Gaming Probed At Hoptown And Louisville Targets Include Slot Machines, Dice, Bookies

SUITS ARE FILED

By The Associated Press
Official action was under way today against alleged gambling spots in two Kentucky cities—Louisville and Hopkinsville. Suits were filed in circuit court at Louisville to padlock seven places described as alleged gambling establishments. The petition asserted the places created "a public nuisance and social menace."

Charles E. Keller filed the Louisville suits against places located near Churchill Downs race track, home of the Kentucky Derby. He said he acted for a group whose identity he said he was not at liberty to disclose without members' permission.

Keller said the suit, brought in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, were filed with permission of State Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit and Commonwealth's Attorney Frank A. Ropke.

Dummit said he wasn't acquainted with details of the case but that he had discussed them with Ropke and "assured him he would have the full cooperation of my office in prosecuting them."

At Hopkinsville, six private clubs were indicted by the Christian county grand jury on charges of allowing slot machines to be set up and operated on their premises.

The establishments were named as operated by the Business Men's Club, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion chapters, and the Elks, Moose and Eagles Clubs. The order of Eagles was named in a second indictment, charging it with maintaining a nuisance. Indictments were returned against two individuals accused of supplying the clubs with the machines. They were named as H. F. Whitfield of Hopkinsville and Michael Morrison, listed as an Ohio resident.

J. C. King and George Funk, operators of Hopkinsville confederates, were indicted on charges the allegedly permitted pull or punch boards of chance to be operated in their shops.

The grand jury asserted race horse betting and "crap" games had been carried on in Hopkinsville with "these and other forms of gambling, operating for some time without being molested by the police department."

Blonde Hostess Tells Of Constellation Crash On Syrian Desert That Killed 14 Of 36 Aboard

Istanbul, June 21—(AP)—Miss Jane Bray, blonde hostess on the ill-fated Clipper Eclipse, told today how the 36 aboard waited amid the roar of flames for the inevitable crash which killed 14. Under the bright stars of a serene Syrian sky, the Pan American Constellation, her port wing afire, hurtled toward the desert with a mighty screech, landed on her belly, ground-looped and split.

The 28-year-old Memphis, Tenn., girl, who ignored her own broken foot and worked over the survivors until she collapsed, told this story:

"She went to sleep knowing that one motor was feathered. She was awakened by flames whipping past the port windows. She saw the purser and the third officer standing in the aisle."

"I knew then it was bad. They came to me and said 'Get your belt fastened tight.'"

"Then all of us called to the passengers to get their belts on. There was not a sign of panic. 'Nimbalakar Rajkumar, the Indian prince got up and went over to his mother, the Rani. (Both were among the survivors.) Everybody else sat still and we just waited."

"I looked out. The number 2 motor was afire and it seemed to have spread to the wing. I looked up and even through the fire I could see bright stars."

"Everything else was black. Suddenly there was a hard jar. The burning motor had fallen loose. 'The wing kept burning and we were coming down and it seemed we were circling. We waited... waited... waited. We hit hard on the belly. The plane swung hard to the left and split in two, well forward. Flames poured in and the heat became terrific."

"We who could jumped out. The other survivors were handed down and did what we could for them. The Rani had a head injury and had lost some teeth, and was in a rather bad way, but we finally quieted her."

"All we could do was watch while the plane burned, slowly at first and then fiercely. There wasn't any sound but those flames. Everyone who died must have been killed outright."

Europe's Fate Is In Balance

Will Reds Join Allies In One-World Program Or Expand Soviet Sphere

London, June 21—(AP)—This weekend may bring one of the decisive moments in Europe's tangled history—and the decision lies in the mind of Prime Minister Stalin.

His problem: shall Russia join Britain and France in planning an economic "one world" for Europe, perhaps at the cost of a slipping Red grip on Middle-European governments, or shall she cast aside the chance to unite Europe and go her own way in her own politico-economic sphere in the east?

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, practiced in grasping the "breaks" of trade-union warfare, snatched at U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall's skeletonized offer of June 5 to help rebuild Europe.

He called on French Premier Paul Ramadier and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. In two days—in Paris last Tuesday and Wednesday—this potent European trio dispatched to Russia a call to join them—and to decide by next Monday whether the Soviet Union will come in.

Russia's officially inspired Communist newspaper Pravda greeted Marshall's plan with a single blast and then relapsed into silence. Now the Russian news agency Tass announces that the government is "considering" the matter.

Holdup Men Steal $190

Clarence Bowden Hit And Robbed On Way Home From Visit To Carnival

Clarence Bowden, 27, told police he was slugged and robbed of $190 shortly before midnight Friday as he was walking on his some southwest of the South Fulton school building.

The holdup victim said he had been to the J. A. Gentisch carnival on Highway 45, and was walking down a gravel road off the Martin highway when he was stopped by two men, one of whom pointed a gun at him.

The man with the gun demanded his wallet, Bowden said, and the other man moved out of the shadow of the tree to take it from him. When the second robber came between him and the gunman, Bowden said he hit him. The robber then knocked Bowden unconscious, and when he recovered the two men had fled, taking $190 from his wallet.

Bowden said he thought the man who hit him was a negro, and the other a white man.

Wallace, Not GOP Termed Truman's Biggest Headache

Washington, June 21—(AP)—A Kentucky Republican leader told the House that President Truman's most serious problem is not tax or labor bills but former Vice-President Henry Wallace.

He has had a very serious problem before him for some time and it was not the tax or labor bills. It is one Mr. Henry Wallace."

The Kentuckian said he was informed many Democrats urged the veto of both the tax and labor bills after a discussion of Wallace and the threat of a third party.

Weary Senate Still Undecided When To Take Labor Bill Vote

Taylor's Eight-Hour Soliloquy Is No Filibuster—But Effective

Washington, June 21—(AP)—Senator Glen Taylor (D-Idaho), a former test show thespian, had one of those parts actors dream about today.

He held the stage for hours on end without once vanishing into the wings.

Except for the lines he tossed to a few other characters, the part was a soliloquy.

He wasn't filibustering, he said. No, he just wanted the Senate to think things over a while before voting whether to override President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley labor bill.

Curtain time for Taylor was 6:50 p. m. yesterday.

He was still going strong when the Senate clerk tore another page off the calendar at midnight.

He chatted easily to his sleepy colleagues about Sunday fishing trips, Wall Street plots against the West, and the unfair distribution of children among married couples.

Some of Taylor's observations: "The Republicans want to get quick action on the labor bill because it sticks to high Heaven and they're anxious to get rid of it so they won't have to smell it."

Taylor has three sons; his brother-in-law has three daughters. "It's unfair distribution, that's what it is—just like the Republicans are aiding and abetting in this country."

Taylor's father, a preacher, baptized thousands of persons— "he baptized me twice, and I could probably stand another baptizing right now. It wouldn't hurt me."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) gave Taylor's voice a few minutes rest by phrasing an elaborate question.

Taylor told him: "You are not only the best orator in the Senate, but the best question-asker. I never have to even listen to the Senator when he starts asking me a question, because I know he will never go off the beam and cause me to lose the floor."

"By the way, what was your question?"

When Taylor finally gave up the floor shortly after 3 a. m. for a quorum call, he had been going for eight hours and 25 minutes.

Clapp Praises TVA Progress

Says Its Real Value Measured By Health, Happiness It Produces

Muscle Shoals, Ala., June 21—(AP)—Gordon R. Clapp, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, described the giant power development in an address here yesterday as a new approach to the easier and more effective use of energy for better living.

Speaking before home and nation committees of the Associated Farm Women and home demonstration agents, Clapp said the ultimate success of TVA's contribution to the strength of the Tennessee Valley region will be measured by the amount of human health and happiness produced by the Valley's physical and engineering accomplishment.

"As its contribution to achievement of this objective," Clapp said, "the TVA has been concerned with developing, controlling and utilizing two great categories of natural energy: water power and land power."

"To these I would add a third source of energy; the energy that is generated or mobilized and guided by a community when it organizes itself around projects and purposes that benefit members of the community. In the valley we have come a long way from where we started, but we should not forget that we have a long way to go."

Warrant Obtained In Cutting Charge
A warrant for the arrest of Tommy Burge, 25, of Stubblefield, was obtained yesterday in Fulton by Mrs. Gladys Watson of near Wingo. Burge is charged with malicious cutting with intent to kill upon the person of Leon Sisson, 17 year old son of Mrs. Watson.

The alleged attack took place Thursday, June 19, on the Hickman highway just out of Fulton. Sisson was treated at a local hospital and released.

Veto Supporters Fight Doggedly To Delay Ballot

MORSE HOLDS FLOOR

Washington, June 21—(AP)—Frazzled Senators still were far from agreement today on fixing a time for a vote on President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley labor control bill. An end to their all-day, all-night wrangling was nowhere in sight after nearly 24 hours of continuous session.

As a small band of veto supporters continued their desperate effort to delay a final judgment until next week, Senate Republican Leader Whelan of Maine said an effort will be made to reach an agreement for a vote Monday.

This announcement came after White conceded it would be virtually impossible to force a vote anytime today on the veto which the House easily overrode yesterday almost immediately after it had arrived from the White House.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.), one of the group determined to delay a vote until the nation has time to react to Mr. Truman's radio address of last night supporting his veto message, still held the floor as the Senate approached its 24th hour of continuous session.

There was no opportunity for the Republican leaders, dead set in their hopes of overriding the veto and making the bill law, to dicker for a vote Monday until Morse quit talking.

There was a possible chance that once Morse gave up the Senate might agree finally on White's proposal to vote Monday and go home for much-needed weekend rest.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), like Morse an opponent of the bill, earlier had tried a similar move, but the Republicans, aided by a number of Democrats, smashed that effort, 50 to 14. Opponents have been holding out to prevent a vote before Tuesday at the earliest.

Morse began his speech at 4:30 a. m. (CST). After he had talked more than five hours, Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), another opponent of the bill, sought to give the Oregonian a brief rest by asking unanimous consent for a quorum call without jeopardizing Morse's rights to continue talking.

Senator Ives (R-NY) promptly objected.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), presiding at the time, told Morse that if he had yielded that this would have been treated as "one speech" and additional remarks would be a second and final speech under Senate rules.

"I feel fine," Morse said. "This is my first speech on this bill. I am going to make another one tomorrow."

Meanwhile, Senator Byrd (D-Va.) issued a statement predicting that the Senate like the House, will override the President's veto. But the vote will be "closer than many think," Byrd said, adding, "never have I seen such terrific pressure exerted upon the Senate."

Three Held Guilty Of Bank Robbery

Owensboro, Ky., June 21—(AP)—Three men received penitentiary terms for their admitted participation in the $10,250 robbery of the Farmers Bank of Clay, Ky., after a federal court jury yesterday reported itself unable to reach a verdict in the trial of a fourth defendant.

Federal Judge Mac Swinford reset the case of Rudy Carrier, 32, Henderson, Ky., taxi cab driver, for the November term of court here. Carrier, charged with robbery, was returned to Warren county jail at Bowling Green. The jury was out an hour and 20 minutes before its report and dismissal.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Detroit, June 21.—(AP)—Although a golf match ordinarily consists of 18 holes, the pros are squawking about the 18 hole match just the way the amateurs did when a few of the better ones were knocked out early last fall. The main difference is that there were more pros with big reputations to suffer yesterday. Ben Hogan, who took his first-round defeat pretty hard, maintained, "Golf is the most disappointing game in the world. It's not like a team sport where there are others to share your disappointment when you lose. You're all alone." . . . and when Sammy Snead was coming up to the clubhouse after losing in the second round, Jimmy Demaret, who didn't last that long, called, "Hey, Sam." Snead tried to grin, waved his putter and replied, "I'm with you, boy."

Hoppers Break 4-4 Tie, Win By Lone Score

Chicks Got All Runs In Eighth

The Chicks' phenomenal seven-game winning streak was snapped at Hopkinsville last night as the Hoppers squeezed out a close 5-4 defeat with a lone run in the eighth inning to break a 4-4 tie. It was Fulton's second loss in ten starts.

Elsewhere in the Kitty last night, Clarksville thumped Union City 14-13 and 4-3. In two close tilts, Cairo took Madisonville 10-5; and the Mayfield Clothiers humbled the Owensboro Oilers 10-3.

All of which left the league race in a somewhat confused condition. Mayfield and Owensboro are tied for first place now, as each has won 23 and lost 15. Cairo is in third place and Madisonville fourth, 5 1/2 and 7 games out of first, respectively. Just one rung down the ladder are Fulton, Union City and Hopkinsville, all with 22 wins and 24 losses to put them 7 1/2 games behind the leaders.

Clarksville has undisputed possession of the eighth spot, 17 games out of first.

At Hopkinsville last night the Chicks concentrated their scoring punch in the eighth inning to tally four times and tie the score. Gray led off for Fulton by grounding out. Propst doubled, and Pechous singled to score the first baseman. Peterson flied out. Dusty Rhoades' bunt brought Pechous home, and Seawright doubled to score Rhodes. Seawright came home on a single by Lis. Manager Biggs struck out.

Hopkinsville's Rhodes started the bottom half of the eighth with a single. Chapman hit a grounded that forced Rhodes out at second, but Fulton's Dusty Rhodes heaved the ball into the bleachers in attempting a double play and Chapman went to second. Rhodes' great hit to left field, bringing in Chapman with the winning run.

The Chicks-Hoppers series at Hopkinsville ends tonight, and Fulton takes on Clarksville three times here starting Sunday, June 22. They play the Hoppers at home June 24, 25 and 26.

Says Increased Income Needed

This Is Key To Progress U. K. Professor Tells Committee For Kentucky

"The increase of the per capita income in Kentucky is the key to a fuller educational and cultural development," said Dr. Ernest Greene Trimble, department of political science, University of Kentucky, in reading from his report on labor in Kentucky.

Dr. Trimble presented his report on labor to the 85 member organization of the Committee for Kentucky at its annual meeting held at the Henry Clay Hotel in Louisville Thursday night.

"A higher wage level will mean increased purchasing power which will in turn promote a greater prosperity," Dr. Trimble said, "but in order that organized labor may make the necessary advance it must merit and obtain the active and enlightened support of the public, and the sympathetic cooperation of the employers of the state."

"Capital and labor must learn that each has rights and responsibilities," Dr. Trimble urged, "and that their mutual interests require intelligent and fair collective bargaining."

The report indicates that in the last five years the number of employees in most individual industry groups has increased and the total in all groups has increased despite the fact that the population of the state has declined slightly through civilian migration and through loss to the armed forces.

"This increase in the total number of private wage and salary workers," the author said, "indicates that Kentucky is on the march."

Although Kentucky is below the national average in the percent of skilled workers, as well as all neighboring states except one, our workers are acquiring skills and Kentucky is gradually swelling its body of skilled and semi-skilled people, he added.

"The economic welfare of labor can be determined by the income of the State and labor's share of that income. In Kentucky," he said, "labor receives a smaller percent—52.2% of the state's total income payments."

Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati Reds pitcher, gets a close squint at the ball used in the final inning of his no-hit game against the Boston Braves at Cincinnati, Ohio, in the first no-hit game of the season (June 18).

Miner Pilot Is Suspended

Zubik Blew His Top At Cairo-Madisonville Game

Madisonville Miner Manager Frank Zubik was fined $50 and suspended for 10 days by Kitty League President Shelby Peace in connection with vigorous protests Zubik made at a game at Madisonville Thursday night. The suspension is being held in abeyance until a complete investigation is made by a representative of the president's office.

It, angry protest against a decision by base umpire Bramlett in the seventh inning, a verdict which swayed the odds in favor of the Cairo Egyptians, a group of more than 400 Madisonville fans blocked the Kitty arbiter's exit from Municipal stadium at Madisonville after the game and forced his departure, under police escort, at the third base gate. Cairo won the ball game with a two-run rally in the ninth.

Zubik chased Bramlett back and forth between the mound and second base until the umpire at last ordered the Miner skipper out of the game.

Plenty Of Help Offered Mountains On Naming A Son

Denver—(AP)—When a first child was born two years ago to Mr. and Mrs. Walt Mountain, they named him Rocky after a minimum of debate.

Expecting a second child recently, they had it all figured the newcomer would be a girl and would be christened Sierra. The stark crossed them up and delivered another boy and they were stymied for a while but finally came up with Sandy.

One day this week Mr. Evans received his electric bill for last month. He is almost afraid to go and pay it, for fear he may discover it is a figment of a beautiful dream. Lo, these many years he has been paying KU about twelve dollars per month for his electricity. That includes lights, refrigeration, radio, cooking and operating the small attachments in common use around a house.

In his rented house he maintains exactly the same set up. No wonder he was so eager to show me the statement he received for last month. Somebody had just given him eleven dollars! Yes, eleven dollars. His bill for one month was one dollar. There was a note on the card that if the bill were not paid by a certain day this month, there would be a slight increase in the amount due, making the bill one dollar and ten cents. I think Mr. Evans is going to wait until the statement is overdue so that he can pay the extra dime.

I respectfully submit the above to the city fathers of Fulton. I humbly ask them to consider ways and means of making the benefits of TVA available to the people of Fulton. I have heard all of the stories about KU being owned by Kentuckians, about the amount of taxes they pay and all of the industry they bring to our state. I have never heard how much money they have taken from the people of Kentucky.

It wouldn't make any difference to me if KU were owned lock, stock and barrel by a citizen of Fulton. I don't know anyone in town I want to give eleven dollars a month just because he lives here. TVA belongs to all the people. It is operated solely for their benefit. Let's find a way to secure some of those benefits.

One other thing, Mr. Evans, who is also treasurer of the Fulton baseball association, tells me that it costs about eighteen dollars to light the ball park here for one night game. He also tells me that Madisonville, using TVA power, pays one dollar per night.

Let's get TVA in Fulton.

through a glass darkly

By ERL SENSING

It seems that I have the unhappy faculty of putting my foot into trouble every time I put it down. A toe is always stepped upon. I have heard this column of mine called a "dim glass"—I think I heard that word "dim" right. I sit up late at night worrying over this. It is all that I can do to get eight hours of sleep and still be at work by seven o'clock.

This time I think I'll step on a giant's toe. Perhaps, after I tell this little story a great number of people will join me and we'll dance around on the feet of the giant. In order that there will be no misunderstanding, this giant that I speak of is Kentucky Utilities—KU as it is commonly called.

Like many others who make their home in Fulton, I have often wondered why it is that we who live here within approximately fifty miles of one of the biggest dams in the TVA buy our electric power from a private utility. It doesn't make sense to me. Millions upon millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money went into the construction of this dam and others upon and down the length of the Tennessee river.

If I understand the fundamental principles of government correctly, that means, simply, that the TVA is ours. It seems strange that we do not use that which is ours. There can be only one reason for this—someone is preventing us from using TVA power. It is obvious who this someone is. I think it is high time we accept the challenge and begin our fight to obtain TVA in Fulton.

If anyone feels convincing that we could profit by buying our electric power from TVA, I'll tell how one man profited by switching from KU to TVA or REA. Walter Evans, who operates a drug store on Lake street and has for a number of years made his home on Eddings street, has torn down his old house there and is building a new one on the same lot. While construction is going on he is living in a rented house out on the Union City highway. This house he rents is an REA.

Hospital Bed Named For Dog That Lost Master

Sydney, Australia—(AP)—Probably the only dog in Australia—if not in the world—to have a hospital bed endowed in his name was a cattle dog called "Bluey" who died in Sydney. "Bluey's" master was a tramp who was critically injured in a road accident and admitted to St. George's District Hospital at Kogarah (Sydney suburb). "Bluey" traveled in the ambulance with his master. After his master was admitted, "Bluey" waited at the entrance gates. His master died but "Bluey" wouldn't leave the gates. He waited for his master for some years during which time hospital employees and local residents fed him daily. When "Bluey" died recently, Kogarah residents touched by his devotion to his dead master, collected enough to endow a hospital bed in the St. George's District Hospital in his name.

I. C. Shop Talk

Conductor E. P. Stevens, who has been in the Illinois Central hospital in Chicago for the past three weeks, is getting along as well as could be expected.

Several I. C. employees were in Chicago Friday to receive gold passes as tokens of appreciation for 50 years' service. From this locality were P. H. Ryan, locomotive engineer, former traveling engineer on the Fulton District, Paducah; Dr. Hargroves, Hickory; and John Chester, engineer, Memphis. Agent Elvins, Obion, Tenn., was unable to make the trip, and his pass will be sent to him. Awarding the passes is an annual event.

F. A. Fitzpatrick, assistant trainmaster, and Mrs. Fitzpatrick are spending a two-week vacation in Freeport, Ill.

The I. C. moved about 500 carloads of strawberries from Paducah and 35 cars from Mayfield.

The number of passengers on the new City of New Orleans is increasing daily, it's reported.

Miss Carolyn Faucett has returned to work here as ticket clerk after an extended leave of absence. She has been attending the University of Southern California since September.

Miss Irene Beaver, ticket clerk, is visiting various parts of Texas on her vacation.

T. C. Nelms, traveling engineer, spent Friday in Memphis.

M. M. Matlock, general foreman of the Fulton shops, will return to work Monday after a two-week vacation.

E. R. McMahon, trainmaster, spent Friday in Jackson, Tenn.

Mrs. C. S. Selsor is spending the weekend in Champaign, Ill.

What We Believe

Charles L. Houser

The Jewish priesthood, as a definite body, dated from the appointment of Aaron and his sons as priests of Jehovah (Exodus 28:1). Those priests were all descendants of Aaron, Moses' brother—the legal head of the house of Aaron in that generation being High Priest (Cf. Exodus 28:1).

The things of the law of Moses, under which those Levitical priests served, were but types or shadows of the various things of the New Covenant—the Gospel of Christ (Heb. 8:1-5 Heb. 10:1). Hence, as the first High Priest, Aaron, was a type of Christ, who is the High Priest of this, the Christian dispensation (Heb. 9:11-28 and 1 Tim. 2:5).

The other or regular priests of Old Testament days were types, not of a select few, but of all Christians. For unto ALL Christians an apostle of Christ wrote, "Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ" (1 Pet. 2:5). "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light" (1 Pet. 2:9). Therefore, every faithful Christian who daily offers prayers to God and who presents his own body as a living sacrifice, is not only serving his Lord, but is also officiating as a priest of the New Covenant.

That no man is to be singled out from among his fellows in a religious sense, be called "father," is evidenced by the following words of our Savior, "But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven." (Matt. 23:8,9).

New Plane May Take The Air At 15 MPH, Land In 50 Feet

Hagerstown, Md.—(AP)—Inventor Willard R. Custer says he has given a new twist to airplane wings which will make them lift or land a plane in 50 feet of space, at 15 miles per hour or less, on just about any terrain—and I'm not talking about a helicopter.

"I simply reversed conventional aerodynamics by moving the air over the wings instead of moving the wings through the air," he explains.

Custer says he can do this by "twisting" the wings into two channels with adjustable pitch propellers at the rear.

"Instead of moving the ship down a long runway through the air at high speed to get off the ground," he says, "the rear propellers move the air over the wing at high speed until lift is obtained."

"With an ordinary plane, air pressure is built up beneath it as the wing is forced through the air on a runway. A helicopter gets vertical lift by rotating its overhead fan-like wings at high speed."

"I accomplish the lift by forcing air over the wings much as a wind tunnel operates. I reduce the pressure above the wing by the propeller's sucking action at the rear and let the undisturbed pressure of nearly a ton per square foot below the wing lift the plane."

Custer's planes—a full-scale ship built in 1943 and one now under construction for test flights this fall—have stubby wings that look something like half barrels flanking its fuselage.

He says tests on working models by the Air Materiel Command at Wright Field showed the plane had a vertical lift comparable to that of a helicopter.

Custer contends his plane is the answer to bringing aviation within reach of everybody's back yard. He says the plane, which would operate without the expense of long runways, can be built for two passengers for approximately $1,000.

"The crash hazards of blind approaches and landings at high speeds are eliminated," he says. "The channel wing means a plane can sink slowly to earth through the worst weather onto deep snow or any other kind of ground."

Custer got his first patents in 1929, while working as an automotive engineer. He made his first test with a full-scale model

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!... The Soldiers are Marching!

Yes, this is the season in which the people of this great country pause to celebrate the anniversary of its independence.

The children of the picture may not understand the full meaning of freedom and independence, but they know it means something grand and glorious—something that calls for parading and drum-beating and flag-waving.

It is a wise custom which prompts us to cultivate in the minds of our children a deep and abiding love of their country and a sense of responsibility for its safety and welfare. No nation can be great without patriotic citizens.

The two great factors in our national growth and prosperity have been patriotism and faith. As we walked through the years, alongside our duties and responsibilities as citizens, we planted our national motto, "In God We Trust."

The churches of America are the custodians of our religious faith. Through them we have imparted to the people a knowledge of God and a sense of His overruling providence. They have played a great part in the building of this nation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, our four sound reasons why every person should attend (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
