Footless Girl Walks First Time

Betty Jean Lampo of Springfield, Ill., who was born without feet, walked proudly for the first time in Chicago May 19, 1947, under surgery to permit fitting of artificial limbs to her shins. Before surgery, Betty, who lived 23rd Street, Chicago, could walk only several steps at a time, said Dr. Kenneth Kelvington, surgery performed May 13 by Dr. Robert W. Kalber. The surgery was described by Dr. Kelvington as "a major operation," and he said he expected the young woman to be able to walk normally in the future.

Telephone Strike Over In Nine Southern States

State Unionists Got Wage Boosts Of $2, $4 Weekly

MAJORITY AT WORK

Atlanta May 15.--The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers voted to return to work in nine Southern States, ending a strike over wages in the South. The strike had lasted six months.

The IBEW vote came after three days of discussions in which the union and the employers engaged in considerate bargaining. The union had been demanding a $2 raise for its members in all Southern States, while the employers were offering only a $1 increase.

The decision of the IBEW to return to work was immediately hailed by the employers as a victory for reason and moderation. They said it demonstrated that labor and management could settle their differences without resorting to violence or strikes.

The strike affected approximately 25,000 workers in the South, including those employed by Bell Telephone Company, Standard Oil Company, and numerous other companies.
