WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—At 11 Gen. Corbin was summoned to appear before the War Investigation Commission.

During the testimony he unexpectedly

COLONEL HENRY CLARK CORBIN, by launching a charge against Gen. Miles.

He stated in unequivocal terms that Gen. Miles was solely to blame for the selection of Camp Alger, where so many deaths occurred among the soldiers, as one of the points of mobilization.

He said that it was owing to Miles' recommendation and advice that this camp was chosen.

Maj. Gen. Miles was the principal witness before the War Investigation Committee yesterday, and talked freely. At no time, he said, was there a sufficient

RULINGS

Received By Revenue Collector Franks.

COMMERCIAL BROKERS

Rulings With Reference to Them Modified—Legacies Not Exempt From Tax.

The following treasury rulings of local interest were received by Collector E. T. Franks this week:

Unclarified petroleum which requires further chemical manipulation to place it in a salable condition may be shipped in bulk without stamps, but the finished product must be stamped in whatever quantity sold.

The regulations relating to sub-division tobacco packages has been modified, with respect to fine cut, so as to allow the continuance of the sub divisions approved prior to August 27, 1898.

The rulings with reference to commercial brokers has been modified, and as follows is now announced as the ruling of the department: Every person, firm or company, who negotiates sales or purchases of goods, wares, produce or merchandise for another as a business, or material part of a business, without acquiring possession of, or any right or title in, the subject of the sale or purchase, and receives a commission for such service, except under contract to sell or purchase exclusively for certain persons or firms, or who have business for the owners of vessels, or the shippers, consignees or consignees of freight carried by vessel, for a commission is to be regarded as a commercial broker under the fourth paragraph of Section 2 of the act of June 13, 1898, and is required to pay special tax accordingly. Persons engaged in negotiating sales of flour for one company, sales of meats for another company, sales of coffee, sugar, etc. for another company, and so on, receiving a commission, are also in retail brokers within the meaning of paragraph four, Section 2.

Special tax is required to be paid for every still or worm manufactured for the recovery of alcohol, except where it is made for a druggist, who sells it up for use in recovering alcohol previously used by him in the preparation of medicines.

Certificates of deposit, payable on demand, and bearing interest if left for a specified time, require a two-cent stamp when issued, and if paid subsequent to the time interest accrues, additional stamps at a rate of two cents per $100.

"Peace Conference" Not Yet Picked Off.

GETTING IN READINESS

[SPECIAL TO NEW ERA.]
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 22.—Governor Bradley and Adj. Gen. Collier arrived in the city at noon from Frankfort.

They are holding an informal reception this afternoon and ex-Mayor

WILLIAM A. BRADLEY.

George D. Todd, Postmaster Baker, Collector Sapp, State Chairman Barnett, Gas Wilson and other prominent Republicans are calling on them and shaking their hands.

Apparently the "love feast" is still an even of the future, and the present meeting is only preparatory to a peace conference to be held at a later date, when the party leaders, after Bradley has "kissed and made up" with the men who have fought him and have been fought by him during the years of his administration, will discuss plans for uniting a strong fight against Democratic nominees for State offices during next spring and summer.

SOCIETY.

Elegant Luncheon to the Magazine Club

BY MRS. BLAKEY.

Misses Gunn to Entertain Euchre Club—Dance at the Latham—The Davison Reception.

The ladies of the Magazine Club were tendered a complimentary luncheon at Hot Latham Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. T. W. Blakey.

Covers were laid in the ordinary for eighteen guests. The tables were handsomely decorated with huge vases of American Beauty roses. The viands were served in courses and consisted of the most delicious delicacies of the season.

The guests assembled at two o'clock and remained at the table until four. No event in the history of the cultured organization has been more heartily enjoyed.

Those present were: Mesdames: J. H. Anderson, F. M. Brown, F. W. Dabney, B. F. Eger, Berta Gant, Willie Goldsworthy, J. D. Ware, R. L. Woodard, Ira L. Smith, Lizzie Seargent, Robert Kiley, James Breathitt, T. C. Underwood, Jennie Rodman, F. L. Wilkinson, R. S. Carter, T. W. Blakey, Miss Kate Harrison.

Misses Gunn will entertain the Monday Afternoon Euchre Club at their beautiful suburban home Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Invitations were issued yesterday. This is the initial entertainment by the new club and promises to be a thoroughly enjoyable event. There is not a home in Hopkinsville where the guests will receive a more cordial welcome.

The social bill for the ensuing week includes several very elegant affairs, the least important of which is the dance and reception Monday evening at Hotel Latham, to be given by the young gentlemen of the city. Much interest attaches to this approaching event, particularly on the part of the dancing contingent of local society.

The reception by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Division Tuesday evening complimentary to Miss Margaret Peters, of Louisville, and Miss Dora Leichhardt promises to be one of the most pleasant occasions of the delightful week.

The marriage of Rev. William B. Kendall, pastor of the Baptist church at Tyler, Tex., and Miss Florence Rice, daughter of Robert F. Rice, a prominent planter of Ocala, is announced. The ceremony will take place at the Longview Methodist Episcopal church at high noon Wednesday, January 4.

Mr. E. J. Carney entertained the Wednesday Afternoon Literary Club at Hotel Latham Wednesday afternoon. This is one of the most popular organizations in the city and much interest attaches to its weekly meetings.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE JOHN BOYD.
We were sorry to hear of the death of this bright-eyed and intelligent little boy. He was the oldest son of Mr. John Boyd who is well-known to the people of Christian county. Little Johnny was born Friday, July 16, 1887; died December 18, 1898, making him eleven years five months and two days old.

Little Johnny was a great favorite with all who knew him, a regular attendant in the Sabbath school. He will be greatly missed by his Sunday School teacher and his little classmates. Father and mother and his sister and little brother will greatly miss him. There will be a vacant chair around the fire-side, the patter of his little feet will be heard no more across the threshold of his home; the voice that so often lifted the name of father mother is stilled in death. No more on earth will he be heard to repeat his little prayer that his mother might live. He has gone and while we grieve around the casket that holds the remains of one we loved we feel and realize the fact that Little Johnny's spirit is taking in the sunlight of heaven, mingling his voice with his sisters and brothers who have gone on before.

At ten minutes past four o'clock last Sunday evening just as the sun was sinking behind the Western hills, the death angel came and the soul of Little Johnny took its flight back to God who gave it. Weep, John and mother, for your dear little boy, but prepare to meet him in the sweet by and bye.

We know his death was great shock to you, but you have laid him to rest upon the pulpit green of a still grave yard. No human voice breaks the stillness there. No human footsteps crush the grave that nature spreads over that lonely couch. And should some lonely mourner stand by the white slab marking his resting place he would hear only the soft note of a bird in the cedars near by, and the wind sighing and moaning in the pines overhead; but if we would rightly interpret these voices of nature they would whisper all is well with little Johnny. And bitter though it is to listen to his last choking words, receive his last fond look.

Yet the grief is assuaged by the firm assurance that that fading form, that changing countenance we shall see again when the traces of suffering shall have left it forever and the fire of immortal life shall light up those eyes more brightly than ever.

When we see a precious flower fading and the petals falling away, and when we are told with such care that it is taken from our bosom. How our aching hearts despair.

'Round his little grave we'll linger Till the setting sun is low, Thinking all our hopes have perished With the flower we cherished so.

detook early in the summer. Mr. Cleveland, shortly after taking up a residence in Princeton, purchased a large farm near this place as an investment.

Mr. Vroom, an enthusiastic student of social subjects, succeeded in inducing the ex-President in a plan for a "school farm" for homeless boys.

It was intended to train boys in the best methods of agriculture, at the same time giving them the advantages of a "communal" home.
