhat contradicted itself.

Appealing to the logic there are desirable alternatives and morally UK has an obligation to committed students. Any support will be sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely,
Kenny L. Wade

Dear Jo:

Well, I am safely back in Michigan after spending four months in sunny Florida. And it really was sunny this past winter—a lot of 80 degree days.

See by your paper that you have fallen victim to Kentucky politics. I hope your many good friends in Fulton and Hickman counties will steer you on the track to victory.

Florida has some beautiful scenery. I drove over 3,000 miles in Florida and didn't see near all of it. In my opinion Florida has the most beautiful man-made structure in all these United States. I am referring to the Singing Tower in Lake Wales, Florida. California has the most natural in Yosemite National Park.

That wide track Pontiac that I had so d—much trouble parking on that narrow street in front of your office (when are you going to widen it?) hasn't had its first anniversary and it has almost 25,000 miles on it—has been in 21 states.

OH, yes, you thought I traveled such a fast pace while in Kentucky. I purchased a small citrus grove (60 trees) while in Florida. They had not had any care in five years. It had every kind of wild growth that will grow in Florida sand from persimmon to cactus, including western sage grass. It is all cleaned and fertilized now and I did most of it myself. Put in my own plumbing and have my trailer parked on it.

It is in Citrus Park on John Gunn Highway at Shelton Road in Hillsborough County, just six miles north and two miles west of the Tampa International Airport.

If you are ever in these parts from November 1 to April 1 in years to come, you have a standing invitation to drop by for a look-see.

Must sign off. Now for about six months of hard work in Michigan. So, adios for now.

Homra's White Cadillac Leaves A Hot Trail; Illinois Police Catch Thief

When Wesley White, 45, escaped the Weakley County jail at Dresden on March 30, came to Fulton and stole Foad Homra's white Cadillac, he left a brightly-blazed trail all the way up to Champaign, Illinois that led to his prompt capture.

The 1957 Cadillac was stolen from in front of the Homra home on Norman street early Thursday morning.

In Mayfield, the driver was cited for having no operator's license, but was not detained. Then police there learned that the driver had tried to trade a set of golf clubs for gasoline, became suspicious, called Fulton and learned that the car was stolen.

The trail was again picked up in Paducah, where the golf clubs were traded for gasoline.

At Ludlow, Illinois the escapee sold the car to the Midwestern Salvage Company and walked away. The Salvage company owner found a "Duck's DX" sticker on the door from Fulton, Ky. and called Jean (Duck) Smith to see if the car might have been stolen. Smith, who is Homra's son-in-law, advised him that it had. Local police in the Illinois town were called, and White was arrested as he was walking on the highway toward Paxton, Ill.

White is being returned to face charges.

CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

Friends and relatives were saddened at the unexpected passing of Mrs. Maud Holliday last week. She had been a patient in the hospital for a few days, but her passing was unexpected. Mrs. Maud will long be remembered as one of those kind people that it was most pleasant to be associated with. Sympathy is extended to her family. She is survived by three sons, Harold, Cleveland and R. E.; four daughters, Evelyn, Arlyn Inez and Evangeline; two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Caldwell and Mrs. Buel Warren, and two brothers, Bob and Wayne Lamb.

This community was shocked and saddened at the sudden passing of Roy McMillan last Friday in Illinois, where he worked for the railroad. The funeral service was at Ruthville Sunday afternoon, with burial in the Obion County Memorial Garden. Sympathy is extended to his grief stricken family.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Jones, who were married at the Ruthville Baptist Church Sunday afternoon.

The Chestnut Glade Club will meet in the home of Mrs. James Hicks next Monday, April 12, instead of the regular meeting date, due to other activities. This club urges each person to do their civic duty by voting for the candidate of his or her choice on April 15. This is a privilege, as well as a duty, that we should never overlook.

Your Wisest investment of time... REGULAR CHURCH WORSHIP

"I was glad when they said unto me: let us go into the house of the Lord."

WONDERFUL FEELING!

"Oh! I'm not really steering, but my friend has permitted me to sit here, and I have really had a good time just pretending."

Does this remind you of times when you have "Pretended"? Remember when some friend allowed you to sit behind the wheel of a boat or a new car and... well, you know the rest.

Today we are still pretending, because nothing really belongs to us.

The Bible Says... "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein." Psalm 24-1.

According to this, God is truly our friend and permits us to use the things of this world. For these things, and God's greatest gift, his Son, we should attend worship services each week and give thanks.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

warmly complimented us.

Here's the way it went: I was in the postoffice getting the mail and exchanged pleasantries with his good and devoted friend. As I was leaving, the gent said: "Jo our paper does so much good for his community and for this area, I want you to take this money and use it for your paper." The financial offer was so warm it made me a little ashamed to tell him that Uncle Sam wouldn't quite understand such an entry and I'd have to refuse it. At the time I kept thinking of that sign on Paul's office wall. It says: "This firm was not intended for a non-profit organization... it just turned out that way."

But when the gent wouldn't take the money back, I told him that if he didn't mind I'd use it in my campaign for State representative, so if I am elected I can go on working with others to make this area a better place in which to live. He agreed! The thing that made the gift so wonderful is that he man doesn't even live in the legislative district for which I seek office. I'll tell you one thing... it makes you feel mighty humble and mighty good inside to know that hard work and good-friends make life worth living.
