POLICE CHANGES

Brooks and Langston Succeeded by Ray and Beach.

Changes in the police department for the past two weeks have been made with lightning like rapidity. At the regular council meeting Friday night, Dec. 20th, A. S. Brooks and Dick Langston offered their resignations as chief and deputy, and the council elected in their stead Guthrie Diuguid as chief and Linn Bowerman as deputy. After the announcement of the result of the meeting was made Mr. Diuguid refused to serve as chief with Mr. Bowerman as deputy. The council was called in extra session Saturday night and Dick Langston was chosen as chief and Mr. Bowerman was to remain as deputy. Mr. Langston served until Monday when he offered his resignation and at the meeting Mr. Bowerman also tendered his resignation. The council then elected Mr. Bert Ray as chief and Cecil Beach as his deputy and they immediately entered upon the discharge of the duties of their offices.

Both are well known young men and have the ability to make splendid officers, and their work since their election is evidence that they are determined to give the city good service. They have the co-operation of the citizenship and the Ledger believes that they will serve the city with credit to themselves and satisfaction to the people.

Calloway's Christmas Weather.

Last fourth Monday was about the quietest ever experienced on a similar date in Murray. The heaviest snow storm in years raged all day and by night snow covered the ground to a depth of several inches. Christmas morning was about the most beautiful ever witnessed in the county. Snow covered the earth and a heavy frost followed Christmas eve and the sight that was witnessed Christmas morning beggars description. In fact no artist's brush or poets pen could describe or picture the beauty of the morning. Warmer weather followed and within a few days mud and slush was the result.

Aged Citizen Passes Away.

Mr. C. T. Johnson, one of the oldest and most widely known citizens of the town of Murray, died last Sunday night at his home on Institute street of the infirmities of age. He was 77 years of age and is survived by two sons, Drs. Henry and Walter Johnson, and one daughter, Mrs. Edith Waterfield. The burial took place Monday at the Mt. Carmel graveyard, several miles north of the city.

INSTANTLY KILLED

David Bogard Meets Sudden Death by Accidental Discharge of Gun.

David Bogard, a son of Tobe Bogard, north of town and who made his home at the old Hindman place, near his father, was accidentally killed Christmas day by the accidental discharge of a rifle with which he had been hunting. Mr. Bogard had been out rabbit hunting and was using a high power rifle. Returning home he came by his father's home and stopped to warm and when he left the house and reached the front porch he set the weapon down on the floor of the porch when it was discharged, the ball entering the head just above the eye crushing the skull from the effects of which he died within a short time. He is survived by a wife and several children.

Boy Accidentally Shoots Man.

Benton, Ky., Jan. 1. Harry Walton was instantly killed by Love Copeland, a 12 year old boy, Monday afternoon, when the latter fired a 22-caliber rifle while Walton was passing his home. Young Copeland was seated on his porch playing with the rifle and pulled the trigger unaware of the approach of Walton, whose heart was pierced by the bullet. The victim was the father of five children, who, with their mother survive.

the first of February will sever his connection with the clothing store and enter actively upon the discharge of his new duties. Joe Ryan is one of the county's most active young men and associated with Mr. W. H. Finney, his partner and founder of the firm and one of the county's real hustlers, will make a team that will accomplish much. The Ledger joins the new firm, many friends in wishing for them a successful business and wants to see them push old Calloway to the front every day.

Mail Carriers Will Fly.

This is an age of great discoveries. Progress rides on the air. Soon we may see Uncle Sam's mail carriers flying in all directions, transporting mail. People take a wonderful interest in a discovery that benefits them. That's why Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs, Colds and other throat and lung diseases is the most popular medicine in America. "It cured me of a dreadful cough," writes Mrs. J. P. Davis, Stickney Corner, Mo. "after doctor's treatment and all other remedies had failed." For coughs, colds, or any bronchial affection it is unequalled. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Dale & Stubblefield's.

SPENT FORTUNE

On Her Shopping Trip in Great City of The East.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 31.—Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, daughter of old Lucky Baldwin, who inherited half of his $22,000,000 estate, reached here at midnight in her new private car to spend New Year's. She is just back from an Eastern shopping trip, during which she bought these things: Diamonds worth $250,000; $300,000 yacht; $20,000 worth of gold and silverware; $100,000 wardrobe; $20,000 worth of automobiles; $40,000 private railway car; $50,000 for presents for her husband; $100,000 for Christmas and New Year's presents for her friends. Total, $780,000.

Mrs. Stocker came here in her private car, which she has just brought from the East. It has, among other features, an orchestra organ with pipes. Mrs. Stocker frankly says she is out for a good time and that money is only good to spend. She takes a child-like pleasure in all her new things, and especially in the private car, which she shows to all her visitors.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

Joe Ryan, the clothing man, of the firm of Ryan & Sons Co., has bought Geo. W. Downs' interest in The West Kentucky Real Estate Exchange, and will, at an early date be actively engaged in the business, giving to it his entire time and attention. This business is three and one-half years old today; have sold more than $400,000.00 worth of property; has a magnificent list now to select from; has never charged one cent above the regular commission rate; has enjoyed a regularly increased patronage from year to year; solicits the business of fellows desiring a square deal, and positively does not want the business of others; is for Murray and Calloway county, and earnestly solicits the co-operation of all interested in their development.

The old firm highly appreciates the liberal patronage which it has enjoyed, while the new firm earnestly solicits a continuance of the same. Every item in detail of the business, will be looked after, as in the past, and we hope, if possible to extend the volume of business beyond that of any previous year.

The new firm is ready to welcome the New Year, and wishes for all a happy and prosperous 1913.

CORN FLAKES COMPANY ATTACKED

GOVERNMENT CLAIMS IT IS VIOLATING SHERMAN LAW.

FIXES PRICES FOR RETAILERS

Government Charges That Use of Patented Carton Is "More Subterfuge and Device" to Escape Law.

Detroit, The Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Company is alleged to be violating the Sherman law in a position filed by order of Attorney General Clegg, which to settle for all time the extent to which a manufacturer may control retail prices. The company and its officers engaged in the manufacture of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes are charged with fixing prices at which the flakes are sold to retailers and consumer, preventing competition which would reduce the price to the public and creating a monopoly by concentrating the entire interstate traffic in this commodity in the hands of jobbers and retailers who slide by price agreements exacted by the defendants.

It is alleged that the defendants have evaded the patent laws through the use of a patented carton in which the flakes are packed as a "more subterfuge and device" to escape the provisions of the Sherman law. The government asks for injunctions to prevent the company, its officers and agents from controlling the price of the breakfast food after it leaves the hands of the manufacturer.

The petition is regarded by the government as of great importance because of its bearing upon the right of a manufacturer to control prices to the consumer.

It is alleged that the company sells only to jobbers refusing absolutely to deal directly with consumers or with the retail trade. The company, according to the petition, is sold to jobbers at a uniform price under an agreement that the jobbers will sell to retailers at a price fixed by the defendants.

PEANING FOR INAUGURAL

Will Give Civic, Naval and Military Demonstration.

Washington, Mr. Leonard Wood, chief of the staff of the army, who has just been named as chief marshal of the approaching inaugural parade, has been ordered to outline his plans for a military, naval and civic demonstration.

The selection of Gen. Wood to undertake this task is in line with precedents which, for the last several administrations, has led to the selection of the senior army officer on the active list in Washington, regardless of political affiliation.

Gen. Wood's purpose is to make the Wilson inaugural parade as well-balanced as possible in the matter of representation of the cavalry, infantry and artillery of the army, the bluejackets and marines and navy and adequate and liberal representation of the national guard and a well proportioned civic display.

At a Hearing With Floor Leader Under the Date for Opening the Extra Session Will Be Fixed.

Washington, N. J. Congress probably will be called into extraordinary session by President-elect Wilson shortly after his inauguration, perhaps on March 15, and the particular legislation that will come before the special session.

After a two hours' conference with Speaker Champ Clark, the president-elect declared he would endeavor to meet the wishes of Democratic leaders in Congress, who, it was informed, were anxious that the interval between the two sessions of Congress be as brief as possible.

Mr. Wilson announced before he left for Bermuda that he would call the extra session to convene not later than April 15.

While the speaker said the time of the session would be fixed by the president-elect, he also stated that the interval between the two sessions of Congress be as brief as possible.

"The sooner we get started the better," he told the president-elect.

RAILROADS CONTROL SEAMSHIP LINES

WATER LINES ARE FEEDERS

Report Urges That Jurisdiction of Commerce Commission Over Water-Rail and Water Traffic Be Extended.

Washington, That all hope of competition between railroads and water carriers has been systematically stifled by the railroad interests through the purchase of steamship lines was shown in a report on "Transportation by Water in the United States" (Part 4), which was made public here tonight by Luther Comant, Jr., commissioner of corporations.

The report stated that 90 per cent of the canal traffic of the United States was in the hands of the railroads; that the Atlantic seaboard, gulf and Pacific coast steamship companies were almost entirely controlled by the land transportation companies, and that the steamship trade on the Great Lakes was controlled by these interests to a marked degree.

The report goes on to state that "the competition of water carriers, to certain extent, into territory not open to their rail lines and to secure valuable feeders, mainly local lines."

The report goes on to state that "the conditions set forth cannot fail to command attention," and that if there is to be any successful attempt to increase the Interstate Commerce Commission's jurisdiction over water-rail and water traffic, particularly with regard to the establishment of joint rates between water and rail lines, it must be more generally established than at present.

Tacoma Man Could Not See Them in Want on Eve of Christmas.

Tacoma, Wash., Determined to kill his wife and five children rather than see them suffer for lack of food and clothing, Ed Stoddard poisoned the last food in the house and killed his favorite child, the Stoddard family was very poor.

The children were almost naked. Mrs. Stoddard boiled the last of the coffee and made the last of the four into pancakes for breakfast. One of the little girls, unable to restrain her hunger, rushed to the table, asked of the others. She fell writhing to the floor after drinking part of a cup of coffee and soon died.

Stoddard then turned the coffee pot and the plate of pancakes and threw them on the floor. The family dog, which ate one of the cakes, died immediately.

Turkish Delegates State They Cannot Accept Demands.

London, After several days of preliminary skirmishing the Turkish delegates have refused to accept the demands of the allies in the fifth meeting of the peace conference.

The victorious allies laid their most important cards on the table. These were in the form of territorial conditions which they have agreed to impose on the Ottoman empire. The demands as set forth were:

First, the cession by Turkey of all the territory east of a line starting from a point east of Bologneta, on the sea of Marmara, to a point in the bay of Malazgirt, on the Black Sea, and including the provinces of Smyrna, Athens, and the island of Rhodes.

Second, the cession of Aegean Islands, occupied by the Greek forces in the present war, and by the Italians in the recent war.

Third, the cession to Greece of all Turkish rights in the island of Crete.

The allies did not reveal the original demands which they wish to make to Turkey, believing them to be a future need.

Parisian Street Costume

(Phot. by Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.)

The photograph shows the latest street costume with a skirt of blue satin, slashed at the side so as to show plaited underskirt and give freedom in walking. The buttons and loops running down the side of the skirt are of a darker shade of blue. The coat is of dark blue tulle with two smart little tails. The belt and wrist-frills are of mule and the hat of white beaver. The effect is altogether odd.

FLOWERS FOR THE CORSAGE

Just Now the Sombre Tones Are Most Favored by Those Who Lead the Season's Fashions.

If you'd be quite in the mode this winter you'll have an assortment of the new big velvet flowers that, unlike the real live ones, can be steamed fresh when they seem to wilt. The vogue for sombre tones makes a carefully chosen corsage bouquet a touch of particular importance. To be in good taste, the blossom must always be in season. Just now it's correct to wear a couple of tiny velvet chrysanthemums, or a bouquet of mockish asters. Soon violets will take the place of the red-velvet kind. The idea of matching the flowers used to catch the stole with those introduced on the hat is also used, but in this case the corsage bouquet frankly declares itself artificial. A water lily in black velvet, with white satin lining and a gleam of gold in the heart of the blossom, is one of the favorite devices in this connection. While for evening wear the same flower is well to the fore, being used to catch up the soft, silken folds of the satin, or velvet robe, while it usually magnifies in metal tissue trimmed with diamonds, as though a shower of dewdrops had been shaken lightly over the flowers. A clump of two or three full blown water lilies, with a shower of close shut pendant buds drooping from them, makes a lovely decoration for an evening toilet which relies more or less for its effects upon its lines.

CHILD'S PIQUE SUIT

This dear little suit is of white pique simply made. The jacket has a wide double box plait in front, with wide turnover collar and cuffs of the material and collar of colored silk.

DESIGNS NOT YET SETTLED

Lines of Costumes, That Are Regular in Paris, May Not Suit Women of America.

There are all kinds of rumors as to the new silhouettes which one or two of the leading houses on the other side of the ocean are said to be starting. The tight line round the hips and knees of coats is yielding to straight fullness. Some coats gather at the waistline and descend to the knees, where they often form a point at the back. The straight line of the Russian blouse is ousting the shaped revers. All this we owe to the Russian dancers, but it remains to be proved whether they will suit American women. These coats are carried out in satin, crepe satin and crepe de chine, and in heavy stuffs. The blouses have deep pink sashes from waist to bust, into this crossing folds of tulle disappear back and front. The sleeves are long. These little collar bands, which are placed by a model collar, the neck left bare, and very often a band of fur surrounds the collar every garment the same on the wrist, with three little tails falling over the hand.

NEW BRACELETS

If you have an old-fashioned black onyx arm band with pearls wear it. It is large and fashionable. A large band looks smaller below a black bracelet, and one woman with rather small hands wears an inch-wide band of silver around each wrist, for which she has jeweled clasps, changed to match her gowns.

Sometimes These Velvet Bracelets

are set with large diamonds and pearls, buttons or pinned with a cameo or a seed pearl brooch.

A fashionable series of bracelets that can be had in French jewelry is made of thin hoops studded with colored stones. An emerald hoop, a diamond, a ruby and a pearl one are worn together.

Children's Dresses

The vogue for belted effects continues to be strong as it was this fall, and Norfolk and Russian dresses are shown in a variety of styles. Says the Dry Goods Economist: "Middy dresses and Peter Pan collars are the prominent in the new lines. Vest effects, revers and yokes are being used to a great extent. The vogue for simple tailored-made effects continues to be as strong as ever, and elaborate trimmings are seldom used, particularly in the colored frocks."

Tattooing on Deyles

A most effective method of getting made by using light linen for centers of delivery and finished the edges of each with a row of double tatting made of not too fine thread. Tatting of very fine thread is an exquisite finish for a dainty handkerchief.

THE LITTLE BROWN CHURCH

Religious Song Was Inspired by Edifice Erected in Iowa in 1859.

Boston.—One of the acts of the moon and religion forward movement has been to revive a once popular song about a "little brown church" in the vale. The church itself that inspired the song had fair to suffer eclipse, but was preserved through the sentimental regard of its old friends, as The Congregationalist (Boston) tells us.

Some forty or fifty years ago a song known as "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" caught the popular fancy and literally went around the world. The president of the National Musical Teachers' association belonging to a sturdy Scotch family used to join heartily with his seven brothers in singing the song with no thought that any particular church was meant. Later, he was astonished to learn that the veritable "Little Brown Church" was not far from his Iowa home. It is a real church, a Congregational church, and is at Bradford in northern Iowa.

Little Brown Church in the Vale, Which Inspired the popular song of fifty years ago.

Some pioneers in northern Iowa met for worship in a log house for some time and finally organized a church. In 1859 Rev. J. K. Nutting became pastor and it was determined to erect a house of worship. This required much sacrifice, for all were poor and there was, actually, almost no money in circulation. Those sturdy farmers made the frame from timber growing along the Cedar river. The boards for the siding and what hardware was used had to be hauled over the corduroy roads and through swamps from McGregor, sixty miles away. The dedication was a great event. Many people drove forty miles to be present. The church prospered, and soon after Bedford Academy was founded so that the community became an educational and religious center. When the railroad came, it ran on the opposite side of the river. Nashua sprang up and gradually the people migrated to the new town and Bradford disappeared from the map. The academy building is going to decay, but sentiment has prompted the people to preserve "The Little Brown Church," and it is in a good state of repair. Dr. W. S. Pitts was one of the pioneers that came under the influence of this church in the early days and he did more than any one else to make it known.

DOCKING WASTE IS HUGE

New York Commission Seeks Better Handling of Perishable Food—Loss Is $200,000,000.

New York.—As a sign toward the solution of the problem of the high cost of living Mayor Gaynor's market commission hopes to find some way of providing better terminal facilities for handling perishable produce. It is estimated that under the present docking system there is an annual waste of $200,000,000. This is demonstrated by the report of the commission made by order of the New York board of health, showing that last year 500,000 pounds of fruits were destroyed; 2,500,000 pounds of vegetables; 73,000 pounds of eggs; 330,000 pounds of fish; and 95,000 pounds of miscellaneous market products.

PRIEST FINDS $1,000 BILLS

Person Who Left the Big Fund for Poor of New York Parish Is Identified.

New York.—Until recently, the largest amount that the parish of the Roman Catholic church of Our Lady of Guadalupe, on One Hundred and Fifty-sixth street, ever had taken out of the poor box was about $5. This week, however, when he opened the box he found inside, piled together, five crisp $1,000 bills.

The priest never had seen a $1,000 bill before, and when he saw the five he could hardly believe his eyes, but soon found he had a fund such as he never had expected for the relief of the poor in his parish.

The person who put the $1,000 bills in the box did not leave any clue to his identity.

May Go to Jail for Dog

Denver, Colo.—Rather than pay a $4 dog license, Duncan McPhail, a Denver attorney, prefers to pass his declining years in jail. More than a year ago the city of Denver levied, but failed to get a tax of $4 on McPhail's dog, a terrier. The court has decreed that McPhail should pay the tax, and that anyone who refused to do so should be imprisoned for a year.

WILL BE SHORT LIVED

SENATOR CULBERSON'S OPINION OF THE NEW PARTY.

Texas Statesman Tells Why He Sees in It No Menace to Either the Democrats or the Republicans.

Senator Charles A. Culbertson of Texas, one of the Democratic leaders in the senate, sees no menace to either the Democratic or the Republican party in the new third party movement launched by Commodore Roosevelt. The senator from Texas, who is a careful observer of political sentiment, was discussing with some colleagues the probable effect on future politics of the recent conference of Col. Roosevelt and his friends in Chicago. Senator Culbertson did not share the anxiety of some of his political associates that Colonel Roosevelt would make trouble for the democracy in 1916.

"There are some fundamental considerations which convince me that the new party will be comparatively short lived," said Senator Culbertson. "This party rests in the first place on the personal and political fortunes of one man. This is manifest, and no amount of loud contrary assertion can change this patent fact. He fought for the nomination of the Republican party, would have accepted it if he could have obtained it, and only organized the new party in sheer desperation to reach the presidency again."

The party was proposed and established to gratify his desire to remain in the political arena, and necessarily will perish with it. Its dissolution will be hastened by the fact that it is founded on false principles and revolutionary doctrines which are destructive of sound and stable government. Thousands of people voted for Roosevelt at the last election who as an independent proposition object to the character of government he would erect. The man was stronger than the form of government he would establish.

"Such basic and enduring party principles as a centralized general government and a protective tariff, which are hated at but stressed in its platform, will necessarily be monopolized by the Republican party. This will be so because, among other reasons, the Republican party has pre-empted the ground and really believes in these principles more strongly than the Roosevelt party, especially as to a protective tariff."

"In addition to this there will always be something to thousands and their descendants in the name Republican party, just as there will be to thousands in the name Democratic party, which they will not throw off. Effective appeals will still be made to the memory of Lincoln, to the abolition of slavery and to the overthrow of Reconstruction. The Republican party, therefore, as I view the situation, has about it and in its origin and history far more of an enduring and appealing character, and in the end will reassert itself as the natural and logical foe of its old antagonist, the Democratic party."

"The only thing which could prolong the life and make the Roosevelt party dangerous in 1916, and that is not to be thought of as the failure of the incoming Democratic national administration to meet public expectation and to redeem its obligation to restore their government to the people."

THIS ARGUMENT IS ABSURD

Champions of Privilege Say Wilson, Being "Minority President," Must Not Disturb Tariff.

Newspaper champions of privilege are still repeating the absurd argument that Woodrow Wilson will be a "minority president," and therefore has no right to disturb the sacred tariff, which has fattened bloated fortunes and built empires.

Tariff privileges, forget that, there have been other "minority presidents." Abraham Lincoln was one. Lincoln put only 39.9 per cent. of the total popular vote in 1860, and yet he was elected. The argument which denies Wilson's right to recommend and enact bills revising the tariff would condemn Lincoln for saving the Union and abolishing slavery. Comment is needless.

Must Swallow All Radicals

There is permanently room in this or any other democratic country for only two great parties. The Progressives desire to be one. They can be by linking to themselves the rest of the radical and revolutionary factions.

Only to Retain Offices

The Democrats at Washington are justified in condemning the partisanship which leads the president to extend the civil service when that extension is no higher purpose than the retention of Republican appointees.

Relay on Wilson's Tact

In 1872 the Democratic party won a victory when it was a bundle of factions and not a party at all. The result was disaster. We are hopeful of better results this time, not because there is more unity, but because we have faith in the president. He has shown more tact than the last Democratic president had. He is not going to attempt to drive those who do not agree with him from office. He will "re-conquer" the opposition rather than humiliate them, and will be content to govern with him.

Get Ready For The Place Above You

We give you the following advice: Get ready for the place above you, and the greatest requisite for this advancement is to be fitted for the place when it comes. Many a young person has failed of promotion because he was not fitted for the opening when it came.

Will thorough preparation pay? In all occupations, the lowest rounds of the ladder of success are well occupied, but there is always room at the top. In every large city there are scores of business men and institutions looking for employees who can properly fill positions. Competency and efficiency are always in demand. The avenue by which this efficiency can be attained is right at your door, Correspondence Training. The great revolution in business has given rise to this new order of things, things which fit men and women to cope with real life, and that is a practical education. The "Door of Opportunity" is open, now is your time to enter.

Announces For Sheriff.

In our regular column of the issue of the Ledger will be found the official announcement of R. B. (Bob) Lassiter as a candidate for the nomination of sheriff of Calloway county, subject to the action of the voters of the next August primary election. Mr. Lassiter is a resident of the northeast section of Calloway county and has been a resident of the county all his life. He is one of the most widely known citizens of the east side and is a substantial and highly esteemed citizen. Mr. Lassiter is well qualified for the important office to which he aspires, a spirited and successful farmer and business man. He did not decide to enter the race until after some investigation of his chances of success and after being solicited by scores of good citizens and declares that he is not in the fight for the nomination but for a single purpose and that is to win. He will make an active canvass and expects to visit every section of the county in the half of his campaign. He has received a great consideration of his claims.

What Makes a Woman?
One hundred and twenty pounds; more or less; of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn-out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." O. J. S. C.
