Hickman Show Razed By Fire; $25,000 Loss Fulton Firemen Helped Save Nearby Buildings

POWER LINES SEVERED

Fulton's fire department was called to Hickman yesterday morning to help fight a blaze which destroyed the Ritz Theater and did an estimated $25,000 damage. A number of other nearby buildings were threatened, but firemen prevented the flames from spreading outside the theater.

The blaze is believed to have started in the theater's cooling system. The fire was discovered at about 10:30 a. m. in the northwest corner of the building, and burned for some time before breaking through the thick brick walls. The building, along with all equipment, was a total loss. The structure crumbled and collapsed.

The theater, one of a chain, was owned and operated by the Ruffin Amusement Company. The REA electric power cooperative and other adjacent buildings were damaged by water. Flames severed Kentucky Utilities lines serving Hickman, and all power was off there yesterday afternoon.

The Union City fire department was called to aid the Fulton and Hickman departments, but was advised that the flames had been brought under control before the truck was ready to leave the Tennessee city.

Erosion Threat To Reelfoot

Lions Hear George Alley Discuss History of Lake, Suggest Way to Save It

George Alley, guest speaker at the Fulton Lions Club meeting today, reviewed the formation and history of Reelfoot Lake, and pointed out the need for erosion control if the lake is to continue to be a nationally-known sportsman's paradise.

Its area was approximately 50,000 acres in 1811-12, when earth tremors formed the large inland lake, Mr. Alley said. Since then it has shrunk to about 30,000 or 35,000 acres in size, chiefly because of heavy erosion.

If farmers can be persuaded to turn from row crop farming to dairying and cover crops, Mr. Alley declared, we may save the lake. Otherwise, he believes the lake will continue to fill up until there will be little hunting and fishing territory left.

Mr. Alley told the Lions that more pounds of fish were taken from Reelfoot Lake annually than from any fresh-water lake of comparable size in the world, and that pelts from fur-bearing animals trapped there made up a major portion of Tennessee's $2,000,000 annual fur yield. The duck hunting, as most Fulton people are well aware, had been exceptionally good at Reelfoot until the Fish and Wildlife Service established a game preserve in the middle third of the lake, the speaker said.

Mr. Alley described the first attempts at exploitation of the lake basin by the West Tennessee Land Company, and traced the development of the area up to the present.

He was introduced by Louis Weeks, club program chairman.

Famed Lifesaver Dies In Louisville

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—Funeral services were scheduled here today for Foster H. Embry, 65, capitalist, livestock yards operator and amateur river boatman, who died at a hospital yesterday.

He was a director of a number of stock yards in the Midwest.

"Don't Take My Penny," Fulton Hi Senior Play, Presented Last Nite; It Was 'Complete Success'

Last night was an exciting one for the Fulton high school seniors. Even though today everyone knows the success of their play, "Don't Take My Penny," some, as almost all seniors in past years at Fulton high have done, were wondering at curtain time, "Will it be good? Gosh, I've forgotten my lines! Miss Royster, did you say do this or that?"

Each year, Miss Mary Royster has heard these same questions over and over, and each year she has quieted the nervous seniors as the time drew near for the "zero hour." Nevertheless last night was, as the old saying goes, the "calm before the storm." But when 8 o'clock rolled around and the curtain went up, Miss Royster and the rest gave a sigh of relief. The first act was over and it was good. Eugene Figue, the president of the senior class, had presented Miss Royster with a lovely gift, and the second act was underway. Most of the suspense was gone from the seniors, their

Telephone Workers Reach Agreement

Long Distance Workers Won't Violate Lines Of Affiliated Unions, Though Strike Is Over

By The Associated Press
The strike of 20,000 long distance telephone workers from coast to coast ended today but members of their union, the American Union of Telephone Workers, pledged not to cross picket lines of any affiliated organization.

Most of the workers still on strike belong to regional unions which this week began negotiations with Bell System companies after the National Federation of Telephone Workers abandoned efforts to reach a national settlement of the walkout which started April 7.

The long distance operators' agreement, reached yesterday and approved last night by the union executive board, calls for weekly wage increases ranging generally from $2 to $4.

In Akron, Ohio, another walk-out of only eight hours duration, ended. The dispute of more than 100 pit workers over company plans to reduce department crews shut down the building operations at the B. F. Goodrich Company. Strikers were members of the CIO United Rubber Workers.

The Aluminum Company of America and the CIO United Steelworkers signed a new two-year contract bringing wage raises equal to 15 cents an hour and others benefits to 250,000 Alcoa workers in eight states.

In Washington, where Senate debate on labor disputes legislation moved into its eleventh day, Senator Bull (R-Minn.) sought to block jurisdictional strikes by private employer injunctions while Senator Taft (R-Ohio) supported a milder measure.

The Ohioan predicted adoption of his measure which simply would permit private employers to sue unions for damages resulting from jurisdictional strikes or secondary boycotts.

In an address at Bethlehem, Pa., Thomas E. Larkin, umpire of the anthracite board of conciliation, declared the United Mine Workers' strike was "a conservative" in its demands upon hard coal operators.

Larkin said the union had shown a tendency to hold gains already won, while the operators' "by and large" were accepting the working of the closed shop and checkoff system of union dues payments.

"May Not Only Intercessor"

Defense Counsel Asserts Other Officials Asked Favors For WW II Men
Washington, May 9.—(AP)—Defense counsel in the May-Garrison war bribe trial promised today to prove that former Rep. A. J. May was not the only Congress member who asked the Army for special treatment of soldiers during the recent war.

Warren Magee, attorney for the 72-year-old Kentuckian, produced a written list of Congressmen he said had intervened with the War Department.

The list came up during testimony by Col. Clarence J. Hauck, Jr., Army liaison man for the House Military Committee, which May headed for years.

Hauck identified it as a record of the names of House members for whom he wrote letters "taking action on requests regarding Army personnel." The list covers the period from February 1944 to date.

Hawaii Fears Snake Invasion

Reptiles Never Were On Islands Before, But May Be Slipping Ashore Now
Honolulu.—(AP)—Remembering their boast that Hawaii is a snakeless paradise, Territorial residents are embarrassed to discover that perhaps they unknowingly are playing host to a number of unwanted and unwanted reptiles.

The possibility that snakes may be introduced to Hawaii from the Pacific Islands was termed a "serious menace" by one shipping official. He said he believed that any ship loading at an island where snakes are known to exist should be fumigated before being allowed to discharge cargo.

Several weeks ago a snake was reported to have escaped from a ship unloading in the Pearl Harbor area. More recently stevedores reported finding several snakes in the hold of a ship which was discharging military cargo picked up at Manus.

No trace has been found of the "one that got away." Undoubtedly it is wiggling all over Oahu looking for a kindred spirit—which islanders hope it never finds.

Knox, Dummit May Run Alone

Jonett Ross Todd Thinks No Other GOP Will Run For Governor In August

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—(AP)—Jonett Ross Todd, Third Kentucky District Republican leader, says he believes it is very improbable that there will be any added starters in the state's GOP gubernatorial primary.

Todd adds, "I believe a dangerous primary has been avoided." Beliefs of the Republican national Committee members from Kentucky were expressed in a letter he addressed on the National Committee's stationery to approximately 7,000 men and women precinct captains in the state's eight other congressional districts.

Todd and the Louisville and Jefferson county GOP organization announced their support for Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit, Lexington, following the withdrawal of U. S. Rep. Thurston B. Morton, Louisville, from the governorship race.

Todd and Gov. Simeon Willis earlier had announced their support for Morton. Since Morton's withdrawal, Willis has declined comment. The only other announced candidate is Jesse W. Knox, Frankfort, a former state Highway Department employee.

Reed Brothers Win Certificate

Merchants Cited For Accuracy, Uniformity Of Grinding And Mixing
The Reed Brothers Feed & Seed Company has won recognition for the accuracy and uniformity of its custom grinding and mixing service. The local firm recently received a Certificate of Mixing Accuracy for 1947 following analysis at the Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis, Mo., of samples taken from regular mixes prepared for customers of the mill.

Proper mixing of ingredients has become recognized as an increasingly important factor in feeding efficiency. Ralston Purina requires that all samples vary not more than one-half of one percent to qualify for the Certificate. The Reed Brothers Feed & Seed Company showed only the slight variation of .21 percent protein in the samples tested.

The certificate will be posted in a prominent place at the Reed Brothers Feed & Seed Company as evidence of the ability of the local equipment to service farmers with custom mixing that will help them achieve maximum production from their grains.

Preacher, 61, Arrested, Jailed For Marrying 14-Year-Old Girl

Winchester, Tenn., May 9.—(AP)—A 61-year-old farmer preacher said today that his marriage to a 14-year-old school girl was "God's will" and "I love to do God's will regardless of men."

R. S. Holt, who is being held in jail here under $5,000 bond on charges of abduction and violating the age of consent and violation of the law, is the presence of Sheriff Jim Smith that his bride had turned against him.

"She has thwarted God's will," he cried, "and one of these days she will be sorry."

Time and time again that woman swore she would die by his side. Her mammy and daddy just over-persuaded her."

The girl, Alline Rolman, returned to her parents after Holt was arrested. He was bound over to the grand jury, which next meets in August, at a preliminary hearing yesterday.

Alline testified at the hearing that she and Holt first had relations last October when she was 13 in a graveyard across the

Co-op To Receive Wool Here May 21

Roy D. Taylor, secretary of the Fulton Cooperative, announced this week that the cooperative will receive wool at the Illinois Central railroad depot in Fulton Wednesday, May 21, from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The wool will be handled under the same plan that was used in 1946, when the Kentucky Wool Growers Association at Lexington paid approximately 75% of the market price as wool was delivered.

This photo of Tom Anglin, veteran State Senator, was made shortly after he was taken to University Hospital, Oklahoma City, with a bullet wound in his left hip.

Officers Accused Of Placing Pinball Machines By Force

Ludlow, Ky., May 9.—(AP)—City Attorney William P. Sidebottom declared yesterday he would demand dismissal of two patrolmen at a city council hearing Saturday night on charges of misconduct and misuse of office.

Sidebottom asserted that the officers forced onto several Ludlow business places pinball machines with which they either owned or controlled.

The attorney said Patrolmen J. E. Beach and W. E. Keeney not only used their position to place the machines in various establishments, but also compelled the establishments to have removed pinball machines belonging to other owners and operators.

Spring Cleaning

South Fulton will have a clean-up campaign in the two-week period May 12 to 26, at the suggestion of the mayor and city council. The city truck will pick up trash and rubbish gathered by home owners and businessmen, and the result should be a cleaner, more attractive and more healthful city.

The Fulton city council meets next week, and it is our humble suggestion that they give some thought to making the clean-up period city-wide in scope. There may be other, more pressing, problems for the council's consideration, but no project would be more beneficial or timely than a good Spring housecleaning throughout the city.

Chief Is Optimistic

That was an encouraging news conference President Truman held yesterday on his 63rd birthday and the second anniversary of V-E day. In addition to assuring reporters that he was in tip-top physical condition, the president predicted that the United Nations would insure world peace, and reported his often expressed confidence in this nation as a leader of the world.

The President is not called the "man with the burden" without ample cause. If there is a tougher job in the world, one more apt to make a man grow old beyond his years, than the Presidency of the United States, we don't know what it is. Mr. Truman seems to be taking his strenuous tasks in stride, and seems quite capable of continuing to provide wise and dynamic leadership.

We were glad to hear his reaffirmation of faith in the United Nations, despite the fact that the new world organization has had pretty tough sledding in its first few months. If the United Nations is to become the guardian of world peace, it must be motivated by men who have confidence and optimism, such as that which radiates from Mr. Truman. There is no place for pessimism or defeatism in the U. N. if we believe it will work, it will—and vice versa.

The man from Missouri has stepped on several toes since taking office, and sometimes has differed with leaders of his own party in holding to his convictions. However, he has proved himself worthy of the Presidency in his own right, and has exposed the poor judgment of some who regarded him at first as merely a makeshift replacement for Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Truman is eminently qualified to lead, nationally and internationally. With him at the helm of the ship of state, we share his optimism in contemplating the future.

Now that several phone unions have accepted small weekly raises and returned to work, we can look for the statisticians to figure up just how many months the strikers will have to work at their new rates to make up for wages lost during their self-imposed idleness.

The Male Beautiful

Philadelphia.—(AP)—The president of the Philadelphia Models Guild is organizing a campaign for charm classes for men.

She suggests the course cover such fields as how to dress, posture and carriage, manners and—maybe—makeup.

"I hear they now have cosmetics that hide five o'clock shadow," she said.

France Battles Reds

By Dwight MacKenzie.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst.

France's political crisis, in which Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier has made the sensational move of ousting the five Communist members of his coalition cabinet, could be the opening gun in the main engagement which has been boiling up between Communism and the more conservative elements in Western Europe.

It is significant that simultaneously other attacks on Communism have been intensified. Brazil has outlawed the Communist party and is taking drastic measures to enforce the edict.

The Red 'ism already has overrun virtually all of Eastern Europe and the Balkans. The question of whether it can drive its way through to the English Channel will be decided in France. Upon this decision also hangs the fate of numerous other European Democracies.

Italy, which long has been struggling with a similar political crisis, is watching developments in France with tense anxiety. In both these strategically important countries the situations have been largely affected by grave economic conditions. Communism thrives on bad times in which despairing people clutch at straws to save themselves.

What has happened in France during the past few days is this: The Ramadier government has adopted a wage-price freeze program, and maintained this in face of the big strike at the Paris Renault Automobile Works for higher wages. This strike was supported by the Communists.

Ramadier called for a vote of confidence in the national assembly and received this without the support of the Communists, who have a slightly larger number of deputies than any other party. Thereupon the premier daringly fired the quintet of Communist ministers. Then, after a tense session with his own party council, he received its approval of his move.

French politics are as unpredictable as are the vagaries of Vesuvius. However, it seems clear that the latest developments represent a victory for the right politically.

This movement has coincided with Washington's policy of helping needy countries withstand Communist aggression. Moreover, there can be no doubt that the present French government's stand has been vastly bolstered by the knowledge that it is about to receive the first portion of the $250,000,000 loan from the International Bank, promised in connection with the American-French agreement made a year ago. And in Italy some political groups are urging a break with the Communists in the government as the surest way to obtain a loan from Uncle Sam to tide country through its economic difficulties.

Numerous elements enter into the French situation. The country as a whole was strongly conservative prior to the war. Impartial observers generally believe that it still is conservative, for the population is largely agricultural and the French tiller of the soil is slow to change.

However, we mustn't overlook that the hard times through which France has been passing may have changed the outlook of the people. That point can only be cleared up when the ordinarily reluctant farmers can be persuaded to go to the polls en masse and register their votes. Pending that time I think we must look the peasant as conservative. Communism flourishes mainly in the big industrial centers, especially in Paris.

Prune Flowering Shrubs In Spring

Flowering shrubs should be pruned in the Spring as soon after they have finished blooming as is possible, advises Prof. N. R. Elliott, horticulturist at UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The approved way to keep shrubs under control and in good blooming condition is to remove from one-fourth to one-third of the old canes by cutting them at ground level. This will thin the plant and encourage the development of new shoots for attractive foliage and flowers.

BY EWING GALLOWAY

If my weekly pieces didn't have a stereotyped heading, I would call this one INNOCENTS ABROAD 'WAY DOWN SOUTH'.

In the last six days Mrs. G. and I have been gawking around quite a lot in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, seeing and learning a lot of things that interest us, and I am passing some of our impressions along to fellow Kentuckians.

Our first stop was in Nashville, to see B. T. Gregory, publicity director for the Tennessee Department of Conservation. I drop in on Gregory every year or two to look over his recent collections of photographs and pick out what I'd like for my file in New York. In the last five years I have given Tennessee tens of thousands of dollars worth of publicity that didn't cost the Conservation Department a cent. Mr. Gregory has had photographs taken of nearly everything worth while. He keeps two capable photographers busy all the time. The state is spending some money to publicize everything it has that would interest people all over the nation, and the effort is paying big dividends.

Mr. Gregory handed me a new booklet on sport fishing that had just come off the press. It contains a state map dotted all over with lake, river and creek fishing places, and the booklet contains all the directions anybody could want. This booklet is sent to anglers in all neighboring states as well as Tennesseans. The Conservation Department operates a chain of fish hatcheries. It even imports big game to breed and distribute in the mountain counties. You can hunt wild bear in Tennessee.

Speaking of animals, I believe I have discovered one of the most important reasons why Kentucky and Missouri mules are popular among sharecroppers in the Cotton Belt. Contour plowing, which Dean Thomas Cooper is teaching to Kentucky farmers through his Experiment Station field men and county agents, is practiced by all hill farmers in the Deep South. Sometimes one sees half a dozen cotton or corn patches in one field, all contoured separately to conform with the lay of the land. A horse probably would require a couple of years to learn how to run off the short, crooked rows without making a mess of the job. But a mule? Why, he catches on in ten minutes. He makes a perfect job of running off winding rows on undulating hillsides, and of following the rows with a degree of accuracy that could be expected of no animal but a mule. We have two smart mules to use when one of Dean Cooper's men comes to the Galloway farm to teach us contour farming.

I was in the cotton country thirty years ago, and contour farming was so old then that farmers I talked with could not remember when it was started. But we will learn. Kentucky is marching on.

Since your reporter wrote early last year about practical forestry, two land owners in Henderson county have thinned their trees and cut out all the underbrush. In the last three days we have driven 500 miles in Georgia and Alabama and do not recall a minute outside cities and towns that we were not looking at replanted or thinned out pine forests. If Kentucky has ten thousand acres of well kept forest, Georgia and Alabama have ten million acres. The explanation is simple. The Deep South long since realized that lumber was one of its major cash products and set out to restore and conserve that resource. We Kentuckians have taken our timber for granted, with little thought to really working at conserving it.

As for Southern cities, I don't think anybody could fail to marvel at the progress of such places as Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon, Columbus, Jackson (Tenn.), and Montgomery. They are clean, lively and beautiful. North of what a Southern newspaper humorist calls Smith and Wesson's Line, there are no medium sized cities that surpass the six in the foregoing list.

Thirty-eight Green county farmers have made application for 2,195 pounds of Ky. 31 fescue grass seed.

New York—Hildegard, Wisconsin's gift to Paris and the Persian Room, fluttered into Reuben's the other four a. m. mince up to Manager Joe Marsh and requested, "Une Petite Booth, please," and I don't mean s'il vous plait. The usually obese Joe, a former prizefighter who could and did take unexpected left hooks with sophisticated aplomb, lost his casual managerial air as he marveled at Hildy's furiously permanent continental gab.

Jack Smart, radio's "Fat Man" of the Dashiell Hammett serial, met his sponsor for the first time and he asked how Jack kept his globular figure.

"I suppose you have to keep eating all the time," he said, taking several glances to encompass the heroic Smart facade.

Jack said no, that he dieted pretty constantly to keep from getting even larger than his present 300-odd pounds, and pointed out to the big boss that he uses saccharine instead of sugar—"even in Old Fashioneds," Jack said.

The sponsor, president of a pharmaceutical firm, asked the out-sized ether detective what grain saccharine he preferred, and Jack said he took a quarter grain, split it in two and used the eighth size for coffee or old fashioned. The sponsor thereupon informed Fat Jack that despite the fact that his company did not make the sweet substitute in smaller than quarter size as a usual practice, that he would do a favor and have several thousand pills especially run off at the eighth size for Jack's dietary purposes.

"Imagine," said Smart with a great puff of pride as he told the story, "I'm the first man in history who has ever had saccharine tablets custom tailored!"

Lawrence Welk, orchestra leader who describes his style of tuneful output as "Chamagne Music," says he has an accordion which is the finest in the world but admits it has only one equal, which he says is owned by the Pope—Albert Sharpe of "Finian's Rainbow" won't have to wait the end of his hit show to tilt at Hollywood success.

The elderly Irish player, imported by the producers especially for the name role, has been signed by David O. Selznick to play a part in "Portrait of Jenny," being shot with Jennifer Jones and Joe Citty right here in New York. In the next twelve months, incidentally, at least, ten movies will be filmed in Manhattan or nearby suburbs.

Alumni Banquet

Our little "Cross-road burg" with a couple of stores, garage, school and a few dwellings in sight, is justly proud of one organization here and that's our High School Alumni.

Missed a few meetings during the War but re-organized last year with a fish supper and renewed interest.

Saturday night, May 3, had the first meeting in the new cafeteria with a big banquet and what a banquet! Had the biggest crowd ever and the boys called it a "real feed." Served 220 plates of barbecued pork, vegetables, slabs, ice cream and cake with coffee and tea. Yes, the undertaker was here just in case. Really didn't have enough room in the cafeteria and quite a few were served in the auditorium. You see, I'm trying to make those who were not here, good and hungry.

The program too was one of the best, using, as Bill Bone said, our "talent on the inside" by members and their family, as much as possible.

At the business session, Mrs. Jack Vaden (Swannie) was elected president for next year. Grover Burkett, vice-pres., and Fay Floyd, sec-treas, replacing Bill Bone, Dick Bailey, Mabel Farmer and Oren Hopkins, who did as well job this year assisted by the following committees:

Food—Ludie Bone and Bess Kimbro; Decoration—Addie Bone Schwartz and Evie Jackson. Much praise went to Mrs. Isabelle Jordan and the following juniors who prepared and served the feast: Jean Howell, June Suggs, Bettye Armbruster, Iola Stroud, Maurine Eberhardt, Dot Wilson and Carolyn Jones. The organization voted to invite the Shiloh and Beeler graduates to meet with them in joint-membership.

In addition to the printed program in the "favor booklets" we had a short talk from a member, Rev. W. Ed Dennington, who came from Arcadia, Fla. (accompanied by his wife) to attend the meeting.

We enjoyed him and a dozen others who expressed both praise and appreciation for the school and its alumni. Counting the 18 who enter this year we now have 362 graduates. Eleven and four teachers have passed on.

Those from away attending Saturday night including visitors were Rev. and Mrs. Dennington of Arcadia, Fla., Mrs. Geo. Presbrey (Johnny Montgomery) of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jewell near Paducah, Mrs. Luther Clark, Alton, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John Duke and Mr. and Mrs. James Wheeler of Mayfield, Mrs. Jimmie Moore of Benton and Joe Ward of Spring Hill, ex-teacher, Thomas Hewitt of Water Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Udell Kell of Wingo, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Bazzell and Mr. and Mrs. David Ward Phelps of Fulton, Mrs. Vance Cramb of Nashville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Kaler, Mrs. Clyde Hopkins, Mrs. Mary Byness, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kimbro, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Jackson, and son, Jackie, of Clinton, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hopkins and son, Larry, of Wingo.

Pennis-Foster
Mrs. Fern Pennis of Los Angeles, Calif., arrived here Friday night and became the bride of Ray Foster in a ceremony at the East Clinton parsonage Sunday afternoon, May 4, with Rev. A. B. Rogers officiating.

Mr. Pennis has been residing in California for the past few years, but returned here a few months ago and purchased a milk route. The couple will reside in Clinton.

Inquiry Into Alleged U. S.-Arabian Oil "Deal" May Bring Subpoena Of FDR's Private Papers

Washington, May 9—(AP)—Senate war investigators on the trail of an Arabian oil deal debated today whether to open up Franklin D. Roosevelt's files with a subpoena or rely on President Truman to obtain the information they want.

The late President's executors made it plain they will not voluntarily permit an unrestricted search of his papers.

Chairman Brewster (R-Me.) told newsmen he will discuss with Burton K. Wheeler, the committee's special counsel whether to be satisfied with documents which Mr. Truman has told the executors to provide.

As an alternative, Brewster said, the committee could issue a subpoena requiring the Roosevelt estate to give investigators full access to the files. They are packed in 165 cases weighing 40 to 50 tons.

Earle Koons, attorney for the executors, assured the committee that Mr. Truman has asked for "all letters and documents pertinent to the subject of the inquiry." He said these "are now being gathered together and will be sent intact to the White House."

Solon J. Buck, national archivist, disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt made arrangements two years before his death in April, 1945, to have his papers screened. The idea, Buck said, was to determine "which ones should be withheld from general consultation," mainly "from the standpoint of their possible repercussions on individuals and their reputations."

The papers are in the hands of the executors until they can be turned over to the Roosevelt Memorial Library at Hyde Park. The Congressional resolution establishing the library authorized Buck to make rules governing use of the documents.

So far the only paper the Senate committee has received has been a copy of a letter written by James A. Moffett, oil man and former Federal Housing Administrator, suggesting the Arabian oil deal in 1941.

The letter Moffett wrote Mr. Roosevelt in April, 1941, proposed that the United States pay King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia $6,000,000 a year for five years to help maintain its independent kingdom, hard hit by drought and rising expenses caused by the war.

In return, Moffett said, the Saudi Arabian Standard Oil Company which he represented and which had obtained contracts from Ibn Saud, would sell to United States oil and oil products at low prices.

Noah Webster was inspired by the proceeds from the sale of a spelling book during the years in which he was preparing his dictionary.

Union City Win

Wes Their First

In Three Games

PLAY THERE TONIGHT

The Union City Greyhound club in the last three innings of their game here last night to win from the Chicks 12-7, preventing the Fulton team from making it three victories in a row in the first inter-city series of the city league season.

It was a chilly night for baseball at Fairfield Park, and several shivering spectators kindly draped themselves around the stadium during the two hour and 40-minute game.

The Chicks came back to Union City tonight, and played the Mayfield Braves here for the first time Saturday night, May 10.

Last night Union City's Majerick and Brainerd started the hit parade with singles in their part of the first, and scored on a double by Joe Sadovy. Greyhound first sacker, Brainerd got another hit in the second but died on base, and the Hounds were unable to get a man on base in the third.

Sawright got Fulton's first single in the second, but the Chick centerfielder was trapped at third on a throw from Cooper, Union City pitcher. Gray, Propst and Eldridge scored the first Fulton runs in the third, a three-hit inning for the home towners. Dusty Rhodes made it Fulton 4, Union City 2 in the fourth with a home run. Nobody on base.

Union City's Burnett singled in the fifth and scored on Sadovy's hit to put the Hounds within one point of the Chicks, but Peterson came in for Fulton on Gray's single in the sixth. Peterson and Secrest were hit by pitched balls in that inning.

Fulton's last two markers came in the ninth. Gray and Sawright each drew a base on balls.

and romped home after singles by Peterson and Gill.

The Union Citizens pushed across four runs on two hits and a Fulton error in the seventh, counted twice in the eighth without hitting safely, and brought home three more in the ninth with four hits. Majerick got a double and Brainerd a triple in the last frame.

Wall Street Report

New York, May 9.—(AP)—Associated stocks edged toward recovery in today's market although many leaders continued their downward drift.

Dealings were sluggish from the start. Fractional declines predominated near midday. A little buying here and there was credited to the thought that several issues may have been oversold.

Mild resistance was shown by Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Woolworth, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Westinghouse and J. C. Penney. Lion Oil was up a shade following a split-up proposal.

Glenn Martin and Pennsylvania Railroad recorded new 1947 lows. Backward at intervals were Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, American Water Works, General Electric, Philip Morris, Youngstown Sheet, Northern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio. Bonds and cotton futures were narrow.

Local Jersey Breeders Boast

Nationwide Production Record

Jersey breeders in Northwest Tennessee Parish are doing an outstanding job in the production of milk, according to records published in the current issue of the American Jersey Bulletin. These herds are listed in the Herd Improvement Registry. Each month a disinterested person tests these cows and reports to the University of Tennessee, and thence to the American Jersey Cattle Club.

R. G. Kimberlin, of the Chestnut Glade community, has two cows on test which averaged 1,019 pounds of milk or 46.67 pounds of butterfat for the month.

Miss Lee has consigned one of these cows to the Tennessee State Heifer Sale, and by sale time will have a record of over 700 pounds of butterfat produced in the past 355 days, at the present rate.

National Leaguers Reported Planning Anti-Robinson Strike

New York, May 9.—(AP)—The first story of the purported strike by members of the St. Louis Cardinals against the presence of negro Jackie Robinson in the Brooklyn lineup was published in today's New York Herald-Tribune in a copy righted article by Sports Editor Stanley Woodward.

Woodward wrote that he was publishing the story as a public service. It is factually and substantially correct.

Woodward wrote that the strike plan, "formulated by certain St. Louis players, was instigated by a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers who has since recanted."

The original plan was for a St. Louis club strike on the occasion of the first game in Brooklyn, May 6, in other words last Tuesday. Subsequently the St. Louis players conceived the idea of a general strike within the National League on a certain date. That is what Frick (Ford Frick, president of the National League) and Breckin (Sam Breckin, president of the Cardinals) have been combatting in the last few days.

In Cincinnati, Walter Mulbry, as chief of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, said there would be no comment on the alleged strike threat of the St. Louis Cardinals.

He did say, however, that the Commissioner had received complaints from fans that the Philadelphia Phillies on one occasion had "engaged in unpleasant remarks" directed at Robinson.

Mulbry, who is Chandler's spokesman, said officials of the Philadelphia club were called and the Commissioner was assured the alleged incident would not be repeated. He added that there had been no complaints since.

The Cubs swept a double header from the Phillies in Philadelphia, each by one-run margins. After winning the opener 2-1 behind the nine-hit pitching of Hank Wyse, the Bruins staged a six-run eighth inning rally in the nightcap to overcome an early Philadelphia lead and went on to win 8-7. Andy Pafko's two-run homer, his third of the season, climaxed the rally.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, hero of the 1946 World Series, pitched the Cardinals to a 5-1 victory over the Dodgers in the first night game of the season at Ebbets Field to enable St. Louis to take the rubber game of the three-game series.

Baptists Oppose All Federal Help In Church Schools

St. Louis, May 9.—(AP)—The Southern Baptist Convention, protesting what it described as a "threat to the future of all public schools," went on record today against acceptance of federal aid by church-sponsored schools.

The convention, attended by 7,900 persons from 19 states and the District of Columbia, adopted unanimously a resolution warning all Baptist schools and other institutions against accepting grants of money from the government for any purpose on the grounds it weakened what it termed the traditional wall between the church and state.

Also adopted by the convention yesterday was a resolution deplored the recent Supreme Court decision which upheld $1 to 4 a New Jersey case for use of federal funds to help pay the cost of transporting children to and from parochial schools.

Suicide Simon and Empire Shows Will Be Here Monday

The Magic Empire Shows has been contracted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars to exhibit here Monday through Saturday, May 12-17, at the Clinton Reeds lot.

They carry a number of high-class shows, rides and concessions.

Suicide Simon is the feature free attraction each night. He will dive 100 feet into a tank of five feet of water and 25 gallons of gasoline. The gasoline in the tank is ignited before he jumps, creating an inferno. Simon's clothing also is soaked in gasoline and ignited before the leap. This act will be performed each night of the Fulton engagement.
