Some Important Provisions of New Law to Observe.

Candidates Will do Well to Acquaint Themselves With the Requirements.

IN CALLOWAY COUNTY.

To appear on the ballot at the August primary each candidate for county office must file a petition signed by not less than 10 and not more than 25 legal voters.

Republican candidates must have not less than 10 and not more than 15.

It is just as fatal to have too many signatures as it is to not have enough.

The new primary election law passed by the last legislature made many changes in the old manner of nominating candidates for office. Candidates for county and city offices should study the law carefully in order to acquaint themselves with its provisions, because certain things must be done before a candidate's name can legally go on the ballot at the August primary election.

Hereafter all devices will be eliminated. Only the names of the candidates will appear on the ballot, and if there are voters who are unable to read they will have a hard time finding their choice on the ballot. With the use of devices voters who could not read found little trouble in locating their favorites, but this has been changed by the new election law, and instead of a ballot resembling a circus poster, it will contain nothing but printed matter with the names of candidates in the proper order.

Very Important.

One thing candidates should not overlook is preparing the nominating petitions and having the required number of legal voters' signatures. A failure in this will keep their names off the ballot. Candidates for county and city offices must file nominating petitions bearing the signatures of not less than 10 per cent and not more than 10 per cent of the legal voters of the total party at the last election for president.

Percentage of Signers.

It will be just as fatal to a candidate to secure more than 10 per cent than less than three per cent. This limit of signatures was probably incorporated in the law to prevent candidates from getting out early and securing a majority of signatures, which would prevent other candidates from getting up a nominating petition.

When to File Petitions.

Candidates must bear in mind that nominating petitions and petitions must be filed with the county clerk thirty days before the election and nominating petitions for signatures must not be circulated earlier than sixty days before the date of filing, which is ninety days before the election. The election will be held on Saturday, August 2, 1913. According to the provisions of the law petitions must not be circulated for signatures before next May and June. If papers shall be the highest vote of any candidate of the party for election at the last election for president.

Aside from the filing of nominating petitions all candidates for county and city offices must file with the county clerk nominating papers giving the postoffice address, street number or rural route, age, legal qualifications necessary to hold office sought and that they will not withdraw, and if elected will qualify as such officer. This paper must be filed thirty days before the election; same as the nomination petition bearing signatures of legal voters.

The provisions of the election law governing the manner of nominating candidates for county and city offices follows:

Sec. 6. Nominating Papers: Any qualified elector who files his petition and the nominating petition of electors as hereinafter provided, and is a member of a political party subject to the provision of this act, shall have his name printed on the official nominating ballot of his party as a candidate for nomination for any office at any primary election held under the provisions of this act, said petition shall state the name, age, postoffice address and political affiliations of the candidate.

Each signer of a nomination paper shall sign but one such paper for the same office. Each signer of a nomination paper shall declare that he intends to support the candidate named therein. He shall add his residence and street number, if any, and the date of signing. No nominating petition shall be circulated prior to sixty days before the date by which such paper is required to be filed, and no signature shall be counted unless it has been affixed to such nomination paper bears the date within sixty days prior to the time of filing.

For all nominations as many sheets as necessary may be used for each precinct, but for offices to be filled wholly by the voters of one county or part thereof, all signers of each separate sheet shall reside in the same precinct and all sheets containing signatures from one precinct shall be placed together before filing the nominating paper.

No person who is not a qualified voter, and a member of a party making its nominations under the provisions of this act, and who is not registered, if he lives in a precinct where registration is required, shall be qualified in signing any nomination petition; and no person shall sign any nomination petition of any candidate in any political party other than that of which such signer is a member, and with which he is registered, if he resides in a district where registration is required.

Sec. 7. Time and Place of Filing: For all offices to be voted for by the electors of one county or of a city district or subdivision therein, except members of congress, said nomination papers shall be filed with the county clerk of such county at least thirty days prior to the holding of the primary election.

Sec. 8. Number of Signatures: For offices to be voted for by the electors of one county or a portion thereof, said nomination papers shall be signed by at least three per cent and not more than ten per cent of the total vote of the party or the candidate in the city, county or district in which he seeks to be elected.

Sec. 9. Basis of Percentage: The basis of percentage in estimating the number of signatures required upon nominating papers shall be the highest vote of any candidate of the party for election at the last election for president.

BLOWS OUT GAS

Lester Bryant, of Kentucky, Is Found Asphyxiated at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 20. Lester Bryant, of Rockfield, Warren county, Kentucky's star corn grower, was found dead of asphyxiation in his room at 801 Delaware avenue Monday afternoon. The boy had evidently blown out the gas by mistake. He had undoubtedly attempted to reach the door when the gas was overpowering him, for his body was found on the floor near the door. Young Bryant was one of many Southern lads who came here on invitation of the Department of Agriculture for a prize for his prowess as a corn grower. He was a typical country boy and knew little of the modern appliances of the city.

He went to his rooming house on his arrival in Washington at midnight Sunday, and it was not until after noon Monday that his body was found.

Bryant was 15 years old, and had won $300 in prizes on his corn products. The championship was awarded on an acre of corn that produced 149 bushels, netting $70.38. Some of the stalks were fifteen feet high and grew seven ears to the hill. The lad had always been a close student and was in his seventh grade. Last year he was second in Warren county in the Boy's Corn Growing contest, making ninety-seven bushels on his acre. This year he eclipsed all boys in the State with 148 bushels, fifty-five pounds. He made his score with Boone county white, which made his record all the more remarkable.

What Makes a Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn-out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Mrs. Paul Depew, Okla. "and I thank you with all my heart for making such a good medicine." Only 5 c. Guaranteed by Dale & Stubblefield.

Increase in School Attendance.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 21. An average daily attendance of the children in the rural schools of this State during the last year was 241,939; an increase of 4,919 over the preceding year. The total number of white children enrolled during the same period was 100,613 and money paid by the State and the counties to conduct the schools, was $1,465,642.72, which was an increase of $375,119.97 and of the money spent $1,991,767.97 was collected from local taxation; an increase of $185,883.30. The teachers received an average salary of $230 which was an increase of $26 over last year.

Hale Vs. Commonwealth.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 21. The appellate court today affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Hale vs. Commonwealth from Calloway county.

Little boys don't want a Saddle. We have them full covered for $3.35. This saddle is worth $4.50. We are closing them out at the $3.35 price. Murray Saddle & Harness Co.

He will prosecute an active campaign and will endeavor to see every voter before the primary next summer. He asks that the voters take into consideration his claims and give his candidacy a careful consideration before casting their votes in this race.

GO SLOW

Farmers Must Be Careful In Organizing Tobacco Pools.

Supreme Court Decision Prompts Action and Congress Will be Asked for Relief

Washington, Jan. 21. Until Congress by special act exempts from the criminal restrictions of the Sherman law "corners" in farm products, like the Kentucky tobacco pools, lawyers in the Kentucky delegation here believe the poolers should proceed with caution. They have been studying the decision of the Supreme Court last Monday in the Patten cotton corner case, and have reached the conclusion that since corners in commodities have been declared a violation of the Sherman law, the Kentucky farmers had best go slow.

One Way Out.

The court specifically said that corners purely intrastate in character were exempt from the provisions of the Sherman law. Therefore, if the Burley Pool in Central Kentucky, the Green River pool and the dark tobacco combinations entirely do away with their connections in Ohio, Indiana and Tennessee they have nothing to fear, in the opinion of lawyers here.

Will Press Exempting Act.

In the meantime, alarmed by the attitude of the Supreme Court, Representative J. C. Cantrill, author of the Tobacco Census Act, will press his bill specifically exempting farm produce pools from the operations of the criminal section of the Sherman law.

The bill provides that such pools as the Kentucky growers' combinations shall be free of the anti-trust law operation even when interstate. Mr. Cantrill will ask the next Democratic caucus to endorse it, and after he has pointed out what he considers to be the perils of the farmers' pools, he believes that the caucus will rush his measure through the house. Senator Bradley, if the House acts soon, will be asked to press the matter in the Senate.

Pleurisy pains are located just below the short ribs. Lumbago affects the same region but toward the back. BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT is the remedy in either case. If rubbed in thoroughly it eases pain, relaxes the muscles and the patient can move about freely and comfortably. Price 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Dale & Stubblefield.

Newsome Keys Lands Good Job.

Newsome Keys, of Almo, and a brother of J. H. Keys, has been appointed patrol agent of the state reform school and was sworn in the 7th of this month. The appointment was given Mr. Keys by Gov. McCreary and the office is for a term of four years with a salary of $2,000 per year. Mr. Key's duties will be to look after the paroled boys of the reform school and he will act in connection with the board of prison commissioners.

Here is a remedy that will cure your cold. Why waste time and money experimenting when you can get a preparation that has won a world-wide reputation by its cures of this disease and can always be depended upon? It is known everywhere as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and is a medicine of real merit. For sale by Dale & Stubblefield.

College Athletics

Where Line Should Be Drawn in Sports

By E. K. HALL, Boston

A CERTAIN amount of outdoor sport is absolutely essential to wholesome college life. The question arises as to where the line should be drawn. Now, college athletics will never thrive without intercollegiate contests. To get for the greatest number the greatest beneficial results from athletics you must create the maximum interest, and to do this you must have the maximum incentive. Very few men will go out and run around a quarter-mile track purely for exercise.

There must be the incentive of a contest, either present or prospective. If the prospective contest be a trial of speed against some individual college mate the incentive may be sufficient to sustain a couple of weeks' training, but if the incentive be the hope of representing his class in an interclass contest a man will train longer and more faithfully. If, however, the incentive be the certainty that if he demonstrates that he is the best man in the event among all his classmates and college mates as well, he will have the honor of wearing his college colors in an intercollegiate contest, and then the opportunity of testing his speed against the best athletes of neighboring colleges. Then a man will train season after season, and there is an incentive that will attract the maximum number of men into the sport.

Now if it be true, as I contend that it is, that athletics in college are essential to wholesome life, and if it be true, and I contend that it is, that any general sustained interest in athletics is impossible in a college without the stimulus of prospective intercollegiate contests, then it ought to follow that any restrictions as to the number of such contests should be made only for sound reasons and upon the practical certainty that some advantage is assured which will compensate for the loss of athletic interest and activity which is certain to follow any extensive restriction.

If it be true, which I should not be willing to concede, that there is any serious necessity of reducing the number of intercollegiate contests, it is my idea that the only contests which can be eliminated without seriously impairing the internal athletic activities of the colleges are, first, intercollegiate contests in indoor games, such as basket ball, and, second, intercollegiate class contests.

I should regret exceedingly seeing any substantial restriction of the number of games in any of the so-called major sports. Take football as an illustration. If the game is to be played at all it should be played well. The highest standard of play cannot be reached without contests with other colleges distributed through the season. To restrict the number of these contests means the lowering of the standard of and consequently loss of interest in the game. This tends to lessen the number of men who will try for the team, and the whole tendency would be toward a decrease of healthy athletic activity within the college. To my mind this would be unfortunate.

Doing Right Makes Success In Life

By ALFRED FARLOW, Boston

Briefly stated, a successful life is one which is well advanced toward real manhood—the likeness of God—"the full stature of manhood in Christ." At some period in the life of each individual there comes an awakening to the necessity of rightness, and hence an awakening to the importance of that ideal manhood which accords with the divine requirement.

We believe that each one must work out the problem of life from the particular position in which the necessity of so doing first appears to him; that he must begin at once to develop Christian graces. The old admonition, "Do with your might what your hands find to do," might probably better read, "Do well what your hands find to do," and it should be noted that doing well does not necessarily mean doing big things. It means doing right in all things, great and small, doing right at every step of the journey, doing right with reference to every experience. Cultivate patience, forbearance, perseverance, courage, love and all other characteristics of the righteous man, no matter what your vocation may be.

Culture and refinement, the ability to meet one's fellow man with the proper address, the quality of being kind and courteous, the habit of cleanliness in mind and body, may be acquired anywhere and under any circumstances, and he who has acquired these to the greatest degree though he may be in the most humble walk of life, has in the largest measure the most essential qualifications for the highest positions in life.

Furthermore, he who is improving his moral character and is acquiring that immovableness which is tempered with genuine courtesy and sweetness cannot complain of a lack of advantage. There is no such thing as a want of opportunity to live a successful life, since all the essentials thereto are within the reach of each individual and can be had without money and without price.

Being Power For Good In Some Way

By SARA McLEAN, Cincinnati, O.

Knowledge unaccompanied by other high qualities does not properly shape one's life. Virtue and integrity are not elusive. People who may have left them far behind in their pursuit of other interests can pick them up again, as the weaver does the broken thread in his loom, and they can go on weaving their life web, making it one of beautiful usefulness and worth.

It does not make any difference to what extent one is educated if there is no expansion of soul; the life cannot be proportioned. Bacon says: "For in proportion as a man is watchfully and prayerfully on his guard against the unseen current of passion and prejudice, which is ever tending to drive him out of the right course, in the same degree he will have reason for cherishing an humble hope that he, the Spirit of Truth, is, and will be with him to enlighten his understanding."

"There is no greater monster in being than a very bad man of great parts," says another writer. Such a one would seem like a man with one side wide awake, alive, and the other side insensate.

Persons who make it the chief aim of their lives to collect and gather mere knowledge of wealth may attain to their highest ambitions and they may live in luxury, but they lost touch.

No one should ever allow his intellect to interfere with his being a power for good in some way or other.

DISLIKE HIGH TARIFFS

ENGLISH PEOPLE ARE AGAINST PROTECTIVE POLICY.

Truth is Revealed by the Futile Attempt of Bonar Law to Commit the Tory Party to That View.

Certain of our self-constituted political advisers assured us only a few years ago that England was on the eve of a return to the protective policy. This interesting prediction is contained in the "The Russian Advance," a pamphlet which so much of our rhetoric was spilled. Of course, it was pointed out by others that England was not likely to backtrack on the tariff question, since she could not afford the luxury of a protective tariff. But no such consideration had any weight with those who were sure that the British government was about to "take over" the Dingley bill. Our instructors had made up their minds that the thing was true—and, of course, that made it true.

We have had a good deal of light on the subject in the last few days. The leader of the Tory party, Mr. Law, made a speech in which he advocated a return to protectionism. The result must have been astonishing to Mr. Law. Before he spoke the Liberal party was wondering how long it would be able to maintain its hold on the government. Important by-elections had gone against it. There was strong opposition to the home rule bill. Lloyd-George had angered and disgusted many. At this juncture Mr. Law's speech was a very timely one. It split his own party, which has been likened to a defeated and routed army. Law's leadership is believed to be at an end. Even now the party is without a leader, as it is without a policy.

And all this has come from an attempt to commit a great party to protectionism. The people of England have been sure that England had arguments in favor of taxed food. It was supposed that Joseph Chamberlain, with his scheme of imperial federation, had made great headway. High tariff shouters in this country, as we have seen, were sure that England had been converted to the "American idea." Now the end has come, and our cousins are still unconvinced.

As a matter of fact, the tendency is away from high tariffs. In Germany the people are bitterly protesting against the protective taxes on food. We in this country have just been through a campaign in which the tariff was the leading issue, and on which the people voted against high protection. The demand here, as in other lands, is for cheaper food and clothing. It is, therefore, surprising that a man supposed to be fit to lead a great party should thus set himself against what is practically a world opinion, and hope to win by so doing. Indianapolis News.

WILL NOT THREATEN WILSON

Trust Magnate Cannot Tarry Him With Panic Talk as They Did Roosevelt.

In 1907, the steel trust said in substance to then President Roosevelt: "Give us permission to break the law, or we will turn the present panic into a crash that will bankrupt the country!" Mr. Roosevelt trembled at the threat, and personally authorized the steel trust to break the law and take possession of the properties of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company at panic prices.

No trust magnate will ever dare go to Woodrow Wilson and threaten like that. The country's present prosperity proves that there is no possible excuse for a panic, and Mr. Wilson, as president, will see to it that no panic is manufactured for trust purposes.

Duty of Democrats in Senate. The Democrats of the senate owe it to the party to make the senate organization represent the prevailing sentiment of the party, and thus enable it to work in harmony with the administration. To do this the rule of seniority should be abandoned. Assignments to committees should be made solely on the basis of fitness and with a view to giving faithful expression to the will of the majority. No Democrat is deserving of preferment who puts his personal interests above the general welfare. If our party is to have a long lease of power, it must regard the rights of the people as paramount.

Know What We Want. Early consideration of the tariff is promised so as to be ready for a revision from top to bottom, according to Representative Underwood's idea. Col. George Harvey says that if the Democrats do not revise the tariff downward, they will be swept off the map. We all know what we mean and what we want.

Prompt Action Advisable. Prompt action on the tariff and on such other questions as may be taken up at the extra session will be as beneficial to business as it will be to the executive. The uncertainty involved in a long dragging session is probably more than a few errors in reaching prompt conclusions. Let the president elect make up his mind exactly what he wants, and when he stages for Washington let him go resolved to get it as quickly as conditions he must confront will permit.

Social Forms and Entertainments

How to Act at a Reception. Will you please answer the following questions in regard to a reception?

How is punch or champagne served? Should one shake hands with those who serve it and with those serving in the dining room? Do they have some one to show you around and introduce you to those you have not met? If not, do you introduce yourself?

Tell me some of the pleasant things to say to those receiving.—Greenhorn.

Punch and champagne are served from a large bowl in small glasses. It is not necessary or customary to shake hands with anyone except those in the receiving party.

There should be several intimate friends to look out for and introduce strangers to at least two or three persons, thus putting them at their ease. Under certain conditions you might introduce yourself.

It is impossible to write out in detail pleasant things to say. Express your pleasure at being present and, of course, remark that it is a charming affair, or words to that effect.

For a Huntsman's Party. I wish to entertain a party of huntsmen and would like you to suggest the table decoration and what refreshments I should serve. I expect to have them in the evening and thought a Dutch lunch would be nice.

A Dutch supper would be suitable, for men always like plain things with few frills. Why not have a camp kettle with small ones filled with salted nuts at each place? It would be like having a regular camp supper—broiled bacon, eggs, baked potatoes, flapjacks and slurrp, with coffee. This would be a decided novelty and very informal. Ask the men to come in huntsman's garb and the ladies in shirtwaist suits. You might have a fish and game dinner.

A Valentine Reception. The Junior class of our high school is going to give a reception to the seniors on February 14. How soon before the reception should the invitations be sent out? What could we serve for refreshments? We do not desire anything very elaborate—about two courses. Could you suggest a pretty way for decorating the table.

Fancy Dresses for Carnivals During the Winter Season

The first child pictured wears a Polly dress, a species of carnival costume; or, if you prefer, April fool. It would look well carried out in pale yellow; blue and white; the skirt of yellow nylon would have a tulle of pale blue faced black with white, the triple alliance being equally carefully distributed in the construction of the corsage and cap. A Polly stick is carried in the hand.

The boys' costume should be made of some cotton material, the edges all up into long points, while one end of the tunic and a thin striped band around the waist, the latter fashioned out of open wire closely covered. Turning out a dress of this design as home provides an inwhich will be square and in the center of the dining room, while the guests will be seated along the walls.—Ruth.

Just as soon as you read this get out your invitations for young people have many engagements at this season. For refreshments get your baker to make to order heart-shaped party shells to be filled with cream oysters; decorate with hearts cut from carrots with vegetable cutters; have heart-shaped sandwiches. Then have pink ice cream, cut heart-shaped, with a gilt arrow sticking in it. Have the table powdered with tiny pink hearts laid on in heart outlines, surrounding the heart form filled with flowers. The tigamith will make it.

As to Wedding Expenses. What expense should the groom bear in the preparation for his marriage? Also what should the bride or her parents pay?—E. S. T.

The only expense borne by the bridegroom is for the carriage that takes him and his best man to the church, and himself and bride away. He buys the wedding ring, bouquet for bride and attendants and usually gives his best man and ushers favors and, of course, pays the marriage fee. The bride's family entertain the wedding guests and meet all other expenses.

Duty of Groom's Parents. When a couple become engaged it is necessary for the groom's parents to send cards or any message to the bride's parents, they having as yet no acquaintance and not residing near enough to each other to exchange calls.—Martha.

When a young man notifies his parents of his engagement they certainly should send a note of welcome to the prospective daughter-in-law. And it is a very pretty courtesy to ask her to visit them.

Wedding Refreshments. What would be the proper refreshment for a two o'clock wedding, and should a bride wear a veil? The wedding is to be in June.—Genevieve.

Chicken salad, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and wedding cake with coffee will be the proper outfit, just the same as for an evening wedding. By all means a bride should wear a veil. It is the one and only occasion a girl has that privilege and she should avail herself of it. What is sweeter than a June bride? June is the month of roses and of brides.

For a Handkerchief Booth. Will you please send me suggestions for a handkerchief booth for a church fair, to be all in white?—Chairman.

Have the attendants wear handkerchief caps and aprons. Make balls of handkerchiefs by stringing from the center and hang round the booth. They can be cut off as sold. For a background use white crepe paper, dipped in this mudlage and then covered with diamond dust.

BREAKS A COLD IN A DAY

And Cures Any Cough That Is Curable. Noted Doctor's Formula.

From your druggist get two ounces of Glysterine and half an ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good white key. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bedtime. Smaller doses to children according to age. This is the best formula known to science. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it does not pay to experiment with a bad cold. Be sure to get only the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Each half ounce bottle comes in a seal of tin screw-top case. If your druggist does not have it in stock he will get it quickly from his wholesale house. This has been published here every winter since 1900, and thousands of families know its value. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical Laboratories of Chicago.

The Height of Absurdity. "You scheme is foolish!" "Foolish?" "Yes, sir, absolutely foolish. As foolish as well as foolish, as the libretto of a grand opera."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Miss Duncan, of Oklahoma, Makes New Plain Statements For Publication in Interest of Women.

Chapel, Okla.—"Please print this letter," writes Miss Mollie Duncan of this place, "as it may reach and help some poor suffering woman. For 17 years I have been afflicted with womanly troubles, and have tried different treatments, but none of them helped me any. I suffered so much I could hardly bear it."

I had such drawing-down pains, and a pain in my side. Also headache and those awful dizzy spells. I was very weak, and could not be up, at times. I decided to try Cardul, the woman's tonic, and I will say I am not sorry that I did, for it helped me wonderfully. I feel like an entirely new person. I can wash all day now, and attend to my other household duties, and not feel tired when night comes. I intend to keep Cardul in the house just as long as I live, for it has done me so much good.

Cardul is the ideal tonic remedy for women. Its ingredients are especially adapted for women's needs. It soothes pain, helps weakness, nervousness, dragging sensations, headache, backache and other symptoms of womanly trouble. Cardul is purely vegetable, and has no bad after-effects. It is good for young and old.

Try Cardul. N. B.—Globe or Challenge Medicine Co., Ltd., Chicago, distributes in one case and 64-page book. "The Tonic for Women," sent in plain wrapper. Ask.

Taste. "Which has the best taste, you or your wife?" "I am sure my wife has." "That is very generous of you." "I could not well deny it, in view of the person each of us married."

Dr. Hartman Says:

Write to Peruna Testimonials If You Want to Know the Truth.

The following letter was received by Dr. Hartman through his regular correspondence:

"I notice the testimonial of Mrs. Alice Bogie, which you give in your last article. If I should write her do you suppose she would give me further particulars? I have heard it said many times that such testimonials are fakes; that they are either absolutely fictitious or else the people have been hired to write them. I have been inclined to write you a great many times but these stories about patent medicine advertisements have discouraged me from doing so. I am afflicted with catarrh and should like very much to find a remedy such as your article describes."

To the above letter Dr. Hartman made the following reply:

My dear Madam—I do not wonder that you are confused and have lost all faith in advertised remedies. There has been so much said against them, so much controversy concerning them, I am not surprised that some people have lost confidence in them.

I wish you would write Mrs. Bogie, as one woman to another. I wish you would ask her whether she has been hired to write such a testimonial, whether her testimonial represents the truth.

I hope you will remember that she is a housewife, like yourself, that she has something to do besides write letters, that she is a woman of moderate means and cannot afford to write these letters and pay her own postage. I hope you will enclose stamp so she can answer you without loss to herself. Mrs. Bogie is a very estimable lady and no doubt you will both profit by being acquainted with each other.

Should you conclude to try Peruna for your catarrh I would be very glad to hear of the result. I can assure you that no use will be made of your letter, except by your own doctor. Mrs. Bogie very kindly consented to have me use her letter, which is my reason for doing so, and you will be treated exactly as she has been. People recover from chronic catarrh who take Peruna. There is no doubt about that. Some surprising recoveries are reported almost daily. I have thousands of them in my files. Peruna is for sale at all drug stores.

Another New Vegetable.

A few weeks ago attention was called to Oregon's 1912 crop of the "beetatoe," a combination of the beet and potato, said to be very prolific and of delicious flavor. Now comes the news that the United States Government, Department of Agriculture, has imported from China a new variety of cabbage which has wonderful possibilities. The new cabbage is not sown until the first week in August, allowing the grower time to first raise a crop of spinach or snap beans on the same soil, but it heads in November, the same as ordinary cabbage. It is not so solid as ordinary cabbage, but the very delicacy of its leaves makes it better for cold slaw and sauerkraut and it is entirely odorless while being cooked.

Within the same week in which the foregoing was published, appeared a news item from St. Paul stating that as a result of chemical soil analysis in the greenhouses of James J. Hill, it is believed that the production of wheat, oats and barley can be doubled. Other dispatches report that meal made from alfalfa has been found excellent for human food. Burbank, some time ago, made the cactus edible. Why these remarkable additions to the human food supply?

What is the purpose of the

BALEIGH, N. G. CHILD

Made Strong and Well by Vinol.

When we tell you that Vinol is the best remedy in our whole stock for making weak, puny, failing children strong, robust and happy, we are only saying what has been proved by hundreds of mothers.

Mrs. W. O. Strother, Raleigh, N. C., says: "MY LITTLE GIRL, HAZEL, has been taking Vinol to build her up after a severe spell of sickness. It has done so much good by restoring her appetite and building up her strength that I think Vinol is the finest tonic ever prepared, and I am telling everyone about it."

What Vinol did for this little girl will do for every weak and ailing child, because sickly children need the strengthening cod liver oil and the tonic iron that Vinol contains—that is why Vinol builds them up quickly and gives them a fine, healthy color. It is pleasant to take, and we guarantee that the results will satisfy you—money back if they do not. DALE & STUBBLEFIELD Druggists Murray, Kentucky

Creator in permitting these discoveries at this time? Is it reasonable to suppose He would be bringing these blessings forward if He expected shortly to destroy this planet, with all its inhabitants, as some would like to tell us? How strange it is that some who profess to be teachers of the Bible know so little what the Bible contains!

"The earth abideth forever." (Eccl. 1:4) "He created it not in vain. He formed it to be inhabited." (Isaiah 45:18) "Those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth." (Psa. 37:9) "Such as be blessed by Him shall inherit the earth." (Psa. 37:22) "The righteous shall inherit the land and dwell therein forever." (Psa. 37:29) "The meek shall inherit the earth." (Psa. 37:11) "The upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it." (Prov. 2:21) The Wandering Jew.

For Police Judge.

To the Citizens of Murray: I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Judge of the Murray Police Court, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Many years ago I was judge of this court for some years. Have been a law student, and had considerable experience as a lawyer and in all kinds of legal business dating back to a time when I was quite young. So I suppose that about the most weighty thing that I or my friends can urge in my favor is qualification for the place.

I was nominated at the last primary for judge, but was knocked down and out by a few votes in the melee and mix-up at the general election, but not being sore over the matter, I have thought the best way to show my good feelings towards all of my townsmen and for them to show me was to try again. I can at least find out whether they "meant it" or not, as the joke goes, that after a certain fellow was knocked down, he got up and asked the man who struck him: "did you mean that?"

If I am elected I promise to do all I can to be a true conservator of the peace and to promote the best interests and general welfare of the community. My idea is that justice should be administered openly and fairly and without fear or favor, with the object always in view to cure the evils and humors of the town so that all may go along well and orderly and have that prosperity and happiness that a good and law-abiding people are entitled to, and that officers are not elected for the profit of those holding them but for the benefit of the community they serve.

Should I be elected I shall bear these things in mind, endeavoring at all times to render grateful service to the people as a whole. Your truly, W. F. Peterson.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a quick and safe remedy for hog cholera. Governor of Georgia uses Sloan's Liniment for Hog Cholera. "I heard Gov. Brown (who quite a farmer) say that he had never lost a hog from cholera and that the remedy always was a tablespoonful of Sloan's Liniment rubbed on the throat and nostrils. Sloan's Liniment cured the disease. Sloan gave the remedy named as 'falling'." CLAYTON. SAVANNAH DAILY NEWS. At All Dealers. 25c, 50c & $1.00. ## WHAT THE YOUNG BOYS ARE DOING

Rapid Strides Made by Kentucky Corn Club Workers.

BETTER THAN THEIR FATHERS?

Increased Yields as Shown in the Exhibition at Louisville Demonstrate the Manner in Which Younger Generation is Advancing.

During the months of November and December the county papers all over the state were full of glowing accounts of the Boys' Corn shows. Probably nothing that the boys have done in years has created such a widespread interest as these same clubs. The large cities of the state had not been affected by this enthusiasm until the Kentucky Boys' Corn Club held its exhibit at the Shuman in Louisville in connection with the Childs' Welfare exhibit, Nov. 21 to 30.

One hundred boys from the various counties that had corn clubs this season sent ten ears each for the city people to see what was being done. Not only the public, but the great daily newspapers grew very much interested. A number of editorials appeared during the ten days of the exhibit, and almost daily a picture of some successful corn grower appeared. This display contained five varieties of corn. As the visitors to the exhibit asked questions or read carefully the labels that were pinned beneath each display of corn they began to exclaim: "There must be some mistake in this. We never raised that much corn on the farm when I was a boy." or "Why, those yields are twice or three times the amount of a first class crop of corn in that neck of the woods!" Bankers and grain men looked at the statement of yields, scratched their heads and began to figure on what such crops would do for the finances of the state. Mothers and educators smiled and wondered how much mischief had failed to materialize because the boys were out in the sunshine cultivating and thinking of the crops they were growing.

It did seem a great pity that more of the boys who had entered their corn

CORN IS KING. In the exhibit could not have seen the admiring crowds that stopped, talked and exclaimed over the splendid work they had done. It is a work that is destined to revolutionize our boys and perhaps at the same time revolutionize their fathers and elder brothers. One final fact whose son had a yield of 103 bushels to the acre remarked: "I've got two little chaps in the Corn Club in my home county. They're small, but they're all right. One is ten and the other twelve. The elder boy was in the club last year and raised eighty-five bushels. This year he's got 103, and we are planning to get 150 bushels next year. Yes, we're going to use a lot of fertilizer and do things right, because I just want to see how much they can raise on one acre. I want to see it worse than the boys do."

The man paused for a moment before he continued: "You know, they call it the Boys' Corn Club. Why, I've learned more about corn in the past two years than both of my boys put together. I tell you what I'm going to do. I am going to plant just half as much land as usual in corn next spring, and I'm going to try to raise just the same number of bushels. Then I'll have the rest of the land for cowpeas."

During the exhibit a number of reports came in concerning the great size of some of the crops this season. It is very probable that a great number will break the 100 bushel mark, which was not reached last season.

FIVE THOUSAND BOYS JOINED THE BOYS' CORN CLUBS THIS YEAR. FIVE THOUSAND GREW AN ACRE OF CORN UNDER GOVERNMENT INSTRUCTION. THE BOYS KNOW A GOOD THING WHEN THEY FIND IT.

THE AVERAGE YIELD OF CORN IN THE CENTURY IS TWENTY-NINE BUSHELS PER ACRE. AN INCREASE OF FIVE BUSHELS PER ACRE WOULD MEAN $12,000,000 AT 100 CENTS PER BUSHEL.

The Kitchen Cabinet

SHOW me the plan, great Maids of the Kitchen!
You are not strong nor wise enough as yet
To see the whole.

A FEW UNUSUAL RECIPES

Most of us know and have prepared pigs in blankets—that is bacon wrapped in a small piece of steak, browned in fat and then simmered in a little water—but this German dish, although similar, is quite unusual.

Cut pieces of well-pounded round steak, cut thin, in pieces about five inches wide; salt and pepper well; lay a slice of pickle, a slice of onion and a strip of bacon on each piece, and roll it up. Brown in a little fat, add a bay leaf and enough water to simmer for an hour or two. Be sure that the meat is either skewered or tied with a string. If the meat is rolled or skinned with flour the gravy is slightly thickened.

Chocolate Cookies.—Take a cupful of brown sugar, one-half cup of butter, one cup of sour milk, one egg and one-half teaspoonful of soda. Melt two squares of chocolate, add one and a half cups of flour, a half cup of raisins, a half-cup of nutmeats well broken. Mix and drop by teaspoonfuls on buttered pans.

Bran Muffins.—These are good for people troubled with constipation, and are often recommended by physicians. Beat an egg and add a pinch of salt, then a half cup of molasses, a cup of milk, two cups of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix well and bake twenty minutes to half an hour. This makes a dozen muffins.

Peanut Butter Fudge.—Put two cups of brown sugar and two-thirds of a cup of milk in a granite sauce pan, set over the fire and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Boil until a little dropped in cold water will form a soft ball, then add four tablespoonfuls of peanut butter; stir until the butter is melted, then beat until creamy. Add a teaspoon of vanilla and a third of a cup of sultana raisins.

Many estates are spent in the getting. Since money for tea forsook spinning and knitting, and men for punch forsook hewing and splitting. —Poor Richard

SUGGESTIVE DISHES.

Chili Con Carne.—Grind through a meat chopper one and a half pounds of beef, one and a half pounds of veal, a pound of pork, and a quarter of a pound of suet. Put into a large kettle, add a quart of tomatoes chopped fine, six large onions minced, and a quart of chili beans or lima beans. Season with salt and cayenne, adding a bay leaf. Tie up in a piece of whole cloth two teaspoonfuls each of whole peppers and allspice and a few cloves. Fill an eight quart kettle with water and the mixture and cook six hours. The longer and slower it is cooked the better.

Hot Tamales.—This is another popular recipe often called for. Core a chicken with water and stew until tender, salting the fowl when nearly done. Drain off the liquor, and when cool remove the fat. Cut up the meat and chop fine; season with paprika and garlic to taste. Make a thick mush of cornmeal and boiling water. From this seasoned meat into rolls and ingate each in the mush, making it into a long roll. Cover these rolls with the linner husks of the corn after they have been cleaned. When the tamales are all wrapped in husks, tie them up and return them to the liquor in which the chicken was cooked, add a few red peppers and cook fifteen minutes, drain and send to the table. The real Mexican tamales are highly seasoned with red pepper.

Pear Salad.—Pears cut in halves and garnished with balls of cream cheese and maraschino cherries, served with French dressing, makes a most delicious and attractive looking salad.

Collie Finds Lost Girl

New York—After half the population of Flatbush searched most of the day for her, Helen Mossien, five years old, is safe in the home of her father, Edward Mossien, a broker in Brooklyn, and Gypsy, her pet collie, who followed her devious trails through many miles of streets and is a peonisher for life.

The rest of the family was at church in the morning when Helen went out at nine o'clock to call Gypsy. When Helen had not returned at noon, her parents went out to search. Soon they had the neighbors helping them, and by three o'clock half of Flatbush, including the police, were trying to find the little girl.

At 3:30 o'clock Gypsy returned home alone, and an idea occurred to Harold, a thirteen-year-old brother of the girl, who had been reading books of adventure. Taking Gypsy to Helen's room he made him smell of various articles of clothing she had worn, and rubbed one of her shoes on his nose.

That gave him the scent he was to follow, and the children took him to the street and he quickly started off with his nose to the ground. It was long after dark, at 6:30 o'clock, that Gypsy darted around a corner, and when Harold came up to him he had found little Helen and was licking her face with his tongue, while she cried and tightened her arms about his bushy neck.

Columbia, B. C.—Governor Blease, whose revolutionary utterances concerning the constitution disturbed the recent convention of governors, announced that he would empty the state prisons if the legislature failed to pass laws reforming the penal system.

Captured With Toy Pistol.

Pittsburg.—After escaping from two policemen William Davis, a negro butler, was captured by John S. Miller, an eighteen-year-old newsboy, who pointed a toy pistol at the fugitive.

OLDEST CITY IN THE WORLD

Sir William Ramsay, Archaeological Authority, Considers Konia the Most Ancient Town.

Athens.—The great archaeological authority, Sir William Ramsay, considers the oldest city in the world to be the city of Ikonium, or Konia, as it is called today, says the Christian Herald. The modern Ikonium has very much to interest the traveler, and I know of no such place in all Asia Minor, which has left a more abiding impression upon my mind than this city. Our visit, to be sure, was in midwinter. The snow was still piled high in some of the streets; the wind blew shrill and gustily through the narrow alleys; but a day or two of warm sunshine contended with the north wind for the mastery, and changed the whole aspect of things even in this forbidding season. The city derived its name from the eponyms or images of mud, which, according to the ancient legend of the place, were made by Prometheus and Athena at the command of Jupiter.

In Ancient Konia.

who, after the great flood, caused the winds to blow upon the elkonas and they became living men and women. Thus, according to this tradition, Ikonium was the first place settled after the flood. But the traditions of the place go back even beyond the flood to the time of King Nannakos, who was told by the gods that when he died there should come a mighty deluge in which all men should perish. Thereupon he called all the people together to a great temple and cried so bitterly and with such a flood of tears in which his Physician subjects joined, that the weeping in the time of Nannakos "became a proverb even among the Greeks of later days."

The Golden Age of Ikonium, however, both commercially and politically, was not in the time of Nannakos, but in the time of the Seljuk Turks, the most virile as well as the most artistic of all the Moslems, in the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth centuries made Konia the capital of the powerful empire of Roum. "The city was then made so splendid," it is said, "with beautiful buildings, palaces, mosques and mausoleos, that the proverb arose and has lasted long among the Turks, 'See all the world; see Konia.'"

Something to Be Thankful For.

Michael Meehan was the proud possessor of a brand new silk high hat. At the wake of his dearest enemy he had regarded it carefully, and as a consequence was arriving home with the hat unscathed. As he passed the site of a building operation, a lady acquaintance nodded pleasantly.

With an ostentatious wave of the hat, which exhibited it to excellent advantage, Michael bowed. At the same moment a brick sailed down from an upper floor and bounced from his head. He staggered, and the hat was shattered. Upon coming to he inquired anxiously for the hat. A bystander restored it unharmed. Mike felt the egg on his head, and was occasioned by the impact of the brick, and then regarded his undamaged hat. "Begorry," he sighed in satisfaction, "it's lucky it is I saw the lady in time!"

Mark Twain and T. R.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, kept the mirth alive with story after story. One had reference to a game in which the players, so Mr. Thomas said, were Colonel Roosevelt, the late Mark Twain and himself.

In the course of the game Colonel Roosevelt talked much of war, said Mr. Thomas. "And I remember him turning to Mark Twain and asking him if it were true that the bravest men were nervous when they faced the enemy, and Mark Twain, being an old confederate soldier, replied: 'Yes; that is quite true, for I remember vividly to this day that I had the quality of maintaining it all through the engagement.'"

Trend of Times.

Ex-Governor Pennypacker, discussing the divorce evil in Philadelphia, said, with a smile:

"In these times one never, as the saying goes, knows where one is. At an acquaintance of mine extended his hand to me at the Historical society the other day and cried: 'Congratulations! I am the happiest man alive!'

"I looked at him thoughtfully. 'Engaged, married or divorced?' I asked." —New York Tribune.

Much of the rheumatic pain that comes in damp, changing weather is the work of uric acid crystals. Needles couldn't cut, heat couldn't soothe, and the affected muscle joint is used.

If such attacks are marked with headache, backache, dizziness and disturbance of the urine, it's time to help the weakened kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly help sick kidneys.

WHERE WE FIND EMERALDS

Famous Muzo Mines in the Republic of Colombia Produce Finest Gems.

The finest emeralds are found in the Republic of Colombia, at the famous Muzo mines in the department of Boyaca, seventy miles north by west of Bogota, which have been worked since 1558. The Spaniards mined there in the middle of the sixteenth century, but withdrew after a time, owing to continual fighting with the Indians; with the result that for awhile the locality of the mines was unknown. They are now worked by an English company, in partnership with the government. The emeralds at Muzo occur in calcite veins running through black carboniferous limestone in all directions and at all angles.

The limestone is covered with earth, in which bushes and trees are growing; this has to be cleared before prospecting is possible. When calcite veins have been located, the side of the hill is dug away in "banks," usually by Indians, whose chief tool is a steel bar forced to a point at one end. The pieces of calcite vein are examined superficially for emeralds, and are then set aside for convenience to the sorting-shed, where a detailed examination is made, and the emeralds are divided into fifteen grades according to color, transparency, size, freedom from flaws, and so on.
