Reds Must Not Delay Again, Bevin Warns

Speed Essential In Aiding Europe, Secretary Says

WOULD CUT RED TAPE
London, June 20—(AP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin vows that in launching a cooperative effort for European economic recovery under the Marshall plan he intends to brook no delays such as those which stymied the recent foreign ministers conference in Moscow.

Eagerly awaiting a response from Russia to a point British-French request that the Soviet Union participate in drafting an aid-to-Europe program, Bevin declared in the House of Commons last night that "the guiding principle I shall follow in any talks I have on this matter will be speed."

"I spent six weeks in Moscow trying to get a settlement," he asserted. "I shall not be a party to holding up the economic recovery of Europe by the mess of procedure, terms of reference or all the paraphernalia which may go with it."

"The reply of the Soviet government is awaited," he continued, "and the House will understand that until it is received there is nothing I can usefully say on the subject today. I know the great interest of the House in the U. S. proposals and I wish very much it was possible to say more about the position."

The British press gathered from the tone of Bevin's speech that Britain and France definitely intended to go ahead with work under the suggestions made two weeks ago by Secretary of State George C. Marshall—either with or without Russian participation.

Marshall said in a speech at Harvard University that future American dollar aid to Europe should be based on a continental program outlining the economic requirements of the situation drawn up by "a number, if not all European nations."

Russian sources in London said Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin left London secretly three or four days ago to discuss the Marshall proposals in Moscow.

Bevin's cry for speed won general endorsement from the press, except in the Communist Daily Worker, which called it an "ultimatum." All noted the earnestness with which Bevin described the Marshall plan as a "chance the British shall not miss" and Anthony Eden's description of it as the "second chance that so rarely comes."

Sixteen of the group will receive reserve second lieutenant commissions in the infantry at the end of the six-week course and the remainder will be given commissions upon completion of their four-year academic course at the University.

Gibson Electric Co-Op To Expand Power Facilities

Union City—The Gibson county, Tenn. Electric Membership Corporation has mapped out a construction program to provide electric power facilities during the next five to 10 years which will make its area one of the most highly developed electrically in the country, Manager Floyd Jones said this week.

Allen and Hoshall, consulting engineers, of Memphis, have prepared a system study for the cooperative which includes detailed recommendations for expanding both urban and rural systems to meet the anticipated needs for distributing low-cost electricity generated and transmitted by TVA.

The expansion and strengthening of the system will cost over a million dollars, it is estimated.

Truman Must Decide Now On Rent Bill

Measure Keeps Controls Through February 29, '48

AIDES OPPOSE IT

Washington, June 20—(AP)—President Truman, the labor bill off his chest—faces a new puzzle today—whether to let rent controls run out this month or sign an extension bill roundly denounced by his housing aides.

The Senate completed congressional action late yesterday on the measure extending rent control through next February 29, with a proviso that ceilings can be lifted as much as 15 percent if landlords and tenants agree on a lease running past Dec. 31, 1948.

The bill also knocks out all construction curbs except in the case of recreational type buildings, such as theaters and bowling alleys.

It was this provision which prompted Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon to declare last weekend that enactment of the measure might wreck the housing program.

Creedon said material shortages are still too critical in many sections to permit unrestricted non-residential building "without disastrous consequences to homebuilding."

However, in the brief debate which preceded Senate passage of the measure by a voice vote, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) called the bill "better than no law at all." He said if it were not accepted, rent controls simply would end June 30.

Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), a last ditch opponent of the measure, told his colleagues "you're setting a bomb with a time fuse on it under the tenants."

Taylor argued that every tenant who wanted to retain his accommodations would have to agree to a 15 per cent rent boost soon or "maybe 100 or 200 per cent after the controls go off."

City Offers Aid In Strike

Lexington Still Without Bus Service; One Picket Hurt, 9 arrested June 19

Lexington, Ky., June 20—(AP)—City commissioners last night offered again to act as mediators in an attempt to settle the strike of operators of the Lexington Railway System after a day which saw one picket injured, rocks tossed, and nine persons arrested in connection with the day's activities.

The bus company sent two coaches through picket lines after its ultimatum to striking employes to return to work or be discharged had expired. The buses carried no passengers and returned to the garage after a single trip, rock scarred and with windows shattered, even though police escorted the buses over most of the route.

Pickets jeered as the buses moved from the garage.

President D. D. Stewart of the bus company said further attempts would be made to resume service but made no announcement as to the time.

Retired School Teacher Sought In Death Of Two Elderly Ladies

Pinecliffe, Colo., June 20—(AP)—A dragnet was spread across the Far West today for a retired school teacher, wanted for questioning in the slaying of his friends, Emily Griffith, 65, famed Denver educator, and her invalid sister, Florence, 67.

The sisters were found dead yesterday in the mountain cabin they had made home since Emily Griffith's retirement in 1934 from adult education in which she had pioneered. Each had been shot once through the head from the rear.

The man sought was named by U.S. Sheriff Donald Moore of Boulder county as Fred W. Lundy, 65, one-time teacher in Denver's Emily Griffith Opportunity school. It was Lundy who helped build the small, booklined Griffith cabin, took the sisters on mountain rides, cut their firewood and did many of the chores around their rustic home.

Denver Detective Joseph Hoandrake, one of a squad sent by Mayor Quigg Newton to this small mountain community 30 miles northwest of Denver to aid in the investigation, said police had reconstructed this sequence of events near the time of the slayings:

Lundy asked Emily Griffith a few days ago to go to Illinois with him, hoping to ease the days of her older age. She refused. He expressed to neighbors his fear of old age and said, "When people get this old, they should be shot."

About 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, two neighborhood boys helped Emily Griffith carry groceries from a small store to the cabin. Lundy was sitting on the porch. Florence Griffith was inside. Within 20 minutes, neighbors saw Lundy take his car from a nearby garage and drive off.

They later saw the car parked a mile up the narrow canyon but saw no sign of Lundy. Dr. R. O. Buck of Cleveland, Ohio, saw a man answering Lundy's description board a westbound freight train not far from the car.

President Calls Measure Opposed To U. S. Economy

'THREAT TO FREEDOM'

Washington, June 20—(AP)—President Truman vetoed today the Taft-Hartley bill to curb labor unions and an aroused House swiftly and overwhelmingly passed it over the veto by a 331-83 vote, 16 more "ayes" than necessary.

That put it up to the Senate to clinch the decision on whether the bill is to become law over the President's disapproval. It will vote late today or possibly tomorrow.

The Senate is expected generally to override the veto, but both sides concede the vote will be close.

In his big battle with Congress over the issue, Mr. Truman called in a group of leading Democratic Senators for a White House luncheon—presumably to talk over the veto. He also announced plans to go on the radio tonight and give the people directly his arguments against the bill. He will speak over all networks at 8 p. m. (CST).

Mr. Truman said the legislation is "completely contrary" to our basic national policy of "economic freedom."

What Bill Provides

- Here are the major provisions of the bill:
1. Let the government get court orders to block "national calamity" strikes, as in the coal or steel industries, during 60 days of mediation.
  2. Forbid the closed shop, in which the boss can hire only union help.
  3. Ban various kinds of special strikes and boycotts.
  4. Permit court suits against unions that break contracts.
  5. Deny collective bargaining rights to any union having as an officer a Communist or sympathizer, or anyone who could "reasonably be regarded as one."
  6. Make it an unfair labor practice, which would be stopped by a court order, for a union to keep non-striking workers from their jobs by mass or violent picketing.
  7. Forbid "excessive or discriminatory" union dues and initiation fees.

'Threat To Our Society'

In a 5,500 word message, the President told the Congress members that the legislation is a "clear threat to the successful working of our Democratic society."

He declared:

"This bill would go far toward weakening our trade union movement, and it would go far toward destroying our national unity."

"By raising barriers between labor and management and by injecting political considerations into normal economic decisions, it would invite them to gain their ends through direct political action."

"I think it would be exceedingly dangerous to our country to develop a class basis for political action."

The President said there still is a genuine opportunity for enactment at this session "of appropriate labor legislation," and added:

"I still feel that the recommendations which I expressed in the state of the union message constitute an adequate basis for legislation which is moderate in spirit and which relates to known abuses."

In that message in January, the President said he recommended a "step-by-step approach" and indicated specifically problems which should be handled immediately. He also proposed a non-partisan investigation covering the entire field of labor-management legisla-

Off To A Good Start

Never in the history of Calloway County have the Democrats given a better reception to one of their sons seeking high office than they gave Harry Lee Waterfield, candidate for governor, here Saturday afternoon.

Despite the fact Saturday was a cool day—an ideal time for farmers to keep tractors running in an effort to catch up with their planting—the crowd attending the Waterfield rally was one that should make him realize the home folks are backing him solidly in his bid for the Democratic nomination.

His opening speech was all that could be desired, and it is gratifying to know that his Murray audience was multiplied many fold as it was broadcast to every county in the state by radio.

One of the district speakers made a pertinent statement Saturday afternoon when he said the Democrats will either nominate Waterfield in August or the cause of cheap electricity and the REA in Kentucky is lost.

The record in the legislature in 1944, and again in 1946, is too fresh in the memory of every citizen of this county to doubt that if it had not been for Harry Lee Waterfield the private power industry in Kentucky would have destroyed TVA, so far as this state is concerned, as well as to prevent for a long time to come the blessings of rural electrification.

We were pleased to hear Waterfield discuss the educational situation in his opening speech. He is a graduate of Murray State College and it will be mighty nice to have a Murray graduate in the governor's mansion. But Saturday he put himself on record as a friend of elementary as well as higher education in Kentucky. And we know from his past record that he will have the moral courage to carry out his convictions.

The people of the First District clearly demonstrated what they think of Waterfield and reports from the other districts of the state indicate his organization is one of the best any Democratic candidate has had in several years.

Calloway County is proud of Harry Lee Waterfield and we sincerely hope his supporters throughout the state will leave no stone unturned until he wins the nomination. Then in November we will have a real chance to reclaim the state government.—(Murray Ledger & Times).

Best Month Of The Year

Have you ever considered how fortunate you are just to be alive in June, the month of roses and graduates, of sunshine and color, of brides and vacations, of sunburn and garden parties? There's a joy in living "knee-deep in June" that can hardly be matched in any other season of the year. June is celebrated in verse and song. It is eagerly awaited from the end of the midwinter holidays as the glorious and lovable harbinger of summer.

Bright clothes, bright faces, bright spirits come along naturally with June. The sun rises early and sets late, and gives to everything it touches a new richness in color and a new attractiveness of form. It's a grand time whatever one's difficulties and whatever the troubles that otherwise beset a world.

It is the realization of all promise. It is hope come true. It is inspiration and new ambition. It should, by rights and in the natural scheme of things, be the beginning of the year, for it is young and bold. It has verve and confidence, and nothing much—even its gloomy days, hurts it or injures its charm. Life is at its most vigorous and best in June. No wonder its coming is welcomed so happily. It does something—and something for the better—to everyone.

School Official Can Be Treasurer Of Education Body

Frankfort, Ky., June 20—(AP)—There is no legal bar to a county school superintendent serving as treasurer of his board of education, Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit said today.

He gave the opinion to M. C. Napier of Hazard, county school superintendent. Napier inquired about an opinion recently given to Edd J. Combs of Happy that a county school superintendent could not serve as county treasurer.

That is correct, the attorney general said, but he added he saw nothing to bar the officer of school superintendent and board of education treasurer being held by the same person.

Legislature Must Pay County For Sheriff Fee

Frankfort, Ky., June 20—(AP)—It will take an act of the Legislature to reimburse Caldwell county for expenses paid to the sheriff who went to Illinois to return a fugitive without first getting a requisition from the governor, the attorney general said today in an opinion sent to C. R. Baker, Caldwell county attorney.

Will They Meet?

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Former Vice President Henry A. Wallace's proposal that President Truman invite Premier Stalin to a Berlin conference, as a "first step" to guarantee world peace, has encountered cautious silence of opinion over most of the globe, a notable exception being the emphatic approval voiced by the Soviet-licensed newspaper "Nacht Express" in Berlin.

No so long ago such a move by the President might have been hailed as a grand idea. It isn't far back that this column was pointing out the profit which might be gained if the Big Four chiefs got together for heart-to-heart talks across the table to try to solve the difficulties between Russia and the Western Allies. I still think that would be a splendid move.

But the situation recently has developed such ugly angles that any suggestion of Mr. Truman taking the initiative in inviting the Generalissimo to a two-man parley certainly would call for much burning of midnight oil before it was adopted. There has been the Red coup in Hungary, resulting in the overthrow of the Democratic government and the substitution of a Communist regime. There have been other developments in numerous countries, including the United States, indicating that aggressive Communism is on the march.

John Foster Dulles, state department adviser, in a speech yesterday at Northwestern University declared that the Russian policy of setting up "police states" may lead to widespread violence and even war. He said there is no reason to believe "that the effort of Soviet leaders to impose widely their systems of government will stop of their own accord." And the U. S. Army is having printed for distribution to troops a pamphlet which says the Communist party in America is an agent of Russia and that Communism is a danger to Democracy.

With this (and much more) as background, it is easy to see that an invitation from President Truman right now might be mistaken as a rush to appeasement. Should such an erroneous impression be created, the repercussions both at home and abroad might be serious.

However, without attempting to read Mr. Truman's mind one ventures the view that he would be delighted if Premier Stalin should feel able to accept invitations already extended to him to visit Washington. The President revealed a year ago that Stalin had declined two invitations with regrets, saying his doctors wouldn't let him make long trips.

For that matter, there seems no reason to believe Mr. Truman wouldn't accept an invitation from the Soviet Premier for a conference in Berlin or some other European city. The premier, it may be noted isn't laboring under any situation which might give rise to a suggestion of appeasement on his part.

As a matter of fact, the United States (and the rest of the Western Democracies) are anxiously awaiting Moscow's response to a pressing invitation from Secretary of State Marshall to all of Europe to join hands for economic rehabilitation.

Boiling Point

Philadelphia, June 10—(AP)—Magistrate Nathan A. Belief fined Adam Sankalavicus $100 and costs for refusing three times to let a state inspector check the hot-water boiler at his tailor shop.

Then an inspector examined the boiler and found it in tip-top shape, fully eligible for a $3 annual certificate.

City Can't Pay For Street Work Without Ordinance

Frankfort, Ky., June 20—(AP)—The city or the property owners cannot legally pay for a $5,900 street resurfacing job in Jackson because an ordinance was lacking and bids were not asked, Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit said today.

W. M. Bailey, mayor of Jackson, said that while he was in the hospital the acting mayor and city council, in good faith, hastily ordered the street paved to get a low price from a contractor who had the material nearby.

Bailey wondered if the property owners on the street could be assessed.

Because no ordinance for the paving was enacted and because bids were not asked, Dummit said it looked like it would be illegal for the city or the property owners to pay.

American railroads average 100 pounds of freight hauled 310 miles every day for every inhabitant of the United States.

Joe Majczek, pardoned by Illinois Governor Dwight Green in 1945 after serving 12 years of a 99-year sentence imposed in the 1932 holdup slaying of Policeman William Lundy, embraces his mother, Mrs. Tillie Majczek, in Chicago, June 18, after learning that Illinois State approved an appropriation of $24,000 to compensate for the years he spent in prison. Payment of the money is subject to approval by Governor Green.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
 Detroit, June 20—(AP)—After nearly a year of waiting, committees representing organized baseball and the college coaches are due to get together next week to discuss an agreement about letting college ball players stay in school... and the betting is about 6, 2 and even that they won't agree... They talked it over once and got nowhere and this time Commissioner Happy Chandler explains: "We'll do all we can to keep the boys in college. We'd like to go all the way, but I'm not sure we can under the circumstances. It is the competition from football that worries us."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
 One of the hard luck guys of the current golf tourney is young Jackson Bradley, assistant to Jimmy Hines at a Chicago club... he shot two sub-par rounds, 71 and 70, and then found that if he hadn't blown himself to an eight on the 17th hole Wednesday he would have led Jimmy Demaree for the medal... Former amateur and open champ Lawson Little maintains he concentrates less as a pro than he did in his amateur days because "We're in the show business"... Maybe he should have turned amateur again yesterday... Mickey Cochran and Charley Gehring will manage a pair of American Legion all-star teams for a game at Briggs Stadium Sunday. And the fans who have been watching the Tigers lately probably wish they were back to stay.

COULDN'T CHANGE HIM
 Chick Warner, Penn State track coach, has been puzzled at the way his star miler, Gerry Karver, keeps starting at the center path while he gallops around... while Gerry was tuning up for the N. C. A. A. and A. A. U. meets the other day, Warner decided to test him by tossing a handful of coins on the track in front of the runner... Karver made two more laps without lifting his eyes or noticing the dough and later explained: "I guess my mind is somewhere else."

Two Tenth-Inning Singles Give Chicks 3-2 Win At Hopkinsville

The Chicks pushed across the winning run in the first of the tenth inning at Hopkinsville last night to beat the Hoppers 3-2 and move up a rung on the Kitty League ladder to fifth place.
 The Hoppers tied up the ball game in the last of the ninth to force it into an extra frame. Jake Propst, Chicks first sacker, singled to left field and went on to second when Richardson fumbled the ball. Pechous singled to bring him home with the clinching score, and the Hoppers were held to another zero in the last of the tenth.
 Pechous hit a long homer over the left field wall in the second with nobody on to give Fulton its first run. In the fifth inning Engel singled, Buck made an out, and Gray followed with another single that scored Engel after Rhodes, Hoptown centerfielder, let the ball get away from him.
 The Chicks played heads-up ball all the way, completing four twin killings and being charged with only one error. Engel allowed the losers only eight hits and gave up two walks.
 The Chicks now are just half a game behind Union City and Madisonville, tied for fourth place, and only one game out of third place.

 They play the Hoppers here again tonight and Saturday night.

Top Race Winning At State Tomorrow In Brooklyn 'Cap

New York, June 20—(AP)—The world money-winning mark of $561,161 owned by Warren Wright's Whirlaway will be at stake tomorrow when they run the Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct.
 The record has held since 1943 when the Calumet Farm's chestnut champion hung up his racing shoes after a four-year career during which he ran off with most of the major honors of the American turf, including the Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple crown of 1941.
 Either of two Texas-bred titans can dethrone Mr. Longtail by winning Saturday's $50,000, mile and a quarter Brooklyn. Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Styne is in second place with $546,435, while King Ranch's Assault has banked away $538,570.

Wall Street Report

New York, June 20—(AP)—A number of leading stocks extended their recovery in today's market although dissenters persisted.

Motors tilted upward in moderately active early dealings and were followed by many other industrials and rails. Some chemicals and electrical equipment issues lagged. Pace of trading was fairly well maintained and quotations were irregularly higher near midday.

Frominent gainers included the recently weak American Telephone, Chrysler (which touched a new 1947 high), General Motors, U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Electric Power & Light, Air Reduction and Philip Morris. Behind at times were Kennebec, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Philip Dodge, Union Carbide and Allied Chemical.

Rail bonds improved. Commodities were mixed.

He said he was "fairly convinced" the current measure would weaken the economy and weaken the unity of the people.

Was Second Veto

The President's veto was the second one slapped on legislation developed by the Republican-dominated Congress in line with pledges made by party speakers in last year's political campaigns which gave it control of the national legislature. Two big GOP campaign promises were:

1. A reduction in taxes.

2. Revision of the labor laws.

Mr. Truman vetoed their tax-cutting bill last Monday and the House upheld his action by a two vote margin.

Today's action swept away any remnants of White House-Congress cooperation in the domestic field that had survived last Monday's veto.

Disagreeing with the whole philosophy of the labor measure, the President declared it would be "a dangerous stride in the direction of a totally managed economy" and said it contains seeds of discord which would plague this nation for years to come.

Made Four Tests

In an analysis of the legislation, the President declared he had put it to four tests. He said:

1. That he had considered whether it would result in more or less government intervention in our economic life and concluded it would "inject the government deeply into the process by which employers and workers reach agreement" and "superimpose bureaucratic procedures on the free decisions of local employers and employees."

2. That in a second basic test as to whether it would improve "human relations" between management and labor, he had concluded "it would encourage distrust, suspicion and arbitrary attitudes," inviting "costly time-consuming litigation, inevitably embittering both parties."

3. On the third "basic test" as to whether the bill is workable, he had concluded it is not and that so-called "emergency procedure" for coping with nation-wide strikes "would require an immense amount of government effort but would result almost inevitably in failure."

4. On a "test of fairness," he said, the bill "prescribes unequal penalties for the same offense," requiring the National Labor Relations Board "to give priority to charges against workers over related charges against employers," discriminating against workers "by arbitrarily penalizing them for all critical strikes."
