"Happy" Chandler Will Attend Chick - 'Hound Season Opener Here Tuesday Night, FBA Says

Game Will Start At 8 P. M. After Parade, Program

CHICKS EDGE BROWNS

National Baseball Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler will be guest of honor at the opening of the 1947 Kitty League season here tomorrow night. He has been invited to speak briefly and to throw out the first ball, K. P. Dalton, Fulton Baseball Association president, said today.

The Fulton Chicks will start their game with the Greyhounds from Union City at 8 p. m. at Fairfield Park. A Young Men's Business Club-sponsored parade will form at the First Methodist church at 7 p. m. and proceed to the ball park, where a short pre-game program has been planned.

Chandler visited the Kitty League twice last year, but was unable to come to Fulton on either visit.

The starting Chick lineup for tomorrow night's game will be: Dutch Gray 3b; Tommy Buck 3b; Jake Propst 1b; Hal Seawright cf; Johnny Gill lf; Pete Peterson rf; Dusty Rhodes ss; Joe Lis c; and Wayne Lynch p.

The Chicks took their third win in five exhibition starts Sunday afternoon at Mayfield by edging the Browns 11-10.

F. B. A. MEETS TONIGHT
The Fulton Baseball Association will meet at the city hall at 7 o'clock tonight. Everyone is invited.

Hubert Sidle started on the mound for Fulton, and was relieved in the ninth by Roy Gaiser. Others in action yesterday were Lis, Peterson, Seawright, Workman, Gill, Rhodes and Gray. Rhodes turned in a good performance at shortstop, and smashed out a triple with the bases full. The Chicks had won one and lost one in other games with Mayfield.

Following is a story on the 1947 Fulton team written by Harry Bolser, Courier-Journal staffer for West Kentucky, which appeared in Sunday's Louisville paper:

With nine regular members of their 1946 runner-up team back in and in better playing condition than at close of last season, Fulton appears to be the team to beat for the 1947 Kitty League title.

The only weak spot on the Chicks club is pitching and that weakness easily could knock the Chicks out of the flag race. Fulton's strategy department is working overtime trying to land an experienced right-handed chucker and possibly two southpaws.

Fulton officials are quick to admit that weak pitching cost the club the playoff series last season. They still believe they would have been Owensboro in the Shaughnessy series had they had another southpaw of the Bob Schultz caliber.

The Chicks will be the only Kitty outfit to launch the 1947 season with an experienced team. The 1946 infield, which completed the best defensive mark in the loop, is intact with the exception of Shortstop Frankie Brucella. Jake Propst is back at first. "Dutch" Gray, 22 pounds heavier, is fielding and hitting better than last season.

At third is little Tommy Buck.

Giant Jungle Rats From So. Pacific To Be Shown Here

Giant jungle rats of the South Pacific, the ones that gave GI's much bother and hair-raising experiences, will be shown here today and Tuesday from noon until 10 p. m.

These rats are migratory, traveling in droves of thousands from island to island. They measure three feet in length and have teeth an inch and a quarter long. They come on the islands at night, mainly for the purpose of feeding and raiding encampments in search of food. They eat anything edible, and were known to feed on the dead and wounded while the fighting was going on. The female of the species were not allowed to be brought into the country. The ones on exhibition are all males, and are in a solid steel cage with a triple steel floor.

The exhibit is highly educational to young and old alike. They are the only ones in the United States, and will be on exhibition next to Field's Shell Gas Station, Church and Main

Fulton County Sportsman's Club Organized At Hickman

Hickman—The Fulton County Sportsman's Club was organized last Friday night, following a fish dinner at the V. F. W. Home here. Approximately 60 men from over the county attended and participated in the election of officers and directors.

The group fixed the annual dues at $1.50 per member and also voted to affiliate with the League of Kentucky Sportsmen. A membership drive will be conducted in Fulton at a date to be announced later.

Ed Ray, District Supervisor of Conservation Officers, spoke to the club about the wonderful possibilities for increasing the game population in this county. He said that this county has one of the best natural habitats for coon to be found anywhere, and that it was suited for pheasant, grouse, and quail. Through this organization the county will have a facility for petitioning the state Game and Fish Department for game and fish, and for its distribution.

The following officers were elected:

Truman Called Anti-Red Aid

President's Policy Said Factor In Decision To Oust French Communists

Paris, May 5—(AP)—A member of the cabinet said today the "Truman Doctrine" had been an important factor in Premier Paul Ramadier's decision to force the Communists out of the French government.

The Communists were dropped from the coalition cabinet last night after the government won 360 to 186 votes of confidence in the national assembly, with the Communist members dissenting. This marked the first time France has had a government without the extreme Left in it since the Liberation, except for the 30-day Blum cabinet last December.

The cabinet member, who asked that his name not be used, said today he felt the United States held the key to the success or failure of the experiment to govern with the labor-dominating Communists in opposition. He expressed belief the United States by sending food and financial help to the Ramadier government could help contain discontent in the ranks of French workers.

Army Investigates Race Riot: Has No Comment To Make Now

Fort Leavenworth, Kas., May 5—(AP)—The army continued its investigation today into the Fort Leavenworth disciplinary barracks race riot in which one person was killed and 11 injured, but made no comment on its preliminary findings.

Normal routine was resumed at the barracks. The customary mess hall seating arrangement, out of which the rioting stemmed, was in effect with negroes and whites being served in the same room but at separate tables.

Long smoldering resentment of the whites over eating in the same mess hall with the negroes flared into the open Friday. The rebellion was brought under control Saturday night.

Col. Graeme Parks, the barracks commandant, and Brig. Gen. Harry L. Twaddle headed the investigation. Twaddle is on the staff of the commanding general of the Fifth Army and came here from Chicago yesterday.

Attempts were being made to single out the ringleaders. Colonel Parks said.

Dewey Osborne, 30, a white prisoner, of Mountain City, Tenn., was beaten to death in the fighting among the prisoners. Six other inmates—four negroes and two whites—and five guards were injured.

This scene at the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth shows the entrance to cell block No. 6, where rioting prisoners were still holding out May 3. Two unidentified guards are in the foreground.

His Father's Death In Mountain Feud Led Him To Pupilt

Barbourville, Ky., May 5—(AP)—A mountain feud, T. C. Sizemore said yesterday, caused him to turn to the ministry. The Union College freshman and licensed Baptist minister said the feud in Clay county, Kentucky, resulted in his father's death and the shooting of nine relatives.

The 26-year-old student said his father, Carlo Sizemore, was shot in November, 1932, following a political argument.

Young Sizemore declared, "the killing made me turn to God for guidance. I wanted training in Christian education and I decided to become a minister. I felt that if I got an education, I could return to my people and help them see the error of their ways."

Light Plane Crash Takes Two Lives At West Memphis

West Memphis, Ark., May 5—(AP)—A 20-year-old Memphis pilot and his youthful companion, making their first flight in a newly purchased light plane, lost their lives near here yesterday when the plane crashed and burned.

The dead were Harold M. Haire, the pilot, and Paul McEwen, 21, both of Memphis.

The pair was returning to Sanders Field, Miss., after visiting the Bowen Flying Field here. Mrs. Stewart Henderson, a witness, said she thought the plane was trying to land. "It was only 500 feet up when it nose-dived to the ground, exploded, and burned," she said.

Haire bought the Army-type plane Saturday and was working for a commercial pilot's license. McEwen was a native of Trenton, Tenn.

Waterfield Favors $10,000,000 Annually For Rural Road Work

An annual appropriation of $10,000,000 for building country roads in Kentucky was advocated by Harry Lee Waterfield, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, in a radio speech at Louisville Saturday night.

"Kentucky's rural people must get out of the mud," Waterfield said, "that it may be possible for these rural citizens to make an even greater contribution to the sum total of the general welfare, progress, prosperity and happiness of our people."

"I shall sponsor and provide the leadership for an appropriation of $10,000,000 a year for rural, country roads for the next biennium," Waterfield said.

He said he favors "return to home rule wherever adequate prescribed standards of administration and construction can be met by the counties."

Waterfield said he supported a system for fair allotment of highway funds for expansion of secondary roads and city streets.

The Democratic gubernatorial candidate spoke Friday night at Mayfield to a large crowd in the circuit court room of the county house. Ed C. Ray, prominent Graves county farmer and REA official, presided as temporary chairman, and following the Waterfield speech was elected permanent chairman of the county house. Headquarters will be opened in Mayfield within the next few weeks.

MSC To Honor Franz Schubert

Murray, Ky., Commemorating the 150th anniversary of the birth of Franz Schubert, the symphony orchestra of Murray State College will play a program of Schubert's compositions Monday night, May 21, at 8:15 in Recital Hall here, with Prof. Price Doyle conducting.

"This year is the 150th anniversary of the birth of Franz Schubert, perhaps the world's all-time greatest melodist," Mr. Doyle said. "In his short lifetime of about 32 years, he composed over 1,000 songs in addition to a great many other works."

Another feature of the program is a group of five shorter works of Schubert which have been arranged for orchestra by members of the orchestra class, under direction of Dr. George Morey, who will conduct this group.

Included in this group is "Tantum for All-Souls Day," arranged by Mrs. LaNelle Bugg Roman, of Fulton; and "Der Doppelganger," arranged by her husband, Arthur Roman, of Brownsville, Pa.

Taft Calls On GOP To Decide Policy On Federal Expenses With An Eye On Truman Budget

Washington, May 5—(AP)—Senator Taft of Ohio called on Senate and House Republicans today to decide how far they want to go this year in expanding government activities in such fields as social security, housing, health and education.

Taft, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told a reporter he will name a subcommittee soon to confer with a similar House group on general GOP policy toward measures which call for increased federal expenditures at a time when the party is trying desperately to cut President Truman's budget.

"I think we should have a Republican policy on these matters and decide what we want to do in this session of Congress about the proposed expansion of some government activities while we are cutting down on others," the Ohio Senator said.

He made plain that despite his sponsorship of bills to provide housing, health and education assistance, he is willing to abide by the composite Republican decision on these and similar matters.

Taft said, however, that one question to be settled is whether there will be enough money available to expand any domestic government services in the light of what he said was a $4,000,000,000 outlay of foreign expenditures projected by President Truman in the year beginning next July 1.

House Republicans already have encountered strong Democratic resistance to trimming the annual appropriations bills, and Senate GOP members expect the same reaction.

Secretary of State Marshall took unusual measures to combat an onrush economy cut when he invited Congressional leaders to meet with him and radio industry executives today to consider impending House appropriations committee action in whacking off funds for the State Department's cultural relations division and its overseas broadcasts.

More Power To Him

Through his Chesapeake & Ohio railroad Robert R. Young has introduced several improvements in rail service which other lines have been forced to copy. The latest and certainly not the least welcome of these is the elimination of tips to all C & O employees.

Tipping is needless, wasteful, and embarrassing class-conscious. Neither party enjoys it. It simply lets an employer pass along to his customer an unfair added expense for employee service. And the harder the employer soaks you the more you tip his help.

Tipping, once confined almost entirely to hotels, restaurants, and trains, has spread to a dozen or more other services. It's time it was stopped. But the custom is so ingrained, so impelled by snobbery or timidity, that the employers will have to be the ones to call a halt.

We hope the dynamic Mr. Young's newest innovation spreads through the railroads and far, far beyond. (Ocala, Fla., Star-Banner)

Taxing Isn't Feuding

Just what Thomas R. Underwood means by declaring for a pari-mutuel tax and saying no tax not proposed in a friendly spirit would get out of committee, Mr. Underwood, an able speaker and writer, may explain.

Taxation is not usually undertaken in the spirit of the vendetta. A pari-mutuel tax bill would be, like any other tax bill, designed to produce revenue.

If "by friendly spirit" is meant a tax bill altogether agreeable to payers of the prospective tax, no bill taxing pari-mutuel betting or anything else would be worth enactment.

If Mr. Underwood does not mean that the racing interest could keep in committee any bill it might not approve he will no doubt make himself clear. (Louisville Times.)

Marriage and Colds

The two most persistent problems of mankind that have never been solved, says Sinclair Lewis in Cass Timberlane, are marriage and the common cold. Of course many couples are happily married, and some people never have colds. What Lewis means is that each man has to solve his own marital problems without outside help except stray advice to the lover or a book on wedding bliss.

Most advice about curing a cold conforms to the old adage that a doctored cold lasts two weeks whereas an undoctored one lasts fourteen days. Help for the common cold should come from medical research; the solution of marital problems depends upon the personal intelligence, adaptability, and tolerance of man and wife. (Ballard Yeoman, Wickliffe.)

Conservation Club Deserves Adult Backing

By Lloyd Grymes

Kentucky's Division of Game and Fish has taken upon itself a very worthwhile and difficult task, that of educating its youth in the conservation of natural resources to the point where Kentucky will once more truly become a "happy hunting ground." The Division of Game and Fish seems to think that along with properly enforced laws must come an education for the youth who will someday hold the fate of our wildlife in their hands.

The state is going all out to train the boys for the part they are to play in the future. They have chosen a camp site on Kentucky Lake. Here the boys who are members of the Junior Conservation Clubs in this district will enjoy a week of fun in the out-of-doors at a cost of $1.00 a day. They will enjoy the thrills of camping, rifle shooting, fishing, boating, nature hikes, swimming, training in the use of fishing tackle, motor boats, and other activities. All these activities are supervised by a competent individual hired by the state for that purpose. The deadline for registration is May 15. A number of Fulton boys have filed applications for their principal, Wilson Gantt already. The $7.00 fee may be sent in ahead of time to Ed Ray (wildlife supervisor) Benton, Kentucky, or paid on arrival at camp.

Another phase of this work with high school boys is in arranging competition between rival clubs in bait casting and rifle matches. May 13 has been set for a little practice with a new type of gun called a "moose gun." This little weapon is

See You There

Tomorrow night, May 6, the Fulton Chicks open their 1947 season with the Union City Greyhounds. A parade will form at the First Methodist church and go to the ball park. Here a short program has been arranged before the cry of "Play Ball" will be heard. Anything can happen in a horse race or a baseball season, and a lot of pre-season guesses are bound to go wrong. We'll get out on the same limb with Manager Johnny Gill, however, in predicting that the Fulton club will finish 1-2 this year. The team will have the experience and the ability to win ball games. It goes without saying that the Chicks will have plenty of support from the smallest city in organized baseball.

We think it would be a waste of time to urge everyone to see the opening game tomorrow night. Everybody is going. We'll just say, "See you at the ball park."

"Wish I Was Going"

They all laughed Saturday afternoon when E. H. McMillan picked up the handles of his homemade pushcart and resumed his long walk from Alabama to Wisconsin, where he'll try to make up with his estranged wife.

"A man's crazy to go that far after a woman in a car, let alone walk," some of them said. "He'll have sunstroke, and it'll serve him right," added another. And a tired office worker on the fringe of the crowd shook his head sadly and murmured, "Wish I was going with him."

We think we know how the latter felt—a little envious of the Alabama surveyor's freedom, and pretty well fed up with his own routine life. We can keep our nose to the grindstone for as long as we like, and the nose will always come out second best. McMillan may be worrying about the money he's losing while off the job, but he'll go back to Mobile a lot healthier and probably a lot happier than he was when he left.

Life is short enough at best, and when a fellow takes himself too seriously to take time off to do something he really wants to do it becomes shorter still. McMillan probably is carrying this philosophy a bit too far, but there's a lesson for almost all of us in his long hike, if we stop to think about it.

Look, No Hands

Chicago.—(P)—Mrs. Adeline Dubish amazed members of her family when as child of three months it was discovered that she could stand alone. Now she has a son, Peter, born Feb. 7, who was able to stand at least a week before he was three months old. Peter weighs 12 pounds, seven ounces.

IT COULD BE VERSE

of 22 caliber but sprays a soaring clay pigeon with fine shot. This will take place at the fair grounds. The rifle matches will be held in the fall. Each club has a bait casting contest. Its winners go to the district tournament (held at Benton last year) where they compete with other winners for prizes. These prizes are expensive reels or some sort of valuable fishing tackle that develops keen competition among contestants. The winners here go to the state fair, where the top bait casters strive for the championship. Therefore, if you see a Fulton boy on his lawn, trying to hit a 30-inch target from 15 to 20 yards away, with a 5-8 ounce tournament plug, don't think he is crazy, because he is not trying to catch fish, but might "hook a prize reel."

The Fulton club has been at a disadvantage since its organization. It has not had a senior sponsoring club to help it plan and carry out activities or to buy prizes for its contests. With as many skilled duck hunters and bait casters as we have in Fulton, none has given instruction to the members of the club on the art of casting and wing shooting. It is difficult for the members of the club to arrange such things. You can see how easy it would be if the club had the support of the sportsmen of the town. If anyone will volunteer his aid to the club he may see either Mr. Gantt or W. L. Holland. The boys would appreciate it.

There are no dues in this club because its officers feel that since the boys have a hard time buying fishing tackle, which is very expensive, they can't afford other drains on what little they can make while going to school. Most of the boys are just beginning to accumulate fishing tackle; $20.00 doesn't go far when buying fishing tackle, as all bait casters know. A trip to Reelfoot Lake for the boys wouldn't be too extravagant if the sportsmen of Fulton can see the value of such an organization. The club doesn't have over 15 members so transportation shouldn't be too difficult. See how desperately the boys need a sponsoring club?

Class Address

No reporter needs a string of adjectives in describing a speaker when the man is Fred Shultz of Murray. Sufficient to say, he was here Thursday night and so were the people to hear him. The audience was all attention—no squirming, twisting and waiting for cushions, but every body was alert to catch every phrase and thought. If there was a "grouch" here, he was either converted or deeply convicted.

Jimmy White as salutarian and Sammie Jean Wilson as valedictorian were both excellent. The chorus of 40 voices and a duet by Jean Howell and Martha Marie Gatewood drew their share of the applause and interest was keen from the invocation by Rev. A. B. Rogers to the closing remarks by Principal Pearl Darnell, when he presented diplomas to the 18 seniors and also to 29 eighth graders who enter high school this fall.

Among the visitors seen in the audience were Mrs. Carl Eastes (Martha Ward) and two children, of Louisville; Mrs. Vance Cramb and son, of Nashville; Mrs. Luther Clark, of Alton, Ill.; Mrs. Cora Ringo, of Detroit; Prof. E. B. Howton, of Murray, who was principal here 21 years ago; Mr. and Mrs. Singleton, of Mayfield; Miss Margaret Gardner, teacher at Fulton; many from the Clinton and Fulton vicinity.

Gus Allison is very low in the Jackson Hospital at Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allison, Columbus, Ind., are the parents of a daughter born recently.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr. Louisville, Ky., May 5—(AP)—Derby hangover (everybody has one) . . . Newspapermen who were having a tough time naming the 1947 Kentucky Derby before it was run, now can use either of the first two horses . . . it could be the "Jet Pilot". If you've ever heard one of those things coming over with a noise like a convention of fire sirens, you know how Louisville sounded on Derby eve—or the "Phalanx Derby". . . The crowd marching on the Downs was packed tighter than soldiers in the ancient close-order formation. . . Even in front of the exclusive box seats at the finish line, the customers jammed the trail so tightly that one fellow was holding a miniature camera tied on a stick high over his head to snap the horses as they passed. . . and from the infield "Sunken Gardens" it must have been impossible to see anything. Maybe that's where they got the name. Anybody in there was sunk.

SHORT STORIES: The other day Leslie Combs, Kentucky racing commissioner and boss of the farm where Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's horses spend the off season, was telling about seeing last year's Derby with the lipstick princess. . . you'll remember she had the favorites then—Lord Boswell and Knockdown—and saw them both badly beaten. . . but just as Assault crossed the finish line, she turned to Combs and said: "Well, we'll win it next year with Jet Pilot." . . . And Radioman Clem

McCarthy tells about discussing the entries with Jockey Eddie Arcaro, who just missed riding his fourth Derby winner when Phalanx failed to overtake the Jet job. . . when they came to Jet Pilot, Eddie asked: "Where will they get the van to carry him the last quarter mile?"

TRADE SECRET: A couple of football coaches, Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers and Bear Bryant of the University of Kentucky, were under the stands when Elmer Layden, who used to be pro football commissioner, came along. . . Bryant moaned: "I tried to trade Don the winner for a couple of tackles, but I give him the wrong horse. And our wives had the right one."

DOTS ALL BROTHER: Discussing the Derby's luck with weather, resident Manager Russell Sweeney remarked: "People come a thousand miles for the Derby and don't even have a seat. They stand in the infield all day. I like to see them get a break." . . . He has no objections to a break for the Downs management, either.

THE Sports Mirror: By The Associated Press: Today a year ago—St. Louis Cardinals tied Brooklyn for the National League lead by splitting with Boston while Dodgers bowed twice to Pittsburgh.

Three years ago—Charley Grimm was named manager of the Chicago Cubs.

Five years ago—Whirlaway defeated Midland, Attention and Challedon in Dixie Handicap, boosting earnings to $751,811.

Ten years ago—Red Ruffing ended long holdout campaign, signing with New York Yankees for reported $13,500.

Baseball: American League: Chicago 8-1 Philadelphia 7-0. Boston 3-8 St. Louis 2-1. Washington 6 Cleveland 3 (2nd game-postponed, rain). Detroit 2 New York 2 (6 inning tie-called, rain).

National League: Boston 4-9 St. Louis 3-0. Philadelphia 5-10 Cincinnati 3-5. Chicago at New York—Both games postponed, rain. Pittsburgh at Brooklyn—postponed, rain.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS: American Association: Toledo 9-5, St. Louis 3-3. Columbus 15-7, Minneapolis 5-6. Kansas City 2-3, Indianapolis 0-1. Milwaukee 10-0, Louisville 4-1. Southern Association: Birmingham 14-5, Memphis 1-1. Mobile 8-7, Chattanooga 7-1. Atlanta 7-5, Little Rock 2-3. New Orleans 7-4, Nashville 6-2. Yesterday's Stars: Batting, Ron Northey, Cardinals—slugged two homers and a single in his first day with St. Louis to drive in four runs and lead his new team to a 9-0 victory over Boston which snapped a nine-game losing streak.

Pitching—Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, Cardinals—Limited the Braves to five hits in hurling the 9-0 shutout, the first St. Louis victory since April 18.

Nine hundred and fifteen boys and girls in Hardin county have enrolled as 4-H club members.

CHANDLER TO ATTEND OPENING GAME HERE

(Continued from Page One) One of the best hot corner kids in the circuit last season, in Brucella's place in the short patch will be "Dusty" Rhodes, a 19-year-old rookie from Linden, Tenn. He belongs to Memphis and "Doc" Prothro considers him a "bright prospect." Rhodes is big, fast as lightning and has enough power at the dish to be dangerous.

Both 1946 catchers, Joe Lis and Newt Seccrest, are back. Lis didn't report until last Monday, but he had been working out at his Detroit home and was ready to step into a game when he arrived.

An all-veteran outfield will strengthen the Chicks' defense. Hal Seawright the stocky slugger who finished among the first five leading hitters last season, has been moved to centerfield.

Manager Johnny Gill, the hard-hitting Fulton skipper, will play left and Carol Peterson will return to his rightfield post.

From the 1946 mound corps the Chicks have lanky Ed Engel and "Whitey" Lynch, both right-handers. New members of the pitching staff are Lloyd Eldridge, Chattanooga; Roy Gaiser, Memphis; Nick Huck, and Hubert Sidle, Olive Branch, Miss.

The entire Fulton hill staff is made up of righthanders, which could spell plenty of trouble for the Chicks should they run into some clubs with a lot of Port Arthur swingers.

"Give me a couple of left-handed pitchers and one veteran righthander and we'll be tough," remarked Skipper Gill, who moved over to Fulton from Union City during the winter.

And the feeling of the Fulton club about the 1947 Kitten chase was expressed by Chick president K. P. Dalton, when he stated:

"We've not fooling around this year. We think we've got a good club and we're going to try to start right out by taking a strong lead in the race."

The Chicks at last report were trying to make a deal with Buffalo of the International League for Tommy Thomasson, of Kitty no-hitter fame. Thomasson, who won 13 for Fulton last season, is Buffalo property, but he has refused to report to the Bisons. It was learned at the close of last season that Thomasson had jumped the Buffalo club to come to Fulton. That fact was revealed after Memphis selected Thomasson from
