Demos' Labor Bill Unlikely To Be Passed

Senators Call It "Watered Down"; May Suit Truman

Washington, May 12—(AP)—A Democratic substitute for the Senate's omnibus labor bill ran into stiff opposition today from some Democrats as well as Republicans.

Senator George (D-Ga.), spearheading the opposition, called it a "watered down version of no consequence" and predicted that 10 to 15 other Democrats will vote against it.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.), also forecasting its defeat, Senator Ellender (D-La.), who helped draft the omnibus bill, told reporters he thought the substitute would muster no more than 18 to 22 votes.

The substitute, introduced by Senator Murray (D-Mont) and 10 other Democratic party members, proposes few of the sharp restrictions on labor unions that the omnibus bill provides. But Murray said he felt approval of the substitute would forestall the possibility of a presidential veto of labor legislation.

Wants A Huddle
Senator Taft (R-Ohio) Republican policy chief, wants Senate and House leaders to get together on the definite amount of a proposed budget cut before the Senate takes up tax reduction legislation next week.

The House has proposed to whack President Truman's $37,500,000 budget for the 1948 fiscal year by $5,000,000. The Senate voted to trim it by $4,500,000,000 and specified that $2,500,000,000 ought to go toward reduction of the national debt.

Taft told reporters today he felt the two sides should agree on a compromise before the Senate acts on House-approved legislation. He said he would like to know how much the government will be allowed to spend before they vote on the tax measure.

Royal Family Returns Home

British Coronation Scene 10 Years Ago Recalled At End of Africa Visit

London, May 12—(AP)—Through flag-bedecked streets lined with cheering thousands, Great Britain's royal family returned to London from South Africa today with ceremony and splendor recalling the king's coronation exactly ten years ago.

Crowds that began to gather at daybreak occupied every foot of the mile-long route to Buckingham Palace from bunting-draped Waterloo Station, where the royal family was welcomed by Prime Minister Attlee and other government leaders at 12:30 p. m. (4:30 a. m. CST).

Apparently unwearied by their civic reception at Portsmouth earlier in the day, King George, Queen Elizabeth and the two princesses smiled and waved as they rode through Whitehall in an open coach drawn by grey horses with scarlet-clad postillions and a mounted police escort.

It was the capital's first sight of the royal family in three months, and Londoners of high and low estate joined in the welcome home. Members of Parliament stood in Parliament square—where masses of red, yellow and pink tulips glowed—and waved their personal greetings.

One absentee from the welcome throng was L. Philip Mountbatten, former Prince Philip of Greece, whose impending engagement to Princess Elizabeth is taken for granted by all Britons despite official denials.

He was scheduled to give a naval gunnery lecture at Corsham, Wiltshire.

The hearing was scheduled before Police Judge Homer C. McEllen as the outgrowth of what officers called some "fist swinging" in the early morning hours yesterday on a downtown street corner and in the police station holdover.

Miss Barrymore and her husband, John Robert Howard, who a month ago assumed his duties as tennis professional at the Louisville Boat Club, were booked on the police charges.

Livestock Men Pick Paduchan

Horace Owen President Of West Ky. Breeders; Claude Freeman Elected

Horace Owen, of Paduchan, was elected president of the West Kentucky Purebred Livestock Association at a meeting last week in Mayfield. Mr. Owen, operator of a Paduchan laundry and cleaning plant, succeeds George Hart, Murray banker.

The next meeting will be held May 15. An effort will be made then to employ a field man for the organization. W. R. Perry formerly held this position, but resigned last year.

The meeting last week was held at the W. F. Foster farm, where guests enjoyed a barbecue supper. About 80 attended.

The association's quarterly meeting will be held June 12 at Clinton, with Hickman county breeders as hosts.

Waterfield For Cheaper Power In Kentucky

Reviews Record On TVA Question In State House

"I'LL GIVE FACTS"

Louisville—Harry Lee Waterfield, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said in a radio address here Saturday night that he favored an extension of cheap electric power facilities to Kentuckians.

Waterfield, speaker of the state House of Representatives, said he had supported TVA power through two sessions of the legislature and that his opponent, Rep. Earle C. Clements of Morganfield, had opposed such measures while a member of the state Senate.

"The fact that I have fought against the private utility lobby in Kentucky throughout my years of service in the legislature and the fact that my opponent has fought on the side and for that lobby is beyond question or controversy," Waterfield said.

"I am sure you have already detected the effort my opponent has made in his attempt to champion the side of public power and TVA. During this campaign I shall not permit him and his special interest sponsors to cloud the issue of cheap power in Kentucky."

"One can only accurately judge what a man's future course will be by his actions of the past. I shall present the record. The people shall not be fooled and lulled to sleep. The people shall know the facts."

Diana Barrymore, Hubby Held In Louisville "Fist-Swinging"

Louisville, Ky., May 12—(AP)—Diana Barrymore, actress daughter of the late John Barrymore, and her tennis-playing husband faced a court hearing here today on police charges of assault and battery and disorderly conduct.

The hearing was scheduled before Police Judge Homer C. McEllen as the outgrowth of what officers called some "fist swinging" in the early morning hours yesterday on a downtown street corner and in the police station holdover.

Miss Barrymore and her husband, John Robert Howard, who a month ago assumed his duties as tennis professional at the Louisville Boat Club, were booked on the police charges.

Collier Contrall, 25, Was Taken To Memphis; Car May Have Hit Him

Collier Contrall, 25, Austin Springs, Tenn., was found unconscious near Kingston's Store on the Fulton-Dukedom highway at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning with these injuries: broken right arm and leg, crushed ribs, fractured skull, cuts on the face and head, and numerous bruises and lacerations.

How he received the injuries is unknown. It was thought that he had been struck by a hit-and-run driver, but this could not be substantiated.

Tommie Latham saw Contrall lying near the highway, and notified state Highway Patrolmen, who took him to the Fulton Hospital. Contrall was taken to Veterans Hospital in Memphis at 6:30 last night.

He is a nephew of Mrs. Shelby Roberts, Cleveland avenue, Fulton.

"Tiger Woman" Killer of 1931 A gain Escapes Mental Hospital

Phoenix, Ariz., May 12—(AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd, who killed two women and shipped their dismembered bodies to Los Angeles in a trunk in 1931, escaped today from the state hospital for the insane. Dr. John A. Larson, superintendent, announced.

It was her third escape from the institution since she was saved from execution by being adjudged insane.

Her escape from a second floor cell-room was discovered by an attendant at 12:30 a. m. She was last seen at 9 p. m. last night.

Dr. Larson used the word "convivance" in explaining escape of the 43-year-old murderer.

He said she was believed to have used a key which opened two doors, one on the second floor—which allowed her to descend a stairway—and another on the ground level.

President Truman, accompanied by his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman, leave the home of their mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman, 94, in Grandview, Mo., following a Mother's Day visit by the President.

Death Rides On The Highways; He Was Near In Obion Smashups

Here I've been wasting my time worrying about the atomic bomb when all the time death is right here close to us. Our highways are running with blood. Listen to this.

Here goes this car driven by a negro, licker-split down the highway from Union City towards Kenton Sunday night—and here comes this other car driven by a white man, smooth like, up the road from Kenton. Bang! Just like that. The two cars smack up head on. It is reported the negro was crazy drunk. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Curry and two children, seven and four, are riding in the north-bound car. The negro is named B. Robinson and he lives in Trenton, Tenn.

There is a mighty tearing sound as the cars cave in. The car with the white people in it is pushed off the road and hits a tree down by the side of a creek. Hitting a tree is mostly bad business, but this particular tree is all that keeps the car out of water that is about 15 feet deep. Mrs. Curry is cut under the chin and suffers a burst knee-cap; the children suffer minor injuries, and Mr. Curry escapes with bruises.

Two unidentified white men appear upon the scene and are very much displeased to see this drunken negro in good shape after he has messed up these other people the way he has.

Well, son, draw up a chair, there's more coming. Mrs. Richard Cole, as nice a lady as you can find any place, who lives out in the Crystal community in Obion county, is riding along in a pickup truck with her husband. The lights on this pickup are on the blink—perhaps I should say the blinky-blink, for that is what they are doing—blinking on and blinking off. Right in the middle of one big blink—there you have it—right in the middle of a ditch.

Mrs. Cole was thrown forward and her head struck the top of the windshield. A windshield is as bad as an Indian on the war-path. Mrs. Cole was almost scalped. She also suffered other injuries and lost a lot of blood. I don't know if you ever saw a scalp torn off. I have. Son, the head underneath bleeds something awful at first. It just oozes out. This isn't pretty language, but death and injury aren't pretty characters. They are nasty.

It's getting so death is a hitch-hiker in nearly every car on the roads. He rides there right besides you. Turn your head for a minute and he will smack you in the back of the head.

The moral to this story, son, is don't go riding carelessly and too fast unless you want six good strong men to walk along beside you when they park you for the last time.

There's a gate on the north side of the hospital grounds was found open, Dr. Larson said.

Officers immediately were sent to bus stations, the airport and railroad station as a widespread search for the "Tiger Woman" got under way.

However, it was considered possible that an automobile might have been waiting outside the grounds for the red-haired former nurse.

Marshall Asks Not To Testify On Unification

Still Believes Armed Merger Is Essential To U. S.

SENATE HAS QUESTION

Washington, May 12—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall, while asking to be relieved of further testimony because of his diplomatic status, nevertheless holds to his belief as a soldier that army-navy unification is "essential."

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) released a letter containing Marshall's views today as the Senate Armed Services Committee headed for a showdown on the hotly disputed merger issue.

Shying from public forecast of committee sentiment, Gurney said only that he expects the pending bill to be cleared to the Senate floor by the end of the week.

One committee member, however, who asked not to be named, predicted that "not more than three of the 13 Senators who have been listening to conflicting testimony for eight weeks would oppose the unification plan."

But even if that happens the prospect for final Congressional action this year is remote. The House Expenditures Committee still is in the midst of its own hearings, and the two-year-old issue was omitted from the list of legislative matters marked down as "must" at the last meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Marshall, while serving as Army chief of staff, gave enthusiastic support to the original merger plan which was bitterly opposed by Navy leaders last session. Gurney asked him to testify again this session on the compromise version supported by both Army and Navy leaders.

The Secretary of State replied, however, "I do not under the existing circumstances—my present position think it advisable for me to further participate in this discussion."

But, Marshall added: "I will reaffirm my previous position regarding this issue that legislation for unification of the armed forces, in my opinion, is essential."

The present unification bill was drafted by Army, Navy and Air force heads under a White House directive to compromise their previous differences.

Dean Acheson Resigns Post

R. A. Lovett Is Successor; State Undersecretary To Re-Enter Law Practice

Washington, May 12—(AP)—Dean Acheson resigned today as Undersecretary of State and President Truman appointed Robert A. Lovett to replace him June 30.

Lovett, a New York banker, is a former assistant Secretary of War.

In disclosing the changes, the White House made public a letter in which Mr. Truman wrote Acheson of his "great regret" that "I can not again ask you to put aside your desire to return to private life."

Acheson has long sought to resign and return to private law practice. Presidential press secretary Charles G. Ross announced Mr. Truman's selection of Lovett as Acheson's successor.

Lovett's nomination will be sent to the Senate sometime this week. While Lovett will not take over his post until July 1, it is understood that he will work with Acheson in advance of that time to acquaint himself with many problems with which Acheson has dealt.

The President's letter paid tribute to Acheson's "high sense of public duty" for keeping on the job for the past two years at President's request "despite the personal sacrifice it has meant to you."

"I can easily appreciate the reasons which impelled your desire to return to private life as embodied in your letter written as long ago as April 17, 1946, and in another letter the year before," Mr. Truman's letter said.

Phone Strikers Total 185,000 In Sixth Week

Union Members Still Refusing To Cross Lines

MORE NEGOTIATIONS

New York, May 12—(AP)—The coast-to-coast telephone strike entered its sixth week today with an estimated 185,000 members of unions affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers still on strike.

Their refusal to cross picket lines of still striking unions kept many thousands away from their jobs, but in San Francisco the CIO American Communications Association, declaring the NFW strike "has been broken," announced that its 12,000 members in northern California and Nevada would return to work. At St. Louis, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company announced the latest demand of the Southwestern Telephone Workers Union (Ind) was "not acceptable." The union last night asked for a $25 weekly wage increase, with allowances bringing it to approximately $6, plus action on 20 of its original 89 contract demands.

The company early yesterday had rejected the union's demand for an across-the-board hike of $6, with other adjustments, saying it would cost $13.65 per week for employees to meet the demand.

The 15,000-member Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers declined a company offer of a $4 across-the-board increase. Negotiations will be resumed in Washington late today between Western Electric Company and the National Association of Telephone Equipment Workers.

While picket lines maintained by the equipment workers have kept workers off the job in many places, the New York local announced it was removing pickets today from the Bell Telephone laboratories in Manhattan, where 1,000 members of the Telephone Laboratories Union are returning to work under a $4 weekly increase wage agreement.

In Atlanta Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company reported today that "a little better than half" of the 39,000 operators who joined in the nation-wide telephone strike had returned to their jobs.

The company said members of the Southern Federation of Telephone Workers, who signed a new contract last Friday night, reported for duty today except where members of the National Association of Telephone Equipment Workers maintained picket lines.

The Southern Federation announced when it called off its strike that members would observe picket lines thrown up by Western Electric employees.

Southern Bell operates in the nine states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi and Kentucky.

Henry's Answer

President Truman received a reassuring vote of confidence last week when his $400,000,000 Greece-Turkey aid bill was passed by Congress. The vote was not entirely along party lines, of course, since the Republicans are presently in the majority. Practical-minded Democrats and Republicans joined forces in the endorsement of the President's program.

This was more than a routine vote of confidence in the chief executive, and Secretary of State Marshall. It answered Henry Wallace's personal attacks on Mr. Truman. Many people all over the world doubtless were wondering just how much weight Mr. Wallace carried in his own country. They know now, by some other yardstick than the former vice-president's own statements.

At the risk of sounding like the fellow who said Noah Webster agreed with him in spelling, the decision of Congress agreed with our ideas on the Greece-Turkey bill. Congress guaranteed the financial aid desperately needed by the two troubled nations, and assured the United States that every possible precaution will be taken to see that the money we send will be spent properly—not diverted into the hands of those who do not agree with our political philosophy.

Some, notably Henry Wallace, see a threat of war with Russia in our sending this financial aid. We don't. On the contrary, we think it is well for the United States to serve notice on the Kremlin that the expansion of its sphere of influence has gone far enough. A halt must be called somewhere, or we will be swallowed up, even as smaller, nearer states have been. Russia is in no physical or psychological condition to start a war with us. Certainly, we don't want to fight her. Placing our cards on the table should help to clear the air in international political circles.

Among Those Present

Dr. Gallup's quick check of church attendance last Sunday caught fifty-five per cent of the members absent, and the women present didn't lead the men as much as night; have been expected—only two per cent above the average.

The thirty to forty-nine age group, a period in life strongly marked by increasing executive and parental responsibilities, was best represented in the pews. Congregations included nearly half the members with college educations and those living on farms. High school graduates and residents of cities of over 100,000 population came next in percentages.

Of course, if farm residents refer to everyone in an unincorporated area, city church attendance is broken down into denominations and the percentage of church membership in each group is brought in for comparison, the situation may be more or less encouraging than Dr. Gallup portrays. That is something, it would seem, for each congregation to investigate in its own parish or the equivalent. (Louisville Times).

On The House

Wadderson, Eng.—(P)—The members of Wadderson's fire company were so efficient at keeping their equipment in order that the chief decided to buy a drink for all hands as a reward.

While the chief was standing treat at a local pub, fire broke out in the first station and destroyed all the equipment.

Welcome (?) Appearance

Walborn, Kas.—(P)—Hearing that Glenn Masterson, 11, had fallen in a pond, 20 Wellborn volunteer firemen sped to his father's farm yesterday with a rescuer.

The pond, nine feet deep, balked efforts at rescue by wading, so the men feverishly tore a break in the dam with crowbars, spades and ralls to drain the pond.

As the water flowed out, Glenn came trudging down a road.

"Gee," he exclaimed, "you're looking for me?"

This Sensitive World

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson's forthright speech on America's obligations in assisting world recovery provides us with an excellent illustration of just how sensitive this chaotic old world of ours is to authoritative comment on economic and political affairs.

Acheson's statement was made before businessmen and farmers under auspices of the Delta Council at Cleveland, Miss., without fanfare, and yet within a matter of hours it was producing international repercussions—some favorable and others hostile. Among points made by the Undersecretary were these:

America "must push ahead with the reconstruction of those two great workshops of Europe and Asia—Germany and Japan—upon which the ultimate recovery of the two continents so largely depends." She must take as large a volume of imports as possible to narrow the financial gap between what the world needs and what it can pay. She must undertake further emergency financing of foreign purchases, and her emergency aid must be concentrated in areas where it will be most effective in building political and economic stability and promoting democracy.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said his country welcomed the proposal that the United States increase imports to bolster international trade. He figured Acheson's analysis of global economic problems was "far-sighted and wise." The London Times was more cautious and expressed the view that the Under Secretary's proposal that reconstruction of Germany and Japan should be pushed ahead was a controversial one.

And sure enough the Times was right, for the Paris Communist newspaper L'Humanite came out with a blast which expressed the hope that next year's V-E Day celebration "would not see a Germany transformed into a factory that is Europe's arsenal." The paper also declared:

"We did not fight this war to alienate the independence of most of the European nations by fostering the economic expansionism of the United States. More and more Americans, and not only Henry Wallace, view such a policy not only as dangerous but even as an absurd one."

The Moscow magazine New Times also dealt editorially with the politico-economic situation, though apparently not in answer to Acheson. In the course of a long article the New Times said:

"The mongers of a new war, as Henry Wallace put it, keep the kettle of hostility towards the Soviet Union at the boiling point. The imperialistic circles of the Anglo-Saxon countries are building bigger plans for their expansion, plans for economic and political enslavement of foreign peoples."

The plan for economic reconstruction of Japan and Germany naturally will encounter much opposition, partly because of fear of further aggression and partly because of lack of understanding of how essential these two countries are to the economies of Asia and Europe. We shouldn't overlook, too, that it might serve the political aims of some nations to keep the Reich and Japan from resuming their former positions.

It really isn't so strange that many people in Europe and Asia should fail to understand that world recovery depends so heavily on the early rehabilitation of Germany and Japan. Never before has there been such a demonstration of the indispensability of these "two great workshops," for World War One left them relatively sound. Moreover, the first world upheaval produced no such general chaos as the last.

However, America and Britain are among the nations recognizing that it is imperative to restore Germany and Japan economically, while rendering them incapable of waging further war. And the signs are that the Anglo-American pair will proceed with the rehabilitation independently if nobody else wants to join in the task.

Introducing The Chicks

Jake Prospt, 23-year-old Chick first baseman, calls Columbus, Miss., home. Jake is 6 ft. tall, weighs 175 this season, has brown curly hair and is single.

He was late in getting to Fulton last year, playing only the last two months of the 1946 campaign, but he was on hand at the start of training this year and has started every game to date.

Jake was discharged from the Air Corps last May, after serving four years. A captain, he piloted a P-47, and managed to play some baseball while overseas.

Chix Divide Two Contests With Mayfield

Lost 7-5 Game Here Saturday, Won 9-8 Sunday

PLAYED 11 INNINGS

Playing errorless ball in their first Kitty League game against the Chicks, Mayfield's Browns capitalized on 12 hits and six Fulton errors here Saturday night to win 7-5.

The Chicks came back Sunday afternoon, however, with a 9-8 decision over the Browns in an 11-inning game at Fairfield Park, the first extra-frame contest of the current season.

Saturday night Mayfield pushed across three runs in the first inning on three safe hits, but the Chicks equaled this mark in the second and added two more in the third. Mayfield counted twice more in the fourth, and scored another brace of runs in the sixth while holding Fulton to goose eggs on the score sheet.

Fulton's infield was shifted around Saturday night. Buck was at short, Propst moved from first to third, Peterson came in from the field to play first, and Rhodes went to right field for Peterson.

The Chicks' winning run in the 11th inning of Sunday's game was scored by Peterson after Gill, first Fulton batter, was put out. Peterson singled, Rhodes walked, and Lis drove in the clinching score with a one-base blow. Ed Engel relieved Whitey Lynch on the mound for Fulton, and was the winning pitcher. Gill hit the only homer of the game in the seventh inning with none on.

VFW Nine Loses 3-1 At Jackson Before 1500 Fans

Before 1500 fans at Jackson, Tenn., yesterday afternoon, Fulton's VFW nine lost a hard luck game to the Jackson Independents, 3-1.

Going into the eighth inning the teams were deadlocked at 0-0 in what appeared to be a pitchers' duel between Ruddle of Fulton and Koffman of Jackson. Fulton scored one run in the top half of the eighth and Jackson came back to luck in 3 runs when a Fulton infielder fell down in making a play.

Wellons, Alexander and Ayers touched Koffman for the only three hits he allowed while striking out two in nine innings. Ruddle, who went all the way, struck out nine and was hit safely only four times. Panal tallied Fulton's lone run.

A CHALLENGE TO THE CLASS OF '47

Your country needs you now. The future of a free America may rest on your decision.

There is no Draft today to put you in the Army. Yours is the first class since 1940 that faces a free choice. But with that freedom, as with every freedom, goes responsibility.

The nation has put the maintenance of a strong, alert, defensive force squarely up to you. This is the only country in the world that dares to raise and maintain a million-man Army by voluntary enlistment, in the American tradition. The duty of keeping our Army ready for emergencies is shared by every citizen—for never before, in peacetime, has the need for it been greater.

Our freedom, our ideals, the safety of our homes and families, depend on a world peace backed by firmness and justice. It's your Army now—yours to keep strong.

Joining the Army as a volunteer may mean some sacrifice to you. On the other hand, you have much to gain from the experience. Sound physical condition, training in leadership, world travel and adventure, the comradeship of a fine group of young men, a job with a real future at better pay than you can get in most civilian work—all these make the Army an excellent career for young men who can measure up to its high standards. And in addition you will be entitled to educational benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, if you enlist before Congress officially terminates the war.

Before making your decision, get the full story of this career opportunity at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station.
