All Volunteers Given a Chance.

[SPECIAL TO NEW ERA]
Washington, April 28.—The War Department has fully defined its policy with reference to the manner in which the volunteer army will be raised. There has been a misapprehension. It has been understood that the Government would be asked to furnish their quotas and turn them over to the Government. This is not the manner in which the volunteer army is to be recruited. The department will raise the volunteer army itself much after the manner in which the regular army is raised. They will notify the Governors that recruiting officers will be sent in the States and will establish recruiting offices and ask for volunteers to join the United States volunteer army. The Governors will be informed of the number that will be drawn from their respective States. When the recruiting stations have been opened any one may enlist, whether he belongs to an organized militia or not. The department, however, will give preference to the National Guardmen because of their training. If men outside of the guards are found to be better qualified than the men in the guard they will be enlisted. After the number apportioned to a State has been recruited, the Government will be asked to appoint the regimental officers.

THE RUMOR IS UNTRUE.

Henry Will Continue as Lieut.-Colonel.

MANY ENLISTMENTS.

The Latham Light Guards Have Thirteen More Men Than Needed.

SOME SNAP SHOTS AT OUR SOLDIER BOYS.

The report that Col. Jonette Henry will not continue as Lieutenant-Colonel of the Third Kentucky Regiment is not true. The Louisville papers Tuesday stated that Lieut. George Saffarans, of the Sixth Infantry, U. S. A., would be appointed to this position. Col. Henry telegraphed to Col. T. J. Smith, Colonel Commanding Third Regiment, as follows: "Morning papers say Saffarans is to be Lieut. Col. of the Third. Am I superfluous? Answer." At noon Col. Henry received the following reply from Bowling Green: "No, Saffarans is to be Major." This means that Col. Henry will retain the position he is so admirably fitted to fill, and that Lieut. Saffarans will be made Major of one of the battalions.

More Than Needed.
Since the Latham Light Guards began recruiting, there have been about sixty enlistments. There are now one hundred and sixteen members of the company, thirteen more than needed.

Lieut. Bassett's Nephew.
Mr. James Dent, of Litchfield, Ky., has enlisted as a member of the Latham Light Guards. He is a nephew of Lieut. E. B. Bassett.

Raising a Company.
Among those who are raising companies to be attached to Col. David R. Murray's regiment is John McAdams, a bright Hawesville lawyer, who has been groomed for the Congressional race in this, the Second district. McAdams has been a life-long political opponent of Murray, but is with him in war.

The Third Regiment.
The Third Regiment has been ordered filled from companies at Henderson, Paducah, Morgantown, Lexington and Vancubur.

The regiment has companies at Bowling Green, Bardonia, Hopkinsville, Madisonville, Glasgow, Hartford and Owensboro.

Lander's Company.
Robert Lander, the colored lawyer of this city, is enrolling a company of negro volunteers and has asked the Governor for a Captain's commission. He already has seventy-three names on his list.

Bondfree at Crofton.
When the Tenth Cavalry passed through Crofton Sunday on their way to Chickamauga Park, there were 400 people on the passenger platform, and they three United States flags and bouquets at the troops as they passed. Bondfree were kindled and kept burning until all the trains had passed.

The Old Gentleman's Offer.
Mr. W. G. McGehee, father of the McGehee brothers, who are in business here, is 69 years old, and lives at Gracery, Ky. His age, however, has not dampened his order for war, or dented his patriotism. He telephoned his son, Mr. J. W. McGehee, this morning not to go to the war, that the business could not spare him; that he the father would go in his place if it became necessary.—Clarksville Times.

In a street fight at Guthrie Wed. Henry Bigbee fired one shot at J. M. Abshire but without effect. The trouble is thought to be the outgrowth of an old grudge which Bigbee entertained against Abshire.

After the shot had been fired Abshire knocked Bigbee down and took the pistol from him. Bigbee was put under $500 bond by Judge Hammond. Abshire is a saloonist while Bigbee is a farmer. Both are substantial business men and the unfortunate affair is much regretted.
