KEA To Choose Successor To Adron Doran

New President Will Be Named This Afternoon

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—(AP)—Delegates to the Kentucky Education Association turned to elect a successor to Adron Doran of Winsor, in the western part of the state.

Balloting was scheduled to begin at 4 p. m. (C. S. T.) on the two nominees, Herman McGuire, superintendent of Pike county schools, and Claude Farley, superintendent of Pike county schools. They were nominated by the Democratic nomination for state superintendent of public instruction in the August primary.

A Democrat, Doran represented Graves county in the 1946 Kentucky House of Representatives. He also is a minister and editor of the Fulton Daily Leader. John Boyd, principal of Benham high school in Harlan county, and W. Oscar Peltrey, principal of West Liberty high school, were nominated for first vice president of the K. E. A. Holland Rose, superintendent of Marshall county schools, was nominated second vice president without opposition.

A boom was launched supporting Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Education, for president of the National Education Association. Supporting him for the N. E. A. presidency were 11 K. E. A. directors, U. K. alumni and other groups. Dr. Taylor formerly was K. E. A. president. The N. E. A. election will be held at its July convention in Cincinnati.

The Kentucky School Boards Association approved a resolution calling for a special session of the state legislature to raise public school teachers pay. The resolution stated the raise would come from appropriating "not less than half of the anticipated $25,000,000 treasury surplus of next June 30. The board's organization also approved a resolution calling for a $2,400 annual minimum salary for state teachers with four years' college training.

Repeal of the Ouster Act, which allows the governor to remove his appointees without showing cause, was advocated in a resolution adopted at the association heard a talk by Dr. W. J. Baird, president of Morehead State Teachers College. Dr. Baird said the act had resulted in removal of Morehead from the accredited list of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He urged a state constitutional amendment raising tenure on college trustee boards from four to 10 years. He also said terms should be staggered so one governor could appoint no more than one member of each board.

Frankfort—Women's influence in politics drew Gov. Simeon Willis' praise in a talk before the state capital Women's Republican Club last night. Mrs. Willis told the growth of women's GOP clubs in Kentucky, saying there are 85 such clubs with 10,000 members. In 1943, she added, there were only three small clubs.

Midway—President Lewis A. Piper of Midway Junior College announced it has been accredited fully for the 1947-48 school year. The institution was founded in 1944 as a unit of Kentucky Female Ophan School.

Lexington—T. J. Tonkin, vice-president of the Central Kentucky National Gas Company, has blamed a gas shortage here on what he described as refusal of farmers to grant pipeline rights at what he termed "reasonable prices." Farmers in Madison county had refused to give pipeline rights, Tonkin charged.

Says Higher Wages Would Mean High Rail Freight Rates

Memphis, Tenn., April 18.—(AP)—Freight rates are likely to be hiked again if the Railway Brotherhoods ask and get another wage increase, Southern hardwood shippers were told yesterday.

Addressing the closing meeting of the Southern Hardwood Traffic Association, J. Van Norman of Louisville, Ky., general counsel for the group, said he understood the railroad unions were preparing to ask for a pay raise.

This, he added, would continue the "vicious spiral" of higher freight rates.

Ulie Howard Appeals Disbarment From Court

Cincinnati, April 18.—(AP)—Notice of appeal has been filed by Ulie J. Howard, commonwealth's attorney of Kenton county, Kentucky, who recently was disbarred from federal court practice in the eastern district of Kentucky.

The notice was filed yesterday with the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here. Howard's appeal probably will not be acted upon before late fall or early winter.

John Q. Public Is Real Cause Of Current High Food Prices

By Ovid A. Martin

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—Food prices would tumble if America went back to its pre-war diet.

For example, Americans are eating meat at a rate of about 150 pounds a person a year. Some want even more.

And it is competition among consumers that sets the price. To meet the demand, farmers are producing about 21,500,000, 000 pounds this year.

In the pre-war period of 1935-39, consumption averaged 126 pounds. At the same rate now, Americans would take only about 17,890,000,000 pounds, leaving a surplus of about 3,610,000,000 pounds.

Such a surplus would break the price and require widespread government buying of meat under the federal price support program to prevent an agricultural collapse.

During the war, however, with incomes high and fewer non-food items to buy, many who had been on a low level diet were encouraged to buy more and better quality foods.

And from every sign they want to continue to eat well.

The increase in consumer demand is even more pronounced,

"City of New Orleans" on Exhibition Thursday

The "City of New Orleans," crack dayliner of the Illinois Central Railroad, was on exhibition at the passenger station in Fulton yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock. Hundreds of interested persons, young and old, crowded the platform to welcome the new train into Fulton, then swarmed aboard to look it over. Courteous railroad attendants directed them the entire length of the coaches to let them see for themselves this newest and most modern train now in operation in the United States.

Even after being familiar with the Illinois Central's "Pinafore Limited" and "City of Miami," which make regular runs through Fulton, the spectators were impressed with the beauty and comfort of this newest addition to the railroad's service to the public. In keeping with the railroad's practice of identifying its modern equipment, the exterior coloring of the "City of New Orleans" is an orange-brown-yellow combination. Across the cars are names familiar to the deep South and New Orleans—such names as "Mardi Gras," "Jackson Square," "Feliciana," "DeSoto" and "Canal Street."

Inside, the soft, luxurious seats caught the eye, and but for the ropes guarding them, would have been "tried out" by quite a few. The diner, done in natural wood backgrounds, is a fit setting for any gourmet to indulge his appetite. The stainless steel kitchen would thrill any housewife with its cleanliness and convenience. The observation-lounge lounge on the rear of the train, decorated in blue and canopy combination, made many a "deadhead" sigh when he remembered his pass would not let him enjoy its luxury while reclining in one of the leatherette chairs looking upon murals depicting levees, docks, cotton fields and scenes of picturesque New Orleans.

The new train goes into regular service on April 27, passing through Fulton at 2:50 p. m. on the southward run and at 4:43 p. m. going north.

Above is a portion of the restaurant-lunch-counter-lounge of the Illinois Central's new dayliner, the "City of New Orleans." The counter serves ten persons, while booths in the car have a capacity for eight and a large open section seats 22 persons.

Reds In Minority As UN Council Nears Greek Vote

Lake Success, N. Y., April 18.—(AP)—The Russian plan to impose United Nations supervision over American aid to Greece ran into new opposition today as the Security Council neared its first test vote on President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program.

French Delegate Alexandre Parodi said France could not support the Soviet proposal for a special Security Council commission to watch over use of American funds in Greece unless the U. S. government agreed to it.

Parodi was followed by Brazilian Delegate Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, who said he fully supported the American aid program and added that nations could help each other in maintaining order without "interference" from the U. N.

A majority of the 11 council delegates already had expressed opposition to the Soviet proposal and support of a U. S. counter-proposal.

Dark-Fired Averages $19.81 At Murray Market

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—(AP)—The Murray market reported the sale of 121,205 pounds of Western district fire-cured tobacco yesterday.

The report to the State Agriculture Department here said the leaf brought $24.011.87, an average of $19.81 a hundredweight. Last week's average had been $22.26.

British Industry May Go South

Canberra.—(AP)—Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley has disclosed that the British Government is considering a long-range plan to transfer industries to Australia.

The plan, the Prime Minister said, might not come into effect for 20 years, but in the meantime many British manufacturers intended to set up "shadow factories" and subsidiary companies in Australia.

State Sport Czar Will Be Selected

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—(AP)—A Kentucky high school sports "czar" by July 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year, was the aim today of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

New TVA Unit CIO Steelworkers Ask 23 Ct. Hourly Increase in Wages

Pittsburgh, April 18.—(AP)—The first definite wage increase demand coming from CIO United Steelworkers' contract negotiations was disclosed today. A 23-cent hourly boost asked of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation.

A spokesman for the firm described the 23-cent figure as an "over-all" one, as besides a flat pay increase it includes "a lot of other things." Holiday pay provisions presumably were among them.

The pay demand conceivably could set an industry-wide pattern.

Henry Defends Right to Speak

Says United Nations, UNESCO Enable Him To Express Views Abroad

Stockholm, April 18.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, describing himself as "an American capitalist or a progressive Tory," said today that the United Nations and UNESCO charters gave him the right to speak his mind outside the United States.

Wallace spoke extemporaneously at a luncheon attended by 300 Stockholm professors, scientists, journalists and businessmen.

Referring to Congressional criticism of his tour, Wallace said Americans who are suggesting that his passport be withdrawn have "the same type of intellect as those who suggest that the Russians are responsible for blowing up a French ship at Texas City."

"When I return to the United States, I intend to pay my respects to that type of intellect," the former vice president declared vehemently.

Wallace quoted from a section of the charter of UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) dealing with the need for world understanding, and said:

"It is in behalf of the ideal of UNESCO and the United Nations that I come to Sweden today. I do not want to interfere with your foreign policy because that would be against the law of my country, but, in view of what is in the U. N. and UNESCO charters, I feel that as a citizen of the world I am at liberty to speak to you with whatever powers of mind I can command."

Discussing his own political status, Wallace told the gathering in the ballroom of Stockholm's Grand Hotel:

"I am not a Communist. I am not a Socialist. I am only an American capitalist, or as I told the members of Parliament in London, I am a progressive Tory who believes it absolutely essential to have peace and understanding with Russia."

Methodists Eye Possible Campsite On Kentucky Lake

Camden, Tenn., April 18.—(AP)—Methodist leaders were to discuss plans today for development of a 110-acre tract on the Kentucky-Tennessee Lake near here into a summer assembly ground.

The Rev. J. Noble Wilford, Lexington District superintendent, heads a committee of the Memphis Conference assigned to look into the project. The group visited the site today.

Bishop W. T. Watkins of Louisville and his cabinet recently approved plans for the camp with a minimum goal of $25,000 to begin construction of initial units.

Crisis Is Past In Texas City; Death Toll 650

Boyle Compares Destruction To A-Bomb Damage

PEOPLE HAD COURAGE

Texas City, Tex., April 18.—(AP)—Flames roared on for the third day on the industrial edge of this explosion-smashed Gulf port today, but Police Chief W. L. Laddis said that the crisis which had gripped the city since Wednesday morning was past.

Estimates of deaths still ranged up to 650 and injuries around 3,000 persons. Property damage estimates ran from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

The major conflagration today was at the vast Humble Oil Company's storage tank farm at the south of the city. Apprehensive residents still watched the boiling oil fires, but Laddis asserted:

"I believe that all danger is gone."

By Hal Boyle

Texas City, April 18.—(AP)—A series of ship and oil storage tank explosions here have given America its first full peace time test of the chaos that would follow the dropping of an atom bomb in this country.

No wartime witness of the bombing of overseas strategic harbors can escape noting the similarity of the accidental explosions of two nitrate-laden vessels in this small Gulf Coast oil port to the devastation intentionally wrought by American bombers less than two years ago against the Japanese enemy.

One of the most heartening results of this catastrophe has been the fortitude with which the population has rallied to cope with the heavy problems it produced.

It is no stretch of the imagination to compare the destruction wrought here to the havoc created by one or more atom bombs.

The damage of the atom bombs at Hiroshima and Nagasaki was completed within 24 hours of the initial flash blast that set the tinder-dry Japanese cities aflame.

Today more than 48 hours after the French ship Grandcamp exploded with titanic power.

Greets Will Need U. S. Help For "Long Time," Hatch Says; Aid Bill Vote Set For Tuesday

Senate Considers New Labor Bill Committee OK'd

TAX SLASH TALKED

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—Senator Hatch (D-NM) said today it likely will be a "long, long time" before Greece can manage without aid from the United States.

On the other hand, he told a reporter, "we ought to be able to get out of Turkey by July 1, 1948."

One of the prime questions asked during Senate debate on President Truman's $400,000,000 program to aid Greece and Turkey resist Communism has been how long the assistance might continue.

"Conditions in Greece are deplorable," said Hatch, just back from a tour of the two countries. "I am afraid we are going to have to help them there for a long, long time."

The Senate has scheduled a vote on the aid bill at 4 p. m. next Tuesday. By that time it must dispose of several amendments which have been proposed.

Up To Senate

It is up to the Senate to make the next move on the labor legislation front.

The House passed its bill to curb strikes and union practices yesterday by a thumping 308-107 majority and sent it over to the Senate. About the same time the Senate Labor Committee approved a milder bill, 11 to 2, and passed it up for Senate consideration.

Under present plans the Senate will begin debate on its own bill Wednesday. If it passes the measure then it will be up to a compromise committee to iron out differences between the two branches.

The two measures differ in numerous respects but principally in the fact that the Senate bill does not bar industry-wide bargaining nor outlaw jurisdictional strikes, secondary boycotts and mass picketing as does the House measure.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) of the Senate committee seemed to believe he will try to amend the bill on the floor to limit industry-wide bargaining and outlaw jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

These other matters held congressional attention:

Tax Cuts Again

Tax reduction—An announcement that Britain would trim income taxes encouraged top Senate Republicans to believe this country can do likewise. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) commented that "if England can reduce her taxes, then certainly we can," while Chairman Milliken (R-Colo.) said "I think we can cut taxes and reduce the debt, too." On the other hand Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said any treasury surplus will be "gobbled up" by our foreign policy.

Senator Cordon (R-Ore), chairman of a Senate Public Lands subcommittee which investigated the fatal mine blast at Centralia, Ill., said he believes the inquiry should be enlarged into a comprehensive study of the whole mine safety problem. The group completed its hearings into the mine disaster yesterday after testimony from John L. Lewis.

Appropriations—Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) suggested that the National Labor Relations Board close some of its 20 regional and six sub-regional offices and absorb some of the $4,000,000 slash which the House voted in NLRB funds for next year. Knowland is chairman of a Senate appropriations subcommittee considering the House bill which cut NLRB budget allowances 50 percent. Board members protested the cuts yesterday before a meeting of the subcommittee.

No Place For Novices

More small businesses are going under, reports the Wall Street Journal. And, as always, a great part of these failures are in the field of retail trade.

It is an unfortunate fact that many persons feel they can successfully operate a store—and this confidence is frequently misplaced. People set themselves up in the grocery business or the dry goods business or some other form of retail business with little or no experience, with inadequate financing, and with no knowledge of the ticklish techniques of profitably buying and selling goods and attracting finicky consumers. And, all too often, economic tragedy swiftly follows.

Retail trade is one of the most competitive of all enterprises. The tens of thousands of chains and independents in the field are engaged in a continuous tussle for trade. Today, as more goods become available, competition is far more intense than it was during the war and the first postwar year, when supplies were limited and rigidly standardized in both quality and price. The consumer is shopping warily, and high prices make it necessary for millions to count their pennies. The great "spending orgy" is definitely on its last legs.

No man should enter retail business without first getting a rounded experience in a successful, established store. And after that, he should get the best possible advice on financing, location, kinds of goods to stock etc. Retailing, which is going all out to serve the consumer, is no place for the novice.

Not Another One

Senator W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel of Texas proposed yesterday that the Senate investigate the blasts and resultant fires at Texas City, Tex., saying that the unusual number of major tragedies occurring in the United States resembles suspiciously the sabotage of World War I days. The Senator thinks Communists are responsible, directly or indirectly, and it is not without the realm of possibility that this is correct.

However, if there is to be an official investigation, we hope the Senate delegates the task to some other organization. There's nothing so monotonous and expensive, and often so fruitless, as a Senate probe. We'd suggest letting the Federal Bureau of Investigation discover the facts behind the tragedy. They have the well-earned reputation of getting the job done. And the Senate could proceed with legislative matters more properly in its field.

Knows All The Answers

This fellow Wallace did right well as long as he stuck to farming, but when he traded the plow for politics, domestic and international, he became intoxicated with his own eloquence, and almost treasonable in his one-man war against President Truman and the President's Democratic co-workers.

He has capitalized on his former high positions in the American government to attract attention to himself as he opposes efforts of the United States to halt the world-dominance program of aggressive Communism. His speeches in Madison Square Garden and England were ill-advised and in exceedingly poor taste.

The man has a ready solution, however, for each puzzling international problem. According to Henry, he knows all the answers. We'll venture nothing would please him more than for the United Nations to decide that they've wasted considerable time and money thus far in their search for peace through collective security—and to entrust the future of the world to this self-appointed savior of civilization.

What's In A Name?

Jefferson City, Mo.—(AP)—A St. Joseph, Mo., realtor told the Missouri real estate convention meeting yesterday "you probably won't remember anything I say but I'll bet you remember my name."

His name is Early Bird.

Gratitude

Osaka, Japan.—(AP)—A month ago Shigeo Iwamiya's money and valuables were stolen by another Japanese. They were recovered and returned by an American soldier.

Unable to speak English Iwamiya could only bow. The unidentified soldier left, but Iwamiya hired an interpreter and started looking for him.

After a month's search he found his man, Pvt. Alfred Doane of Paterson, N. J.—and, through the interpreter, Iwamiya's gratitude was expressed.

Bum Deal

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—Even tramps are costing the state more money these days. Governor Dewey today approved a bill increasing the state's allowance for maintenance of tramps in jails from 60 cents to $1 a day.

Little Harm Done

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Former Vice-President Henry Wallace would seem to have carried a sizable load of coals to Newcastle when he started his European speech-making tour by telling England that Washington's Oraco-Turkish program embarks the United States on "ruthless imperialism" and points the country toward war with Russia.

If our Uncle Sam has embarked on a career of sin (the old scamp), then Cousin John Bull is in the mess up to his neck. For it was John who first signalled that he no longer had the wherewithal to hold the fort in the Balkans and would Sam, for gosh sake, please rush to the rescue by supplying Greece and Turkey with the means of defending themselves against aggressive Communism.

In short, John and Sam are partners in the crime which Mr. Wallace alleges. Small wonder then that a high British official on Wednesday let it be known that his government accepted no responsibility for anything Wallace had said in Britain or might say in the future. This was after U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark had declared in a speech that "one who tells the people of Europe that the United States is committed to ruthless imperialism—and war with the Soviet Union—tells a lie."

On top of this the London Daily Herald, which is the organ of the Labor (Socialist) party, printed a pointed editorial which was signed by the editor who used the first person singular instead of the usual editorial "we," presumably so as not to commit the government. The editor said he thought Wallace, while condemning the so-called "imperialism" of the United States, had dismissed much too lightly the many glaring faults of the Soviet policy. Apart from this, the editor said, Wallace's speeches had done good in Britain because they had caused a great many people to think harder and talk more frankly about the present drift in the relations between the great powers.

Thus it would seem that Mr. Wallace's efforts in Britain haven't done much, if any, damage to London-Washington relations. However, an assault on an American foreign policy, delivered abroad by one-time vice president, could do vast damage in other quarters.

One of them, for instance, is the Big Four Moscow conference which is in the midst of a grave crisis because of bitter differences between Russia and the Western Allies. The Wallace speeches might be the one thing which would stiffen Russian opposition to the disputed proposals of the Western Democracies, in the belief that there was a large and growing section of the American public opposed to the new foreign policy of President Truman. By the same token Wallace's views might increase Washington's difficulties with such Russian influenced regimes as those in Yugoslavia and Poland, with which both America and Britain have exchanged sharp words.

Perhaps it's possible to assign too much importance to the effect of Wallace's speech-making on foreign relations. Time alone will tell how much significance the peoples of other nations will attach to his utterances. As previously remarked, if damage already has been done it probably is elsewhere than in England.

However, Mr. Wallace has moved on from Britain to a new theatre of operations. He is opening his crusade in Stockholm, Oslo and Copenhagen where he is scheduled to deliver more speeches. Will Scandinavia understand as well as has Britain?

Busy Home

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—(AP)—Mrs. Dessie Hinto believes she has been the victim of a belated April-fool prank.

She appeared to police after she received several cases of unordered beer, four bouquets of flowers and several cakes; a visit by officers investigating a report there was a fight at her home, and the arrival of an ambulance.

Juicy Surplus

Lockport, N. Y.—(AP)—Niagara county, a major tomato-growing center, received a surplus commodities corporation shipment from Sacramento, Calif., for its school lunch program. It was 6,900 gallons of tomato juice.

"The schools must have more money" is the message from the Kentucky Education Association meeting in Louisville. And Governor Willis might be humming softly. "It seems to me I've heard that song before."

The fellow who kept the secret of the atomic bomb were pliers compared with some of the fishermen who've discovered a private spot where the big ones bite with pleasing regularity.

With The Homemakers

BECOMING COLORS TOPIC AT CRUTEFIELD

Do you know the colors most becoming to you? That's what 14 members of the Crutefield Homemakers Club learned in their meeting with Mrs. Gerald Binford last Monday.

Mrs. Paul Williams called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Glen Howell read the first Psalm for the devotional. During the business meeting, a motion was made for the club to donate $1 to the cancer drive. Suggestions for next year's program were given, and the majority decided on "Home Accessories" as their choice for the major project, with "Clothing" for the minor project.

Mrs. Adams reminded the club of the District meeting which will be held in Murray April 21.

The landscape lesson was given on the pruning of rose bushes and shrubs.

After refreshments the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Herschel Brown in May.

(The following was omitted from yesterday's story about the Victory Homemakers' Club meeting.)

It is with much regret that the club loses Mrs. Margaret Adams as county home demonstration agent, and as a small token of appreciation the Victory Club presented her with a gift at the close of the meeting.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Ernest Carver on May 20 at 10:45 o'clock, at which time they will have another lesson on clothing.

FULGHAM NEWS

Fulgham high has 18 seniors this year who will receive their diplomas May first. The class is composed of eight boys and ten girls. Sammie Jean Wilson took first honors as valedictorian and Jimmie White was second as salutatorian.

Robert Burkett is president of the class. Joe House is vice president, and Ava Nell Bennett is secretary-treasurer. Other members are Forrest McAllister, Joe Mac Davis, Elree Elliott, Eugene Armbruster, Russell Elliott, Herbert Byrd, Bonita Brown, Fay Herndon, Jerelyne Wilson, La Jean Bynum and Fattie Mae Vaden.

They are a happy group, married only by the critical illness of Fattie Mae who has been confined in the Jackson hospital since March 13.

Twelve of the would be graduates will present the senior play, a three act farce, Friday night April 25. The cast includes the newlyweds (secret) Joe and Sammie Jean; and engaged couple, Robert and Ava Nell; an old maid and her bachelor enemy, Jerelyne and Jorman; the cook and the gardener, Fay and Forrest; a professional hypnotist, Rudell, whose luck fails; and a couple of negro twins, Sonny and Gwynell.

Mrs. Sara Shupe is coaching the play.

Sunday night, April 27, Rev. A. B. Rogers will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. Thursday night, May 1, Fred Schults of Murray will deliver the graduating address.

The alumni will meet Saturday night, May 3. Judging by the activities one could think Fulgham had two senior classes this year. W. J. (Bill) Bone is president of the alumni, with Dick Bailey vice president and Mabel Farmer secretary-treasurer, assisted by Irene Hopkins.

A fine program has been arranged.

COLORED NEWS

Rev. M. M. Cole, pastor of the St. Paul A. M. E. church, Fulton, announces a "battle of music" at the church Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The Golden Tone Jubilee Singers of Union City and the McGowan Brothers Jubilee Singers of Fulton will be heard in a number of selections. There will be no admission charged, and the public is invited.

The senior class will be the honor guests, while the junior girls will serve at the tables.

"Deacon Dubbs" was a big success Friday night before a full house which netted $77 for the junior class. Joe Dixon was excellent as the old deacon. Credit was also due to Prin. Darnell for his coaching and to Mrs. Jack Vaden for stage decorations. Mrs. E. J. Bennett's chorus added to the entertainment between acts.

After supper each group held their meeting in separate rooms. Auxiliary officers installed were Mrs. Ida Jones Lamkin, president; Mrs. Charles E. Hopkins, chaplain; Mrs. J. Weldon Hall, vice-president; Mrs. Russell Jackson, secretary; Mrs. George Riddle, sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. Floyd Tegethoff, treasurer, was absent. Just prior to the meeting they accepted the resignation of Mrs. George as secretary and elected Mrs. Russell Jackson to fill the vacancy.

J. Weldon Hall of the Legion called the meeting to order, after which the following officers were elected: Ralph Edgington, Post Commander; J. R. Davies, first vice-commander; Thomas Burgess, second vice-commander; George Hiett, third vice-commander; Robert F. Hocker, Jr., re-elected treasurer; J. B. Wortham, chaplain; George Riddle, historian; Clinton Bright, sergeant-at-arms, and H. C. Burgess, assistant sergeant-at-arms; Floyd W. Tegethoff, service officer; and J. Weldon Hall, assistant service officer.

G. D. Holder of Cairo arrived Tuesday night to spend a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Ruby T. Bone, and family.

Miss Katherine Barclay will spend Wednesday until Sunday with relatives in Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Mitchell, high school teacher, left Tuesday night for Louisville, where they will attend the Kentucky Education Association.

Dr. Thomas T. Brackin, Jr., and Weldon Hall were business visitors in Cairo Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Marcelle Bone left Wednesday to spend the rest of the week with her brother, Eugene Bone, and Mrs. Bone in Memphis.

Mrs. Gladys Blinnoc of Long Beach, Calif., was called here to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. James Sanders, at Millburn Wednesday. Hugh Robert Hall, Durant and Major Sanders all of Pontiac, Mich., also attended the funeral of their mother.

Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, April 18.—(AP)—Fat Freddie Fitzsimmons, who hasn't grown any thinner since he quit pitching to become a football executive, was looking at Elmer Harris, who had just been signed to play for the football Dodgers—"I'd like to have his speed," Freddie sighed. "I'd be out there in the outfield somewhere—matter of fact, I think I still could pitch a couple of innings. At least I wouldn't walk 'em. If you let them hit the ball there's eight other guys who have a chance to help you get them out."—Harris, who tossed his chances for the Olympics into the air can because he likes football better than foot racing, will continue to operate his Bronx tailor shop.

"Spider" Jorgenson, A Rookie, Is Hottest Thing In Brooklyn

Brooklyn, April 18.—(AP)—Johnny Jorgenson, a baldish 26-year-old rookie with the build of a starving spider, is the hottest thing in Brooklyn as of now.

As becoming the hottest thing in Flatbush involves elbowing Leo Durocher, Branch Rickey and Jackie Robinson out of the headlines, it rates as no mean feat.

When the recruit third baseman from Montreal drove in six runs with a pair of doubles and a three-run homer in yesterday's 12-6 rout of the Boston Braves, the press box buzzed with "what do you know about Jorgenson?"

It turned out that nobody knew very much about the skinny little fellow who jumped from Montreal to a regular job with the Dodgers during the dark hours before opening day.

"About all I know is that he is the skinniest big leaguer since Joe Moore," volunteered Harold Parrott, the Brooks' road secretary who has been on intimate terms with the headlines in recent days.

"He played opening day in a borrowed pair of shoes," another scribe advised. "Rickey calls him the refrigerator," somebody else contributed.

A visit to the Dodger clubhouse in the deep catacombs of Ebbets Field yielded the information, straight from the "Spider's" lips that he is of Danish extraction, hails from Folsom, Calif., and likes very much to play third base for Brooklyn.

Further probing into the Jorgenson background brought forth that he had been signed by Bill Vencil, a Dodger scout, after two years at Sacramento, Junior College. He hit .335 with Santa Barbara in the California League in 1941 before he went into the army for a four-year hitch.

Last year with Montreal he belted .393, drove in 71 runs for the pennant winners and included five homers, among his 104 hits. It was in Montreal that the fans tabbed him "Spider" because of his build and ground-covering ability.

Introducing The Chicks

Tony Auletta, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., is one of the new members of the Chick squad this year, and is making his first appearance in professional baseball at the age of 22. He has black hair, brown eyes, is 5 ft. 8 in. tall, and weighs 155.

Tony was in the army engineer corps for three years, played some baseball while in the service, and also has had experience in sandlot ball in Brooklyn.

Frankie Brucella, who held down the shortstop spot for the Chicks last year, recommended Tony to the Fulton Baseball Association.

Chicks Have Light Workout

Take Batting, Fielding Practice Today; To Meet Burlington Here Sunday

The Chicks went through batting and infield practice this morning, limbering up and getting the feel of the ball. Most of the boys are taking healthy cuts at the horsehide, and Seawright, Workman, and Peterson clouded one apiece over the fence today.

Dutch Grey has arrived from Pittsburgh, where he worked out earlier this year, and looks to be in good shape for the season. Jake Propst, who has been at work for a couple of weeks in Florida, and Tommie Buck, after prepping at his home in Houston for some time, seems to be in tip-top shape.

The Chicks take on Burlington, Iowa, presently training at Union City, in an exhibition game here Sunday afternoon, and will play a return game at Union City next Thursday.

The pitching staff seems to be fairly adequate at present, but the Fulton nine would have, at its request, the services of little Donny McKnight if the going got too rough. Donny, aged 5, was at the park in his baseball uniform this morning. He captivated a crowd here last season when he went out to the mound and fogged 'em over before the game started.

Then, explains Rollison, his pupil went out and bagged 58 foxes in 47 days.

Wall Street Report

New York, April 18.—(AP)—Selective recoveries continued in today's stock market although many leaders still exhibit considerable advancing reluctance. Further bidding was predicated mainly on the idea that the list had been oversold and was due for a good technical revival. Doubters regarding labor, taxes and the business picture again moderated active opening and the direction was somewhat foggy near midday.

Upward tendencies were shown for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, United Aircraft, American Woolen, American Tobacco "B", Du Pont, Texas Co., Consolidated Edison and International Harvester. Occasional losers included Good-year, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, Phillips Dodge, Westinghouse and Johns-Manville.

Bonds and cotton futures were slightly uneven.

This is a view of the dock area in Texas City, Texas, April 16 after a series of damaging explosions, which caused huge loss of life. Gov. Beauford H. Jester issued a proclamation declaring a "state of emergency" as fire fighters fought desperately to prevent flames from spreading to tanks of high octane gasoline.

CRISIS IS PAST IN TEXAS CITY, TEXAS

great fires are still ravaging the multimillion dollar oil storage tank farm that makes up the wealth of Texas City. Its sprawling, battered residential section is still far from safe from the burning, wind-borne flames and sparks.

No one can yet say how much the eventual cost may be or how many hundreds of lives have already been lost.

Yet there has been no panic and almost no looting. Texas City and neighboring towns and cities have worked with unceasing discipline to maintain order and to confine the area of destruction.

Within a few minutes after the explosion, residents were nailing protective boards over their shattered windows. Within a few hours enterprising merchants were again optimistic, putting plate glass into their broken show windows.

Thousands of families, including many who list members missing in the explosion, chose to stay in their homes and work without pay to help to remove the smoldering wreckage in the industrial area.

Surrounding communities have pitched in with everything they could share. Efficient disaster squads, organized by local citizens, have helped limit the zone of devastation.

The offhand method in which this is being done may be peculiarly Texan, but the spirit is surely typical of all America.

It's The Same Old Greenberg

Ex-American Leaguer Shows He Can Clout National League Slants

The same old Hank Greenberg!

That was the cry echoing around Wrigley Field yesterday as Big Hank's, who was coaxed out of "retirement" by Pittsburgh, lofted a Hank Wyse pitch into the left field bleachers for his first national league home run.

Curve ball pitching, the cunning National League variety, was supposed to cut down the American League castoff. They were going to keep the ball low and outside, away from his power, but somebody forgot to tell Hank.

"They throw curve balls in the American League, too," Greenberg told springtime questioners who asked if he thought he would be bothered by the old No. 2 pitch. He gave them the rest of the answer in Chicago.

On opening day he doubled home the winning run off Hank Borowy, another ex-American Leaguer who had been waived to the National under mysterious circumstances. Wyse, whose sweeping curve won him the nickname of "Hooks" was his next victim.

The record books show that Greenberg never has been bothered by the National Leaguers in the World Series. In fact, he hit 318 in four classics and bashed five hits, four of them for extra bases, in the games of the 1945 series that were played at Wrigley Field.

With the help of Hank's second-inning clout and six unearned runs on two boots by Lenny Merullo in the seventh inning, Billy Herman brings his Pirates home, tied for first place with Brooklyn and the Phillies. The Cubs' only run of the abbreviated series came in the ninth inning of yesterday's 7-1 defeat, at the hands of Preacher Roe.

'Happy' Has Made Scribes Unhappy

Cleveland, April 18.—(AP)—The nation's baseball writers today took a second look at several fast pitches tossed in their direction by Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Delaying the nickname tagged on him during his political days, the former Kentucky Senator last night utilized a Cleveland baseball writer dinner honoring Indians' President Bill Veeck to throw some Sunday punches at the writers who have criticized his actions since he took office 23 months ago.

"I have respect for some of these baseball writers," Chandler declared. "But I've learned that you don't have to know anything to write. You just need a pencil, paper and the time. But they must learn that they can't make my decisions for me."

Southern Bell Will Arbitrate

Company Asks Union To Bargain On Basis Of Southern Conditions

The Southern Bell Telephone Company is willing and eager to settle the present strike by arbitration, and if the union will agree to arbitrate wages on the basis of southern conditions, the strike can be ended immediately, according to a statement issued today.

"We do not believe that any other basis of wage arbitration is fair to our customers who, in the final analysis, pay us the money we pay to our employees in wages," the statement continued.

"Eighty percent of the revenues in the nine Southeastern states in which we operate is from business transacted within each state. Our employees work and live in these local communities, and pay the prices which prevail in them."

"The rates which we charge our customers for both local and long distance telephone service within the state are regulated by state authorities and are established on the basis of local conditions, varying in accordance with local factors."

"Wages, too, must be fixed on a southern basis if they are to be fair to employees and telephone users alike. Telephone employee wages that are far above the level of other wages paid in the community are not fair to other employers who must compete with these higher wages in order to recruit and maintain an adequate employee force. Unreasonably high telephone employee wages must inevitably result in proportionately higher rates for telephone service."
