PROHIBITION ELECTION.

Being Held In Canada To-Day.

THE FIRST TIME

Such a Vote Was Taken By An Entire Country.

PROBABLE RESULT.

[SPECIAL TO NEW ERA.]
OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—The people of the Dominion of Canada are casting their ballots to-day to decide whether the country shall adopt prohibition. The plebiscite is the result of a pledge made by the Liberal party in the last general campaign, and the question submitted to the people is as follows: "Are you in favor of the passing of an act prohibiting the manufacture, importation or sale of spirit, wine, ale, beer, cider and all other alcoholic liquors for use as beverages?"

The general opinion among those who have carefully watched the course of the campaign is that the prohibitionists will probably obtain a majority of the vote cast, but as a substantial majority is necessary before the federal government will pass a prohibitory law, the majority, it is believed, will be insufficient for the success of the prohibition cause.

The plebiscite closes one of the most remarkable campaigns in the history of Canada, nor can its counterpart be found in the history of the world for it is the first time on record that a vote has been taken by an entire country to decide the question of barring the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

JOLLY AND FOWLER

Are There With Their Counsel - Case Being Heard By Judge Dorsey To-Day.

The long drawn out factional fight between Messrs. Jolly and Fowler for the empty honor of the Republican nomination for Congress in this district has at last dragged itself into the civil courts. It was expected to reach an issue at Owensboro Wednesday afternoon to decide the temporary injunction granted at the instance of Jolly against Fowler, Vance and other disaffected members. Judge Owen, however, for personal reasons refused to sit in the case Jolly had previously declared his intention to swear Owen off the bench.

From Owensboro the case was then taken to Henderson and the motion was made before Circuit Judge Dorsey this morning to dissolve the injunction.

Both Jolly and Fowler are at Henderson watching their interests. Jolly is assisted by Judge Lobias Little, of Owensboro. Fowler is represented by Hon. W. T. Ellis, of Owensboro, and Malcolm Yeamans, the latter having been retained yesterday on account of the necessary absence of Judge James B. Breathitt, of this city.

Whatever the decision of this court may be it is believed that the Court of Appeals will be finally invoked to determine who is entitled to the use of the party device.

MRS. HENRY SACHS.

Mrs. Henry Sachs died at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at her home near the corner of Clay and Broad streets. Mrs. Sachs was twenty-seven years old. She and her husband came to this city from Seattle, Washington, about four weeks ago. Mrs. Sachs engaged in business on Ninth street. Her husband and an infant child survive her. This burial took place at Cedar Grove cemetery at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The burial service was read by Mr. H. Bohrer.

The horse became frightened and unmanageable, over turning the vehicle. Physicians were very apprehensive about the victims of the accident for a time. The ladies were thrown against a tree and rendered unconscious for two hours.

MRS. RICHARD MORGAN.

The following Dallas, Texas, special to the St. Louis Republic notes the demise of a lady who was formerly well-known in this city:

"Local church and exclusive social circles were shocked tonight to learn that Mrs. Richard Morgan, of Dallas, had died suddenly today at Chicago from the effect of a surgical operation performed on her in that city. Mrs. Morgan's general health was good and recently she went to Chicago for treatment for some special ailment, which none of her friends regarded as serious. Mrs. Morgan was a Miss Lily Owens, of Clarksville, Tenn. She was a sister of the wife of Horace Lorton of Nashville, Tenn., who is United States Circuit Judge of the circuit composed of Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan. She married Richard Morgan, of Dallas, at Clarksville, Tenn., about 25 years ago. He is now the Democratic nominee for Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District Court at Dallas. Several children also survive Mrs. Morgan. Mrs. Morgan was extremely popular in the most exclusive circles of Dallas society, and was a prominent member of the Episcopal church."

He had been seriously ill for several weeks.

DELIGHTFUL

Was the Dance at Moayon's Hall.

CHARLIE'S ORCHESTRA

Furnished the Music—Dancing Continued Until Two O'Clock This Morning.

Another of those delightful informal dances which leaves a train of blissful recollections in its wake was given at Moayon Hall Wed. night by the young men in honor of the visiting young ladies.

There was little time to indulge anticipations. The plans for the dance were arranged yesterday afternoon very hastily and, consequently, the enthusiasm which so often exhausts itself in anticipation, was reserved for the actual. This may account in some measure for the unusual heartiness and gaiety with which the dancers entered into the spirit of the occasion.

The music was well calculated to kindle the Terpsechorean ardor in youthful hearts. Charlie's Italian Orchestra, which had been engaged to furnish music for Gault's opening Wednesday, was induced to remain and play for the dance.

The musicians reached the hall at 8:30 and a little later the delightful strains of a waltz were wafted from the windows of the brilliantly lighted hall and the dancers were moving in time over the polished floor.

From that hour to two o'clock this morning the delightful pastime was continued and even then it was with apparent reluctance that the gay assemblage dispersed. It has been many months since local society participated in an event so thoroughly enjoyable.

Among those present were Misses: Kate Anderson, Gladys Leonard, Cleveland, Ohio; Edna Ellis, Grace Wood, Berta Green, Mary Barnett, Belle E. Mann, Edna Leonard, Westwood Green, Elizabeth Morris, Sarah Mason, Sylvia Barnett, Letitia Fairleigh, Messrs: O. H. Tandy, Preston Thomas, Harry Bryan, John Johnson, James Cooper, Henry Holton, Walker Wood, M. F. Blakemore, Clarence Brown, Mike Nelson, Edmund Starling, R. Hardwick, Frank Bell, Elton, Joe Barnett, Jack Warfield, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Wood, Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Howell, Mrs. L. F. Blakemore, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Petty, Mrs. M. H. Nelson, Mrs. Rychie Barnett, Mrs. Ed. Carney.

WILL LET CONTRACT

For Erection of Handsome College Addition.

At the meeting of the trustees of Bethel Female College held Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of considering plans for the erection of additional buildings to meet the growing demand of the institution, the matter of selecting plans and awarding the contract was referred to the building committee. This committee was vested with full power and authority to act.

The Board had previously determined upon the erection of a handsome three-story brick wing to be built against the East side of the main building, the work to be begun as soon as practicable.

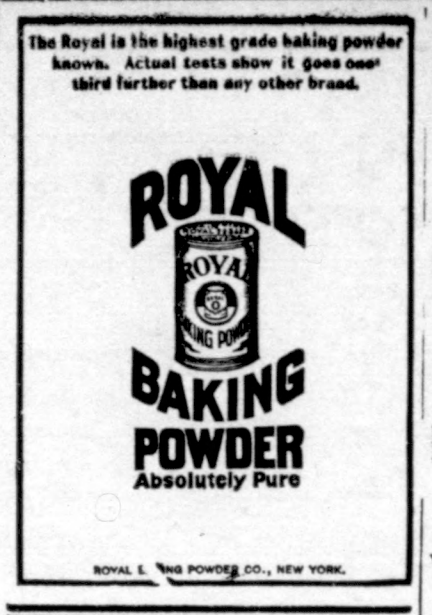

The Building Committee will meet to-day and open sealed bids from the competing contractors. The contract will then be let to the lowest bidder and within a week it is expected that dirt will be broken for the foundation.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

Lincoln J. Carter has a world wide fame as a past-master of stage mechanism. To read the list of scenic effects in one play alone would tend to prove this. In the new-stirring and powerful American play written by Mr. Carter and Mr. Hal Reid, Mr. Carter has devised and executed the following life like effects. The entrance of the battleship Maine into Havana Harbor. The explosion of the Maine. The old wine vault with its falling foundation—the destruction of a Spanish fleet by an American shell—and to top this list nothing less than Dewey's destruction of the Spanish fleet and the bombardment of Manila. Most managers are satisfied with one effect—to a play and here are five in one play alone, and done as only this master hand of effects for the stage can do them. Opera House, Saturday Oct. 1st.

GUILTY.

Jury's Verdict in the Case of Bud Garth.

TWO YEARS IN PEN.

Haskins Murder Trial is Continued—Grand Jury is Very Busy—Other Court News.

"Guilty."

Such was the verdict of the jury Wednesday afternoon in the case of the notorious Bud Garth, charged with house-breaking.

Commonwealth's Attorney Howell finished his argument shortly after three o'clock and the case was then given to the jury.

After less than one hour's deliberation the jury filed in, and in response to the usual inquiry the foreman said that they had agreed.

The defendant in the opinion of the jury was guilty as charged in the indictment and his punishment was fixed at two years' confinement in the penitentiary. Garth was unmoved by the verdict, his features showing no emotion whatever.

Still another indictment charging the same offense is upon the records against this defendant. His attorney yesterday filed a demurrer to this indictment which was promptly overruled by the court, and exceptions taken to the ruling.

Albert Haskins, charged with flourishing a pistol, submitted this case to the court without the intervention of a jury, and a fine of $50 was imposed. The same defendant was fined $50 for carrying concealed deadly weapon.

The case of the commonwealth against Haskins, charged with the murder of J. White near Garrettsburg several months ago, was continued to the third day of the next term at the instance of the commonwealth's attorney.

Col. Hal Reid, indicted for hog stealing and trespass entered his plea of guilty as to the lesser offense and a fine of $30 was assessed.

James W. Boyd, indicted at the last session of the grand jury for knowingly holding an office after the expiration of his term, presented a pardon signed by Gov. Bradley and the case was stricken from the docket.

The following commonwealth cases were continued to the next term: Hiram Kimmer, malicious assault. Same, carrying concealed deadly weapon. The grand jury is very busy and is carrying many citizens through the ordeal of examination in the effort to locate crimes and misdemeanors. No indictments have been returned thus far.

RIGHT OFF THE WIRE.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 29.—Agricultural Commissioner Lucas Moore and Faulkner, his deposed deputy, nearly came to blows this morning. They met in a warm dispute, strong epithets being bandied.

But for the intervention of friends a rough and tumble fight would have occurred. The deposal of Faulkner was the result of political differences between Faulkner and his chief, Commissioner Moore. Faulkner says that Moore undertook to control him in all political matters and became offended because he would not support John W. Lewis for Appellate Judge.

The tip is out that Commissioner Moore will appoint his wife to succeed Faulkner, whose salary is $1200. Faulkner will be given a berth by Collector Sapp at Louisville.

THE ROMANOFF LAND AND MINING CO.

How this Alaska Company has Increased the Value of its Stock 500 Per Cent. in the First Six Months.

The Company was incorporated March 17th, 1898, and offered its first block of stock for public subscription on April 1st at 10 per cent. of its par value, or ten cents per share. A body of land 6,640 acres in extent, on the Yukon River, was purchased and a thoroughly reliable mining man of 20 years experience, engaged to go to Alaska to reside there in charge of the Company's interests as Superintendent, to thoroughly protect and develop the resources of this tract of land. He secured a number of old miners and prospectors to accompany him, and the start was made from Seattle by steamer to St. Michaels on June 27th, the party consisting of ten men, and the Superintendent carrying mining tools, provisions and all necessary supplies for one year. A long delay occurred in leaving St. Michaels by reason of the Steamship Company failing to carry out their contract, and new transportation was contracted and paid for to the upper Yukon and a new start (with some additions to the party) was made on the 25th of July. When this party sailed, prepared for a year's work in the gold fields, the stock of the Company was advanced to 20 cents per share, as it was considered by the Directors that the prospects of the Company had increased in that rate. Now at the end of the first six months, from reliable information from the Superintendent and also from disinterested parties who have supervised upon and are familiar with this tract of land, the Company feels that it has most agreeably surprised even its very sanguine friends and stockholders:

1st. That this is one of the most valuable large tracts of land in Alaska.

2nd. That prospect work has proven that rich placer areas are within the limits of this body of land, that much of the system of mining so well developed by our Superintendent, to yield a rich harvest of gold the coming season.

3rd. That a large body of large timber covers the greater portion of the tract, and can readily be sold to the mill, where the roughest lumber is worth $20 per 1,000 at the saw-mill.

4th. That a large body of large timber covers the greater portion of the tract, and can readily be sold to the mill, where the roughest lumber is worth $20 per 1,000 at the saw-mill.

5th. That a large body of large timber covers the greater portion of the tract, and can readily be sold to the mill, where the roughest lumber is worth $20 per 1,000 at the saw-mill.
