Chickens Come Home

Cbert of The Associated Press

The chickens came home--Murray. Ohio--on Thursday night. They are building a $22,000, 900-foot tunnel. The material used in making the tunnel included 800 cubic yards of concrete. The tunnel will help control floods in the area. The dam will take four years to build. It will be a good idea first to learn how to operate the machinery needed to construct the dam. The dam will be 110 feet high. It looks pretty much like a sand hill. The concrete needed to construct the dam will be used in the construction of the dam. The dam will be used to store water for irrigation and flood control.

Betty Flaherty is improving.

The Junior Woman's club entertained Betty Flaherty, Mrs. John H. Lawrence, and Mrs. Ivan Jones, and Misses Marilyn Shankle and Earl Willey, with a surprise bridal shower in the home of Mrs. R. S. Matthews. They were as satisfied in serving by bridesmaids, Betty Bowen of Mannington, and maid of honor, Mrs. E. O. Deweese, Mrs. H. R. Owen, Mrs. E. K. Wimberly, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Owen, as they were in sharing. Mrs. W. H. Owen spent Wednesday at the Ferry Building, San Francisco, California, and returned. Mrs. R. S. Matthews presented a wedding bouquet of gardenias to the bride. The junior bridesmaids were fully decorated with a profusion of flowers, and every detail of the decor was as perfect as anything like civil war.

BY ERIE KENNING

The favorite story to come out of the local area recently is the story of the man who tried to call his name. In its most basic form, the story goes like this:

A young boy was playing in the woods one day when he heard a voice calling his name. The boy turned around and saw a large snake with a ring on its tail. The snake told the boy to follow him and he would show him something interesting. The boy was terrified but decided to follow the snake anyway.

As they walked through the woods, the snake led the boy to a clearing where there were hundreds of snakes gathered around a large stone. The boy was amazed and asked the snake what they were doing. The snake explained that they were holding a meeting to discuss their plans for the future.

The boy was even more amazed when the snake told him that he was the chosen one to lead the snakes in their future endeavors. The boy was flattered but also scared of the responsibility. The snake then gave him a ring and told him that it was a symbol of his new role.

The boy thanked the snake and left the clearing, feeling both honored and scared. He knew that he had a big job ahead of him and that he would need to be brave and wise to lead the snakes.

In real life, the story of the man who tried to call his name is not so exciting. The man was actually trying to call for help after he had fallen into a hole. Unfortunately, the hole was too deep and the man was unable to get out on his own.

This story is a reminder to always listen to the warnings of others, even if they seem harmless at first. Sometimes, the things we encounter in life can be dangerous, so it's important to be aware of our surroundings and take precautions.

The story of the man who tried to call his name may not be the most exciting, but it's a good reminder to always be aware of our surroundings and to listen to the warnings of others.
