WATSON'S FLEET DISBANDED

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—(Special)—Commodore Watson's squadron has been disbanded. Some of his vessels will come North and be docked. Others will go to Porto Rico. This action was determined on this morning at a special meeting of the War Board. This announcement is official. It is expected that the disbandment of the squadron will remove a serious obstacle to peace and gives Spain an opportunity to take the initiative in seeking an honorable settlement.

Garcia Not Dead But Feels Grossly Insulted

Scripte-McRae League Service.
SANTIAGO, July 21.—(Special)—Gen. Garcia, the insurgent leader, in a letter to Major General Shafter, declares that he is disgusted with the treatment he has received at the hands of the Americans and will consequently withdraw his forces to the hills. He complains that Gen. Shafter failed to notify him officially of Gen. Toal's surrender. He is also incensed at not being invited to the ceremony incident to the formal capitalization of Santiago. Another grievance of the Cuban is the action of Gen. Shafter in retaining Spanish civil authorities in Santiago. For these reasons he says that he will henceforth act independent of the Americans. Gen. Shafter has wired a formal answer to the letter. Santiago is quiet. The Spaniards are assisting the Americans in any way required of them.

Scripte-McRae League Service.
CHARLESTON, July 21.—(Special)—The Grand Duchesse and No. 30 sailed for Porto Rico today with the Second and Third Wisconsin regiments. Gen. Wilson and his staff and Gen. Stone, of Miles' staff, are also on the Duchesse. No. 31 will sail to-day with the Sixteenth Pennsylvania. The noted band-master, Phillip A. Sousa, has accepted Gen. Wilson's invitation to become a member of his staff. Major Gen. James H. Wilson, who commands the division bound for Porto Rico, was graduated from West Point in 1880, served through the civil war and resigned from the army in 1870 to enter the railroad business. He was appointed from Delaware at the beginning of the war with Spain. His name is mentioned as the probable Military Governor of Cuba.

The Wampatuck and Hornet sank three Spanish gunboats at night two weeks ago near the Isle of Pines. The Americans were not struck, while many Spaniards were destroyed. May Make a Change.

Queen Regent Wants the Sagasta Cabinet To Negotiate Peace Treaty But Won't Wait Long.

Scripte-McRae League Service.
LONDON, July 21.—A Madrid dispatch says that though the Queen Regent is anxious that the Sagasta Cabinet shall negotiate the inevitable peace treaty, she will seriously consider a change of ministers if better progress is not made in the next few days. She places the greatest trust in Palavicino, who will probably succeed Sagasta.

for to all of us it split on the same rock when we split before. Going along the same road, frequently with excavations being made, we frequently find a last century man on a framework, and we turn around and find that lantern says keep out of this century. And all along the pathway of life, the lanterns are set as warnings, and by the time we come to midlife we ought to know where it is safe to walk and where it is unsafe.

Remember that we have all those years in our lifetime that we ought to be useful, and in the next decade we ought to accomplish the things that God and the church and the world than in any previous four decades. The best way to stand for past failures or past transgressions is by future usefulness. Yet we often find Christians who were not converted until they were 40 or 50, or older age comes on. Well, my work is about finished, and it is time for me to rest. I may have 40 years of their life to sustain the world, a little fragment of that time to God, and now they want rest. Whether that belongs to comely or not, they say not.

The man who gave one half of his life to the mission to the world, and of the remaining two quarters one to the church and the other to rest take this trumpet of the gospel and I will blow the first blast, "Whoever will follow me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. And whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life, shall save it. For the Son of Man must be so wounded, and be so crucified, that we will trumpet it down to our children, that after we are dead they shall be trumpet, telling the world that we have a pardoning God, a loving God, a sympathetic God and that more than him that throne on which he sits the joy of seeing a prodigal putting his thumb on the latch of his sinner's door. I remember that there were two seats on the sea and in a storm. It was very, very dark, and the two men who were going straight for each other, the captain knew it not. But after while the man on the lookout saw the approaching ship, and he shouted, "Hard a-larkward!" And from the other the cry went up, "Hard a-larkward!" And they turned, just enough to glance at each other, and then, through fatigue and by passed in safety to their harbors. Some of you are in the same of temptation, and you are driving yourselves into the same of temptation. Less you change your course, "Hard a-larkward!" Turn ye, then ye, for ye will—on, horns of Israel!
