K. C. Election Records Stolen

Ballot Boxes Missing Soon After Grand Jury Voted Probe of '46 Vote

Kansas City, May 28—(AP)—The city board of election commissioners reported today that its vault had been burglarized and the ballot boxes carried away, less than 12 hours after a grand jury had recommended continuation of a probe into alleged fraud in the 1946 primary election.

Ludwick Graves, chairman of the board, was not immediately available for a statement, but members of the office staff said the door of the vault had been forced and the ballot boxes and poll books stolen.

The office, which handles elections and registrations for the city precincts, is located on the first floor of the Jackson county courthouse, across the street from the city hall.

Police department officials said they had sent a number of detectives to investigate. A county grand jury report returned last night said that the jury believed Roger C. Slaughter was deprived of the Democratic nomination for congressman in Missouri's fifth district in the primary last August.

Tennessee Banker Kidnaped In Auto

Tracy City, Tenn., May 28—(AP)—A local bank cashier was kidnaped from his home and taken in his own automobile and his aged mother was bound in the attempted robbery of the First National Bank here early today.

Alvin Henderson, the cashier, told officers he was tied up in his automobile about seven miles from here on the Sequatchie Valley road but escaped unharmed after his abductors fled.

Grundy County Sheriff D. E. Grooms launched a search for two or more men reported involved in the abduction after Henderson's mother, Mrs. Ida Henderson, 70, said her son was taken from their home four blocks from the bank about 1 a. m. said a man carrying a pistol tied her with strips of sheet ripped from a bed.

Marshall Called To May Trial; Rep. Chapman Causes Chuckles

Washington, May 28—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall appeared today at the May-Garrison war bribe trial but a court recess delayed his testimony as a character witness for former Kentucky Congressman Andrew J. May.

The wartime Army chief of staff entered the court room after three members of Congress, Reps. LeRoy Johnson (R-Calif.), Thomas Martin (R-Iowa), and Virgil Chapman (D-Ky.) testified that May's reputation was "good" when May was in Congress as chairman of the House Military Committee.

May is on trial on charges of taking $55,000 in wartime bribes from munitions makers Murray and Henry Garsson. The Garsson brothers are co-defendants.

A number of other former House colleagues of May were on hand to testify after Marshall's appearance on the witness stand. The start of Marshall's testimony was delayed to permit rival attorneys to interview him.

Rep. Chapman twice provoked loud laughter from the court

Truman Plans Early Return To Washington

Mother's Stamina Is "Miraculous"; Had a Good Night

Grandview, Mo., May 28—(AP)—President Truman is planning an early return to Washington in view of the amazing improvement of his mother in the past few days.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles O. Ross said Mrs. Martha E. Truman's improvement has reached such a point that there is no setback today, "the President may safely consider an early return" to the White House.

Ross made his observation at a news conference at 9:45 a. m. (CST) a few hours after the President said his mother had the "best night" last night since he flew here May 17.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the President's physician, said that the 94-year-old patient's temperature "is now normal," that her respiration "is excellent" and her pulse "is good."

The amazing progress of the elderly woman from a severe setback last Saturday night is regarded by White House aides "as almost miraculous."

Mrs. Truman fractured her hip in a fall at her home here in mid-February. She was doing nicely until a relapse sent the President flying out from Washington.

16-Yr.-Old Murderer Wondered "How It Felt To Kill A Human"

Lapeer, Mich., May 28—(AP)—The fantastic story of a 16-year-old farm youth who admitted killing four playmates "because I wondered what it would feel like to put a bullet through a human being" was scheduled for court hearing today.

Oliver Terpening, Jr., a slim, stolid youth, is charged with the flower patch murder Monday of 16-year-old Barbara Smith, his farm neighbor at Imlay City, about 20 miles from here.

State Police Commissioner Don S. Leonard said the boy also admitted killing Stanley Smith, her 14-year-old brother and his best chum, and her sisters Gladys, 12, and Janet, 2.

Income Tax Bill Rolls Along Over Democratic Opposition; May Be Passed Thursday Night

Seven Men Face Senate GOP Kills Motion To Delay, Split-Filing Plan

MORE AG FUNDS ASKED

Washington, May 28—(AP)—The income tax cut bill now has cleared two major hurdles in the Senate and Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) was hopeful today it will win final Senate approval by tomorrow night.

The Senate yesterday defeated 51 to 29 an amendment which would have extended the community property principle to all 48 states. Monday it turned back 48 to 44, a Democratic move to delay the bill until June 10.

Millikin, Finance Committee chairman, said he believes opposition reached its high mark on the two proposals.

The amendment rejected yesterday would have granted husbands and wives in all states the right to split their income evenly in making out tax returns and thus take advantage of lower rates. Ten states now permit this practice.

Opponents of a $383,000,000 cut in Agriculture Department funds for 1948 came up today with a compromise plan.

Chairman Hope (R-Kas.) of the House Agriculture Committee said he would offer an amendment to restore $248,000,000 trimmed from the budget by the Appropriations Committee.

This amount is what the Department expected to receive from its 30 percent share of import duties. Hope, however, said he would be willing to compromise for $48,000,000.

He also wants to eliminate a requirement that meat packers foot the bill for federal meat inspections.

Chairman Taber (R-N.Y.) of the House Appropriations Committee threw his support today to former President Hoover's suggestion that this country write its own peace treaties with Germany and Japan.

He declined to set a deadline for Russia to agree to speed terms of treaties but said "the more we fool around with it, the more we get involved in international handouts."

Taber's group yesterday heard Hoover urge approval of the War Department's request for $725,000,000 for civilian relief in occupied countries.

Chairman Harness (R-Ind.) summoned a House expenditures sub-committee today to open an investigation into what he called "illegal" federal publicity and propaganda activities costing $75,000,000 yearly. He said his group has uncovered government "propaganda" campaigns which deserve "Justice Department prosecution."

Harness gave no details but said the subcommittee had had "any number of complaints" against propaganda by various government agencies.

The first part of the investigation, he said, deals with activities of the Public Health Service, Social Security Board, Agriculture Department and Office of Education to promote "a nationwide program of socialized medicine."

President Truman's plan to group the government's housing agencies under a single administrator got a cool reception from GOP congressional leaders. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he doesn't favor appointment of a housing administrator or with authority to "tell various agencies what they must do." Both branches of Congress must reject the reorganization plan within 60 days or it will become effective.

Western Union Co. May Receive Fine For Aiding Bookie

Louisville, Ky., May 28—(AP)—The Jefferson county grand jury has been given the job of determining whether the Western Union Telegraph Company should be prosecuted on charges of aiding and abetting in the operation of a horse race hand-book here.

Defense counsel had cited a state law providing that conviction on the charge carries six to 12 months' imprisonment. Magistrate Rollin Gibb agreed that a corporation cannot be imprisoned but said the law also provided a fine, ranging from $1,000 to $5,000.

The company had been accused of furnishing telephone tickler service on races to a "bookie" raided by Louisville police twice within recent weeks.

Billy Neisler Promoted To Rank of Corporal

Mrs. Ruby Neisler of Bates street, was made happy yesterday evening when her son, Billy S. Neisler, who is stationed at New Orleans, called her and said in such a happy tone, "Mom, congratulate this soldier. He has been promoted to corporal." Cpl. Neisler entered the service, Sept. 12, 1946.

Baptists Attack Charity Gambling

Lexington, Ky., May 28—(AP)—"Gambling is gambling" regardless of whether it is conducted commercially or in the name of charity, the Elkhorn Association of Baptist stated in a resolution adopted here yesterday.

The statement attacked efforts of some groups seeking to exempt lotteries and games of chance for charitable causes from Lexington's recent campaign against all such activities. "Sin is sin, whether committed in a gutter or garden," the Baptist resolution stated.

It Sometimes Happens In The Best Families

It wasn't bad enough that we had plenty of local troubles—people mad at us because we dared to express opinions about controversial subjects, people whose names were misspelled or omitted, people who expected a New York Times on a small town budget. Now there's an outside chance we may be mixed up in a court martial.

Nap Brigham came down from the Airline Gas Co. office late yesterday afternoon with a copy of the May 27 Leader. He pointed to a two-column cut on the back page, and asked who it was. We read the cutlines and informed him that it was Capt. John Eisenhower and his bride-to-be, only it wasn't, at all. It was the California couple accused of knocking off the girl's parents. Right picture, wrong cutlines, or vice versa. We hope Gen. Eisenhower doesn't get excited about it.

All of which reminded us of a part of H. Allen Smith's Low Man On A Totem Pole, which says:

"The funniest things in newspapers are accidental. Some newspapermen have a hobby of collecting typographical errors, and a good collection can be one of the funniest books ever compiled. Such a symposium, however, would hardly be suitable for general distribution, since the best of the blunders are obscene."

"One of the neatest make-up errors appeared in a Brooklyn paper. There were two pictures on the same page. One was a full-length photograph of a prominent New York society woman. The other was a picture of a rare tropical bird."

"Beneath the picture of the bird was the name of the society woman and a line or two about her latest activities."

"And beneath the picture of the society woman was this description:

"Isn't this a queer-looking bird? It has hair where feathers ought to be."

Soviets Swear Off

The Western mind is baffled at news that Russia has abolished capital punishment because the Soviet Union is strong, its people are patriots and peace will last. It is like saying one is changing a state boundary because it is spring.

So one looks beneath the announced explanations. And perhaps the sentence which now replaces the death penalty is a clue. It is 25 years at forced labor. Use of forced labor in Siberian mines in Russian tradition. Presumably nobody would work there except under force. The Czars didn't administer the death sentence either. They exiled capital prisoners in perpetuity to Siberia. Somebody had to do the work. And in non-capital offenders, the Soviet Union likewise freed labor before the war. During the war, there were military prisoners who could be used. Now the capital as well as the non-capital prisoners seem likely candidates.

There are arguments for the abolition of capital punishment anywhere. But they are not concerned with the power of nations, or the patriotism of their people, or the continuation of the peace. And of a land where political executions and assassinations and exiles are an established pattern, it would be naive to believe that capital punishment has been abolished in a sudden flood of sweetness and light. (Courier-Journal).

Really Burned Up

New York. (AP)—Fire Commissioner Frank Quayle and other department officials had to leave their dinners last night because of a five-alarm blaze in Brooklyn.

The dinner, arranged by the Democratic state committee, had cost $100 a plate.

Time To Quit

Garden City, Kas. (AP)—Alta Brown, teacher of first grade classes in Garden City schools for 42 years, has resigned.

"When grandchildren of my former pupils began showing up in classes this year, I thought it was about time to quit," she said.

Fortunate Flier

Linwood, Kas. (AP)—An unidentified airplane flew low over the Kaw River, crashed through three half-inch electric cables carrying 33,000 volts, and left a power black-out through two villages.

The plane continued in flight, apparently undamaged, and a check of nearby airports failed to disclose a clue as to its identity.

Rapid Turnover

Alhambra, Calif. (AP)—The sheriff's office heard this story yesterday from the proprietor of an appliance store:

A motor was stolen from a washing machine, presumably while everyone was out for coffee.

Later two men entered the store and offered a motor for $15. It seemed a good buy and was purchased.

Then the proprietor found the motor was the one stolen earlier. The two men had disappeared.

Edward Is Frozen Out

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Dowager Queen Mary's eightieth birthday party Monday in Buckingham Palace was marred by a circumstance which has its place in a tragic chapter of England's history.

Her eldest and greatly beloved son Edward—now Duke of Windsor but once king-emperor—wasn't among the more than 30 members of the royal family who drank her health, although he was in London. He had visited his mother prior to the anniversary luncheon, and then had gone back to his duchess, the former Mrs. Wallis Simpson of Baltimore, who was with him in the British capital but who never has been received by the royal family since Edward abdicated over 10 years ago so that he might marry "The woman I love."

The Dowager Queen never has forgiven Mrs. Simpson for being the magnet which drew Britain's then popular king from the throne of his fathers. Apparently the same is true of other members of the royal family, because one doesn't recall any occasion on which the duchess has been invited to a royal function.

Naturally Edward feels the full effect of this refrigeration, and it must be pretty terrible for one who but a few years ago was the prince charming and idol of the world's greatest empire. But that's not the whole story, for the Socialist government, as was the case with the Conservative regimes before it, is being very cool though polite to the ex-monarch. Edward is said to have been seeking a job, but the best the government had done for him was when he received appointment as governor of the Bahamas during the Churchill administration. And that was small pickings for a one-time ruler of England.

Well, exactly what is back of all this? Hasn't a king the inalienable right to marry the woman he loves? The answer is: not according to the House of Lords.

In the first place, of course, the British Empire felt that its sovereign occupied too proud a position to become the third husband of any woman. Also there was much religious objections because of Mrs. Simpson's divorce. Moreover, it frequently has been said that, quite apart from his love affair, Edward had been worrying the government by going beyond his prerogatives as a constitutional ruler—and there certainly were indications that he did in fact intend to be a "real king."

However, Edward's great sin was his abdication. He was the first British monarch to abdicate voluntarily during 10 centuries of history. Under the code of royalty, there is no circumstance that warrants a ruler to abdicate unless he is forced to against his will.

In short, the royal family belongs to the people, and this is particularly true of the sovereign and of the heir to the throne. Edward was born to rule. He was schooled in kingscraft from babyhood until as a young man he was the best equipped of all the many heirs to England's crown. I know many observers who believe that had he stuck with the job to which fate assigned him, he could have been the greatest sovereign England ever had known.

So now—apart from any personal feelings about the very charming if much-wed duchess—both the royal family and the government are applying refrigeration to the duke and duchess in order to protect the monarchy—to redeem Edward's abdication in the eyes of his people. These are parious political days for monarchies and the British government and royal family are taking no chances on losing the thudfar firm affection and loyalty of the general public.

Healthy Signs

Two excellent examples of the intensified efforts of retailers to do something constructive about the price problem have recently appeared.

A retailers' organization whose membership is largely made up of stores dealing in mercantile lines, recommended that stores pledge buyers to seek out and eliminate overpriced goods; that they pass on to consumers intact any price reductions obtained; and that they apply the same price economies to their own operations that they are now demanding from suppliers.

In the food field, one of the country's largest chain systems announced that it can and will contribute to reducing the cost of living by immediately dropping retail prices on existing inventory when wholesale prices go down; that it will attempt to further reduce the in-between costs of distributing foods; and that its policy will be extremely small profits based on a large volume of business. In this connection, it pointed that its net profits were 1 1/3 cents per dollar of sales in 1946.

Retailing, of course, is but one segment of the economy and many basic costs are completely beyond its control. But the fact that it is devoting its resources to the price problem is one of the healthy signs of the times.

through a glass darkly

By ERL SENSING

One of the most vital political campaigns in the history of the state of Kentucky is beginning to take shape. With each passing day the issues become more clear-cut. In general, it follows the age-old pattern begun many, many years ago.

There have always been those who sought to impose the will of a certain clique upon the people and call the resulting rule government. Their forces are strong and without mercy. They care not that others are hurt, if only they attain their objective—to let themselves up in a position to live and fatten off the common people. With them it is only a question of rule or ruin. They work day and night to get in power. Once in power they prevent the powers of government to enrich themselves and secure their control over the destiny of mankind.

It is fortunate, indeed, for the human race that over the long-run of years they have been losing. The Magna Carta was wrested from them by the barons of King John of England; Luther and Calvin, with heaven granted assistance, broke the bonds they held upon the souls of men; the Declaration of American Independence was proclaimed in their faces by men who were brave enough to call their souls their own, and strong enough to fight to be free; the American Constitution, with its Bill of Rights, was won not from Englishmen on the field of battle, but from grasping Americans who would continue the despotic rule of English kings under a bigoted Republic; a great war has just been fought and won from the meanness of them all who called themselves free men of the German people and schemed to enslave the world.

In the race for the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky in August we see the old pattern taking form. We have the forces of invested wealth looking to the disgruntled remnants of all the broken-down political machines that ever darkened the fair name of Kentucky to take over the state and run it for the benefit of a favored few in the person of Earle Clements. This unholy alliance would force upon the people of Kentucky an administration dedicated to the proposition that all men are knaves and fools and tools to be used by certain minorities for their selfish gain.

On the other hand we have the common people of Kentucky—people like you and me—spontaneously rising to push back these opportunists and professional politicians. We claim the state for the good of all the people who dwell therein. Harry Lee Waterfield, present speaker of the general assembly, is the candidate of the people. It is up to us to see that he is elected.

His record as our representative at Frankfort is an open book. It is a book Earle Clements does not like to read. Too many times he finds himself and those he caters to on the other side—and often on the losing side.

One issue is all that I need state here. Waterfield is for TVA and REA. Clements is for the utilities. That means simply that Waterfield wants to reduce your electric bill. We here in Kentucky are within less than fifty miles of one of the biggest dams in TVA and yet we buy our electricity from a private utility. It doesn't make sense. It doesn't make sense that we should vote for a man who seeks to impose the utility companies upon us.

It is true that I work for Harry Lee Waterfield. There is an old adage that goes, "He whose bread I eat, his song I sing." I do sing Waterfield's song, he does pay my salary—but I pick him out to work for him. I made it my business to find out which side he was on before I joined forces with him. I'll keep on singing his song. It is the same song I learned to sing in the late war. I believe in the common man—I am one myself.

I believe this campaign is as important as the one we fought in Europe and in the Pacific. This time it is a battle of ballots instead of a battle of bullets. I intend to cast my ballot for Waterfield in August.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, May 28.—(AP)—The other day golfer Ben Hogan was explaining that "noise didn't disturb his concentration just as long as it was some distance away." Ben said he wouldn't be bothered by people in the gallery shooting off guns, but it drove him wild to have someone close to him buzzing a movie camera or clicking coins in his pocket. . . . Yesterday in the British amateur, Smiley Quick delayed a shot while he asked a spectator to stop jingling coins in his pocket. . . . where else would he expect to find coins in Scotland? . . . If Mello Bettina wants to hang up his gloves, he'll have to ask broadcaster Steve Ellis for them. While Mello still was in a daze Friday night, Ellis visited his dressing room and carried off the gloves as a souvenir. Bettina didn't have any use for them—at least not against Lesnevich.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Explaining why that protest of the Dodgers-Cards day and night doubleheader didn't materialize, National League press Ford Frick says: "Show me how they could change the schedule? The Dodgers are scheduled for night games on every visit to St. Louis and we're not going to change night games. They already have sold tickets for them." . . . John Otago, Princeton footballer of 20 years ago, will be chief marshal at the National Open golf tournament in St. Louis. And unless he's reduced a bit since his playing days, the gallery will have a heck of a time seeing the players.

BUNDLE OF NERVES

Cable from Carnoustie reports that Skeel Riegel, who is due for his first appearance in the British amateur golf tourney tomorrow, has been getting plenty of exercise trailing Walker Cup teammates over the sand dunes. "I'm really spectating," says Riegel. "I've done it so long I get real excited just straining for those long putts to drop."

DOTS ALL BROTHER

John Lawther, Penn State's noted exponent of the sliding zone defense in basketball, ventures into Rhode Island for a high school clinic this week. Probably he will be the first to bring up the word "defense" there. . . . Auburn's trackmen, returning from a meet with a vaulting pole atop the car, stopped at a country store for gas. The storekeeper's greeting was: "How's the fishing where you been?"

Top-Notch Mentors To Teach At Murray State Coach School

Murray, Ky.—Don Faurot, athletic director at Missouri University, will explain the "T" formation in football for the coaches, students, and players attending Murray State's first coaching school May 29-31. Athletic Director Roy Stewart announced today.

One of the country's outstanding "T" formation exponents, Faurot has coached teams for 115 gridiron victories, 40 losses, and 10 ties. As football coach for Kirkville (Mo.) Teachers, 1926-1934, he won 63, lost 13, and tied three.

At Missouri University, 1936-42, and Iowa Pre-Flight, 1943-45, his record stands at 48 victories, 23 losses, and six ties. Last year at Missouri, his team won five, lost four, and tied one.

Stewart has announced that the school would offer special rates for high school players attending the sessions.

YESTERDAY'S BATTING AND PITCHING STARS

Battling. George Kell, Tigers, slammed four successive singles, three against Bobby Feller, drove in three runs and scored another to lead the Tigers to a 4-2 triumph over the Indians.

Joe Louis To End His Career In Ring Next Year, He Says

Salt Lake City, May 28.—(AP)—Joe Louis says that 1948 will be his last year of boxing. The heavyweight champion made the statement yesterday during a discussion of why he has turned down some fight offers recently.

He said there isn't a competitor anywhere right now who will draw a big time gate, but he believes an able fighter will develop by 1948 to challenge his title.

"But whether there is or not," he added, "I'm not going beyond 1948. That's my last year of boxing."

The champ said he thinks he'll stick to fighting exhibitions for a while until the real thing—in the way of money—comes along, since he has to spend as much as $62,000 in training for a title bout.

Chicks Rout Hopkinsville By 12-7 Score

Three Big Innings Bring In 11 Runs; Play Here Tonight

Eleven runs in three innings provided a 12-7 victory for the Fulton Chicks here last night in a game with the Hopkinsville Hoppers, and increased fourth-place Fulton's lead over the Hoppers in the Kitty League standings to 74 points.

Mayfield's Clenchers, still the class of the Kitty, won over the second-place Owensboro Oilers 9-8 at Mayfield last night. Madisonville, currently in third place, blasted out a 24-5 win over Cairo at Madisonville. The Clarksville cellar dwellers lost to Union City 10-5 at Clarksville.

Jake Propst scored Fulton's first run last night after drawing the first of four walks he received during the evening. He came home on Hal Seawright's single. The Hoppers managed a lone run in the fourth to tie the count.

The Chicks chased in three runs without a safe hit in the fifth, added by three walks issued by Helwig, losing pitcher, and an error by Bowers, Hoptown right fielder, to make the score Fulton 4, Hopkinsville 1.

The visitors came back strong in the seventh, however, to score four. Kall, Hopper second baseman, homered, and Rhodes, Richardson and Forbes followed him home on one single and three Fulton bingles.

Not to be outdone, the Chicks followed with a four-run rally in their half of the seventh, featuring a homer by Gill with nobody on base and another circuit clout from the bat of Joe Lis with Peterson and Rhodes on second and first respectively.

Then in the eighth, with two out, Propst singled and Seawright and Gill drew walks. All three romped in when Peterson smashed a triple, and Pete scored on a single by Dusty Rhodes. The Hoppers counted twice in the ninth.

Two guys named Rhodes led their teams in stickwork last night. The Hoptown center-fielder had a perfect night at the plate, getting four for four. Fulton's shortstop hit four times in five trips, but stole two bases to one for the visiting Rhodes.

Shublom, relieved in the ninth by Eldridge, was the winning pitcher. Helwig, who tossed the first seven innings for Hopkinsville, was charged with the loss.

The Chicks will try to make it two in a row over the Hoppers here tonight, and the two teams end their series here Thursday night.

Two more players have been added to the Chick roster recently. Billy McDaniel, Owensboro, an outfielder, arrived in town Friday. Dan Scipior, pitcher, came to Fulton from the Janesville, Wis., club, which gave him a release. His home is in Chicago.

Fix Blame For Pro-Red Films

House Probers Charge White House Sponsored Communist Propaganda

Washington, May 28—(AP)—A subcommittee reported to the House Un-American Activities Committee today that "some of the most flagrant Communist propaganda films were produced as a result of White House pressure."

The report did not say who occupied the White House at the time the films were produced.

The report was based on an investigation recently completed in Hollywood by Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) and Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.).

The subcommittee reported, also, that "the National Labor Relations Board has given great aid to the Communists in their efforts to infiltrate and control the motion picture industry."

The report did not say who in the White House or Labor Board was responsible for helping Communism in the movie capital.

DON'T WAIT TOO LONG

Don't wait until you are half dead before you call your family physician. His chances are better, and yours, if you call him at the first sign of illness. It will be less expensive for you, too. Often a word of advice, a sensible precaution, will prevent serious complications. Even though you may feel perfectly well, it is good practice to see your physician regularly, at least twice a year. If he finds it necessary to prescribe medical treatment, bring your prescriptions to us. We will fill them promptly and accurately, just as the doctor orders.
