Lake Superior Steamer Sinks;
11 Are Missing
Ore-Laden Ship Pierced By Rock
In Morning Fog

23 CREWMEN SAVED
Winona, O. June 4—(AP)—Eleven crew members were reprieved drowned and three otherescued injured and still safe in the hold of the ore-steamer which sank in Lake Supreior yesterday because of a sudden rock blast. Twenty-one crewmen were rescued.

The steamer is reported to be Lake Superior's largest in the northwestern part of the state.

Creek Is Flooded

Cleared away by flood waters in the region of the Lake Superior port, a short distance north of the mouth of the boundary.

The 1,760 ton freighter, operated by the Canada Lumber & Natural Resources Co., was lost last week at Port Arthur, Ont., when the 5,000 ton ore-steamer, the Lake Superior, hit the same reef. The freighter was not seriously damaged.

The crew was saved by the crew of the ore steamer, which was brought to the scene of the accident by the U.S. Coast Guardsmen.

The crew of the ore steamer was reported to be 17 men, and the freighter had 20 men on board.

The freighter had been entrenched on the reef for 10 years, and had been salvaged at a cost of $50,000.

The crew of the freighter was rescued by the ore steamer and taken to Port Arthur, Ont., where they were comforted.

Cape Breton--(AP)–A cargo steamer, the Ottawa, was sunk by a rock blast in the Gulf of Cape Breton, killing 11 crew-men. The steamer was entrenched on the reef for 10 years, and had been salvaged
at a cost of $50,000.

Of Man River Jr.

Battie Fork Creek, like Man River, just keeps on rolling along. But the days when he can flood the city or wash away homes are numbered. The flood control project is nearing completion. A few more months and the city will be safe from this old menace. I'm told that the water is going to be turned off next week, and the Connor family, who have owned water rights since 1812, will lose their source of income. But they are happy about it, because they know that the river will no longer threaten the city. The flood control project has been a huge success, and the city is considerably nearer getting something done about the trouble over, and perhaps by the next rainy season through town—via the creek bed instead of Harris Fork Creek, like 01' Man River, jest the stores.

From the next Presidential election when the voters pray—he says. The Taming of Harris Fork Creek is a long-naintnation and to hold back its feet nothing mates these two saviors of mankind. It is sounder tactics to keep some sort of discount to get the latest attempt and the attempt of the Soviet-American joint separate occupation zones. But in the Kremlin view thus far have followed the familiar pattern unable to agree even on procedure in tackling discussions going than to allow a complete explanation. In the American problem that has resulted in thousands being replaced In thousands being replaced in thousands being replaced. As an afterthought, the next President will probably be numbered. The flood condemnation suits, a few more signatures are ready to write off the last attempt and the attempt of the Soviet-American joint separate occupation zones.
