Tax Cut Bill Sure To Pass Senate Today Some Democrats Predicting Veto By The President

HAS 220-99 HOUSE OK

Washington, June 3—(AP)—Congress checks to President Truman today the question of an income tax cut on July 1. All that is needed to send the Republican-sponsored bill to the White House is Senate approval of the compromise bill which the House accepted yesterday 220 to 99. Senate passage during the day was foregone.

Some Democrats predicted a veto although Mr. Truman has not stated his views of the bill. He said, however, that this is not the time to cut taxes.

House acceptance of the bill yesterday was by a margin sufficient to override a veto but Senate Democrats claimed enough votes to sustain a veto should that be the President's action.

The bill provides tax cuts ranging from 10.5 percent on higher income brackets to 30 percent for incomes under $1,000. Cuts would be effective on July 1.

As the Senate moved to take up European peace treaties today, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was reported holding the view that the recent Communist coup in Hungary should hasten U. S. acceptance of the treaty in order to get Russian troops out of the area.

Vandenberg, Senate Foreign Relations Committee chairman, told reporters he intends to discuss recent international developments in urging approval of the pacts for Italy, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Some Republican opposition is expected, particularly on the Italian treaty. Senator Bridges (R-NH) has protested that demilitarization of Italy may leave that country open to Communist infiltration when U. S. troops withdraw.

A group of House Democrats is seeking an appointment with President Truman to urge that he veto the compromise union-coup bill due for final House approval tomorrow and in the Senate Thursday.

"We are going to ask for a veto," Rep. Madden (D-Ind.) told a reporter.

Among other things the labor bill lets the government get court injunctions to halt "cannibal" strikes and bans the closed shop.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today the Senate-House committee on the economic report may order public hearings on the price situation.

"We plan to go ahead with an investigation of prices and percent economic conditions," he said, "but I have noticed that there has been little interest on the part of the administration on this question lately."

"Apparently the President and administration are abandoning talk of keeping prices down, in favor of heavy spending abroad that will keep them up."

KU Will Build $9-Million Plant In Muhlenberg Co.

Lexington, Ky., June 3—(AP)—Preliminary work is expected to begin this summer on the Kentucky Utilities Company's proposed $9,000,000 generating plant at Mogg in Muhlenberg county, a company spokesman said last night.

The company announcement said it had closed options for the plant site. The company said the new plant would have two 30,000 kilowatt generators and would be built to supplement its western division plant at Paducah.

The new plant will be connected with the Central and Blue Grass division by a power line running from Burlington to the Dix Dam substation on Herrington Lake.

The Weather

EXTENDED FORECAST:
(Through Sunday)—Temperatures for period will average 1 to 3 above normal; quite warm Thursday through Saturday; precipitation moderate, occurring as showers Wednesday and Sunday, with total one-half to one inch.

High School Boys Like UMT

Louisvillians In Age Group To Be Affected
Tour Ft. Knox, Approve

Louisville, Ky., June 3—(AP)—A survey disclosed today that a group of Louisville high school boys, who would be among those affected by proposed universal military training in this country, think the UMT experimental unit at Fort Knox, Ky., is a good thing.

After a tour of the unit, 90 percent of 46 potential trainees have been taken on tours of the unit, including 118 senior reserve officer training corps students from Louisville Male. Officials said these cadets particularly endorsed the training.

The idea for those who would be most affected by UMT to see the inside of the program was suggested by Dudley H. Taylor, Hopkinsville, chairman of the Army advisory committee for the Hopkinsville area.

Other students visiting the unit included groups from Madisonville, Owensboro, Hopkinsville, Henderson, Frankfort, Bowling Green, Russellville, Glasgow, Lexington, Richmond, Somerset, Covington, Dayton and Newport, Ky., and Clarksville, Tenn.

More than 300 students from Kentucky and Tennessee recently have been taken on tours of the unit, including 118 senior reserve officer training corps students from Louisville Male. Officials said these cadets particularly endorsed the training.

J. C. Clapp Rites To Be Wednesday At Baptist Church

Funeral services for Joseph Carlos Clapp will be conducted at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the First Baptist church. Interment, with Hornbeak Funeral home in charge, will follow in Greenlee Cemetery.

Active pall bearers will be Charles Samples, J. T. Mayo, Pet Ford, L. H. Green, E. F. Wiencek and G. C. Ralph. Honorary pall bearers are C. E. Hagan, L. E. Webb, J. S. Mills, D. T. Crocker, I. D. Holmes, J. H. Wilson, Don Quelt, W. E. Sanders, H. L. Ferguson and members of the Masonic Order.

Mr. Clapp died Sunday at the Illinois Central Hospital, New Orleans.

Check Forger Active In City, Police Report

City police today warned Fulton merchants to be on the lookout for checks bearing the forged signature of Dr. R. L. Bushart, M. D.

Officers said a number of checks ranging from $37 to $47 had been cashed here. All were made payable to J. N. Stone, and had the notation "For Labor" written on them.

The forged checks were presented and cashed Saturday after banks had closed, and were not discovered until yesterday.

He said he was a former paratrooper who wanted to take pictures with a 16 millimeter camera from a bird's eye view of the city. The city charged him with endangering the life and health of the public.

GOP Primary Race Strategy Is Shaping Up Manby Will Run As Dummit Aide, Opposed by Willis

OTHERS FILE PAPERS

Frankfort, Ky., June 3—(AP)—Lineups continued to take shape today for Republican intra-party primary election contests next Aug. 2.

City Attorney Thomas F. Manby of LaGrange, a World War II veteran, went into the race for GOP nomination for lieutenant governor. He aligned himself with Attorney General Elton S. Dummit, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Earlier, state Revenue Commissioner Orville M. Howard said he would seek the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor with the backing of Republican Gov. Simeon Willis.

Willis has announced his support of John Fred Williams, state superintendent of public instruction, who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor.

Manby, who filed his formal candidacy declaration late yesterday, formerly was president of the Young Republican Clubs of Kentucky.

He said he desired "to help bring about party unity, and I am frank to say that Dummit's candidacy gives the GOP the most hope of having that unity."

J. Everett Black, Jackson, Democrat, filed for nomination in the 76th House of Representatives District, composed of Lee and Breathitt counties.

Two additional Democrats filed for nomination for secretary of state. They were Miss Ora L. Adams, Harrodsburg, now assistant secretary of state, and T. H. (Fatty) Holbrook, Olive Hill, H. T. (Hub) Perdew, Frankfort, recently filed for the same nomination.

Union City Lets Water and Sewer Lines Contract

Union City—The board of city commissioners has entered into a contract with a St. Louis construction company for installation of water and sewer lines in the city at a cost of $109,080. Work is expected to begin in 30 days, and to be finished in about six months.

Cast iron pipe for water main extensions and vitrified clay pipe for sewer extensions were ordered 18 months ago, and have been in the city for some time.

Carr Summer School Registration To Close

Tomorrow, June 4, is the last day in which students may register for summer school classes at Carr Institute.

Make-up classes are offered sixth, seventh and eighth grade students. About 20 have registered.

Tent Meeting In Progress

Bro. Tate, a Pentecostal preacher from Jackson, Tenn., is holding a tent meeting in Sharon, Tenn. The public is invited to attend.

This is a typical scene in tornado-torn Leedey, Okla., where a twister destroyed three-fourths of the town and left a trail of knotted and twisted stumps in its wake. The two stumps are all that remain of two tall trees. Twisted around them are articles of apparel and bedclothing tossed about by the storm. Six persons were killed and many injured in the town which has a population of 600 people.

"May Refused to Accept Money For Services," Garsson Declares

Washington, June 3—(AP)—Munitions maker Henry Garsson said today that he tried to give Andrew J. May "compensation" for business help when May was wartime chairman of the House Military Committee but May refused it.

Garsson testified before a federal court jury trying him, his brother Murray, and May on war bribe charges. He related that May had been doing so much work for him in managing a Garsson-financed lumber firm in Kentucky he suggested to May that he should get paid for it.

The government charges that the Garsson brothers paid May $55,000 in bribes through the Cumberland Lumber Company for wartime favors which the former Kentucky Congressman allegedly obtained for the Garsson munitions combine.

Garsson said May acted as agent for the Cumberland Company.

"I told him on one or two occasions that I felt that there was an undue burden being placed on him in connection with the services he was performing," Garsson testified.

The witness added that May refused to take any money, contending he felt "a moral obligation" to manage the concern profitably because he had recommended that the Garssons buy the Cumberland timber tract as a means of getting lumber for gun shell crates.

Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for the two Garssons, said Henry probably will take all week on the witness stand to tell his story. The trial now is in its seventh week.

May has denied that he profited from the Cumberland Lumber Company financed by the Garssons in Kentucky, though he told the jury he acted as "agent" in managing the firm.

Henry Garsson produced the stock and minute books of the Cumberland Company during his testimony yesterday. The stock book showed Henry Garsson as sole owner of the company.

The FBI had conducted a long, fruitless search for both books. Garsson explained that he found them, just before the trial began, in a box in his home in Chicago last April 22, while moving his personal effects from Chicago to New York.

New Principal For U. C. H. S.

John C. Maddox Starts
As Principal In Fall,
Succeeding T. F. Wallace

John C. Maddox, 38, one of the outstanding public school men of West Kentucky, has entered into a contract with the Union City board of education to become principal of the senior high school there at the opening of the school term in September.

Maddox will succeed T. F. Wallace, who has served about 20 years on the faculty of Union City high school.

The new principal comes from Sedalia, Ky., where he was principal and coach last year. He was born at Farmington, received the A. B. degree at Murray State College in 1930 and the M. A. degree at Peabody college in 1938.

He served one year as coach at Arlington high school, was principal of Milburn high for six years, and principal of Lone Oak school near Paducah for six years.

India To Pick Government

British Announcement
By Attlee, Mountbatten
Followed by White Paper

London, June 3—(AP)—The British government announced today that it will transfer power in India to the Indians almost immediately and leave it to the Indian people to decide whether there shall be one or two governments.

The announcement was made simultaneously by Prime Minister Attlee in the House of Commons, by the Viceroy, Lord Mountbatten, in a broadcast to the Indian people, and by the British government in a White Paper.

Legislation will be introduced during the present session of Parliament for the transfer of power this year—on a dominion status basis—to one or two Indian governments, depending on which system the Indian people choose.

Thus until the absolute withdrawal of the British, scheduled for July of 1948, India will be composed of one or two self-governing countries which will belong to the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Last night's vice regal communique announcing that the new compromise plan, by which Great Britain expects to turn over its authority in India to public hands, was taken to mean in most quarters that the major parties—the Moslem League and the predominantly Hindu All India Congress party—had accepted the proposals or expected to do so by today.

G. D. Knight Services Held

Died At Daughter's Home
In Obion County; Burial
In Fairview Cemetery

Funeral services were held at 2:30 yesterday afternoon for George Daniel Knight at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stella Miller, District 1, Obion county. Mr. Knight died there Saturday afternoon, following a heart attack.

Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery, Fulton, with White-Ransom, Union City, in charge.

Mr. Knight, a painter, was born in Fulton 72 years ago. His wife, Mrs. Mittie Knight, died in 1941.

He leaves his daughter, Mrs. Miller, with whom he made his home, one son, M. M. Knight, also of District 1; and eight grandchildren.

Four Directors Named To KHSAA Board of Control

Henderson, Ky., June 3—(AP)—Election of four new directors to the board of control of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association was announced yesterday by Ted Sanford, secretary of K. H. S. A. A.

He listed them as Carlos Oakley, Morganfield, representing Regions 3 and 4; M. B. Mansfield, Cave City, 5 and 6; James L. Cobb, Newport, 9 and 10, and Lawrence Carter, Cumberland, 13 and 14. Sam B. Pollock, Madisonville, was reelected to represent Regions 1 and 2.

A commissioner, who would be the association's first full-time "czar," is to be named by the directors to take over his duties July 1.

State Limitation On UK Prof Salary Is Tested In Court

Frankfort, Ky., June 3—(AP)—A decision that a University of Kentucky professor cannot be paid more than the $5,000 annual state constitutional salary limit headed for the Kentucky Court of Appeals for final review today.

Circuit Judge W. B. Ardery ruled yesterday that the university cannot employ Dr. Louis Pardue, native of Scottsville, Ky., as a physics professor at $5,600 a year because that salary exceeds the constitutional limit.

Immediately afterward, Circuit Clerk Kelly C. Smither said the case would be taken to the Appellate court.

Dr. Pardue claimed that as a teacher he is not a state officer subject to the $5,000 annual salary limit.

Harris Fork Creek Flood Control Project Delayed By Court's Ruling On Suits, Terms Of Contract

City Must File
Suits Against
Owners, Lessees

CONTRACT UNSIGNED

The Harris Fork Creek flood control project has hit two more time-killing snags. City Attorney James Warren told the Fulton city council at its regular meeting last night.

The first is an order of the Fulton county court requiring the city to make lessees of property affected in condemnation proceedings parties to the lawsuits, along with the owners.

The other is a rather complicated exchange of correspondence and opinions among the five parties to the creek project—the city of Fulton, the city of South Fulton, the Kentucky and Tennessee Highway Departments and the Illinois Central railroad—stemming from the terms of the project contract and the amount the railroad is to contribute toward the work.

Contracts for the actual work cannot be let until these matters are settled, the council was told.

Only three condemnation suits remain to be litigated, Warren said. These are the city of Fulton vs. Jess Fields, Paul DeMyer and Mrs. Lillian Felt Hall. All three defendants own property in the project area.

In the case of the city vs. Jess Fields, a plea in abatement was filed and sustained by the county court requiring the city to make the lessee, King Motor Co., a party to the suit. It was suggested by attorneys representing Mrs. Hall that a plea would be filed in that case, thus bringing the City Motor Co. lessee, into the suit, Warren added.

Flavius Martin, Seth Boaz and John McDonald are representing Fields; Frank Carr is counsel for Mrs. Hall; and Paul Durbin is attorney for DeMyer.

The city of Fulton next must file suit against the lessees, commissioners must be appointed to assess the property and to appraise damages, less benefits expected to accrue from the project. Then the original suits may be revived.

The five-party contract had been prepared and forwarded to Frankfort for the signature of J. Stephen Watkins, Kentucky highway commissioner. The contract, however, was not entirely satisfactory to the state attorney general, and was re-drafted by him to remedy certain objectionable features.

The document then went to the Tennessee Department of Highways. There the objection was raised that the amount of the Illinois Central railroad's contribution had been left blank. (It was explained here that the amount was to be inserted later by the railroad under its prior commitment of $5,000,000.)

The Tennessee attorney general put the contract in the mail again, this time to the Kentucky Highway Department, who in turn are sending it to Fulton for insertion of the railroad's contribution. The widely-traveled contract was expected to reach Fulton today.

The council held a relatively short and uneventful meeting last night, being in session only about an hour.

The street committee and the city attorney were instructed to file procedure by which property owners on unimproved city streets would pay for having the streets graveled and black-topped.

The council agreed that the city would buy badges for policemen, since these emblems of office must be surrendered when a man leaves the force and are not his personal property, as are uniforms. No other discussion was held on the ordinance requiring all members of the city police force to wear uniforms while on duty.

City Judge Lon Adams' report for the past month showed fines of $455 and costs of $72. Police Chief K. P. Dalton reported collections of $375 in fines, $74 in costs, and $12 in fines and costs laid out and worked out.

Mrs. Maggie Walthe (above) mayor of Soap Lake, Wash., dismissed Town Marshal James R. Gas after a disagreement and announced, "I'll be marshal until a better one comes along."

Waddill, Shepard Thought In Line For Liquor Post

Frankfort, Ky., June 3—(AP)—Two men were mentioned by political observers today as possible successors to Charles F. Brown, Jr., Louisville, as administrator of the Kentucky State Alcohol Beverage Control Board.

They were Beverly M. Waddill, Madisonville, and John E. Shepard, Covington.

Brown said in Louisville last night he had resigned the $5,000-a-year post. He had held the position by appointment of Gov. Simeon Willis.

When asked by a reporter if he had been asked to resign, Brown's only comment was "It's part of the game of politics."

Why Be Insane?

If you are one of those people who entertain serious doubts about your sanity, there might be some truth in your suspicions. That is, if we accept the findings of Dr. Floyd E. Dunn, director of a Missouri sanatorium, who says only 47 to 48 of every 100 persons continue "fairly normal" throughout life. Four or five of each 100 becomes insane, 16 profoundly neurotic, the other 32 neurotic in varying degrees, he says.

The doctor lists among reasons for this trend the increase in the average life span, which results in more persons reaching ages when certain types of mental disorders are apt to develop; and the increase in urban population, which puts more people in "strenuous city life with its tendencies to develop psychotic reactions in predisposed persons."

Along with the increase in average age, the statistician might have mentioned as a contributing factor in his "findings" the fact that many who are now classified insane or neurotic would not have been thus singled out a generation or two ago. Those suffering from mild cases of mental disorders rarely escaped the confines of the family circle. In smaller communities, neighbors knew that the blank girl was not as sharp as she should be, but the girl was not encouraged to recline on a psychiatrist's couch and thereby add one to the recorded number of the mentally lacking.

Whether the pace of city life contributes to insanity is open to question, in our opinion. Riding a street car is not nearly so difficult as catching and saddling a horse; buying ready-made clothing is somewhat simpler than raising the sheep, shearing the wool, converting it into cloth and then into wearing apparel; operating a farm, then and now, surely is as complicated as the average office or factory job.

Folk nowadays are more likely to ponder over their own mental quirks, because they have more leisure time, and because the subject of insanity is much more generally discussed.

Too much introspection often is harmful. Everyone at times does things which, he knows are irrational, possibly insane. A little brooding over perfectly normal lapses can produce terrifying suspicions which feed upon themselves and grow ever larger. The doors of the sanatorium open to receive another patient.

The opposite philosophy, and perhaps the better one after all, is expressed exquisitely in the familiar: "All are queer save thee and me, and sometimes I think thou'st a little queer."

The Perfect Husband

When a man has devoted the better part of his adult life to achieving his ambition of becoming a perfect husband, and has imagined that he was succeeding, it is discouraging to find that a wife only thinks of him as a man who—

Complains of the food, forgets to put his soiled clothes in the wash, burns holes in his clothes, will not rub tonic into his thinning hair and never notices when she gets a new dress, hat or hair-do.

Eats too many starchy and fattening things, leaves closet doors ajar, will not pull the choke out when he starts the car, brings her nothing smaller than $5 bills, which she cannot get changed in the neighborhood.

Does not listen to what is being said, forgets what he is told to bring from town, ruins the shape of his clothes by packing things into his pockets, never cleans his pipe, uses up all the matches.

Snores and has nightmares, promises to make repairs and does not make them, catches cold by doing imprudent things, cannot keep a secret, wears holes in the toes of his socks, pulls buttons off his shirts.

Leaves her to discipline the children, cannot park a car against the curb, cannot remember to set out the garbage can on the day of collection.

Messes the basin in the bathroom with shaving cream, pulls the cords on the window curtains violently and snaps them, makes rings with wet glasses on table tops, cannot be trusted in the garden with a sickle and pulls up flowers which he assumes are weeds.

And, in short, is perfect only in the sense that he does not beat her or drag her around by her hair. (Madisonville Messenger).

Efficiency Experts

Salt Lake City.—(AP)—For three months two efficiency experts have been surveying government operations in Salt Lake county. The authorized period is ended and the survey is still incomplete.

So Robert S. Herman, whose salary has been $350 monthly, and Tom Metos, who has been receiving $309 monthly, wrote the County Commission, urging that the survey be completed, but adding:

"We recognize the necessity for cutting expenses. . . we offer our services for the remainder of the survey on the basis of what time we have available for $1."

The county commission accepted.

U. S. of Europe Tested

By Sigrid Arne
(DeWitt MacKenzie is on vacation)

Washington.—(AP)—The recurring notion that Europe might be happier as a "United States of Europe" is getting a sort of laboratory test in three of the little north countries.

Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg are working toward an economic union which will mean their people can do business with each other just about as the people of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland do.

The experiment is getting a good bit of anxious and hopeful watching from experts who think Europe's tariff walls and patchwork currency systems only add fuel to the flames of antagonistic nationalism.

This September the three little countries will set up a uniform tariff schedule. The Belgian, the Dutchman and the Luxembourg citizen, buying from country "X" will all pay the same tariff on the same commodity.

Right now there is no tariff or customs duty between them except a few excise taxes and luxury duties. And they are not so much based on the old idea of shutting out foreign goods as they are a deterrent to trade in non-essentials.

No visas are needed to travel between the countries, and the hope is to keep it that way. The Netherlands is the most liberal on this score. They already have made agreements with several European nations—the United Kingdom the largest among them—to permit free travel, wiping out the nuisance tax of the visa fee.

Eventually the three little countries plan to have a common currency.

Happily Belgium and Holland are markedly complementary to each other in the things they turn out. Strangely, lying as close as they do on a small part of the world's map, Belgium is roughly a Pittsburgh to the Netherlands' combination of Kansas and Minnesota.

Traditionally the Belgians have bought the Dutchman's dairy products and world famous bulbs. And the Dutchman has bought a good bit of his iron and steel products from his western neighbor.

Up to World War II the three nations charged tariffs on each other's products. With the tariff now out of the way, the price the consumer pays in all three countries will be lower. Trade has already picked up in the area noticeably.

All three nations are working to keep comparable and rigid price control and rationing systems going. Their citizens have little chance to complain of a neighbor's unfair advantages.

The Dutch have already licked their major reconstruction problem—the repair of the bridges which the warring armies blew up. Trains are moving on a reasonable imitation of prewar schedules. Even the Dutch farm-lands which were flooded when the dikes were blowing up are dry again and will produce their first peacetime crops this year.

Belgium came out of the war with a happy difference from most of her neighbors. She had a comparatively large supply of foreign currencies, due in part to the fact that the U. S. Army lived there for a year, leaving behind a legacy of American dollars.

The experiment has more than an economic phase. The Dutchman is essentially a Nordic. The culture of the Belgians has deep Gallic roots. Years ago that was enough to start a war, and Europe has seen plenty of religious wars.

Now such widely different peoples are tossing together their economic fates, regardless of the shrines at which they worship and the songs they sing on holidays. This is nothing new to an American, but to Europe it is almost something new under the sun.

Good Defense

Lewiston, Ida.—(AP)—John Olson, 15, was wading in the Clearwater River when he became frightened by the ugly mouth of a steelhead trout. He grabbed a rock and let fly with perfect aim.

While walking home, the lad had six offers to buy the 13-pound 36-inch trout, but became worried about having taken it without pole and hook.

"I thought sue the fish was going to bite," he said.

"Obviously self-defense," ruled Game Warden Harry Palmer.

Cautious Council

Los Angeles.—(AP)—The city council debated painting this line from Hamlet on the chamber's wall: "This above all, to thine own self be true, and it must follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

Councilman John C. Holland declared: "Admirable. Ideals are something we all need."

But Councilman John R. Roden observed: "It might serve to scare Hell out of some councilmen when they turn around in their swivel chairs."

The council, after learning the cost would be from $375 to $750, tabled the matter.

through a glass
darkly

By ERL SENSING

As I recall, last week I climbed out on a limb. I didn't expect Johnny Gill and his not so eager beavers to saw it out from under me in such a hurry. I took a hard fall. One, two, three—just like that, all in row, the Chicks lost ball games to Hop-town and Cairo. They managed to shake out one win over Cairo Saturday night before they returned to Fairfield Sunday to let Union City blast them out of their own park by a score I don't care to mention.

Last year I became used to Cairo losing a lot of games by a margin of a dozen or more, but I'll never get used to our Chicks going down in defeat by a half dozen runs. In fact, I'll never get used to their losing.

I suppose I am the world's worst loser. Sunday it was terrible. I found myself right in the middle of a covey of Oryzounid rooters. Life was miserable for me. It seemed our boys couldn't do a thing that was right. Those Union City fans took sadistic delight in calling each blunder to my attention. I will say, though, that I didn't let them get away with it. Once, when one of their runners slid safely into home base, and then lay there in pain, they let forth a terrible mourning sound. I heard something like "Majerick, Majerick, O. Majerick, please get up!" Suddenly one of the sharper eyed fans discovered it wasn't Majerick at all, but some other lowly member of the team. They heaved a great sigh of relief. One of them turned to me and said, "I'm sure glad that wasn't Majerick. He's leading the league in batting." My reply was simple and to the point. "I was sympathizing with him only because he is human," I said.

Let's go back and look at our team again. I still say Propet is the best first baseman in the league. Gray and Rhodes are good enough at the keystone combination. (Where Rhodes was Sunday I haven't the faintest idea.) Buck can play third on my team. Lis can do the catching. I like his hustle. I like his team spirit. Peterson, Seawright and Gill can take care of the outfield. I'll let Gill himself pick the pitcher. Only, when he makes a mistake I hope he pulls him quickly. I think he is looking to K. P. Dalton to do a little pitcher picking, too.

Individually the team shapes up one hundred per cent. I can't see why they don't win games. We could do with a little more fight. That little manager of Hoptown may have made a spectacle of himself a time or two, but he drove and sparked the Hoppers to undeserved wins over the Chicks. He was frequently referred to by our fans as "Scalawag," but only when he was making it hot for our team. As long as he stood out there competently and didn't protest his team's misfortune he was a swell guy in the eyes of our fans.

Just because the Chicks are in a slump is no reason for the fans to stay away from the park in droves. There were so many Union City fans out at Fairfield Sunday I was almost afraid to sound off for the Chicks. The officials of the Fulton Baseball Association kept the price of admission this year at fifty cents. I don't know of another place where so much

Social Happenings

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Christian church met Monday, June 2, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Holland on Route 3.

Ten members and one visitor were present.

Mrs. Harry Murphy, president of the society, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Jake Huddleston, leader, conducted a very interesting lesson on the theme for the month, "The Church in India." Mrs. B. A. Alexander gave an article on "Unity at Home." Mrs. Harry Murphy gave an outline of three appraisals of foreign missions.

The Rev. E. M. Oakes made an interesting talk on the convention that he and Mrs. Oakes recently attended at Owensboro.

After the business session, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. B. G. Huff, served delicious refreshments.

The society will meet in the home of Mrs. Harry Murphy for the July meeting.

Mrs. H. N. Strong announces that the music department of the Women's Club will meet Wednesday at 3 p. m., at the club home. Mrs. Charles Gregory is program chairman.

Fun can be bought for fifty cents. Don't let our team down. Now this next is to the members of the team. If you are going to lose any games, let some of those teams from far, far away beat you. We don't want any of this stuff where Union City and Mayfield win over us. We don't like to see them beat you. As long as they play any other team in the league we are for them, but when they tangle with you—we want them humiliated.

All this is strictly from the view point of a spectator. I'd be the first one to laugh at myself, if I thought I was giving expert advice. All I know about baseball is what I see out there on the diamond and hear in the stands. I don't like what I hear in the stands. And I don't like what I have been seeing on the diamond. It still seems to me we have a team that can win ball games. I think it is high time we started.

Another thing—I'd like to see a few more of those pow-pows at home plate, where the hand-shaking takes place after a homerun has been hit. I want to see our Chicks out there welcoming the runner in. If I have my Indian lore straight, there was once a tribe of Chickasaws who lived in these parts. It is from this tribe that our Chicks derive their name. Let's, in true Chickasaw fashion, have a war dance round that home plate when the homers come in. Let our Braves pound the old war club and scalp the Kitty. It takes a lot of wampum to run that ball club. To be short, let's go on the warpath!

P. S. Elsewhere in this paper you will find the results of the game played last night. As far as I am concerned, I refuse to admit that I saw it. It is one thing to lose a ball game to a better team—it is another thing, entirely, to fall apart at the seams.

Five or more homemakers in Muhlenberg county earn pin-money by upholstering chairs as learned in their homemakers clubs.

SILVER TEA PLANNED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Ladies of the Cumberland Presbyterian church are sponsoring a Silver Tea Friday afternoon, June 6, at the Fulton Woman's Club home from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Everyone is invited to attend. Proceeds will be applied on the church building fund.

New York, June 3.—(AP)—For the past 26 years or so, one of the Summer's better golf tournaments hereabouts has been the Jess Sweetser Victory Cup event at the Siwanoy Club. . . that commemorates the first American triumph in the British Amateur championship and gives a lot of golfers a chance to spend a pleasant day chasing a ball around the links and a night beating their gums about old times—the principal reasons for golf . . . now it might be a good idea to set up a Turnesa-Chapman Tourney in honor of the first All-American final in Britain . . . and how about a Bobby Jones grand slam tournament before Bobby's great feat is lost in the mists of time? . . . ## To Win In Ninth Fulton's Chicks saw their chance to win over the Union City Greyhounds melt away last night when a quick double play with bases loaded and one out in the ninth gave the visitors a 6-5 victory. It was the second straight defeat for the Fulton nine at the hands of Union City. The score here Sunday was Union City 11-6.

Lloyd Eldridge, though touched for eight hits, struck out seven Union City batters and provided a triple in the second inning that scored a Fulton run. Union City's Dutch Neuman, who relieved Allsup on the hill, was credited with the victory after a nice bit of pitching for the winners.

The Chicks got three hits good for two runs in both the first and second innings, and it looked like they were well on their way toward snapping their losing streak. A lone Union City tally in the third didn't darken the picture too much.

Then in the fifth frame, the Union City offense exploded for three hits and four runs, which were helped home by five Chicks errors. Brawner doubled and came in on Majerick's single in the seventh to provide run No. 6 for the Hounds.

Dusty Rhodes, who had been out of action for a few days, batted for Eldridge in the ninth. The runner reached first on an error by Trificano, Union City third baseman. Matas walked, and a sacrifice hit by Gray brought in the run, while Gray went to first when Neuman fumbled the ball. Fropst grounded out, short to first, and Manager Johnny Gill walked to load the bases. Hall Seawright, Chick left fielder, unluckily hit into a double play. Matas was cut off attempting to come home, and Johns, Hound catcher, beat Seawright to first with his throw for the final out of the twin killing.

The Fulton-Union City series will end here tonight, and the Chicks open a three-day stand at Owensboro June 4.

Washington. Applicants for government jobs who complain of Civil Service examinations in this country should consider the Korean exams.

Dr. Dyingman Rhee, president of the provisional government of Korea, said on a visit to Washington he had to master the Chinese classics before he passed his exams as a young man.

Dr. Rhee, a life-long leader of the Korean independence movement, is a dapper personality who dresses with Bond Street impeccability. Humorous, intellectual, the 72-year-old statesman has a habit of blowing on the tips of his fingers in times of emotional stress.

This probably goes back to an experience he had in 1897, when he was placed in prison because of his attempts to force reforms in the government. He led the youth of his country in a movement to keep the government free from Japanese and Russian influence and to secure democratic reforms from the Yi dynasty.

For the first six months of his seven years incarceration, Dr. Rhee was tortured daily. He was beaten. Oiled papers were tied around his arm and then set afire. Three-cornered bamboo sticks were placed between his fingers and his hands then tightly bound.

Dr. Rhee had attended a mission school in Seoul, Korea's capital, where he learned English and was converted to Christianity. While in prison one of his fellow prisoners held a copy of the New Testament for him to read aloud to the others, bringing about their conversion also.

Behind bars he also wrote a book called "The Spirit of Independence," which he managed to have smuggled out of the prison and published.

When the Japanese incorporated Korea into their empire they changed its name to "Chosen," which means in English "The Land of Morning Calm." A poetic name, but the Koreans like Korea best.

Wall Street Report

New York, June 3—(AP)—Assorted stocks made feeble passes at recovery in today's market although many leaders continued to seek lower ground.

Dealings were sluggish from the opening on and fractional declines had a shade the best of the argument near midday.

Occasional gainers included Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Philip Morris, Owens-Illinois, Standard Oil (N.J.) and Consolidated Edison. Intermittent losers were Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Kennecott, American Water Works, Westinghouse, Air Reduction, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway and Great Northern Railroad.

Bonds and cotton futures were narrowly uneven.

Share owners derived some encouragement from the com-plation of the New York Federal Reserve Bank which placed department store sales in the metropolitan area during the week concluded May 31 at 15 per cent above the comparable 1946 period.

Whitesburg—Luther E. Holcomb, 30, was ordered held without bond for the July grand jury by County Judge Arthur Dixon on a charge of murder filed in connection with the fatal beating a week ago of Clint Cornett, 68, Roscoe Holcomb, Luther's younger brother, also was bound over to the grand jury under $10,000 bond in connection with the case.

Frankfort—The Harlan Falls City Distributing Company's license was suspended for 23 days, after next Saturday's close of business, by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. The suspension was on charges the firm delivered beer in dry territory at Insull, Ky.

In Kentucky

Lexington — The tax rate on real estate was increased by Fayette fiscal court from 40 to 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the legal limit. The court approved a $627,261 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Winchester — Police Lieut. Clyde Young reported William O. Chandler, 26, Lexington automobile mechanic, was killed yesterday when crushed by an automobile on which he was working.

Frankfort—An application of Elmer Schambach and William Schultz for a license to operate a cab service between Covington and the greater Cincinnati airport in Boone county, Kentucky, was denied yesterday by Ben J. Brumleve, state motor transportation director. He said the applicants failed to show "any public necessity" for the license.

The Garden

The Mexican Bean Beetle

If Mexican bean beetles run true to form, the apparently settled warm weather now should cause them to emerge; in fact some possibly have, here and there. This is not prophesying, but in past years when the cool weather held on long, many over-wintering bean beetles starved in their hiding places, rather than face a season not to their liking. It is quite likely, however, that if let alone, enough will survive to multiply into a normal population by mid-summer.

Accordingly, it is advisable to watch for the "hardshells," and then for their eggs, laid in clusters on the underside of the leaves. When the first eggs are seen, applying the control material should start, with upturned nozzles to put it where, and only where, it can be effective against this pest.

Calcium arsenate and lime, 1 part to 8, may be used as a dust, or magnesium arsenate in a spray, 3 level teaspoons per gallon of water, but only before any pods have set, as arsenic is poisonous to humans as well as to bean beetles. After podding starts only rotenone is safe to use, in 3-4 percent dust, or in spray made of rotenone concentrate and water, after the manufacturer's instructions.

Ten days later, when all the eggs of that generation may be assumed to have been laid, a second application should be made to cover the leaves that have formed meantime. If good jobs were done, that garden should be free of bean beetles for the season, except for immigrants from beans of a neighbor who had less concern for the marvelous multiplying power of the Mexican beetle.

Two other pests may attack beans, the Southern bean beetle, and the spotted cucumber beetle, that make roundish holes in the leaves of early plantings. These holes are unsightly but seldom serious, for neither of these pests stay on beans long and they do not raise their families there. Further injury may be stopped by spraying or dusting as above, but top-side of the leaves, as these are not the clever pests the Mexican beetle is, but are killed quite as easily as the Colorado beetle on potatoes.
