30 Drivers Roar Off At 9:57 In Memorial Day 500-Mi. Race

Indianapolis, May 30.—(AP)—An All-American lineup of 30 drivers, seven of them taking their first competitive ride on the Indianapolis Motor speedway, rolled away from the starting line at 9:57 a. m. today in a roaring pursuit of $232,600 in prizes that waited at the end of the 31st annual Memorial Day 500 mile race.

The first uncounted lap was paced by a black-and-yellow Nash driven by George W. Mahan, president of Nash-Kelvinator Corp., with Speedway President Wilbur Shaw calling the speed to keep the cars in position.

Car No. 24, driven by Shorty Cantlon of Indianapolis, stalled a few yards from the starting line but his mechanics got him on his way before the field reached the northeast turn.

Cliff Bergere of Toledo, O., driving the original Novi Governor Special, passed the pole car of Ted Horn, Paterson, N. J., in the first lap. Mauri Rose, of Chicago, was third. Bill Holland, the newcomer from Bridgeport, Conn., spurred all the way from eighth to fourth place on the first circuit. Russ Snowberger, veteran Detroit, was running fifth.

The time for the first lap was 122.516, a new track record that supplanted Jimmy Snyder's mark of 120.208 in the 1939 race. Bergere was sitting a terrific pace and had lapped Cantlon, the tailender, within three laps. The gray haired Bergere was Joe Kimble, under indictment for the murder of his wife, Mrs. LaVerne Clark Kimble, Oakton postmistress, at Oakton May 13, was transferred from Clinton to the state prison at Eddyville last night.

The Hickman county court had protested the extra expense of maintaining a special guard for Kimble at a Clinton hospital. The accused murderer had been a patient there since May 13, when he stabbed himself three times with a pocketknife concealed on his person in a suicide attempt. He inflicted the wounds shortly after his arrest and confinement in the Hickman county jail.

He was denied bond by Circuit Judge E. J. Stair at a hearing held in Clinton Monday, May 26.

The prisoner will be returned to the Hickman county jail at the discretion of the circuit court. Judge Stair disclosed.

39 Killed In Plane Crash At LaGuardia Field, N. Y.; Worst In U. S. Air History

United Airlines D-C1 Ship Failed To Gain Altitude

New York, May 30.—(AP)—A four-engined United Airlines DC-4 plane failed to gain altitude on a takeoff from LaGuardia field last night during a heavy thunderstorm and crashed in flames, killing 39 of the 48 persons aboard in the nation's worst commercial airline disaster.

Thirty-eight persons were burned to death at the crash site. Ten were taken to hospitals. One of these, a young man en route to Cleveland for his wedding, died early today.

Observers at the field, some of them relatives of the victims, said the plane cleared the runway and started climbing, then hurtled into marshy ground beyond Grand Central Parkway and burst into flames that shot 50 feet or more into the air. Exactly how high the plane got was not known.

One of the dazed survivors was Capt. Benton R. (Lucky) Baldwin, the pilot. When questioned by Victor Levin, Queens county assistant district attorney, the pilot told him he "tried to get it off the ground but nothing happened."

The 39 bodies were taken to Queens General Hospital where Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales, the city's chief medical examiner, began efforts to identify them.

A number of relatives of the victims gathered at the hospital and the chapel in the hospital mortuary was placed at their disposal.

Gonzales indicated that so far as possible he would attempt to identify the dead without requiring any of the relatives to view the badly burned bodies.

John A. Herlihy, vice president in charge of operations for United Airlines, and several aides questioned the pilot at the hospital but declined to make any statement immediately.

Representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Administration also were present preparatory to beginning an inquiry.

First fire, then heavy rain, impeded rescuers who sought to determine which of the passengers were still alive and rush them to hospitals. Thirty-seven were taken dead from the plane and another, Stewardess Helena Klein of New York City, was declared dead upon arrival at a hospital.

Hundreds of spectators at La Guardia field, including relatives of the passengers, saw the fateful takeoff of the plane. Minutes later, Grand Central Parkway above the crash site was lined with the curious, watching the rescue work proceed below them.

Levin said he talked to the 39-year-old pilot before he was given sedatives and isolated from visitors at hospital.

"He took off at 7 p. m. eastern standard time, with a capacity overall load of 60,000 pounds on runway 18, which is 4,150 feet long, which he claims is the shortest runway on the field," Levin said. "The plane should rise in from 2,500 to 3,000 feet."

Rep. Robert Tripp Rosse (R-NY) told reporters he planned to ask the House Committee of Foreign and International Commerce to investigate the crash, but he did not state his reasons.

Twice, commercial plane crashes in this country took tolls of 27 lives, in California and Virginia in the Spring of 1946. Worst international commercial plane crashes were two that occurred in Colombia, each costing 53 lives.

Baldwin, the pilot, is a veteran of nearly 15 years of service for the Army Air Forces flying bombers in the European Theater. He lives in Brooklyn.

United Airlines D-C1 Ship Failed To Gain Altitude

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff of the Army, followed by two aides, leaves U. S. District Court in Washington, D. C. after testifying during trial of Andrew J. May, former Congressman charged with accepting bribes while chairman of the House Military Committee. Gen. Eisenhower said he "knew nothing at all about" efforts to seek expanded shell production in 1945, earlier mentioned in May's testimony.

Smithland, Ky., May 30.—(AP)—Because he hitched a ride with a motorist who thought quickly and was a good actor, Andrew Bowles, negro, Eddyville prison escapee, is back behind bars today.

Livingston Sheriff Truman Baxter told this story: Turner Heater, 27, who lives near Grand Rivers, was driving to Smithland in his truck. He saw a negro on the road and gave him a ride.

Heater thought the rider fitted the description of Bowles but he said nothing. Driving into Smithland and giving no inkling that he was suspicious of Bowles, Heater got in touch with Livingston Deputy Roy Driskill, who locked Bowles in the county jail for Eddyville Warden Guy Tuggle.

Heater is $100 better off. That was the reward for catching Bowles.

The colored man, serving a two-year prison term on a grand larceny charge in Jefferson county, ran away from the prison farm Tuesday.

At Eddyville, Warden Tuggle disclosed today that four lifetime convicts made an unsuccessful attempt to escape from the state prison here about three weeks ago.

Tuggle identified the prisoners as Benjamin Rayborn and Tony Caponigro, sentenced for armed robbery in Louisville; Troy Patton, sentenced for slaying a Paris, Ky., officer, and Amos Holt, Jr., in Laurel county; and a convict named Mauk whom the warden did not identify further.

The four prisoners, Tuggle said, tried to overpower a trusty, who drove a truck into the exercise yard. The warden said Rayborn was armed with a crude knife but was "knocked cold" by guards who soon ended the escape attempt.

Tuggle said the four convicts had been denied all privileges and had been confined to their cells.

Memorial Day

The day after Christmas, 1886, a man died in the nation's capital. Today he is almost forgotten. Of this man, James G. Blaine, one time presidential nominee said, "While there have been more illustrious military leaders in the United States and more illustrious leaders in legislative halls, there has been, I think, no man in this country who has combined the two careers in so eminent a degree as General Logan."

Certainly the man of whom Blaine spoke lived a busy and useful life. His name was John A. Logan. Time has dimmed many of his undertakings. Logan was one of the hard-working generals in the Civil War. He rose from colonel to major-general. His war record was notable.

In politics, Logan's record was equally distinguished. He became a Congressman at 32. He campaigned for Lincoln. He sat in the 40th and 41st Congress and was one of the managers of the impeachment proceedings against Andrew Johnson—the only time that Congress has tried to impeach a president. In 1871, he went to the Senate. Finally in 1884 he was candidate for nomination for president at the Republican convention in Chicago. Blaine was nominated but Logan was picked as his running mate by acclamation. They were defeated by Cleveland, and Logan returned to the Senate.

That then is the career of a distinguished soldier and statesman who served his country well. As history often does to an individual, it faded that man into the limbo with time. Lincoln's words at Gettysburg might have been said of John Alexander Logan—"The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here."

But John Logan did one thing that still lives today. On May 5, 1888, General John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order appointing May 30 of that year for Grand Army Service. John Logan had officially given America its traditional custom of Decoration Day, or Memorial Day as it is often called.

It is odd to note that this day of remembrance is not celebrated in many Southern states, yet, it was originated with the Southern states and copied scattering by Northern states, until General Logan made it official.

It is observed in the spring solely "for natural reasons." That is to say, the most appropriate date—when the flowers are freshest and the grass is greenest on the graves of those who "gave their lives that this nation might live."

"Don't Go Near the Water"

Mother may have seemed a bit impractical when she said "Hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water," but you have to admire her for being careful. Approximately 5,000 persons are drowned in the United States each year, and Mother just didn't want Junior to be one of them.

With summer almost here, the urge to go to the beach, a pool or the ole swinnin' hole is natural. What Mother and Dad should do is make sure the kids learn to swim and to take care of themselves in the water. Above all, they should be taught to float in water, so they can rest if they become exhausted or panicky while swimming.

Almost seven-eighths of the annual drownings are men or boys. More men and boys go swimming than members of the fairer sex, and more fish or work on or near water. Safety experts, like most men, agree that beautiful girls sunning themselves on the beach are wondrous things to behold. But they take the long view, and insist that the girls should know how to swim. The reason: approximately 1,500 persons who never intended to go into the water drown every year. These include persons caught in capsizing boats, sinking ships, buses and automobiles which plunge into rivers, and similar accidents.

What Mother meant to say was "... don't go near the water unless you know how to swim."

Self-Dismissal

Spokane, Wash.—(AP)—C. P. Downen, state administrator for the Production and Marketing Administration, gave himself a dismissal notice yesterday.

Ordered to dismiss 90 per cent of his employees because of appropriation cuts, Downen said "It wouldn't be fair to fire everybody else so I could keep my job."

Downen said he would go back to his farm.

Apt Pupil

Oklahoma City.—(AP)—Police held a traffic safety school and only one man showed up. He listened intently, took notes and asked questions.

Five minutes after class was dismissed, he returned to police headquarters escorted by two officers.

He was charged with running a stop sign.

North Africa Strategic

By Dewitt MacKonsie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the highly controversial international questions—disposition of Italy's North Africa colonies, which were the apple of Benito Mussolini's eye—will come up for consideration at a meeting of the Big Four (American, Britain, Russia and France) in London shortly.

Moscow recalled the Soviet ambassador from Britain Wednesday and diplomatic circles speculated that this was for the purpose of briefing him, for this important conference.

Il Duce's cherished African empire consisted largely of vast wastes of desert which under the summer sun blazes at a soil temperature of something like 175 degrees Fahrenheit. Few folk loved those scorching sands, except Benito and the Bedouins—albeit there are pleasant, fertile tracts along the coast of the blue Mediterranean, with here and there an ancient and attractive city.

So it's astonishing now to see a battle royal developing over such areas. That is, it would be astonishing if our observations during the late war hadn't shown us the strategic value of these territories.

Italy naturally is hoping that she may be allowed to administer the colonies under United Nations trusteeship. Russia would like a mandate over some part which would give her a base on the Mediterranean—a desire which finds no virtue in the eyes of the Western Allies. Egypt yearns for a slice of Libya, and Britain has a decided interest in the famous town of Tobruk on the Libyan Coast, because this port and the great island of Crete to the North form a saddle across the east-west thoroughfare of the Mediterranean. Then Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia wants neighboring Eritrea, or part of it.

One of the strongest and most interesting claims comes from the Senussi, natives of Libyan Cirenaica, which adjoins Egypt and within which lies Tobruk. During the war Britain promised the Grand Senussi, the princely personage who is leader of the Senussi, that his country should have independence, and one would expect this pledge to be honored, with Britain or America perhaps holding a trusteeship until the Senussi are capable of handling their own affairs.

Failure to carry out this promise might result in serious trouble, for the Senussi are a liberty loving people who are quite willing to fight for their independence.

The War On Narcotics

One of the less-publicized though vitally important activities of the American forces occupying Japan, under leadership of General MacArthur, has been the supervision of the narcotics trade.

Here at home, our government has made much progress in the fight against drug addiction. Draft officials rejected only one man in 10,000 for this reason in World War II, compared with one in every 1,500 so rejected in the First World War.

General MacArthur has set up complete controls with adequate penalties for violators. In Japan, and 70,000 dealers of all kinds, including wholesalers, practitioners and druggists, were licensed for the first time.

Investigations in Japan have revealed the complexity of the Nipponese government in its narcotic treaty obligations. Duplicate sets of records were found, one for their own use and one for the League of Nations. In one factory alone, operating in Seoul, Korea, during 1938 and 1939, the Japanese government manufactured and sent to the Manchukuo Opium Monopoly each year an amount of heroin sufficient to supply the entire world's medical needs.

Stories of the Japanese campaign to spread drug addiction throughout China, and other Asiatic nations, were not exaggerated. It is reassuring to know that the American military leaders there recognize the scope and seriousness of the problem, and are doing what they can to combat the illegal traffic in drugs.

Reel Qualification

Syracuse, N. Y.—(AP)—The elderly man who applied for a fishing license under a new state law granting free permits to applicants of 70 or over will have to wait until July 1—effective date of the law.

Otherwise, he is plenty eligible. Arthur Ashmore, information clerk at the court house, said the man gave his age as 95.

Buried Treasure

Los Angeles.—(AP)—Housewife Vivian West was digging up a plot for flowers in her yard, when her spade struck an old fruit jar. In it were three small stones, each the size of a pea.

A jeweler told her they were cultured pearls. "I guess they're mine," said Mrs. West, "but I feel like a pirate—sort of mysterious."

Paraguay Revolt Thought Near End As Rebels Retreat

Buenos Aires, May 30—(AP)—The 12-week-old Paraguayan civil war appeared to be nearing an end today as jubilant government communiques claimed an uninterrupted string of victories which took loyalist troops to within five miles of Concepcion, the rebel capital.

The latest communique from the government of President Higinio Morinigo in Asuncion said loyalist forces had crossed the final water barrier before Concepcion, the fall of which probably will mark the end of the rebellion.

There still is a lot of country behind the rebels and in their control but it is largely uninhabited and completely devoid of military resources. Some guerrilla activity undoubtedly will follow the forecast fall of Concepcion but the roads into Brazil remain open and most South American observers expressed belief the insurgents would escape into that country.

Back Room Slots Thought Active

Covington, Ky., May 30—(AP)—Members of the Kenton County Protestant Association have "heard rumors" that a slot machine syndicate plans to start "back room" operations in the county, Secretary Sharon Flier of the organization reported yesterday.

He warned that such action would receive "vigorous opposition" from the association. The organization recently won a suit to have Uile Howard, Commonwealth's attorney, disbarred from federal court practice on grounds he was lax in enforcing anti-gambling laws.

Frisco Wreck Takes 2 Lives

Engineer, Fireman Killed In Missouri Derailment

Mansfield, Mo., May 30—(AP)—The engineer and fireman were killed and one other person was severely injured today in the derailment of the Frisco Railroad's Florida Special near this south central Missouri town.

The engine and five baggage and mail cars overturned and two passenger cars left the rails but remained upright, Ralph Waters, editor of the Mansfield Mirror, reported.

Waters said the engine tumbled down a 30-foot embankment, crushing the engineer and fireman in the cab. Three of the overturned cars were badly damaged, and approximately 100 yards of rail was torn up, he said.

A. Q. Smith, 31, of Springfield, Mo., an express car employee, suffered severe head lacerations but no passengers were reported injured.

The dead were identified as Byrd Duncan, engineer, and Louis Sanders, fireman.

Cause of the accident was not determined immediately.

"For nine cents you can wait for me."

Memorial Rites Held Today

Kentuckians Pause, Pay Tribute To War Victims; 9,411 Killed In WW II

By The Associated Press

Memorial day services were scheduled throughout the state today as Kentuckians paid tribute to their war dead.

The list of dead included the names of 9,411 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II.

State county and city offices closed for the day and virtually all mail service was suspended. Most private industries and business ceased normal operations.

For many, the day off enabled them to take a "long" week-end, until Monday morning. Travel, sports events and reunions attracted others.

Veterans organizations took the lead in arranging many services.

Boys scouts decorated 9,000 soldier graves in Louisville's Cave Hill Cemetery. American Legion Posts conducted services in other cemeteries. Special rites were held at the tomb of former President Zachary Taylor.

Services and patriotic addresses in some places were programmed throughout the day.

The principal speaker at Hopkinsville was Brig. Gen. P. W. Clarkson, commander of nearby Camp Campbell. The Hopkinsville observance was arranged by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans and their auxiliaries.

Special services were conducted at Veterans Administration facilities in the state.

Poland Resuming Position In Trade

Warsaw—(AP)—The Economic Daily says Poland's Baltic ports expect to ship 1,000,000 tons of goods this year. That includes 8,000,000 tons of coal, 1,500,000 tons of cement, 2,500,000 tons of ore and substantial quantities of cotton goods.

Gdansk (formerly Danzig) is slated to become the chief coal shipping port. It is to have a new coal basin capable of handling 10,000 tons daily.

Says Secret Order Influenced Jurors; New Trial Decried

Richmond, Ky., May 30—(AP)—A new trial in October was granted John Noe, Rockcastle county, in his suit for $10,000 against two officers.

Noe charged that the jury was influenced by the presence in the Madison circuit courtroom of members of a "secret order."

The jury found for the defendants, County Policeman W. E. Davis and State Alcoholic Beverages Agent Clell Tarter, Jr. Noe had charged his automobile was searched illegally.

His motion for a new trial alleged that the "secret order" supported Davis and that two members of the jury might have been members.

Had No Respect For His Privacy

Missoula, Mont.—(AP)—Responding to a call saying a man lay "ill, drunk or dead" on the bank of the Missoula river, police aroused an old man who protested indignantly: "Nothing the matter with me—I'm taking a sun bath."

There's no law against combining sunbathing and napping so the officers withdrew with apologies.

New Books Added To Library; Service Has Grown With Years

Six new books were added to the Fulton Public Library this week, making a total of approximately 2,940 volumes now available for use.

New additions are "There Was A Time" by Taylor Caldwell; "The Vixens" by Frank Yearby; "The Light Heart" by Elswyth Thane; "The Chequer Board" by Nevill Shute; "The Tin Flute" by Gabrielle Roy; and "Mrs. Mike" by Benedict and Nancy Freedman.

In the period Oct. 1, 1946 to Apr. 30, 1947 there were 3,427 books in circulation, according to the annual report of Mrs. Wilmon Boyd, librarian. The library, for a number of years, a major project of the Fulton Woman's Club, now offers service to all residents of Fulton county.

A clipping from a copy of the Fulton Daily Leader published in 1925 tells a brief history of the Public Library. It was first started in the home of Mrs. E. Bynum, Fourth street, and was known as the Child's Library. Mrs. Bynum went before the Fortnightly Book Club of Fulton in the Spring of 1916 and asked for financial support and book donations. She agreed to donate 50 volumes and her services to the start of a library for Fulton children. Other clubs were solicited for contributions, and responded generously.

The next fall, Mrs. Bynum reported growing demands for books and advocated removal to a downtown location. This was obtained at the Franklin Dry Goods Store, where the library remained until 1918, when it was closed because of lack of financial support.

The Fulton Woman's Club was organized in December, 1921, and the books were given to its library department. Before the department was opened a book shower and silver tea were given, and a public donation taken, which brought over $200. The library was opened to the public June 1, 1922, in the chamber of commerce building, with 537 volumes.

In 1923, it was decided that the Woman's Club as a whole should take charge of the work and the library department was discontinued, thus relieving a single department of the club of the entire cost of its maintenance.

The library has continued to grow in size and in service to the people of Fulton since that time.

Eritrea Split On Its Future

Union With Ethiopia, Independence Advocated

AP Newsfeatures. Khartoum, Sudan.—A report from Asmara that the secretary of an organization known as the "Union with Ethiopia Association" has lodged a protest with the United States State Department because of a Rome Radio broadcast which said that America favored Italian trusteeship over Eritrea, is causing no surprise among students of the Eritrean political set-up.

According to the report, the protest stated that Eritrea had been under Italian domination for 80 years and wanted nothing more to do with her former masters. The aim of Eritreans, the statement added, was union with Ethiopia.

There are three distinct schools of thought among Eritreans as to what their future should be.

The vast majority of Eritreans are Coptic Christians who are split politically into two groups. One party, the Unionists, demand immediate incorporation of their country into Ethiopia, but the other group, which for want of a better name are known as the Federalists, are in favor of linking their fortunes with those of Ethiopia only "on a strictly autonomous basis."

Then there is a third group, the Moslems, who live mainly on the Red Sea coast and the Sudan border. Recently leaders of the Mohammedan communities banded themselves together and formed an Eritrean Moslem League, and passed a resolution demanding full independence for Eritrea.

Crippled Piano Didn't Faze Soloist

Hastings, Neb.—(AP)—Jack Berggren, graduate student at the Hastings College conservatory of music, was scheduled for some piano solos during the college chapel period. When he arrived early to practice he discovered one of the piano keys was stuck. That couldn't stop Jack. When chapel time arrived Berggren calmly presented a program of vocal solos.

through a glass darkly

By ERL SENSING

No one has the least doubt what the results would be if the announcement were made today that no Methodist, no Baptist, no Mason, no person because he has brown eyes, or for any of a score of other reasons, could vote in the next election.

Before the sun could set men and women would be banding together to show their defiance of such a pronouncement. The city hall would be swarming with people; the business houses along Lake street would be forums of discussion; the streets would see aroused citizens marching up and down, seeking to find those who dared to issue such a statement.

It seems almost fantastic to think of such a state of affairs. It is safe to say, however, if such were the case, blood would flow. We, the citizens of America, would rise up in righteous wrath and destroy those who sought to disenfranchise us.

Our right to the ballot is one of our dearest possessions. It changes us from serfs who humbly bow to the rule of lords into free citizens who elect our own public servants. It sets us above kings. Nothing must ever happen in this land of ours to deprive us of that right. Without it we would go down into slavery almost over night.

I assure you, though, this right did not fall into our laps. It was won by hard work and much loss of property; it was gained on the field of battle where those who would be free men fought and died for what they thought was right. Nearly everyone of us has an ancestor who gave his life, or his blood, for this cherished right.

I say again, that it seems unthinkable that it should ever be denied our right to vote—our right to cast a secret ballot for the candidate of our choice, be our choice a justice of the peace, a governor or a president.

In the face of what I have just said, this next is almost an indictment of many who can themselves American citizens. The number of people who have allowed themselves to be disenfranchised is startling, to say the least. They have denied themselves the right to vote without so much as lifting a hand to prevent it. No foreign armies marched into the heart of our land to subjugate them; no scheming politicians worked their underhanded tricks—not a shot was fired—not a threat was made. These men and women just took it upon themselves to do to themselves what they would never allow another to do. They would not register.

To vote in Kentucky you don't have to pay a poll tax. All that is necessary is that you be 21 years old. Registration is free. You go to a duly authorized public servant and tell him your name, where you live and how long you have lived there. Then you sign a little piece of paper. You don't tell him how old you are, you don't tell him what church you belong to—you just tell him who you are. After you have written your signature you can then vote in the general election. If you wish to vote in the primary, it is necessary that you specify the primary in which you wish to vote.

Registration is for one purpose and one purpose only. It is to assure you that no one else will cast your vote. Register today. To vote in the August primaries you must register before June 3. Not many days are left. Register now.

Certainly, I would like to see you register and then cast your vote for Harry Lee Waterfield for governor. He is the candidate of the people. He is our candidate. But I can truthfully say that I had rather see you register and vote for his opponent than not to vote at all. Waterfield won't be elected because political boss gives him a couple of hundred thousand votes. He will be elected only because other hundreds of thousands of common citizens like you and me register and give him our individual votes. Register today.

SAYS TAX VETO WOULD BE FINAL

retroactive to last January 1.

The cuts would range from 1.35 to 15 per cent off present taxes for this year, and from 10.0 per cent to 30 percent for 1948 and succeeding years.

On a full year's basis, these are the reductions:

30 per cent on net incomes after exemptions and deductions of $1,000 or less.

30 to 20 per cent on incomes between $1,000 and $1,400.

20 per cent between $1,400 and $3,725.

15 per cent between $3,725 and $302,400.

10.5 per cent above $302,400.

Persons over 65 also would receive an extra $500 personal exemption.

What makes schoolteachers teach?

Two things: love of the work and need of money.

And the schools of Kentucky cannot survive without both.

Pay has been hiked considerably in the last year but probably not enough to retain what has been lost through low pay in the last eight or ten years.

What I am driving at is that if we are to get the good teachers our schools need we must make the profession as attractive here as in other states.

The alarming drift away from the profession must not only be checked. It must be made to do a Phil Sheridan. A retreat must be turned into an offensive—a forward march.

You must be interested in paragraphs quoted from a recent article in the Courier-Journal by its school editor, Laurena Easton:

"The normal turnover of teachers in the state is 1,400, and during the five years before the war, 1,000 beginning teachers were hired every year. This normal quota has not been filled for the last seven years."

"It doesn't seem likely to happen; but let's say, for the sake of argument, that 500 beginning teachers will be certified in Kentucky this year. That leaves the state 500 short of its minimum requirement; for this year alone. And it means that at least 500 will be added to the shortage of teachers which has been growing for seven years. "As a result of this growing deficiency, Kentucky already has 5,229 emergency teachers. That means that the state has 5,229 persons teaching school who aren't qualified to be regular teachers."

"The situation calls for the best brains and well directed energy in every organization, every agency, state and local, interested in lifting elementary education up to a standard we will not have to apologize for. It will take all this to win back the school room personnel we have lost and are still losing."

Nitrogen Increases Shelled Pea Yield

Geneva, N. Y.—(AP)—Extra doses of nitrogen, above the usual fertilizer treatment for peas, increased the yield of shelled peas from 330 to 700 pounds to the acre in tests at the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station.

"In these experiments, the recommended fertilizer treatment for peas for two different soils gave from 750 to 1,000 pounds of shelled peas to the acre over the unfertilized plots," said Dr. M. T. Vittum, soils specialist. "By adding 80 pounds more of nitrogen in the form of ammonium sulfate or cyanamid, an additional 700 pounds of shelled peas were obtained on one soil, and 300 pounds more on the other. The source of the nitrogen made little difference. The extra nitrogen also improved the tenderness of the peas."

Eighty percent of the men in Eire between the ages of 25 and 29 are unmarried; in the United States 39 percent in the same age group are unmarried.

ANNOUNCING-

Fulton Pure

Milk Company's

HOMOGENIZED MILK

WHAT IS HOMOGENIZED MILK?

Homogenized milk is your usual pure milk with all its cream content intact. It has been subjected to tremendous pressure, which causes the butterfat (cream) to go into solution with the rest of the milk, instead of in emulsion, as it is in its natural form. After milk is homogenized, the cream cannot separate . . . it remains evenly distributed throughout the milk.

WHY BUY HOMOGENIZED MILK?

Homogenized milk offers you these definite advantages:

* Butterfat is uniformly distributed; all parts of milk are alike; the milk needs no mixing. * The appearance of the milk is uniform and it tastes richer. * The curd tension is reduced, making it easier to digest. * As a beverage and for certain uses in cooking it is a superior product. * For infant formulas boiling, filtering and cooling can be eliminated. * With no cream line to protect, there is no temptation for the housewife to skim off the cream, leaving the rest of the milk the less nutritious.

WHEN WILL DELIVERY START?

Our plant is now being readied, and homogenized milk will be delivered starting early next week. Just phone 813-J for service to your house.

CAN I STILL GET THE REGULAR MILK?

Certainly. Homogenized milk is only a new and modern addition to our service. We will continue to produce our regular Grade "A" Pasteurized milk for those who wish it.
