Music Program Presented By FHS Students

Orchestra, Band, Chorus Heard; Exhibits Shown

LARGE CROWD THERE

Before a large and appreciative audience Fulton high school's music departments, under the direction of Yewell Harrison and Neil Warren, presented a delightful program last evening at Carr Institute as part of the school closing exercises. The girls' chorus, in lovely evening dresses, was strikingly beautiful to the eyes and pleasant to hear as they sang. When joined by the boys to form a mixed chorus, they filled the auditorium with their clear, ringing melodies.

The high school orchestra, augmented by alumni, sounded for all the world like some of the better known name bands. Joyce Rhodes, sultry-voiced little soloist, added the professional touch, if it were lacking. The band, when it took over the stage, left no doubt in the minds of the listeners why it recently won first prize in a band contest at the Humboldt, Tenn., strawberry festival.

After the concert the audience was invited to view the industrial arts exhibit on display on the floor of the gymnasium. It featured household furniture done in walnut and cherry wood, lawn furniture and occasional pieces. The mechanical drawing department also exhibited original house plans, sketches and blue prints produced upon a machine made in the shop.

After viewing the exhibits the spectators were invited to inspect the shop itself by J. B. Goranoff, department head.

Following are lists of the members of the various classes participating in the exhibition with notations of the individual pieces of work on display.

Advance class:
Eugene Bard, poster bed, night table, table lamp, smoking stand; H. C. Sams, chest of drawers (refinished) model hog house—which earlier won second prize in a state contest, kitchen table; Austin Stroud, three lawn chairs, what-not, yard table, pin-up lamps; Gerald Tyner, two lawn chairs, candle holders; Burns Davis, model car—to be entered in General Motors contest; Jimmy Rogers, flower stand; Ray Steele, chest, poster bed, vanity and twin lamps; William Kimbel, two lawn chairs; Don Samons, smoking stand, end table, table lamp; Audrey Glasco, smoking stand, gun rack; Kenneth Tyner, what-not, footstool; James Worley, what-not, smoking cabinet; Johnny Hyland, what-not; Darrell Fuzzell, drop-leaf table; Wendell Butts, drop-leaf table; James Hodge, occasional table, gun rack; Jerry Warren, step table; Pal Boaz, footstool, twin lamps; Doyle Shupe, mantle clock, twin lamps, gun rack; Freddie Roberts, end table, table lamp; Billy Bone, twin lamps; Pete Byars, tilt-top table, dining table; James Bowen, tier table, occasional table; Tip Nelms, magazine table; Joe Workman,

Amputee Farm Vet May Get Vehicles Other Than Autos

Amputee veteran farmers who qualify for automobiles at government expense under the provision of Public Law 463 may use that eligibility to obtain trucks, tractors, or other farm machinery instead of automobiles according to a recent announcement. The total cost of the machinery must not exceed $1600.

Unemployed Vets' Pay Claims Higher

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky's unemployed veterans drew $8,567,348 in jobless benefits during the first quarter of 1947, the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission stated today in its report to Governor Simeon Willis on activities for the quarter. Veterans drawing benefits on the self-employed phase of the G. I. Bill received $908,899 for the same period.

USS Oklahoma Goes To Bottom For Last Time

Had Been Sunk At Pearl Harbor; Was To Be Junked

THREE MILES DOWN

San Francisco, May 17.—(AP)—The battleship Oklahoma went down for the last time today.

The once mighty survivor of the attack on Pearl Harbor plunged to the bottom at 4:35 a. m. (Pacific standard time) 540 miles off Honolulu in an area of the Pacific approximately three miles deep.

Abandoned by the Navy as a fighting ship, the 33-year-old vessel was under tow to an Oakland, Calif., dry dock company for scrapping.

The Coast Guard announced there were no crewmen aboard.

The Oklahoma, launched March 23, 1914, had been reported earlier as listing badly and Young Brothers, Ltd., Honolulu agency which handled her purchase for scrap, had ordered the tug Hercules and Monarch, who had the ship under tow, to return to Pearl Harbor rather than try to make the mainland. She left Honolulu last Saturday.

Little of the Oklahoma's former might remained for her last voyage.

Her superstructure, including her anti-aircraft batteries, her 10 14-inch guns and 16 5-inch guns, was gone.

Much of her machinery, however, including boilers, remained intact.

Torpedoed from the air in the Japanese air attack at Pearl Harbor, the Oklahoma turned turtle in shallow water. She was righted and refloated in May, 1943, and rebuilt.

Her sister ship, the Nevada, was torpedoed and bombed in the same disastrous action but succeeded in beaching herself and later was completely refitted.

The Moore Drydock Company of Oakland had purchased the Oklahoma as junk for $46,000 and planned to begin reducing her to scrap in June.

Only this week Joseph Moore, Sr., head of the concern, received a delegation of nearly 500 persons from Oklahoma, headed by Governor Roy J. Turner, had planned to journey here for a last farewell to the gallant battleship named after their state.

"Fast Talkers" Get Fat Fees

(Hickman County Gazette, Clinton)

According to reports around town this past weekend, several Clinton home owners were victimized by fast talkers last week. At least three local people, one a widow and another an elderly man, were fleeced of sums running as high as $900.

The "racket" was protection on houses against termites, which is a fine thing when rightly done at a reasonable price. But from now on Clinton folks will probably have this work done by or through local firms, on whom property owners can rely.

The Gazette would appreciate hearing from persons in other towns who may have had some experience with these men. Their Clinton customers, and local officers, would like very much to get in touch with them.

Congress Urged To Bolster U. S. Air Defenses; Sen. Brewster Says English, Reds Ahead Of Us

Washington, May 17.—(AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said today the nation's aircraft industry is ailing and needs government help quickly.

"Our hemispheric air defenses," he told a reporter, "are going out the window while we are stalling around."

He said it is up to Congress to act because "it is difficult, if not impossible, to draw a line of demarcation between national security and the interests of the aviation industry."

Brewster was interviewed in advance of an air policy session of a Senate Commerce Subcommittee which he heads. Aviation industry leaders were invited in to tell the group their problems.

"We are ahead of other nations in current operating models," Brewster said, "but far behind in the development of new types of planes. For instance, Great Britain just sold the Argentine government 75 jet fighter planes. That government wouldn't even look at our P-80's."

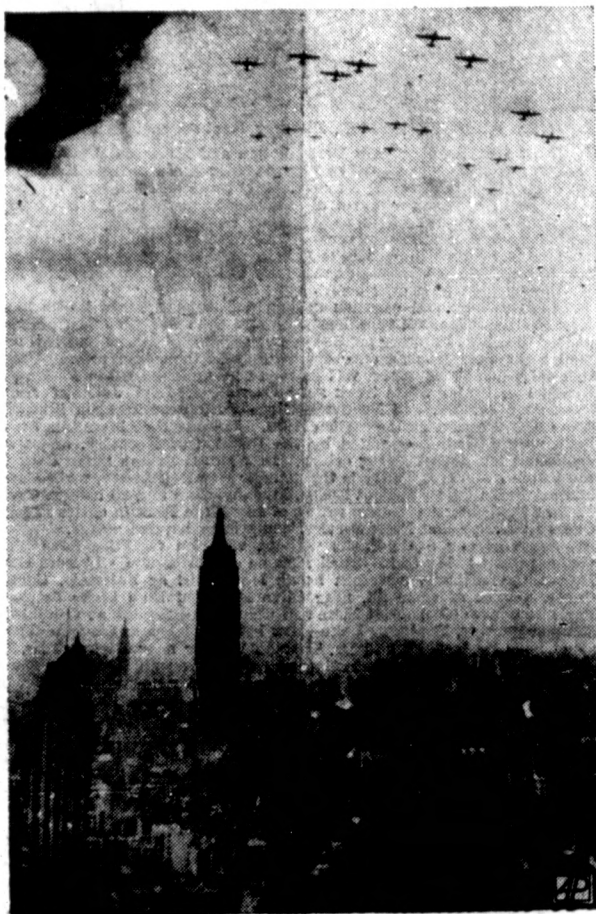

Brewster said that if the next war is fought in the air the United States will find itself at a critical disadvantage.

"Great Britain and Russia, by their militant approach to the problem of civil and military aviation," he said, "have dislodged the United States from the prime position it held during the war and caused it to plunge down to an ignominious third place."

Brewster introduced this week a bill to establish a temporary National Air Policy Board, composed of the Secretaries of State, War, Navy and Commerce, and two members each from the Senate and House. This body would study the status of military and civilian aviation and make recommendations to the President and Congress.

"This, however, will take several months," Brewster said. "Our aviation industry heads say that unless something is done immediately to solve their dire situation they can be out of business before this board can report."

Legion Auxiliary Gets Poppies Which Will Be Worn on May 24

Memorial poppies which will be worn here on Poppy Day, May 24, in honor of the dead of both world wars, have been received by the Legion's unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The poppies are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies which grow in France and Belgium where so many battles of both wars were fought," explained Mrs. J. E. McNatt, local chairman. "They are the poppies which grew between the crosses, row on row," in World War I battle cemeteries and so became the memorial flower for the war dead. Now they symbolize memory for those who died for America on land, sea and in the air in every part of the world.

"Each flower is hand made by a disabled veteran, the paper petals carefully attached to the wire stem and shaped to resemble the blooms with which nature decorated the battlefields graves. The work gives disabled men something to do during long hospitalization and convalescence. It occupies their hands and minds, helping them get well. It enables them to earn money, which builds their morale and makes things easier for themselves and families."

The poppies are being unpacked and counted by the Auxiliary's poppy committee, and made ready for volunteer workers to distribute in all parts of the city Poppy Day. No price will be asked for the little flowers but everyone receiving one will be asked to contribute something for the welfare of the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

"The Poppy Day contribution makes possible the Legion Auxiliary's extensive rehabilitation and child welfare work," Mrs. McNatt said.

Farmer Faces Hit-Run Count

Former UK Grid Star, Construction Employee Killed In Road Smashup

Lexington, Ky., May 17.—(AP)—A Bourbon county farmer faced a hearing here today in connection with the deaths of a former University of Kentucky football player and another man killed when an automobile crashed into a road project on Paris Pike and then sped from the scene.

Richard Samuel Huette, 28, Lexington, construction superintendent for Shely Construction Co., and a former star U. K. football center, died 20 minutes after he was taken to a hospital following the crash. Albert Harlan Bowman, Lexington, employee of the company, was killed outright.

William McKinzie, 26, was booked here on two charges of manslaughter and one of leaving the scene of an auto accident. He was held under bonds totaling $25,000 pending the hearing before Magistrate R. L. Jackson.

McKinzie was arrested in Paris 45 minutes after the crash late yesterday. Another man, L. C. Clark, negro, Lexington, was injured seriously. A fourth, Harry Shelton, Lexington, received a minor injury. The men were loading dirt on a truck at the scene of a ditch being dug across the highway for a pipeline.

McKinzie denied any part in the accident. Fayette County Patrol Chief J. W. McCord said he had four witnesses, including one who said he could identify the driver and another who said he followed the hit-run auto from Lexington to Paris.

YMCA-Sponsored Meeting Delegates To Finish Session

Frankfort, Ky., May 17.—(AP)—The 1947 Y. M. C. A. state youth and government conference, with a Lexington boy serving as governor, scheduled its final session here today.

Irvine Scrivener of Henry Clay high school in Lexington was elected governor to succeed another Lexingtonian, Gibson Downing.

Gov. Selmon Willis told more than 100 youths their two days of sessions here would give them a good insight into state government operations.

Secretary of State Charles K. O'Connell also spoke during yesterday's sessions.

Bishop Charles Clingman To Visit Local Church

Bishop Charles Clingman, of Louisville, Episcopal bishop of Kentucky, will be at Trinity Episcopal church for evening services at 7:30 May 18. The church extends a cordial invitation to the public to be present.

INCognito—Margaret O'Brien, child actress, didn't go quite as far as smoked glasses on a trip to New York, but claimed nobody recognized her in these spectacles.

4-H Clubbers Vie At Clinton Today

Hickman county's 4-H Club Rally Day is in progress today at Central school. The program began at 10 and was to end at 3 p. m.

Demonstrations and contests for both boys and girls of the county's 4-H Clubs were conducted. Winners received free trips to Kentucky Junior Week on the University of Kentucky campus in Lexington early in June.

Truman Called To The Bedside Of His Mother

Heart Trouble Has Developed, Physician Says

CHIEF BOARDS PLANE

Grandview, Mo., May 17.—(AP)—President Truman was summoned to the bedside of his ailing 94-year-old mother today after her condition took a turn for the worse.

Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, the President's personal physician who has been attending Mrs. Truman, said her condition was "very serious."

"She is suffering from a tired heart," General Graham said. "Her condition at all times has been getting along well. We have got her out of bed and into a rocking chair every day."

"I had hopes of getting her to walk, but her heart is heart is extremely weak."

Mrs. Truman fractured a hip in a fall at her home last February. The fracture had healed to the point where the cast was removed a week ago. It was the third fracture Mrs. Truman had suffered in recent years. A hip and a shoulder, respectively, were broken in previous falls.

Despite her advanced years she recovered from these injuries and was able to move around the house until she fell last February while preparing to retire.

Miss Mary Jane Truman, sister of the President, said "Mother is resting quite comfortably now, but she is quite ill so I decided to call the President to Grandview."

She said complications had developed and referred all questions to General Graham.

General Graham said that Mrs. Truman's fracture had healed to the point where she could walk in another few days were it not for the weakened condition of her heart.

He described her injury as an "inter an extracapsular fracture of the left hip."

The President took off from Washington at 7:45 a. m. Eastern standard time and was expected to reach Grandview in about four hours.

Abduction Story Evidently False

Shelbyville, Ky., May 16.—(AP)—County officials last yesterday said they had found no clues to substantiate a report that three negroes had abducted a white woman near a carnival here Wednesday.

After county officers, state patrolmen and civilian possees had scoured the vicinity for nearly 24 hours, County Attorney William H. Hayes and Sheriff Hubert Gordon announced they believed the rumor was unfounded.

Jayes said two negroes who had been held for questioning had been released, but Sheriff Gordon said two other persons still were being questioned.

The June Bug Cometh

The June bug proved it! Summer is almost here. We'd been sweating in the first heat wave of late Spring, watching girls blossom forth in bright cotton frocks and enviously eyeing the first barefoot boys as they escaped the tyranny of shoes. We swore softly at a "Summer" head-cold that came a little early. All the time we were sure Summer was halfway around the corner. Then the June bug came along.

He announced his presence by an experimental whirling of wings—a few quick thrashes at the air, then silence, then he was airborne.

Where he spent the winter we are unable to say. We suppose he hibernated, but some smart-aleck entomologist might tell us June bugs don't do that. Anyway, there he was, dull green with bright beady eyes, just like thousands that will be here soon.

Maybe he should call him by his proper name—a melon-thine beetle (genus Phyllonotus, that is). But few would know him by this fancy moniker.

To paraphrase an old nursery rhyme, "June bug, June bug, fly away home." Maybe you'll feast on large juicy blackberries in time, hearing the daylight out of some little girl who happens to pick you up unaware. You'll probably cling to her fingers with your great sticky feet for a fleet second before you zoom off to a new adventure. Maybe a small boy will tie a thread to one of your legs and make you fly like a kite, while you tug futilely at the tiny rope that symbolizes man's control over other creatures. You'll be safer to steer clear of human beings. Most of them won't respect your right to go your way unmolested. That's nothing unusual, though. They're just as cruel to one another.

Happy flying, harbingers of Summer!

Romance In Reverse

Chicago. (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Cole, 34, told Circuit Judge Leonard C. Reid that she wanted to divorce Glen Cole, 38, but she was willing to continue as his secretary.

Under terms of the decree granted by Judge Reid, Cole, who is head of a floor sanding company, will appear in his former home only to give dictation and make business telephone calls.

"In business we get along fine," said Mrs. Cole, who had charged cruelty. "But in marriage, no. He'll have to sleep and eat out."

Marathon Bridge Game

Chicago. (AP)—Trygve E. Myer, who has been commuting from his suburban home in Lombard to his job in Chicago for 36 years, believes he has some sort of a record for playing bridge.

Myer, who has retired from his job, estimates that he has played 18,128 bridge games. During the 36 years he said he was in a foursome of bridge on every trip to and from work.

He also figures that he has traveled 468,000 miles—50 miles a day to and from work.

Some wonder of wonders—have driven 25 years without even a parking ticket.

German Black Markets

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

We are getting an unpleasant view of the seamy side of human nature in the German food crisis, for the hunger that is bearing down on the unhappy country is due in considerable degree to parasitical native black-marketeers who have attached themselves to the body of the stricken Reich.

The American Military Government price control chief in Berlin, F. Taylor Ostrander, estimates that German farmers have been diverting a fifth of the nation's food production from controlled distribution to the black market. He said 450,000 hogs disappeared from the U. S. zone in three months ending in early March.

Ostrander added that usually the farmers didn't accept money but insisted on barter for farm equipment, supplies and services. However, it strikes me that farmers who profit by selling to the black market are no better than the dealers who resell at inflated prices. Both men get much of their "gain" from the sufferings of their fellows.

There are few more despicable leeches than the operators of black markets, and one would think that a country which has been knocked about so terribly as Germany would be the last to be thus afflicted. Having made this observation we are reminded that the Reich isn't by any means the only nation which is beset by these blood-suckers.

It's an uncomfortable truth that most of the world, including our own United States, has been cursed with black-markets ever since the beginning of the war. Europe is swarming with racketeers, and so is Asia, for the black markets thrive in countries which are economically distressed.

In mighty China, where millions have been starving, the black-markets have continued to gamble with rice—the staff of life for the country's five hundred millions. Chinese inflation is terrific. The official Central News Agency recently announced that the cost of living was 19,000 times as high as in the first six months of 1937. Black markets have had much to do with forcing prices up to this fantastic peak.

But to get back to the German situation, which is flaming across the front pages of the European press from Moscow to London: both America and England are taking energetic action to meet this crisis. U. S. Secretary of War Patton's announcement that America will send Germany more than 1,200,000 tons of food during May, June and July, has been followed by the statement in London that British occupation troops in Germany shortly will make an all-out effort to crush the black markets.

London official sources say it is planned for British troops to comb their zone of occupation for hidden stocks of food. It is reported that a startling amount of food is being withheld by Germans from the normal channels of distribution.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin yesterday told the House of Commons that the Germans are responsible for their own predicament. He declared that "it is the German people who must work their passage back to economic recovery."

The British project of searching their zone for food is a daring one. One British official in Berlin on hearing about the proposal asserted that "the psychological effect of such a plan would be most unfortunate." Be that as may be, it certainly is bound to cause much resentment.

Still the Germans are under military rule. They cannot be allowed to defy the authorities and contribute further to the food crisis.

It is an unfortunate circumstance that the four Allied zones—American, British, French and Russian—frequently do not work in harmony in political and economic matters. An emergency like the present calls for Allied unity and lack of it must inevitably affect German morale adversely. However, the general view is that the food crisis can be eased greatly in the course of about three months.

Vacation In Kentucky State Parks

By RUSSELL DYCHE, Director Kentucky State Parks

Now that the Kentucky Derby is run and Dogwood Winter is behind us and Mountain Laurel and Rhododendron are in the offing, Kentuckians are turning an eye to their highways and thinking of vacation time. Thousands of them are depending upon their State Parks for vacation opportunities; and tens of thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands, will examine the recreational value of them. Though much remains to be done to prepare our parks for their fullest service to the public, progress is being made and they are in better position to care for their guests than ever before.

Lodges, inns and vacation cabins in Kentucky State Parks have facilities for full week vacations for more than five thousand persons during the three Summer months alone; and group camps and tent and trailer camping grounds offer opportunity to thousands more. Vacation cabins, fully equipped, will be found in Audubon State Park near Henderson, Butler State Park near Carrollton, Levi Jackson State Park near London, and Pinnacle State Park near Dawson Springs; while Kentucky Ridge Recreation Area, adjoining Pine Mountain State Park near Pineville, operated by the Division of Forestry, offers an additional ten housekeeping cabins. In Natural Bridge State Park in the scenic Red River Valley is the popular Hemlock Lodge, while Cumberland Falls has its duPont Lodge, Moonbow Inn and 24 cabins. Cumberland Falls has the highest rating of any State Park in entire Region One of the National Park Service, comprising several states.

Some of our State Parks without vacation facilities have high visitor ratings: My Old Kentucky Home at Harrodsburg, Old Fort Harrold at Harrodsburg, Jefferson Davis Memorial at Fairview, Carter Caves, newest of them all, near Olive Hill, and Blue Licks between Paris and Mayfield. And there are Columbus-Belmont at Columbus, Dawson Springs, Kentucky Lake—now being developed; Lincoln Homestead near Springfield, and Dr. Thomas Walker near Harboursville.

Four-color folders illustrating and describing all Kentucky State Parks may be had at any of the parks or by writing the Division of Parks, Frankfort. Separate folders also are available for several, such as Use Kentucky State Parks—they are yours!

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, May 17.—(AP)—The doings this week end should tell folks who are interested in college Spring sports a lot about how the season will out. There are at least a half dozen important sectional track meets listed, for instance, and the bigwigs of the Southeastern and Southwest Conferences are gathering at the same time to discuss such things as their stands on the N. C. A. A. "purity code." Nick Kerbaey, beating the tom-toms for the first national collegiate baseball championship, lists Army, Texas and California as the current standouts with New York U., Georgetown, Navy, Holy Cross, Illinois, Michigan State, Clemson, Duke and Southern California among the leading contenders for tournament spots. The South-Southeast district has so many good teams they're playing a qualifying tournament at Charlotte, N. C., June 11. Even the oarsmen will have it out today in the ten crew Eastern "sprint" championship, biggest pre-Poughkeepsie event. And, of course, there's the varsity-old-timers football game at Notre Dame today.

WANNA ALPHA-BET?
"Mark my P's and Q's (predictions and quotes)," wires Col. Scoop Latimer of Greenville, S. C., "Clemson's Joes—Haze and Landrum—who pitched the South Carolina College to Southern Conference leadership, will turn pros for jobs in the Brooklyn farm system this summer."

Harry King, new American Association umpire, was born in England and never heard of baseball until he was ten years old. But he knows what to do about actions that "aren't cricket."

Malno's Bob Elliot forwards this fish story: "Warden Leon Ayer of Rockwood, Me., noticed greatly distended stomachs of a couple of otters caught by a visiting angler."

New York Giants second baseman Bill Rigney slides into second with a stolen base in second inning of game with Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field, Chicago as shortstop Lenny Merullo puts ball on him too late after taking toss from pitcher Bill Lee. Umpire is Bill Stewart.

The warden asked the gent to dress them out to see if the togue had been feeding on smelts coming down Moose River. "The smelts were there," Ayer reported. "But in one stomach was a whole frankfurter, its skin unbroken." ... Probably the fish picked it up at a ball game.

Mayfield Stays On Top In Kitty League Race By Beating Back Rally

Mayfield's Clothiers strengthened their grasp on first place in the Kitty League last night by taking a 3-2 win over the Fulton Chicks at Mayfield. Both Fulton came in the ninth after Mayfield had scored twice in the sixth and once in the seventh.

Adolph Morara, new Chick left-hander, pitched the first eight innings, and gave up only four hits. He was taken out for Engel, a pinch-hitter, and Hubert Sidle finished the game.

Mayfield's first two scores were made on a walk, an error and a single by Arant. Rzendzi-nski singled in the seventh to drive in the winning run.

Hal Seawright banged out a single for Fulton in the top of the ninth, and Gill and Rhodes walked. Lis got a one-base blow to drive in the first two runners, but Fulton rally died there.

The Chicks play Mayfield there again tonight and Sunday, and return home Monday for their first meeting of the year with Clarksville.

Pat Mullins Replaces Hank

Tiger Slugger Has .444 Mark Now, Knocks Home Runs Just Like C'berg

By Jack Hand

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Pat Mullin, the toast of Detroit with a .444 batting average, is driving in the runs that Hank Greenberg used to knock home.

When Big Hank was waived out of the American League and asked to Pittsburgh, Tiger fans asked the pointed question: "who is going to knock in the 127 runs that Hank batted across last season?"

Nobody mentioned Mullin's name. In fact, when the husky Irishman from Trotter, Pa., arrived at the Lakeland, Fla., training base this Spring he was just another ball player fighting for a job. Mullin had dislocated his right shoulder in a collision with Chicago's Bill Dietrich, July 2, 1941 and he was slow in regaining his pre-war form after four years in service.

With a year behind him, Mullin again has looked like his old self, leading the league with 13 doubles and hitting some 80 points better than anybody else in the majors. Of his 32 hits, 20 have been for extra bases including six homers and he has knocked in 14 runs in 20 games.

Mullin's second-inning homer yesterday with Wakefield on base gave Detroit an early lead. After Philadelphia tied the score and the clubs had battled to the 14th, Mullin again opened the winning rally with a single to set the stage for Doc Cramer's tie-breaking single.

matches to finish on the second day's play, giving the challenging team the necessary seven triumphs to clinch the trophy. Smiley Quick of California, national public links champion, posted the decisive seventh victory when he closed out Jimmie Wilcox, a Scotsman, 8 and 6. His teammates, Bud Ward, Skee Riegel, Willie Turnesa and Dick Chapman had turned in previous victories in the singles to go with yesterday's two triumphs in the Scotch foursomes.

Ga. Tech, LSU Battle For SEC Track Meet Crown

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—(AP)—Georgia Tech was a slight favorite to win the 15th annual Southeastern Conference track meet here today but followers of Louisiana State were not discounting the chances of the Tigers.

The Jackets, Conference champions in 1944 and 1945, placed men in nine of the finals of yesterday's trial events while LSU was able to land men in only four of the ten events. However, on the five events—the pole vault, high jump, mile relay, one mile run and two mile run—in which preliminaries were not held, the Tigers were considered to be "loaded" whereas Tech was not regarded as being too strong.

What We Believe

Charles L. Houser

"What shall I recognize as authority in religion?" is a question of major importance, which every religiously inclined person must eventually decide for himself.

One's feelings can not be regarded as a safe guide, for both personal experiences and Bible examples have shown how unreliable our feelings are. Although Jacob felt that Joseph was dead, Joseph was very much alive and doing wonderfully well in Egypt.

"Let your conscience be your guide" is a familiar expression, but even one's conscience will justify him in that which is wrong, if he has been taught error. If you were captured by a band of cannibals, would you say to them, "Let your conscience be your guide?" There are thousands of people whose conscience leads them to bow before images and pay homage unto idols, because they have been taught that to do this is right. But it is never right to engage in idolatry, regardless of the dictations of the conscience.

Those teachings and practices correctly styled "traditions" were begun without the authority or approval of God. Since they are not of divine origin, they are not to be found in God's holy word, but are only handed down from one generation to the other by fallible men. The gospel of Christ or the New Testament should be regarded as the sole authority in religion today. Sometimes it is contended that it takes both the Bible and certain traditions to constitute religious authority, but this position can not possibly be harmonized with the following divine statements: "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (2 Tim. 3:16,17). "According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, . . ." (2 Pet. 1:3).

Since God revealed to the apostles "ALL THINGS THAT PERTAIN UNTO LIFE AND GODLINESS," assured that there have been no additional revelations from God to ANY PERSON, since the completion of the New Testament. We believe that it is THE authority in religion—everything else is of human origin and, therefore, is unreliable and unsafe.

BOY meets GIRL!

An important moment!
The course of our children's lives is often determined by these first casual meetings and the deepening friendships that spring from them. Wise parents are vitally concerned with the circumstances and place of such youthful contacts.

At what better place could these young people meet than their church? Here they are learning to discover the best that is in themselves and in others. Here, too, they are provided natural opportunities for finding friends with common interests and a mutual sense of moral values.

But first must come the example of parents. It is when we support the Church by regular attendance and constant interest that our sons and daughters realize its importance in their own lives.

And happily, for parents and children alike, worshipping God and meeting other people on a common ground of faith and understanding, we discover the finer things of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, our four round nations why every person should attend (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
