Should Kentuckians nominate and elect me to the high office of governor, it is my purpose to redraft J. Stephen Watkins to continue his great road building and maintenance program."

Suspected In Parents' Death

Tompkinsville, Ky., June 25—(AP)—Date of an examining trial for Robert Bates, charged with murder in connection with the slaying of his parents, is expected to be set when the 25-year-old war veteran is arraigned today before County Judge Fred Evans.

Monroe County Attorney A. P. Carter said yesterday that Ahil Bennett, Tompkinsville negro who was arrested with Bates at Nashville, was being held as an accessory to the murder of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Bates. Carter said he was convinced the negro was a victim of circumstances. He added that Bennett will be used as a material witness.

The bodies of the doctor and his wife, both chiropractors, were found in their home Monday by Sheriff Felin Ford during a routine inquiry. Young Bates had been arrested at Nashville, on a drunkenness charge and Ford had gone to the Bates' home after Nashville authorities had telephoned him for a checkup on the youth.

The sheriff found the bodies of the couple, with bullet holes in the heads.

Bates, who denied knowledge of his parent's deaths, was returned here from Nashville and was lodged in the Monroe county jail to await his arraignment.

Only a bit of roof and the name plate of the railway station at Agency, Mo., appear above the flood waters of the Platte River which is eight to ten feet deep over much of the northwestern Missouri town. Most of the residents of Agency were evacuated from their homes.

Less Red Tape Now When Vets Apply For Civil Service

To minimize "red tape" through which veterans must go in order to receive disability preference credit in civil service, the U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced that discharge certificates showing award of the Purple Heart or injury received in action are good indefinitely as proof of disability, entitling the veteran to ten-point disability preference.

In addition, a disability certificate, issued by the Veterans Administration to World War I veterans on or after July 1, 1935, or to World War II veterans which shows certain static (chronic) disabilities or injuries received in action, is good indefinitely as proof for granting disability preference. Formerly under the old requirement many of these certificates were acceptable as proof for only six months after date of issuance.

Mayfield Has Strike Row

Five Milling Company Strikers Are Accused Of Intimidating Others

Mayfield—Five striking employees of the Mayfield Milling Company were arrested yesterday morning on charges of banding and confederating to intimidate after they allegedly tried to prevent other employees from entering the plant.

H. Clay Shelton, assistant manager of the plant, was charged with assault in another warrant issued from Graves county court after the strikers declared he had tried to run into several of them with an automobile leaving the plant's office at noon.

All five strikers made bond of $500 for their appearance in Graves county court July 2, and Shelton made a $500 bond for appearance the same day.

Fourteen workers at the milling company's plant went on strike yesterday morning charging discrimination among the employees after the men joined Paducah Local 236, AFL. Teamsters and Chauffeurs union recently. Only about half the plant's force remains on the job.

Collins said "I'll leave that for others to decide" on what to do with the money. A son, George Collins, Lexington businessman, said he understood his father planned to leave the money on deposit with the insurance company to draw interest.

Paducah Picks New Manager

Paducah—Victor C. Hobday, 33-year-old native of Falmouth, Ky., and former chief of the budget bureau of the U. S. Army military government in Korea, last night was appointed city manager here to succeed Charles A. Williams.

Hobday informed Mayor Wayne C. Seaton that he would arrive in Paducah on or before July 1, when Williams' resignation is effective.

Williams, whose home was in South Fulton, resumed the position April 29. He became acting city manager March 13, 1946, at the age of 31. He was the youngest city manager in the city's history. Ike To Head Columbia U.

Bradley Likely Successor As Army Chief Of Staff When Eisenhower Retires

Washington, June 25—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who led Allied armies to victory in North Africa and Europe, will become president of Columbia University when he is relieved as Army chief of staff probably early next year.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the veterans administrator, was regarded today as Eisenhower's likely successor in the Army's top job. Eisenhower also has been elected a member of the university's board of trustees. As president, he succeeds Nicholas Murray Butler, who retired in 1945.

Associates of the five-star general said last night he has discussed his departure from the service with President Truman and Secretary of War Patterson, but without submitting a formal request for release.

A War Department announcement of Eisenhower's plans said, however, that he has taken the Columbia post "with the approval of the President of the United States and Secretary of War" effective "at such time as his superiors may release him from active duty in the Army."

The statement added that "with no radical change in the current outlook it should be sometime during the first half of 1946."

Bradley has long been mentioned as his apparent if Eisenhower should step out as chief of staff. He directs the Army Ground Forces in the victorious European campaign when Eisenhower was supreme commander of the Allied armies in that theater.

He has made no secret of his desire to resume his Army career as soon as possible.

35,000 Kentucky Coal Miners Protest Bill By Quitting Work

By The Associated Press

The number of idle Kentucky coal miners increased today to approximately 35,000, as additional AFL-UMW Mine Workers in eastern and western parts of the state joined in yesterday's walkouts.

The work stoppages, which operators said came as a protest against passage of the Taft-Hartley labor bill, cut Kentucky's coal production to less than half the normal output. Approximately 50,000 UMW members are employed normally in the state.

Reports today from Muhlenberg county, located in the Western Kentucky field, said virtually all UMW-manned pits in that area were idle. They normally employ about 4,000 men.

All big mines in the "Big Sandy-Elkhorn field of Eastern Kentucky were reported closed today, along with most of the 400 truck mines in that area.

In Harlan county, the 43 UMW-manned pits were closed, leaving only the Benham mine of the International Harvester Company still operating. It is operated by Independent Progressive Mine Workers employees.

Field representatives of the AFL-UMW workers at Harlan said yesterday they had "never seen the miners so aroused before."

35,000 Kentucky Coal Miners Protest Bill By Quitting Work

Many miners thronged the streets at Harlan yesterday, and merchants were grim. Said one merchant:

"I've been losing about $500 a month since the strike last fall. Until now, I kept hoping there'd be a break, but right now you can say I'm plenty worried."

Many of the miners openly expressed themselves.

James Jones, 68, a veteran in the mines, said, "I'll never dig another jump of coal. I think this labor law is the rottenest deal the miners ever had. I've quit for good." Then he added:

"I'm afraid the miners' going out won't help much, though. I expect they'll come to their senses pretty soon—we couldn't afford to fight against the government."

Ben Mason, miner from Three Point, said he didn't believe the labor bill will ever go into effect. "I certainly don't think it should. All labor is against it," he added.

A union official who asked that his name be withheld said "of course, we have no official comment." Operators had little comment but George S. Warr, secretary of the Harlan county Coal Operators' Association, summed the situation up thus:

"The men just didn't come to work."

These coal miners, protesting the Taft-Hartley labor bill, tacked up a sign reading, "Let the Senators Dig Coal," on the wall of a restaurant-tavern in Richeyville, Pa.

Give 'Em A Chance

We heard a comparative newcomer to Fulton say the other day that he wouldn't go into one of the business houses here because the owner "deliberately didn't speak" once when he met him at the street.

This attitude is not at all unusual, here or anywhere else, and there's not much incentive to do business with a man who snubs you deliberately. But we wondered at the time just how many times one is snubbed deliberately.

Lots of people who are merely timid and shy unconsciously create the impression that they're cold and aloof, when nothing would please them more than to widen their circle of personal friends—if they just knew how to break the ice. Myopia, or nearsightedness, prevents many a chittry greeting because the victim simply can't see his friend or acquaintance across the street. The small-town snobs and snubbers, unfortunately, do exist, but they are not so numerous as many believe.

Pop's Stuck Again

Fickle Dame Fashion reportedly is ready to deal the American husband and father another low blow. The word is going around that a drastic change in women's clothing styles is about to take place. Some say dresses will increase in length this year until only the ankle is visible, which means, of course, that Mother and her daughters will be demanding complete new wardrobes.

The luckless breadwinner no longer can counter with a plea to "wear it out—make it do" which stood him in such good stead during the war years. Materials can be obtained, for a price, and it's no longer necessary to sacrifice chic for economy and durability.

Yessir, fellows, it looks like we have our backs to the wall. Perhaps it's just as well we stay there so nobody can see the shine on the well-worn britches that we can't replace while we rake and scrape to keep the missus in style.

Whither Moral Code?

Every year a few hit plays and best-selling novels portray the "other woman" as an enviable character living a carefree existence in an aura of roses, champagne and diamond bracelets, and meaning more to the men in her life than their dull, sock-darning, budget-balancing, child-bearing wives ever could.

Parents of young girls exposed to such propaganda try to offset it by pointing out that, in real life, the lady of light loves loses the respect of the community and can only look forward to a lonely and poverty-stricken old age.

Now an all-male jury in Mobile, Ala., has dealt this argument a blow. It has awarded a fifty-two-year-old divorcee a $120,000 share of estate of a wealthy lumberman, deceased.

She said the lumberman used to visit her apartment daily for lunch, rest and benefit of her opinions. She also testified that they had intimate relations.

If such association is to be widely recognized by courts as constituting services worth thousands of dollars, morals are changing.

—Louisville Times.

A Mayfield store, advertising a few selected white elephants in the Mayfield Messenger, explained: "Doctors bury their mistakes, lawyers' mistakes are sent to jail, wives divorce their mistakes—but we have to live ours."

Our Readers Say—

A TRIBUTE TO A FINE MAN
 It was a beautiful Lord's day morning that I first met him. He and his fine family had just moved to Fulton, and it was on their first Sunday here that they attended our Sunday School at the old Presbyterian church on East State Line. I liked the man from the very start. I liked his friendly manner and kind speech. From that day on he called me by my first name. I liked that.

Yes, Ford Landens was a fine man. He was a man whose place cannot easily be filled. He was a man who liked everybody, and there was never a night too dark, or too hard a rain, for him to go to the aid of his fellowman.

His family has suffered a great loss, and I'm sure I speak the sentiment of hundreds of his friends in extending our deepest sympathy to them.

—Henry M. Bethel.

Raleigh, N. C., June 25—(AP)—Marketing of the 1947 flue-cured tobacco crop will begin July 24, the same date as last year, on the Georgia-Florida belt. From there the auctions will move northward through the leaf country of the Carolinas and Virginia.

Can We Afford It?

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Ever since the so-called end of the last war the people of this country, uncomfortably mindful of Uncle Sam's terrific expenditure in money and resources, have been worrying quietly over whether his further adventures in aiding foreign nations have been justified by his remaining wealth.

The estimated cost of the conflict to America was some $330,000,000,000—a staggering figure which represents almost half the total expended by all the Allies combined. Of even greater concern was the heavy drain on our national resources like petroleum and iron.

The average citizen has had no gauge by which to judge just what this means to American's economy. He has been wondering whether we have been going beyond our means—whether we have by any chance been endangering our position as the world's leading power. His concern wasn't lessened some ten days ago when both former President Hoover and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan warned that the time had come for an accounting.

Vandenberg called for the creation of a council of Democrats and Republicans to study the problem of how far the U. S. A. could go in rescuing the war-torn countries. The Senator declared bluntly that "If America ever says, the world's hopes sag with her." Hoover asserted that the U. S. was "over-exporting" its resources and that she couldn't continue her present rate of gifts and loans "without further evil consequences to our stability."

Now comes President Truman's move in creating three committees of experts to determine the extent to which the United States may "safely and wisely plan" to aid foreign countries. The chief executive took cognizance of the fact that this is "a matter of grave concern to every American."

So in due course we shall hear the specialists' verdict on our economic status. And presumably our policy of foreign aid will be made to fit this verdict—a seven league stride in the right direction.

Still, with all that, there will remain a correlated question which a lot of folks are going to want answered. That is, just what are America's obligations, assuming that she is financially able to continue aid?

U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Willard Thorp recently stated that this country already had spent about $9,000,000,000 in an effort to bring about European recovery and that about $4,000,000,000 more had been made available. And Benjamin V. Cohen, State Department counselor, said that from $15,000,000,000 to $24,000,000,000 would be needed from America and other countries during the next three or four years to prevent starvation and the "danger of dictatorship."

These days whenever several people are gathered together to discuss the state of the nation you generally will hear someone raise the query whether the United States is extending altruism to the point where the country is becoming "Santa Claus" to the whole world. The questioner wants to know if this is necessary.

Well, that's an inquiry which can't be answered without getting down to specific cases of altruism. However, broadly speaking we must recognize that while America's foreign aid is impelled by a desire to help others, it also is an investment in peace and security for the Western Hemisphere.

The suggestion for an "all-media committee" was made by Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, who issued invitations to the session here.

Washington, June 25—(AP)—The Senate prepared to open hearings today on the 1948 budget of the Tennessee Valley Authority, Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), told a reporter he has not decided what action he will take to try to amend the TVA law.

Meantime, spokesmen for private distributors of TVA power, the TVA itself and members of the House stood by to oppose the amendments if they should be offered during the half-day hearing.

The Tennessee Senator, who was unsuccessful in attempts to defeat the nomination of former TVA Chairman David E. Lilienthal to the Atomic Energy Commission and of his successor at TVA, Gordon R. Clapp, would comment only that he intends to act "for the good of TVA."

Candidate Against Any Tax On Coal

Louisville, Ky., June 25—(AP)—Harry Lee Waterfield, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said yesterday he was opposed to any tax on coal or any other natural resource in Kentucky and added that if elected governor, he would veto any such tax which might be passed by the legislature.

Waterfield made public a reply he sent to Dr. J. E. Johnson of Stone, Ky., a coal operator who had asked the candidate's position on the coal tax question.

Wildfire Attacks Burley Tobacco; Threat Is Serious

Lexington, Ky., June 25—(AP)—An outbreak of wildfire, a disease injurious to burley tobacco, threatens serious damage to the state's burley crop.

Dr. W. D. Valleau, University of Kentucky plant pathologist, said last night the outbreak is the worst since he has been in the state. He blamed the outbreak in part to cool, wet weather and suggested a treatment of bluestone and lime to halt the spread in plant beds.

Valleau warned, however, that the bluestone and lime treatment was not practical after the leaf had been transplanted.

A LESSON FROM THE CHINESE

The story is told that the Chinese pay the doctor to keep them well, and if they contract illness, the doctor pays them instead. Whether or not this story is true, the general idea is sound. Serious illness often can be prevented by regular health examinations. Form a habit of visiting your doctor often—at least twice a year. If you do not have a family physician, we will be glad to recommend several from whom you can make your selection.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Detroit, June 25—(P)—When a golfer can amaze Byron "Mr. Golf" Nelson, he really must be good. And that's just what Jim Ferrier did on more than one occasion yesterday when Nelson, who refereed the match, dropped into the press tent afterward—something, incidentally he never did before his retirement—he was fairly popted over Jim's putting and chip shots. "In 21 years of golf I never saw anyone chip and putt like Ferrier did today," Nelson exclaimed. "And when Ferrier got off that 'killer' shot out of a mess of trouble on the third hole yesterday afternoon, Byron just gasped: 'That was a hell of a shot.'"

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE. St. Louis and Richmond apparently are trying to outbid each other for next year's PGA tourney. . . at least three national magazines will do articles about the Notre Dame football team next fall. . . and probably they'll have to be printed on blotting paper to dry up Frank Leahy's tears. . . Since Babe Ruth became consultant in the Ford-American Legion baseball program, the number of kids participating in Legion baseball has more than doubled. And the Babe is very happy about it because it gives him some real work to do. . . Frank "Muscles"

Staudman tipped his celebratory hat to England when he went over to play golf and the air freight bill was more than the things cost in the first place.

BLACKWELL BLACKOUT
Branch Kickey, Jr., who tabs Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell as the best pitcher in baseball, groans every time he thinks of how the Dodgers lost out on signing the finger. . . Blackie it seems, wanted to join the Dodgers but he wouldn't sign unless they'd promise to take him to a major league training camp. . . Brooklyn was training in Havana that year and Larry MacPhail, who then ran the club, refused to take along any excess baggage, so Blackwell turned thumbs down on Brooklyn fans and joined the Reds.

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS
When a friend asked Chick Harbert yesterday if he'd play in the Victory Tournament at Chicago, Chick replied: "Sure, $1500 a week isn't so bad." That's what he got for finishing second in the PGA.

Ailing Babe Ruth Back In Hospital In New York
New York, June 25—(P)—Babe Ruth is back in the hospital on the advice of his physicians for further treatment and "to take things easy for a few weeks."
"I even got tired taking a walk around the living room," The Babe was quoted by friends as saying as he entered the hospital yesterday. "I can't seem to gain any strength," he said, "so I guess I'll just get some rest here."

Six-Run Ninth Gives Hoppers 12-10 Victory

Play 2nd Game Of Series Tonite

The Hoppers clubbed Freddy Biggs for six hits and six runs in the first of the ninth inning here last night to win 12-10 after the Chicks had held a fairly comfortable margin through the first eight innings.

It was a free-hitting game that included three homers, two triples, seven doubles and 18 singles. Garland took over for the Chicks in the ninth and Atchley relieved Staphenhorst for the Hoppers in the final frame. The two teams play here again tonight and tomorrow night.

In the wild and woolly top of the ninth, New Secret hit a single and Bowers, a pinch-hitter was safe at first on a fielder's choice. A Chapman doubled, Forbes singled, Richardson doubled, Reding singled and Scalzi went to first on an error. J. Rhodes' triple brought in the fifth run. Secret hit a double and Bowers, a pinch-hitter, was safe at first on a fielder's choice. The Hopper rally finally was cut off when K. Chapman flied out to centerfield and Rhodes was thrown out coming home.

Tommy Buck socked a home run in the fifth with nobody on, and before that hit a triple and a double. Pete Peterson produced a homer in the eighth with Propst and Pechous on base, and the slugging Chicks outfielder also had a double and a single last night.

Fulton's big innings were the first and eighth, when they made three and four tallies respectively. They got their last score in the ninth.

FULGHAM NEWS

As a telephone operator, we hear a lot of amusing conversations that stay with us—in memory.
And this morning with but little to say or report, we're reminded of one we heard a few years ago. This particular conversation, like many others, was a "one-sided affair." The talkative party told an incident or two and then related some more news and still heard no comment at the other end of the line. Finally she called her by name and said "Can you hear me?" The answer came "Yes." Then the first party talked some more but still heard nothing from the other party and this time she said "Well, Mrs. Brown, I just can't hear YOU." Mrs. Brown replied, "Well, I'm not saying anything."

Mrs. E. E. Armbruster leaves Saturday for Nashville, to be with her daughter, Mrs. Vance Cramb and family. Little two-year-old Van, son of the Crambs, underwent surgery Thursday at the St. Thomas hospital. His condition is satisfactory.

Doyle Is K.O'd By Ray Robinson, Fights For Life

Cleveland, June 25—(AP)—Jimmy Doyle lost his bid for the world's welterweight title last night but was fighting a bigger battle for his life in Charity Hospital today after undergoing an operation for removal of a blood clot on his brain.

The stricken fighter was still unconscious and attendants at the hospital said his condition remained critical. Oxygen was being administered to aid his breathing. The Rev. James W. Nagel, hospital chaplain, administered the last rites of the Catholic church.

Doyle was carried from the arena ring on a stretcher and rushed to the hospital after Welterweight Champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson floored him with a vicious left hook in the eighth round of a scheduled 15-round championship bout before 12,725.

Now! LIFE INSURANCE EXPERTS PROVE THAT FORD TRUCKS LAST up to 19.6% LONGER

FOR THE first time in history, scientific methods used by life insurance companies in computing rates have been put to work in figuring out life-expectancy tables for Ford Trucks.

4,967,000 Trucks Studied... Wolfe, Corcoran and Linder, leading New York life insurance actuaries, assembled the records of all trucks of the five sales leaders registered from 1933 through 1941... 4,967,000 trucks in all. Then they prepared truck life-expectancy tables exactly the same way they prepare human life-expectancy tables for life insurance companies.

Ford Trucks On Top!

The result? Ford Trucks Last Longer! Up to 19.6% longer than the other 4 sales leaders! Why is this true? Because Ford Trucks are built stronger. They're built to last longer! That extra life that's put into Ford Trucks comes from Ford experience in building more trucks than any other manufacturer. Ford knows how to build trucks that last longer!

See us today. See the life-expectancy charts. You'll see why it'll pay you to place your order for a Ford... the truck that lasts longer!

Certified Proof

FORD TRUCKS LAST LONGER!

What Longer Truck Life Means to You... Why It Pays to Wait for a New Ford Truck!

It stands to reason the longer you use a truck, the less it costs to own. That's why longer-lived Ford Trucks are the top truck value. And, logically, Ford longevity means lower maintenance costs... less time in the shop. It means more unused miles when you're ready to trade, and a better trade-in. Yes, any way you look at it, you'll get more truck for your money with a Ford Truck... because Ford Trucks last longer!

The life-expectancy of a Ford Truck is:
12.1% longer than that of truck "B"
3.7% longer than that of truck "C"
7.6% longer than that of truck "D"
19.6% longer than that of truck "E"

OFFICIAL ACTUARIAL CERTIFICATE

Based on the application of sound and accepted actuarial methods to the actual experience as measured by truck registrations, we hereby certify that, in our opinion, the accompanying table fairly presents the relative life-expectancy of the trucks involved.
