THE MURRAY LEDGER.

VOL. 88, NO. 3.

MURRAY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1918

$1.00 PER YEAR

FORMER CALLOWAYIAN WRITES.

Amarillo, Texas, April 7.
Editor Ledger, Murray, Ky.

Dear Sir: I am sending you check for renewal to the dear old Ledger. I have been a constant reader since its birth. I remember well when it wore its swaddling clothes. I have read its columns and it is like a letter from home.

While I have been away from dear old Calloway county over twenty years, there is yet a warm spot in my memory for that people. No truer, braver or more enlightened citizenship anywhere, and I have some friends and relatives there, that death alone can sever our relationship.

I am very much in love with the west, one of the healthiest spots on the globe, high and dry, pure ozone and one of the best countries in the world for a young man with hustle and enterprise. Land is cheap and rich.

We have a number of Calloway county people here in our city and three or four hundred Kentuckians, and I must say they bear their part of the burdens, all doing well and honorable, upright citizens.

This is a great cow country, several of my neighbors own up in the thousands and most of them are getting rich. Your humble servant has a little bunch that he is proud of. This is a great wheat country and wheat looks promising, and there are thousands of acres, just as far as the eye can reach.

This is a very level country, not a tree or shrub of any kind. It would be very interesting for some of you people to see this plains country.

It is here, in this beautiful garden of the west.

Where the angels fold their wings
At night and rest.

For fear of growing poetic, I had better close. I have a splendid practice, also I am interested in the drug business. I would like for some of my old Calloway county friends to visit me. A little fore taste of God's pure ozone would possibly have the same effect on you as it did on myself and you would like it, so well that you would want to linger near.

Credit me with this check and keep on sending me the Ledger. Give all my old friends my very kindest regards. I remain, yours truly, Jas. R. Wreather.

Shoots at Burglar.

When the person who attempted to break down the back door of the Sam E. Bynum residence, at 1129 South Fourth street, refused to answer Mrs. Bynum's questions as to who it was, Mrs. Bynum fired two shots through the door and then summoned the police to the house. An investigation failed to reveal the presence of any intruder around the yard or house. The attempted burglary occurred at 10 o'clock, while Mr. Bynum was away from the house.—Paducah News-Democrat.

Church of Christ.

You are invited to hear the following subjects discussed next Lord's day at 11:00 o'clock a. m., and 7:30 p. m.: Morning, "Achan's Sin." Evening, "The Law of Christ." In the former we shall show the power of sin to thwart the work of God, and thousands of faithful workers—one man hindering the progress of God and His people. Come and learn what wonderful possibilities for good or evil you possess. In the latter we want to see whether man is under any kind of law in the Christian dispensation. In this we will discuss some very vital differences between the church of Jesus Christ and other religious bodies. We are anxious for you to have perfect knowledge of the teaching of the church of God upon these questions and therefore cordially invite you to attend these services. Bible classes convene at 9:45 Lord's day morning. If you are not attending Bible classes any place why not come with us, and we will do you good.—T. B. Thompson, Minister.

Mrs. Amanda Shelton Dies in Mayfield

Mayfield, Kentucky, April 11.—Mrs. Amanda Shelton, widow of the late Elder J. C. Shelton, a well known Christian minister, died Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at her home on College Street. She would have been 73 years of age had she lived until April 13. She had been in ill health for the past year, but not until two weeks ago did her condition become critical or alarming to her family and friends. Mrs. Shelton was born in Robertson county, Tenn., and had lived in Mayfield for about 35 years. She was a member of the Christian church and had been faithful and devoted to its teachings for many years. Surviving her are five children, as follows, all living in Mayfield: Mrs. Lizzie Eddings, Miss Mettie Shelton, Joe Shelton, Denton and Fred Shelton. The funeral services were conducted from the First Christian church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. J. J. Castleberry. Burial occurred at Macedonia, west of Mayfield.

Circuit Court Convened Monday.

In the absence of Judge J. T. Hanbery, Judge Wm. Reed, of Paducah, convened the regular April term of the Calloway County Circuit Court here last Monday. The docket is a very light one and Judge Reed expects to complete the cases by Saturday noon.

The grand jury was promptly empaneled Monday morning and after a vigorous charge by the judge entered upon the discharge of their duties. This jury is composed of the following citizens: W. T. Sledd, foreman; Geo. Dolaney, Arthur Butterworth, Doc Barnes, C. B. Fulton, Lewis Ross, Itley Ford, T. J. Wright, N. H. Hopkins, Ben Dixon, J. M. Scruggs and Major Bucy. The petit jury is made up of the following citizens: D. O. Clifton, E. Outland, Will Jetton, S. A. Fakes, J. D. Trevathan, John Huie, Catus Butterworth, James Orr, John Sims, Chas. Allbritton, B. F. Caraway, John Hurt, Chess Scruggs, J. B. Swann, W. R. Falwell, Frank Pogue, Willson Reed, Will Fain, E. H. Grogan, Chas. Wreather, G. E. Shelton and J. W. Clark.

Little Chauffeur a Scrapper.

Paducah, Ky., April 7.—When C. S. Dean, a traveling man, "cussed out" Stanley Lee, a taxi driver, he reckoned without his hosts. Lee weighs 120, Dean probably near 200. But when the milling was over Dean was well suited for a test case at an emergency hospital, and Lee was unscathed. To make humiliation more bitter, Lee "toated" his adversary to police headquarters, and the unfeeling, police locked him up, after first tendering him some antiseptics for his bruised anatomy. The argument arose over the fare. Lee charged 50 cents. Dean paid it but cussed for good measure, and Lee refused to accept the cussing.

Every Comfort Provided for Confederates at Birmingham

Birmingham, Ala., April 8.—"Veterans first."

This is the slogan that has been adopted by every man, woman and child in Birmingham preparing for the Confederate reunion May 16, 17 and 18. It has been determined by the various committees in charge of the reunion to contribute to the comfort, ease and enjoyment of the Confederate veterans and no consideration will be permitted to stand in the light of that high resolve.

The people of Birmingham that are to welcome the veterans perhaps for the last time have planned every detail of the three days for the heroes of 1860-65. While there will be gay affairs and entertainments of many kinds for the visitors, yet the ambition has been determined upon to center upon the men who bared their breasts to the cannon's merciless fire during the civil war.

Plans that have already been definitely decided upon contemplate that all veterans who are guests of the city, and by that it is meant dependent upon the city for their food and shelter while in the city, will be provided with transportation during the parade. Mindful of the fact that many of the 6,000 veterans expected to attend the reunion are somewhat feeble, the committee has arranged for automobiles and automobile trucks to be used by the veterans during the parade.

The authorities anticipate that at least 6,000 veterans will be entirely dependent upon the city for shelter and food during the reunion. Arrangements are being made to take care of 6,000 of the heroes. At the Alabama state fair grounds will be established the official camp. In the administration building cots will be placed that have been secured from the federal government. The buildings are cool, commodious, and it is believed that the remnant of the army will be safely and comfortably housed there.

It was planned at first to pitch tents for the entire number, but it was thought advisable to use the permanent buildings for no one can foresee the weather conditions.

The commissary department is now being formed. It is anticipated that some of the best equipped cooks in the Birmingham district will be secured to cook the food for the veterans. The department will provide meals every day during the reunion and will also arrange to prepare meals one day in advance of the official opening, anticipating that some will arrive in advance of the opening days.

The committee on arrangements will see that the soldiers have every facility for social intercourse at the official camp. Old-fashioned camp stools will be provided and the camp will be so arranged that company reunions may be held and enjoyed by the soldiers without any inconvenience.

The state fair grounds are easily accessible by several street car lines, and is on the direct route to the Bijou theater, where the business meetings of the reunion are to be held. The opinion is held that in fixing upon the state fair grounds as a place of entertainment for the veterans the entertainment committee has acted wisely.

The Tobacco Situation

With the experience of the past year in marketing the tobacco crop, there is no further doubt but what the tobacco industry is utterly dependent upon some sort of a selling organization. The buying interests are thoroughly organized, and during a period when the producers of every other commodity have seen the prices of their commodities ascend to heights hitherto unknown, the poor, down-trodden tobacco grower—the owner of the earth, mind you—has been robbed of his product. At a time when war has brought revolution in various lines of trade, one lone product has been reduced to starvation prices. We are told that on account of the tobacco grown in the dark district being an export type, and that on account of the exorbitant freight rate brought about by the European war, the tobacco cannot be shipped, and hence, if it is sold at all, it must be at a price which the buyer can afford to pay and hold the tobacco in warehouses for an indefinite period. Of course the average farmer did not swallow this statement whole, but he might as well, for he could not help himself. He had no organization which would back him up in saying to the buyer that unless you pay me a profit for my product you cannot buy it. The farmer had produced the crop, he had no one to assist him in obtaining its value; he could not eat it himself and he could not feed it to his livestock. Then what could he do but take what he could get and make the best of it? This was the condition throughout the present season, and not one tobacco grower in one hundred made a profit on his crop.

At the same time the producers of other commodities which must be exported have made millions. And they did it because they were organized and could say to the buyers of these products, you must pay a profitable price, else we cannot trade. Tobacco is almost, if not, as necessary to the soldiers of the European war as powder and lead. The freight rate on powder and lead not only has been so high that buyers must buy it at bargain prices, but they have been willing to pay any price for it. Manufacturers of these products have become immensely rich during the short time the war has been in progress.

There is only one solution to the woes of the tobacco grower—organization. Farmers have made plans, so far as weather conditions have permitted up to now, for another crop of tobacco something like an average acreage. What prospects have they to get back even what they must put into the crop to get it ready for market? Mr. Farmer, on what do you base a hope that you will be able to get anything for this crop for which you are now preparing? Do you think the war will close, and in case it does, where can you see anything in it for you? If a few years back, when there was no war, the buyer could come to your barn and take your crop at his own price, how do you expect to better yourself now?

Just now, when practically all the tobacco has been sold for a song, we are told that buyers have begun to ride over the country asking who has not sold. Those few who have not sold are being offered a small advance over the price which has ruled up to now. These buyers are also asking about the prospects for another crop, and intimating that they hope conditions will change by another year, so that it will be possible to pay better prices. This, of course, to encourage the farmer to raise another big crop.—Pembroke Journal.

Very Sick Man.

Friends of Circuit Judge J. T. Hanbery, who has been quite ill for the past two weeks, have become very much alarmed over his condition. Judge Hanbery was taken from Hopkinsville to Walker's sanitarium in Evansville last Friday night, where he now is. A recent letter from there stated that Judge Hanbery was a very sick man, and that an examination was being made to ascertain whether his trouble was cancerous or something else. The letter further stated that Judge Hanbery was able to sit up Tuesday morning and read the papers, and from this it is probable that no immediate danger is feared, even though his condition is as serious as was thought by some.—Cadiz Record

HARVEY SUES THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT

Dixon, Ky., April 8.—Representative W. B. Harvey, of Webster county, has filed suit in circuit court here against the Paducah News-Democrat for $20,000 damages for alleged libel.

Harvey's suit is based on an editorial which was published in the News-Democrat March 15, under the caption "Hoodlumism in the House," in which Representative Frank C. Greene and Representative Harvey were referred to as "bad men, comanches or city hoodlums," and in which it was stated that Greene marched up the aisle "like a cowboy leading his gang," and that Harvey joined in, "bellowing and cavorting."

Harvey's attorneys are Wilson & Birkhead of Owensboro, Hunt & Bennett and Bourland & Blackwell of Dixon. It is reported that the same attorneys will file a similar suit based on similar grounds against the Louisville Times.

Harvey came into prominence in the last session of the legislature by his denunciation of Governor Stanley for his affiliation in politics with men connected with the liquor interests and by his tilt with Representative J. D. Humphrey, of Fleming county, in which a house committee exonerated him fully and refused to go into Harvey's charges that the liquor interests contributed large sums to the success of Governor Stanley in two of his campaigns.

Confusion About Auto License

There seems to be a difference of opinion regarding the amount to be paid for license by automobile owners, and during the past week Judge Langston took up the matter with the commissioner of motor vehicles and is in receipt of the following communication, which we publish for the benefit of the auto owners of the county:

"In reply to your letter of the 30th ult. beg to say that we are in a rather embarrassing position on this question. The attorney general has ruled that if a person is not using his car for say two months, January and February, he is not required to pay license for those months. We have no way to determine this, so we are forced to accept any fee tendered so long as it pays for the remainder of the year.

You have paid $6.00 on all applications that I have noticed, but we keep no record of by whom the license was paid, so we could not furnish a list of the applications sent in by you. I thought that the applications sent by you were from those fined in your court, and this was evidence that they were operating the car prior to paying the license, and such should pay for the entire year.

"The attorney general has also advised us that there is no way we can refund money on a license paid this way, as the only provision allowing us to check on the motor license fund is Sec. 6, and this does not come under that provision. This has caused some dissatisfaction but we are doing the best we can in the matter. Yours truly,

T. S. BYARS, Com.

Mr. M. W. Osbron and Miss Myrtle Bucy were married near the old chestnut tree on the Murray and Paris road Wednesday afternoon at 8 o'clock. The words that made them man and wife were said by T. H. Davis, pastor of the Hazel circuit.

EXPECT TO ADJOURN EARLY IN SUMMER

BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS ARE SPEEDING UP FOR CLOSE OF BUSINESS.

ALL PARTIES SEEM ANXIOUS

Administration Leaders Exerting Efforts to Expedite Legislation—No Indication of Intentions to Prolong Debates.

Washington.—Administration leaders in congress are exerting unusual efforts to expedite legislation with a view to an adjournment early in the summer, and they are meeting with co-operation on the part of the minority in both houses. Several times in the last week Republicans in the house and senate declared that they were as anxious as the Democrats for an early adjournment because of the approaching campaign, and there are no present indications of any intention to prolong debate or attempt to block the administration's legislative program.

An illustration of the general desire to speed up was furnished in the senate when unanimous consent agreements were reached for a vote on the army reorganization bill and free sugar repeal resolution and the legislative appropriation bill was passed, all within two hours. The senate agreed to vote on the army bill on April 18.

The senate will debate the sugar repeal issue, Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, having warned the senate that action was imperative because the free sugar clause of the tariff act will become operative May 1, next, unless congress acts before that time. He said he anticipated a sharp controversy in conference because of the action of the senate committee in amending the house resolution. The house agreed upon a flat repeal of the free sugar clause. The senate Democrats recommended that the existing duty of a cent a pound on sugar should be extended until May 1, 1920. Senators Broussard and Randall of Louisiana will make an effort to restore the house resolution, but this is doomed to failure. The fight will be continued in conference.

HOAN WINS IN MILWAUKEE.

Socialist Candidate for Mayor Has a Majority of 1,000.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Complete unofficial returns on April 5 show that Daniel A. Hoan, city attorney, Socialist Democrat candidate, defeated Mayor G. A. Bading, non-partisan, in the majority election by about 1,000 majority. The city council will be non-partisan. All the Social Democrat candidates for aldermen, including former Mayor Emil Seidel, were defeated.

Killed in Battle With Officer.

Del Rio, Texas.—Private John Wade of Company C, 24th Infantry, a negro regiment, was killed here by State Ranger Barler, when two rangers and Sheriff Almond attempted to arrest 16 negro soldiers, who had created a disturbance in a house in the restricted district. Three negroes attacked the officers while the latter were taking them to jail. Wade jumped on Ranger Barler, pressing him to the ground and clubbing him on the head with the butt of his revolver. Lying on his back, Barler drew his pistol and fired over his shoulder at Wade, killing him instantly.

Replies On Mail Seizures.

Washington.—The governments of the entente allies, through Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British ambassador, has presented to Secretary Lansing a joint reply to the protest made by the United States against the seizure, detention and censorship of neutral mails. It declared that no legitimate letter mail had been confiscated nor any treaty rights violated, but emphatically asserted the allies' intention to continue searching parcel post packages for contraband "concealed under postal folders."

Rob Bank of $15,000.

Canonsburg, Pa.—Two men robbed the First National Bank of Houston, at Houston, of $15,000 and escaped in an automobile.

Cashier McNutt was alone at his window when an automobile drove up. A man entered, carrying a piece of paper about the size of a check, and laid it on the counter. On the paper was written, "Make a move and you will be shot." McNutt looked up to find himself facing an automatic. The other man went to the vault and secured $15,000.

Largest Bill Ever Reported.

Washington.—The third great element of the national preparedness program was brought into the house. It is the largest fortifications bill ever reported and the first of four annual measures under which it is proposed to spend $100,000,000 for increasing and modernizing coast defenses, already officially declared supplies in any in the world, and supply ample store of reserve ammunition. Included are provisions for mounting 16-inch direct fire rifles to guard New York, Boston, and San Francisco.

IS FIGHTING FOR EXISTENCE

Germany Plans No War On America. Military Situation Reviewed Showing German Steady Progress.

Berlin (By Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.).—When the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, arose on April 8 to deliver his pronouncement on the attitude of Germany with respect to the war, the reichstag presented the aspect of former great days when some question of great national import was to be discussed. All the members were present and the galleries were crowded.

Among the foreign diplomats were the American ambassador, Mr. James W. Gerard; the Argentine minister, Dr. Luis Molina; the Dutch minister, Baron Gevers; and the Greek minister, N. G. Theotoky.

The chancellor reviewed the military situation and showed that throughout all the fighting Germany's progress had been steady and certain. He declared that Germany was at war only to preserve her existence and to hold back her enemies from the German frontiers.

Germany had been threatened, he said, with annihilation, with partition of her realm, with destruction of her essential political and economic forces and the answer to any suggestions of peace on the basis of destruction of Prussian military power was the German sword.

The chancellor began with a review of the military situation. He stated that since his last speech in the reichstag the Dardanelles enterprise had ended as a failure, that the Serbian campaign, with the assistance of Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria, had been brought to a victorious conclusion; that Montenegro and Albania likewise were now in the hands of Germany's allies; that the British attempt to relieve Kut-el-Amara, in Mesopotamia, had been in vain; that the Russians, although they had succeeded in occupying Erzerum, with superior forces, had found their advance checked by strong Turkish forces; that Russian attacks against the front in Galicia and Italian attacks against the Isonzo positions had been beaten back. Moreover, he said, the Russians had driven columns against the German lines, but their assaults had broken down before Field Marshal von Hindenburg and his heroes.

The chancellor declared that the reports of Germany's enemies that her military forces had been expended were erroneous.

"Equally silly are reports that we contemplate the acquisition of any territory on American soil as in Brazil or in any American country whatsoever. We fight for our existence and for our future. For Germany and not for space in a foreign country are Germany's sons bleeding and dying on the battlefield."

"Every one among us knows this, and it makes our hearts and nerves so strong. This moral force strengthens our will in order not to only weather the storm, but also to achieve final victory."

GERMAN FINANCES.

Paris Dispatch Claims Situation Is Far More Precarious.

London.—The Daily Telegraph prints the following dispatch from Paris: "According to information emanating from neutral sources, the German financial situation is daily becoming more precarious. Many capitalists and financiers already have taken precautions in view of coming events."

"Several well-known bankers, this information declares, have migrated to Switzerland with capital, with the object of going to the United States if necessary."

"It is apprehended that prohibitive measures may be taken to prevent the further exodus of German capital abroad."

"Many German business men now turn their eyes toward South America as a field for their operations, because in many other parts of the world their activity henceforward will be less acceptable."

"German financiers declare the last loan was subscribed only through clever manipulation and doubtful methods, which are a grave danger to the empire."

Mrs. Anna Busch Dies.

Los Angeles.—Mrs. Anna Busch, a sister of Mrs. Adolphus Busch, of the wealthy St. Louis family of brewers, died in the Pasadena Hospital, following an illness of two months. With her when she died were her two sons, Otto S. and Frank S. M. Busch, leading representative of the great brewing concern, and her daughter, the Baroness von Kleydorff.

Mrs. Busch was 78 years old. Her home was in Berlin, Germany, but when the war broke out she was in France and could not reach Germany, so she came to this country.

Aged Man Found Dead.

Dallas, Texas.—With his brains beaten out with a blunt instrument, the body of W. H. Humphries, 75, was found in his small grocery store at Lisbon, near here. He had been dead at least 12 hours. Near the body of the man was Mrs. Bertha Trower, his daughter-in-law, aged 42, in a dying condition. Having been beaten in the same manner as her father, the bodies were found by a son, who went to the store on his way to work. Robbery was the motive, as the store had been broken into and rifled.

GERMANS ATTACK LINE NEAR VERDUN

THE FRENCH EVACUATE THE BETHINCOURT WEDGE ON APRIL 8TH.

ENTER FRENCH TRENCHES

From That Position the Teutons Were Immediately Ejected Through a Counter Attack, Says French Official Dispatch.

Paris.—The French evacuated the Bethincourt salient April 8 and the Germans attacked with great violence their new line from Avocourt to Cumleers, but were repulsed with sanguinary losses.

Only at one point, northeast of Avocourt, did the Germans succeed in entering the French trenches, and from this position they were immediately ejected through a counter-attack, according to the French official communication. The communication says:

"In the Argonne our artillery concentrated its fire on the enemy's communications. Our heavy batteries during these operations shelled a sector in the neighborhood where important troop gatherings and columns on the march were observed in the region of Montfaucon and Nantillois."

"Near Hill 285 we exploded a mine, which crumbled the enemy's trench for quite a considerable length and destroyed a small post."

"To the west of the Meuse a violent battle which lasted the entire day, was engaged in on the whole of the front from Avocourt to Cumleers and even spread to the eastern bank of the river."

"The premeditated evacuation of the Bethincourt salient, which was carried out on the night of April 8, has enabled us to establish a continuous line, beginning at the Avocourt corner and running along the first woody slopes to the west of Hill 304, then along the southern bank of the Forges Brook to the northeast of Haucourt and reaching our position a little to the south of the crossing of the roads of Bethincourt-Esnes and Bethincourt-Chattancourt."

HARRISON INDICTED.

Charged With Being Accessory After Fact to Train Robbery.

Atlanta.—Charles Harrison, held by postoffice inspectors here in connection with the investigation of a train robbery near Central, W. Va., Oct. 8, 1915, in which more than $100,000 in unsigned bank notes were stolen, was indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of being an accessory after the fact. He will be arraigned later. Richard Harrison, a brother of Charles, who was arrested at Grand Rapids, Mich., was a witness before the grand jury. It is understood he has confessed. Jeff Harrison, another brother, is held at Parkersburg, W. Va. Benjamin McKee is under arrest at Alabama City, Ala.

William Carl Rentz, R. J., who pleaded guilty in Cincinnati to having stolen money in his possession, was brought here for trial.

Bring Tank Back to Paris.

Paris.—Lieut. Com. Wm. R. Sayles and First Lieut. Bernard L. Smith, naval attaches of the American embassy, have returned from a tour of investigation into the destruction of the channel steamer Sussex, which took them to Boulogne, to naval headquarters at Toulon and to the British admiralty in London. Fragments of metal found on board the Sussex being compared with bronze torpedoes used by the Germans are now in possession of the French and British naval authorities.

Air Defenses Drive Zeppelin.

London.—The increasing effectiveness of England's anti-aircraft defenses was demonstrated on April 7, when the single Zeppelin which undertook the fifth raid was prevented from penetrating the northeast coast and was forced to flee. Searchlights discovered the raider coming over the sea and never once lost him during his stay.

Revolutionaries In Possession.

Amoy, China.—Revolutionaries have the entire city of Swatow in their possession. The native population is reported to be panic-stricken, as they fear an attack by government troops from Canton. The American gunboat Wilmington is protecting foreign interests at Swatow. The commander of the warship and the American consul are co-operating to prevent fighting in the foreign property area if an attempt is made by government troops to recapture that city. The rebel forces are well disciplined.

Retained By Small Margin.

Washington.—The senate retained the volunteer army provision in the army bill April 6 by a vote of 36 to 34, rejecting Senator Lee's amendment to strike the section from the bill.

Advocates of the national guard as the first line of defense behind the regular army support the amendment vigorously, and the struggle was one of the hardest fought.

The narrow margin by which the federal volunteer provision was retained makes it doubtful that it will be in the measure finally framed.

TEN VILLA MEN ARE KILLED

Report Fight Several Days Ago Between Detachment of Carranzistas and Villistas.

Queretaro, Mexico.—The Mexican government has not given the American government permission to use Mexican railways for any purpose whatever, said Gen. Candido Aguilar, Mexican minister of foreign relations, after a meeting of the Carranza cabinet.

At the cabinet meeting Gen. Carranza and his advisers discussed the modifications suggested by the United States in the recent proposals for an agreement for crossing the frontier between the United States and Mexico by the armed forces of the respective governments. Gen. Aguilar said:

"The Mexican government has not given the American government permission to use Mexican railways for any purpose whatever."

El Paso.—Francisco Villa was definitely located at La Boquilla April 7, in a code message received here from Torreon, Mexico. La Boquilla is 55 miles southeast of Satevo and about an equal distance north of Parral.

The message said that the bandit had been at Santa Rosalia two days, and from there had turned west to La Boquilla. Santa Rosalia is on the Mexican Central railroad, 80 miles southeast of Chihuahua City. Some millions of American dollars are said to have been invested in the Santa Rosalia mines and smelter, but the place has been practically deserted since Mexico's present troubles began.

From Santa Rosalia a short spur of the Central railroad runs west to La Boquilla, about 20 miles distant. The latter place is the site of the famous Galentine Hot Springs, a health resort which rivaled the most celebrated spas of the continent in the days of Porfirio Diaz. Like Santa Rosalia, it has been deserted for the last two years.

Gen. Luis Gutierrez, commander of the Carranza troops in Chihuahua, has made a report of a fight which occurred several days ago between a detachment of Carranzistas and Villistas near Cuernavaca. This is just south of Satevo. Ten Villistas are said to have been killed and two taken prisoners.

More than 10,000 are employed in the unfruitful but necessary task of guarding the circuitous trains over which the line of communication winds southward from Columbus. The army strategists say nothing could better demonstrate the great disadvantage under which Gen. Pershing and his officers are operating.

MEET IN CHICAGO JUNE 7

Convention Officers Are Chosen—Party Leaders Discuss Informal Possibilities Presidential Candidates.

Chicago.—Plans for the National Republican Convention, which will open in Chicago June 7, were completed here on April 7 at a meeting of the subcommittee on arrangements with the selection of Senator Harding of Ohio for temporary chairman.

Senator Harding was chosen for the place by a unanimous vote on the first formal ballot, after an hour's discussion of various men suggested. Other convention officers chosen were:

Temporary secretary, LaFayette B. Gleason of New York; chief clerk, D. Edward Monroe of St. Louis; official reporter, George L. Hart, of Roanoke, Va.; sergeant-at-arms, William F. Stone of Baltimore; chief assistant sergeant-at-arms, Edwin P. Thayer of Indianapolis; chief doorkeeper, John J. Hanson, of Baltimore.

The meeting attracted to the city numerous state committee chairmen and other party leaders, who discussed informally possible presidential candidates and issues. Recent reports that Col. Roosevelt had indicated a willingness to accept the presidential nomination of the party formed the basis of several impromptu conferences. Several state leaders said they had been unable to discover that the Roosevelt statement had any marked effect on the situation.

Many of the leaders declared that what sentiment that had crystallized in their states largely was in favor of Justice Hughes, although Senator Cummins, former Senator Burton, Charles W. Fairbanks, Senator Sherman and other favorite sons had many supporters.

It was the consensus of opinion that about 70 per cent of the delegates in the convention would be uninstructed.

British Steamer Torpedoed.

Queenstown.—The British steamer Zent, of 3,890 tons, has been torpedoed without warning west of Pastnet, and it is believed 50 persons on board have been killed or drowned. Two men are known to have been killed by the explosion of the torpedo, and 48 members of the crew are missing and are thought lost. Capt. Martin of the vessel, and nine men of the crew landed safely at this port on April 7 and gave news of the disaster.

Tank Steamer Destroyed.

New York.—The last steamship San Cristobal, operated by the Mexican Oil Co. between Mexican and Gulf ports, was destroyed by fire, together with a cargo of 5,000 barrels of crude oil, on March 27 at Puerto, Mexico, according to reports brought here by the Ward Line steamship Santiago. The fire started with an explosion and endangered the Santiago. Tugs towed her out into the stream. The fire was said to have been caused by an exposed light which ignited crude oil gases.

THAT SPECIAL MENU

PREPARATIONS FOR THE UNEXPECTED GUESTS.

Always an Easy Matter for the Competent Housewife to Get a Satisfactory Meal Before Her Casual Visitors.

Now, regarding unexpected guests. Could you not plan to have sufficient food so that your guests could have the same as the family if any dropped in at mealtime? Then it would not make so much extra work. I imagine it is because you are a good cook that people drop in, but if they really come to see you, they will not want you to make any extra trouble for them, and if they come just for the good food you serve I should not encourage the habit. I have very few unexpected guests, but when they come they must take "pot luck."

It is well to have canned goods in the house for such emergencies; such as salmon, shrimp, tuna fish, fish flakes, meats, chicken, vegetables and relishes and preserves. Cake or cookies and canned peaches or pears are an easy dessert, and if you have sponge or any light cake, lay the peaches on a slice in the serving dishes and cover all with whipped cream. Salmon in butter gravy, canned peas, hashed potato with red pepper and apple pie pudding is an easy dinner, or creamed fish flakes, mashed potato, canned beets, steamed cup cakes with hot lemon or brandy sauce.

Another is delicate ham, canned string beans, baked potato, German tapoca pudding, or ham and eggs, mashed potato, canned corn, hot chocolate, cornstarch pudding with cream. As you live in the country, perhaps it is not always convenient to have fresh meat on hand, but you could buy half a ham and hang it in a cool place, and as needed, then boil the piece left when the best is sliced off. For supper, have scalloped tuna fish, shrimp wiggle, creamed chipped beef or cheese cream on toast, egg cream toast, goldenrod toast, cheese and potato puff. Any of these with bread or hot biscuit, canned sauce, cake, cookies and tea would be good suppers. Bake your one-egg cake in cupcake tins, one tablespoonful to a tin, and keep on hand for desserts. Place them in covered tin in the oven, just long enough to warm through, and serve with egg or liquid sauce.

About breakfasts I do not think I have any new ideas, as I am obliged to have breakfast early every day, Sunday included, so get something easy. I always have cereal, usually rolled oats, then eggs, boiled, scrambled, fried with bacon, poached, scrambled with chopped ham, minced beef or lamb on toast, hash, fish, warmed-over soup, and with dry toast or warmed-over muffins or brown bread and doughnuts or cookies or drop-cakes and coffee, we are satisfied. Once a week I have griddle cakes with sirup, but it takes longer to cook them than anything else I serve.—Boston Globe.

To Wash Willow Furniture.

To clean willow furniture, provide yourself with a coarse brush dipped in strong salt and water, scrub each piece well, then dry with a soft brush. Salt cleans willow and also keeps it from turning yellow. If it is desired to keep the natural light color of the willow, apply a coat of linseed oil. By this treatment the willow strands of which the piece is woven will lose their dry brittleness and become softer and more pliable, bending under a blow instead of breaking. This treatment has another good effect besides making the chair last longer—it makes it less noisy. A coat of oil allows the strands to slip more smoothly and easily, and therefore more quietly upon each other.

Brawn.

Do you ever make "brawn"? I buy a meaty shank, four or five pounds, boil until quite well done, remove from liquid, put lean meat through meat chopper, add salt, pepper and sage to taste, moisten with beef liquor. Press down hard in dish. Have dish small enough so it will be filled about full. Place a plate over it, weigh down with an iron. Let it stand overnight in a cool place. Slice when cold. Very nice and economical. This with a nice vegetable or tomato soup made of remainder of liquor makes a nice dinner.—Boston Globe.

Savory Bread.

Slightly moisten some neatly trimmed slices of stale bread with herb flavored and well-seasoned milk enriched if desired with a beaten egg. Fry either as they are or else dipped in batter, or, again, brushed over with white of egg and rolled in flour, to a bright golden brown in hot dripping or bacon fat, and serve in a pyramid, bordered with fried onions, or on couronne round a central mound of green or other vegetables.

Cheese Omelet.

Dessertspoonful grated cheese, one egg, little pepper and salt, one-quarter ounce butter; put butter in frying pan, beat the egg, add pepper, salt and cheese. Put in the pan and stir round. Cook to a light brown, not solid through, and you have a fine cheese omelet.

Bismarck Oysters.

A layer of hot sauerkraut on a hot plate, several fried oysters next and on top three slices of crisply fried bacon.

SALTS IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS TROUBLE YOU

Eat Less Meat If Your Kidneys Aren't Acting Right or If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life-saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Fine Resin From Desert Cactus.

A high-grade resin, golden yellow and firm, and in solubility resembling Dammar resin, has been extracted from samples of dried desert cactus sent to the University of Washington chemistry department from the Southwest.

It was there that the discovery of how to extract resin from wood by using ammonia as a solvent was discovered. Ammonia, however, would not dissolve the resin in cactus, so Prof. H. K. Benson started a search for another solvent and found that denatured alcohol was the best.

The yield is about 20 per cent, and the cost will be less than that of extracting it from wood, as nearly all the alcohol can be recovered.

Anachronism.

Nearly all of the prominent business men of America have some connection with the church; many of them are conspicuous leaders of Christian enterprise. Industrially they are Doctor Jekyll; ecclesiastically they are Mr. Hyde. What use is there in glossing the matter? They are proud of being just and fair where it is an economic necessity; they are brutally callous where it is a religious grace. The employer who dares not tip a faithful but gray-haired mechanic from his lathe and throw him upon the mercy of the community will tear a faithful but gray-haired preacher from his pulpit and drop him upon the lean cold bosom of charity.—Joseph H. Odell in Atlantic.

HANDY HUSBAND

Knew How to Get Part of the Breakfast.

"I know one dish I can prepare for breakfast as well as any cook on earth," said my husband one morning when the cook was ill and he had volunteered to help get breakfast. He appeared with his dish, and I discovered it was Grape-Nuts which, of course, was easy to prepare for it was perfectly cooked at the factory, but it was a good illustration of the convenience of having Grape-Nuts about.

"We took up Grape-Nuts immediately after returning from a five years' sojourn in a hot country. Our stomachs were in bad condition and we were in poor health generally."

"In a day or two we liked Grape-Nuts better than any other kind of food on the table. We both gained steadily in health and strength, and this was caused by Grape-Nuts and Postum."

"A friend of ours had a similar experience. She was seriously ill with indigestion and could find nothing to eat that would not give her heartburn and palpitation, especially at night."

"She found that a small dish of Grape-Nuts with cream made her a satisfactory supper, and gave her a comfortable night's rest. In a short time she gained several pounds in weight."

"There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"Next t' a Persian Nut Sundae Ther Hain't Nothin' That Appeals Less t' a Red Blooded Man Than a Militant Woman."

With th' passin' o' th' ole fashioned home with its family circle, women an' girls have become a most important factor in our professional an' business life. As th' earnin' ability o' th' modern father 'il no longer sustain a home filled with full blown daughters, an' as th' supply o' desirable male prospects is far below th' demand, th' girls have been ruthlessly thrown on their own resources. T' day woman is a formidable proposition in practically ever' profession but hod carryin' an' structural work. From danglin' 'n pink fleshin' on th' dizzy heights o' th' circus tent t' runnin' a lively stable she is a success. T' day it is conceded on ever' hand that woman excels at ever' thing she tackles but selectin' her husband's hose an' carryin' a mattress in th' great department stores, on th' stage, in th' dice shakin' cigar stands, on th' newspapers, at th' loom, with th' circus, in th' practice o' law, dentistry an' medicine, on th' platform, with th' needle, on th' stock exchange, in th' hammock an' on th' veranda woman excels. She plugs along without chewin' an' smokin' or sneakin' out t' take a drink. Bright an' early Monday she's on th' job with bright eyes an' a clear memory. Look at th' women o' Europe! With th' freshest an' farnest an' faciest stripped of men they are pickin' th' hogs an' cuttin' th' oats an' nursin' th' wounded an' carin' fer th' thout-sands o' fatherless children. Ther's no discount on woman an' most o' us would like t' see her vote. But with our changed home life an' self sustainin' daughters ther has developed among women an' overweenin' sense o' superiority o'er man that is bein' nourished an' boosted by a detachment o' stout, florid, unhappily mated an' over zealous man haters. No sensible person denies that woman should have th' right t' vote an' try t' regulate th' conditions under which she works, or t' have some voice in th' course of a sewer or th' tariff on pearl buttons, but she'll never get that right as long as th' robust agitators who have failed at th' marriage altar inject sex antagonism in th' suffrage question. I would like t' see th' woman who started th' movement t' have th' word "obey" stricken from th' marriage contract. Th' effort t' create th' impression among women an' girls that love is short lived sentimental tagdile, that marriage is a cold blooded business proposition an' that all men are fer th' double standard o' morality regardless o' their views on th' currency question will o' course fail. Any movement, either scattered or organized, t' put Dan Cupid out o' business is doomed t' ignominious defeat at th' polls or in th' parlor.

Th' Ole Silver Cornet Band

If one is fortunate enough t' catch Prof. Clem Harner when he's in one o' his semi-annual good humors an' proceeds with caution, a charmin' half hour's entertainment is assured him. Since th' ravages o' time have disqualifed th' professor fer further activity in th' musical affairs o' th' town, he has grown sullen an' morose, only breakin' th' silence at rare intervals t' belittle some notable achievement o' progress.

"What has become o' th' ole time silver cornet band, th' ole time cornetists, th' ole time cornetists?" he asked th' Thro' Georgy band that used t' play on th' slightest provocation." I asked th' Thro' Georgy band contest as he monopolized th' only chair in front o' th' post office.

Twenty bar rests are a thing o' th' past an' ever' sour note is protected by th' union. Th' ole 35-pound red felt uniform, with belsat an' plume, too, has passed away forever.

IS NOT CONVINCING GOVERNOR NAMES NEW COMMISSIONS

Country Will Not Approve of Root's Program.

Criticism of President Wilson's Attitude During the Tremendous Upheaval in Europe Must Be Said to Lack Sincerity.

From the lofty vantage ground of hindsight, Mr. Root declares that President Wilson has made mistakes in dealing with foreign complications. That is extremely probable—the Journal pointed out one such mistake and the way to retrieve it only a few days ago.

This war has surprised everyone and upset all calculations. Germany, which had the advantage of the initiative, made three tremendous errors at the very start: She thought that Belgium would not resist, that England would not come into the war, that France could not stem the torrent poured upon her. England has made so many blunders that it is useless to enumerate them; Russia has tripped again and again; even France, though sanest and most clear sighted of all the combatants, has erred many times in the simple business of fighting.

Why, then, should we expect to be flawless in the much more complicated task of maintaining neutral rights without ceasing to be neutral?

Mr. Root's program of "what should have been done" makes it clear that if he had guided the destinies of the nation, we should have been at war with Germany long ago. He would have protested against the violation of Belgium, but without going to war on that point. Such a course would have been equivalent to serving notice on Germany that we hated her but would not fight her—a fine way, truly, of persuading her to respect our wishes. He would have backed the Lusitania protests with "action." The only possible action is the use of force, and force means war.

Mr. Root would be more candid—and more convincing—if he omitted entirely his lip service to peace, and declared boldly that this nation ought now to be at war with Germany an' Austria.—Chicago Journal.

Germany's Protective System.

The American Protective Tariff league, through the American Economist's Washington correspondent, cleverly turns the tables on the Tariff Commission league, which has just issued a pamphlet asserting that the strongest argument in its campaign for a permanent nonpartisan tariff commission is the fact that Germany has a permanent nonpartisan tariff commission which brought that country to the high standard of efficiency in competitive ability which it enjoyed at the outbreak of the war. The tariff league shows that Germany's tariff was made not by a nonpartisan tariff commission but by a body which was composed almost entirely of protectionists, in which manufacturers and land owners were in a large majority. Germany wanted an adequate protective tariff and she got it at the hands of this protective commission. "She has that tariff yet," says the American Economist, "and will show it up higher after this big war is over."

It is becoming clearer each day that the tariff commission idea cannot possibly prevail. President Wilson has declared against it on the one hand, and he is supposed to very fairly represent the Democratic party, and the tariff league is opposed to it on the other hand, and it voices the views of a large majority of those who will sit representing the Republican party in this congress, as in the next.

President Has Done Well.

In the presence of the greatest of all wars, which appeals strongly to divided American sentiments, and which strikes deeply at American interests at a thousand points, the president has preserved the honor of the nation, has in his behalf performed his duty to mankind of insisting upon the preservation of the sanctions and restraints of international law, and has so far achieved important diplomatic victories without the threat of force, but in a manner that leaves neither America nor Europe in doubt that he would use force if diplomacy should fail.

At the opening of a presidential campaign the Republicans will, of course, loudly deny all these things, but they are true, and in ten years we will dispute them.—Philadelphia Record.

Does Not Seem Like Ruin.

Is it as an expression of confidence in the ruin of the industry to follow the war under free wool and a low tariff on woolsens that the American woolen trust begins to pay dividends for the first time on its common stock?

Forecast by Hillis.

On the eve of the meeting of the Republican national convention Chairman Charles D. Hillis gave out a statement in which he predicted a Republican victory. As a forecaster, the Honorable Charles is without a peer, and if prognosticating were the sum total of the national chairman's duties, he would be the ideal man for the job. Unfortunately, however, the retrospective is not so pleasant, as Mr. Tarr, surveying national death Utah and Vermont, can testify.

Burial Associations Loss.

Mutual burial associations, of which there are about a dozen in Kentucky, lost the first round in their fight with the state insurance department in the Franklin circuit court, when Judge Stout sustained a demurrer filed by Assistant Attorney General Charles H. Morris to the petitions of the Newport and Covington Burial associations and the Kenton and Campbell County Burial associations, seeking an injunction to restrain former Commissioner Matt C. Clay from cancelling their licenses. The department insisted that burial associations must operate under the co-operative assessment insurance law and have on deposit with the state $10,000 in securities before doing business. The associations probably will appeal from the decision.

The impeachment charges allege that Judge Williams was guilty of misconduct in office, including the illegal imprisonment of Capt. ### Gives up His Job.

Clever, if indeed vitriolic, are some verses found neatly penned on blue paper in the pages of a book returned to the Carnegie library, at Huntingdon, W. Va., recently.

The devil sat by the lake of fire
On a pile of sulphur kegs,
His head was bowed upon his breast,

His tail between his legs.

A look of shame was on his face,
The sparks dropped from his eyes,

He'd sent his resignation
To the throne up in the skies.

"I'm down and out,"

He said it with a sob;

There are others that outclass me
And I want to quit my job.

Well isn't it in with the land
That lies beyond the Rhine;

It's a has-been and a piker,
And, therefore, I resign.

One ammunition maker,
With bloody shot and shell,

Knows more about damnation
Than all the imps of hell.

Give my job to Kaiser Wilhelm,
Or to the Russian Czar,

Or King George, or J. P. Morgan,
Or some other man of war.

I hate to leave the old home,
The place I love so well,

But I feel that I am out of date
In the art of running hell.

And the devil spat a squirt of steam

On a brimstone bumble bee,
And muttered that he guessed

he'd go

And hunt up young John D.

ROAD BUILDING

CONTINUANCE OF GOOD ROADS
Strong Movement Throughout Country for Honoring of Old Trails—Memorial Lincoln Highway.

No state in the nation is richer in road traditions than the state of Maryland. Much of its early history might be written from the records in which road construction, maintenance and litigation figures. Some of the roads of Maryland are of ancient and honorable antiquity, and where these can be perpetuated—under conditions of modern transformation, the state is thereby engaged in preserving valued traditions while giving sanction to the established use of roads that have been traversed a century or more, says Baltimore American. There is a strong movement the country over for the honoring of the old roads and trails. This is manifest in the movement that contemplates a memorial highway to Abraham Lincoln. The Old National Turnpike has clustering about it traditions of history that have been transformed into literary lore under the magic pens of essayists and poets. In the far West agitation for the preservation of the old trails is gaining in strength, and the Old Oregon, and the Old Whiskey and other historic trails that date back to times immemorial will doubtless be preserved as far as possible, and where obliterated by the path of progress, will be marked. Thus the trails followed by the red men from Canada even down to Central America will in time be made matters of record and reverence.

While sentimental and practical considerations may not always be embraced in the conclusions of the good roads commission, yet these should be and doubtless are considered together in so far as the commission has enlightenment and understands the sentiment of the communities affected. But the main proposition is that the people of Maryland are a unit for the continuance of the good roads movement. Baltimore has been greatly advantaged by the construction of paved streets from the country line, over roads that enter the city. It has deep interest in the prosecution of the good roads work for the benefit of the agricultural communities of the entire state. The traffic and transportation advantages are immense, while the state is thereby elevated in the view of the country at large. Let the good roads work go on.

CONTROL OVER LOCAL ROADS

State Highway Departments Should Be Given Some Measure of Supervision Over Thoroughfares.

The realization has become quite general that, in order to render maximum service, state highway departments should be given some measure of control over the construction and maintenance of local roads. For this class of roads an amount exceeding $160,000,000 is expended annually, with comparatively little result to show in the form of improved road mileage for this great outlay. The state of Iowa has met this situation by placing all the road work in the state under the direction of the state highway department.

Traffic is increasing so rapidly as to cause excessive wear upon the roads, especially in the vicinity of congested centers of population. This results in a heavy annual maintenance cost, averaging in the large eastern states not less than $750 per mile per annum. Many experiments have been made in the effort to devise types of road which can be maintained at relatively low cost. Thus far, aside from the cheaper forms of construction, the states are depending upon the various forms of bituminous macadam, concrete, and vitrified brick road.—Yearbook United States Department of Agriculture.

Lay Tribute on Wealth.

Bad roads lay a heavy tribute upon our agricultural wealth every year. Only a small per cent of the farm, orchard, garden and live stock products may be loaded upon cars without hauling. Some must be hauled over poor roads a long distance. This increases the expense of marketing, which, of course, means waste of our resources.

An alarm of fire was turned in from the home of Pat Black, just west of the city limits, late last Sunday afternoon. # In Woman's Realm Individual Style of Coiffure Means Much to Woman—Old Styles of Hairdressing Are Revived—Quaint and Picturesque Costume for the Bride's Attendants.

It is the manner of dressing her hair more than by any other means, that a woman can establish distinction—an individual style in her appearance. In this one particular she can afford to be independent of fashions and adopt for herself whatever is best suited to her. But in her coiffure, as in everything else she likes a change and she may experiment with any of the new incoming styles in hair dressing in the chance of improving her appearance or by way of variety.

It is the privilege of the bride to select the style that shall govern in making the costumes of her maids. Just how quaint and picturesque the modes of today allow them to be may be gathered from the illustration given above. This costume looks as if it might be a faithful copy of a style worn by some demure maid who flourished a century ago. But both the gown and the bonnet are products of 1916 and, worn together, they testify to the bride's eye for the picturesque. The gown is made of taffeta. The tight bodice with mid-Victorian shoulders is outlined with a ruffle and hair coiled or puffed on top of the head, with short curls at each side of the face is one arrangement that is in the experimental stage. In another the hair is combed to the top of the crown and tied there with narrow ribbon formed into a bow and ends. The hair is turned into a long upstanding "puff" or loop.

The most promising of coiffures recently shown calls for waved hair parted at one side and arranged in coils at the back of the crown. Three short curls are placed at one side on a level with the lobe of the ear. There are no styles in which the ears are uncovered, although in some a glimpse of supported by narrow straps. It surmounts a skirt which is just one flounce after another until four of them have fully occupied that space from waist to instep. They are finished with narrow hems.

Color plays a part so important in the bridesmaid's gown that taffeta silk is a happy choice in materials. It comes in so many beautiful colors and changeable effects. This will be appreciated by the bride whose aim is to make a fascinating background for her own incomparable white.

The old-fashioned poke bonnet shown in the picture is covered with plaited chiffon and has a soft crown.

IN THE BRIDAL PROCESSION.

It is permitted, just enough to display a jewel.

The coiffure pictured is a familiar style of the type most fashionable and is shown as developed for evening. The hair is marcelled and coiled across the back of the head just above the nape of the neck. Three short curls are pinned in below the coil.

An arrangement of the hair in a short French twist at the back surmounted by one long puff suggests the return of the psyché knot. The front hair is loosely waved and parted at the middle in a very shallow part. This is a graceful style and becoming, which is more than can be said of the most popular of off-the-face coiffures. Even to youthful faces they are somewhat trying and they lend nothing of softness to older ones.

There is a small wreath at the edge with little roses set far apart. A big and sprightly bow with long sash ends is perched at the back. So quaint a costume is suitably completed when the maid carries a basket of flowers rather than a bouquet.

The return of the always-loved big leghorn hat, trimmed with roses, to high favor, should not be overlooked by those who plan for hats that may be useful after the wedding. Wide brimmed hats for mid-summer made of georgette crepe and trimmed with flowers offer the bride a choice for her maids that is sure to please them and all those who see them.

GASOLINE IS FAVORED

Higher Temperature Can Be Secured Without Forcing Heater.

Time Is Also Saved by Having One Brooder House Serve for 200 Chicks Instead of Fifty—"A" Type of House Is Used.

The principal advantages in using gasoline rather than kerosene are to secure a higher temperature when needed without forcing the heater and so save time by having one brooder house serve for 200 chicks instead of 50. The system herein described involves broods of 200. It is not suitable for those who have only small hatcheries.

The "A" type form of house is used and is constructed as follows: The "A" type of house is 8 feet square, inside floor measure, has 12-inch side walls and is 6 feet 6 inches from top of floor to top of ridge board. The subframing is made and both floors laid before the upper part of the building is put together. The sills are got out first. They are made of 2x12 inch stock and are cut 8 feet long, with a level at each end to form runners or shoes upon which to draw the house about when desired.

An opening of 5 1/2 inches by 12 3/16 inches is cut in the rear runner to admit the burner box. The top of this opening is 1 1/2 inches from the top of the runner and has a 1/4-inch slit sawed into the runner horizontally from the two upper corners for the purpose of admitting the flange, or projection, of the upper edge of the burner box. A piece is cut from the runner directly over the center of this opening to admit the collar which is on top of the burner box. The piece is sawed out on a miter so that it can be replaced and secured by a single screw. The opening made by removing this piece is 5 inches in the clear.

The floor joists, four in number, are made of 2x4-inch stock, cut 8 feet long, and are fitted into the runners with a half joint. This gives a strong subframe that is not likely to get out of square when drawn over uneven ground. After fitting the joists into the runners and securely nailing with 20d. nails, the work is leveled, squared, and tied by means of a 1-inch board nailed diagonally across the joists.

The support for the burner box is then put in. It is made of three pieces of 2x4 spiked to the rear runner and to the two center joists. It is placed flush with the top of the joists and runner so that the flooring can be nailed to it. The inside dimensions, 13 1/2 x 24 1/2 inches, are such as to allow the flange of the burner box to slide in easily. The flange rests on 1/2 x 1-inch strips, which are nailed 1 9/16 inches below the top of the 2x4's forming the support. This leaves a space of 1 1/2 inches between the top of the burner box and the floor of the house, which prevents the floor from becoming too warm and serves as a chamber in which to warm the fresh air that is admitted for ventilating the house.

The cool fresh air is taken from beneath the house through four 1-inch holes bored in the 2x4 supports. It is warmed by passing over the metal top of the burner box and as it expands is forced upward around the stem and down upon the chicks.

The insulating box is made of 7/8-inch matched pine flooring and is supported at the rear by resting on the strip at the bottom of the runner and in front by hooks and eyes, such as are used for screen doors, to the support.

Breaking a Stallion.

Several precautions must be observed when breaking a stallion. First, the man must be a thorough horseman and second, he must remember that while the horse is big he is usually soft and cannot stand a great amount of hard work until he becomes accustomed to it.

MANURE IS BEST FERTILIZER

According to Data Secured by Experiment Stations Value Ranges From $1 to $7 Per Ton.

Data from the Nebraska experiment station obtained in co-operation with Nebraska farmers in several counties show that the average annual yields of corn from manured fields during three years were ten bushels greater than from adjoining fields which were not manured. The average annual yields from the unmanured fields were 26.81 bushels an acre and the yields from the manured fields were 36.78 bushels an acre. According to data from other experiment stations the lasting effect of farm manures is at least 20 years; that is to say, a farm may continue to obtain increased annual yields for several years after a good application of farm manure or the turning under of organic matter in some other form.

The increases in crop yields for a period of years at several of the best experiment stations were sufficient to give to the manure applied an agricultural value of from $1 to $7 a ton, depending upon the climatic conditions, rate of applications, kind of manure and crops manured.

USEFUL DEVICE FOR GARDEN

Marker Enables Gardener to Make Rows Straight and Spaces Between at Uniform Distance.

A successful gardener makes his rows straight and the spaces between the rows uniform. It is not necessary to buy expensive equipment for small-scale operations. Proper distancing can be had by using the homemade contrivance shown in the accompanying drawing. A 2 by 4 inch piece of wood, or even a lighter strip, is spaced as desired, and wooden plugs, sharpened to a dull point with the pocket knife, are inserted into holes made by the auger. The plugs on one side are set farther apart than on the other.

Easily Constructed Marker.

A series of holes may be made so that the plugs can be changed to give any desired distance between markings. Any kind of a handle is attached.—Orange Judd Farmer.

PREPARING THE GARDEN SOIL

Of Far More Importance Than Most Gardeners Realize—Vegetable Matter Is Necessary.

The preparation of the garden soil is of far more importance than most gardeners realize. The vegetables must have a deep, mellow, friable soil to hold moisture and promote the life and development of soil organisms so important to a fertile soil.

The soil should be broken early and vegetation incorporated in time for it to decay. A large per cent of vegetable matter, usually in its final state of decomposition, called humus, is necessary. It may then be necessary to rebreak, harrow and cross-harrow in order that a deep mulch may be had.

Barnyard manure is highly desirable where the soil is rather thin or close. The manure supplies both humus and plant food, and for that reason is economical. It is a waste product at the barn, but valuable to the gardener.

CLEANLINESS IN A STABLE

Benefits of Cleaning Up Every Day Are Far in Excess of Labor Involved in So Doing.

The custom on many farms of cleaning the barns, especially the horse stables only once a week, ten days or two weeks is to be condemned.

It takes but a very few minutes to clean the horse stable each day, and the benefits received from so doing are far in excess of the labor involved.

Not only do the animals have cleaner, healthier and more comfortable quarters, thus minimizing the likelihood of disease, but there is an actual saving in bedding and in time used in making the horse presentable by use of the currycomb and brush.

An up-to-date litter carrier is a fast time and labor saver and a stable thus equipped is much more likely to be kept clean.

MANY QUALITIES OF ONIONS

Several Ways in Which to Cook as Food—Stand Drought Well—Plant Sets Liberally.

Every garden should have an abundance of onions. There are many ways in which onions can be used as foods. For seasoning soups, hash, dressing, etc., nothing can take the place of onions.

They stand considerable drought, tolerate wet weather and will often produce when hedged in by weeds. Onions keep well and by storing them in the cellar or the barn one may have onions all the year. Plant onion sets liberally this year.

Pullets for Next Winter.

Figure out about how many pullets you want to carry through next winter, then set at least six. Over eight, times that number of eggs. Hatch early and as near together as possible.

OVEN MUST BE JUST RIGHT

Faults of Cookery That Have to Be Remedied by the Most Careful Attention.

"This would be a fine cake if only my oven had been just right." How often have you heard a friend make that remark and agreed with her too, but did either of you know what that "just right" meant?

Uniformity of heat is a most important feature in successful baking. It requires skill to obtain just the right heat. Not so very long ago, a great bread bakery found it necessary to let some of the great ovens cool off. After the fires were rebuilt it was about a week before they could be sure of the uniformity of the bread baked in those ovens. This merely demonstrates to the housewife the necessity for giving time and attention to her oven when she intends to bake.

When the cake comes out of the oven cracked it has been subjected to too great a heat at first. The cake baked so quickly at first that the gases did not have a chance to escape, and finally when formed in enough volume, they broke through the top, leaving a great crack. When the oven is unevenly heated the cake either rises up in the middle or on either side, making it impossible to make an even layer or to frost a loaf cake to advantage. When the cake "falls" it is because the oven has been too suddenly cooled or the cake jarred.

HOUSEHOLD WISDOM

Hard-boiled eggs chopped fine and mixed with mustard, a little cream and seasoning will make a delicious sandwich.

It is a good idea to save, if possible, a definite sum for furniture replacements. This applies especially to the keeper of a new house.

New blankets should be shaken and soaked in cold water overnight to take out the sulphur dressing and make them more easily washed.

Whenever possible save the green leaves of a head of lettuce for egg salad, while the hearts are kept for the tomato, fruit and other salads.

A weak solution of turpentine poured down the water pipes once a week will drive the water bugs away.

Shabby oak should be brushed over with warm beer and when thoroughly dry polished with beeswax and turpentine.

Furs that have become fat and oily looking about the neck may be made fresh and like new by rubbing the fur the wrong way with a hot iron. Furs that have been wet should never be hung in front of the stove or an open fire to dry.

For mud stains on dresses dissolve a little carbonate of soda in water and with it wash the mud stains. Another plan is to rub the stains with a cut potato, afterward removing the potato juice by rubbing it with a flannel dipped in water.

In cold weather put the clothespins in a pan and set in the oven until they are hot. Then the fingers will not suffer when hanging out the clothes, especially if the clothes are rinsed out the last time in warm water.

To clean bamboo furniture use a brush dipped in warm water and salt. The salt prevents the bamboo from turning color.

To clean lamp burners wash them in wood ashes and water and they will come out clean and bright.

If lemons are warmed before they are squeezed nearly double the quantity of juice will be obtained. If you want to save gas, remember that a sheet of tin placed over the smallest gas jet will heat two flatirons as quickly as if two jets were used.

Muslin and cotton goods can be rendered fireproof by putting an ounce of alum in the last rinsing water, or by putting it in the starch. A mousehole can be effectively stopped for all time by pasting over it a piece of cloth which has been liberally sprinkled with red pepper.

Caramel Custard.

Melt one-half cupful of sugar, add two tablespoonfuls of water and one quart of hot milk. Beat six eggs, add one-half teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful vanilla; pour on the hot milk. Strain into a buttered mold and bake one-half hour. Cook this carefully in a slow oven and serve with caramel sauce. It is a delicious dish.

Caramel Sauce.—Melt one cupful of sugar and add one cupful of hot water. Simmer ten minutes.

Cream of Tartar Biscuits.

One quart of flour, two level teaspoonfuls of saleratus, four level teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar; after sifting add butter or lard size of an egg, one and a half cupfuls of sweet milk or more according to quality of flour; knead well until not a particle of flour shows on dough, then roll and cut; bake in quick oven. This amount will make two dozen. When done turn out on a clean cloth to cool.

To Clean Spring Mattresses.

Save all old quilts or wings from hats and use up for working the dust out from the space between the block of wood and spring mattress that runs at each end of the bed. Push the wings or quilt in the space and work up and down until all dust is removed. I have found this works splendidly.

Effective Dishcloth.

In knitting dishcloths it is a good plan to put in several rows of hard-twisted cord. This hard-portion will clean many surfaces on which it is not advisable to use scouring soaps or metal.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at your druggist or from the store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.—Adv.

Paw—Some shoemaker, probably.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

BUT OAKLEY IS NO SAVAGE.

F. DAVIS OAKLEY

As a rule, the man who becomes a member of congress first gets his name up while occupying some other office. The rule applies to F. Davis Oakley of Hartford, Conn. Oakley made a reputation for himself as president of the American Association of Haldheaded Men. The organization, while national in its scope, mainly held its annual meetings in Connecticut, and Oakley made speeches at these gatherings which could not fail to impress one and all with his mastery of the spoken word.

In addition to heading the baldheads of America, Oakley has served as alderman in Hartford and as a member of the school board.

One feature of Oakley's speeches which has helped to popularize them and him in Connecticut is their brevity.

In addition to not having as many opportunities for making after-dinner speeches as he would like, Oakley's life has been marred somewhat by the fact that he is always being thrown where he is obliged to listen to music—and he was born without the slightest sense of tonal harmony. Music may soothe the savage, but Oakley is no savage, and it merely annoys and distracts him. What is music to anybody else is to Oakley only a systematic distribution of needless noise. He dislikes it all from lullaby to oratorio, and from ragtime to dirge.

QUIT MAKING SPEECHES? NEVER

Senator Martine of New Jersey dotes on making speeches. He is free to say that he would much prefer to abandon almost any other vice he has rather than speechmaking. Last summer Martine was one of a number of members of congress who went on a journey to Hawaii. Part of their entertainment there consisted of an initiation into a so-called Order of Hawaiian Chiefs. This initiation, which was held on a lonely island, reserved for that purpose, was a good deal like joining a college fraternity. Dignified congressmen wore no clothes except a modish skirt made of grass, and were put through various amusing capers. One feature of the exercises was an electric mat on which great men were laid full length, with hands and feet tied, and blindfolded. Then the electric current was turned on and all manner of grave promises were exacted from the victims. Uncle Joe Cannon, Congressman McKinley, Senator Martine and various other comedians were among the number.

SENATOR MARTINE

McKinley was ordered to promise that he would stump the country for Theodore Roosevelt in 1916. At first McKinley was inclined to demur at this, but they turned on the "tricity" and he promptly agreed to do as he was asked. Uncle Joe Cannon refused to pledge himself to support the Democratic tariff policies.

"Never," he insisted. They increased the flow of electrical current and he hastened to shout, "I promise."

The next man was Martine. They bade him to enter into a covenant never again to make a speech in the United States senate.

"Nuh, nuh, nuh!" exclaimed Martine, excitedly. "I'll never promise that."

They gave him a series of severe electrical shocks. But Martine was firm.

Nor would all the electricity at the disposal of his tormentors move him from his purpose.

HE DISAPPOINTS MANY

DR. HARRY C. FRANKFIELD

Dr. Harry C. Frankfield, one of the chief forecasters of the weather bureau, is a member of the National Aero club. In spite of the fact that throughout the entire country eighty-five out of the hundred forecasts of the weather are correct, it is generally believed that Doctor Frankfield has in his prognostications disappointed more persons than anyone else in the United States, but the fact remains the weather bureau saves the country at least $100,000,000 annually and that he is known throughout the world as one of its greatest meteorologists.

The variability of weather conditions is one of the stumbling blocks of aerial navigation, and a comprehensive study of its fickle laws is necessary to every flier, but particularly to the one who must fly over the sea. Hence it is easy to see why Admiral Peary wanted Doctor Frankfield on the commission. John Hays Hammond, Jr., the first advocate of the aerial coast patrol for all coasts, is young but well known. Possibly above all others he has obtained control by electricity without wire connection of objects detached and distant from the source of the current's discharge. His boat controlled from the shore without pilot or crew, his aerial torpedo and other activities are new war factors which may revolutionize military methods.

TEACHES BOYS WAR GAME

Washington has a unique "preparation" feature in the school which has recently been started for officers of the High School Cadet regiments. Lieut. E. Z. Steever, U. S. A., who is the voluntary instructor, is careful to keep all thought of war in the background, as far as possible, in teaching the boys, yet the lessons which they are learning are such as will better qualify them to "do their bit" for their homes in case the need ever arises. At present the work is along theoretical lines, conducting imaginary troops over large maps; later practical work is to be done in the field.

Boys who have "played" the "map game" are enthusiastic over it. They claim it is more interesting than checkers, chess or cards. Withal, they are learning something, not how to be militaristic, but how to be resourceful, how to be logical and how to act promptly. Lieutenant Steever is also enthusiastic. Not only is he greatly interested in boys as boys, but he was himself a member of the High School Cadet organization of Washington.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! ACTS LIKE DYNAMITE ON LIVER

I Guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Give You the Best Liver and Bowel Cleansing You Ever Had—Doesn't Make You Sick!

Stop using calomel! It makes you sick. Don't lose a day's work. If you feel lazy, sluggish, bilious or constipated, listen to me!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you feel "all knocked out" if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store or dealer and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

Fulton Mothers Now Treat Children's Colds Externally

They Find Vap-O-Rub. Better Than Internal Medicines for Croup and Cold Troubles.

Mrs. J. S. Fugh, 510 Market St. and Mrs. Mary Bolton, 105 Ravine St., both of Fulton, Mo., have found, in common with many other Missouri mothers, that it is no longer necessary to dose children with internal medicines for cold troubles. In the South Vicks' Vap-O-Rub is the standard remedy for these troubles, but it was only last winter that it was introduced here. Vap-O-Rub was discovered by a North Carolina druggist. He found how to combine Menthol and Camphor with the volatile oils of Thyme, Eucalyptus, Cèbels and Juniper, in salve form, so that when applied to the body, the ingredients are vaporized by the body heat.

These vapors are inhaled with each breath, through the air passages, to the lungs, carrying the medication direct to the affected parts, and, in addition, Vicks' is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness. This double action makes Vap-O-Rub really a remarkable remedy for many forms of inflammations. Either inflammations of the air passages, such as head colds, catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, or deep-chest colds, or inflammations of the skin tissues, such as burns, bruises, stings, piles, itching and muscular soreness. It is particularly recommended for small children, as it can be used freely, with perfect safety, on the young member of the family.

But let these Missouri mothers speak for themselves. Mrs. Bolton writes—"I have used Vap-O-Rub on baby for bad colds. Results were excellent. I find it better than any internal medicine I ever used."

Mrs. Fugh's experience is—"I tried your Vap-O-Rub on three of my children for bronchitis. They would cough so hard at night I could not sleep, so would get up and rub their throats and chests with Vap-O-Rub and they seldom coughed any more that night, and after I had kept it up for several nights they stopped coughing. I believe it is better than taking so much medicine internally." Three sizes 25c, 50c or $1.00. At all druggists.

BUSINESS IS BASED ON CONFIDENCE

A Theory Put Into Practice by Well Known Business Men

J. C. BRADY

"A druggist has many opportunities to make lasting friends of his customers," said Mr. J. C. Brady, popular Rexall Pharmacist of Fall River, Mass. "The very nature of his business draws their confidence for little helpful suggestions on the matter of health. Many people have thanked me for recommending Rexall Orderlies as the best relief for constipation and its resultant ills. Put up in dainty candy tablet-form, they are pleasant to the taste and make an ideal laxative for the home—for men, women and children alike."

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative.
