Parkway Routing Changed; Residents Demand Reason

The route of the Purchase Parkway in the Water Valley area made the news again this week when some 75 persons signed petitions to Kentucky Highway officials seeking to learn why the routing recommendations made by the consulting engineers have been changed by state highway engineers.

Charging that the change of site plans means that several farms will be "cut up" even more than they would have been had the site not been changed, the petitioners appear to find little comfort in the explanation by highway officials in Frankfort that the route must be shifted because the original site is in a "boggy area."

"Until we are satisfied that the change was not made to satisfy political friends of the Administration in Frankfort, we are going to fight to the last ditch," one of the petition signers told the News on Wednesday.

The complainants say the new proposed site also is in a boggy area. They say they have attempted to point out this fact to the proper officials.

The parkway once was scheduled to run about two miles north of Water Valley. But recently, property owners were told the site would be a half-mile farther north of Water Valley.

Property owners contend, the spokesman said, that the first boggy area could have been skipped by merely moving the right-of-way about 400 feet closer toward highway 45.

A little over three miles of the proposed roadway must be shifted under the new plan, a property owner in the area of the new route told the News.

Under the plan submitted by the consulting engineers only one farm would have been lost, a spokesman for the group said. The new plan will result in badly dividing at least five farms, necessitating the removal and sale of many homes and farm buildings.

The path of the proposed parkway made the News earlier this year when a group of land-owners affected by the routing gathered to protest against the new highway, and toll roads in general. A landowner who protested vehemently that the routing would destroy his life-long dream to have a fishing camp on his property, took his case all the way up to Highway Commissioner Henry Ward and Governor Edward T. Breathitt.

As routed now the parkway route does not touch the area where the fishing camp is proposed.

What a week!

Things have been happening so fast and furiously that the faster I move, the behinder I get. It all started last week when the human dynamo of Alberto Martinez-Fonts of Ecuadoriana Airlines arrived in Fulton to make final plans for the entourage going to Ecuador next week. He stayed two days.

Alberto has enough energy to keep a hundred people moving in perpetual motion, so you can imagine what working with him constantly means for a person all jobs bogged down with too many jobs.

If any of you called and couldn't get me last week, please understand. I got to the point where even long distance calls gave me the jitters . . . from Miami, from Washington, from Frankfort, Louisville, Ormond Beach, Staunton, Va. and points east and west and north and south. I even got ashamed of saying "hello" to the operator.

But I think all is under control now. We've got everybody's picture, travel, biography, small-pox vaccinations and I hope birth certificates in order. Thanks be for all small favors and larger ones in proportion.

In addition to all this, and most important of all of course, is getting Mary Jo ready for Easter and for her trip with us to South America. Bless her heart, she is so understanding. And thanks again dear Lord for making her pass her driver's test. You can't imagine what that means to busy people.

I felt at times like Allie Jenkins. I had the pleasure of sitting across the table from her and her nice husband last week at the meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary. I marvelled at Allie's being able to attend so many meetings and always bringing something delicious to add to those wonderful pot luck menus.

When asked her recipe for her ability to do so much, Allie said: "I don't know. I belong to everything around here but the Volunteer Fire Department, but I manage to find out where the fire is whether I can go or not."

Teen-age Guidance

I sure hope I can find time today (Thursday) to accept an invitation from Brother Riley Lawrence, president of the Ministerial Association to attend an advance showing of "The Restless Ones," at the Fulton Theatre at 9:30 a. m.

The movie is about the problems parents face in steering the proper course for their young children to follow in the light of the many temptations they encounter.

No matter how much we think we know about handling our own children, the quote from Abraham Lincoln is never more appropriate, said he:

"If we could first know where we are and whither we are tending, . . . we could better judge what to do and how to do it."

We're Proud!

We felt so proud of our hometown and our youngsters this week when we read in the Louisville Courier-Journal that Meredith Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Miller was one of the two Kentucky students who carried the

Department of State
AIRGRAM

TO:
BOGOTA, EL SALVADOR, GUATEMALA CITY, PANAMA CITY, MEXICO CITY, QUITO, SAN JOSE, SANTO DOMINGO, TEUCUCALPA

FROM:
Department of State
SUBJECT:
EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL EXCHANGE: Possible Participation of Grantees in the Fourth International Banana Festival at Fulton, Kentucky.

REF:
This is to inform the addressee post that the Fourth International Banana Festival will be held this year in Fulton, Kentucky from September 27 to October 1. The Department has given moral support to this Festival in previous years as witnessed by the attendance at it of Ambassadors Harriman and Coerr. It has also been attended by Latin American diplomatic figures posted to the United States.

This circular is to suggest that the posts may wish to arrange the timing of some of their grants, whether for Educational

Taking the cue from the late President John F. Kennedy that the Alliance for Progress is designed to transform hope into reality for millions of Latin-Americans, the people of Fulton, Kentucky and South Fulton, Tennessee have organized themselves into a "do-it-yourself-State Department."

Wary of battling the bureaucracy in Washington's diplomatic circles for financial assistance to further the goals of President Kennedy's program, the Kentucky-Tennessee community feels that it has accomplished more in its two years of privately-financed diplomacy than the millions, maybe billions of dollars spent by this country in slow-moving programs.

While the organization spearheading the move to bring about Good Neighbor understanding and friendships in Latin-America solicits disbeliever among the striped pants diplomatic corps, the International Banana Festival to be staged for the fourth consecutive year this Fall, has made such giant accomplishments via the personal diplomacy route that even Secretary of State Dean Rusk has joined in the effort to assist with its international program of goodwill.

An Airgram was recently dispatched to all out-posts in the banana-producing countries of Central and South America by Secretary Rusk calling attention to this year's event and urging Latin-Americans to attend where they "will be well received and perhaps can associate themselves with the exhibits of their particular countries."

The endorsement by Secretary Rusk joins that of Undersecretary of State for Political Affairs Averel Harriman, Ambassador Wymberley Coerr, American Ambassadors to Ecuador; Ambassadors Jose Correa of Ecuador and Gonzalo Fiasco of Costa Rica, David Bronheim, deputy United States coordinator for the Alliance for Progress, Gustavo Polit, minister-counselor for economic affairs of Ecuador, Governor Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky and Governor Frank Clement of Tennessee, and Senator and Mrs. John Sherman Cooper, all of whom have attended past Festivals.

Starting out in November 1963 as a mammoth undertaking to call attention to the fact that Fulton, Kentucky-Tenn. is the "Banana Crossroads of America," the organization's dedicated attempts to make friends with the banana-producing countries of Central and South America has been so successful that a group of 31-persons is departing from Miami on April 13 to visit Ecuador as official guests of the country.

Members of the entourage will pay their own expenses.

The Ecuadorian visit will include Mr. and Mrs. Field McChesney of Frankfort, who will personally represent Governor Breathitt and Tom Hensley of Jackson, Tenn. who will personally represent Governor Clement.

The visit is a return call to the many people in Quito and Guayaquil who were guests of the Banana Festival last year. Almost 40 students, from five banana-producing countries spent two weeks in the twin cities as guests in the private homes of the city. The students attended classes with their new found American friends; they learned to eat hot dogs and hamburgers; swing to the frug and the watusi and found that "dating" in the twin cities, was something "out of this world."

Two of the students from Guayaquil who attended the Festival last year are in Fulton today attending classes at the Fulton schools. It's school vacation time in Ecuador, but the students said that "attending school in America, even during our vacation is one of the greatest pleasures we've ever known."

The persons making the trip, in addition to the official representatives of Kentucky and Tennessee and Miss Vicki Hurd, International Banana Festival princess, who is in school at Mary Baldwin College in Staunton, Virginia, and Miss Cynthia Clark, first alternate in the Miss Alaska contest of Anchorage, Alaska, are:

Mrs. Paul Westpheling, president, W. P. Burnette and Carl Puckett, Jr., members of the board, International Banana Festival; Rex Ruddle, mayor of South Fulton; Paul Westpheling, Mary Jo Westpheling, Mrs. Corinne Burnette, Ruth Ann Burnette, Gid Willingham, Mrs. Monette Willingham, Mrs. Louise Killebrew, Miss Gertrude Murphy, Mrs. Hilda Baker, J. Enoch Campbell, Rev. John Bradley, Mrs. Mildred Freeman, Harry Williams, Mrs. Emily Dame, all of Fulton and South Fulton; Mrs. Sara Kirkland of Union City; Mercer Lee Price, president of Price Foundation of Ormond Beach, Fla.; George Lane, also of Ormond Beach; Miss Philippa Snewin of London, England; Goebel B. Henson of Wingo; Mrs. Field McChesney of Frankfort; L. M. McCuan and Miss Jean Dorothy McCuan of Dyersburg, and Jerry Ball of Charlotte, N. C.

Davie Hired Again, But Political Winds Blowing

J. T. (Turney) Davie wasn't out of work long enough to become a statistic in the unemployment figures. The former sheriff was dismissed on March 15 from his duties as county road supervisor, with all four magistrates voting against him.

Davie was re-hired as county road supervisor this week.

Oddly enough the same magistrates unanimously hired him on January 4. Following his dismissal on March 15 not even Fiscal Court Judge John Cruse could give any reason for the change of heart by the magistrates. But Judge Cruse did know one thing . . . that is that he was categorically in favor of Davie at the beginning, in the middle and during the latest development.

In the re-employment three of the magistrates voted for him; only Roy Nethery, representing the First Magisterial District voted against the on-again, off-again employment pattern.

One magistrate, when asked why he favored Davie's dismissal on March 15 then voted to re-hire this week said: "For harmony . . ."

And that's the same reason the magistrates gave for firing him.

Perhaps the most revealing observation made by one of the magistrates, and told to a News reporter is this:

"Turney Davie has always been identified with the Chandler-Waterfield faction of the Democratic Party. Judge Cruse was elected by a combination of political factions, mostly Administration. But Judge Cruse thinks the anti-Administration forces are going to keep him in office . . . so he's sticking with them." Every time it looks like the winds change in next year's Governor's race the magistrates change their political loyalty.

Turney might get fired again for all I know," he said.

Senator Cooper Seeks Re-Election To Senate

Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky will run for reelection.

Senator Cooper was first elected to the United States Senate in 1946. His victory majority of almost 200,000 in 1960, the last time he ran, set a state record until the 1964 election.

As a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, which has jurisdiction over all agriculture programs and REA, he has won a position as the leader in supporting and protecting the barley and dark tobacco programs so important to Kentucky farmers. His Committee is now considering the Food for Freedom proposal—the proposal to guide farm production into lines which will provide a better income for farm families, and will emphasize the importance of our food production in the field of foreign relations.

He is the ranking Republican on the Senate Public Works Committee, the committee which has jurisdiction over flood control, public works development programs, all highway legislation and the Appalachian program, which he joined in sponsoring. As the ranking member, he has a vote on the Senate Appropriations Committee's public works subcommittee.

Senator Cooper also is a member of the Select Committee on Small Business, which works on legislation designed to help the small businessman in big and little towns survive and thrive.

Kentucky's senior senator, he is a member of the Senate Rules Committee. During the "Bobby Baker" hearings, Senator Cooper decided that the committee was not developing all of the facts it needed, and he convinced the Senate to set up a Committee on Standards and Ethics. He was named to that committee.

We Agree With Fulton Merchant That Every Citizen Know Community Facts; Here Are Kentucky's

One of our most progressive merchants in Fulton is constantly reminding us that if the communications media in our vicinity would conduct a continuing educational program concerning the vital statistics of our area, our quest for industry would be greatly enhanced.

We agree whole-heartedly. There's a problem, however, of doing the research on these statistics, what with the small staffs all of us have in these parts.

The kind of information the merchant suggests that every citizen should know is similar to the release that came to our desk this week from the Kentucky Petroleum Council. The facts deal with Kentucky, as a State.

The same information would be valuable for Tennessee; certainly it would be interesting and important too, if we could get the information similar to the facts below for Fulton, Kentucky and South Fulton, Tennessee.

If somebody is willing to gather the facts, one thing is for sure, we're willing to publish them.

Here are some of the more interesting facts about Kentucky you may or may not recall. Keep them for future reference.

KENTUCKY . . . from the Wyandot Indian word Kah-ten-tah-teh translated "Land where we will live tomorrow" or "Land of Tomorrow."

STATE FLAG - In 1918 the General Assembly authorized a state flag, but it was not until ten years later that a flag conforming to these specifications was made and approved. This first State Flag of Kentucky may be seen in the museum of the Kentucky Historical Society in Frankfort. A reproduction of the official state flag was made a part of the Kentucky statutes by the 1962 General Assembly. Its basic color is navy blue.

STATE SEAL - The official seal of the Commonwealth was described in a bill passed by the General Assembly on December 20, 1792, a little over six months after Kentucky joined the Union. The seal shows two friends embracing each other, with the words "Commonwealth of Kentucky" over their heads and around them the words "United We Stand, Divided We Fall." By custom (and now in conformity with the description of the flag contained in the statutes), two sprigs of goldenrod in bloom are shown in the lower portion of the seal. Colors of the seal are blue and gold.

NICKNAME - Kentucky is called the "Bluegrass State" because of the abundant growth of bluegrass on its rich limestone soil. Fields of bluegrass at times have a bluish-green hue.

STATE TREE - The Tulip Poplar. It produces a pinkish-yellow bloom and is abundant throughout the state. For years Eastern Kentucky supplied the world's market with poplar lumber. In some sections of the state the tulip poplar rivals the white oak in size.

STATE FLOWER - The Goldenrod. One of the most widespread of American wild flowers, it was designated as the official state flower by a joint resolution of the General Assembly on March 16, 1926.

POPULATION - 3,038,156 according to 1960 U. S. Bureau of Census Report.

CAPITAL - Frankfort, established 1786. Because the State Capital in 1792.

AREA - 40,395 square miles.

MOTTO - United We Stand, Divided We Fall.

COLORS - Blue and Gold.

BIRD - Kentucky Cardinal.

FISH - Kentucky Bass.

If Your Congressman Doesn't Value Your Point Of View, Why Not Rate Yourself As Constituent

Every businessman should ask himself the question, "How does my Congressman rate ME?" He should be concerned not only with how his Congressman is rated on votes he casts but how his Congressman rates him.

While a Congressman tries to represent all his constituents, acknowledge all inquiries, listen to all views, he (like everybody else) turns to his associates for advice and gives closer attention to the views of his friends, particularly those who worked for his election.

Rep. Edwin Edwards (D-La.) at a "Meet Your Congressman" session in Lake Charles, La., recently told a group of business leaders:

"You are wondering why your point of view isn't getting across very well with elected officials. Let me ask you a few questions. How many of you have passed out cards for candidates? How many of your wives have addressed envelopes for political circulars, or answered telephones at campaign headquarters? How many of you went up to a candidate who shared your views, and said, "I think the way you do, and I think you'll make a good public official. Here's $200 to help in your campaign?"

"Well, the people who believe just the opposite from you . . . have done all of these things. They are successful because they work harder at it. They are better organized. If you want your views to prevail, you can't do it by sitting in a corner and counting your profits. You have to become involved. You have to work. You have to contribute time and money."

George Clemenceau, premier of France during World War I, made the famous statement that war is too important to leave to the generals, perhaps politics is too important to leave to the politicians.

POETRY CORNER

THE THINGS THAT MAKE A MAN

The things that make a man a prince,
The kind that we would be,
Are character and common sense
And true humility.

The thing that make a noble life,
The kind that really lives,
Is always putting others first,
The kind of life that gives.

The reasons each great man has grown
Are not what we can see;
But little seeds of kindness sown,
Unknown by you and me.

The things that make him big and tall
Are not the inches to his frame;
But love for neighbor, one and all;
The fairness of his game.

The kind of life that blesses us,
That makes our days worthwhile,
Is one that never makes a fuss,
But goes the second mile.

The person who is most reverend,
Of whom we never tire,
Is he who has become endeared,
The kind we all admire.

The thing when all is said and done,
That makes a man a man,
Is not the races that he won,
But why and how he ran.

books and libraries to the National growth and prosperity."

—EASTER GREETINGS FROM THE LIBRARY—

Through the centuries the Christian Church has celebrated the festival of the Resurrection with songs of joy and praise. All nature seems to rejoice with the Church on this "Day of Days" in the Christian year. The recurring miracle of green growing things becomes a symbol of the Easter Victory.

HOW TO PROTECT OUR FIGHTING MEN IN VIET NAM

by Dr. N. Burnett Magruder

This is not an attempt to say what Washington should do in the way of military strategy. Our concern here is to set forth a spiritual strategy which can be applied by all the American people—a strategy which will insure maximum protection for men in Viet Nam and will make certain their sacrifices are not IN VAIN.

1. WE MUST OBTAIN THE PROVIDENCE AND PROTECTION OF JESUS CHRIST AS THE ONLY RIGHTFUL LORD AND SOVEREIGN OF OUR NATION.

In 1863 Lincoln called a divided nation to fasting and prayer, in these memorable words:

"Whereas it is the duty of nations as well as men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God . . . and to recognize the sublime truth announced in Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that THOSE NATIONS ARE BLESSED WHOSE GOD IS THE LORD."

This is the key phrase—whose God is the Lord. By the decree of Almighty God, His Son Jesus Christ has been established as the only rightful Lord of all nations and by His righteousness, all laws and all just governments are ordained.

Letters of Interest

April 4, 1966

Dear Friends:

Thank you so much for your part in bringing before the public the facts in regard to the organization of the South Fulton Methodist Church. We want every person that is not attending a church to know of this endeavor and without your help this could not have been accomplished.

As we go into the final week of organization these are a few additional facts:

1. We now have seventy-six pledged charter members, only twenty-four short of our goal of a hundred which was set for April 10.

2. We started out twelve short weeks ago with only 27.

3. Large cash donations are being received from interested non-members and are being placed into a building fund to assist when that building program is started unless otherwise directed. Other gifts from non-members are a communion service and baptismal chalice; fresh flowers for the altar every week and additional song books for the increased attendance; an altar rail donated and pews from the Riceville Methodist Church and the Trinity Methodist Church in Paris, Tennessee; stationery and printed envelopes; the cleaning and carpenter work.

4. The temporary church building was donated by Stanley Jones on Broadway in South Fulton.

5. The church will officially become a church Sunday, April 10, when Paris District Superintendent E. J. Diggs will hold the service for the pastor, Dan E. Underwood. Charter memberships will be accepted up to and including the Sunday morning service at nine o'clock, April 10.

6. This has been a wonderful movement, which has made a place of worship available to those who were in some cases not attending a church anywhere, some who had not attended for years, and still others that were driving some distance to reach a church of their faith.

7. We do not feel that it is in good taste to release the names of the pledged charter members; however, the people teaching Sunday School classes are W. W. Jettison, Sunday School superintendent, with teachers Janie Barber, Marvin Cardwell, Betty Cardwell, Marjory Walker, James Robey, Rev. Paul Cates, Madge Patterson and Mrs. Jerry Davis. Memberships will always be welcome, but charter memberships will close April 10.

Thanks,

The exhibit was arranged by Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, professor of classics at UK, who received the books from the State Lenin Library in Moscow. In exchange, the Russian library received sets of the prize-winning volumes selected in the 1964 Southern and Midwestern book competitions in this country.

OUR CHRISTIAN —

dailed. If we recognize Him and His right to rule over us, then we can hope and expect His intervention in the affairs which pertain to our future.

Yes, we can expect His intervention even in affairs pertaining to war. We do not hold with the Presbyterian minister in Louisville who recently told his congregation:

"I happen to believe that God does not stand on our side in Viet Nam—that He has never stood on our side—nor on anyone else's for that matter."

This same minister stated with real consistency that "men are outgrowing the concept of a Sovereign and immediate God."

This minister and others like him have rejected the God of the Bible and the God of our history. If the American people should heed voices like this, tragedy will overtake us and we will not only lose in Viet Nam—we will lose our nation and our souls. "The wicked shall be turned into hell and all the nations which forget God." (Psalm 9:14) Let us intercede with God for if there is no intervention, there will be no intervention. "Kiss the Son, lest He be angry and ye perish from the way." (Psalm 2:12)

II. TO OBTAIN DIVINE HELP, WE MUST RECOGNIZE THAT COMMUNISM EVERYWHERE IS DIRECTED AGAINST GOD AND AGAINST CHRISTIAN ORDER ON THE EARTH. This means a drastic change in national policy. It means that we will trust God instead of the Soviets.

In recent years strange and alien sounds have been coming out of Washington regarding our relations to Soviet Russia. Mr. Walt W. Rostow, Chief of Policy Planning in the State Department, has been reported as saying that Soviet Russia might find "the only logical course is to make a common cause with the United States to establish a minimum framework of order." (Chicago Tribune, June 17, 1962.)

The Rostow ideas are the basis of America's policy of disarmament. In order "to relax tensions," the Strategic Air Command is right now being dismantled and its bases closed—a force which Winston Churchill said was the only shield for the freedom of Western Europe. Trade and cultural exchange with the Soviets is part of United States policy.

And how have the Soviets responded to these gestures of peace and good will on the part of the United States? Have the Soviets really mellowed? Last November 12, Roman Rudenko, the Attorney General of the U. S. S. R. equated American officials with "Hitlerites" and indicated he would hang them if he had the power. He said: "Practically all of the charges presented against the Hitlerite murderers may be applied to the activities of American militarists currently murdering peaceful inhabitants of Viet Nam . . ."

Even more sinister is the recent Tricontinental Conference which took place in Havana January 3-10—a conference which the American Security Council said is more important than any in modern times. Why? Because Soviet Russia AND Red China and delegates from 79 nations committed themselves to a single overriding purpose: namely, "to bring about the overthrow and destruction of all governments and all peoples who stand in the way of Communist global conquest." Is this mellowing? The only issue between the Soviets and Mao-tse Tung is the issue of when and how to use violence. Both are committed enemies of the West.

It is time for us to place no reliance in the Soviets, and certainly not to depend on them to get "peace in Viet Nam." Let our reliance be in the Lord. If we must offend someone, let it be "world opinion" and Nasser, Tito and the neutrals. Let us not offend Almighty God for then our cause will not be just and we will be lost.

We must heed the warning in Isaiah 31:1,5.

"Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help but look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the Lord!"

"As the birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem, and defending also He will deliver it, and passing over He will preserve it."

Cancer Crusade Underway; Chairmen Named In Fulton

Announcement of the appointment of Mrs. Charles Wade Andrews as Chairman and Mrs. Bill Fossett Co-Chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1966 Crusade in Fulton, Ky. was made today by Julius Falkoff, Unit Chairman.

The President said the Crusade Chairman's "long interest in the fight against cancer would add vigor and enthusiasm to the annual Crusade to help save lives from cancer and raise funds for research, education and service."

Mr. Falkoff said that the new Chairman's work ahead "will be hard, but it is cut out for them. This is an auspicious year."

"We are pledged to step up our program to reduce deaths from cancer and to enlarge the Society's nationwide research effort."

Cancer of the uterus, colon and rectum, breast, oral cavity, lung, and skin accounts for over 60 per cent of all cancer cases and almost 50 per cent of all deaths from cancer in the United States.

Here is an area in which major strides can be made now by present methods of detection and treatment.

Today there are 870,000 people in the United States under treatment for cancer. Taking into account population growth, the figure will be about 950,000 men, women and children by 1970 if present rates continue.

Also included in its stepped-up program is more funds for research—on which so many lives will depend in the future.

Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Fossett said they were happy to undertake such a challenging and humanitarian assignment. They said they were glad the Society was carrying on its tradition of "Tell Your Neighbor" the facts about cancer during the Crusade—and in fact throughout the year. People must know about cancer to act properly and at the proper time.

"I am confident with an increased number of volunteers who want to serve in a great humanitarian effort, we will accomplish much," they said.

If you are willing and anxious to serve as a volunteer contact Mrs. Charles Wade Andrews 472-3396 or Mrs. Bill Fossett 472-1369.

Last year the Society raised $989.78 in Fulton, Ky. "I know," the Chairman said, "that we can do better in 1966. We need the support of all."

Shoe Company Employee Dies In Burning Auto

A 41-year-old Martin man died in his flaming automobile Monday night, after the car slammed into a piece of construction equipment on a bridge north of Martin.

The victim was Fred M. Adams, who was employed by the Bay-Bee Shoe Company in Dresden.

State trooper Archie Rainey stated that Mr. Adams' car hurled through smudge pots and another warning device equipped with blinking lights, then rammed a heavy crane, being used to widen the bridge over Obion River, which was parked on the bridge. Both the automobile and the crane burned after the crash.

Mr. Adams is survived by his wife; a stepson, John L. High, with the Air Force at Chanute Base in Illinois; a foster daughter, Linda Ann Adams of Martin; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Adams of Sharon, and a brother, John H. Adams of Martin.

Funeral services were held yesterday (Wednesday) in the Corinth Baptist Church, near Sharon, with burial in the church cemetery. Doug Murphy Funeral Home of Martin was in charge.

Nursing Home Care Extended To Children

Nursing home care has been extended to children in families that qualify for aid to families with dependent children under State public assistance medical care.

Economic Security Commissioner C. Leslie Dawson said the change will allow these children to receive nursing home care following hospitalization.

The commissioner explained that other State medical care services were available to dependent children cases, but not nursing home care, which has usually been associated with the needs of much older persons.

Changing approaches to hospital care by the medical professions are placing new light on the need for nursing home services, he said.

"Through a set of readjustments in our own budget process," Dawson continued, "we have been able to pull together enough funds to take this needed action in advance of the July 1 date, when we had first planned to activate this new service."

"We are not certain at this point how many cases would be affected by the extension of nursing home care, but the relative number would not be too great for our existing funds to cover," Dawson said.

The new nursing home provision will be applied along these guidelines:

The individual involved must be admitted to the nursing home and there must be no other kind of care which would better apply to the case.

The stay must be on a temporary basis, which is required medically following care in a hospital.

Public assistance caseworkers will maintain contact with the patient and the family to make certain that the parent gives proper attention and supervision to the child in the nursing home.

Wheel Chairs, Crutches!

I never go to a meeting but that I do not learn something new. For instance, did you know that the American Legion Auxiliary has wheel chairs, crutches, walkers and one hospital bed available . . . for free . . . if there is a patient around these parts who needs one. I had an idea this wonderful group did a lot of wonderful things, but didn't know about this one.

Picture Swap!

Don't know who thought of the idea of putting those picture compartments in wallets . . . but it must have been a parent with a large family, or a grand-parent. The other night at a meeting I was sitting next to a gent who started talking about his family. He had two children the same age as ours. Almost instinctively he pulled out his wallet to show me the pictures.

He sure had a wad of them. Then I took out my sizeable collection. It was like an epidemic. First thing you know everybody was showing so many pictures that we had a hard time putting them back in the right wallets.

REFRESHING VISITORS!

It is possible in the annals of this southern area that a more attractive group of people have visited here in one "congregation," but I have my doubts.

Lillian Cook Cate invited members of her Nashville sewing circle to visit here for a round of gay activities last week, and it was my privilege to spend some time with them after a hard press day last Wednesday. Honestly, I was truly shocked, at the uniformity of their good looks, sparkling personalities, handsome attire and bubbling enthusiasm for just about everything anybody could talk about.

Their visit started with a congenial gathering at the home of Miss Gertrude Murphey, where all gatherings are interesting and fun. Then Lillian took them to dinner at her home to dine with her father N. G. Cooke. Thursday morning Jean Sensing and Abbey McBride invited them for brunch at the home of Jerry Atkins. Later in the morning the group went to the homes of Katherine Atkins and Betty Weeks to visit for a spell and then on to lunch at the Derby Cafe with Lillian as their hostess.

There's no doubt about it . . . the gals had a fine time, but Fulton hostesses had an even better one meeting such gay and charming folks.

And here they are:
Mrs. Lewis Bright, wife of a former Fultonian, Mrs. Ed Graham, Mrs. Richard Norvell, Mrs. Willis Haynes, Mrs. Charles Byrn, Mrs. Harold Clark, and Mrs. Sidney Tompkins, Jr. Three other members of the club were unable to attend.

PAY UP!

"Tell it to the Judge" is an old phrase everyone's heard but some drivers here it first hand from police officers every day. Kentucky State Troopers write over 100,000 citations a year and well over 60,000 drivers pay fines and have points lodged against their records. Don't foul up your record with bad driving habits, warns the Kentucky Department of Public Safety. Most people don't appreciate their driving privilege until it's too late.

NO RACING!

Your car may be hot, but the State Division of Driver Licensing takes a cold view of racing on public highways. Conviction for racing means automatic license suspension. Don't be in a hurry to lose your driver license, warns the Kentucky Department of Public Safety.

Medical Auxiliary Awards Students Two Scholarships

Phyllis Crocker and Anna Marie Stewart have been named as the recipients of the loan scholarships offered by the Fulton County Medical Auxiliary.

Phyllis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Crocker of Fulton and is a graduate of Fulton High School in the class of 1965. She is presently in school at Memphis State University and plans to transfer to the University of Kentucky for the summer session. She will enter the College of Nursing in Lexington in the fall.

Anna Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Stewart of Hickman, will be graduated from Fulton County High School this year. She has been accepted at the St. Joseph School of Nursing in Memphis and will begin her schooling there in the fall.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Fields

Rev. Russell Rodgers filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist the past Sunday at 11 a. m. and also at the evening service. Sunday School opens at 10, where an attendance of 80 were present. The enrollment exceeds this attendance by many more.

The condition of Mrs. John Mitchell remains about the same at this writing. She has been in bed most of the time. We hope she will improve very soon.

Dewey Grissom has been removed from the Obion County General Hospital at Union City to Hillview Hospital in Fulton, after having undergone surgery there some ten days ago. All friends wish for him speedy days of recovery.

Grant Bynum is able to be getting out and around, altho he suffers quite a bit of pain in his limbs. He has been indisposed for many weeks.

Mrs. Jimmy Argo and children, Chad and Kim, have been visiting in Tullahoma, Tenn., the past week, guests of parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Fields.

All good wishes are extended to Lowell Copeland, who remains a patient in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis, where he is recovering from surgery more than a week ago. The family has been at his bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lassiter and sons, Mark and Stevie, of Marion, spent Sunday here with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lassiter and they attended church at New Salem Baptist.

Mrs. Dave Mathis is improved over the past two weeks, which many friends will be glad to know. His health was on a decline during most of the winter months.

A Happy Easter to everyone!

WATCH YOUR ALFALFA

Watch your alfalfa because the alfalfa weevil worms are busy eating in almost every field. The alfalfa should be sprayed with an insecticide for control of the worms when 50 percent of the plants show signs of the worms feeding on the plants.

To find the worms—first find an alfalfa plant that has holes in the leaves and then look closely into and around the growing bud of the plant. The newly hatched larvae (worms) are 1-32 inch long, legless, yellow, and a shiny black head. They later become green and form a white stripe down their back. When grown, they are 3-8 inch long. The worm stage normally lasts three to four weeks.

Recommended insecticide materials include: Malathion, Methoxychlor, Diazinon, Guthion, Methyl Parathion, and Ethion. Parathion. Most farmers with ground equipment will use 50 percent Malathion at the rate of 2-12 pints per acre in 25 to 30 gallons of water because it is a safe material to use and can be used on the alfalfa up to the day of cutting the alfalfa.

VETCH

The best looking field of Vetch that we have ever observed in Obion County was plowed under by Mr. J. T. Witherspoon on his farm on the Kenton Highway last week.

The amazing thing about Mr. Witherspoon's Vetch is that part of the field had up to 10 feet of dirt removed from it last summer which was used as the dirt fill for the new shopping center being built.

Mr. Witherspoon had the Vetch field soil tested and fertilized the Vetch with 3 tons lime, 100 lbs. 60 percent Muriate of Potash, and 25 lbs. of Nitrogen. The Vetch field was another result of SOIL TESTING returning big dividends. HAVE YOU HAD YOUR SOIL TESTED this year. It's still not too late to have your soil test for 1966 crop year.

PROFIT NOTEBOOK

NEW METHOD OF LOW-VOLUME INSECT CONTROL GAINS MOMENTUM

During the past three years, Federal and state scientists have joined forces with farmers to thoroughly test the merits of a new "low-volume" concept of insect control in which mere ounces of insecticide are required to achieve the same results that gallons normally produce.

To date, literally millions of acres have been treated with Malathion LV Concentrate, the only insecticide presently registered for use with the new technique. The outstanding results speak for themselves. For instance:

(1) In Texas, cotton has been effectively protected against boll weevil damage with low-volume sprays of Malathion LV Concentrate. This also prevented the spread of this pest into adjoining states.

(2) Spread of the damaging cereal leaf beetle in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois was slowed, and damage kept to a minimum.

(3) Treatment of nearly 3 million acres of rangeland in Wyoming, Utah, Idaho and Montana kept grasshoppers under control.

To date, most of the Malathion LV Concentrate has been applied by airplanes that are mechanically converted to spray micro-droplets which are barely visible during application, but which provide excellent coverage of the entire leaf surface.

In doing so, planes fly at a safer, higher altitude of 20-25 feet, thus covering a wider 75-100-foot swath on each pass. And because Malathion LV Concentrate is not diluted with water, planes can carry a bigger payload of the insecticide.

These new advances enable an applicator to treat a field in one-fourth the time formerly required.

Authorities point out that several other factors besides effective insect control underlie the clearance of Malathion LV Concentrate for this new low-volume use. Most important is the well-known fact that Malathion is one of the least hazardous insecticides in use today. It can be used on forage crops on the day of harvest or grazing without worrying about residues in milk or meat. And the World Health Organization has approved direct application of Malathion on humans to control lice.

Keeping pace with other new farming techniques, the Malathion LV Concentrate concept of low-volume insect control promises to be of considerable assistance in further bolstering the nation's agricultural economy in the future.

FARM NEWS

Narvel Seals, Chairman, Obion County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today that he has recently received the following information in connection with planting soybeans on either diverted or conserving acreage:

Following testimony by Edwin A. Jaenke, Associate Administrator of ASCS, the House Agriculture Committee today postponed further consideration of proposed legislation which would authorize program changes to encourage soybean production in 1966 on either diverted or conserving acreage.

"Based on our careful review of the overall soybean and vegetable oil situation, the Department feels no changes affecting 1966 soybean production are appropriate," Jaenke told the Committee. "Any change in programs for 1966 at this late date will unnecessarily complicate programs for farmers, and would add uncertainties and confusion. Signup for 1966 programs is now being conducted in ASCS county offices; and in most States in the soybean area, the signup period ends in eight more days. Farmers will have firmed their plans by the end of the month. They will have decided what they want to do, and they will have committed themselves to a course of action for this year that they will follow barring weather difficulties."

Jaenke said the March intentions to plant figures show farmers plan an increase of at least 1.7 million acres over what they planted to soybeans last year. The intended acreage of 37.1 million acres is regarded as a conservative figure for two reasons, he said.

"First, the change in the feed grain program to allow planting soybeans in lieu of feed grain on permitted acres was announced in February. The short period between the announcement and the gathering of statistics for the March intentions may not have been long enough for the program change to be reflected fully. Secondly, soybeans can be planted later than corn so that in years when weather conditions make it impossible to plant corn, farmers can turn to soybeans. Last year, for instance, there was an increase of 1.1 million acres planted over the March intentions figure."

"Legislation affecting this year's crop is not needed, but there may be a need for changes for 1967 and later years. As these needs become apparent, this committee may wish to consider recommendations such as the Department's proposal last year that soybeans be permitted on diverted acres," Jaenke testified.

Farmers may now complete their plans for 1966 without fear of further program changes.

Experts Seek Means For Full Tree Usage

Until recently, the main concern of forestry experts was to save the nation's woodlands from destruction by man, fire and floods. But not any more. The chief problem today, says Dr. Richard Mark of the University of Kentucky Department of Forestry, is more complete utilization of the trees that are cut.

At present, the UK professor notes, only about 40 per cent of each tree grown in American forests is being used. Fuller utilization of the tree not only will make the nation's forest resources go farther, but will help solve certain economic problems as well, he believes.

SPARE THE LIME AND SPOIL THE FARM

It may seem that I write on limestone often. This is true. First, because we are very deficient in most areas and also because the quality of some stone is low.

Last fall, the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, the Kentucky Plant Food Institute, and the University of Kentucky announced new standards for agriculture limestone. This was effective January 1, 1966. This required limestone used for agriculture purposes to pass this test: 40 percent through a 60 mesh screen. After this progressive step was announced, much activity was started.

Some suppliers prepared for the higher quality stone and vendors also made plans to handle the new product.

A few weeks ago the state A. S. C. committee suddenly changed their minds and lowered the specifications on limestone for cost share to 35 percent through a 50 mesh screen. This leaves the farmer, who is paying the bill, and many agriculture leaders who try to advise them wondering... just what goes on!

I talked with Mr. Harold Miller, Soil Specialist for the University of Kentucky March 29 in a planning meeting for soils work. Harold Miller informed me that the University of Kentucky's recommendation on agriculture limestone was still 40 percent through a 60 mesh screen and 90 percent through a 10 mesh screen.

Many tax dollars go into experiment sand tests at the University of Kentucky farms. It seems to me that we should all adopt their results, rather than alter them to fit other requests.

Mr. Russell Coleman, Executive Vice President National Plant Food Institute reports, "Lime corrects soil acidity, supplies calcium, improves the availability of other plant nutrients, promotes desirable bacterial activity, improves the structure of heavy soils, and increases the efficiency of fertilizers. In fact, no other single factor exerts more influence over the availability and uptake of plant foods by growing crops than that of relative soil acidity or alkalinity."

When agriculture limestone is fine, calcium will become available much faster. With today's high yields and intensive farming practices, we must have a high quality product. Lime particles passing through a 60 mesh screen becomes available the first year. Stone passing 30 to 55 mesh screen will take 18 to 30 months. 20 mesh stone after 8 years 50 percent will be useful. Mr. Bob Webb, Director, Dixon Springs Experiment Station reports this. He also indicated lime particles retained on a 10 mesh screen has no agriculture value.

It is indeed alarming that we fail to act on this knowledge. We have barely scratched the surface in the use of agriculture limestone.

"Organization" For Collegians Is Regular Schedule Of Work, Study

The organization man or woman at the University of Kentucky gets the good grades—and organization doesn't mean membership in clubs, societies, councils and the like.

Organization in this case means a regular schedule of study and good study habits.

This was brought out in a recent survey of UK students whose academic standings last semester earned them places on the dean's lists of the University's various colleges.

Ruth Ann Kriener, an arts and sciences senior from Danville, sums up her key to success in a few words—"have a study schedule, put everything away except study materials." Judy Barnes of Harrison County, a sophomore in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, urges "concentration and no day-dreaming."

Proper rest also is important to effective study, says Martha N. Gordon, a junior education major from Paris. She recommends seven to eight hours' sleep each night and brief rest periods during long sessions with the books.

Edna Elizabeth Clark, a Paducah senior in the College of Education, believes that keeping up with classwork adds to student confidence. Another Paducahan, Carolyn Kauth, an arts and sciences senior, suggests a review of notes just before going to class.

The survey indicates that dean's list students at UK do a lot of outside reading, with state and local newspapers, the hometown paper and national periodicals getting first priority.

Elizabeth Ogden, an arts and sciences senior from Richmond, reads Newsweek and Time in addition to the newspapers. Sandra Welch, a junior education major from Williamsburg, subscribes to Saturday Review and Changing Times. The National Education Association Journal is favored by Patricia Barnhill, a Dixon senior in the College of Education.

Most of the dean's list coeds include women's magazines among their preferred outside reading.

Typical is Pamela Bush of Georgetown, a sophomore home economics major, who chooses House and Home magazine.

The number of hours spent in the library and in total hours of study varies widely among the honor students. John McAtee, an agriculture senior from Cadiz, averages two and a half hours a day at his books and at least five hours a week extra in the library. Mary Roberts, a sophomore education major from Fort Knox, studies four hours daily.

Variance also is noted in recreation habits. All of the students surveyed spend some time watching television or listening to radio. Carolyn Miller of Raceland, a sophomore in education, studies best with her radio on. But Richard Detmer, an arts and sciences senior from Danville, clicks his set off when it's time to hit the books.

But despite variations in study and reading habits, the students were agreed on one thing—organized study is the key to admission to the dean's list.

Two fools meet when one runs another's life and the other permits it.

Veterans Of "Cold War" Are Eligible For GI Bill Benefits

The Veterans Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 which was signed into law Thursday, March 3, 1966, by President Johnson provides a permanent program of benefits to veterans who have served or who will serve in the U. S. Armed Forces since January 31, 1955. Chief among these benefits will be education, home loan guaranty and the extension of Veterans Administration hospital benefits on the same priority basis as for wartime veterans.

Thus, approximately four million veterans (about 50,000 in Kentucky) discharged from the service since January 31, 1955, ranging from "Cold War" veterans to those now on duty in Viet Nam, become eligible for benefits somewhat similar to those granted the veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict. At the same time, provision has been made for 600,000 additional veterans (about 8,000 in Kentucky) who will be returning to civilian life each calendar year to participate in the same benefits. In all cases, to be eligible the veterans must have discharges that are other than dishonorable and they must not already have used up their eligibility under previous programs.

All the new benefits, with the exception of the Educational Assistance Program, went into effect immediately upon the President's signing of the Bill. The Educational Assistance provisions will go into effect on June 1, 1966. The benefits established by the new law are: Educational assistance, home and farm loans, medical care, job counseling, job placement, Federal employment preference and the issuance of burial flag. A brief summary of each follows.

Education. Veterans with more than 180 days active duty, any part of which occurred on or after February 1, 1955, will be eligible for one month of college, vocational or similar education for each month or fraction of a month on active duty. Those taking full-time courses will receive $100 per month if they have no dependents; $125 a month with one dependent; and $150 a month with more than one dependent. Proportional rates will be paid for part-time courses. The income of the veteran will not be considered. Application blanks and full information will be available at VA Offices and at colleges and educational centers sometime in April, well in advance of the June 1, 1966, starting date.

The maximum period allowed will be 36 months but this may be reduced by the amount of educational assistance previously received under a VA educational program. Since the program starts by law on June 1, 1966, there can be no retroactive payments. There is no deadline date to enter upon the educational program and veterans will have eight years from the date of their last discharge from active service to complete their courses. However, the first cutoff date will not be until March 3, 1974.

In Kentucky, anticipate 11,500 applications for veterans' educational assistance during the ensuing year; about 9,500 will enter training with an average monthly enrollment of about 4,000. This will result in about $6,000,000 direct benefits during the first year of operation of the law.

Loan Program. Veterans with more than 180 days of active duty will be eligible for VA guaranteed home or farm loans or VA direct home loans in areas where such loans are authorized. Ninety-six counties in Kentucky are eligible areas. They will have until ten years after the date of their last discharge from active service plus one year additional for each three-month period of active service to make such a loan, with a maximum deadline date of twenty years after the date of discharge from the qualifying service. For those veterans who have already been out of the service for a period of years, a minimum entitlement date has been set at ten years.

VA guaranteed loans will be made at 5 1/2 percent interest rate. The new law authorizes the Administrator of Veterans Affairs to establish an interest rate as he determines the requirements of the loan market, but not to exceed the rate in effect for loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration. A one-time non-recurring fee not to exceed one-half of one percent of the loan amount is payable by the veteran but may be included in the loan and collected by the lender. However, it must be remitted to the Veterans Administration before a guaranty certificate may be issued. In the direct loan program, the new law raises the maximum loan possible from $15,000 to $17,500. Veterans with unused and unexpired World War II or Korean Conflict entitlement will have that previous entitlement cancelled and will become eligible under the new law alone. However, during the period their cancelled entitlement would have been available, such veterans not only need not pay the statutory guaranty or direct loan fee under the new law but they may also secure loans for business purposes as well as for home and farm purposes. We expect to guarantee or make about 1,200 loans in Kentucky under this law during the next year. Most of the loans will be guaranteed rather than direct.

Both the Educational Assistance and Loan Guaranty provisions of the new law will apply to those persons who remain in the service after two years of military duty.

Medical Care. Veterans who have served after January 31, 1955, will be eligible for admission to VA hospitals on the same basis as wartime veterans. The priorities are:

First—Veterans with service-connected disabilities have top priority for admission;

Second—Veterans with service-connected disabilities but who are seeking treatment for some other ailment will be admitted as beds are available;

Third—Veterans without service-connected disabilities may be admitted to VA hospitals if (1) hospitalization is deemed necessary, (2) they are financially unable to defray the cost of the hospitalization, and (3) beds are available.

Other Benefits. The new law also makes provisions for job counseling and job placement, both of these under the auspices of the Veterans Employment Service of the U. S. Department of Labor; and Civil Service preference in Federal employment. Presumptive service-connection for certain chronic disabilities is also provided under the law. A United States flag will be provided for use at the funeral of veterans who have served after January 31, 1955, to be retained by the next of kin.

The Louisville Regional Office will add approximately 25 employees due to increased workloads resulting from this legislation. Veterans interested in the educational benefits are reminded that they cannot start any courses until after June 1, 1966, and it will not be until mid-April that the proper forms and instructions will be ready.

Veterans who believe they are eligible for any of these benefits except for the Educational Assistance program can write, visit or telephone the Veterans Administration Regional Office, 1405 West Broadway, Louisville, Kentucky 40201. The telephone number is 502-582-5811.

Federal Funds Help 500 Students At UK

A grant of $204,600 to the University of Kentucky from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare will pay up to half of next year's schooling costs for about 500 UK students. The funds are earmarked for students who would be unable to enter or remain in college without such financial assistance.

The grants are available to both entering freshmen and to students already enrolled at the University. The amount of each grant will be based on the need of the individual student, but may not exceed $800 student.

FRANKFORT

"Altogether remarkable" — "most productive"—"one of the best."

Phrases such as these were among those used by state newspapers to describe the 1966 General Assembly.

I am pleased that these expressions not only bear out but really improve on my earlier summation that the regular session ending March 18 was both rewarding and satisfying.

I have not had an opportunity to read all the state's newspapers, I must admit, but from those I have seen the reaction to what was done has been generally good.

In the Richmond Daily Register, former Gov. Keene Johnson, a co-owner wrote:

"There were bills of major importance enacted. The civil rights law was wise legislation. We are glad that the proposed revision of the State Constitution is to be submitted to a vote of the people as a result of legislative approval."

The Paducah Sun-Democrat of March 22 said:

"The record... as summed up in the impressive list of major legislation enacted by the 1966 General Assembly session, promises to be one of the best in Kentucky's modern history."

"It includes controls of water and air pollution, motor vehicle inspection, the fairest congressional redistricting bill in the nation, reform of the Council of Public Higher Education by placing its policymaking entirely in the hands of laymen, control of some gambling operations of pinball interests, and long-needed reform of the law of garnishment."

The Louisville Courier-Journal of March 20 observed:

"It was an altogether remarkable session. Laws passed that no one would have dared to introduce a few years ago. Others were enacted that have been submitted time and again only to be blocked."

"Nothing was more surprising than the ease with which the Legislature realigned Kentucky's seven congressional districts in the interest of fair representation for Jefferson County."

"The same thing could be said of the civil rights bill and the strip-mine measure. There were warnings that they were too hot to handle and could result in legislative chaos. But they were passed, and the legislature moved on to other matters."

The Henderson Gleaner-Journal in an editorial on March 22 said in part:

"The most encouraging aspect about the 1966 Kentucky legislative session is that legislators, for the most part, acted responsibly."

"There was a minimum of bickering."

"Republicans and Democrats got along pretty well."

"This most historic act passed—was the decision to ask the voters in November to approve a new State Constitution. Agreement on this subject indicates that the Constitution may have a good chance of passage. This is in sharp contrast to the political maneuvering of years gone by that has stilled any action on a new Constitution."

On March 23, The Lexington Herald, under the heading "A Session of Accomplishment," said:

"The 1966 session of the Kentucky General Assembly will go down in history as one of accomplishment."

"Legislation that will have a far-reaching effect on Kentucky's future was passed... and members of the General Assembly are to be congratulated on their willingness to lay aside politics and approve measures that will make Kentucky a great state."

Of interest to me and probably to others, also, was an article in the March 20 New York Times. In part it said:

"The 1966 biennial session of the Kentucky General Assembly ended yesterday (March 18) as one of the most productive in recent history. The legislators passed about a dozen major bills, some of which will have far-reaching effects in the development of the state."

For my part in developing and helping to passage many of these important pieces of legislation, I am more than pleased with the favorable editorial notices. And I am proud that the state's press has commended what was, to me, a most commendable General Assembly.

Note: This "Let's Look It Over" was written before I left on a post-legislative vacation. The next will follow my return to Frankfort.

Cold War Vets Get Priority In State Jobs

Veterans of the cold war—an estimated 50,000 in Kentucky—will be entitled to priority handling from now on for their job applications at State employment offices.

State Economic Security Commissioner C. Leslie Dawson said that veterans employment representatives and other interviewers and counselors in the 24 local offices of the Kentucky employment service will give veterans preference to ex-service men and women who served in active duty in the Armed Forces after Jan. 31, 1955, and who were discharged or separated under conditions other than dishonorable.

Dawson said that almost 70 percent of these veterans right now are between 25 and 34 years of age, and the remainder are from 20 to 24. The Veterans Administration estimates that about 8,000 Kentuckians yearly are being discharged, the majority of whom fall in the 20-24 age group.

"This means that our cold war veterans are also prime prospects for training under the Manpower Development and Training Act, and will be given preference in selection for these courses in the future," the commissioner said.

Dawson also announced that veterans employment representatives will be added to Kentucky's two Youth Opportunity Centers, at Louisville and Covington. These will serve the younger veterans who fall within the 16-21 age range eligible for the specialized attention given in the centers.

Furnishing coordination for Kentucky veterans visiting the State employment service offices is Robert M. Barnes, Frankfort, who represents the U. S. Department of Labor and is attached to the Kentucky agency.

Further information on veterans services may be obtained from local employment services offices. The office serving Calloway, Fulton, Hickman and Graves Counties is located in Mayfield at 319 S. Seventh St.

College Students Offered Selective Service Tests

Applications for the Selective Service Qualification Test to be given on May 14, May 21, and June 3, 1966, are now available to college students and high school seniors at the Selective Service local boards throughout Kentucky, Col. Everett S. Stephenson, State Director of Selective Service for Kentucky, announced today.

The test will be given at 1,200 locations in all fifty states, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone. In Kentucky the test will be offered at the following schools:

Union College, Barbourville; Western Kentucky State College, Bowling Green; Centre College of Kentucky, Danville; Kentucky State College, Frankfort; University of Kentucky, Lexington; University of Louisville, Louisville; Morehead State College, Morehead; Murray State College, Murray; Brescia College, Owensboro; Paducah Junior College, Paducah; Pikeville College, Pikeville; Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond; Cumberland College, Williamsburg; and Berea College, Berea.

Scores made on the test will provide local boards with evidence of aptitude for continued undergraduate and graduate study. The scores will not of themselves determine eligibility for deferment, but are considered with other information by the boards in determining whether to defer individual registrants for further study.

Applications for the test must be postmarked no later than midnight, Saturday, April 23. An applicant registrant can take the test only once. Eligible students may also obtain information about the test from any local board.

Admission to the testing room is limited to those applicants who hold both a Ticket of Admission and a Test Center Address Card, Col. Stephenson said. He added, an applicant failing to report to the examination center on time, irrespective of the reason will not be admitted.

For the first time since the College Qualification Test has been given, high school seniors will be permitted to take the examination, Col. Stephenson said. He emphasized that it is not mandatory for a young man planning to enter college to take the test but it would be to his advantage to have this additional information in his file for classification purposes.

The State Director pointed out that a test score in the file will give the local board an additional piece of important information to use in determining whether a registrant is eligible for a student deferment.

Grantees routed through Fulton at the time of the Festival will be well received and perhaps can associate themselves with the exhibits of their particular countries at the Festival.

President, International Banana Festival
Fulton, Kentucky

Dear Jo,

How can I ever thank you for the opportunity you afforded me to go with you to Washington, D. C. last week to represent the Tennessee side of the 1966 International Banana Festival?

I feel that I gained valuable knowledge of the enormous "foundation" work that is of absolute importance to the success of the Banana Festival. Had I not been with you in Washington, I could never have imagined all the endless conferences, and meetings, with Government Personnel in the Congress, Senate and in the State Department. Now I realize that it is only through dedicated, hard work that the goal can be obtained. It was also a thrilling experience to see how genuinely these persons demonstrated their interest in the Banana Festival and in your presentation of it.

Thank you again, Jo, and the Banana Festival Board, for a week which I shall never forget. Please know that I want to help with this year's Festival in any way that I can do so.

Very sincerely yours,
"Cile Sauvigne"

A veteran of World War II, he has been a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives, Pulaski County Judge, and Circuit Judge of the 28th Judicial District, delegate to the United Nations, advisor to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and Ambassador to India. He also served on the Presidential Commission appointed by President Johnson to investigate the assassination of President Kennedy. In 1960, he was selected by the Capitol press as the ablest Republican in the United States Senate. In 1965 he was selected as one of two Senators for the annual award of the American Political Science Association.

Senator Cooper has been a member of the Senate Labor Committee, and has continued a strong interest in this field, as well as in education. He has pushed for school libraries, rural electrification, economic development, aid to Appalachian and other areas of Kentucky which need assistance to bring in job-creating new industries. He has supported laws to help those among the unemployed who are capable to be trained for new jobs. Senator Cooper in the last four months has visited Vietnam twice, and he has continued to call an honorable and just end to the war by negotiation.

Citizen's Life Makes Record For Profits

Citizens Security Life Insurance Company, incorporated in Kentucky last year, has shown an operating profit after five months of operations—an accomplishment unprecedented in this state.

A financial report just presented at the Owensboro based company's first annual meeting of stockholders indicated a profit of $3,140.82 on operations from October 2, 1965 through March 20, 1966.

J. D. Butler, company president, noted that it is usually the seventh or eighth year before a new insurance company breaks into the profit column. Citizens Security made headlines last year when it placed stock in excess of $4 million in less than six months time—twice as large as the starting capital of any previously launched Kentucky based insurance firm.

Butler said that figures for net production during the first five months exceeded $3 million, with 71 per cent of the annual premium collected at the time of sale. The company was incorporated January 29, 1965. Its sales force now exceeds 80.

Banana Festival's Top Supporter Gets Promotion

A dynamic, energetic and extremely able young man, whose efforts "sold" the value of a Banana Festival in the twin cities to the banana industry, has been given a well deserved promotion by the Standard Fruit and Steamship Company. C. E. "Larry" Metcalfe, who worked quietly with Nathan Wade, local furniture dealer, for months before definite plans were made to stage a Festival is now the Top Banana of Marketing Services for Standard Fruit, the second largest banana importer in the world.

Larry, as he is affectionately and widely known in the banana industry was the first person to capture the merits and the value of a Banana Festival after Nathan had explored every avenue to stage such an event in the twin cities.

Nathan Wade can be rightfully called the "Father of the Banana Festival;" and Larry Metcalfe is the godfather. For it was Larry who coordinated the local efforts with the National Banana Association and later with other important segments of the banana industry.

Already a Top Banana in the hearts and appreciation of the twin cities, Larry is now the top director of marketing services for his fine company, which has been an enthusiastic and financial supporter of the Festival.

porter of the Festival.

Here is the release sent to the News from New Orleans last week: Standard Fruit and Steamship Company today announced the advancement of four marketing executives to new positions in the Company's Home Office in New Orleans.

Bruce Paschal, Vice President-Marketing, made the announcement of the appointment of C. E. Metcalfe as Director of Marketing Services, Paul Yoder as Sales Promotion Manager, Morris H. Toppila as Market Research Manager, and A. J. Rizzo, Assistant to Director of Marketing Services.

In his new position, Metcalfe will direct the activities of the Sales Promotion, Market Research, Sales Administration and Technical Service Departments of the Company. Standard Fruit is one of the nation's largest importers and distributors of bananas with marketing activities extending throughout the U. S. and Canada, and 30 districts sales offices located in major cities.

Prior to assuming his new post, Metcalfe had been Manager of Standard's Advertising and Sales Promotion Department. He is a native of South Barre, Mass., and a graduate of Tulane University.

He joined Standard in 1959 as a customer service representative, after several years with the American Woolen Company in Massachusetts as a production engineer. He is married to the former Ruth McCullough of Saco, Maine, and they have a son, Mark, 4.

Yoder (33) joined Standard in 1961 as a sales promotion representative after a management training position with the International Salt Company in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

He is a native of New Orleans and a graduate of Tulane University, where he earned a B. B. A., with a major in advertising. He is married to the former Patricia Burbano of Guayaquil, Ecuador, and they have two daughters, Yvonne, 4 and Leslie, 2.

Toppila (32) joined Standard in 1965 as Assistant Manager of the Market Research Department. Prior to his association with Standard, he had been a market analyst with Eastern Airlines in New York City.

He is a native of Redfield, South Dakota and a graduate of Black Hills State College, with a B. S. in Business. He holds an M. S. in Marketing and Economics from the University of North Dakota. He is married to the former Jerry Clauser of Deadwood, S. D. and they have two children, Brian, 4 and Stacey, 1.

Rizzo (27) joined Standard in 1965, after having served as information officer with the U. S. Air Force in Duluth, Minnesota.

He is a native of New Orleans and a graduate of Tulane University, with a B. A. in Journalism. He is married to the former Kay Anderson of Romeo, Michigan, and they have two children, Laura, 2 1/2 and Steven, 8 months.

WHAT'S GOING ON

by
Wendell P. Butler
Commissioner
Ky. Dept. of Agriculture
Frankfort

Homeowners are warned to be watchful at this time of the year for the presence of structural termites that can do extensive damages to their property almost before they are detected.

Coburn Gayle, director of our Pest Control Division, advises property owners to make the following checks: examine the foundation of the house. If it is of wood, tiny holes about the size of a nail head may indicate termites are present. Mud tunnels up the side of a concrete foundation may be a tip that termites have travelled from the ground up to the wooden structure. If the house has a basement, check the joists and sills for signs of termites. These signs may include small holes or little mounds of fine sawdust—advanced cases may have deteriorated to the point where the timber is so termite-riddled that it will crumble under finger-tip pressure.

Any of these signs are sufficient evidence to warrant calling for a professional inspection by a commercial termite exterminator. Again, extreme care must be used to secure the services of a reputable operator. Unfortunately, this industry has a long history of the gullible being exploited by shady or "fly-by-night" operators who are not above falsifying about termites being present in order to get a fat contract to rid the premises of the pest and then making a shoddy job of treatment of the structure. They usually "guarantee" their work but have moved on leaving no forwarding address when the homeowner finally discovers that the termites are still present and attempts to contact the operator to come back and re-service the building.

Gayle says that there are 193 firms licensed to do business in Kentucky. In order to get that license, the operator must have passed a rigid examination to determine his ability to detect termites and also to test his knowledge of proper chemicals and applications. Finally, a licensed operator posts a performance bond that assures the client of his reliability.

Says Every Cigaret Smoker Will Eventually Have Cancer

NASHVILLE — A specialist on pulmonary diseases Tuesday called smoking the world's greatest health hazard and said every cigarette smoker will eventually develop cancer.

Dr. Alton Ochsner of New Orleans, La., here to address the Nashville Academy of Medicine, has studied the dangers of smoking since 1933 and says all cancers except one type are caused by smoking.

The deaths in Viet Nam, he said, are "nothing compared to the premature deaths which occur every year directly attributable to cigarettes." The physician said tobacco tar is the main producer of cancer while nicotine is the chief producer of heart and mouth disease. Dr. Ochsner termed pipe and cigar smoking not as dangerous as cigarettes in lung cancer, but stated they cause cancer of the throat, lip and mouth which are easier to detect in earlier stages.

The physician said in an interview that he first detected cancer in men in 1933 and "there was only one common denominator, they were all heavy smokers. In the 1940s, men began to smoke," he added. "There was a 20-year lag in the showing of the disease."

Ochsner estimates between 20 and 25 years is required for a cigarette smoker to develop cancer. "However, I have seen cancer in a person who has only been smoking three years."

The former president of the American Cancer Society and the American College of Surgeons said each cigarette costs a smoker 14.4 minutes of his life. According to statistics he said were obtained from the U. S. surgeon-general, a person 50 years of age who has never smoked will live, on the average, 8 1/2 years longer than will a person who smokes a pack a day, and 17 years longer than one who smokes two packs a day.

Dr. Ochsner advocates stopping federal support of tobacco growers as an effective way to lower the incidence of smoking.

He also suggested that "we stop the seduction of our young people" by requiring that every tobacco advertisement be accompanied by a statement of the surgeon-general warning of the dangers of smoking.

Pinball Machine Will Get No New Trial, Judge Says

PADUCAH — McCracken Circuit Judge C. Warren Eaton overruled Saturday a motion for a new trial for 19 pinball machines declared to be gambling devices.

A court order for destruction of the machines has been issued. The machines, all bearing $250 federal gambling stamps, were seized in April, 1965 in raids and a jury declared last month that they were intended to be used for gambling.

State To Enlarge Reelfoot State Park

NASHVILLE — State Conservation Commissioner Donald M. McSweeney said today that specifications are being prepared for a contract to begin development of the new Obion county portion of Reelfoot Lake State Park.

The Obion county portion of the park consists of some 200 acres of land north of Samburg on what actually is the delta of Indian Creek. The land, once developed, will augment the present Reelfoot Lake State Park facilities which are heavily overused because of limited area (75 acres).

"Last year our present park area at Reelfoot recorded 453,000 visitors," Commissioner McSweeney said. "This placed it fourth in visitation among our 21 parks, and clearly shows the need for the development of additional park land on this unique lake. The 200 acres in Obion county will provide this new needed area, and should enable us to both better maintain our facilities at Reelfoot and accommodate more people."

The Obion county acreage previously was property of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission. It was transferred for park use in 1964 at the request of the Dept. of Conservation and Rep. Milton Hamilton Jr. of Obion county.

However, funds for development of the area were not then available.

With funds from the $4,500,000 general obligation bond issue approved by the 1965 General Assembly, at the request of Gov. Frank Clement, as well as federal funds from the land and water conservation program, the sum of $77,500 has been budgeted for first phase development of the Obion county tract. Because the tract consists of a delta formed by the siltation from Indian Creek, the first stage of the development program will be the stabilization of the shoreline by a dragline operation. This will be followed by construction of tent and trailer campsites with wash houses, picnic areas, a fishing pier and a playground. Roads and utilities will be extended into the area. Main entrance to the area will be from State Highway 22.

Mrs. Kolb 1st District PTA Leader

GILBERTSVILLE, Ky.,

Mrs. Frank Kolb of Mayfield was elected president of First District, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, at the 38th annual spring conference here Friday. She succeeds Mrs. William C. Nall of Murray.

Mrs. Kolb has been serving the district as vice president. Newly-elected vice president is Mrs. Russell Jackson of Arlington.

The new officers were installed Friday afternoon by Mrs. Russell Snyder of Henderson, first vice president of Kentucky PTA and incoming state president.

Mrs. Charles Clark, program chairman, announced PTA yearbook competition winners. For printed yearbooks, first prize went to Reidland High and second to Andrew Jackson. Terry Norman of Fulton took first for mimeographed yearbooks and La Center Elementary was second.

Publicity awards, presented by Mrs. Jewell Borden, Paducah, were made to the following schools: Schools with access to a weekly newspaper, Central School of Clinton, first;

Schools with access to a daily newspaper, West Fulton, first; Terry Norman, second;

Schools with access to two dailies, Kirksey, first; Barlow, second. Paducah City Council won the council publicity prize.

A panel discussion on the topic "Where Are Your Children Going?" was a highlight of the Friday morning session.

Robert O. Miller, county attorney and former county judge for Calloway County, was moderator. In his opening remarks Miller said that people nowadays talk a great deal about their "rights," but not about their "obligations."

"We should place the same emphasis on responsibilities that we do on rights," Miller said. "We have always had obligations, but we have overemphasized our rights and underemphasized our obligations."

Mrs. Frank Kolb, who represented sented parents in the panel discussion, said that she believed parents have forgotten "that human beings are frail individuals."

Mrs. Kolb continued. "We parents forget that children are weak human beings. We expect them to be so much better than we were."

Trooper Dana Stroud of the Kentucky State Police, stationed at Cadiz, urged parents to become increasingly conscious of the mounting death toll on the highways.

Stroud said that more school-age children die because of traffic accidents than from all other causes combined.

The Rev. Hoyt W. Owen, pastor of South Pleasant Grove Methodist Church in Calloway County, asked the audience if they were as insistent that their child know Sunday School lessons as that he know his school lessons, and whether they excused their child's absence from Sunday night church services because of homework.

"A child's spiritual education cannot be confined to 45 minutes on Sunday morning," the Rev. Mr. Owen said.

The fourth panel member, Dr. Robert Alsop of Murray State College's education department, told the PTA members that parents must "crack down" on their children if the children are to have respect for the parents.

Alsop said there is no room in college for loafers, and that pressure should be exerted by parents and teachers on youngsters to make them do their best.

He also said that the PTA has used much of its funds for school necessities which school boards should take care of, and that he would like to see PTA money used for such things as scholarships.

Approximately 200 people attended the Friday conference.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. One of my friends has his debts covered by what he calls "credit life insurance." What is this and where do I get it?

A. Credit life insurance is a type of insurance made available to borrowers through lending institutions (or department stores, sales offices, etc.) to insure any unpaid balance of an outstanding debt. If your bank or installment offices do not make this available, you can accomplish the same thing by taking out a low-cost policy of your own to cover the total indebtedness.

LIFE

Q. I see frequent references to "estate planning" in connection with life insurance. Just what is this and how much of an "estate" does a man have to make use of it?

A. The phrase "estate planning" is widely used by life insurance agents to describe their careful planning of life insurance programs in relation to the policyholder's total financial program and family financial needs. Your life insurance "estate" may be $5,000 or $500,000, but it will be most effective and most economical for you if it is fitted into your over-all family financial plan. Large or small, planning is bound to pay off. Any life insurance agent can give you this service and it costs you nothing. If your total estate of all kinds of property and wealth is large, and involves inheritance and other tax considerations, the proper planning job will probably call for a "team" conference, including your attorney, your trust officer, your accountant and your life insurance man.

Memphis Mayor's Wife Files Charge Against Youth Spot

MEMPHIS—Mrs. William Ingram, wife of the mayor, swore out warrants against the owners of a youth night spot Thursday after she found their two young sons there.

Mrs. Ingram and Mrs. Jesse

R. Brownfield signed the warrants against Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Boone, owners of the Tonga club, after conferring with Juvenile Court Judge Kenneth Turner.

The Boones were charged with operating a dance without a permit and allowing children under 14 to attend without a parent or guardian. They surrendered to police and were released under $102 bond each.

Mrs. Ingram said she and Mrs. Brownfield dropped off their sons, 12 and 11 years old, in front of a movie house

4-H'ers Look After Time, Money, Skills

New Management Project Shows How

"Work smarter... not harder," advises Mary Ann Dean, home economist. "Think, plan ahead, compare, evaluate your time, talents and cash before you take on any major projects around the house."

Miss Dean's comments are directed to 4-H Club members about to embark on the new 4-H Home Management program announced by the National 4-H Service Committee in cooperation with the Extension Service.

The practical home-based program was designed to fill a need of older club members, and was a couple of years in the planning stage. Miss Dean, a staff member of the 4-H Service Committee, also disclosed that a national sponsor has been secured to provide awards and other assistance to the program. Tupperware Home Parties of Orlando, Fla. is the new sponsor.

Annual awards will consist of eight $500 scholarships (national winners); one expense-paid trip per state to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and four gold-filled medals of honor per county.

Winners will be announced next fall by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Miss Dean urges girls, and boys too, to take up home management now. The idea behind this modern program for the older teenager is to learn to make the best possible use of your resources, energy, knowledge and ability.

"When about half of today's

A 4-H girl explains to her mother how much she expects to save in hard-earned cash by signing up for the new 4-H Home Management program. Linda Lopez, 17, a 9-year 4-H'er, is particularly interested in the program because she will enter college next fall with plans to major in home economics. Her mother, Mrs. Jesse Lopez, is an eager listener because she is a volunteer 4-H Club leader.

homemakers are young (under 28) it is imperative that homemakers and parents of tomorrow be ready to spend wisely," she adds.

Through the 4-H Home Management program, high school-age students will better understand the many aspects of shopping, banking, financing and decision-making. This knowledge can be put to good use in college, on a job or in the home, Miss Dean remarked.

Information on how to take part in the 1966 program can be obtained from the county extension 4-H office.

Your Car

by VERN WORTHINGTON

Oil With "Experience"

Had your oil changed lately? Sure you have. So have most of the nation's car owners. Added together, America's motorists discard over 800 million quarts of black, dirty oil each year—enough to fill to the brim every bathtub in the city of New York, with enough left over for Minneapolis, Minn. and Dallas, Texas.

This constant flow of crankcase drainings could constitute a serious menace to our waterways and sewage treatment facilities or, if burned, would generate an overpowering cloud of smog. But it doesn't and never has.

Why? Because of the foresight of the National Bureau of Standards way back in the early twenties, when a process was developed for "laundering and revitalizing" used oil. This process is still, essentially, used today by the re-refining industry—whose products are reported by experts to be as good or better than the new product most motorists buy.

You may not be too familiar with this oil with "experience" because most of it is grabbed up by knowledgeable users such as the bus and truck lines, car rental fleets, and stock car drivers. These professional buyers know that the original users of the oil have put it through a vital step too expensive for any refinery to provide—and have performed this costly process free.

Lately, many motorists who want to save money and use the best available lubricant at the same time find that re-refined oil fits the bill perfectly.

To assure motorists of the highest standards, the emblem of the Association of Petroleum Refiners, (APR), is affixed on those brands of "experienced" oil which meet the highest and most exacting requirements of the industry.

Court Holds Alcoholics Cannot Be Jailed

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled unanimously Thursday that a chronic alcoholic may not be punished or jailed as a criminal for being drunk in public. The 8-0 ruling reversed the conviction and suspended 90-day jail sentence of Dewitt Easter, who had a record of 70 arrests for intoxication or related conduct since 1937.

The main opinion by Circuit Judge Charles Fahy said chronic alcoholics could not be charged with drunkenness because, as Congress has recognized, they have lost the power of self control in the use of intoxicating beverages.

He said a 1947 federal law on rehabilitation of alcoholics described chronic drinkers as sick persons who needed proper medical and other treatment. Fahy said commitment for treatment of chronic alcoholics as contemplated by Congress was not mandatory.

"In the judge's discretion, the accused may be released," Fahy said. "But he may not be punished."

WEIGHT CONTROL: "BEST" FOR YOU

There is a weight that is best for each of us. It depends upon one's age, sex, physical activity, and body build. It may or may not be the weight "for your age" in the published weight tables.

The words, "weight control," mean achievement and maintenance of the best weight for you. How does one achieve the "best weight?"

We talked recently in this column about tailoring a plan of eating specifically to yourself. This was to include a mode of living that would give you enough exercise to expend excess energy

FOOD	CALORIES (Average values)	MINIMUM SERVINGS	CALORIES FOR MINIMUM SERVINGS
1 cup milk	160	2	320
1 ounce meat	75	2	150
1/2 cup vegetable, or 1/2 cup fresh or unsweetened canned fruit or fruit juice	35-40	4	140-160
1 slice bread	70	4	280

TOTAL CALORIES 1190-1210

With this concept in mind you are now ready to relate your food inventory of what you had to eat for one week to the four food group idea. Including a special column for "sweets and fats," the

	MILK GROUP	MEAT GROUP	VEG. FRUITS	BREADS CEREALS	SWEETS FATS
Breakfast
Midmorning snack	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Lunch	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Dinner	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Evening snack	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Total from each group	1	3	4	9	16

The big question finally is if many of the days on your inventory look like this, or whatever they look like, what changes should you make in your eating? The answer lies in gradual correction. Start reducing sweets and fats, and look for other "extras" you can eliminate. Are you including too many servings of anything in your daily fare. Check back to the four food group table and you'll see. Just be careful not to change your eating so fast and so greatly that satisfaction in eating is lost. Give yourself time to adjust. This is why the "crash diets" won't serve as steady fare. You couldn't live with them. What you are seeking is a new pattern of eating that you can live with and still lose weight, and then maintain ideal weight when you reach it.

Advanced Composition I and II is the equivalent of a fourth-year high school course.

Principles of Economics I and II is a survey course that requires sophomore college standing or the equivalent.

Miracle Steels

Newly developed alloy steels which are more than twice as tough and strong as conventional steels are being used for motor cases on large rockets in the aerospace program. Called maraging steels and containing up to 18 per cent nickel, they were invented in the research laboratories of the International Nickel Company.

Terry Beadles Impressive In UK Grid Drills

LEXINGTON — Kentucky football Coach Charlie Bradshaw had encouragement today as he searched for a replacement to graduated quarterback star Rick Norton.

Bradshaw praised Terry Beadles, switched from defensive safety to quarterback, as the Wildcats continued their spring practice Monday.

Beadles is quarterback of the Blue team, considered the No. 1 unit. Bradshaw also commended other members of that unit.

The coach said efforts of the Wildcats have been the best of any team since he came to Kentucky. This is Bradshaw's fifth spring practice.

Former Governor Combs Remains Mute On Plans

FRANKFORT — A high level attempt to persuade former Gov. Bert Combs to run again has brought no perceptible change in the political waiting game.

The people who tried to push Combs into another Democratic candidacy were Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, financier-industrialist William May of Frankfort and Louis Cox, an influential Frankfort lawyer.

The discussions took place at the fashionable International Inn at Tampa, Fla., last weekend.

Combs, who said he went to Florida on business, acknowledged his political future was discussed.

But he said that as of the moment he really does not know

ROMAN RITUAL

Roman baths were renowned for their opulence. And opulent they were, if you enjoy bathing in pools of cold water! The five hour Roman ritual included tennis, steam treatments, anointments with oil, cascades of hot, warm, then cold water, and scraping with a curved metal tool. Only after this routine was a leisurely soaking allowed. A Roman bath can't compare with today's hot running water and mild Dial soap with AT-7 which contains hexachlorophene to reduce skin bacteria. And we can bathe any time we wish, whether or not we precede tub or shower with five hours of strenuous activity!

THE FIRST ARMY HELICOPTER UNIT to arrive in Vietnam is still dishing it out to the VC. Though the 120th Aviation Co. (Airmobile Light) has changed its name—from the 57th Transportation Co. (Light Helicopter)—and swapped its CH-21 SHAWNEE choppers for the newer UH-1B Hueys, it's the same hard-fighting outfit that began chasing the Cong in December 1961. In four years the Army's helicopter "Deans" have hunted VC from the Delta in the south to the mountains in the north, and from the China Sea to the Gulf of Siam.

THE STRANGEST SOUND to be heard in the camp of A Battery, 3d Bn., 18th Arty. near Pleiku is the steady sloshing of clothes in a washing machine. The shiny white companion to the unit's big guns rumbles around the clock as soldiers recuperate from a hard day's work in the dust-caked land. GI soap, a clothesline made from commo wire, and a portable generator complete the battery's "boondocks laundromat."

THE RED BALL EXPRESS of World War II fame is back in action; now based in Vietnam, it's bigger and faster than ever. Supply requests can be flashed half-way round the world from fighting man to factory—and the return shipments barreled right up to the foxholes—in well under two weeks. In-stock parts are furnished in just hours. Operated by the 1st Logistical Command, the Red Ball never stops rolling in order to meet the needs of a well-equipped and growing Army force.

WITH A FORKED STICK called a divining rod, SFC Jack D. Pitman solved the shower problem for troops in the Army's 23d Artillery Group near Phu Loi. A legendary "water witch," the sarge boasted, can find underground water even in a parched area like their Custer Flats cantonment. While skeptics smirked, he broke a small forked branch from a bush and, holding it in the proper fashion, walked slowly around the Headquarters Battery area till he found the right spot. Then Pitman and some onlookers began to slam an iron pipe into the ground. When they reached 35 feet, jaws dropped as water gushed out. Pitman reserved comment on his witchery. (ANF)
