CHANGE

In the Management of the Racket Store.

MR. KUGLER RETIRES.

Petition for Order of Delivery Filed by Rous, of New York—Closed Temporarily

Charles Broadway Rous, the millionaire merchant of New York, filed a petition in Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon against J. H. Kugler, manager of the Racket Store, praying for an order of delivery of the stock of merchandise and asking immediate possession of the establishment.

The petition states that the plaintiff, O. B. Rous, is the owner of the stock of goods, wares and merchandise located in the building on South Main street, known as the Racket Store, and everything contained in said building and heretofore conducted by the defendant, J. H. Kugler.

The stock, he says, is worth approximately $10,000 and his petition states that he ought to recover the sum of $1000 for the wrongful detention of same. He says that he is the lawful owner of the stock wrongfully detained by the defendant and demands a prayer to the court for immediate possession of the stock.

The doors of the Racket were closed this morning, a conspicuous placard announcing that an invoice of the stock was being taken.

A change in the management of the large establishment will result from this complicated condition of affairs. Mr. Kugler's retirement has been expected for some time and will not be a great surprise.

Last Friday Mr. Ward, of Alliance, Ohio, arrived in the city, and later, Mr. Hyde, of New York, a personal representative of Mr. Rous. Mr. Ward, it is understood, will be Mr. Kugler's successor in the management of the Racket store, which will be re-opened Saturday upon the completion of the invoice.

Mr. Kugler was seen by a representative of the New Era this week. He said that his retirement was the outcome of a business disagreement with Mr. Rous entirely free from personal feeling on either side. Their claims as to certain sums due him under an existing contract between himself and Mr. Rous differed materially and the courts will adjudge these matters at issue.

Mr. Rous recognizes his ability and in further proof of this there has been no friction in their personal relations. Mr. Kugler mentioned the fact that Mr. Rous had offered him a lucrative position in New York. He will remain in Hopkinsville, however, for sometime and will probably re-enter business here, having many friends in this city and county, and a large personal following.

The business community will be glad to know that an establishment of such proportions as The Racket, is not to be lost to the city.

COMPLICATION

Of Diseases Causes the Death Of

REV. HENRY G. PERRY.

A Prominent Minister of the Episcopal Church and Well-Known In This City.

Rev. Henry G. Perry, D. D., died Monday in Chicago after a brief illness. He had been ill with arterial sclerosis for more than a week, and a sudden attack of the grip led to complications which resulted in death.

Mr. Willis Perry and Miss Emily Perry, his brother and sister who reside in this city, were notified of his critical condition Thursday evening and left on the following morning for Chicago to attend his bedside, and were with him when he died.

Dr. Perry was a son of Rev. Gideon B. Perry, for many years rector of the Episcopal church of this city. He never made his home in Hopkinsville, his frequent visits to his father's family made him a wide circle of acquaintances and a host of friends, all of whom will receive the news of his death with genuine regret. Dr. Perry was about sixty years old, and was a man of commanding presence. He was a graduate of several well-known institutions of learning and theological colleges. He became a minister of the Episcopal church in early manhood, and was a pulpit orator of national note.

Dr. Perry was a member in high standing of a number of societies. He was the Grand Chaplain of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, and was very prominent in Masonic circles.

No details of the funeral have been received in the city.

T. M. Ryan, of Martin, Tenn., is in the city.

THE THIRD EMBARKS

CLARDY TOO LATE

To Keep the Boys From Going.

A ROYAL FAREWELL

(SPECIAL TO NEW ERA)

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 18.—The third Third Kentucky regiment has arrived in this city.

The soldiers are embarking to day on the transport Minnewaska.

The vessel will leave this afternoon for Matanzas, Cuba.

Representative Clardy saw the Assistant Secretary of War yesterday, and asked that the Third Kentucky regiment be mustered out of the service and the Fourth Kentucky substituted in its place.

Mr. Meiklejohn stated that it was now too late to grant this request, as the Third Kentucky had orders to move. Mr. Meiklejohn also stated that the Third Kentucky was a superior regiment to the Fourth, and was the proper one of the two to see service in Cuba.

A dispatch from Columbus, Ga., dated yesterday, says: "The Third Kentucky left the city this afternoon in three sections via the Central, the Georgia and Alabama and the Southern road. The Second and Third battalions pulled out promptly at 3:30 o'clock, while the First battalion, accompanied by Col. Smith, Lieut. Col. Henry, Maj. Saffran and Chaplain Thomas, left an hour or so later. The regiment will arrive in Savannah early tomorrow morning. By noon it is expected that it will be aboard the transport Minnewaska, en route to Matanzas."

"As the regiment marched down Broad street, in front of the Rankin House, on the balcony of which stood Gen. Wiley and officers of the division, the band struck up "Dixie." The first note was the signal for a rousing cheer, which came from the throats of the 8,000 men in line, as well as the spectators who fairly thronged the sidewalks."

As Color Sergeant Williams passed bearing the national flag another mighty shout went up. Williams is personally known to nearly every person in Columbus. "Hurrah for the flag" and "Good-bye, Williams" were uttered in the same breath.

"The men made a fine showing as they passed down Broad street. At the Union depot and the yards of the Southern road a vast throng assembled to tell the boys good-bye."

"The officers of the Third Kentucky have been great social favorites, and for the once it seemed that society had adjourned in a body to the trains, where its various members remained until the last coach pulled out. During the stay of the Kentuckians in Columbus the regiment, as a body, has made more friends than any of the other regiments in the brigade. The great parting was mutual. The health of the regiment is good, and the men go to Cuba well equipped for foreign service."

OVER THE ROAD

Goes Henry McKay, Col., For Home—Breaking.

John Henry McKay, col., will serve a sentence of two years in the penitentiary for breaking into Gossett's store at Julien. He was tried and convicted at the last term of the Christian Circuit Court and has been in jail here pending the hearing of the case on appeal.

The Court of Appeals yesterday in an opinion confirmed the lower court and John Henry must go over his road.

SUITS

Against Town Of Gracely and Standard Oil Co.

MARTIN IRVINE

Says Jail Stove Emitted Dangerous and Suffocating Gases.—Wants $2,500

Martin Irvine, col., has sued the town of Gracely for $2,500 damages. Martin is a brother of Robert Irvine who is suing certain city officials of Hopkinsville. He is thirty-four years old and a resident of Trigg county. He says he was arrested at Gracely at five o'clock in the afternoon of a recent day and forcibly placed in a cell of the prison at Gracely. He says that the jail was heated by a gasoline stove of heater and that he was "alarmed at the peculiar manifestations and actions of the said heater." Believing the building would be set on fire he begged the attendant to turn him into the corridor where the heater was located, which was done.

About 11 o'clock that night he says he was aroused by intense heat and suffocating gases and smoke. He alleges that a blaze was leaping from the heater reaching to the pins ceiling "which dripped hot and molting resin upon his face and hands, burning him painfully." With great difficulty, he says, he pulled himself to window and called for help. Finally roomers came and as the door was opened he sank senseless and suffocated upon the floor and was dragged out. Since this thrilling experience he claims to have been subject to periodical spells of coughing and other trouble arising from inhaling the gases.

Mrs. S. E. Guthrie and Moses E. Guthrie, her husband, have sued Fred Hulse and the Standard Oil Company in the Circuit Court for damages in the sum of $1,000. The plaintiffs say that they are the owners of a certain tract of land on Olive Fork in this county. In November, 1898, according to their petition, the defendant Hulse and the agents and employees of the Standard Oil Company entered upon this land and fell and cut up a large number of trees and opened roadways through the land for wagons, destroying much young timber. By this trespassing and wrongful injury and destruction of property they claimed to have been damaged in the above named sum.

WARSHIPS DISPATCHED

To Protect American Interests.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—The rebellion in Samoa has become so critical that American warships will be sent to Apia immediately to protect our interests there.

Three British and two United States vessels, it is understood, will be dispatched at once to the islands.

The German Consul is blamed for the decision of Chief Justice Chambers in favor of Malietoa Tanu, one of the candidates for the throne, and against the rival aspirant, Mataafa.

The Consuls of the United States and Great Britain and the captains of the German warship Falke and the British warship Porpoise met the German Consul, who refused to recognize Malietoa Tanu, and declined to co-operate in the dispersal of the Samoans, who thereupon assembled in large numbers at Malietoa, armed themselves and surrounded the municipality Malietoa Tanu and Tanamasee mastered about 3,000 men, well armed, but supplied with defective ammunition. The British and American Consuls endeavored to avert hostilities, but they commenced on January 1. Malietoa Tanu and Tanamasee fought bravely, but 500 of their followers were captured. Then, disheartened and outnumbered, the two chiefs sought refuge on the British warship and their followers sought protection under the guns of the Porpoise.

Mataafa's fleet was sixty-one men killed and wounded, and Malietoa Tanu lost twelve men killed and wounded.

The foreign residents were placed under the protection of a detachment of men belonging to the British ship, and Chief Justice Chambers and his family went on board of her.

The followers of Mataafa looted and burned Apia, destroyed the plantations and pillaged the country.

The Consuls later decided to recognize Mataafa and his chiefs as a provisional government, pending the receipt of instructions from the Powers.

Afterward Dr. Rafael and the German Consul closed the Supreme Court, declaring that the power was vested in them. The British and American Consuls then appealed to the captain of the British warship Porpoise, who landed a force of blue-jackets and Chief Justice Chambers, under their guard, took his seat.

Mataafa held aloof from these last developments. The excitement continues.

SPAIN HAD SPIES.

(SPECIAL TO NEW ERA)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"Among those recently rewarded for military services during the Hispano-American war are five Spanish officers who volunteered without asking reward to go to the United States after the war was declared and to supply information to the Spanish Government. They formed a commission under Lieut. Col. Don Luis Serrano."

"They visited continually New York City, Washington, Jacksonville, Key West, Tampa and other points, changing their posts every few days. They had many narrow escapes from detection, notably on one occasion, when one of them met face to face a New York World correspondent who he had known in Havana. The journalist, already forgiven ignorance, in addition to the secret service the commission bought and sent to Cuba a considerable amount of ammunition. The largest consignment was found to leave when peace was signed."

The men will receive two full months' pay, two full months' ration money at 35 cents per diem and their balance on clothing accounts, amounting to from $15 to $30 each.

The commissioned officers will receive as much as $500 and the higher officers much more than that. Every enlisted man will draw out at least $75. As this is more money than many of the boys ever had at one time before, there will be lively times in Louisville.

CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA.

The Scientific American publishes this receipt for diphtheria: "At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child, make the room close and then take a tin cup and pour into it an equal quantity of tar and turpentine; then hold the cup over the fire so as to fill the room with the fumes. The patient, on inhaling the fumes will cough and spit out their emulsion matter and diphtheria will pass off. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loosen the throat and thus affords relief that has baffled the skill of physicians."

Gary will reside with them.

ROBERT WOULD RECOVER

Thinks His Good Name and Reputation Have Been Damaged.

Robt. Irvin is a colored man. Robert, it seems, is a colored man of much pride, and guards with jealous watchfulness and care that "immediate jewel of the soul," his good name. Who steals Robert's purse may steal but an obnoxious mass of bank notes and metal dust, but the man who steals from Robert his good name may expect to have the majesty or the law invoked upon his devoted head while legal lightning leaps from Justice's gleaming sword.

On or about the 15th of January, 1898, to follow the statements in a couple of petitions just filed in the Circuit Court, Robert came quietly in the city from Gracely, en route to Guthrie.

From the language of the petition it is inferred that Robert had large mercantile interests in each of these places and was in the habit of passing to and fro looking to the business of his several establishments. He says he reached here about 2 o'clock in the morning; he was on the street "doing no harm" when he was rudely accosted by Officer George Landar and searched and then thrown into a police cell, remaining in the lockup until 9 a. m. He was then dragged before one Buckner Leavelle who registered against him a charge of vagrancy.

For these indignities against his person and to the detriment of his fair name he prays for damages against Landar and Leavelle and their respective bondsmen, claiming $1,000 in each suit.
