'Trees of the Holidays'

"Trees of the Holidays," sponsored by the Calloway County Public Library, was held Thursday for several local groups. Calloway County Librarian Margaret Trevathan said that the library officials "felt the community would like to be a part of Christmas at the Library." Several groups and organizations were at the library Thursday to decorate Christmas trees, including the South Pleasant Grove Homemakers Club, Friends of the Library, the Kappa Department of the Murray Woman's Club, Kopperud Realty, the North Calloway Elementary School Fourth Grade, Murray Middle School, and the Murray Senior Citizens. Mrs. Trevathan added that several Christmas programs are planned during the month of December. Trees for the project were donated by Shirley's Garden Center and Storey's Food Giant.

Unemployment Up .2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped to its highest level in 11 months in November, rising from 7.9 to 8.1 per cent, while wholesale prices posted their third big consecutive monthly increase, the government said today.

The double-dose of economic news from the Labor Department provided fresh evidence of a sluggish economy and strong inflationary pressures.

The rise in unemployment heightened the likelihood that President-elect Jimmy Carter will push for tax cuts and other measures to boost the economy early in the new administration.

Carter has said he will consider recommending a tax cut or increased government spending aimed at creating jobs to get the economy moving if the slowdown continues much longer. In the three weeks since he said that, there has been little evidence that the slowdown is over.

The Labor Department said 200,000 more Americans joined the jobless rolls in November, raising the total to 7.8 million. The unemployment rate, at 8.1 per cent, was the highest level this year and the peak since last December when it stood at 8.3 per cent.

Since last spring the economy has been growing barely fast enough to provide jobs for new entrants in the labor force, and the unemployment rate gradually has increased from last May when it reached a post-recession low of 7.3 per cent.

The continued softness in the economy along with rising prices could complicate things for Carter as he tries to devise ways of stimulating the growth without further kindling inflation.

Higher prices for natural gas, other fuels and energy products led a six-tenths of a per cent increase in the Wholesale Price Index last month. The November rise equaled October's increase and followed a rise of nine-tenths of a per cent in September.

Farm prices dropped for the second consecutive month, down five-tenths of a per cent, but it wasn't enough to offset an eight-tenths of a per cent rise in industrial prices.

Industrial prices, which play a much larger role in determining the over-all rate of inflation than do farm and food prices, have been accelerating since June.

Over the past year, wholesale prices have risen 4.2 per cent. However, rising wholesale prices have not yet been fully reflected at the retail level.

Price increases for basic steel and aluminum products taking effect this month were not included in the November figures. They will be reflected in the December report, published next month.

Meanwhile, the director of the Congressional Budget Office warned that Congress must pay the price of higher inflation and a larger budget deficit if it wants to get the economy back on track next year.

Alice Rivlin told the congressional Joint Economic Committee that Congress will be unable to meet its economic goals in 1977 unless it reopens its budget to allow for tax cuts or increased spending. "These goals are for an average unemployment rate of 6.5 per cent and economic growth of about 5.5 per cent."

"Without the additional stimulus, the consensus among forecasters clearly would be for a growth rate below 5 per cent and an unemployment rate in excess of 7 per cent," she said. Inflation would be about 5.5 per cent, which is about what this year's rate has been.

Local Unemployment Rate Down In October

Western Kentucky's unemployment rate fell slightly from 4.8 per cent in September to 4.7 per cent in October, according to figures released today by the Department for Human Resources. Unemployment statewide was 5.1 per cent during October.

Calloway County's unemployment rate of 3.8 per cent for October was better than any of the neighboring counties. Unemployment rates in neighboring counties were: Graves, 6.2 per cent; Marshall, 8.7 per cent and Trigg, 4.1 per cent.

The number of unemployed persons in the area was estimated to be 11,271.

Robert MacDonald, chief labor market analyst for the department said most of the county rates dropped slightly or remained about the same from September through October.

Five Kentucky counties shared a low unemployment rate of 2.4 per cent. They were Bourbon, Nicholas, Woodford, Ballard, and Lyon. Edmonson County had the highest jobless rate, 12.3 per cent.

Carter Names Vance Secretary Of State

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Cyrus R. Vance, who served as Lyndon Johnson's world-traveling troubleshooter and tried unsuccessfully to negotiate an end to the Vietnam war in 1968, is the man Jimmy Carter has selected to replace Henry A. Kissinger as secretary of state, sources say.

Carter declined today to confirm the selection but said he wasn't denying the choice would be Vance.

"I wouldn't want to deny Cyrus Vance or anyone else at this point," he said in an interview on the NBC-TV "Today" show.

He was expected to announce the Vance appointment at a news conference later in the day. It will be his first Cabinet appointment.

Carter said he would announce two appointments at the news conference. The second is expected to be that of Atlanta banker Thomas Bertram Lance as his budget director.

The President-elect said he expects to complete most of his Cabinet choices by Christmas.

He said he has been concentrating so far on the national security area, including the State Department, the Pentagon and the National Security Council.

He also mentioned the Treasury as an early priority.

"I think that by Christmas I would have the Cabinet fairly well identified," he said.

Vance, currently a New York lawyer, was a house guest at the Carter home here earlier this week, and the visit stirred speculation that Vance would be named either secretary of state or secretary of defense.

The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Vance, 59, held a variety of posts under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson (See Vance, Page 12)

Dragging Operations On Lake Continue

Volunteers from Calloway, Marshall and Trigg Counties continued dragging operations Thursday on Kentucky Lake for an apparent suicide victim.

The Calloway County Rescue Squad and the local Civil Defense Unit, along with rescue teams from Marshall and Trigg Counties, braved chilling winds and freezing temperatures in the rescue attempts in the Egner's Ferry Bridge area on Kentucky Lake.

The American Red Cross office here provided food for the men Wednesday and Thursday. The Red Cross officials expressed their appreciation to Storey's Food Giant, Big John, Perkin's Pancake House, IGA Northside and IGA Southside for their donations of food.

State Police have not identified the victim yet, pending recovery of the body. Officers said the man, who is believed to be from Murray, left his automobile on the Trigg County side of the bridge, walked to the center of the bridge, and jumped off. The victim was seen by three witnesses as he jumped, according to state police.

Officers said rescue attempts are hampered by the location on the river, in one of the deepest parts of the waters.

MSU Student Is Found Dead At Home Thursday

Raymond N. Ingram, 18 year old Murray State University freshman, was found dead at his home at North 16th Street and Highway 121 Bypass Thursday about eight a. m.

Calloway County Coroner Max Morris said Ingram was found dead by some of his friends who went to the home to check on him. Morris said an autopsy is being made to determine the cause of death, thought probably to be due to an accidental overdose of drugs.

Reports from his family said Ingram had fallen off of a roof the day before and that he had been in a great deal of pain from injuries received in the fall.

The young man was a student at Murray State and had worked at Perkins Pancake House. Born August 9, 1958, he was a member of the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church in Marshall County. His father, Frederick R. Ingram, died in October 1974.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Clara Edwards Ingram, and brother, Frederick Matthew Ingram, 206 Woodlawn, Murray; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edwards of Benton, Mrs. Mary Hart of Middletown, Ohio, and Rupert Ingram.

The funeral services have been scheduled for Sunday at two p. m. at the chapel of the Linn Funeral Home, Benton, with burial to follow in the Marshall County Memorial Gardens.

Friends may call at the funeral home after six p. m. tonight (Friday).

House Destroyed By Fire Thursday

A furniture warehouse owned by the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ was gutted by fire last night shortly before 11 p. m.

Bro. John Dale said the house, located at 302 South Sixth, contained furniture and appliances that the church keeps to donate families whose homes burn.

Dale said the house was near a total loss. The fire apparently started in the kitchen area of the house, but the cause was not known.

Mostly Sunny

Mostly sunny and a little warmer today, high in the upper 30s to low 40s. Clear and not as cold tonight, low in the upper 20s to low 30s. Sunny and warmer Saturday, high in the low to mid 40s. Sunday mostly sunny.

Overby Is Reappointed To State Health Council

Show Your Love Before it's too Late

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I notice that readers sometimes ask you to print a letter again, but is there any one that has been requested more than any other?

CURIOUS IN BUTLER, PA.

DEAR CURIOUS: The big all-time winner was signed "TOO LATE" and here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heartbroken person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old, gray-haired parents. They sat at home alone, loving me just the same.

It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them, I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them.

I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think.

TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: I have a suggestion that really works for people who are bothered by obscene telephone calls:

The minute you hear an obscene word, say, "Just a moment please," and walk away from the phone without hanging up. The caller will think you are coming back, but when he waits and waits and you don't return, he will tire of waiting and hang up. He can't break the connection because your phone is off the hook. This will make it impossible for the caller to use his phone to harass other women. Also, he will never want to call you again and be deprived of his depraved fun.

OFF THE HOOK

DEAR OFF: Your suggestion will work, but while punishing the caller you are also depriving yourself of the use of your phone. Ma Bell recommends that you hang up immediately, and if the calls continue, to call the police who will undertake certain surveillance procedures in cooperation with the phone company.

It seems to me that the wisest course of action would be to keep your caller's line connected to yours (by not hanging up) and then go to a neighbor's phone to report the obscene call to both the phone company and the police.

DEAR ABBY: I was married to Jim eight years ago. We had two sons, then we were divorced. Two years later Jim married my younger sister. They had twin daughters.

My question: Are my sons and my sister's twin daughters just first cousins? Or are they more closely related?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: Your sons and your sister's twin daughters are first cousins. But because they have the same father, they are half-brothers and sisters, which is a closer relationship.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

How Good A Shopper Are You?

Being a good shopper depends on two basic things: Comparison shopping among stores and comparison shopping among items.

Do you know how to tell a good buy from a not-so-good one? Take this short quiz and find out.

• Do you try to buy when the price is right? Often, lowest prices are on a weekend. But look carefully in a store for pricing patterns.

• How do you choose citrus fruit? The best ones are heavy for their size, since weight is indicative of juice content. Skin should be thin and fine textured, and the fruit should be firm.

• Do you look for specials on baked goods? Day-old breads and rolls are easily revived with toasting or re-warming in the oven. They are often sold at half price.

• Do you try new products that offer something better or different? For example, new Super Mott's Prune Juice contains 10 percent more prune solids than required by U.S. government regulations.

Do you determine the approximate cost per serving when buying meat? Divide the price per pound by the number of servings per pound. You'll find that the cheapest cuts are not always the most economical.

Do follow these tips and your comparison shopping may be beyond comparison.

Does Georgia Plant Mean Tappan Closing?

The possibility that the Mansfield, Ohio, based Tappan Company may close its Murray operation has been mentioned with ever-increasing frequency since United Automobile Workers Local 1068 rejected the company's latest contract proposal recently.

And the announcement yesterday that Tappan has purchased a plant in Dalton, Ga., for manufacturing microwave ovens has brought a possible closing here into sharper focus.

We must point out that the company has been careful not to inject the closing of the plant into discussions concerning the local operation, but it still lurks as a strong possibility.

The prospect that the company would actually close the local operation — a plant that has been producing stoves here since 1946 — has been in the back of many local minds, both within the union and the company as well as townspeople not directly connected with the plant, for many weeks.

Shortly after the union voted to go on strike against Tappan, we urged that both union and company officials meet across the bargaining table and work together to bring a swift end to the strike. Now, almost 18-months later, we are again urging the two sides to continue to come together in the mutual interest of getting the local Tappan plant back into full production.

No city likes the thought of losing the payroll of its largest industrial employer. Our community has, in effect, been without its largest industrial employer since June 23, 1975, the day the union went on strike. And during that time, according to company estimates, over $9 million in wages have been lost. Everyone feels the loss of a local payroll.

It is a certainty that if Tappan decides to close its local operation, the opportunity for the union and the company to find that middle ground will no longer exist. That possibility grows each day.

To date both the company and the union have been losers in the negotiations. And ultimately, if the strike is settled, neither side will be a "winner" by itself. If a settlement is reached, both sides, and the community as well, will jointly be winners.

We hope that the company's purchase of the Georgia plant is not the beginning of the end for the Murray operation. Murray and Tappan have progressed together for 30 years and that is one marriage we feel can be saved rather than divorced.

If Tappan closes its local operation the effects of it will be felt not only in the immediate loss of jobs and payroll but for years to come. Other industries will take a long hard look at the local situation before any consideration to locate in this area is made. Murray needs more jobs for its people not the loss of the ones it now has.

THE COMING ANNOUNCED

Luke 1:26-38

In Luke, the careful biographer, we have a splendid example of the type of men whom the Holy Spirit used to make available to the world the important facts concerning the life and work of the Lord Jesus Christ. This lesson is the first in a series of four entitled "God Comes to Man in Jesus."

The Promise — Luke 1:26-31

Mary, a devout and godly Jewish maiden, and Joseph, a devout and capable young carpenter, were betrothed or engaged to be married. Among the Jews in that day an engagement was not a light thing which might be broken off casually upon some slight pretext. The tie of betrothal was as sacred as that of marriage. It was customary for a couple to be engaged for approximately a year before marriage. During that interval, unfaithfulness on the part of the young lady was punishable by death. During this period, Joseph and Mary were looking forward with great anticipation to their coming nuptials. For them it was a time gilded by many bright hopes of future happiness.

In the meantime, God sent the angel Gabriel to Nazareth in Galilee to appear to the virgin Mary with a very specific and personal message for her. Gabriel suddenly and unexpectedly appeared in Mary's presence, while she was yet a virgin, and informed her that she was the one whom God had chosen to conceive and to become the mother of a child, "whose name would be 'Jesus,'" in fulfillment of the prediction and promise in Isaiah 7:14: "Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel."

Cognizant of the surprise and shock to Mary at this unexpected announcement, Gabriel assured her that God had made her the object of much grace in choosing her as the human channel through whom the Redeemer and Saviour would be brought into the world. This announcement of Mary's forthcoming supernatural conception was the most wonderful one that was ever made to any woman. It is no wonder that Mary was startled beyond description by Gabriel's announcement. Soon "all fear and perplexity left Mary and she believably and submissively acquiesced in the will of God.

The Prediction — Luke 1:32-33

For the encouragement of Mary, who doubtless was thinking of the great blessedness which would come to future generations through her son, Jesus Christ, Gabriel also predicted His greatness and the perpetuity of His kingdom. This "Son of the Highest" deserves to be recognized by all of us as both our Saviour and our Sovereign.

The Plan — Luke 1:34-38

Mary was startled by the presence of the angel Gabriel and puzzled by his message that God intended to use her as the channel through whom His Son and man's Saviour would come into the world. This honor was the highest that could come to any woman and Mary was the one upon whom God had bestowed it. Knowing that she was a virgin, Mary could not understand how she could bear a son, so she inquired of the angel, "How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?" Gabriel explained to her that God had the ability to make possible the virgin birth, whereupon she remarked, "Behold, the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word." Mary's expressed willingness to become the human instrument through which the Saviour might come into the world in the flesh was highly commendable. She certainly set a noble example for all of us who have a longing to be used by the Lord in carrying out His purposes.

Even though Mary was honored more than any other woman in being permitted to become the mother of the Lord Jesus, it is both unscriptural and sinful to deify her, or to attempt to exalt her to the place of a mediator between God and men. Mary possessed many commendable traits of character, but she was neither divine nor sinless; therefore, she must never be accorded the place of deity.

The Editor's Notebook

By GENE McCUTCHEON

Murray Ledger & Times Editor

A long-lost friend returned to downtown Murray Thursday when the Bank of Murray re-installed its time and temperature clock on the corner of 4th and Main.

The clock was removed during the bank's extensive addition and remodeling project.

There's one thing about the time-temperature clock that's been changed from before, however, which may startle some people at first glance.

The clock now flashes the temperature in Celsius degrees as well as Fahrenheit degrees, in addition to giving the correct time in hours and minutes.

The Celsius temperature is designated by a small "c" at the right. Celsius is the established temperature system in the International System of Units which was adopted by Congress for the U. S. last year. A 10-year transition period was established for conversion to the new system.

So, if you pass by and the temperature reads minus three as it did early this morning, don't go back home for more clothes. It's probably the Celsius temperature. (Freezing on the Celsius scale is 0 degrees while on the more common Fahrenheit scale it's 32 degrees. The Celsius boiling point for water is 100 degrees compared with the 212 degrees Fahrenheit.)

We think the addition of the Celsius scale to the time-temperature clock is a sign of progressive thinking on the part of the Bank of Murray.

We all have to convert to the system eventually, and this way the bank is helping us learn a new temperature scale.

Another reminder on this year's Rotary Club sponsored Christmas Parade which will begin Saturday at 2 p. m. on Main Street near Murray Middle School. Don't miss it — it promises to be a great way to spend an afternoon.

And while we're at it, the Murray Optimist Club opens its annual Christmas tree sale tomorrow on the parking lot between Burger Queen and Boone's Laundry on N. 12th St.

Those people who like a real tree at Christmas should check out the Optimists' selection. All profits from the tree sale go to the club's youth programs in Calloway County.

To prevent a fire in your home the Red Cross says to make sure discarded matches and cigarettes are out. Never smoke in bed. Collect combustible rubbish such as oily rags in covered metal containers and throw them out regularly.

Use a fire-retardant material on your roof. Replace worn wiring and extension cords. Handle gasoline and similar flammable liquids with care and never bring gasoline into the house.

Keep candles and other open flames away from Christmas trees. Have the telephone number of the fire department handy (in Murray it's 753-1441, in the county it's 753-6952) and make sure your children know how to call.

Contemporary Religious Thoughts

Bible Accuracy

By Dr. Bill Whittaker, Pastor

First Baptist Church

Many people question the authority of the Bible with the accusation the writings are not historically accurate. A discovery last fall has for some "reopened the whole question." Paolo Matthiae, an archaeologist from the University of Rome, discovered 15,000 cuneiform tablets in a high mound of dirt north of Damascus. The tablets tell about the kingdom of Ebla, a powerful nation which existed between 2400 and 2250 B. C. These remarkable tablets describe a complex civilization of 260,000 people with a far-reaching influence. The Eblaite Empire flourished about 300 years before Abraham led the Hebrews into Canaan. The translation of these clay tablets has just started but the tablets include evidence that some of the people and places mentioned in the Old Testament are based on historical fact.

A few sceptics may be impressed. Believers who have long loved the Bible and hear it with authority are tempted to say I told you so! We gain assurance in the faith when historical evidence from secular sources corresponds with historical facts contained in the Bible. We should not be surprised for the Bible is a record of God's dealings with man. It records history which climaxed in the coming of Jesus Christ. The Christian faith is a historical faith. It is rooted in events which continue to change the course of history.

However, the authority of the Bible and the certainty of the Christian faith rest on a greater foundation than historical evidence. The Spirit which inspired the writing of the Bible has not been unemployed since the Bible was written. The Word of God is "alive and active, sharper than any two-edged sword" (Hebrews 4:12). The Word has authority because through it God speaks to us the message of life. From the written word we encounter the Word made flesh. The knowledge God loves us so much he gave his Son brings us forgiveness and the gift of an abundant, eternal life.

As the great poet and novelist, Sir Walter Scott, lay dying he said to his son-in-law, Lockhart, "Son, bring me the Book." There was a vast library in Scott's home and the bewildered son-in-law said, "Sir, what book, which book?" The dying bard replied, "My Son, there is just one Book. Bring me the Book." It was then that Lockhart went to the library and brought Scott the Bible. God's Word is still the Book of books. When the pulpit proclaims the Bible the people will listen. The world wants to hear a word from the Lord. When the family gathers around the Bible, the divorce rate will decline. When young and old hide the treasure of the Book in their heart, sin will be defeated and Godly lives will change the world.

We share with William Cowper his reverence for God's Word:

A glory gilds the sacred page,
Majestic like the sun;
It gives a light to every age;

Leadership Burden On The Democrats

Registered Democrats throughout Kentucky have a responsibility, as well as an opportunity, to get their party in shape to render its maximum of honest, conscientious public service during the next four years.

With Democratic officeholders in firm control of both the state and federal governments, it is incumbent upon the party to provide the ideas, the policies and the leadership to keep America — and Kentucky — strong, prosperous, morally good and responsive to the people's needs and wishes.

The key element among those named above is leadership. And like the other basic requirements of a successful democratic society, the selection of a party's leadership begins at home.

It begins with the selection of lowly precinct officers, who name the members of a county executive committee, who elect the party's district, and statewide officers, who help select the national officers, and so on up the line. A breakdown or weakening of the selection process anywhere along the line can result in a wrong choice of candidates or party officers at the state or national level.

Kentucky Democrats who are interested in their party and its role in state and national affairs during the years ahead will go to their general election polling places on Dec. 4 to begin this leadership selection process. Republicans will do the same thing at different times and different places.

But the burden is upon registered Democrats this year. Their choice of party leaders can have an influence on national goals and national accomplishments during the next four years.

Chamber Congratulated

(The following letter was received this week by the Murray Chamber of Commerce.)

Mr. James L. Johnson
Executive Secretary
Murray Chamber of Commerce
Post Office Box 190
Murray, Kentucky 42071

Dear Jim:

Congratulations on the 50th anniversary of the Murray Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber has been a guiding force in Murray's development, and your contribution and that of your co-workers has added immeasurably to the effectiveness of the statewide development program. State and local cooperation is an outstanding and unique characteristic of our program. With the help of interested citizens, active local chambers and strong development programs such as you have in Murray, our past success in developing the economy of Kentucky will continue.

Sincerely,
William L. Short
Secretary

A Helping Hand

There are many ways that you can lend a helping hand to others. There are those of every age who need help. A child without a father needs a big brother, an elderly neighbor could use a ride to the supermarket. There are also ways to help the handicapped, and when you do, you will find that they are not really so different from yourself.

The best part of serving others is that you receive more than you give. You find that your own life becomes richer and fuller as a result. If you are lonely or feel useless at times, look around you and find ways that you can lend a helping hand. You'll be glad you did.

Standing On The Firing Line

Only The Name Is The Same This Time

The name is the same, that's about it. Last year in the finals of the Regional Tournament, Paducah Tilghman used a fourth quarter rally to come from behind and bury Murray High 69-52.

The two teams will match up tonight at Murray High in the season opener for Tilghman.

Much is different. Five of Tilghman's top six players from last season are gone. They include Brandon Warren, Rodney Cash, Tyrone Goodwin, Charlie Whitehead and James Greer.

Gone from Murray High are Bob Wilder, David Frank, Donnie Williams, Chris Kurz and 6-4 Andrea Perry who was suspended before the season began. Perry might well be back on the team after the Christmas break.

As for the Tigers tonight, Lindsey Hudspeth should be back in the lineup. He suffered a chipped bone in his neck back on November 5 in the last football game of the season.

Tilghman goes with a one-guard offense. Of course everyone knows who that guard is, senior speedster Delbert Shumpert who averaged 16 points per game last year and was selected to the All-Region team.

Starting at center will be 6-5 sophomore Richard Abraham while the forwards will be 6-1 junior Chris Davis, 6-0 junior Lemuel Sutton and 6-0 senior Doug Williams.

It will be the smallest team to play at Tilghman in many, many years.

The key for tonight's game will be two things: first of all, Murray must get offensive rebounds. If Tilghman controls the boards, look for Tilghman to win. Secondly, the Tiger fans can really give their team a boost by absolutely making so much noise they could scare Tilghman off the floor.

If it's a close game, look for the experience to come through for Murray High.

The football predictions ended up at 94-13 for the season. The basketball predictions may not even finish .500 because of the weakness of the First Region.

But like Jimmy Carter said in his campaign: Trust me.

Maybe you can put a little faith in me, I'm 4-4 thus far in basketball predictions. For those wondering why I picked Trigg over Murray High Tuesday, I'll be honest about it. I'm getting very old.

I thought Ricky Radford was the one who was 6-7. That was his brother who graduated last year.

For tonight: Tilghman at MURRAY HIGH by 11, Calloway at PROVIDENCE by two, Ballard at LIVINGSTON CENTRAL by four, LOWES at Carlisle County by nine, Lyon County at MARSHALL COUNTY by 12, Heath at ST. MARY by two, Wingo at SYMSONIA by 14, LONE OAK at Reidland by 17, Fulton County at HICKMAN COUNTY by three and for Saturday, Livingston Central at CALLOWAY by six and MAYFIELD at Tilghman by 11.

Bullets Blow Big Lead But Still Manage Win

By The Associated Press
Pay attention now: Dick Motta is giving a class in sports psychology.

"The most dangerous thing is a 20-point lead," notes the coach of the Washington Bullets.

Why? "When you get that far ahead," says Motta, "you have a tendency to let up, and you usually drop down to about eight points. By the time you build a big lead, you have spent yourself."

The lesson was dramatically put across Thursday night when Motta's Bullets had to pull out of a tailspin in the last quarter before posting a 102-90 National Basketball Association victory over the Atlanta Hawks.

Washington led 73-54 in the third quarter before Atlanta chopped the big lead to six points. But then Elvin Hayes helped the Bullets pull away.

In other NBA action, the Golden State Warriors outscored the San Antonio Spurs 124-116 and the Houston Rockets routed the Milwaukee Bucks 137-110.

Forward Len Robinson scored a career-high 33 points in leading the Bullets' victory. Robinson, whose previous career high of 29 points was scored against the Hawks last season, had 21 at the half.

John Drew, usually Atlanta's top scorer, got into foul trouble early and finished with only seven points. Joe Meriweather, with 19 points, was high for the Hawks. Phil Chenier had 24 points and Hayes 20 for Washington.

Warriors 124, Spurs 116
Rick Barry scored 30 points, including four in the final minutes when he also had two assists, leading Golden State over San Antonio.

Golden State led by 10 points late in the third period, but the Spurs cut the margin to 97-94 by the end of the quarter and stayed close the rest of the way.

Rockets 137, Bucks 110
Rudy Tomjanovich scored 38 points, pacing Houston to a club-record seventh straight victory. Tomjanovich set a Summit scoring mark, breaking the old record of Seattle's Fred Brown, who had 37.

The Rockets, who led by five points after the first quarter, improved their margin to 20 at the half and 29 after three periods. Houston's biggest lead was 137-106 in the last minute.

TENNIS
SYDNEY, Australia — Second-seeded Martina Navratilova advanced to the quarterfinals of a $100,000 tournament with a 6-2, 6-4 victory over Ilana Kloss of South Africa.

SKIING
BROMIO, Italy — Claudia Giordani of Italy won the season's first women's giant slalom by .04 seconds over American Cindy Nelson.

ROUGH UNDERNEATH—Tammy Boone hauls off a rebound and prepares to move the ball out while Mary Ann Littleton (30) finds out basketball is a rough sport as she gets pushed and elbowed by Barbara Smith (52) of Fulton City.

TOO LATE—Lora Taylor (20) of Fulton City is too late to catch Jaina Washer (12) of the Tiger girls who drives in for two points.

Tiger Girls Open Season With Win

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
Fulton City has a jinx on the Murray High girls' basketball team.

Unfortunately for Fulton City, it's not the kind of jinx where they defeat the Tiger girls every time they play. Instead, and unfortunately for both teams, Fulton's jinx has to do with style of play.

It was the style of play that was the highlight Thursday night as the Tiger girls blitzed the Bulldogs 44-14 in the season opener for both clubs.

To be honest about it, it was the kind of season opener both teams would more or less like to forget. The Murray High girls, though winning by 30 points, were far from being impressive.

The Tigers committed an unbelievable total of 39 floor errors. Fulton was right in the running also as they had 35 floor miscues. For those who like trivia, the clock stopped exactly 100 times in the game.

There were several good points though about the Tigers. They did manage to hit 12 of 19 free throws, which isn't bad for the first game of the season.

Also, the defense shut Fulton off from the inside as the Bulldog girls jacked up long shots throughout the game.

"We played somewhat the same type of game we played them down there last year in our opening game. We beat them 39-19 on a Thursday night."

"Then we played and won Friday night in the St. Mary Tournament, played again Saturday at noon and then again in the championship game Saturday night," Tiger Coach Jane Fitch said.

"I haven't lost faith in our girls. We blew a lot of awfully easy shots under the basket. You might want to know why. We were tense, we shot the ball too hard. You can expect that sort of stuff in your first game," Coach Fitch added.

Senior forward Tammy Boone notched the opening basket of the game, hitting from under at the 7:38 mark. But after that, Murray scored only six more points in the period while Fulton City could muster only a pair of field goals as it was 8-4 going into the second frame.

With 5:14 left in the half, the score was only 9-5. For the next four minutes, the Bulldogs went scoreless while Murray rattled off 12 consecutive points, with Boone picking up five of those.

Both Boone and 6-2 senior center Denise Bumphis got in foul trouble with each player having three fouls at intermission. Bumphis spent most of the second period on the bench.

At halftime, the Tigers held a 23-9 cushion. Fulton got the first basket of the third period at the 6:45 mark to make it 23-11. The Bulldogs did not score another point until when with 2:03 left in the game, Janette Joy hit a free throw. By that time, Murray was romping to the tune of 41-12.

Coach Fitch emptied the bench during the final period with everyone on the roster getting to see action.

The Tigers were paced with 13 points from Boone, the only player to hit twin figures. Bumphis had eight while guard Jaina Washer added six.

The Tigers will put their 1-0 mark on the line Tuesday in a 6:30 p.m. home game against rugged Carlisle County. The two boys' teams will play at 8 p.m.

In the freshman boys' contest, Fulton held a 23-17 lead at intermission and never trailed in the second half to post a 42-34 win over Murray High.

Nick Hibbard paced the Tiger scoring attack with 16 points while Nicky Swift added 11 and Bradley Wells seven. They were the only three Tigers to put points on the board.

We've gone Celsius!

What's a Celsius? That's easy. Previously called centigrade, Celsius is the metric method of measuring temperature. It divides the difference between freezing and boiling into 100 equal degrees. So as the United States moves closer to adopting the metric system, you'll start thinking of 30° C as good swimming weather, and 22° C as comfortable room temperature. And we're here to help. Our time and temperature display will now not only give you the temperature in Fahrenheit, but also Celsius. So keep your eye on us. We hope that with each glance at our display, you'll be reminded of the same accurate, thoughtful service you'll find inside our doors.

Ricky Brown Scores 32 For Mississippi State

By ED SHEARER
AP Sports Writer

Coach Joe Hall of Kentucky is having trouble believing guard Jay Shidler is only a freshman.

Coach Kermit Davis of Mississippi State probably feels the same way about Ricky Brown.

The two first-year players turned in key performances Thursday night as fifth-ranked Kentucky smashed Texas Christian 103-53 and Mississippi State rolled over Southern Mississippi 96-72.

Shidler and Rick Robey hit 10 points each and Mike Phillips added eight more during one stretch when Kentucky went on a 39-12 binge that broke open its second straight victory of the year.

Brown, a 6-foot-10 giant, poured in 32 points, grabbed 17 rebounds and blocked four shots in an otherwise sloppily played game in which 63 turnovers were committed—37 by Southern.

"I can't say how good Kentucky is because I haven't seen that many teams yet, but I can't imagine anybody being much better," said Coach John Swaim of TCU.

"As the season progresses and the freshman guard (Shidler) comes along, they're going to become impossible to beat because he'll keep the other teams off their big people."

"He isn't a freshman," said Hall. "I don't know where he's been, but he doesn't play like a freshman. He's a mature, exciting, aggressive player."

Robey led Wildcat scoring with 21 points while Jack Givens added 20, Phillips 17 and Shidler 16.

State breezed to its fourth straight victory, using a 32-3 spurt during an eight-minute span of the second half to win going away.

Gary Hooker added 16 points and Ray White 15 for the Bulldogs while John Prince paced the Golden Eagles with 24 before fouling out.

Davis said State's defense was the key to taking control in the second half. "We figure that if we keep the pressure on long enough in any game somewhere along the line it will take its toll."

ABOVE EVERYONE—Tiger center Denise Bumphis outstretches everyone here in a battle for a rebound with a pair of Fulton City players. Bumphis tossed in eight points in Murray's victory over the Bulldogs.

Not Retroactive

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana High School Athletic Association ruling which barred boys from girls' teams is "not retroactive to any sport now in progress," says Commissioner Ward Brown.

This means the ruling will not apply to the girls' swimming meet which begins this week. The IHSAA ruling, issued Wednesday, came in the wake of the finals of the state girls' volleyball tourney, won by South Bend Adams with three boys in the lineup.

BOWLING

DETROIT — Joey Berardi of Pearl River, N.Y. took an 18-pin lead over Wayne Zahn, Tempe, Ariz., in the $100,000 Grand Prix of Bowling.

Gets Probation

OPELIKA, Ala. (AP) — Circuit Judge G.H. Wright has placed Auburn running back Mike Henley on two years' probation for his conviction of selling marijuana.

Gets Probation

Henley, who pleaded guilty to the charge, was sentenced to two years in prison last Oct. 19.

However, Wright granted Henley's request for probation, ordering him to report to the East Alabama Mental Health Drug Control Center to determine whether he needs treatment.

Laker Girls Fall 74-71 To Lone Oak Thursday

Calloway County defeated Lone Oak 60-48 Thursday night. That was half of the game. But in the other half, Lone Oak won 26-11 and as a result, the Laker girls dropped their first game of the season, falling 74-71 to the host Purple Flash.

The Laker girls actually outscored Lone Oak by 12 points from the field. But 30 personal fouls and three technical fouls cost the Lakers the victory.

Calloway led 15-14 at the end of the first period, 34-31 at intermission and 54-48 going into the last frame.

With about seven minutes left in the fourth period, sophomore guard Rose Ross fouled out. Then with about five minutes left, freshman forward Mina Todd got her fifth foul.

The Laker girls fell behind by as much as 10 points but in the final 90 seconds, put on a vicious rally and pulled to within a point and had a chance to go ahead. But a free throw fell off and Lone Oak scored on a fastbreak to go back ahead by three and that was the game.

The three technical fouls were for a rule infraction. Three times on the press, the Lakers were called for having hands over the end line, consequently they were hit with three technical fouls.

"We're still over-reacting to the ball. We're very emotional and sometimes, it can get you in foul trouble," Coach Marianne Davis said.

"I thought we got a great game from Ross. She was in foul trouble even in the first quarter but she still stayed in the game and did everything I asked her to do. We also had excellent games from Marilyn McKenzie and Susie Imes.

"There were two surprises. Kim Willie (freshman) and Penny Overbey came off the bench and really looked tough. Willie played very well, she was aggressive and was hitting the boards. Overbey was driving through the middle and shooting over Lone Oak's tall people," Coach Davis added.

Marilyn McKenzie paced the balanced Laker scoring attack with 15 points while Susie Imes also hit double digits with 10.

Patricia McKenzie, Felicia Pinner and Penny Overbey all had eight points.

In the rebound department, Marilyn McKenzie grabbed off 11 while Todd hauled in seven.

Lone Oak is rated as the fourth best girls' team in the Region in the poll of coaches.

Kim Moore, a 5-11 guard, paced the Purple Flash scoring attack with 28 points while forward Kathy Herndon added 15 and forward Kara Kenyon 13.

In the freshman boys' game, Calloway County raised its record to 2-1 with a 57-54 win over Lone Oak.

With six seconds left in the game, the Lakers led 55-54 and Gary Emerson was at the line with the bonus. Twice, in an effort to rattle Emerson, Lone Oak called time. But Emerson came back and hit both charity tosses to ice the win for the Lakers.

Emerson's 21 points paced the attack for the Lakers while Guy Furr and Timmy Graham each added eight. Terry Paschall grabbed off 15 rebounds.

The Laker freshman team and the girls, who are also 2-1, will play at Mayfield next Thursday.

Moss Back To Big Red

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Free agent Eddie Moss, released by the Chicago Bears before the start of the season, was signed Thursday by the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

Moss, 27, a 6-foot, 215-pound running back, began his career with the Cardinals in 1973 and played in 23 games through 1975, primarily on special teams. He was traded to the Bears last summer.

UK Denies Report Of Deal Over Curci's Job

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — University of Kentucky officials term as "utterly ridiculous" and "nonsense" published reports that the NCAA has offered a deal involving possible dismissal of football Coach Fran Curci.

The report, quoting unnamed sources, was made by John Crittenden, sports editor of the Miami (Fla.) News, who said the NCAA had told Kentucky it would be placed on probation for one year if it fired Curci and for three years if it didn't.

"My policy has been from the beginning not to make comments about the progress of the NCAA investigation," Kentucky President Otis Singletary said.

"I'm not going to violate that now, but I will tell you that that story is nonsense," Singletary said.

Kentucky Athletic Director Cliff Hagan said any report of a deal—or an offer of a deal—between the NCAA and the university here is "utterly ridiculous."

Kentucky officials did attend a hearing about a month ago before the NCAA infractions committee, allegedly to discuss possible recruiting violations.

However, Hagan said no word has arrived at the university yet on the outcome of that hearing. "We're expecting it any time," he said.

The committee's report, when it does arrive, could find Kentucky guilty of NCAA violations and could recommend a penalty, Hagan said. However, the university would have at least two appeals open to it before any penalty could be assessed.

for the university would come in early January when the full NCAA council meets, Hagan said.

It could have no effect on Kentucky's appearance in the Dec. 31 Peach Bowl, the Wildcats' first post-season game in a quarter of a century, Hagan said.

Not only has the university not been offered a deal that Crittenden described, Hagan said, but "we wouldn't even consider any type of arrangement like that."

Hagan said the university already has taken "certain corrective measures" to rectify any possible infractions in recruiting procedures, but he declined to say what they were.

"I don't want to go into it until we get this thing (the NCAA report) and then would be the time to go into it," he said.

Curci angrily declined comment on the story in the Miami paper.

Dave Berst, a member of the enforcement division of the NCAA's headquarters in Kansas City, said his organization has no such process for offering deals such as Crittenden described.

"Under normal conditions, the institution determines what the appropriate action may be," he said.

Hagan said there was "nothing to" the story and added that "people here are going to be hurt by it. It will hurt our recruiting in particular."

"We are, as we have been, in a holding stage, waiting to see what the outcome of this thing is going to be," Hagan said.

"I have only one word for the whole story," Singletary said. "Nonsense."

Arkansas-Texas Clash 'Downer' This Season

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former University of Arkansas Athletic Director John Barnhill was right about the possibility of an Arkansas-Texas matchup in December being a dud, but wrong about the year.

In 1969, ABC asked Arkansas and Texas to move their game from mid-October to Dec. 6. At that time, Barnhill warned Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles that the two teams might wind up playing for the championship of Travis County, Tex., and Washington County, Ark.

As it turned out, the game was for the national championship and Texas won 15-14.

The following year, ABC again had the game rescheduled for December and Texas won the Southwest Conference championship by beating the Razorbacks 42-7.

This year, however, it is for the championship of Travis and Washington counties. Arkansas is 5-4-1, Texas 4-5-1. The winner will finish fifth in the SWC, the loser sixth.

On Saturday afternoon, ABC will televise three college division playoff games on a regional basis — the Division III finals pairing St. John's Minn. against Towson State, and the Division II semifinals which list Montana State at North Dakota State and Northern Michigan at Akron.

Other games on Saturday's light schedule include Baylor at Texas Tech in the afternoon and Miami at Houston and Nebraska at Hawaii at night.

Also, Salisbury, Md. State plays Inter-American U. at San Juan in the Cocoa Bowl, Abilene Christian meets Harding in the Shrine Bowl, and in NAIA semifinals Elon plays Central Arkansas and Texas A&I goes against Western, Colo. State.

Arkansas, plagued by injuries, has used five quarterbacks this year — Ron Calcagni, Houston Nutt, Tom Rystrom, Mike Scott and Martin Lemond — and three of the five have started at least one game. Rystrom, a freshman, will be No. 4 when he starts against the Longhorns. Arkansas, which hasn't won in its last four games, is coming off a 30-7 loss to Texas Tech. Texas lost to Texas A&M 27-3 last Thursday.

Texas has lost four of its top five running backs, including fullback Earl Campbell, since the season began.

Campbell, an All-SWC choice as a freshman and sophomore, is expected to play against Arkansas. He has been sidelined with a pulled hamstring since Oct. 30.

A crowd of about 50,000 is expected for the kickoff.

Out For Season

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Racers' Andy Brown, the last barefaced goalie in major league hockey, will be out of action for the rest of the World Hockey Association season.

Brown suffered a back injury during a pregame warmup at Quebec Nov. 14 and underwent surgery for a ruptured disc. He will remain in Methodist Hospital for about one week.

Colts, Cardinals Set To Collide Saturday

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

They say pro football games are won and lost at the line of scrimmage where defense and offense collide in an ultimate test of strength.

If that is true, then Saturday's National Football league battle between the Baltimore Colts and St. Louis Cardinals should be a classic.

The Colts' defensive unit, affectionately known as the Sack Pack, has decked opposing quarterbacks a league-leading 52 times. But St. Louis' offensive line protects passer Jim Hart tenaciously and has permitted him to be sacked only 15 times all season.

So, it is the old story of the immovable object and the irresistible force. The winner of their rush-line confrontation also probably will be the winner of the game.

In Saturday's other game, Los Angeles entertains Atlanta with the Rams needing a victory to clinch the National Football Conference West title.

Pat Haden has taken over the quarterback job for the Rams and tossed two touchdown passes and ran for another score in last week's 33-14 victory over New Orleans.

In that game, Lawrence McCutcheon rushed for 116 yards, going over the 1,000 mark for the third time. His 4,140 career yards in four seasons is the second highest total in Rams history, trailing only the 5,417 Dick Bass gained in 10 years.

In Sunday's action, Buffalo plays at Miami, Houston is at Cleveland, Kansas City visits Denver, Pittsburgh entertains Tampa Bay, Chicago plays at Seattle, Dallas visits Philadelphia, Detroit plays the New York Giants, Green Bay is at Minnesota, New England is home against New Orleans, San Francisco is at San Diego and Washington plays the Jets at New York.

In Monday night's game, Cincinnati plays at Oakland. Baltimore has clinched an American Football Conference playoff berth but needs one more victory or a New England loss to wrap up the East Division title. But the Colts' situation is not nearly as serious as the one St. Louis is in. The Cards are tied with Washington in the NFC East, but the Redskins have the edge by virtue of having defeated the Cardinals twice this season. The survivor of that battle is almost certain to get the NFC wild card spot.

The Sack Pack is led by tackle Joe Ehrmann, who has 11½ quarterback dumps to his credit, and ends Fred Cook and John Dutton, with 11 and 10, respectively.

Handling them will be the assignment of the Cards' offensive line, headed by Dan Dierdorf and Conrad Dobler. Occasionally, defenses have charged them with using less than legal tactics in their protection of Hart.

"Sure, it's embarrassing when the referee calls a holding penalty and identifies you," said Dierdorf. "But it's more embarrassing to turn around and see your man sacking your quarterback."

"I'll do anything I can get away with to protect my quarterback," Dobler said. "This is not a gentleman's game."

17th-Ranked Rutgers Stunned By Columbia

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Tom Young had every right to plead, "No defense."

"Every time we'd come close," said the Rutgers basketball coach, "we somehow managed to give them a cheap bucket."

It was an open-and-shut case against the 17th-ranked Scarlet Knights Thursday night — they were guilty of playing poor basketball en route to a stunning 85-75 loss to unheralded Columbia.

That was the first loss for Rutgers after 30 regular-season victories, spanning two seasons.

"Our lack of 'get' hurt us tonight ... particularly our lack of experience," noted Young, whose team reached the final four in last year's NCAA playoffs but lost two key starters in Phil Sellers and Mike Dabney.

The victory, particularly notable because it came at Rutgers' court, was especially rewarding to Columbia Coach Tom Penders, although he tried to play down its significance.

"We're trying to build and this is certainly a step in the right direction," said Penders. "I don't want to go overboard. I don't want the kids to think they've arrived, because we have a lot of work to do."

In other games involving college basketball's ranked teams, No. 5 Kentucky walloped Texas Christian 103-53, No. 11 Arizona trimmed Oregon State 81-73, and No. 16 Maryland defeated Long Island University 49-45.

Juan Mitchell scored 26 points and Alton Byrd contributed eight assists as the inspired Lions upset Rutgers. Mitchell, a 6-foot-5 forward, and Byrd, a 5-7 guard, were playing only their second varsity games.

Mitchell scored 16 points in the first half, helping the Lions to a 12-point lead. Columbia took advantage of Rutgers' lack of frontcourt depth by dominating the boards after 6-9 James Bailey and 6-7 Abdel Anderson were forced to the bench with three fouls apiece during the first nine minutes of the game.

Phil Taylor and Herman Harris combined for 45 points, leading Arizona past Oregon State.

Steve Sheppard's three-point play with 14 seconds remaining helped Maryland shrug off LIU's slowdown game and finally beat the Blackbirds. At one point in the second half, LIU went into a freeze for nearly 11 minutes and the tactic drew a sarcastic response from the crowd, which began singing Christmas songs. The pep band struck up "Mickey Mouse," igniting waves of laughter.

In other games, it was Mississippi State 96, Southern Mississippi 72; Duquesne 100, Wheeling 70; Kansas State 87, Cal Poly-Pomona 68; Temple 85, Hofstra 73; Oral Roberts 106, Tulsa 62 and Texas-El Paso 92, Wisconsin-Parkside 56.

Wildcats Use Strong Defense To Blast TCU

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — When Kentucky's defense is really clickin', you can ask Texas Christian University Coach John Swaim just how good it really is:

"You better take a sack lunch if you're going to try to front their big people, 'cause you'll be there a long time," Swaim said Thursday night after his Horned Frogs were crushed 103-53 by Kentucky in an intersectional basketball game.

"They're great at using their strength," he said. "My center (Daryl Braden) had an awful lot of trouble in there tonight."

Kentucky went to a 1-3-1 zone defense about five minutes into the game after the fifth-ranked Wildcats had found the toads scrapper than expected.

That did it. The result not only was a shutoff of TCU scoring, but fired up the Kentucky team for a 54-26 halftime advantage. Kentucky never abandoned its zone and increased its margin steadily.

The Wildcats, who had a shaky opening last Saturday against Wisconsin, were more than firm against TCU when they hit 42 of 73 field goal attempts for 57.5 per cent from the field. The five starters hit at a 65 per cent clip.

"I feel a lot better tonight," a smiling Kentucky Coach Joe Hall said. "I think the team showed they have learned to play unselfishly."

Hall had cried long and loud after Kentucky blew a 20-point lead against Wisconsin, winning by only 72-64. He said it was a lack of team play that almost did Kentucky in.

Against TCU, it was exactly the opposite.

With 22,312 fans on hand at Lexington's new civic center, Kentucky took control early and showed the killer instinct they have lacked in running up the nation's longest winning streak — now 12 games without a loss.

"I can't say how good Kentucky is because I haven't seen that many teams yet," Swaim said, "but I can't imagine anybody being much better."

"As the season progresses and that freshman guard (Jay Shidler) comes along, they're going to become impossible to beat because he'll keep the other teams off their big people," Swaim said.

Hall noted that while Shidler is a freshman, he doesn't play like one.

"I don't know where he's been, but he doesn't play like a freshman," Hall said. "He's a mature, exciting, aggressive player."

Shidler hit seven of his 16 shots — mostly from 20 to 25 feet — and finished with 16 points, fourth best in the Wildcat scoring column. Rick Robey led the way with 21 while Jack Givens had 20 and Mike Phillips 16.

Phillips, who was ejected from the game along with TCU's Cornelius McFadgon after an altercation early in the second half, needed some stitches for a cut over his eye and was scheduled today for X-rays on an elbow.

Braden, with 12 points, was the only TCU player in double figures.

In other Kentucky college basketball games Thursday, John Bell broke a 58-58 tie with 6:24 left in the game to push Kentucky Wesleyan on to a 75-69 victory over Union.

State Legislature To Hear Chief Justice Explain Proposal

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Both houses of the General Assembly were scheduled to convene in special session today to hear chief justice Scott Reed explain in the Supreme Court's proposals for Kentucky's new lower court system.

The Senate and the House adopted resolutions inviting the Kentucky Supreme Court justice to address a joint session of the legislature.

House Majority Leader Bobby Richardson, D-Glasgow, said the chief justice's explanation "would be valuable to us," while Senate Majority Leader Tom Garrett, D-Paducah, said he hoped that Reed would "shed some light" on the Judicial Article.

Legislators are meeting in special session this year primarily to enact legislation to implement the Judicial Amendment approved by voters a year ago.

It calls for a state-run district court system to replace existing lower courts on Jan. 1, 1978.

Not all legislators are happy with the prospect.

Rep. Albert Robinson, R-London, told fellow House members Thursday that passage of the Judicial Article was a "Pearl Harbor" for the state legislature, and would eventually lead to increased taxes.

"If I have ever seen a Pearl Harbor on the legislature, it would be the actions of the courts, the Kentucky bar and a select few who stood to benefit from creation of a new court system," Robinson said.

He charged that the Judicial Amendment has proven to be a "grave train for the judges, and attorneys and others who will gain power at the expense of local government and the people."

The Republican lawmaker indicated that while taxes may not have to be raised during the current session, they will have to be raised eventually to pay for the new judicial system.

"This special session can make everyone happy by giving them everything they want," he said. "Like the grasshopper who dances in the summer and starves to death in the winter, the next session will pay the bill," Robinson said.

The Supreme Court has asked the legislature to appropriate $21.8 million to pay for the lower courts operation through June 30, 1978.

However, the top state financial official has advised the governor that current unappropriated resources total just $12.3 million.

Rep. Art Schmidt, R-Cold Spring, is going one step further than his Republican colleague from Laurel County. Schmidt said he will introduce legislation today to rescind the part of the Judicial Article creating a system of district courts.

In other House action, the Appropriations and Revenue Committee was expected to meet today to begin preparations for hearings on the proposed budget.

The budget review is scheduled to begin on Monday.

GILMORE GETS WISH, BUT STILL WAITING—Convicted Killer Gary Gilmore is shown here speaking to George Latimer, left, Utah Board of Pardons Chairman at a hearing this week to determine whether Gilmore's death sentence should be commuted. The board ruled that the execution, which Gilmore had requested, would not be commuted. Gilmore waited in his Death Row cell today, however, to learn whether his mother would succeed against his wishes in getting the U. S. Supreme Court to delay his Monday sunrise execution. Meetings Opened FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The House Committee on Committees is open to the press for the first time during this special session of the General Assembly.

The committee, composed of the house leadership, has traditionally met behind closed doors.

It assigns legislation to appropriate committees and makes committee appointments.

Crupper Injured

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State Rep. Clay Crupper, D-Dry Ridge, was injured Thursday in an automobile accident on the outskirts of Frankfort.

The Grant County lawmaker underwent surgery Thursday afternoon at Kings Daughters Memorial Hospital.

Trial Commissioner Bill Tabled

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Showing some legislative muscle, members of a House committee tabled an administration-backed bill that would have given local officials a major role in the selection of trial commissioners for the new district court system.

The House Committee on Judiciary-Courts tabled legislation Thursday proposed by House Majority Leader Bobby Richardson, D-Glasgow.

The bill would have created local judicial nominating commissions including the county judge and members appointed by the fiscal court and the largest city in the district. The commission would submit three names to the district judge, from which a trial commissioner would be selected.

Rep. Steven Beshear, D-Lexington, called it "probably the most blatant political maneuver" in the implementation of the Judicial Article.

"It has nothing to do with getting good trial commissioners," Beshear said. "It's a move to somehow assuage the feelings of county officials whose power has been taken away."

Under the Judicial Amendment approved by voters last year, a new state-run system of district courts will replace existing county and municipal courts on Jan. 1, 1978. Trial commissioners will be appointed to serve in counties without a district judge.

Meanwhile, meeting jointly with the Senate counterpart, the Judiciary Committee recommended to the state Supreme Court that all trial commissioners work part time and be allowed to practice law in their spare time.

The committee recommended that the trial commissioners' authority be limited so they may not hold trial.

The Supreme Court proposed rules last week setting up two levels of trial commissioners — attorneys who could hold trial and who had virtually the same authority as district judges except that they were appointed, and non-attorney trial commissioners with limited authority.

Mine Safety Program Ready For Passage In State Senate

By GEORGE W. HACKETT
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — An extensive deep mine safety program, given a high priority by Gov. Julian Carroll, was ready for passage in the Kentucky Senate today.

There was little doubt among some legislators that the measures would breeze through the upper chamber and be dispatched to the House for further action.

"We will pass it," said Sen. Ken Gibson, D-Madisonville, chairman of the commission which wrote the bills that would, among other things, put mine safety analysts in the field to reduce accidents.

The bills also require Kentucky's 27,000 underground miners to be certified and they stipulate that any new miner must have 95 days of training and apprenticeship to qualify.

Mines also would be required to have a rescue team available within 60 minutes driving time of their operations. If none is available, the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals would have to provide one.

The mine safety bills received their second readings in the Senate Thursday. Approved by voice vote was a resolution calling for early settlement of the Jefferson County teachers' strike.

Sen. William Quinlan, D-Louisville, who submitted the resolution, said he was "concerned about the education of our children."

Among measures introduced was one from Sen. Danny Yocum, D-Louisville, setting up enabling legislation for Jefferson County to expand its sewer system.

A similar proposal was defeated during the regular session earlier this year.

Yocum said the legislation is needed to enable the county to take advantage of federal financing and meet the minimum water quality standards.

Sen. Gus Sheehan, D-Covington, introduced a bill to ease the problem of crowded ballots, a situation that came up in Jefferson County. During the 1975 primary, the county had 668 candidates, forcing officials to list 77 of them on paper ballots.

Sheehan's proposal calls for electronic and electromechanical voting systems in which voters record their choice by means of marking a device or punching or marking on one or more ballot cards.

They would be designed so that the votes could be tabulated by data processing machines at one or more counting places.

Mrs. Robert D. (Marie) Taylor, Assistant Professor of Music at Murray State University, will be presented in a recital of keyboard music featuring both piano and harpsichord on Tuesday, December 7, at 8:15 p. m. in the Old Recital Hall located on the second floor of the original building comprising the Price Doyle Fine Arts Complex. Works of Scarlatti, Couperin, Mozart and Chopin will be performed in addition to a more recent composition, Sonata for Harpsichord, by Vincent Persichetti, a leading American composer. Mrs. Taylor came to Murray State in 1969 and has appeared throughout the area as both a solo and chamber music artist. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

UMW President Miller Says He's Tired Of Being Called 'Tyrant'

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller says he's tired of being called a paranoid tyrant, among other things.

"I predicted earlier this week in Huntington that the upcoming (union) election would be a muckraker," he said Thursday night, "and the statements that have been made and attributed to union officials recently certainly support my view."

Miller referred specifically to statements attributed to UMW Secretary-Treasurer

Harry Patrick in an interview with the Charleston Gazette earlier this week. The UMW president contacted the AP by telephone, saying he wanted to give his side of the story.

"Harry Patrick was quoted as saying 'Miller loves the power and the glory of the presidency but won't accept the responsibility,'" he said. "Well, if I hadn't accepted the responsibility I won't know where we would be. The truth of the matter is, I've gotten very little help from some others with the same responsibility I have to serve the membership."

He said Patrick's statement, "lacks by a lot being completely truthful and consistent."

Miller denied that he had cut off the heat at the UMW headquarters building in Washington, D.C., that he refused to let Patrick travel and that he had declined to let staff members work after office hours.

He pictured Patrick as an ambitious rival who was seeking to discredit him.

"He's been putting together a road show for some time now," Miller said of his former ally. "He tried to upstage me at the (Cincinnati) convention and he's let me know he doesn't support me."

Patrick was quoted as saying that prior to the union's constitutional convention in Cincinnati last October, Miller gave him "a ultimatum" demanding his support.

"What I said, word for word," said Miller, "was 'somewhere up the road I've got to run again. Are you going to run with me?' He said, 'I'll talk with you after the convention.'"

"I don't see how anybody could misunderstand or misconstrue the meaning of that."

Miller also accused Patrick of failing to support him during the hectic 10-day convention at which Miller and other union officials often were met with jeers and boos from dissident delegates among the 1,800 UMW members who attended.

"The kind of backing he gave me was not the kind I needed to run a responsible working convention," Miller said. "I had to chair the convention under the most adverse conditions and there were only five or six people I could rely on to do what I told them. Patrick was asked on several occasions to keep me advised about some particular matter and he didn't do it."

As for the charges he is becoming remote and paranoid, Miller said: "I have no damned body guards although I do have the responsibility to see that union property is properly safeguarded. When Patrick asked me to let his staff work after office hours I said it was alright but I wanted to know who would be working and what they would be working on. He may see that as paranoia, but I see it as being responsible."

Miller said he did not plan to seek Patrick's support in the June 1977 union elections.

"I'll name a slate of 13 people to run with me," he said. "Harry Patrick's name won't be on it. As far as I'm concerned, he's already made it very clear he doesn't want to run with me.

"The nominating begins Jan. 15, and the election will be June 14. The way I see things, I'm accountable to the membership. I invite anybody who doesn't like the way I'm doing things to run against me.

"We have majority rule in this union and we'll let the membership decide who's paranoid and who's not."

Dr. Willard J. Alls, Jr., R.Ph., right, pharmacist at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital was recently honored as "Duke of Paducah" after a speech at the West Kentucky State Vocational-Technical School, Paducah, Kentucky on November 30. The award was presented by B. A. Hamilton on behalf of Bill Murphy, mayor of Paducah. Hamilton in making the presentation noted that Alls, a Paducah native, is the author of two successful books and highly recognized as a professional pharmacist. Hamilton also cited his outstanding involvement in the prevention of the drug abuse problem as a reason for the award. Alls was invited to speak to the West Kentucky State Vocational-Technical School by the cultural committee headed by Mrs. Mary G. Sledd. He spoke on the problems of youth and how to live a successful life.

Painless Dentistry May Be On Way In The Future

BOSTON (AP) — For people who fear going to the dentist, there's good news for the future: a chemical spray that removes decay from teeth with little drilling and almost no pain.

Researchers at Tufts University who developed the chemical, called GK-101, say they have tested it successfully on human patients.

Although the method is years away from being available to dentists, it appears to be the closest thing yet to painless dentistry.

The new method requires no anesthesia even for large cavities, the doctors say, and virtually eliminates the grinding pain of traditional dental work.

The technique was developed and tested by Melvin Goldman and Joseph H. Kronman, both professors at Tufts Dental School.

Government Looking For Sites To Bury Radioactive Wastes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is looking for a half dozen locations in the nation to bury radioactive waste.

The disposal project may cost more than $20 billion, including $2 billion for civilian atomic waste that is expected to accumulate at power plants over the next 30 years and perhaps 10 times that to solidify and transport military wastes now in liquid form.

The Energy Research and Development Administration told a news conference Thursday it will search all but three of the 48 contiguous states for the sites. It said it will bypass only Iowa, New Jersey and Delaware, which do not seem to have underlying salt, rock or clay formations suitable for safe burial.

ERDA said it will try to reach compromises with states that object to the installations.

ERDA is looking for large underground formations of salt or rock tight enough and stable enough to keep radioactive wastes safely isolated from the earth's surface for thousands of years.

The agency said it would not be ready to select specific sites until late 1978, and hoped to have the first of them operating by 1985.

The repositories, to be more than 1,000 feet underground, are intended so far to hold only some 330,000 cubic feet of solidified wastes from civilian nuclear power reactors.

Military nuclear wastes already add up to some 8 million cubic feet and will total some 11 million cubic feet by the end of this century, said ERDA officials.

But Frank Baranowski, director of Nuclear Fuel Cycle and Production, said these military wastes can be greatly condensed to fit into the same underground vaults with the civilian wastes, if a decision is eventually made to bury them as well.

ERDA said it would study 36 states next year in various degrees of detail.

ERDA earmarked 13 states for both intensive study of existing scientific information and direct field observations.

The states, which have undergone some previous study, are: Colorado, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Nevada, New York, Ohio, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, and Washington.

HERE'S "THE ANSWER."

You asked for a car to meet today's needs. You got it. The Answer. A special Corolla from Toyota.

A car built Toyota tough to meet the demands for high gas mileage and a low price. That's "The Answer." The lowest-priced, highest gas mileage car in America. Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices, not including tax, license, transportation charges, and optional equipment.

$2,788

Lowest priced car in America. That's "The Answer."

A new car that costs less than many used cars. And "The Answer" has something no one else has—unbeatable Toyota toughness at an unbeatable tough price.

Highest gas mileage car in America. That's "The Answer." Gas mileage no one else can match. In 1977 EPA tests "The Answer" got 49 mpg on the highway, 36 in the city. These ratings with a 1.2 liter engine are estimates.

The actual mileage you get will vary depending on your driving habits and your car's condition and equipment.

How did Toyota come up with "The Answer"? We started with the durable, proven Corolla and eliminated some of the luxury features. But we didn't touch the car's quality. You'll still find things like welded unitized-body construction, steel guard door reinforcements and McPherson Strut front suspension. This special car became "The Answer." A car that's inexpensive, not cheap.

A car that carefully retains the toughness that's a part of the Toyota tradition. See your Toyota dealer today. He's the only one who can show you "The Answer."

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

NATIONAL

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Gary Gilmore waited in his Death Row cell today to learn whether his mother would succeed against his wishes in getting the U.S. Supreme Court to delay his Monday sunrise execution. The nation's highest court and three courts in Utah were to consider a variety of pleas today seeking to stop Gilmore from facing a firing squad two days after his 36th birthday for the murder of a Provo motel clerk. Attorney Anthony Amsterdam, representing Bessie Gilmore of Milwaukee, Ore., on Thursday asked U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White, the Utah Supreme Court and a state district court to intervene in the case.

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Cyrus R. Vance, who served as Lyndon Johnson's world-traveling troubleshooter and tried unsuccessfully to negotiate an end to the Vietnam war in 1968, has been selected by Jimmy Carter to replace Henry A. Kissinger as secretary of state, sources say. The president-elect was expected to announce the appointment of Vance, 59, at a news conference today, sources close to Carter said. Carter also was expected to announce the appointment of Atlanta banker Thomas Bertram Lance as his budget director.

BOSTON (AP) — Offshore oil development will bring air pollution to the beaches and rocky inlets of New England — but not enough to threaten the way of life in its seaport towns, a federal report says. And the financially depressed region would gain thousands of jobs and billions of dollars worth of investments if a large oil strike were made in New England's continental shelf. The report is far more optimistic than a congressional study of proposed energy projects off the shores of New Jersey and Delaware released Thursday in Washington.

TOKYO (AP) — Huang Hua, China's leading diplomat, has been named foreign minister in a government shakeup expected to buttress the policy of rapprochement with the United States. Huang, formerly Peking's U.N. ambassador, replaces his old friend and longtime associate Chiao Kuan-hua. It was believed Chiao was removed because he and his wife were close to Mao Tse-tung's widow, Chiang Ching, who is under arrest with three other leaders of the radical wing of the Chinese Communist party.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The 15 members of the Security Council begin private meetings today to work out arrangements for the election of the next secretary-general of the United Nations. Unless the Chinese veto him, Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim appears certain to be re-elected. Waldheim and former President Luis Echeverria of Mexico are the leading candidates.

CULIACAN, Mexico (AP) — Thousands of peasants have disrupted farm work in the state of Sinaloa to enforce demands for land, and landowners warned that their crops could suffer. The owners asked Gov. Alfonso Calderon to come to the region today to try to convince the squatters to let the farmers work.

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter is faced with a difficult decision over production of the controversial B1 bomber, potentially the costliest bomber in the nation's history. The Ford Administration Thursday awarded contracts to start production of the B1, putting Carter in the position of having to cancel a project that is already underway if he decides against it. An aide said he hasn't made a final decision.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Denver criminal courts have become the first in the nation to test a new method of ending disparity in sentences for the same crimes. The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, describing the project today, said judges in several other states are watching the Denver experiment with an eye toward applying it to their own communities. The experiment involves a formula developed specifically for Denver in which points are awarded according to the seriousness of the crime and the offender's lack of stability.

Mayfield Man Found Guilty In Murder Case

MAYFIELD, Ky. (AP) — Thomas Lee Bowler has been found guilty of murder in connection with the death last May of his wife, Bobbie June Bowler.

A Graves County jury returned the verdict Thursday after deliberating more than four hours at the end of the four-day trial.

The jury recommended that Bowler be sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Judge Seth T. Boaz has scheduled sentencing for Dec. 7.

Bowler is free on $20,000 bond until then.

Two Jump From Municipal To State

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — City government to state government was the jump made by two new legislators sworn in for the special session of the General Assembly.

Each chamber has a new member. The new state representative is Dolly McNutt, D-Paducah, who served as Paducah mayor from 1972 to 1976.

She was unopposed in her election last month to the House seat of former Rep. Fred Morgan, D-Paducah. Morgan resigned to become a member of the state Board of Claims.

In the Senate, Randall Donahue, D-Loretto, replaces Sen. W. R. Gentry Jr., D-Bardstown. Donahue is mayor of Loretto in Marion County. Gentry resigned his Senate seat to become a member of the state Public Service Commission.

Weak Demand Forces Automakers To Halt Small Car Plant Output

DETROIT (AP) — Continued weak demand for compact and subcompact automobiles has forced three of the nation's automakers to halt output at small-car plants and lay off 10,750 workers for one week.

Ford Motor Co. said

Vance. . .

and was a ranking foreign policy adviser to Carter during the president-elect's campaign for the White House.

A native of Clarksburg, W. Va., Vance was a Navy officer and is a lawyer. He took his first government assignment in 1957 as a special counsel to a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

President John F. Kennedy named Vance in 1961 as Defense Department general counsel and he later became Kennedy's secretary of the Army. Under Johnson, Vance was elevated in 1964 to deputy defense secretary, the No. 2 post in the Pentagon. He resigned the Pentagon job in 1965.

Johnson often used Vance as a world-roving troubleshooter. Assignments from Johnson sent Vance to the Mediterranean during Greek-Turkish disputes over Cyprus, to South Vietnam at the time the war there was escalating, to the Dominican Republic during that country's 1965 civil war, to Panama during the 1964 Canal Zone riots and to South Korea in 1968 to assess what appeared to be rising threats from North Korea.

Johnson then named Vance, along with Averell Harriman, as part of the first negotiating team sent to Paris for peace talks with North Vietnam in 1968-69.

In a September speech to a high-level group that will recommend U.S. policies toward world problems, Vance said the United States has a good chance to reach solid economic agreements with Third World nations.

He urged that the United States be "reasonably forthcoming" in its future dealings with poor nations.

Carter had indicated early on that he planned to name Vance as director of the Office of Management and Budget.

He had said he wanted to fill the OMB post early because of the need to begin serious work on preparing probable amendments to the 1978 fiscal budget that Ford will send to Congress a few days before the Jan. 20 inaugural.

Permits For Operation Food Markets Needed

The Calloway County District Health Department has announced that the amended Retail Food Market Sanitation Regulation, which was adopted by the Department for Human Resources Regulations. The regulation establishes minimum sanitary and facility requirements.

Those establishments existing prior to June 2, 1975, which only deal with pre-packaged food products and/or limit their food processing to the cutting and slicing of ready to eat foods, will be exempt from certain construction requirements, if no public health nuisance exists.

Thursday it will shut the compact Maverick-Comet assembly lines in Kansas City and temporarily idle 2,050 hourly employees for a week beginning Monday to reduce mounting inventories of unsold cars.

The cutback is the first of the new-model year by Ford, which only recently resumed full production following a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers.

American Motors Corp. is suspending production of the subcompact Gremlin and compact Hornet at Kenosha, Wis., and Brampton, Ont., idling 4,000 workers at the two plants for the week. AMC said Pacer and Matador production are not affected.

In addition, Chrysler Corp., in a previously announced cutback, is halting output of the compact Volare-Aspen at St. Louis for the week, idling 4,700 workers.

The cutbacks, coming at a time when intermediate and full-size assembly plants are working overtime, underscores the industry's sales imbalance.

General Motors Corp. has 16 assembly plants on overtime this week, and Ford has seven. At the same time, GM's subcompact Vega-Astre assembly plant in Lordstown, Ohio, and Chevette line in Wilmington, Del., are shut for the week because of poor sales. Chrysler's Volare-Aspen plant in Hamtramck, Mich., also is shut. More than 14,000 workers are on temporary layoff because of the closings.

Big cars are selling at near-record levels while many small-car models are sitting in dealer showrooms. The net effect is a healthy but softer than anticipated domestic market for the automakers, who had predicted 1977-model year sales would approach the record levels set in 1973.

Separately, GM is shutting heavy and medium truck production at the GMC Truck and Coach Division plant in Pontiac for one week, beginning Monday, idling 3,500 hourly workers.

Meanwhile, the trade journal Automotive News reported Thursday that U.S. car output for the week would total 201,509 units, a 68 per cent gain from 113,379 a week ago, when the industry worked only three days. The industry built 160,646 cars this week a year ago.

For the calendar year-to-date, U.S. car output was estimated at 7,947,329 units, up from 6,317,465 a year ago.

Truck production for the week was estimated at 67,320 units, compared with 39,972 last week and 51,306 a year ago. Truck output for 1976-to-date was put at 2,751,622, compared with 2,120,081 in 1975.

Administrator Has More Respect For Coal Miners Now

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two weeks ago today, David Jones went into an underground coal mine for the first time in his life. It was a nerve shattering experience he hopes he won't have to do again.

Jones, administrator of the state's medical examination program, a branch of the Kentucky Department for Human Resources, represented state medical officials when the bodies of 11 men killed in a southeastern Kentucky coal mine in March finally were brought out of the pit Nov. 19.

"I have a lot more respect for coal miners now," he said. "I think any man that would go in there and do that every day certainly deserves respect. Most people aren't aware of what coal miners have to go through every day of their lives to have fuel to burn."

Jones said "you can't help" but to be frightened "in a situation like that."

"When you're down there, realizing why you are there, to conduct an investigation on people who have died, there's always the possibility it could happen again," Jones said. "You know if it happens again you're going to be the next bunch to go. I was in there to assist the coroner, as administrator of the state medical examiner program."

Jones said his laboratory and another in Cincinnati took tissue samples from the dead men and that a report probably will be issued next week on the exact cause of death.

The 11 died in the second of two methane gas explosions in Scotia Coal Co.'s No. 1 mine March 11 — two days after 15 men were killed in the same section of the shaft. The bodies of the 11 were not brought out because removing them immediately was considered too dangerous.

Jones said it was apparent from viewing the bodies that three men were killed instantly. The eight others may have lived a short period of time.

He agreed, essentially, with federal Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration engineer Ray Ross, who said three were killed instantly.

Ross said his conclusion was based on the fact that eight of the men had removed "self-rescuers" from their belts — an operation he said takes several seconds.

"It looks like three died instantly and eight lived a few moments," Jones said. "We did find three of the men did have extensive body injuries, internal injuries, where the others did not. The three of them were killed in the blast, the others were not."

He said the eight who did not suffer fatal injuries from the blast itself probably died from carbon monoxide poisoning, breathing methane gas or from the concussion caused by the explosion.

Dear Consumer Here Are Your Rights to Credit

By Virginia Knauer
Special Assistant to the President and Director
Office of Consumer Affairs
Department of Health, Education and Welfare

If you've ever had trouble obtaining credit because you are recently separated or divorced—or because of your age, race—or because your income is derived from some type of public assistance program, here's good news.

Under the Equal Credit Opportunity Act of 1974 and recent amendments to that law, you have important rights.

Specifically, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act says that a creditor (whether a person, a credit union, bank or other institution that extends, renews or continues credit) cannot:

- Refuse to grant a separate account to a credit-worthy applicant on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, marital status or age (provided the applicant is of the legal age to enter into a contract).

- Refuse to grant credit because all or part of an applicant's income is derived from any public assistance program.

- Ask the marital status of the applicant if the applicant applies for an unsecured separate account unless: (1) it is community property, (2) secured credit is requested, or (3) the account requested is one that a spouse will be permitted to use or will be contractually liable for.

- Ask an applicant whether he or she is divorced or separated.

- Require an applicant to designate a title, for example, Mr., Mrs., Miss or Ms.

- Require an applicant to report income derived from alimony, child support or maintenance payments. (A creditor may, however, ask and consider such income in determining the creditworthiness of an applicant.)

- Require an applicant to use a spouse's first or last name.

- Refuse to consider the income of the applicant or spouse on the basis of sex or marital status.

Special Services Planned Sunday, Episcopal Church

The Right Reverend David B. Reed, Bishop of the Diocese of Kentucky, will be at St. John's Episcopal Church on Sunday, December 5, for the 9:45 service.

Bishop Reed will administer Confirmation and celebrate Holy Communion. The Reverend Stephen R. Davenport III will present the confirmations to the Bishop. The sermon will be given by the Reverend Robert L. Burchell, former vicar of St. John's.

Others taking part in the service will be Ben Moore, crucifer; Duncan Hart and Mike Shore, flag bearers; Robert Whitmer, acolyte; and Mrs. Leonard Whitmer, organist.

A reception will follow the service. Church School classes will begin after the reception.

The annual Church progressive dinner will be held Sat., Dec. 4, beginning with wine and cheese at the Whitmer's at 6:00 p. m., salad at Laura Wayne's, dinner at the Rodden's, and dessert at the Callahan's. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Michael Brun.

Preparation, Streamlining Allow Legislators To Proceed Quickly

By BILL BERGSTROM
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) —

With just a few weeks to complete its work, the special session of the Kentucky General Assembly is getting off to a fast start on some major bills such as those dealing with mine safety.

Extensive preparation and some streamlining of the rules have allowed the legislators to make more progress on bills in the opening days of the special session than they could in a week or more in a regular session, Philip Conn, director of the Legislative Research Commission, said Thursday.

The mine safety bills were introduced, passed by committee and given first reading in the Senate in the session's first day. The second reading came Thursday.

Also in the first day, the first of many bills on the new district court system were introduced in the House, along with measures on the death penalty, electronic voting machines and other questions. The House has reduced from three days to one day the amount of notice required before a bill can be considered by a committee, Conn said, and the Senate didn't have such a requirement.

Conn also said interim committee preparation of bills for the special session has been "unprecedented," with 26 legislative proposals reviewed and approved by interim committees before the session began.

Some bills on the new district court system are in the hands of legislators but have not been introduced yet, Conn noted.

He said the legislators probably are waiting "until they feel the time is right."

"In some cases they want to hammer out consensus bills in committee before in-roducing them," he said.

For example, a Workmen's Compensation bill that would have eliminated the minimum payment to partially disabled workers was delayed because of disagreement between pro-business and pro-labor members of the Senate.

But Conn predicted that the legislators will be quick to deal with major and relatively uncontroversial proposals such as the mine safety program.

"A lot of people think these things have been talked to death already, and it's time to get on the real ball game," he said.

Let's Stay Well Managing Backache

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Almost every adult will admit that a backache has been troublesome, at least on occasion. Back pain is particularly common in older persons.

The reasons for so much back trouble are several. The spine is an extensive, complex organ, extending from the skull to the coccyx (tailbone). It is composed of numerous bones and joints. To them are attached many muscles which are subject to strain. Our spines are in constant use, especially when we are up and about. Bearing much of our body weight brings pressure and bending.

Our backs may be injured by accidents, leading to sprains and fractures and, less commonly, dislocations. Disease, especially arthritis, may affect the bones and joints.

Because of its free movement and the weight of the head, the upper (cervical) spine is often a source of injury or disease that leads to neck pain. Also, the lower (lumbar) back is frequently troublesome because of the heavy weight-bearing and shearing action of transferring the strains and forces from the upper body to the pelvis and lower limbs.

Occasionally, the discs between the vertebrae can become damaged (herniated) and extend against a nerve and send recurrent pains down an arm from the neck or along the back of one of the thighs from the pelvis.

If you have persistent or recurrent episodes of back pain, especially if it radiates into your arm or thigh, it is wise to have an evaluation by a physician, particularly if the trouble is worsening.

While a backache may result from some harmless local disease, back pain may be the result, even the first clue, of widespread systemic disease. In other words, diagnosing the cause early can be important, and often simple measures may bring much comfort.

Some suggestions to keep in mind in lessening aching and disability from an average backache are as follows:

- Keep your weight near normal.
- Cultivate an erect posture.
- Exercise regularly, such as walking.
- Use a firm bed.
- Sleep on your side with your knees drawn up comfortably.
- When sitting, place your weight on your buttocks (not the back of the pelvis) and sit up straight. Bend your knees while sitting and resting.
- Avoid stooping and lifting, particularly any heavy objects. It is preferable to squat when picking up anything.
- Don't take medicines on your own for relief. If your backache is that severe, see a physician.

Q: Mr. E.V. wants to know if a person recovers from a heart attack, are his chances of having another one significantly increased?

A: In general, the chances of having a heart attack are greater if a person has already been the victim of one. But this is not necessarily so, if the cause is removed or lessened, such as by reducing weight, stopping smoking, maintaining a low-cholesterol diet, taking regular exercise, and lessening stress and strain.

Q: Mrs. A.N. asks about the side effects of taking swine flu vaccine.

A: During the testing of swine flu vaccine, it was found to result in mild to moderate soreness and redness at the site of injection and to cause mild general aching. Only about 2 per cent of vaccinated persons showed any fever. Those who are allergic to eggs should check with their physician to see if the allergy is sufficient to justify omitting the swine flu vaccine.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first chapter of "Santa and the Giant Fighter," a 17-part Christmas story that will be published daily in The Murray Ledger & Times between now and Dec. 22. The story was originally scheduled to begin on Dec. 1, however, delays in receiving the material postponed the starting date until today. We apologize for any inconvenience to parents and children.)

CHAPTER ONE SANTA AND THE GIANT FIGHTER

By Lucrece Beale

ONCE UPON A time there lived a little boy named William Henry Christopher Preserve.

What a remarkably long name for a small boy to have! What was even more remarkable was the amount of disturbance he caused.

Boys are sometimes naughty, everyone knows, and they are expected to be a problem now and then. But it seemed that because this boy had three names he got into as much trouble as three boys!

For one thing he did not like school. He day-dreamed. He talked out loud. He made strange faces. And he simply would not study his lessons.

"Two plus two and six minus four," he complained to his mother. "Who cares about all that? When I grow up I am going to be a giant killer. I don't have to study for that."

His mother told him there were no such things as giants but William Henry Christopher insisted there were. He said giants were bigger than mountains and meaner than witches and a whole army of soldiers could not strike a strong giant down.

"You know perfectly well that's all make-believe," said his mother.

"It is not make-believe! I myself have seen lots of giants!"

That was another worrisome thing about the boy. He told stories. Because, of course, he hadn't really seen lots of giants. Not even one if he had why hadn't anyone else seen one? But he pretended he had and if you pretend something hard enough it's practically the same thing as true.

He made himself a sword out of two pieces of wood from an old orange crate. This was to fight giants with, he said. He was always talking about the giant fights he expected to have. It was very tiresome.

Often while eating dinner or getting ready for this bath he would tell stories about giants he had seen. His parents were sick of these stories. They no longer listened. They hoped if they didn't listen he would stop pretending.

Then one day in school the class was having a spelling lesson. The teacher wrote CAT in big letters on the blackboard. While her back was turned William Henry Christopher stood up and announced that on the way to school that morning he had seen a giant who had followed him all the way to the classroom.

"And he's probably hiding in the cloak room this very minute!"

This was very upsetting to the class and naturally the teacher complained to the boy's parents.

That night the boy's father spoke very sternly. It was near Christmas and the father said: "You stop this talk about giants or Santa Claus isn't coming to your house this year."

William Henry Christopher said, "Father, have you ever seen Santa Claus?"

"Of course not," said the father, lighting his pipe. "But if you don't behave yourself he'll not leave anything in your stocking, you'll see."

"But," said the boy, "if there's a Santa Claus, why can't there be giants?"

"Because I say so!" retorted the father, crossly and he spilled his pipe all over the rug.

"But there are!" cried the boy. "I know because..."

His father got to his feet and shouted, "Go to bed! No supper for you tonight!"

William Henry Christopher went to his room and got into bed without taking off his clothes.

"I'm going to run away, he thought. I'll show them. They'll be sorry."

But it was really too cold and too dark and he was too tired to run away just then. He pulled the covers over his head and went to sleep. At least he thought he was asleep but he couldn't have been because very clearly he heard a tap-tap-tap at the closet door and a high pitched voice from inside the closet cried out, "Hey, you! Open the door!"

William Henry Christopher jumped out of bed. It's a giant! he thought wildly. He snatched up his sword and threw open the closet door.

Denver Courts To Test New System Of Determining Method Of Punishment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criminal justice experts often complain when one judge consistently hands out light sentences, while another judge in the next courtroom always gives stiff penalties for essentially the same offense.

These critics say such disparity in sentencing is grossly unfair and may be a major reason the criminal justice system isn't very effective in curbing crime.

Now, the Denver criminal courts have become the first in the nation to test a new method of ending that disparity.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, describing the project today, said judges in several other states are watching the Denver experiment with an eye toward applying it to their own communities.

On Nov. 15, Denver criminal court judges began testing carefully-devised guidelines to determine which offenders are released on probation, which ones are sentenced to work projects and which ones are ordered to jail, and for how long.

The guidelines are designed to take the guesswork out of sentencing, to state clearly what factors the judge will consider and what weight will be given to those factors.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi has proposed a similar system for the federal courts. Justice Department officials studying the issue have not yet proposed legislation incorporating Levi's proposal.

The LEAA, part of the Justice Department, dealt with the issue by awarding $348,000 to the Criminal Justice Research Center Inc.

of Albany, N.Y., to draft experimental guidelines for nonfederal courts.

The project directors were Professors Leslie Wilkins and Jack M. Kress of the State University of New York at Albany and Dean Don Gottfredson of Rutgers University in Newark. About a dozen judges worked with the researchers during the two-year project.

The work yielded a set of formulas for measuring the seriousness of a crime against the offender's previous criminal record, his schooling and employment record and other factors that theoretically reflect social stability or the lack of it.

The formula was developed specifically for Denver. It involves awarding points according to the seriousness of the crime and the offender's lack of stability.

For example, an individual convicted of a particularly serious manslaughter would get 12 points for the offense. If he were a poorly-educated drifter with a long string of previous convictions, he would get 13 points on the stability scale. These points would mean a prison sentence of eight to 10 years. Ten years is the maximum in Colorado.

Another person, convicted of the same type of crime, might get a four-year sentence if he had no previous convictions and lived a stable life resulting in credits on the stability scale.

"The guideline sentences are in no way intended to be binding, mandatory sentences," the researchers said in a written report. "The judge as human decision-maker will still retain the discretion to override any suggested guideline."

UK Music Department To Participate In Institute

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The University of Kentucky Department of Vocational Education has been selected as one of 25 educational institutions in the country to participate in the National Institute for Performance-Based Vocational Teacher Education during the 1976-77 school year.

George Denemark, dean of the UK College of Education, said the selection was made by the Center for Vocational Education at Ohio State University, Columbus, a national educational research and development organization sponsored by the National Institute of Education.

As part of the program, members of the UK department will take part in training activities designed to help them use performance-based vocational teacher education materials and implement such a program in training vocational education students.

State Waiting For Cold Weather To Launch Attack On Blackbirds

By BILL BERGSTROM
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky has been waiting for cold weather so it can launch chemical attacks on the roosts of millions of blackbirds that migrate south to the Bluegrass state for the winter. But now it's too old, state Agriculture Commissioner Thomas Harris said Thursday.

If it gets warmer and wetter next week, the roosts full of starlings, cowbirds, grackles and redwinged blackbirds will be in for aerial attacks with killing detergent sprays, said Harris and state Pest Control Director Coburn Gayle.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has verbally certified four Kentucky blackbird roosts for spraying.

Gayle said written certification of the roosts in Powell, Logan, Simpson and Hart counties — which contain a total of more than 9 million birds — should be completed this week.

He said officials expect to obtain a supply of the PA-14 detergent used to spray the birds by next Monday or Tuesday.

Harris said cold weather is needed for the spraying, but not as cold as it's been this week.

"We look for a temperature range between 35 and 45 degrees, and rain," he said. A helicopter is used to douse the roosting birds when conditions are right. The chemical strips protective oils from their feathers and causes them to die of exposure.

Harris and Gayle said that when the PA-14 arrives, the state will be ready for spraying at any one of the certified roosts.

The first one where the proper weather materializes will be the first one sprayed, they said.

The large flocks of blackbirds, hailed by northern farmers as helpful insect eaters, plague farmers in Kentucky and surrounding states by devouring large amounts of feedlot grain during the winter.

They are also blamed for the transmission of disease among feedlot hogs and the spread of histoplasmosis, a lung disease in humans.

Frenchburg Residents Told To Boil Drinking Water

FRENCHBURG, Ky. (AP) — Mayor Elwood Motley says residents of this Menifee County town have been advised to "boil their drinking water until further notice."

Motley says the city had to haul water from a private lake this week after the city's water lines froze due to cold weather.

He adds that some of the water bypassed the city's purification system and may be unsafe for drinking unless boiled.

American Cancer Society

A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

A therapeutic radiologist and now I know someone who is being treated by a radiation oncologist. Are they the same?

ANSWERline: Yes. The terms therapeutic radiologist, radiotherapist, radiation oncologist and radiation therapist all have the same meaning — a physician who has received specific training in therapeutic radiology; one who is certified by a recognized medical specialty board, and usually limits his or her practice to radiation therapy. The radiation oncologist has a particular interest in cancer, although the others also treat the disease.

A man in his 40's explains: "I am a bartender and my work puts me right in the middle of a lot of cigarette smoke. Is there anything that I can do to protect myself?"

ANSWERline: First, it is important for you to be a non-smoker because if you smoke you will compound the harmful effect of inhaling your customer's tobacco smoke. Second, try to make sure that your work area is well ventilated. A study done at the University of Cincinnati showed that bartenders inhale the equivalent of 36 cigarettes during an eight-hour shift if they work in a stuffy area but that number drops to the equivalent of 12 cigarettes if the area has a good air flow.

Supreme Court Reverses Hopkins Court Decision

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Supreme Court today reversed a Hopkins Circuit Court decision and ordered a new trial for two men convicted of possession of heroin, saying the evidence introduced at their trials was obtained through an improper search.

Robert Huff and Carl Jeffrey Pentecoste appealed to the Supreme Court in companion appeals after both were sentenced to a year in prison by the trial court on the narcotics possession charge.

The Supreme Court outlined its reasoning in its response to Huff's appeal, and said the opinion holds for Pentecoste's case.

At issue was a search by the Marshall County deputy sheriff, Raine Troupe, in September, 1974. Troupe had been asked to assist in the apprehension of Stephen Ray Hayne of Madisonville, a suspected drug dealer.

According to the trial record, Troupe made out an affidavit for a search warrant after talking to Hayne on the telephone and arranging a purchase, but made no further attempt to obtain the warrant.

After purchasing heroin from Hayne at the arranged meeting place, Troupe went to Hayne's home, where he was admitted by Hayne's wife. He drew a gun and informed her that he was a police officer and was there to secure the place until a search warrant could be obtained.

Jefferson Co. Teachers Pickets Continue Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Picketing by striking Jefferson County teachers continued for the fourth day today, although negotiators for both sides in the strike have expressed cautious optimism that a settlement can be reached soon.

Talks between the Jefferson County Teachers Association (JCTA) and the county Board of Education have continued almost around the clock since they resumed Wednesday.

June Lee, JCTA president, told a meeting of picket captains Thursday that "we're making progress."

"We're convinced we will finish, that we will complete the process, that we will not reach an impasse, that we'll come out with a contract you can live with," Mrs. Lee said.

Milburn Maupin, deputy school superintendent, said "significant progress has been made."

The negotiators are meeting in the offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, which entered the dispute before the 4,500 JCTA members went on strike Tuesday morning.

Spokesmen for both sides are refusing to disclose details of the negotiations, but several have indicated that money issues are under discussion in addition to proposals on teacher arbitration procedures.

Supreme Court Refuses To Grant South Central Bell Rate Hike

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Supreme Court refused again today to grant South Central Bell Telephone Co. a rate increase higher than the $15 million authorized by the state.

The court said it was reinstating a Franklin Circuit Court order of March 2 which instructed the utility to cease collecting rates in excess of those allowed by the Public Service Commission.

South Central Bell had obtained a temporary injunction later in March which had blocked the commission from carrying out its rate decision.

The Supreme Court quashed the injunction today.

declaring that it was granted erroneously.

The high court said there is no evidence that the rate fixed by the PSC "is less than the lowest reasonable rate."

As for the utility's evidence to support its demands for a $33 million increase, the court said that, "viewed in the light most favorable to it, it establishes no more than that the rate of return allowed by the commission is slightly less than the current interest rate on high grade corporate bonds."

And the court added: "the constitution and statutes, like the Salvation Army, aid the needy and not the greedy."

After filing its application in March, 1975, South Central Bell waited five months and then began charging the higher rates subject to a customer refund should its request be denied.

On Dec. 31, 1975, the commissioner rejected the higher rate schedule and instructed the utility to make refunds.

The commission held that the rates would give South Central Bell enough revenue to maintain its financial integrity and raise the necessary capital to expand and provide adequate service.

The utility appealed, but on March 2 on motion from the state, Franklin Circuit Court ordered the utility to stop collecting higher rates. That order was set aside on March 22.

Nine days later, the utility returned to Franklin Circuit Court and obtained the temporary injunction keeping the higher rates in effect.

In nullifying the injunction today, the Supreme Court said a utility is entitled to such relief "only if it establishes that there is a reasonable probability that it will succeed on final hearing in providing that the rate set by the commission is confiscatory in the 'previously defined constitutional sense.'"

The decision was similar to one issued by the Supreme Court last June.

Special Session Attracts Lobbyists To Corridors Of State Capitol

By BILL BERGSTROM
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The special legislative session has attracted a number of lobbyists to the marble corridors of the state Capitol.

But the range of subjects being considered by the General Assembly is limited compared to the flood of legislation dealt with during a regular session.

And the ranks of the lobbyists are correspondingly sparse. During the last regular session, last spring, about 270 lobbyists registered with the state attorney general's office.

On behalf of business and interest groups, lobbyists keep an eye on legislation that could affect those they represent and buttonhole legislators to press for favorable measures.

In the special session, Legislative Research Commission Director Philip Conn said Thursday, "there's a very small number of lobbyists, comparatively speaking."

By Thursday, about 30 had registered, the attorney general's office said. More may sign up, but the complement isn't expected to approach the size it reaches for a regular session.

Pending mine safety legislation, for example, has drawn representatives of the coal operators and coal miners, including Bill K. Caylor and Tom Duncan of the Kentucky Coal Association, Ken Hart of the Kentucky Independent Coal Producers and Robert Carter, Bobby R. Dukes and Charles Head of the United Mine Workers union.

The session has also drawn lobbyists from a wide range of other interests, however, including John D. Hinkle of the Kentucky Retail Federation Normacene S. Murray of the Kentucky Retail Jewelers Association and William C.B. Payne Jr. of the Kentucky Optometric Association.

Conn offered a likely explanation — the legislators will be considering changes in the state's Workmen's Compensation laws.

"A lot of employers are concerned about the Workmen's Compensation legislation. It hits at everyone that has a payroll," he said.

"Also, all businesses are interested in things like small claims courts and other items involved in the procedure of implementing the Judicial Amendment," Conn said.

Other business groups, he added, "have these people designated as legislative liaison and they just feel they should be aware of what's being done."

Kentucky News Briefs

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Historical Society's inaugural exhibit, opening Sunday at the Old State Capitol, will feature paintings by John James Audubon.

It was in Kentucky that Audubon learned the skills that led to his fame as a wildlife artist and became familiar with many of the birds that appeared in his 1838 collection of paintings — "Birds of America."

Forty-five prints will be displayed, the historical society has announced. Mrs. Julian Carroll, the governor's wife, will open the exhibit Saturday at 3 p.m.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A fire that killed three members of an Okolona family and injured three others on Nov. 24 started accidentally near a living room couch, possibly from a cigarette, the Jefferson County Police arson squad has said.

Francis Summers, 46, and his daughters, Catherine, 13, and Nancy, 15, died in the blaze that gutted their home.

Another daughter, Mrs. Paula Puyear, 19, and her mother, Sylvia Summers, 38, remain in General Hospital.

Mrs. Puyear is no longer listed in serious condition, but her mother is still in intensive care.

A boy born prematurely to Mrs. Puyear after the fire also is at General Hospital, listed in satisfactory condition.

Mrs. Summers' 3-year-old grandson, Brian, who was the third family member injured in the fire, has been released from Norton Children's Hospital.

vehicle driven by Robert Duncan, 25, of Wallins.

Duncan was injured and taken to the Appalachian Regional Hospital here.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Jefferson County Board of Education has asked the Supreme Court to review a court-ordered desegregation plan issued in 1975.

Attorney John Fulton of Louisville said the hearing has been requested and that he hopes to hear something from the high court within 90 days.

He said the board will contend that U.S. District Judge James Gordon's desegregation order, which required massive busing, usurps the right of school authorities to enact a plan of their own.

The request for a hearing follows an Aug. 23 decision by the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati that upheld Gordon's 16-month-old plan.

IN MEMORY
In memory of Potk Steele who passed away five years ago December 3, 1971.
God knows how much we miss him, never shall his memory fade. Loving thoughts shall ever wonder, to the spot where he is laid. The depths of sorrow we cannot tell, of the loss of one we loved so well. And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep, his memory we shall always keep.
Missed by wife, daughter Ophie and Sharon Steele.

Last week we took a look at some shock rock in the form of Kiss. This week we will look at an old timer and a strong favorite, Led Zeppelin and a struggling group headed toward stardom, Styx.

Led Zeppelin
Led Zeppelin has been around for more than ten years and every album has always hit in the top ten. The British group now has a double album and a movie entitled "The Song Remains

The Same." I understand the movie is a bomb and is not doing well on the screen because it is strictly a concert at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The album is pretty good except for the high cost, listing at $14.00.

Nearly all the cuts are excellent except for the 30 minute cut, "Dazed and Confused" which at times gets monotonous. Drummer John Bonham is super on "Moby Dick" while Robert Plant is great on guitars and vocals. The album contains such classics as "Stairway to Heaven" and "Whole Lotta Love." The sound effects on "Whole Lotta Love" were not too good but the short boogie interlude interspersed in the cut was excellent.

Incidentally, things should pick up for Zeppelin now that Robert Plant has recovered from his car wreck in which his hip was broken.

Styx
A group that is struggling on the charts towards super stardom is Styx. The members are Dennis De Young, twin brothers - Chuck and John Panozzo, James Young and newest member of the group - Johnny Shaw.

Their latest album "Crystal Ball" tends to be a concept album about a ballerina or at least the album cover leads us to think that it is a concept album.

The hit single "Mademoiselle" is excellent. The lyrics in "Crystal Ball" are beautiful and meaningful. "Shooz" is a good rock and roller in any book.

A unique cut is "Clair De Lune-Ballerina" which uses the classical music of Debussy's classic composition and the Styngian hard rock music. It is a weird and unique combination.
