Support the Churches

On page four of today's edition is the fourth in a series of advertisements intended to stimulate interest in and attendance at our local churches.

Beginning today, the messages are furnished by E. E. Keister, Strasburg, Virginia. The themes will be varied, and strictly non-sectarian.

These special messages are endorsed by the Fulton Ministerial Alliance. It is our humble hope that they may be instrumental in the forward march of the Prince of Peace in our community and throughout the world.

Socialists Could Retreat

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst That was a gloomy estimate by Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime Conservative prime minister, when he charged in a speech yesterday that England "is being driven into ruin and our empire is being scattered and squandered" by the present Socialist government.

Curiously enough the news dispatch containing that statement reached my desk just as I returned from a discussion on the status of British Socialism with one of England's clever women who is visiting America. She is Mrs. Mary Agnes Hamilton—author of many books, a former member of Parliament, a former governor of the British Broadcasting Corporation, and currently chief of the American Information Department of the British Foreign Office.

Unwittingly Mrs. Hamilton had given Churchill a partial answer during our conversation. I had asked bluntly: "You haven't yet demonstrated that Socialism will work, have you?"

She agreed that the "Q. E. D." still had to be written on the proposition. Thereupon I inquired what would happen if the Socialist government, having inaugurated widespread nationalization, found it wouldn't work. How would the country pull out of that grave difficulty?

"We of course are confident that things will work out all right," she replied. "However, the government is proceeding slowly and with great caution. Nationalization will not be allowed to extend to a point which would cause disaster if it didn't work. Actually, the program of nationalization is sharply restricted. (Government spokesmen have indicated a program aiming at approximately 20 percent of industry being nationalized and the remaining 80 percent being left to free enterprise) There is no intention of wholesale nationalization but, on the contrary, private initiative is to be encouraged. The time never will arrive when, if some part of the program should go wrong, it couldn't be rectified."

Then Mrs. Hamilton and I fell to talking of the great social changes which are taking place in Britain. When I first went to England 30 years ago, it was a land of tradition, where the rich were very rich and the poor were very poor. A man was a gentleman because he was born to that status and not because he had acquired culture, and the individual stayed in the class to which birth assigned him.

But there has been a great leveling off, partly the result of a change in the social outlook of the country, and partly because of the terrific taxation which has wiped out the landed gentry to such an extent that the red-coated huntman, riding to hounds with his cry of "Tally-Ho," is becoming something of an anachronism.

Some of this change is due to Socialism, although the metamorphosis started long before the present government was elected. Mrs. Hamilton declared firmly that the leveling off process would continue, and ventured the view that the old school tie was much less in evidence these days. "We intend to raise the lower class up and bring the upper class down," she said with a smile, "so that there will be only one class. Of course there always will be differences, but our aim is to provide equal opportunities for all."

No Steppchild

A short while ago, the House and Senate of the State of Indiana adopted one of the most remarkable resolutions ever proposed before a legislative body. It was a dramatic reaffirmation of those principles of local independence and local responsibility that have been so largely forgotten.

Here, in part, is what the resolution said: "Indiana needs no guardian and intends to have none. We Hoosiers—like the people of our sister states—were fooled for quite a spell with the magician's trick that a dollar taxed out of our pockets and sent to Washington would be bigger when it comes back to us. "We have taken a good look at said dollar. "We find that it lost weight in its journey to Washington and back. The political brokerage of the bureaucrats has been deducted. We have decided that there is no such thing as federal aid. We know that there is no wealth to tax that is not already within the boundaries of the 48 states."

"So we proposed henceforward to tax ourselves and take care of ourselves. We are fed up with subsidies, dotes and paternalism. We are no one's stepchild. We have grown up. We serve notice that we will resist Washington, D. C. adopting us."

Here is the unanswerable case against super-government. The Indiana legislature has simply restated, in plain words, the doctrine on which this nation was built. And it is the only doctrine that can keep this nation strong and free in the years to come.—(Industrial News Review.)

Intellectual Felines

Chicago.—Miss Helen Kelly, 60, appeared before Judge N. J. Bonelli in municipal court yesterday on an eviction action because she has 11 cats in her apartment. She pleaded for permission to keep two. "But what if those cats should have kittens?" the judge inquired.

"There is no danger of that," Miss Kelly assured him. "I shall speak to them and warn them against it. They understand me." Judge Bonelli shook his head dubiously and continued the case.

Smithland Woman Said Responsible For Twin Deaths

Smithland, Ky., April 19.—(AP)—Sheriff Truman Baster reported Charles Ferguson, Smithland attorney, and his sister, Miss Emma Ferguson, were killed at her residence in the Leebetter section of Livingston county last night. The sheriff said a coroner's jury summoned by Coroner Everett Nelson returned a verdict of murder and suicide. The sheriff said an inquiry indicated Mrs. Ferguson shot her brother and then herself, after notifying a neighbor. Testimony at the inquest showed, the sheriff said, that Miss Ferguson called on neighbor Orville House and told him her brother wanted to see House. She returned home ahead of House, the sheriff said. The testimony disclosed when House arrived, he said he found both bodies. Ferguson formerly was commonwealth's attorney and a resident at Murray State College. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Mamye Ferguson, superintending at Livingston county schools.

Religious? Box

Charles L. Houser "Q-Did the apostles write the 'Apostles' Creed?" A—No! "It is called the 'Apostles' Creed," yet it was not written by the apostles. . . (How We Got Our Denominations—Stuber, p. 52) All of the apostles died before the origin of this creed, and it was not put in formal written usage until about the 5th century.

"What does the expression 'I believe in . . . the holy catholic church' mean, as used in the 'Apostles' Creed?" A—Originally it appeared in the following form, "I believe in God the Father Almighty. And in Jesus Christ His only (begotten) Son our Lord, who was born of the Holy Ghost and the Virgin Mary; crucified under Pontius Pilate, and buried; the third day He rose from the dead; He ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of the Father, from thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead. And in the Holy Ghost; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; (the life everlasting)." (International Standard Bible Encyclopedia)

In about the 5th century, when the Catholic Church was coming into its own, certain additions were made, including the insertion of the word "catholic" and the expression "the communion of saints." Hence, while the word "catholic" does mean universal, since the authors of this creed were Catholics, they doubtless referred to the Catholic Church as a denomination. The people of that church have as much right to their belief as any of the rest of us do to ours, but it is a bit strange that some who claim to be protestants, would adopt a creed that was written by Catholics.

Beginning one week from today a new column will take the place of this one. The name of it will be "What We Believe," and it will appear only on Saturdays. This space paid for by Central of Christ, Fulton, Ky.

Hugh Fullerton, Jr. Remember when Gene Tunney insisted on Tom Heehey and no one else as his opponent for his final heavyweight title defense?—well, Eddie Walker, veteran fight manager, remembered the other day when he was talking about a summer opponent for Joe Louis—What Melio Bettina's manager ought to do is take a plane to California and persuade the Louis crowd to insist on Bettina," Eddie insisted. "It would be the same situation. They could build Bettina up; he's a south-paw; he's been winning since he got out of the army and, as an ex-GI he deserves the shot—of course, Louis will knock his head off, but he'll go that to anybody."—Maybe Sol Strauss, Mike Jacobs' stand-in, heard the suggestion. He immediately grabbed a plane for California to see the Louis crowd himself before anyone started making matches for him.

Steel Strike Is Possibility

CIO Union Strategists Meet At Pittsburgh For Wage Demand Talk Pittsburgh, April 19—(AP)—Top-ranking strategists of the CIO's 850,000-member United Steelworkers Union gathered here today for important weekend sessions expected to go a long way toward determining whether peace or strife will rule in the nation's steel industry. The union's powerful executive board meets today and tomorrow, with its decisions slated to come before the 175-man wage and policy committee Monday for approval. Prime subject will be contract negotiations now under way between the union and the U. S. Steel Corp., the country's No. 1 producer. Most speculation centers around a reported wage increase offer, amount unspecified, which the trade journal, Iron Age, said was made to the union by U. S. Steel, belittler of the industry. No confirmation of such an offer was obtainable from tight-lipped company and union officials. "The union has never disclosed its wage demands. Possible results of current union session could be: 1—a wage settlement; 2—a new contract extension, or 3—a strike call after April 30, expiration date of the present pact between the union and five major big steel subsidiaries. With negotiations between Big Steel and the steelworkers currently at a standstill, a 23-cent an hour wage boost demand was sent by the union to the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., fourth largest producer. No union official would say that figure was also presented to Big Steel but it appeared much more the liking of the union than a 15 cents an hour increase offered and accepted in other industries. The CIO-United Auto Workers have made a 23 cent wage boost demand on General Motors Corp. but the CIO-United Electrical Workers have settled for a 15-cent raise for 30,000 worker-members in the General Motors plants and for 75,000 members employed by the Westinghouse Electric Corp. The auto workers called "unsatisfactory" a 15-cent offer made by General Motors.

"He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls." ❖Proverbs 25:28 ❖

Any good pitcher will tell you that it isn't hard to make a baseball "do things." Curves and drops and knuckle balls can be mastered by almost anyone who wants to learn to pitch.

But CONTROL! There is the genius of great pitching. To be able to throw a ball exactly where you want it to go—that is an art. Control is the all important factor in living too. "Self-Control" we usually call it. Its mastery crowns life with nobility. By it men become strong, courageous, morally fit. Wherever it is exercised, life becomes richer in the qualities that make for lasting happiness.

The Church begins in childhood to teach "self-control." It implants in the mind of youth both a Way of Life and the Will to noble living. Then through our adult years, by revealing the truths of God and the Bible, the Church provides men with the spiritual foundation for an enriched life.

With your whole family, attend church regularly and support the Church. The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a store house of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are:

- (1) For his own sake.
- (2) For his children's sake.
- (3) For the sake of his community and nation.
- (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support.

Plan to go to church Sunday and read your Bible daily
