Leavenworth Race Rioters Are Subdued
800 Prisoners Protesting Order To Eat Together

WHITE MAN KILLED
Leavenworth, Mo., May 3—Two young men died and three were injured last night in a race riot at the federal prison here. The men were killed and five others were injured in the riot, which occurred in the dining hall.

A Federal officer in charge of the prison said that at 9 o'clock last night a number of men carried sandbags to the fence and were about to throw them over the wall when they were stopped by the officers.

The riot ended when the police rushed the prisoners into the dining hall.

The police rounded up 800 of the men who were protesting against the new prisoner rules which were announced last night.

The prisoner riot is the first since the racial troubles at the prison in 1942, when 30 of the men were killed and 300 injured.

Tobacco Diseases Are Spread By Workers, U. K. Discoverers

Tobacco plants are usually infected with a disease that spreads from the hands of workers who smoke or smoke tobacco leaves. This disease, called "tobacco mosaic," causes the leaves to turn yellow and wither. The disease can be prevented by washing hands thoroughly before handling tobacco, using a decontamination spray before smoking, and disposing of cigarette butts properly.

The Garden of the World's Tents

Early May is the time for growing cucumbers. Cucumbers are an important crop in many countries, especially in the Middle East and Asia. They are grown for their edible fruits, which are pickled and used in salads and sandwiches. Cucumbers are also a good source of vitamins and minerals. They are easy to grow and can be planted in either a greenhouse or in the open field. The best time to plant cucumbers is early spring, about six to eight weeks before the last expected frost. The plants should be spaced 12 to 18 inches apart, and the soil should be enriched with compost or well-rotted manure. The ideal temperature for growing cucumbers is about 70°F.

The simple pleasures of childhood—innocence and wholesomeness—are the subject of this photograph. The children are playing outdoors, enjoying the fresh air and sunshine. The scene is a perfect representation of the joy of childhood.
