It weaves a spell of magic around the person who wears it.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Walker

The Michigan State distance runner who is about to run in the 10,000-meter run at the Olympic Games in Tokyo has a close relationship with the sport of track and field.

...the runner is from a family with a long history in track and field. His father was a successful athlete, and his mother was a dedicated volunteer who helped her son train. The runner has inherited his parents' passion for the sport and has worked hard to improve his skills.

...track and field is not just a sport, but a family tradition. The runner's siblings are also involved in the sport, and they train together to achieve their goals.

Steel Strike Is Possibility

CIO Union Strategies-End At Pittsburgh For Wage Demand Turn

Pittsburgh, April 19—The CIO's major union strategy for winning concessions for its members in the steel industry is about to end at Pittsburgh for the first time in the city's history. The CIO has been trying to negotiate a new contract for the steel workers for several weeks, but so far the negotiations have been stalled. The union has threatened to strike if a new contract cannot be reached.

The steel workers have been fighting for better wages and working conditions for years. The CIO has been their main advocate, and they have relied on the union to negotiate with the companies.

The steel industry is a major employer in Pittsburgh, and a strike could have serious implications for the city's economy. The union is determined to get a good deal for its members, and they are not willing to compromise their demands.

President Johnson has been trying to mediate the situation, but so far his efforts have been unsuccessful. The union is now planning to take the strike to the streets, and they are hoping that it will force the companies to negotiate.

The steel workers' demands include higher wages, better benefits, and an end to unfair labor practices. They are also calling for an end to the practice of outsourcing work to other countries.

The union is now preparing for a long and difficult battle. They are confident that they will win, but they are also aware of the challenges they face. The companies are determined to keep their prices low, and they are not willing to give in to the union's demands.

The steel workers are determined to fight for their rights, and they are not afraid of the challenge ahead. They are ready to strike, and they are willing to do whatever it takes to get a good deal for their members.

The steel workers' strike is a major event in the city's history, and it will be watched closely by the nation and the world. The outcome of the strike will have implications for the entire steel industry, and it will be a test of the strength of the CIO and its membership.

The union is confident that it can achieve its goals, and it is ready to do whatever it takes to get a good deal for its members. The steel workers are determined to fight, and they are not afraid of the challenge ahead. They are confident that they will win, and they are ready to do whatever it takes to get a good deal for their members.
"He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls." •Proverbs 25:28 •

Any good pitcher will tell you that it isn't hard to make a baseball "do things." Curves and drops and knuckle balls can be mastered by almost anyone who wants to learn to pitch.

But CONTROL! There is the genius of great pitching. To be able to throw a ball exactly where you want it to go—that is an art. Control is the all important factor in living too. "Self-Control" we usually call it. Its mastery crowns life with nobility. By it men become strong, courageous, morally fit. Wherever it is exercised, life becomes richer in the qualities that make for lasting happiness.

The Church begins in childhood to teach "self-control." It implants in the mind of youth both a Way of Life and the Will to noble living. Then through our adult years, by revealing the truths of God and the Bible, the Church provides men with the spiritual foundation for an enriched life.

With your whole family, attend church regularly and support the Church. The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a store house of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are:

(1) For his own sake.
(2) For his children's sake.
(3) For the sake of his community and nation.
(4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support.

Plan to go to church Sunday and read your Bible daily
