Traditional Parade Held On May Day Celebration; Many Other Nations Join

London, May 1.—(AP)—Russia's minister of the armed forces, Nikolai Bulganin, called on the Soviet army, navy and air force today to maintain "their fighting preparedness" in an order of the day issued as millions celebrated May Day—Europe's Labor Day.

Many nations, which have joined with the Russians in observing the day, holding mass rallies and parades in capitals and other cities to coincide with a show of Soviet military strength through Moscow's Red Square.

It was a legal holiday for the first time in Belgium and Norway. Workers in France also got the day off and in Russia a three-day holiday was proclaimed as Moscow set off the biggest May Day celebration there since the war.

The Russian order of the day, broadcast by the Moscow radio, directed that the "international holiday of the working people" be observed by the firing of a salute of 20 artillery salvos in Moscow and a score of other cities.

It said that Russia's foreign policy and efforts toward a lasting, democratic peace are "meeting with the approval and support of the progressive forces of the entire world."

More Streams, Lakes Open to Fishermen In 1947 Than At Any Time Since Game, Fish Law Passed

Frankfort, Ky.—Fewer streams and other public waters will be closed this year to May fishing than at any time since Game and Fish Laws were enacted to control angling during the Spring spawning season. Qualifying this statement, Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish, pointed out that the closed season, extending from May 1 to May 29, affects primarily non-navigable streams of the State.

The current Game and Fish Laws prohibit fishing above the last lock and dam upstream of navigable streams, and in all non-navigable streams. All private waters are open, but anglers must have licenses to fish at any time in any stream, lake, pond or other waters.

Wallace made the following observations concerning fishing during May:

Kentucky, Herrington, Dale Hollow and Carpenter Lakes are open, as are the lakes in three State parks—Pennyville in Christian county, Audubon Memorial near Henderson, and Butler Memorial near Carrollton.

Due to numerous inquiries concerning Herrington, it was explained that fishing is permissible in all of the lake proper and in Dix River up to the Danville-Lancaster Bridge. However, fishing is prohibited in Dix River below Dix Dam.

The Mississippi River is open to fishing to the thread, or middle, of the stream where it bounds the state; the Ohio is open the full length of the state and to the opposite bank; the Tennessee is open inasmuch as it flows within Kentucky.

The Green, Cumberland, Barren, Kentucky and Big Sandy Rivers are open—but not above the last lock and dam upstream. Tug Fork and Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy are open up to the one lock and dam that is located in each stream. Kentucky law, however, governs fishing only to the middle of the Big Sandy and the Tug Fork which act as State boundaries.

Commercial fishing, with appropriate license, is also permissible within the bounds of the rivers as described above. Kentucky Lake, which is under lock and dam as well as being an impoundment, is the only lake in the State open to commercial fishing.

Short Will Seek Agriculture Post

Owensboro Man Killed By Train in Sioux Falls

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 1.—(AP)—Papers found on a man killed by a train here yesterday indicated he was Nobles Sigler, Owensboro, Ky.

A tree fell across a power line in Rives, causing electric power to be off for some time this morning. Most TVA power lines in Obion county were out of order temporarily, and telephone service was interrupted in Obion and Weakley counties.

Homer Catron's residence south of Union City was struck by an uprooted tree.

At Kenton, a cotton platform at the Wade Gin Co. was blown down. Wind buckled the walls of a new concrete block building erected by International Harvester Co. south of Rutherford. The roof was torn off the Peel building, a three-story structure, in Rutherford. It recently had been remodeled.

Only minor damage was done in Union City. It was reported here shortly after the storm struck.

Between 20 and 30 persons were reported made homeless in and near Paris, Tenn., when the storm demolished several residences. At Clarksville, 60 miles northeast of Paris, a heavy windstorm with accompanying rain uprooted a tobacco warehouse and an apartment building was damaged by a falling tree. No injuries were reported immediately in this area.

Survivors of the tornado which whipped through Worth, Missouri, search among the wreckage an hour after the storm.

Eight Miners Killed In Blast At Coal Pit Near Terre Haute

Terre Haute, Ind., May 1.—(AP)—Eight of 11 men working in the Spring Hill coal mine near here were killed by an explosion yesterday.

Bodies of the dead, all brought to the surface during the night, were identified as Calvin Wilson, about 70, pit foreman, Steve Summers, about 55, Mort Gates, about 55, all of West Terre Haute, John Brown, 55, Fern Bahart, about 50, Barry Riggs, 67, Desire Lete, 58, all of Terre Haute, and Chauncey Blackburn, about 50, of Liggett, Ind.

Dr. C. L. Puckett, mine physician, said none of the bodies showed any signs of burns but that one of the men's head was crushed.

Rescue squads said the bodies, found about 15 feet apart, indicated the men were walking toward the shaft when the explosion occurred.

Work of bringing the bodies out of the mine had been delayed, rescuers said, by a smoke pocket which spread over the blast area. They said it was necessary to carry each body through circuitous, low, narrow passages more than a half mile to the mine shaft.

Ross Wilson, son of the pit foreman, helped carry the bodies out.

Three men who escaped unhurt from the shaft said they were knocked to the mine floor by a dynamite blast which the miners 1,000 feet back in the tunnel were setting off just 12 minutes before quitting time yesterday.

Wesley Harris, a veteran mine superintendent and mining instructor at Indiana State Teachers College here, said there apparently was no fire, and mining authorities surmised that the dynamite blast had touched off a dust explosion.

Crowds awaited the appearance of bodies at the pit in the warm, moonlight night. The soft crying of women broke the quiet as each body was brought to the surface.

A rescue worker, Lucian Bussard, of Terre Haute, was brought to the surface himself, overcome by fumes in the dust-clouded mine. He was revived by artificial respiration.

Storms Claim 25, Throughout U. S. Many Homeless

By The Associated Press
At least 25 persons were dead today in the wake of tornadoes and violent storms which struck the nation in many areas during the past three days.

Red Cross and other relief agencies moved into Fairmont, N. C., setting up temporary shelters for more than 50 families left homeless by a tornado which killed one and injured at least three others yesterday.

The twister cut a swath of about 31 miles between Dillon and Fairmont in eastern North Carolina while farmers were engaged in spring tobacco planting.

Heavy windstorms also struck areas of Arkansas, Missouri, Texas and Iowa yesterday and Tuesday. At least 13 persons were killed and 45 injured in Missouri and Iowa Tuesday by tornadoes.

In Arkansas, nine were dead and an estimated 25 injured after a storm Tuesday.

Third Story Of Baldrige Building Nearly Torn Off By High Winds; Other Damage In Business District

MANY TREES, SMALL BUILDINGS BLOWN DOWN

A severe windstorm ripped through Fulton shortly before 6 o'clock this morning leaving property damage running into thousands of dollars—just how many could not be estimated accurately today by property owners.

Hardest hit by the violent storm was the A. G. Baldrige three-story brick building on Lake street which houses Baldrige's Variety Store. The wind tore off most of the rear section of the third story, and water which had collected on the roof during the accompanying heavy rain poured into the gaping hole.

The third story was used as a storeroom. Stock throughout the building was damaged by water, wind, and falling bricks.

The top of an automobile owned by F. L. Criss, proprietor of Criss Photo Studio, was caved in by falling bricks from the Baldrige building. Debris littered the ground for several yards around the store, and police roped off the adjacent sidewalk and streets to avoid possible injuries to pedestrians by other falling brick.

Mr. Baldrige said he carried $25,000 insurance on the building.

CIO And AFL Again Discuss Joining Forces

By The Associated Press
The CIO and AFL began talking about joining forces in one powerful organization today as Republican leaders in Congress claimed that legislation to restrict union activities now is a clinch to pass the Senate.

A committee of 10 members, appointed by President William Green of the CIO, and Philip Murray of the AFL, indicated, however, that they were entering the merger discussions in Washington with little prospect of an immediate consolidation of their 13,500,000 members.

Murray initiated the move for the talks last December but later said he believed the two groups should first fight off their common foes.

Failure of the Senate yesterday to send the labor bill with its four "toughening" amendments back to committee was described by Senator Wherry (Nebr.), Republican whip, as assuring final passage of the measure.

In other labor developments, negotiations on a new contract for the 400,000 United Mine Workers came to a standstill today while John L. Lewis, union chief, sought the views of the Southern Mine Owners Association on the question of an industry-wide agreement.

The Southern Association had been reported as preferring to deal with the UMW independently of other management groups.

With the government forced to turn the mines back to their owners on June 30 because of the expiration of the law under which it now operates them, Navy Capt. N. H. Collinson, federal coal mines administrator, has urged speed in working out the new pact.

By The Associated Press
The CIO and AFL began talking about joining forces in one powerful organization today as Republican leaders in Congress claimed that legislation to restrict union activities now is a clinch to pass the Senate.

A committee of 10 members, appointed by President William Green of the CIO, and Philip Murray of the AFL, indicated, however, that they were entering the merger discussions in Washington with little prospect of an immediate consolidation of their 13,500,000 members.

Murray initiated the move for the talks last December but later said he believed the two groups should first fight off their common foes.

Failure of the Senate yesterday to send the labor bill with its four "toughening" amendments back to committee was described by Senator Wherry (Nebr.), Republican whip, as assuring final passage of the measure.

In other labor developments, negotiations on a new contract for the 400,000 United Mine Workers came to a standstill today while John L. Lewis, union chief, sought the views of the Southern Mine Owners Association on the question of an industry-wide agreement.

The Southern Association had been reported as preferring to deal with the UMW independently of other management groups.

With the government forced to turn the mines back to their owners on June 30 because of the expiration of the law under which it now operates them, Navy Capt. N. H. Collinson, federal coal mines administrator, has urged speed in working out the new pact.

Miss Sugg Dies In St. Louis

Had Been In Hospital Three Several Weeks; Will Be Buried Here

Alla Mae Sugg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sugg, Sr., passed away April 30 at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, Mo., where she had been a patient for several weeks.

Miss Sugg was very energetic, devoting her life to the service of others. She was graduated from Cayce high school and later attended Western Kentucky Teachers College at Bowling Green, after which she taught school for several years in Fulton county. In order that she might be better prepared to serve others, she attended Washington University, St. Louis, being graduated from that institution in 1931. She continued her work in St. Louis until 1937, when she went to Denver, Col. In 1942 she returned to St. Louis, where she has been employed as school nurse for St. Louis county.

Miss Sugg is survived by her parents; her twin sister, Mrs. Roper Fields, and one brother, J. C., both of Fulton; two nieces, two nephews, other relatives and many friends.

Brief funeral services will be held Friday at 11 a. m. in St. Louis at Grace's Methodist church, of which she was a member. The body will arrive in Fulton Friday night, and will remain at the Horneback Funeral home until the funeral, which will be announced later.

Damage Heavy Windstorm That Struck At About 6 A. M.; Gale Hits Other Nearby Towns

Third Story Of Baldrige Building Nearly Torn Off By High Winds; Other Damage In Business District

MANY TREES, SMALL BUILDINGS BLOWN DOWN

A severe windstorm ripped through Fulton shortly before 6 o'clock this morning leaving property damage running into thousands of dollars—just how many could not be estimated accurately today by property owners.

Hardest hit by the violent storm was the A. G. Baldrige three-story brick building on Lake street which houses Baldrige's Variety Store. The wind tore off most of the rear section of the third story, and water which had collected on the roof during the accompanying heavy rain poured into the gaping hole.

The third story was used as a storeroom. Stock throughout the building was damaged by water, wind, and falling bricks.

The top of an automobile owned by F. L. Criss, proprietor of Criss Photo Studio, was caved in by falling bricks from the Baldrige building. Debris littered the ground for several yards around the store, and police roped off the adjacent sidewalk and streets to avoid possible injuries to pedestrians by other falling brick.

Mr. Baldrige said he carried $25,000 insurance on the building.

What The Consumer Wants

The National Retail Dry Goods Association recently made a survey of customer desires throughout the nation. Among other things, it found that the public believes that prices should be lower and quality should be higher.

There is nothing in which we earn 1947 incomes and buy at the 1935 price level. That idea, of course, is beyond realization. But both manufacturers and retailers are working harder than most of us realize to do something constructive about the price-quality problem.

This problem has two main phases. First, there is that of profits. The "boom and bust" operators whose idea is to squeeze out every possible nickel while the going is good are rapidly disappearing, due to consumer resistance on the one hand and to constantly increasing competition by reputable concerns on the other. This is especially true in all retail fields now that stocks are building up and most scarcities are ending.

Second, there is worker productivity, which determines the ratio of labor cost to the final cost of any article. Practically all producers say that it is far lower than it was before the war—and even lower than in wartime when speed took precedence over economy and efficiency. Too many workers, in short, just want more money for less production. Thus, it is largely up to the worker, who is also a consumer, to increase output and so help make lower prices possible.

The organized drive by retailers to bring prices down is an encouraging sign. Success will depend upon full, intelligent cooperation between business, labor, and the consumer.

Meeting Fire's Threats

The President's Conference on Fire Prevention, which will meet May 8-9 in Washington, D. C., has a series of specific objectives:

It will study building construction, operation and protection, with a view to finding means of eliminating present dangers.

It will consider the wide field of fire prevention education, with particular emphasis on instructional aides for schools and colleges.

It will analyze the adequacy of fire-fighting facilities and personnel, and make recommendations for needed improvement.

It will explore the broad question of laws and law enforcement as they relate to fire prevention and fire safety.

It will recommend a plan for obtaining organized, aggressive public support of fire prevention activity in all its phases.

It will establish a program for continuous research with respect to fire, which will provide information on which laws and regulations can be based.

The Conference will mark the start of the most intensive drive against the fire menace ever undertaken. President Truman called it to meet a grave and immediate emergency. And it can do its job only if it receives the widest possible public support.

May Save Untouchables

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the world's most terrible wrongs will in some small measure be righted in the projected constitution for an independent India abolishes the doctrine of untouchability as has been voted by the constituent assembly.

The Untouchables are the lowly folk who are outside the four classes of the Hindu caste system and have been condemned to live as outcasts. They are called Untouchables because their very presence is supposed to defile their superiors, and their plight is little better than that of those other pariahs—the wild Indian dogs who by day skulk outside the villages and by night run howling through the alleys in search of food with which to fill their gaunt bellies. Indeed the dog is the more fortunate, for he escape the mental suffering of these human outcasts.

There are some 60,000,000 Untouchables—about one fifth the entire Hindu population—whose only sin is that they were born outside the pale. God made them in the form of other men, but the caste system for hundreds of years has challenged the wisdom of the Almighty.

The Untouchable cannot live within that part of a village inhabited by caste Hindus. He dwells just outside the village in a little community of his kind, who represent perhaps 10 percent of the village's population. These outcasts have no economic independence and no rights. They can't own land and are dependent on the caste village for their very existence.

Because their touch defiles, the Untouchables must eke out their precarious existence by emptying night-soil and performing similar lowly tasks for their masters. The code of untouchability even says that they must wear filthy clothing. They may not use water from the village well, because they would defile the well, and so they must get drink elsewhere. Thus runs the horrible story.

Not being restrained by this law of untouchability, your correspondent has risked his standing in society by visiting the settlements of outcasts attached to some of India's 700,000 villages. Yes, there are that many, unbelievable though it seem.

I found the Untouchables a friendly, kindly folk who were filled with wonder at my descent to the depths. Still, in their humble way they were as pleased as terrier puppies at being noticed by the "Master class."

Of course they were wholly ignorant, but their mentality was every bit as high as that to be found in the village proper, and the poor mud huts which they called home were as well kept as were the abodes of the mighty. Mahatma Gandhi, who has done much to alleviate the plight of the Untouchables, has named them "harijans" which means "elect of God."

Strangely enough one of India's noted men is an Untouchable. He is Dr. Bimbedkar, who has spent his life championing the cause of his people. His father was a soldier in the Indian army at a time when Untouchables were allowed to serve in the force, and so the son got a start on education. Then that princely humanitarian, the late Gokhwar of Baroda, sent the youth to Columbia University in New York where Ambedkar won a doctorate.

DDT will control ticks on inquiries this spring.

The wettable 50 percent pow-kill all ticks, it is stated.

It is recommended that a from side to side along the back and around the ears.

Use Care In Buying Cotton

UK Professor Advises Housewives That Goods Should Be Examined

To get the most satisfaction from cotton materials which are now more plentiful, housewives need to use care in buying, said Miss Verna Latzke, professor of home economics at the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Pointing out that cotton fabrics are not as generally reliable as before the war, Miss Latzke advised that a higher price be paid if necessary, in order to get a guarantee of color-fastness to laundering and to sunlight.

When cotton yard goods fall to carry a label as to shrinkage, they should be shrunken before being made up, the fashion expert stated. This may be done by laying the folded material, with wrong side out and the selvages even, in the bath tub or in a pan of water. When thoroughly saturated, press out the water, but avoid wringing.
Hang folded until almost dry, then press with a medium hot iron. Done in this way, the right side of the material will have a desirable dull finish, according to Miss Latzke.

Treat cottons with respect on wash-day, if you want them to stay pretty and give long satisfaction, said the home economist. Wash them carefully, rinse thoroughly and hang by the shoulders to dry in the shade. Ironing on the wrong side, with only slight pressing done from the right, will give the original new look, she said.

Madison County Farmer Profits From Alfalfa

That it pays to seed alfalfa on good land properly prepared is seen in the case of John M. and S. S. Park of Madison county, says Farm Agent J. L. Miller.
Mr. Park, who has a 14-year-old alfalfa which is still in good production, top-dresses the field with commercial fertilizer every four or five years.

CIO AND AFL PLAN MERGER (Continued from Page One)

While the basic steel industry generally has agreed to a renewal of contracts with wage increases of 15 cents an hour, 14,000 CIO United Steelworkers went on strike at midnight today against the Inland Steel Company, seventh largest steel producer in the nation. The company operates plants in Chicago Heights, Ill., and Indiana Harbor, Ind.

Cecil Clifton, the union's international representative, said the strike, the first major one in the industry this year, probably would be settled by Saturday. Negotiations on hours, working conditions and seniority were continuing. Agreement had been reached on the 15-cent-an-hour wage increase and "union responsibility," Clifton said.

Leaders of the National Federation of Telephone Workers' 25-day-old strike dispatched emissaries to New York today in an effort to head off the return to work there of members of four independent unions who settled their strike yesterday.
A government conciliator in Washington said a break in the national tieup might come at a late afternoon conference between the American Union of Telephone Workers and officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph long lines division.

1,000 Daffodils Put On Exhibit

Approximately 1,000 daffodils were on display at the three-day eighth annual daffodil show of the Shelby County Homemakers club held at the home of Mrs. Ben Allen Thomas, county landscape chairman. In addition, visitors were permitted to view more than 100 varieties growing in the Thomas garden.
Sweepstakes winner, Mrs. J.
M. Trumbo, Clarks Station
Homemakers club, was presented a silver trophy by Mrs.
Thomas for growing "Mrs. E. H.
Kreigle," judged the finest of 16 first prize winners. Mrs. D. R.
Gray, Olive Branch club, was awarded a special premium for having the most prizes. Although all 16 clubs exhibiting shared in the honors, Olive Branch led with seven first prizes, four seconds and five third prizes.

Saves Many Steps In Farm Kitchen

With the assistance of her husband and son, Mrs. M. L. Harford, president of the Onton Homemakers club in Webster county put into effect a half-dozen or more of the kitchen step-saving suggestions given by Miss Ida C. Hagman, home management expert at UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

A section of wall space was protected with asbestos, and the stove moved back to make more room; then furnishings and equipment were arranged to make a center for the preparation of food, another for dish washing, and still another for serving of meals. Finally a closet was carefully planned and built to take care of cleaning equipment and outdoor wraps.

Four Killed In PRR Wreck

34 Others Injured When Flyer Hits Steel Rods On Moving Freight Car

Huntingdon, Pa., May 1—(AP)— Four persons were killed today in a train wreck involving two freights and a crack Pennsylvania Railroad flyer. Thirty-four were injured, eight seriously.

A Pennsylvania Railroad spokesman said that the New York-St. Louis flyer, the American, jolted into rods of sheet steel protruding from the side of two gondola cars of a moving freight train at 12:47 a. m.

(central standard time).

The impact ripped a tremendous hole in the side of the fourth car of the American and damaged the engine, mail car and another coach. No cars were derailed, however.

A moment later another freight—this one moving east—ripped into the sheet steel protruding from the other side of the westbound freight and its engine and tender were derailed.
Ten of the injured were rushed to Huntingdon hospital, four miles west, and 24 were sent to Altoona hospital, 30 miles east.
All four main tracks of the PRR were tied up in the crash.

The third fatal collision on the PRR's Middle Pennsylvania Division in three months. However, by 5 a. m. (EST) one of the tracks—the eastbound passenger route—was opened for service.

Covington, Ky., May 1—(AP)— Court action was brought here yesterday against C. W. Mills, traffic manager of the Citizens Telephone Company of Covington, in a warrant with permitting seven switchboard operators to work more than 10 hours a day, in violation of state law.

The warrant was obtained by Frank Wahlbrink, a field agent for the state Industrial Relations Division. Mills appeared in circuit court and Judge William E. Wehrman granted a continuance to May 14.
(A spokesman at the Industrial Relations Department said at Frankfort last night that all state wage-hour inspectors have been ordered to investigate to determine if supervisory women employees of telephone firms are working more than 10 hours a day during the strike of telephone union workers).

FULGHAM NEWS

By Docie Jones

"Tonight we launch—Where shall we anchor?" Prior to May 1, our seniors, 18 in number, have been setting the stage for their own activities, but now, with a diploma in hand, they enter a stage already set and it's up to them to seek the role in which they can find a safe and successful anchorage. The night of May 1, Fred Shultz, noted educator of Murray, will attempt to show them the best route for that destination.

A big crowd was out last night to hear Rev. A. B. Rogers in a fine message for the seniors. Musical numbers enjoyed were "Invocation, A Prayer in Song," by Mrs. Ray Phibes, a senior quartet, composed of Joe Mac Davis, Robert Burkett, Joe House and Forrest McAllister, and a trio, Misses Jervene Wilson, Sammie Jean Wilson and Martha Marie Gatewood, accompanied by Marylene Brown and Mrs. Russell Bookman. The senior play, "Look Me In The Eye," drew a $78 crowd Friday night.

Last rites for Mrs. Mattie Davis ($4), were conducted here at Bethel Sunday afternoon with Rev. H. M. Sutherland officiating and the Gospelaires Quartet were heard in song. Mrs. Davis died in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Callie Barnes.

Many visitors were here for the community singing Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gossum were complimented with a household shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark, Thursday night.

Two more of our high school students, Frances Martin, a freshman, and Martha Jane Duke, a sophomore, are in the Fulton Hospital following appendectomies. Condition satisfactory.

Guy Leath is ill with pneumonia and his father-in-law, Sid House, has been quite sick, nearing pneumonia.

The condition of George Allison is quite serious.

W. B. Burkett, merchant, is back on the job today after a six-week (sick) vacation.

The McKernans, Frank and Easie, and their son, Laurence, sold their home in Detroit and purchased a farm at Reidland near Paducah. Recently they had a reunion of her relatives from Hickman, Marshall, and McCracken counties.

Rev. and Mrs. George Archer and daughter of Melber and Mrs. Trudie Derrington and children of Mayfield enjoyed a fish supper here Thursday with Leonard Archer and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Vaden and Ouida and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Green and Patsy of Fulton were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hopkins and family.

In the afternoon all visited Miss Patti Mae Vaden, who is convalescing in the Crate Vaden home.

Howie Pollet, Hal Newhouser Have Disappointed Fans So Far

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of the enigmas of the young baseball campaign has been the poor pitching form displayed by Hal Newhouser and Howie Pollet, the premier southpaws of the major leagues.

Newhouser, Detroit ace, who generally rated as the best left-hander in the American league since Bob Grove, has lost his last three starts.

Pollet, the stylish St. Louis Cardinals twirler, who led all National League pitchers in games won and earned runs last year, in each of his three starts this season, has been belted out of the box.

Yesterday was the third straight time that Newhouser failed to go the route as the Boston Red Sox finished him off in the ninth inning to whip the Tigers 7-1. Mel Parrell, rookie southpaw, ended the Red Sox four-game losing streak by holding the Bengals to four hits in registering his initial major league victory.

The skidding Cards took their seventh successive defeat, a 4-3-loss, to the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds. The situation is so serious in St. Louis that President Sam Brezdon announced he was flying to New York to see for himself just what is wrong with the world champion.

The Cards led until two out in the ninth yesterday, mainly because of home runs by Al (Reno) Schoendienst and Stan Musial. The eighth-place Redbirds are now six full games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Chicago Cubs, behind the four-hit pitching of rookie Doyle Lade, snapped the Dodgers' six-game winning streak 3-1. The defeat was Brooklyn's first in nine starts at Ebbets Field.

The Pirates had three big innings, a four run fifth and the ninth, and with injuries to swamp the Phils in Philadelphia 11-4.

The Braves, behind Johnny Sain, topped the Cincinnati Reds in Boston 10-3. Sain fanned 10 batters and was helped by Bob Elliott, who got three hits, and Earl Torgeson, who powered a homer and triple.

The New York Yankees' western invasion resulted in reverse

Hermanski Out At Second

as the Browns licked them 15-5 in St. Louis.

The Chicago White Sox climbed into first place in the American League by defeating the Washington Senators 5-2 at Comiskey Park. Bob Kennedy helped Johnny Rigney rack up his second win by punching out two doubles and driving in three runs.

The Philadelphia Athletics and Indians in Cleveland were rained out.

Sports Roundup

Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Louisville, Ky., May 1.—(AP)—Derbytown doing some folks call this Derbytown during its annual week of spring madness, but derby is a synonym—You can hear almost anything you want in Louisville this week, from bitter beefs on the treatment you get from the hotels for your $25 a day to tips on Notre Dame as the outstanding football team next fall, but to a guy who has just hit the most interesting item in the way horsemen and turf writers are talking about Star Reward—a colt who never had run more than six furlongs before he popped up with a slightly better than fair performance in the Derby trif—him took a beating—and all at once they're talking about him as a serious contender—maybe that word Dixiana means something in Kentucky even though the place is owned by a gentleman from Detroit. That's in the North, Son.

TOTAL LOSS

Without mentioning names, a horse that is slightly notorious as a sulker won a race at Churchill Downs yesterday—as he crossed the finish line a scribe remarked: "His jockey says if he could only bet that horse at the sixteenth pole, he'd be the greatest gambling horse in the world. But he never knows until the nag has gone a way whether its his day to be on or off."

Eddie Arcaro, shooting for his fourth Derby win, figures Saturday's race will be a four-horse tussle. So does nearly everyone else. They just can't agree on which four horses—after Double Jay's performance in the trial it was suggested that the two restauranters who own the nag should slice him up a little more and serve him as fillet mignon instead of as mutual fodder—Nobody was greatly impressed by On Trust's workout yesterday except Californians, including trainer Willie Mottler, who kept pointing out that he worked poorly just before winning that $61,750 Santa Anita Derby jackpot—just to show how Kentuckians feel about it, they call the favorite, Phalanx, "your Eastern horse."

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS

Eddie Dyer, the Cards' manager, contends that the Dodgers still are the team to beat in the National League—although the Cards still are looking for the team they can beat.

The Sports Mirror

By The Associated Press
Today a year ago—Red Ruffing won his 26th game at Yankee Stadium, defeating Cleveland 6-3 at New York.

Three years ago—Jimmy Wilson resigned as manager of Chicago Cubs after club lost nine straight.

Five years ago—Cornelius Warmerdam of University of California boosted his outdoor pole vault record to 15' 6 7/8".

Ten years ago—Dolly Stark, 1936 umpire holdout, signed with National League.

Introducing The Chicks

Rare indeed in the man of whom it can be said "He needs no introduction," but this description fits Hal Seawright, Chick left fielder, very well.

Hal, a native of Ca ro, Ill., was in the Chick outfield last year and was the leading Fulton hitter. He is 5 ft. 8 1/2 in. tall, and currently weighs 180 pounds.

He and Miss Betty Ruth Carney were married recently, and make their home at 707 Vine street.

Hal also makes the prediction that the 1947 Chicks will be better than last year's team.

Parade Set Opening Day

Begins At Methodist Church, Then To Park; Short Program Planned

Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Scouts and the Fulton high school band will lead a parade from the First Methodist church to Fairfield Park on the opening day of the Kitty League season, May 6, when the Chicks play Union City's Greyhounds.

A Young Men's Business Club committee, headed by Billy Blackstone, is in charge of the opening day program. The three Boy Scout troops to be represented are 40, 43 and 44.

At the ball park, Fulton's Mayor T. T. Boas will pitch the first ball, Mayor J. H. Lowe of South Fulton will take a swing at it, and Union City's mayor will be behind the plate.

Mr. Blackstone then will introduce the Union City manager and Johnny Gill, Fulton manager, and the season will be opened officially.

The Chick-Mayfield exhibition game scheduled here yesterday afternoon was called off due to wet grounds after the players had dressed and were waiting on the field, and several spectators had seated themselves in the stands. The two games with Catro this weekend may be canceled for the same reason.

Negro School Man Quits, Protesting Non-Cooperation

Paducah, Ky., May 1.—(AP)—H. C. Russell, president of the West Kentucky Vocational Training School for negroes here since 1945, announced today that he had tendered his resignation to the state Board of Education, to take effect June 30.

My resignation stated that I have not been able to carry the school forward to the full satisfaction of my constituents," Russell said. "The school has grown from a body of 33 students when I took charge to an enrollment of 301 students; the average annual state income has risen from $40,000 to a total four-year income of $339,000; dilapidated buildings have been repaired, one building added, and there are now on hand approximately $120,000 of legislative funds for buildings.

"In saving and rehabilitating the school," he continued, "I had good official support. Then, turning my efforts to the internal development of the school, including the erection of much-needed shops and buildings, I found myself completely thwarted by lack of cooperation by the state supervisor of trade and industrial education, even though the state Board of Education had approved my recommendations."

National Guard To Be At Downs To Police Crowd

Frankfort, Ky., May 1.—(AP)—Kentucky's National Guard, now numbering approximately 1,400 officers and men, has been assigned to Louisville Saturday to help police the Derby crowd at Churchill Downs.

State Adj. Gen. G. H. May announced today the force will be under command of Col. Arthur C. Bonneycastle of Louisville, commanding officer of the Guard's 140th Infantry.

During World War II while the Guard was in federal service, the state active militia, now disbanded, carried out the annual Derby Day duties.

U. K. Nine Plays Murray Breds At Murray Friday

Murray, Ky.—The University of Kentucky Wildcats baseball team will play the Murray State Thoroughbreds of Coach Carlisle Cutchin here Friday afternoon at 3 p. m. on the Murray high diamond. This will mark the first appearance of a Kentucky team at Murray. Last year the Breds defeated the Wildcats 9-8 in a wild and woolly contest.

West Kentucky sports enthusiasts will have the opportunity to see such well known sports personalities as Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones, former Harlem basketball star who is now starring in three sports at Kentucky, Phil Cutchin, captain of the 1946 Wilcat grid team and son of the Murray coach; Cliff Barker, a promising young basketball player who saw plenty of action with the Cats during the past season, Ralph Beard, All-American cage guard for the Ruppmen; Kenny Rollins, captain of the 1947 basketball team, and Bill Chambers, a fullback on last year's grid team.

Three hats and two purses were also made.

Wall Street Report

New York, May 1.—(AP)—The direction remained upward in today's stock market with leaders generally adding fractions to a point or so.

Debtings tapered after an active opening and top gains were reduced in the majority of cases near midday. There was a smattering of minus signs.

Bidding still was largely of a professional nature and based on the idea that the list was due for further technical recovery following three successive losing months.

Ahead most of the time were Bethlehem, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Deere, Caterpillar Tractor, Western Union "A", Kennecott, Westinghouse, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Superior Oil, Liggett & Myers, American Tobacco "B", United Merchants, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central and Northern Pacific.

On the off side at intervals were Union Pacific, Schenley, General Motors and Ancon.

Bonds were narrow and cotton, futures steady.

33 Elderly W. C. T. U. Ladies Preach Temperance In Bars

Pasadena, Calif., May 1.—(AP)—Thirty-three white-haired women of the Pasadena W. C. T. U., tramping from bar to bar in the hot sun, are carrying the temperance cause right into the cocktail lounges.

They get attention and, with few exceptions, they get respect. Their leader, Mrs. Jessie Lee Cowie, 87, of Pasadena, a world missionary of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union who in her younger years campaigned for temperance through Australia, New Zealand, England and the South Sea Islands said they hope to have their method become nationwide without any Carrie Nation tactics.

"We are on a peaceful errand," she said. "We appeal to your better natures."

While she quoted Scripture from memory, others of the band

—all in their sixties or older—bent over women on bar stools and seated at tables.

Some of the men went right on talking. "Damned busy-bodies," one muttered.

"I plead—," Mrs. Cowie began. "Hey, bartender," a youth in a natty brown gabardine suit shouted. "Gimme a beer."

A woman with a sign "Bible or Bottle?" Broke into tears. A woman at a table—a Bourbon and soda before her—dabbled at her eyes.

"So much has transpired in taverns," said Mrs. Cowie. "The Black Dahlia—"

A waiter pulled the plug on a juke box.

The crusaders broke into "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The woman at the table, still dabbing her eyes, and her girl friend sang as loudly as anyone. And they knew the words.

Mrs. Cowie and her followers marched out, stopping to read a legend painted on the wall:

"Wealth, liquor and education never made a fool of anyone, although any one of them may give a natural-born fool a broader stage and larger audience."

A fellow at the bar said "Now I really need a drink."

Dog-Gone Mixup Started When Dog Called On Mother

A cute little brown-eyed puppy's visit to its mother figured in a widening of the rift between a colored girl and her ex-boyfriend today, and helped bring the two into South Fulton police court.

The trouble all started several months ago when the boy and girl were still on friendly terms. He gave her the puppy, and she became quite attached to it. Then she decided to take the pooch back to its former home—but when she was ready to leave her ex-suitor latched onto the dog and said he'd keep it, although he didn't particularly want it, "just to show her that she couldn't always have her way."

The girl finally decided that it would be too much trouble to sue for recovery of the dog. The boy still is the sole owner. Neither is very happy about the whole thing. The dog evidently doesn't give a darn.

Discussions on community problems and to gain experience for additional regional community conferences.

With a successful Community Conference in the background, Henderson can choose realistic objectives and all work for a better community. And this applies to every other community in Kentucky.

The Oakland-San Francisco bridge contains 143,000 tons of steel including 80,000 miles of wire for cables.

This service under your leadership is more than an evangelistic organization. It gives practical assistance to cities, towns, counties while it is trying to arouse people to the civic duties and opportunities. Evangelism is useful. Fact is, it is indispensable. But converts backslide without practical help and encouragement to hold fast to the civic righteousness they professed.

When I was a youngster in a Henderson county village we had from one to three protracted meetings a year. That was the name for them then. Now they are revivals. I know a lot about protracted meetings because I was a participant in all we had in ten years. My bass voice helped to sing hundreds of neighbors to the mourners' bench.

One revival made 104 converts. Before time for the next big meet rolled around, all but three of these converts backslid. The circuit rider had four churches and could come to Dixie Village only once a month. Sunday school and weekly prayer meetings were not enough to hold the converts. They needed more help, more encouragement and didn't get it.

The work of Community Service should be able to hold most of its converts. I am sure it will. If Community Service can handle the Henderson situation successfully, I'll bet ten to one the work gets over in a big way all over the state.

From all indications, it seems certain that the Henderson Committee will continue to grow. An evidence of this growth is the Community Conference being held in Henderson—the first ever to be held in the state—sponsored by your Department of Community Service in cooperation with the Committee for City and County of Henderson.

The following purposes, which you have outlined for this conference, I feel are worthy of consideration for any community in Kentucky:

1. To stimulate citizen interest in building better communities in which to live.
2. To explore the nature of community life and the methods of improving it by organized citizen action.
3. To acquaint representatives from cities which do have citizens councils with the community council movement in Kentucky.
4. To provide opportunity for community council representatives to meet together for discussion.

Tourists Allowed To Visit Mansion

London.—(AP)—Tourists and holidaymakers in Britain wander through one of the oldest mansions in the country—Knole—where Henry VIII once retired for weekends. The four-acre building of ochre stone, rambling round courts and quadrangles, topped by clusters of ornate Tudor chimneys, now belongs to the people of Britain through the National Trust.

Little more than half an hour from London, it has 365 rooms and 52 staircases, a mile-long driveway and six centuries of history under its roof. Pictures and furnishings are so valuable that nightwatchmen have special permits to carry guns. In the King's Room there is a bed built for James I hung with cloth of gold.
