Major Kingery has served in the Infantry Division of the US Army for the past 11½ years, joining the service in June of 1951.

He has been at Murray for the past two and one half years. Now he is assistant professor, MS III adviser, and executive officer of the brigade detachment.

Prior to coming to MSC, he served at Ft. Benning, Ga., Army security Europe, and was infantry platoon leader in Korea during the conflict. He attended North Georgia Military College, Dahlonega, Ga.

Physics Head Serves On Planning Committee For State Conference

Christopher, chemistry department; Miss Ruby Smith, department of education and psychology; Mr. Eugene Russell, in-service consultant for teachers; and Mr. William Taylor, science teacher at Murray College High.

Dr. J. Stanley Marshall, head of the science department of Florida State University, was the featured speaker.

College Gets 5 Buildings NSF Grant Designated For Institute 'Shelters'

Murray State has been granted $63,700 by the National Science Foundation to conduct a summer institute in natural sciences for secondary-school teachers of general science, President Ralph H. Woods has announced.

The institute, which will be conducted during the regular summer session, will be directed by Dr. Walter Blackburn, chemistry department head, and Dr. A. M. Wolfson, biology department head. This is the sixth consecutive institute to be held here.

Objectives of the institute are:

1. To strengthen the capacity of teachers for motivating students to consider careers in science.
2. To bring teachers into contact with prominent scientists who participate in the institute.
3. To help teachers of science and mathematics understand their problems.

The grant will cover costs of tuition and fees for teachers selected for the institute as well as stipends of $75 a week. Additional allowances of $15 a week will be provided for each participant.

Any teacher of general science is eligible for participation in the summer course. A committee of MSC science professors will study applications and make the final selections.

15th Speech Parley Set For Dec. 15

Murray State College will be the host for the fifteenth annual high-school speech and debate workshop to be held Dec. 15.

Activities will include a panel forum on "United States Foreign Trade Policy," and an exhibition college debate on Resolved: That the non-communist nations of the world should form an economic community.

In the afternoon, high-school debaters will compete among each other. They will be judged by college debaters. Also in the afternoon session a workshop in interpretation will be held.

The high school guests will be able to attend the freshman-alumni game on Dec. 15 and a Murray State varsity debate against Kansas State College at 8 p. m.

Prof. J. Albert Tracy, speech division, is the director of the workshop.

Five buildings on the Murray State campus have been designated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers as fallout shelters, said Mr. Wayne Williams, executive assistant to President Ralph H. Woods.

The Corps has placed fallout shelter signs on the Administration Building, Wilson Hall, Woods Hall, Fine Arts, and College High. This is a result of a meeting of the Board of Regents last spring in which President Woods was asked to see what could be done to protect the faculty and students in the event of fallout.

Lee Potter and Smith, Paducah, surveyed the buildings and recommended them as shelters, Mr. Williams said. The Army Corps of Engineers then was designated by President Kennedy to take charge of supervising fallout shelters and the Murray State project was turned over to them.

Plans are being made to stock each shelter with food and medical supplies to take care of the occupants for two weeks. Persons will be selected to be in charge in each building.

The signs on each of the buildings tell how many people can be contained in the shelters. This is not adequate for the college, Mr. Williams said, and since this is a public institution we will also have a responsibility to the community. Another survey will probably be made to provide more shelters.

"This is not bomb protection, but protection from fallout. Many people confuse the two," Mr. Williams said.

Safety Isles Constructed On Chestnut

Several traffic safety features have been established at 15th and Chestnut Streets. Other changes are being planned for the safety of college students and personnel, according to Mr. Wayne Williams, executive assistant to the president.

Traffic islands, lanes and pedestrian lanes have been established at 15th and Chestnut as a result of a survey by the Traffic Division of the Kentucky Highway Department.

Plans also include "wait and walk" lights and electric traffic signals to be installed at the intersection, said Mr. Williams.

Other necessary changes are the "No Parking" signs on the west side of 15th along the baseball field and on Chestnut St. south of Clark Hall.

Students are asked to observe these traffic regulations. "They are placed there for your safety and without your cooperation they will not serve their purpose," said Mr. Williams.

Student Support Can Help Build Champion Team

This basketball season holds great promise for Murray State College. Potentially, this year's Thoroughbred team is capable of becoming a champion.

Coach Cal Luther admits, although he is prone to restrained optimism, that Murray State "has the horses" to be a strong contender for the Ohio Valley Conference title, a crown which is highly esteemed by all league teams.

Although this season's Thoroughbred team will not be as tall as most of the other conference squads, it is blessed with good shooters, good speed, good rebounders, and good players. Coach Luther's chief concern is whether or not his squad can "jell into the kind of unit it takes to be a champ." If it can, he believes Murray State will have a great season.

But there is one vital link in the closely knit chain so necessary to the making of a champion. That is school spirit. If school spirit is missing, a championship becomes a futile dream for squad and coach.

In the past Murray State students have sometimes "raised the roof" with their support. However, it has been all too obvious that the team has had to be "hot" before the student body reacted with enthusiasm.

In other words, Murray State's recent basketball teams have had to evoke action from the student body when the student body should have been primed and eager to evoke action from the team.

We, as students, should not wait for our team to play well before we get behind it. We should be behind the squad before the opening whistle and should remain there, especially when the going gets rough, until the final gun. If we can do this, we will be doing our part in helping to build a champion.

We only need to realize the value of school spirit. So this season, what do you say we get behind the squad from the very beginning and stay there.

More Mail Boxes Needed on Campus

One of the biggest inconveniences at Murray State College is finding a place to mail a letter. It is particularly bothersome to have to go to the Student Union Building post office to mail a letter if you live in one of the dormitories with daily mail delivery.

Although post offices usually place boxes two blocks apart, there is no provision for placing them on campus because of the pick-up station at the SUB. City mail trucks pick up mail from the box in front of the SUB when they make their rounds.

The city postmaster has said that perhaps a box will be placed at Woods Hall after Christmas. Then the city truck could pick up the mail on its daily trip down 14th Street.

Another solution to this problem would be to have mail picked up in the dormitories by the person who makes the daily mail delivery there. This, of course, would involve placing mail boxes in the dormitories.

After all, it should not be made too difficult for us to write home (for money).

WILMA HOOK

THE CLOUD

I saw a cloud go floating by,
A beautiful dark blue creature,
And I thought for a moment just what it meant,
This magnificent wonder of nature,
So omnipotently guarding his kingdom

Like a monarch looking over his nation,
And I saw in that cloud
A picture of God,
His splendor portrayed in a second,
A scene just splashed from a painter's brush
With the color and skill of a Titian.

Within a minute, the cloud was gone,
Gone from the easel of the sky.
But etched in my memory,
To recall at my will
Is this symbol of God's whim,
A masterpiece which fills its purpose
And disappears, never to appear again.

A MINORITY OF ONE:

Purge of Language Asked by 'Minority'

Mad. Ave. has hit Murray State and I've just about had enough of it. Believe me, the next person caught saying "time-wise" or "weather-wise" or any other kind of "wise" runs the great risk of being unmercifully flailed.

Now, don't get me wrong, I'm not advocating the use of good English or anything like that (heaven knows I'm in no position to be so radical), however, I would like to plead for an end to this miserable pseudo-English.

I decided to begin this great campaign to purge the English language when I heard a professor tell his class, "Page-wise, that's on 284." There has to be a limit, and that was it.

Ending the use of "wise" is not the only objective of this campaign. I am equally anxious to end the use of "ness" words—you know, "togetherness," "creativity," "lawfulness" and so on (The quality of being violently anti-Italian gangster has been described as "Elit Ness-ness"). I feel like Alice in ad-land every time I hear someone use these terms.

Well, enough is enough. Maybe next week there will be something more interesting to write about, column-wise. —F. Rickman.

Sino-Soviet Split: Real or Cover-Up For Aggression?

Red China, contemporary of Stalin, has had a few harsh words for Russia, which is anti-Stalin, and vice-versa. The gap between the two major Communist countries is widening daily.

The latest incident causing unrest between Moscow and Peking is the Indian situation. Red China's aggression was never backed by Moscow, and Moscow has finally agreed to sell MIG fighter planes to India, which may be used against the Red Chinese advancement.

The Cuban crisis also widened the gap between Moscow and Peking. Moscow's concession in the situation caused Peking to call Mr. Khrushchev and his party a "party of modern revisionists" and feels Moscow should not have bartered with the U.S., but met "force with force."

Other factors involved in the Sino-Soviet split are:

1. Nikita's most recent meetings with the Red heads have excluded "invitations" to Red China.
2. Moscow has not been giving Peking enough financial and technical aid.
3. Nikita's advice to Red China has been going unheeded, but usually proves true, thus reddening Mao's face.
4. Moscow believes in peaceful "co-existence" with the West, while Peking calls this "consorting with the enemy."

Perhaps the split is nothing more than a front to hide other activities from the West, although it does not appear to be. If the split is as real as it appears, it is a sad state of affairs. Through this split, each side is according to the old Chinese "divided we fall."

Having a poem published in the "National Anthology of College Poetry," winning a trip on a riverboat, and writing articles for the Paducah Sun Democrat are some of the exciting achievements of Wilma Hook, a sophomore with many and varied interests. Her latest, and perhaps greatest, achievement to date is having her poem, "The Cloud" published in the national college anthology. This is the first poem she has ever had published. "I was surprised," commented the petite blonde in a soft voice. Wilma wrote "The Cloud" while still in high school.

Wilma is an art major and plans to go into the field of commercial art. She writes as a hobby and has written mostly poetry.

In addition to academic life, Wilma is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, the Religious Council, and is pledging Kappa Pi art fraternity.

While a sophomore in high school, Wilma wrote an essay about the merchant marines which won her a trip on a riverboat to Wisconsin. This was quite a high adventure in Wilma's life.

Wilma has written articles for the Paducah Sun Democrat and once had a cartoon published in the National Beta Club Journal.

Also interested in music, Wilma plays the organ and piano.

When asked about hobbies and interests, Wilma replied pertly, "I like just about everything."

Writer Discovers It's the Title That's Important

By Ernest Vaughn

It seems to me, after reading hundreds of magazine articles, that the best part of all these literary gems is the title. In fact so intriguing were some of these headings that they became for me the only reason for reading the article in its entirety. In most cases I was sadly disillusioned and disappointed—reading beyond the title had been a complete waste of time!

Having concluded that the titles were the most important part of these articles, I made a study of these headings with the hope that through the mastery of this technique, I would be able to sell more articles. As I see it now, titles come in two basic forms, both of which are provocative. One is the type that holds its chin out and proclaims to the world, in a very jaunty, cocksure manner that "I Married Young and I'm Glad!" It's sort of a split-in-your-eye-and-I'm-glad type of writing. A title may be something such as "I'm Glad I Bought a Toupee!" This type of article strikes at the meekness in most of us and gives us courage to face our problems—so we read on.

The other title form asks a question which probes our conscience so that we couldn't live with ourselves if we didn't read it. How could one not read on when the title screams "Are You Living Over Your Income?" or "Is Your Fire House a Trap?"

I now carry with me a notebook at all times and as various titles occur to me, I jot them down. I have amassed an interesting list of provocative headings to date—of course, I don't have any material to go under these but it really doesn't matter. Here are some of my gems: "I Married at Twenty One and I'm Glad," "We Lived on Ten Thousand a Year," "I Had Hang Nail Surgery and Lived to Tell About It," "His Your Local Hospital Partial to Sick People?" "I Fell Off a Mile High Bridge into Three Feet of Water and Lived to Tell About It!"

Who knows, maybe soon I will be able to write—"I Sold My First Article!" or "I Was a College Hack."

Home Economics Majors Are 'All-Around' Girls

By Lana Trice

ATTENTION, MALES: Do you have difficulty finding girls who meet all of your standards? If your problem is such, you might be interested in knowing that I scouted the campus and discovered, not one, but an entire department of "all-around" girls.

Yes, MSC's home economics department is swarming with girls who are talented and informed in almost every phase of American society. Many students believe that a home economics major "has it made." They believe that her courses consist of only sewing, cooking, and the like, but this is false. Their college training is broad; and therefore, perhaps, they are the best prepared people in the nation.

Let's review their course: two years of liberal arts which include literature, history, languages, and mathematics; two years of science which cover physics, chemistry, biology, bacteriology, and nutrition; elective courses in music, art, and creative writing; and two years of practical subjects which contain sewing, dress designing, cooking, home furnishings and decorating, the care and nurture of children, and last but certainly not least, the care and nurture of husbands.

From this analysis of the broad cultural and practical courses available to home economics majors, don't you agree that they are a select group who are being trained for the nation's most important task: the task of creating happy, integrated, useful homes?

According to statistics compiled by Dr. Walter Courtney, our recent Religious Emphasis Week speaker, one teenage marriage out of three ends in divorce. Among college graduates, it's one out of 70 and among college graduates where the girls are home economics majors, it is one out of 270.

The successful home largely depends upon how well-prepared the bride-to-be is. What she needs is a good, liberal background laced with practical courses such as those in home economics. Even career girls find fields which they can enter from such a flexible program.

Admit it, fellows, when you get around to choosing a mate you're really hard to please (which is only right). You want someone attractive, with intelligence and integrity, and who has some concept of culture and propriety. I'm not saying that only home economics majors possess these qualities, but I do say that they are the girls most likely.

All the credit should be given to the home economics department's program. It can prepare all girls for the task of homemaking, mind making, and community making.

Novels by Caldwell and Trahey Are Refreshing and Entertaining

Reviewed by Betty Bartee

Reviewed by Mary Taylor

In 1942 Erskine Caldwell completed a book that was altogether different from "Tobacco Road" and "God's Little Acre," for which he had become so well known. He describes this book as being "about a boy who lived partly as I would have liked to live, and partly as I did live."

This book "Georgia Boy," written over a period of four years, is a story of life in an idyllic southern town. The town, Sycamore, is probably on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. It contains Charley Thigpen's Store, Harry Thompson's Ice House, Mrs. Calhoun's Fish Market, and Mr. Hawkins' Grist Mill.

Family life is reflected by 12-year-old William Stroup; his father, Morris, who is somewhat typical of characters in other Caldwell novels; his hardworking and sharp-tongued mother, Martha; and Handsome Brown, William's friend and the family yard-boy.

This refreshing and entertaining comedy bears some resemblance to Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" and Ernest Hemingway's "My Old Man."

LOVELY AND LEARNED....The home economics department develops well-rounded individuals, equally at ease in any situation. ### Miss Chapman Honored At Southern Parley

Miss Alberta Chapman, business department, has been elected secretary of the Basic Business Section of the Southern Business Education Association.

The election was held at the association's annual convention at Biloxi, Miss., during the Thanksgiving vacation. Miss Chapman was MSC's representative at the conference of secondary and college business educators. The general theme of the 10-state convention was economic instruction in business education.

'Dreamgirl' Title Won By Mary Ann Arnold

Mary Ann Arnold, sophomore, elementary education major, Calvert City, has been selected as "Dream Girl" of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Miss Arnold, who was guest of honor at the recent Pi Kappa Alpha "Dream Girl Ball," is a member of Student National Education Association.

Panhellenic Promoting Greek Unity

MSC's Panhellenic Council acts as an important voice in the maintenance of harmony among Greek-letter organizations.

The council is composed of the president, vice-president, and two other representatives from each sorority on campus.

The council has several purposes. One of the main purposes is to cooperate with the college administration in the maintenance of high social standards. Since sororities are one of the main social groups on campus, they have a strong voice in social behavior. The goal of Panhellenic is to always strive to maintain the high standards expected of sororities.

Governing rushing, pledging, and initiation on campus is another main purpose of Panhellenic. Regulations have been passed to make rush a matter of choosing a sorority on one's own, not the brainwashing sessions of years past. Pledgeship regulations have also been set up to prevent mistreatment of pledges.

Intellectual accomplishment and sound scholarship are also the goals of Panhellenic. In order to further these goals, the council has set up a scholastic standing which must be met before a girl can consider going out for rush. This acts as an incentive for many girls, causing them to study harder in order to make their grades. Each year the council holds the semi-annual Panhellenic Tea, to which all prospective rushees are invited. This is the main Panhellenic event of the semester.

Panhellenic also sponsors an annual candy sale, which is now in progress.

MSC Cagers, Paced by Jennings, Win Opener From Aggies, 90-55

The Murray State cagers, paced by Jim Jennings, got their 1962-63 campaign off to a good start by easily rolling past the New Mexico State Aggies here Friday night, 90-55.

Jennings, touted by many as a possible all-American, poured in 30 points, 18 in the first half, to take scoring honors for the evening. The big center also paced both teams in rebounding with 22.

Guard Scott Schlosser took the opening tip and scored the first two points of the season on a 15-foot jumper. Thirty seconds later, he connected on a set to make it 4-0. The Aggies' Charles Lindsey finally got New Mexico in the scoring column with a free throw with 18:27 remaining in the half.

However, that was as close as the Aggies could come to catch the high-flying Racers. The Murray team gradually pulled away and then with 12:46 showing on the clock, Jennings hit the first of three field goals to begin a flurry of MSC baskets that broke the game wide open.

Jennings' six straight points put the Racers on top by 10. Then Al Varnas tallied on a lay-up, Jennings tipped one in, and Schlosser hit on a running one-hander, while the Aggies scored twice to build the lead to 12 points.

Mixing up a good fast break with Coach Luther's set offense, Gene Pendleton, Varnas, Jennings, Bennie Goheen, and John Namciu found the nets with wide-open shots and when the smoke cleared, the Racers found themselves on top, 46-22.

The Aggies managed to cut the lead to 15 points by half time, but the Thoroughbreds still maintained a comfortable 52-37 advantage.

Coach Cal Luther unloaded the bench in the second half, and while the Racers offense slowed up somewhat, the defense held the Aggies to 18 points.

Five Racers wound up the night in double figures with Jennings' 30 tops. Al Varnas followed with 16, Schlosser had 15, Len Mahoney 11, and Pendleton had 10.

In substitute roles, Namciu, Goheen, and Eddie Ford managed eight points together. Namciu accounted for four points, while Goheen picked up two on a lay up, and Ford, only 5-11, got his two points on a tip-in.

New Mexico managed to get two players in double figures with Charles Lindsey's 14 points topping the Aggies offense. Teammate Don Wiese added 10.

Last night the Racers were scheduled to meet McKendree College in the Murray State Fieldhouse.

Cape Spoils '63 Frosh Cage Debut

Opening-game jitters and cold shooting plagued the MSC freshman basketball team Friday as it dropped the season opener to the Southeast Missouri freshmen, 92-79.

Don Lawrence dropped in two foul shots in the opening seconds of play to give the Racers a 2-0 lead. From that point on it was a see-saw battle as the lead changed hands ten times before Murray turned cold and fell behind at the half, 43-33.

With Herb McPherson and Dave Boyd leading the charge, the Racers pulled within four points of S. E. Missouri with eighteen minutes remaining in the game.

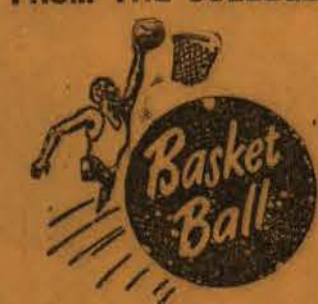

The frosh were down 6 points at the twelve minute mark when they completely fell apart. The Racers hit a cold-streak and failed to score a point in the next four minutes of play. In that time the Little Indians from Cape Girardeau tallied 11 points and pulled to a 67-50 lead.

The Frosh had their bright spots in the shooting of McPherson who tallied 24 points, mostly on long jumpers from the side. Stewart Johnson, 6'8" center, scoring 18 points and dominated the boards for Murray. Lawrence, who scored 17 points and played a fine defensive game and Boyd, whose ball handling and hustle kept the Racers in the game.

The Frosh were scheduled to play Paducah Junior College last night at home and they will play here Saturday night against Bethel Junior College.

FROM THE COLLEGE NEWS

Press Box

By Bob McGaughey

With the conclusion of the annual post-season "grudge game", the curtain came down on the intramural flag-football season, and the intramural directors heaved a big sigh of relief.

The student directors, beside arranging the schedules, taking care of the equipment, tabulating the statistics, and few hundred other things along that line, also referee most of the contests, and on some occasions, this is more like refereeing a boxing match.

However, all in all, seeing that no one picked up more than a few minor injuries, although they were a dime-a-dozen, I think the season can be termed a success, and a tip of the Press Box hat to all who participated.

While on the subject of intramurals, the sport of basketball in now on the scene, with play having started Saturday. Intramural basketball gives a boy, who has never played basketball, an opportunity to do so, and judging from some of the scores, more than a few took that opportunity.

For some of the more rapid sports fans who are probably scanning the page for the results of the Murray-McKendree game, and not finding them, I feel I should give an explanation.

This year The College News goes to press on Tuesday afternoon, instead of Tuesday night, therefore, there is no possible way to get Tuesday night's basketball games in the next day's issue.

New sports are popping up around MSC like sidewalk. In addition to the old reliables of football, basketball, baseball, track, water polo, etc., a badminton team is being formed to possibly play a tournament. Anyone who would like to try out for the team should see Miss Graham.

Also there are a group of sturdy lads who are trying to get up a soccer team. However, they are lacking one important part of every team, a sponsor. If any of our sports-minded faculty is interested, he should contact either P. K. Kirshner or John Alton at Clark Hall.

The Murray varsity basketball team showed mid-season form in their opener with New Mexico State, beating the Aggies easily.

Usually play is a little ragged in the first couple of contests in a season, but the Racers ran their patterns smoothly, getting wide open shots repeatedly. Even on the fast break, which often lends itself to wild, "run and fire" basketball, the Racers ran in top form, rarely throwing the ball away or missing the crisp shot.

Jim Jennings, seventh in the nation in rebounding last year, pulled off 22 while hitting for 30 points to show that he is ready to pick up where he left off last year.

Speaking of basketball opening games, the University of Kentucky and Western both were upset in their season openers. David Lipscomb College ruined the Hilltoppers' opener by defeating them, 75-68, and Virginia Tech handed the Wildcats their first defeat in a season opener since 1926.

Coach Furgerson's harriers finally got sweet revenge on the Western Hilltoppers. After dropping a dual meet to the Western cross-country team and finishing second to them in the Union Invitational, the MSC team beat the Hilltoppers by 4 points in copping the OVC meet at Cookeville Saturday.

Murray's Curt Sanders was first among the individual finishers, marking the third time in four meets that the holder of the OVC two-mile record came in first.

Oglethorpe, Racers Clash Here Tomorrow Night

Coach Cal Luther's cagers will take on Oglethorpe University of Atlanta, Ga., here tomorrow night and then wind up their first home stand Saturday when they play the Arkansas State Indians.

Monday night the Racers will be sure to have their hands full when they encounter the Bradley Braves at Peoria, Ill. The Braves have four lettermen returning from last year's team that tied Cincinnati for the Missouri Valley Conference title. However, one of the returnees, 6-9 Joe Strawder, will not be eligible until mid-year, and will not face the Racers.

Nine lettermen return from last year's squad that compiled an outstanding 20-4 record to give Coach Garland Pinholster a solid nucleus to form another great Oglethorpe team.

Heading the returning lettermen are Morris Mitchell, a 6-6, 210 pound senior center, who last year was the second leading scorer on the squad, and two husky 6-5 forwards, Bob Nance and Bobbie Sexton.

The Arkansas State Indians lost only one player off last year's team, which finished the season with a sparkling 17-7 record and a second place finish in the regional NCAA tournament.

Heading the list of veterans expecting to lead the Indians to a record breaking season will be 6-5, 210 pound Jerry Rook, one of the finest basketball prospects ever to wear an Arkansas State uniform.

The MSC rifle team will resume competition tomorrow at Lexington against the University of Kentucky in a Kentucky Collegiate Rifle League match.

Friday and Saturday the rifle-men will shoot in the Xavier Invitational at Cincinnati, Ohio. The 17-team affair will climax a long weekend for the sharpshooters.

Joe Randolph continues to lead the Murray team. Freshman Joe Beard is right behind him, according to Capt. Perkins.

Murray has a 2-2 dual-meet record for the year. The frosh and girls' teams will travel to Ft. Campbell for a match Friday.

Richmond No. 6 Keeps 'Flag' Title Beats AOPI In Play-Off

FLAG FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS..... Here is the 1962 flag-football champion, Richmond No. 6, which captured the crown with a 21-13 victory over previously undefeated AOPI. ## Richmond No. 6, AOPI Dominate Intramural Flag-Football All-Stars

Intramural flag-football champion Richmond No. 6 and runner-up AOPI dominated the Independent League All-Stars while Sigma Chi, ATO, and PIKA monopolized the Fraternity League All-Stars.

You might convince some of the people that lightning won't strike twice in the same place, but you would have a hard time making the Richmond No. 6 flag-football team believe it.

The night of the championship game was the same, Nov. 21. They played on the same field, Cutchin Stadium, and they played AOPI, the same team they beat last year for the intramural championship.

Richmond No. 6 finished the season with a 5-1 mark. They defeated ATO the previous night in the semi-finals of the play-offs, 20-6. AOPI won their semi-final game from Sigma Chi, 33-0, and remained undefeated with a record of 7-0.

Mickey Martin intercepted a pass in the opening minutes of play and raced 70 yards for a touchdown to give the underdog Richmond No. 6 club a 7-0 lead.

AOPI rebounded back and marched the length of the field to tie the score at 7-7 on Joe DeSheplo's 20-yard run around end. Jim Eakins caught a Ron Anderson pass for Richmond No. 6 and Frank DeSheplo hit pay-dirt for AOPI before the first half ended and the score stood, 13-13.

Bobby Spann caught AOPI quarterback for a safety to give Richmond No. 6 a 13-13 lead in the opening minutes of the second half. Anderson added more icing to the cake as he hit Spann with a 30-yard pass late in the game to complete the scoring for both teams and give Richmond a 21-13 victory.

Standouts this year included Anderson, quarterback for the Richmond No. 6 team, Joe DeSheplo, half-back for runner-up AOPI, and Louise Litchfield, an end for Sigma Chi. Anderson threw for thirteen touchdown passes, DeSheplo scored a grand total of 75 points in his eight games of play, and Litchfield led the Fraternity league in scoring with 36 points.

Murray had two players to make the third team, tackle Bucky Wiles and center John Hina. Hina, along with Charlie Mitchell, also received honorable mention as the best offensive lineman in the Ohio Valley Conference.

MSC halfback Dennis Jackson got honorable mention in three categories, best defensive back, most underrated player, and most improved player.

Halfback Clyde Adkins received honorable mention in the best blocking back vote, while John Wheeler received the same recognition as the best linebacker, as well as honorable mention for the All-OVC squad. Bob Chapman also received honorable mention at his end position.

7 Teams Win Openers In Intramural Basketball

The Intramural Basketball League began its season play Saturday afternoon with a seven game schedule.

In a hard-fought contest, Richmond No. 6 bested Clark Bar No. 1, 45 to 32. Tom Cox led the winners with 21 points. Bob Burton, the other half of Richmond's scoring punch, garnered 18. Jerry Grogan paced the losers with 17 points.

Clark No. 3 coasted to a 47 to 5 victory over the Mutations. Pat Boyer, outscoring the entire Mutations team, collected 10 points. Tom Higgins got but one bucket, but it was enough to lead Mutation scoring.

In the closest game of the afternoon, TKE No. 2 outpointed the Vet's Club No. 2, 29 to 24. Jim Vernon was the big man for TKE No. 2 with 12 points. Larry Henley topped the losers with 8.

The Vet's No. 1 had the distinction of scoring the most points for

PIKA Shuts Out SX In Grudge Game, 15-0

Pi Kappa Alpha shut out a favored Sigma Chi team Wednesday night, 15-0, to win the annual post-season "grudge game" in intramural flag football.

Robert Lee of PIKA caught Sigma Chi quarterback Tony Fioravanti in the end zone early in the first half to give the Pikes a 2-0 lead at the halfway mark.

Joe Sayers hit Eddy Hunt with a 34-touchdown pass early in the second half to put PIKA ahead, 8-0. Freddie Reeves tacked on another marker with a 2-yard plunge with 8:46 remaining in the game. Sayers' pass to Dave Hunt was good, and the Pikes had avenged last year's loss.

Dick Barthel got 6 for the losers. The Playboys won their first contest by forfeit—the Tigers could not find enough players.

In the final game of the afternoon, Tri Sigma No. 2 defeated B. S. U. by a score of 38 to 24. Duane Beason gunned in 12 for the victors, while Bob Stovall got 8 for B. S. U.

In Monday's only game Sigma Chi No. 1 downed ATO No. 1 by a score of 38 to 21. Louis Litchfield led the evenly distributed Sigma Chi scoring with 10 points. Gary Foltz topped ATO scoring 33 to 13 victory with 12 points with 8.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: BILL BELFORD

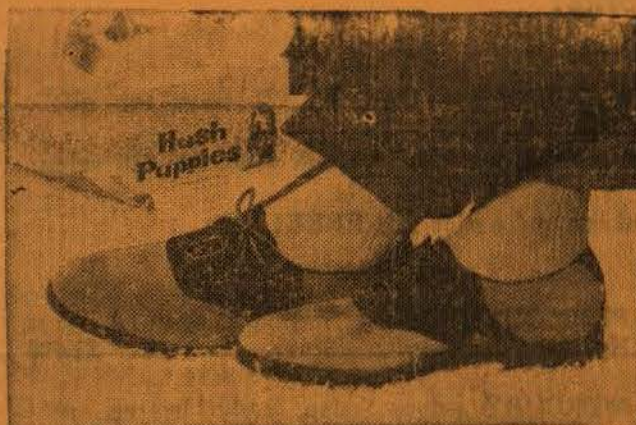

Bill Belford (B.A., 1960) got off to a fast start with the C&P Telephone Company in Washington. After a brief training period, he was put in charge of six salesmen handling the needs of 8000 business customers. Under Bill's leadership, his group added nearly $50,000 in additional revenues per month. Later, Bill was promoted to Assistant Sales Manager and assigned the job of organizing a special sales group. Again, success.

He was then loaned to the Executive Department to do a special study on wages and working conditions in the community. ## Survival of Fittest is Exemplified In Rangers' Rigorous Training

By Chuck Baccus

Murray State College has a new ROTC military unit - the Rangers. Personnel in this counter-guerilla ROTC Cadet Corps. Unlike the ROTC unit are all volunteers from other ROTC students who drill in class "A" uniforms. Rangers are drilling in fatigues and combat boots.

The unit was established to train its members for the unglamorous duty they may someday have to perform. They are being trained to fight under adverse conditions - conditions that would become a reality if they were engaged in guerilla warfare.

It was organized in compliance with President Kennedy's desire for armed forces to be better trained to fight and assist our allies in suppressing communist-supported rebellion, insurgency, and other Cold War activities.

Rangers are being trained to fight in the jungle, in the dirt and stench, which is a major characteristic of guerilla warfare. If engaged in actual combat their purpose would be to pounce upon the enemy when least expected and fade back into hiding. One minute they would be fighting with the enemy; the next minute they would be gone.

A rigid training program is being followed by the Rangers. This program is designed to "weed out" those who are not physically fit, according to Col. Lance E. Booth, head of the military science department.

Each Ranger will eventually be required to run a mile in six minutes carrying combat-patrol equipment. He will also be required to swim 50 yards, fully clothed, carrying his weapon above his head.

Other physical requirements will include: rope-climbing, pull-ups, push-ups, wall-scaling, and obstacle courses. Aside from the physical activities, they must qualify with rifle and pistol, for in training, they will learn to fire both American and foreign-made weapons.

The Rangers - now 60 strong - are drilling two hours each week. Half of them drill on Tuesday and the others on Thursday. One hour of the training is in the classroom where they receive information. The other hour is spent on the drill field where they put the information to use. They also meet the regular two hours of classes just as the other ROTC cadets.

Considerable time and effort will be devoted to survival techniques, according to Capt. James Perkins, military science instructor. Capt Perkins heads the counter-guerilla training staff.

These techniques will include judo, karate, map reading, and compass reading. Instructors are planning a course at the local fairgrounds so that members of the unit can get training with compasses before going on actual patrols. It is anticipated that at least two weekends will be utilized to test personnel in surviving and living off the land for a three-day period while carrying out a realistic reconnaissance mission.

On these missions, which are expected to be conducted in woodland areas and on the shores of Kentucky Lake, the Rangers will carry no food. They must provide for themselves.

Before going on these missions the cadets will receive training in demolitions, booby-traps, mines, camouflage, study of reptiles, first aid, communications, and other subjects helpful in the counter-guerilla operations.

Scholarship is also being stressed in the unit. To remain a Ranger the student must maintain at least an overall "B" average.

"Surviving will be the fittest," said Col. Booth. "It's a rough test, but the unit has to be tough. Therefore, only the 'cream of the crop' will last."

Frosh Hear Job Bureau Explained

The importance of the Placement Bureau to college students was emphasized by Mr. M. O. Wrather, director of public relations, in freshman orientation on Nov. 27.

According to Mr. Wrather the Placement Bureau has a twofold purpose:

1. To assist every capable graduate, undergraduate, and alumnus to secure a job that would provide an opportunity for service and advancement.

2. To assist boards of education, state and federal government agencies, business organizations, and industry to secure qualified and well-trained personnel to carry on their work.

Mr. Wrather pointed out that a placement bureau, to render its best service, must have certain information about its candidates.
