Krug Closes 518 Coal Mines Deemed Unsafe For Operation; UMW Chief Presses His Attack

Lewis Asks God To Forgive Krug For "Negligence"

ASKS KRUG'S REMOVAL

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Secretary of the Interior Krug today ordered the indefinite closing of 518 coal mines for safety reasons and John L. Lewis commented:

"May God in Heaven forgive him" for not closing them before 111 miners died at Centralia, Ill.

Krug announced that 2,015 other mines in government possession will be permitted to re-open next Monday at end of the miners' six-day mourning period for the Centralia victims provided the pits are certified as safe.

The 518 mines ordered closed by Krug because they are "believed dangerous," employ 40,000 workers.

Lewis was testifying on mine safety to a House committee when Krug issued the order at the Interior Department.

"I point out," the United Mine Workers chief said, "that Secretary Krug is doing now what he should have done ever since the safety code became effective. He's starting to enforce his own code—but after 111 men died at Centralia."

"Now on this particular day of our Lord, Mr. Krug found 513 mines not safe."

"May God in Heaven forgive him for not finding those mines before and not closing them down before those men died."

Calls For Protection
Lewis then demanded: What should the United Mine Workers do now? He continued:

"If we must grind up human flesh and bones in the industrial machine that we call modern America then before God I assert that those who consume the coal and are made comfortable by it owe protection to those men first, and owe security to their widows and children."

"I say it. I voice it. I proclaim it. And I care not who in Heaven or Hell opposes it."

At one point, Lewis accused Krug of "lying" and demanded "that he be removed from his high office."

Recalling the work agreement which he signed last year with Krug, he said:

"We knew that the coal operators wouldn't keep the mines safe. That's the reason why we asked Krug to do it."

"He promised me, didn't he? Or did he? Why, he signed it with me at the White House under the klieg lights and the miners believed him. They didn't know he was lying. They know now that he was lying and they are joining me in demanding that he be removed from his high office."

Lewis called Krug:

Easter Sunday Offering To Go To World Service

On Easter Sunday the offering at the First Methodist church is to go to world service for the healing, teaching and preaching ministry of Christ across the world. Each year on Easter Sunday the local church raises the annual acceptance for this cause. This year the World Service acceptance is $1350. This fund represents the church's response to Christ's command, "Go ye into all the world."

This offering makes a fitting climax to the activities of the Easter season. During the past days the church has been active in carrying the gospel of Christ into the local community. Teams have gone out, two by two, into the homes of Fulton to invite men and women to accept Christ and to unite with the church. As a result of this evangelization, the world service offering will make possible an extension of the church ministry through missionary program of Methodism.

Envelopes for this offering have been sent to each member of the church. Each man, woman and child has been asked to give. The offering may be made at either the morning or evening service on Easter Sunday.

VFW Post Meets; Picks Nominees

The Fulton Veterans of Foreign Wars post met Tuesday night at the Legion Club. War surplus goods sales were discussed, and a group of local veterans intend to go to Camp Campbell April 9 to purchase army equipment.

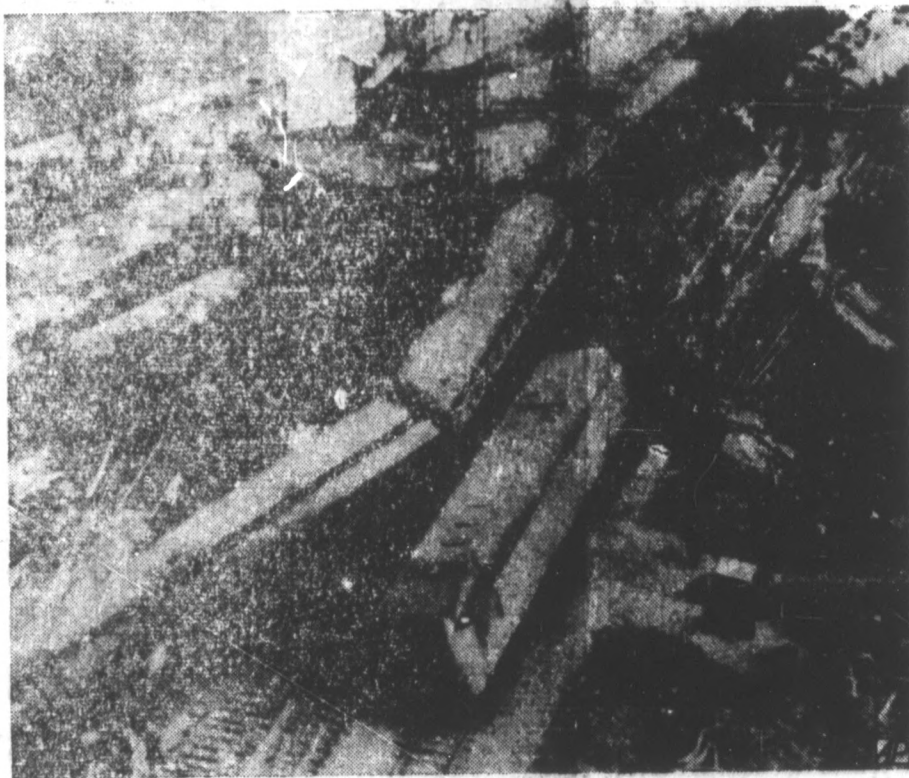

Rex Ruddle and Darrell McAllister were nominated for the office of quartermaster; Peter Peterson and James Holland were nominated for adjutant; H. P. Allen and Raymond Stallins were nominated for trustee. Nominees will be voted on at the next meeting, April 15.

Mothershead Rites To Be At 10 Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Geo. Mothershead will be held at the First Christian Church in Lexington Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Mothershead will be remembered here as the mother of Mrs. Mansfield Martin, having visited in Fulton many times. She died yesterday morning at Lexington.

Drive Planned To Raise Funds For Ball Club

Baseball Men Discuss Season Wednesday Night

Plans for financing the Fulton Chicks this season were discussed last night at a meeting of the Fulton Baseball Association in the city hall.

Committees appointed to call on businessmen and individuals for donations were:

Smith Atkins, Bert Newhouse, J. E. Hannepkin, Main street, Plains street, and State Line.

Frank Beadles, Leon Browder, Lake street from Baldridge's west, and Commercial avenue.

J. R. Hogan, L. Kasnow, Ball's Hardware, Smith's Cafe, Dolly Shop, K. P. Dalton, H. H. Dunn, Bob White, R. E. Sanford, Walnut and Fourth streets, other unassigned territory.

A committee to work at the railroad yards will be appointed later.

At last night's meeting, $1275 was given to the Association, and more contributions are expected soon.

"We feel that baseball is the very best advertisement that Fulton can have," Association members said. "Box scores and the training of the club are in practically every newspaper in the country."

Spring training gets under way here April 15, under direction of Johnny Gill, playing manager. Those who wish to have advertisements on the Fairfield fence may contact Harry Moss Latta, who will know which spaces are for sale. Prices were termed "very reasonable."

"Anyone having rooms for ball players, please call 170 or 95. We are in need of rooms right now," K. P. Dalton, FBA president said. "The ball club will pay the rent until May 6, and then you will trade with the boy who may be living at your home. The ball club has bought a bus which costs a large sum of money, and also bought 30 new uniforms and other equipment such as balls and bats. And as you know, everything has increased in price."

He also assured baseball fans that admission prices to home games would be the same as the charges last year. Adult admission is 50c, children 30c, season tickets $10 each, and grandstand seats, 15c.

Faulty Footwork Cost Driver $50.00 In License Test

Walter Stone borrowed a No. 3 taxi this morning to take his automobile driver's license test. As he was parking the auto at the court house, police said, he stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake. The car ran up the sidewalk and into the side of the city hall building.

The front of the taxi was considerably damaged, and a Highway Patrolman suffered a slight knee injury.

It cost Mr. Stone $50 to pay for damages to the car and he didn't get his driver's license.

Pfc. Billy S. Neisler Hopes To Be Home Soon

Mrs. Lena M. Lawson has resigned her position with the Citizens Bank at Hickman to accept a position as Secretary to the Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association.

McGehee, succeeding Miss Elizabeth Brasfield, who is soon to be married to Dr. Paul M. Brenner of Quincy, Illinois. Mrs. Lawson will begin her new duties April 14.

Mrs. Lawson, an alumna of Hickman high school, had her secretarial training at Bowling Green Business University, where she was graduated with the class of 1941. From 1941 to 1946 she was employed at the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railway Office in Detroit.

Mrs. Lawson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes, and a daughter-in-law of Supt. and Mrs. J. C. Lawson.

2 Injured As Jeep, Trailer Overturn

Two Springfield, Ill., men received painful injuries this morning when the jeep in which they were riding overturned on Highway 51 near Walton's store. Two other passengers were uninjured.

Admitted to the Fulton Hospital were Robert Zimmerman and Harry McCraugh.

Their jeep was pulling a trailer, and it was thought that the trailer's swaying as the vehicle rounded a curve caused the accident.

Man Killed In Truck Smashup On Highway 51

John Travis Died When Truck Hit Rear of Trailer

BIRMINGHAM NATIVE

John Travis, Birmingham, Ala., was killed instantly at 11:15 last night when the explosive-laden truck he was driving smashed into the rear of a truck-trailer at the northern approach to a bridge on Highway 51 between Bardwell and Wickliffe.

Both trucks were property of the Baggett Company of Birmingham.

The truck-trailer, which carried no load, had stopped to allow a Southeastern truck-trailer to pass before driving onto the bridge. Travis evidently was unable to stop his vehicle, and crashed head-on.

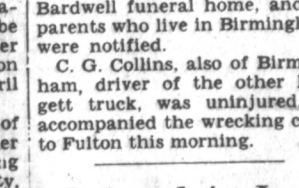

The Baggett truck-trailer was driven into the bridge railing, blocking the road for about five hours. The Haulline Wrecker Service of Fulton was called to the scene of the accident, but was unable to pull the trucks apart alone. Bill Hatline called Chip Workman and Rich, colored, of the Bob White Motor Co., also of Fulton, to help him at about 2:20 a. m.

It was impossible to remove Travis' body until the trucks were separated, they said.

Travis' body was taken to a Bardwell funeral home, and his parents who live in Birmingham, were notified.

C. G. Collins, also of Birmingham, driver of the other Baggett truck, was uninjured. He accompanied the wrecking crews to Fulton this morning.

BACHELOR AT 103

Uncle Dan Young (above) celebrated his 103rd birthday with the observation that he might marry if he could find a "girl" about his own age. The retired farmer, who received friends in the South Bend, Ind., home in which he has lived for 85 years, added that he was not interested in any young girls from 85 to 95 years of age.

Phone Strike Seems Certain

Union, Long Distance Division of A. T. & T. Still Are Deadlocked

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Government efforts to avert next Monday's threatened coast-to-coast telephone strike moved slowly today.

With 287,000 workers preparing for the walkout, federal officials, concentrated on trying to break an impasse in negotiations here between the American Telephone Workers and the long distance division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The long distance workers' union is one of 39 affiliates of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, which is pushing demands for $12 weekly pay increases and other contract revisions.

Joseph A. Belne, NITW president, pledged that if the A. T. & T. or its subsidiary firms in the Bell System, fail to make counter-offers to NITW demands, the strike will come off as scheduled for 6 a. m. Monday in each time zone.

Every sign pointed to an Easter weekend "crisis" on the stalemate negotiations, with an agreement likely to come only at the eleventh hour.

A nation wide strike was prevented a year ago only minutes before the walkout deadline. The break came then as the result of a settlement in the long distance segment of the Bell System. Other Bell Companies quickly accepted similar terms of $5 to $8 weekly wage boosts.

Lilienthal supporters concede that if the motion is successful it will be tantamount to defeat for President Truman's nominee. On the other hand they would regard its defeat as a long step to eventual victory.

With both sides expecting a close vote, opposing camps were carefully checking the membership roll. One Lilienthal supporter predicted a margin of "two or three votes" in the decisive test.

Debate over Lilienthal was resumed today after an 11 hour and 22 minute session yesterday that lasted until nearly midnight.

Truman Supported
An Associated Press survey of the House Foreign Affairs committee showed a majority favoring President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek Turkey aid program. Of the 25 committee members, 13 said they favor the program generally, five were undecided or noncommittal, and seven were out of town.

The 13 favoring some aid program included both Democrats and Republicans.

Other Developments
Portal pay: A Senate House conference committee undetermined today the job of compromise differences between the two branches on antiportal pay legislation. House and Senate have passed different bills to ben portal pay suits.

Republicans Rep. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader, said Democrats are being misled if they think Republican ranks have split. Democrats made such a claim after the House boosted a deficiency bill recently in the face of Republican efforts at economy.

Halleck told a reporter the GOP majority will stick together when it counts.

Bilbo Forrest, Jackson, legal advisor for Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.), says Bilbo won't be back to claim his Senate seat this session unless Congress works longer than is now planned. The Senate declined to seat Bilbo in January because of charges by a War Investigating Committee that he had misused his office in dealing with Mississippi contractors.

Lilienthal Up For Test Vote

5 P. M. Set For Ballot On Returning Name To Committee And F. B. I.

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—after weeks of hearings and debate the Senate headed today into a test vote that will show how members line up on confirmation of David E. Lilienthal for the important post of Atomic Energy Commission chairman.

The vote, set for 5 p. m., is on a motion to return the nomination to committee for further consideration and an FBI investigation.

Lilienthal supporters concede that if the motion is successful it will be tantamount to defeat for President Truman's nominee. On the other hand they would regard its defeat as a long step to eventual victory.

Kilgore To Start Campaign Duties Thursday, May 1

POSITIONS REVERSED

Louisville, Ky., April 3.—(AP)—Announcement was made here last night by Harry Lee Waterfield, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, that he had chosen Ben Kilgore of Franklin as his campaign manager.

Waterfield said Kilgore would resign as assistant general manager of the Eastern Dark Fired Tobacco Growers' Association on May 1, and would assume active management of his campaign on that date.

Waterfield, whose home is at Clinton, said he had opened state campaign headquarters in the Seelbach Hotel here. He is speaker of the State House of representatives and is publisher of the Fulton Daily Reader and the Hickman County Gazette at Clinton.

Kilgore is a former executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation and was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1945, at which time Waterfield served as his campaign manager.

In a letter to Waterfield, which he released at the same time his appointment was announced, Kilgore said:

"While I am reluctant to leave the work, where I have been exceedingly happy and, I hope, useful and constructive, I am tremendously anxious to make a contribution to a Democratic victory this year. I know this can best be done by working for your nomination in August."

Sees Victory
"Forecasting in the minds of Kentucky Democrats at this present time is victory in November. I believe they are determined to achieve it. In you they have a fresh, vigorous leader, with a record of performance and a devotion to the people's welfare that are essential to Democratic enthusiasm which is vital to victory in November."

"In the early days you fought for fair legislation for farmers at my personal request. You accepted terrific political punishment without flinching. Your courage and vision paved the way for such of our present beneficial farm legislation in Kentucky. I know farmers will flock to your banner. I am confident you will attract many Republican farm votes in November."

"Your record is constructive and fair to labor. At the same time you have been a friend to business and industry. Your legislative concept has been that labor and business must work together. You have never lost sight of the fact that more and better jobs depend upon fair profits for business and an expanded industrial development in Kentucky."

Led Fight for Teachers.
"You foresaw the present deplorable teachers' crisis in Kentucky. If the House budget, supported by you and your leaders, had been adopted, the present educational crisis would have been averted or certainly substantially cushioned. You led the fight against the Moss anti-T. V. A. bill and you have always worked for an expanded R. E. A. program. To you, as House Speaker, goes a great deal of credit for the new recognition of the importance of farm-to-market roads in Kentucky, through an appropriation of $5,000,000 annually for this purpose."

"I know you will be nominated in August. This will guarantee Democratic victory in November."

Waterfield Lauds Kilgore
With reference to Kilgore Waterfield said:

"His principles of good government parallel my own. The vital issues in Kentucky today demand men of ability, character, vision, and a willingness to make great personal sacrifice for the welfare of all the people. He has an enviable record of progressive achievement and unselfish public service."

"We have opened our state headquarters on the fifth floor of the Seelbach Hotel. We extend a welcome to all Kentuckians to visit us and earnestly invite them to help us in our campaign for the people of Kentucky."

We've Gone Too Far

It is shocking to those who believe in the sanctity of marriage to read that the Bishop of London has told the British House of Lords that adultery need not constitute grounds for divorce.

The Bishop spoke during debate on the rapidly rising British divorce rate. He pointed out the obvious truth that people no longer look on adultery as the unpardonable sin, and said intimate relations with one other than a lawful mate is not sufficient reason to break up a marriage and a home.

The time has come to call a halt to such light and airy dismissal of adultery, and to discourage the tolerant, even envious, manner in which adulterers are regarded in the Bishop's country and in our own.

The extent of the practice is known to all who are of adolescent age, or older. In small towns, especially, the violators of the moral code cannot long escape being found out. But those who ensure them or attempt to reform them are an unpopular minority.

Why be married if one is unwilling to accept the attendant responsibilities and to obey the wedding vows? What could be the result of condoning adultery save to provide an added incentive to practice it? What hope is there for Christian family life if husband and wife feel that they need not be faithful to one another?

With The Fourth Estate

People who hold that our strong stand on points at issue between this country and Russia may lead to a destructive war between the United States and the U.S.S.R., are unimpaired by the fact that American defeatism was a major contributing factor to our involvement in World War II. If our government had taken a similarly strong stand then, which was not possible in the absence of united public support, war might have been avoided.

During the pre-war years, defeatism was rampant in this country. Where it did the most damage, however, was among certain newspapermen who were expected to give the public a factual report and authentic interpretation of world conditions. Less than twenty months before Pearl Harbor, a group of American newspapermen were discussing the dangers of war with Germany and Italy, and one, not long back from France and Spain, said that in his opinion the United States would not dare engage Hitler and Mussolini in war.

It is portraying the extensive perperation of the Axis powers for war, another newsman pointed to the success of psychological measures to ready the populace of the two countries for conflict stating that the German and Italian peoples had been inflamed to a state where nothing but war would satisfy those who followed the two dictators. In the opinion of many—too many—Hitler and Mussolini were bent on world conquest and that there was little or nothing that we could do to prevent it, except defend ourselves when it came our turn to be attacked.

All of this, of course, was interpreted as a sign of weakness by the overlords of Germany and Italy and only encouraged them to continue on their course. Hence, the people who held to this defeatist line of thinking cannot escape a major portion of the responsibility for the war that made heavy demands on the manpower and wealth of this nation—Owensboro Messenger.

John Bull Determined

By Dewitt MacKenzie
(AP) Foreign Affairs Analyst

England has given no more impressive exhibition of determination to whip her economic crisis and defend her interests at home and abroad than we have just witnessed in the circumstances surrounding the passage of the Peace-Time conscription bill through its second (and decisive) reading in the House of Commons.

That measure is a live bomb, providing as it does for the calling up of some 200,000 men between 18 and 26 annually for service in the armed forces. It comes in the midst of a grave economic crisis. Britain is living in frugal austerity on borrowed money, and its essential industries are lagging because of lack of manpower.

Moreover, owing to the shortage of miners, the country for weeks has been without adequate fuel and light because of scarcity of coal. And to make the cup of misery overflow, England has been wading through hell and high water, due to unprecedented storms and floods.

Could one imagine a tougher moment in which to present a bill for the conscription of manpower into the army, the navy and the airforce? Yet the Socialist government is determined to keep the country on an armed footing which will provide adequate defense and maintain Britain's prestige as one of the Big Three. And in this emergency the Conservatives, who politically are the mortal foes of the Socialists, turned to and supported the government when it was faced with a split in its own party.

What happened was that a considerable left-wing section of the Labor (Socialist) party deserted the government over this issue—enough so that Prime Minister Attlee's ministry might have been overthrown if the big former Prime Minister Churchill had not his followers into the fight for Attlee, with the result that the measure was adopted by a vote of 386 to 85—a result which doesn't show the full extent of the leftist revolt, since quite a bloc of members refused to vote.

Conscription was opposed on several grounds. Those who fought it maintained that industry needs men more than do the armed forces, that conscription is inconsistent with Labor Party policy, and that the cost of the armed services is excessive. Some extreme leftists also opposed it as being hostile to Russia.

The conscription act would run for five years and Defense Minister Alexander says that by 1954 it would produce a trained reserve of 700,000. At present Britain has some 1,500,000 men on active service—a tremendous fighting machine. The government is trying to reduce this number to 1,000,000 by March 31, '48—still a great force.

With all this evidence at hand, can any doubt that John Bull not only is determined to see his crisis through, but that he has faith in himself? That's a question of vast importance in these days when the world unhappily is divided into two camps, and Britain is siding with America.

The indications are that the British public in general is united on foreign policy. This view is strengthened by the bi-partisan vote on the conscription bill, because Socialists and Tories are strange bed-fellows under ordinary circumstances. There are vast differences of opinion on how to handle some imperial problems—India, for example—but not so much where British foreign interests are involved.

My Victory Garden

I think that I shall never see
A garden that has suited me.
I sow, and plant, and hoe,
And hack,
And then relieve my aching back.

Bugs and more bugs of every kind
Ate my beans up, line by line.

The corn I planted grew strong and tall,
But it didn't produce any corn at all!

Some funny looking stuff came out,
I just lay down and cried.
And then I fed it to my dog,
And he lay down and died!

I planted this garden for my country,
I thought I was doing my least.

But still in my victory garden
Only the bugs have had a feast.

UK Honor School On Army Program

The University of Kentucky will be the honored educational institution on the War Department-Mutual radio program, "Campus Salute", Friday, April 4, at 11:30 a. m. until 12 noon (EST), the War Department announced today.

The radio "salute" to the University of Kentucky is the 18th in a series of programs honoring outstanding colleges and universities heard each Friday over the facilities of the Mutual Broadcasting System, written by the War Department. The United States Army Band, under the leadership of Captain Hugh Curry, along with an Army choral group, supplies the musical portion of the program.

The music to be heard on the program will include U. K.'s "Alma Mater", a fight song, "On, On, U. of K.", and several other songs representative of the University.

Imports of drugs, herbs, leaves, and roots used mainly in medicine were valued at $33,000,000 in 1945.

DDT Undesirable As Orchard Spray

Circular 427 of the Kentucky College of Agriculture makes the following statement about DDT:

"It has been found in Kentucky and elsewhere that DDT is very effective in reducing peach and apple fruit losses and on other fruit trees. However, because of the possible effects of DDT on bees and other beneficial insects, and because of the fact that DDT is not effective against curculionids and other insects which are pests of the material commonly used, the use of DDT on peach and apple trees is not recommended. It is suggested that peach and apple growers use other materials for control of these insects. She Explains John and Mary To Ivan Ivanov

Woman Edits New Magazine Giving Reds Our Views

WORKS TOWARD PEACE

By Adelaide Kerr

New York—Anybody who thinks women still have no real influence in world affairs should look in on Marian Sanders some day.

Mrs. Sanders edits "Amerika," a monthly published by Uncle Sam and sold in the Soviet Union to show the Russians what the United States, Americans and free enterprise really are like. Its purpose is to change a lot of false ideas which Ivan Ivanov and his wife have gleaned from propaganda, fiction and the movies about John and Mary Jones, their country, lives and children, and to teach them the truth instead. Its aim is to further understanding and prevent war.

The magazine is published by the Office of Information, Education and Cultural Affairs in the State Department agency which also distributes overseas films, photographs and documents about the United States, its industries, culture and people. It likewise maintains information libraries abroad, gives grants for the exchange of students, and operates short wave broadcasts.

"With Amerika we have no delusions about changing the Soviet foreign policy tomorrow," says Mrs. Sanders. "But since the peace of the world may hinge on Soviet-American relations and much of the difficulty between the two is based on a lack of understanding, we feel it is worth while to work years for that understanding."

Working for that aim, Mrs. Sanders takes her place beside Elizabeth Vining, who is teaching democracy's principles to the young Crown Prince of Japan, and Anna Leonowens, who taught them to the young King of Siam years ago.

Whether Amerika will succeed in its aim only the years will show. Fifty-five thousand copies of the magazine, packed in pictures and printed only in Russian, are sent to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow monthly.

"Fifty thousand are purchased by the Soviet Distributing Agency (the government union news company) and sold to subscribers at 10 rubles (about 80 cents) a copy," Mrs. Sanders reports.

Any man's Darling—every man's Pride

Who says you're only young once?

Take a look at this trim, new Buick—or better, take its wheel—and see just how wrong that old saw is!

One look at these sleek lines, the long, taste-of-tomorrow fenders—and just watch yourself start getting young ideas.

Find an open road, gun this beauty just a bit—and see how the spirit of springtime wells up in your soul and sets the red blood coursing.

Good road or bad, on these soft all-coil springs you take everything with youthful zip and zest, quite freed from jar or jolt.

City street or country road, with all this poised and husky roadweight beneath you, you travel your level course, steady and non-swaying even on curves.

Roll up somewhere—and see how people turn to note the Very Important Person who's arriving.

Take it through the tangle of traffic and see how nimbly it maneuvers—check it at a boulevard stop and see how sure and positive its controls are.

In all truth, here's a car that's any man's darling, every man's pride. A car that not only meets your needs for transportation, but satisfies your every hankering for size and power, style and room, solid worth and top-dollar value.

Naturally, it's a much wanted car. America's most wanted automobile.

Major League Training Camps

By The Associated Press

Phoenix, Ariz., April 3—(AP)—Manager Mel Ott was going around with a big smile today and no one was begrudging the little Giant manager one of the few happy moments he has had in a long time.

Pitching is the Giant's big "if," but you wouldn't guess it by the way the New Yorkers' mound crops has been behaving in the last few days.

Yesterday Big Bill Vesselle came through with his second nifty hurling chore in a row when he went the full distance against the Chicago Cubs. The husky South Carolina right-hander who hung up a 21-16 record in his 44 rookie year and has been a flop since, allowed eight hits and was hit hard only in the seventh when the lone Chicago run crossed the plate. That tally broke a 19 inning scoreless streak put together by the pepped-up flinging force.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 3—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals wizzed up Spring training today and hit the trail for home via Houston, Dallas and Kansas City. The Redbirds' final exhibition here, against the Yankees, was rained out yesterday.

Tucson, Ariz., April 3—(AP)—Joe Haynes, bothered all spring by a sore arm, was scheduled to make his first attempt to pitch a few innings for the Chicago White Sox today against the Cleveland Indians in the last exhibition game between the two clubs. The Indians were to start Don Black.

Mobile, Ala., April 3—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, beaten 3-1 by the Boston Braves at Valdosta, Ga., yesterday, meet the Boston National League here today in the rubber affair of their five-game exhibition series. It was Detroit's last meeting with a major league club before the Bengals open their American League season April 15 at St. Louis.

Little Rock, Ark., April 3—(AP)—Bob Klinger may get a chance to try out his arm for the Boston Red Sox today when the American League champions hook up with the Little Rock Southern Association club in an exhibition here. "Sinker Ball" Bob has had the miseries in his elbow.

Sports Roundup

Hugh Culbertson, Jr.

New York, April 3—(AP)—The other day a mid-western sports scribe commented that Phog Allen was fully ten days overdue with his annual blast against gambling in college basketball. Maybe that's because the Kansas U. coach, during the course of an idle winter, has had time to think on a broader scale. Recent communiques from Phog have blasted not only gambling, "with which we in the colleges are honeycombed," but lax officials, bullying coaches who help incite crowds to disorder (particularly in basketball), powerless conference heads, selfish faculty representatives, the "asinine N. C. A. A.", and college presidents who aren't doing anything about the situation. Dr. Allen's cure-all is the appointment of a "czar" for college athletics who would spend some five years studying conditions as they exist and who then would formulate the necessary rules and enforce them.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
Television experts have discovered that the best colors for contrasts on their cameras are gold and red, so they're trying to get boxers to wear those colors instead of the black and white trunks recently ordered. H. V. Farber, secretary of the National Association of State High School Athletic Associations, reports that approximately one million high school basketball games were played this season. Return travelers from the South say that Duke's athletic fortunes are on the downgrade because (believe it or not) Duke won't pay the prevailing prices.

END OF THE LINE
George Christie, the Manchester, N. H., sportscaster, proposes that "Babe Ruth Day" be made an annual event with each club contributing 25 percent of the gate to build and support suggested to Clay Hopper, Manager of the Montreal farm, that he return Jackie Robinson to first base, and the negro star went back to that station for last night's Dodger-Royal game, which the Dodgers won 12-1. Rickey decided that Robinson's best chance to make the Brooklyn club would be at first base, although he is withholding a definite decision until after the games in Brooklyn next week.

an annex to Boys' Town in Nebraska—Georgia's grief over the loss of Charley Trippi in baseball is being soothed by outfielder Rodney Colson, who never played ball before last season. He can sock them a mile—Rocky Graziano is building a gymnasium in the cellar of his new home in Brooklyn—Maybe that's the only place in New York where he'll be allowed to fight.

The Sports Mirror

Today a year ago—Catcher Walter Cooper, purchased by the New York Giants for $175,000, was discharged from the navy at the Lambert Field repair center. Three years ago—Jockey Bobby Permaline rode five winners at Tropical Park.

Five years ago—Alan Ford, 18-year old star from Mercersburg, set a meet record of 2:09.3 in winning the National A. A. U. 220 yard free style event at New Haven.

Ten years ago—The New York Rangers from Mercersburg, Maroons, 4-0, to enter the final round of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs.

Southern States Aid French Port

Lorient, France—(AP)—This Atlantic port, battered in the war, is getting post-war help from England and America. A campaign to raise $333,000 in eight southern states—Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, North and South Carolina—and in Stamford, Conn., to establish a welfare center in Lorient was referred under way by the American Aid Committee. Medical apparatus for school children was to be installed.

Fulks Annexes Scoring Crown

Lanky Kentuckian Rims 17 To Make Total 1406; Ex-Champ Won't Give Up

By Orlo Robertson

Philadelphia, April 3—(AP)—The name of Joe Fulks, the basket shooting shark from Kentucky, will go down in the record books as holder of the professional basketball scoring record but Bill Kummer isn't willing to concede that the 24-year-old Philadelphia Warrior's ace is the new champ.

Kummer, Internal Revenue Department employe from Butler, Pa., saw the lanky Kentuckian count 17 points last night for a grand total of 1,406 points, two more than he himself made in 1911-12 while playing with the Connellsville, Pa. club in the old Central League.

Fulks' scoring spree paced the Warriors to a 73-68 victory over the St. Louis Bombers in a Basketball Association of America playoff game.

"Remember I set my record in 62 regular season games," said Kummer as he appraised the newcomer. "Joe is a great artist but he didn't top my record during regular season play. The playoffs are like the World Series, records of which are separated from those of regular season play."

"Then too, we played only 40 minutes. These boys have been going 48 minutes a game all season—with much more emphasis on scoring than when we played most of our games in cages."

Convict Proves He Is Honest Man

Salt Lake City—(AP)—A stranger lugging a suitcase and a guitar showed up at the state prison's main gate. "Go tell the warden I'm here," he told the guard. "He's expecting me." The warden was, too. It seems that Judge Will I. Hoyt at Nephi, Utah, had sentenced the man to prison and with the view of saving the state some transportation expense, put the defendant on his honor to report to the prison. He hitchhiked the 100 miles from Nephi to keep his promise.

Wife's Bowling Ball Too Heavy

St. Louis—(AP)—Stanley Cronin was late for the weekly bowling session with the boys. He dashed in, whipped his bowling ball out of its bag, made a good approach to the alley, and went skidding far down the slippery boards with his thumb stuck in the ball.

"A miss-step?" asked one of his companions, helping him up. "No," Cronin said ruefully, squinting at the sphere, "my wife's ball."

Chile Now Buying Australian Wines

Canberra—(AP)—Chilean Minister to Australia Manuel Hubner says his country is interested in the importation of Australian port and sherry.

The minister told correspondents in the Australian capital that although Chile was a wine-producing country it did not make the heavier fortified types. So far it had imported only the sherry of Spain and Duro port of Portugal, he added.

Poet's Corner

To greet the little child,
At a glance he saw her crippled form,
The rat in the old rocker
sat,
But her face was that of an angel,
And she was so beautifully fair,
He asked her to join the group
upon the old church lawn with the Easter Bunny's group.

He placed her tenderly down,
Hunting through the fallen leaves
A very large egg he found.
Children gathered around,
Clipped their hands in glee,
He had given her the prize egg.

Her wish would granted be,
With happiness shining in her eyes
Timidly she made her wish,
A new wheel chair she would like
So all Easters could be like this.

Tears filled the children's eyes
As they heard the treasured thought.

A Templeform Hat

The Floridian
by Stylepark

This is an exquisitely styled Spring hat for the youthful man. You may be certain of perfection in fit because it is a Templeform... that is, it slants in, as your head does, at the temples. Stop in and ask to see it.
