Methodist Conference Opens Its 105th Session

Appointments To Be Announced Friday

Murray's doors opened wide in welcome to the 400 ministers, delegates, laymen and visitors who are attending the 105th annual Methodist Conference of the Methodist Church that is being held in the local Methodist church this week.

Bishop U. V. W. Darlington, Huntington, W. Va., and from the Louisville Conference is presiding. Bishop John Loyd Decell was scheduled to preside, but suffered a heart attack last week and is reported to have pneumonia.

The Memphis Conference includes 200 pastoral charges in West Kentucky and West Tennessee. Appointments of ministers to their charges will be announced Friday.

The business of electing delegates to the General Conference next year is the main business of the conference.

Mayor George Hart welcomed the Methodist Conference to Murray in the initial program Wednesday morning, and Bishop Darlington responded, after the opening which was observed by devotion and Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, roll call and organization.

The Rev. W. M. O'Donnell, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist Church, Memphis, was elected secretary of the conference, succeeding the Rev. Lud H. Estes of Dyersburg, Tenn., who has served for 29 years.

The Rev. T. H. Mullins, pastor of the Murray Methodist Church, is pastor host of the conference which will continue through Friday, November 12.

In the beginning balloting for delegates to the general conference at Kansas City, three lay and three clerical delegates were elected. R. E. Brooks, Mercer, Tenn.; Paul Meeks, Martin, Tenn.; and Mrs. S. Homer Tatum, Alamo, Tenn. were named lay delegates. One more lay delegate is to be named.

The three clerical delegates elected in the first balloting were the Rev. J. E. Underwood, Paducah, Dr. C. C. Grimes, Memphis, and the Rev. Lud H. Estes, Dyersburg, Tenn. There are additional delegates—one from the lay and one from the clerical presentation to be named.

The lay delegates to the jurisdictional conference elected are: Judge W. F. McMurray, Paducah; Dr. R. E. Womack, president of Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn.; and Dr. Henry Hedden, superintendent of the Methodist Hospital, Memphis.

One more lay delegate will be elected and four clerical delegates. Assistant secretaries named were: Rev. V. H. Burnett, Hall, Tenn.; Rev. Dan R. Overall, Ridgely, Tenn.; and Rev. E. V. Underhill, Belts, Tenn. The committee elected was the Rev. W. P. Cooley, Henning, Tenn. The committee nominations were read by the Rev. C. N. Jolly, district superintendent, Jackson, Tenn.

The Memphis Conference reported a successful financial year, and a total amount contributed was given as $1,347,588 for all-time high. It represented an increase of $196,134 over the contributions for the preceding year. According to the official summary, 6,382 new members were added the past year.

Mr. Howard of the Methodist Publishing House, presented a check to the conference of the amount, $2,108, representing the Memphis Conference share in the profits of the publishing house which are given yearly to the retired preachers of Methodism.

All district superintendents and preachers "were called and their characters passed upon" according to the rules of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. L. W. Ramey, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, and the Rev. J. H. Fiser, Columbia, Ky., were admitted to full connection. Dr. T. Otto Nall, Chicago, spoke in behalf of the church publication.

The Bishop's cabinet is composed of Dr. R. P. Duckworth, Brownsville; Dr. Lud H. Estes, Dyersburg; Dr. C. N. Joley, Jackson; Dr. John M. Jenkins, Lexington; Dr. C. C. Grimes, Memphis; Dr. J. E. Underwood, Paducah; Dr. Robert A. Clark, Paris; and they were all present at the conference.

Promoted To Lieut. Colonel, Stationed Somewhere in China

JOE T. LOVETT

Columbus, Ohio—Joe T. Lovett, former chief of the military personnel branch at Headquarters of the Fifth Service Command, who is now on duty as a personnel officer in China, has been promoted from major to the rank of lieutenant colonel, according to word received here today. The promotion was effective October 22.

Last April, Lieut. Col. Lovett left his post at Fifth Service Command Headquarters, Fort Hayes, for duty overseas. Prior to his present assignment in China he was stationed briefly in India.

The colonel, a native of Kentucky, served overseas in World War I as a sergeant in the Air Service. As member of the Reserve Corps he was ordered to active duty at Fifth Service Command Headquarters in February, 1942.

Before entering active service, Col. Lovett, a graduate of the University of Kentucky, was executive director of the Mid-South Chain Stores Council, Murray, Ky. He has also been managing director of the Kentucky Chain Stores Bureau at Murray.

From 1922 until 1928, the army officer, a past Kentucky Commander of the American Legion, was publisher and editor of the Tribune Democrat, Benton, Ky. He later served for nine years as publisher and editor of The Ledger & Times, Murray, Ky.

Col. Lovett's wife, Laurine, lives at 2416 Southway Drive, Columbus, Ohio. They have two sons, Wells T. Lovett, who is in the navy, and John D. Lovett, a senior in high school.

P. P. Douglass Is Minister and Poet

Prentice Perry Douglass, native of Calhoun county and son of Mrs. Thula Douglass, was in the Ledger and Times office this week reviewing acquaintances. He is in Murray attending the Methodist Conference and is a ministerial student in Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn.

The Memphis Conference reported a successful financial year, and a total amount contributed was given as $1,347,588 for all-time high. It represented an increase of $196,134 over the contributions for the preceding year. According to the official summary, 6,382 new members were added the past year.

ARMISTICE DAY

A SOLDIER SPEAKS

So you're sick of the way the country's run,
And you're sick of the way the rationing's done,
And you're sick of standing around in a line,
You're sick of the way—Well, that's just fine.

So am I sick of the sun and the heat, and I'm
Sick of the feel of my aching feet,
And I'm sick of the mud and the jungle flies, and
I'm sick of the stench when the night mists rise,
And I'm sick of the siren's wailing shriek, and
I'm sick of the groans of the wounded and weak,
And I'm sick of the sound of the bomber's dive,
And I'm sick of seeing the dead alive.

I'm sick of the roar and the noise and the din,
I'm sick of the taste of food from a tin,
And I'm sick of the slaughter—I'm sick to my
Soul, I'm sick of playing a killer's role,
I'm sick of blood and of death and the smell, and
I'm even sick of myself as well.

Put I'm sicker still of a tyrant's rule,
And I'm sicker still of the wild beasts' dool,
And I'm sicker still of the world's mad race,
When all this hell will be out of the way.

When some of this mess will have been in vain,
The lights of the world will blaze again,
And things will be as they were before, and kids
Will laugh in the streets once more.

The Axis' flags will be dipped and farled, and
God looks down on a peaceful world.

Collection of War Publicity material.

Late Returns Indicate Republicans Gain All State-Wide Offices

Complete official figures from 115 Kentucky counties and unofficial figures from the remaining 10 counties now indicate that the Republicans made a clean sweep of all state-wide offices in the general election.

The mixture of official and unofficial figures, still subject to further checking in the office of the Secretary of State George Glenn Hutcher, showed the closest election in years for the offices of lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general and clerk of the court of appeals.

These official, unofficial totals gave Kenneth H. Tuggle, Republican, a lead of 964 votes over William H. May, Democrat, for lieutenant governor; Mrs. Mary Landis Cave, Republican, a lead of 155 votes over Charles K. O'Connell, Democrat, for secretary of state; Eldon S. Dummitt, Republican, a lead of 305 votes over A. E. Funk, Democrat, for attorney general; and E. Hughes, Republican, a lead of 792 votes over Brooks L. Hargrove, Democrat, for clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Rr. Richmond Speaks On Ky. Education

Dr. J. H. Richmond, president of Murray State College, and president of the Kentucky Education Association, is on a speaking tour in the interest of the Educational Situation in Kentucky. He spoke at Ashland Wednesday night. His address was broadcast by radio. Today he is speaking to the Eastern Kentucky Education Association, Ashland, and on Friday he will give the address at the Northern Kentucky Education Association at Covington.

Stage Hands

In another section of this paper is an advertisement by General Cable calling attention to the hundreds of thousands of able and patriotic men and women who are giving the fullest measure of their devotion towards doing the things and making the parts that go into the finished products that deserve recognition in this war.

General Cable has nothing to sell to the public, but is interested in giving well-earned recognition to the people "behind the scenes."

FOUR ARE GIVEN PRISON TERMS BY CIRCUIT COURT

Sessions Adjourned Until November 16 By Judge Smith

Circuit Court adjourned Wednesday at noon to reconvene Tuesday, November 16. The grand jury returned the following indictments: John Tilman Chancellor, charged with murder; Willard Duncan, assault and battery; Cecil Scott, malicious shooting; Cecil Hargis, storehouse breaking; and Rodford Hector, chicken stealing.

In the Commonwealth cases that came before the court were listed the following trials: Stanley Bennett pleaded guilty of forgery and was given two years in the penitentiary; Howard Hester, charged with uttering a forged check, was given two years in the penitentiary; Carrie Bizzell, charged with grand larceny, was tried and found not guilty.

Arthur Kennel was tried on a charge of burglary and assault with a deadly weapon and the jury found him guilty and his punishment was fixed at a life sentence in the state penitentiary. He was charged with entering the home of Mrs. Onia Rogers and attacking her with a deadly weapon.

There were other cases continued and filed away for further action. The petit jury is composed of the following persons: Eunice Chaney, Jack Dodd, Orville Whitlow, Purdon Lassiter, Miller Marshall, D. E. Fain, Obie Darnell, E. M. Bailey, Jake P. Ouland, C. W. Beaman, Allen C. Wells, S. D. Houser, Amanda Cain, Paul White, H. C. Futrell, Thomas Roberts, Aubrey Ahart, Joseph Meadows, Willie E. Emerson, R. H. Folsom, H. I. Craig, W. K. Holland, Noma Bucy, Pete Laycox.

Bryan Tolley, owner and operator of Tolley's Food Market, is foreman of the grand jury selected and empaneled Monday. Others on the jury are:

Early Bogard, East Murray; Lester Hill, Hazel; G. D. Johnson, Murray; Ed Filbeck, Murray; Vernon Orr, West Murray; W. G. Lester, Hazel; K. C. Frazee, Midway; Gray Dunn, Murray; Ralph Ray, Wadesboro; E. M. Smith, Concord; W. R. Furchess, Murray.

WFA RELEASES CANNED FOOD. Approximately 2,700,000 cases of canned peaches, peas, and tomatoes were released to consumers recently by the War Food Administration. The canned goods probably will not reach retail shelves for several weeks. These foods were a portion of the reserve stock and held by canners to meet possible emergency requirements of the government.

Misses Brandon and White Named Queens of Hazel High School

On November 3, Hazel High School crowned Miss Leta Grey Brandon as Junior Queen and Miss Benny White as Basketball Queen of 1943. Each was presented a beautiful, loving cup by the director of the board of Hazel, Paul Dailley.

The march was led by the Hazel color guard, Blue and Gold, with baskets of flowers forming the background of the throne. The lovely pastel colors which were worn by the attendants of the Queen were very becoming.

After the crowning of the Queen, the greatest ball game of the season was played on the floor of the Hazel gym with Faxon as the opposing team. The Lions were victorious over the East Side quint.

W.M.U. Meets With First Baptist Church

The regular quarterly meeting of Women's Missionary Union of Blood River Association met with the First Baptist Church, Murray, Thursday, November 4.

Theme: "Learning to Serve." After singing their hymn for the year, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," Mrs. R. H. Fulwell, Sr., led in prayer.

The meeting was called to order by the association superintendent, Mrs. Amanda White. After reading and adoption of minutes, the devotional, "The Gospel Service" was given by Omie Skinner.

The various chairmen gave reports as follows: Mission Study, by Mrs. E. M. Skinner, substituting for Mrs. Lucille Lillie; Stewardship, by Mrs. Ragon McDaniel; Community Missions, Mrs. George Upchurch; Orphans' Home, Mrs. Floyd Culp; Training School, Mrs. L. T. Daniel; Literature, Mrs. Melus Linn; Song, "Onward Christian Soldiers," and prayer by Mrs. A. M. Hawley.

Mrs. J. D. Brame, Paducah, regional vice president, spoke on "W.M.U. Methods." Lunch was served at noon, each woman attending bringing a covered dish.

The afternoon devotional was given by Mrs. H. M. McElrath, using the "Watch Word" for the year, "I will serve," concluding with prayer.

Special music by Betty Eberhardt, Margaret Gordon, Mary Frances McElrath and Miriam McElrath. "Learning to Serve Through Our Young People" was given by Miss Wilma Hartfield. There were 89 ladies in attendance. Dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Fannie McElrath.

Mrs. J. H. Thurman, Sec. Blood River W.M.U.,

200 Expected At Farm Bureau Fete; Stanford To Speak

Approximately 200 Farm Bureau members and their wives or guests will attend the Annual Banquet which will be held at the Woman's Club house Friday evening, November 12, at 7:00 p.m. The main part of the menu will be dishes from the champion animal of the Egg Cattle Division of the Calloway County Beef Cattle Show held at the Murray Stock Yards on November 1.

The champion was a baby beef steer which has been fitted to a high finish by Albritton Bros. of near Hazel and which weighed 665 pounds.

A program of entertainment and speaking has been arranged and the principal address will be by J. E. Stanford, executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, Louisville. Mr. Stanford was editor of Southern Agriculturalist, Nashville, Tenn., before coming with the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation. He is one of the South's most interesting after-dinner speakers.

Farm Bureau President Rudy Hendon and other members of the banquet committee are urging all members to attend and request that any who have not made reservations should do so immediately by calling the County Agent's office, phone 20.

MAYRELL JOHNSON, WAVE

Lt. (j.g.) Mayrell Johnson was one of 12 women of the United States who were selected and sent to Air Navigation School, Hollywood, Fla., for three months' training in instructing in this subject. She is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Johnson and was a member of the faculty of Murray State College before she volunteered for the WAVES in December.

She has been assigned to teach Air Navigation in the primary command at Kansas City, Kan.

$6,200 Is Quota To Be Raised Here For Relief

An organization meeting for the War Fund Drive was held in the circuit court room in Murray Monday night, November 8. A. B. Austin presided at the meeting. Dr. J. H. Richmond spoke briefly concerning the National War Fund Drive pointing out the urgent need for war-relief fund. He gave a graphic account of what this fund will mean to Calloway county boys on the front in battle and in far off army camps—also of the relief it will give to starving victims of war in China, Greece, Russia, and other unfortunate peoples.

Committees were named for various communities in the county. The organization of committees in Murray was deferred until the campaign chairman, who had been suddenly called out of town, returned.

The chairman of the Large Gifts Committee reported that the drive for funds in the town of Murray had been thus far very successful. He stated that no person or firm that he solicited had failed to make a liberal donation. Although less than half of those to be solicited for large gifts have been seen around $2,000 has already been subscribed. The big drive for funds began today, Armistice Day, November 11, and is to continue to Thanksgiving Day, November 25. It is hoped that during this period, solicitors will be able to call personally on every man and woman in Calloway county. Due to gas rationing and the tire situation, it may be impossible for solicitors to call on everybody. Those wishing to contribute are urged to send in their donations to Bryan Tolley, treasurer, or to a member of the soliciting committee in their district.

Hazel community has her own quota of $500.00 to raise. Mrs. Koska Jones is chairman of this special drive and is aided by Darwin White, Melton Marshall, Mrs. Chas. Donahue, Mrs. Ernest Dick and Miss Murrelle Orr.

The following is a list of committee members by districts named to date. Others will be added as the campaign progresses.

Lynn Grove
Buren Jeffrey, chairman; Charlie Williams, Co-Chairman; Fleetwood Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. Bun Swann, Dr. C. H. Jones, Miss Marlene Crawford.

ARMISTICE — WAR FUND DRIVE

Twenty-five years ago today an armistice was signed, and the fighting nations laid down arms. You will recall how the bells rang, the fire whistles sounded, and peoples were wild with excitement.

Today as that group of men who returned from World War I, gathered with others in the College Auditorium and commemorated that armistice of 1918, they felt the penalty of that hasty peace, for today their sons and daughters are on another battle front, tasting the bitter gall of blood and death.

As "Taps" sounded at the eleventh hour of this eleventh day, our minds are filled with the thoughts of the dead and the living. It reminds us that there is only one thing that we can do about this sad state of the world — and that is to give with all of our strength, heart, and love to the cause that will give the quickest relief.

Today opens the National War Fund Drive. This drive includes the giving of relief to seventeen different agencies — it will relieve our sons and daughters who are in the service by giving them entertainment and release in USO camps. It will feed hungry Chinese, starving Greeks, give cigarettes to fighting men — it will mean clothes to the homeless — perhaps homes to the suffering babies left parentless in the blasted cities of Europe.

Today one veteran said he knew how it felt to be taken off the farm and transplanted into a foreign camp with not a soul he knew. He knew how it felt to be away from home the first time — to be in a uniform and know that he was being trained to kill or be killed.

He remembers that first night in the army. He knows how it feels to sleep in the mud of a fox hole; he knows how it feels to climb through barbed wire, entanglements — He knows how it feels to be carried in on a stretcher — He knows how it feels to be told that he is wounded for life. All these feelings are not new to the men in the service today.

If entertainment in the USO camps can in any way ease a tired soul and lift his thoughts from the tiring drill of a long day, and can make him forget his sorrows — and himself for a while — it will be great fun to give to this great cause, and the least we can do.

Have a heart and give to this War Fund Drive until you feel the effect. Give it freely. Don't be accused of saying "I have been solicited for this fund and that fund until I'm sick and tired."

It may be too late to give to that one you love — when the message comes through — "Missing in Action."

LIBRARY DOWN TOWN

Calloway County is fortunate to be living in the shadow of Murray State College. This institution gives many rich blessings to Murray, Calloway and neighboring counties in the direction of education, library facilities, speakers, and the unique thing to teachers' colleges, is the cooperation with the T. V. A. Regional Library that is sending books to all sections of the county and Marshall and Graves. The T. V. A. has meant much to Calloway in the service it has given and will give to the lovely people it has brought to us. We regret that some of these fine people and some of the officers are leaving Murray.

Miss Mary Perry is Regional Librarian and is promoting the service of books in the county and is trying to establish a library down town in Murray.

The City Council has voted to contribute toward the maintenance of this library provided the project can get additional financial help.

Books and access to them down town would be well worth the money expended and would be a contribution to the entertainment for both old and young.

POST-WAR PLANNING

The war news has been progressively better in recent weeks and for that reason there is more post-war thinking and planning than there has been at any time since Pearl Harbor.

Of course it would be disastrous to relax at this stage of the war, nevertheless there is no good reason why we should not give some constructive thought to the future and make plans to see that the victory our boys are winning is worth coming home to.

And to do this we must think and plan for post-war jobs for men and women now in service. This will be done to a certain extent by the government but it is primarily the job of communities, such as Murray, to take care of our own sons and daughters and see that they have jobs and positions here at home where they had rather live.

We have, in the past, seen too many of our young people drift away to northern and eastern industrial centers seeking jobs. We couldn't do anything about it then, but now that we will be almost within sight of one of the nation's largest hydro-electric dams there is no reason why we cannot, and should not, make some effort to attract industries to our city.

We have profited immensely during construction of Kentucky Dam, but that work will not last much longer and it is time now to get industries interested in this section to use the power, also to give employment to our people.

We are more fortunate here than many other communities in Western Kentucky because of our fine educational and hospital facilities and because of our agricultural advantages, but we also need pay-roll producing industries to give us a well rounded economy and to afford employment to our excess farm population.

GREEN CREEK

The election has come and now is a time of the past. The people have spoken and a change will come to the place. For my way of thinking it will release Kentucky from the clutches of the greatest political machine in the history of the state. Everything was done to keep this machine in power — the people of Kentucky, but the people, rebuffed at its corruption and arose with that mighty weapon — the ballot — and put an end to it and they can congratulate themselves for doing so. And this is what I believe that is what the people of this state want.

Winburn Alton and family went to Hazel Saturday afternoon.

Orley White visited his brother, Gene, who is in an Army camp in Texas the past week.

Mr. Florenz Miller visited J. E. Grogan and family Sunday.

Luna Alton finished gathering corn the past week.

Bob Alexander did some carpentry work for J. B. Trevathan last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon White and daughter, Mrs. Louie Ryburn, and daughter, Bettie, and little Miss Jackie White were dinner guests of Irvon Miller and family Sunday.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But if they become clogged, they do not act as Nature intended — fail to remove poisons that, retained, may poison the system and upset the whole machinery.

Symptoms may be: aching backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, feeling up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, a feeling of nervous weakness, and a sense of heat and itching.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Get your supply!

CIVILIAN AWARDS

Testimony to the effect that the stimulus of the Army-Navy "E" and the Maritime "M" production awards has been very great constantly is accumulating. Both management and labor on the home front have been helped to even greater efforts and devotion to the great task of turning out the vital materials of war. Both directors and workers in a category other than those previously recognized are to receive an achievement award for work well done. These are the civilian processors of food. The Navy "E" recognition. But if they meet the same high standards demanded for that badge of honor they are to receive the award of the War Food Administration's "A" flag. Qualifications considered in selection for the award will include ingenuity in the development of war food products, low food purchase programs, accident prevention and the like.

A number of vital factors on the home front still lack recognition in the form of public awards. The power and utility companies, the communications companies, and even the enormously busy railroads do not fall within the technical requirements for existing awards. There would seem to be little reason why the powerful incentive which existing awards for merit have supplied should not be extended to such fundamentally important elements as the electric light and power industry, which has shown an increase of 73 per cent in its kilowatt hour output since 1939; or the telephone industry, which last year handled 93 per cent more long-distance calls than in 1939; or the American railroads, which in 1942 increased the ton miles moved as compared with 1939 by 92 per cent and the passenger miles by 135 per cent in the same period. The service industries have done and are doing an outstanding war job. They, too, deserve an accolade.

We have prepared a booklet, "If You Got the Credit Buy the War Bonds and the War War Bonds." It contains information on the Telephone Industry, the Railroad, the Telephone Industry, the Electric Light and Power Industry, and the Electric Light and Power Industry. It will be sent in reply to any request on a company letterhead. Address: General Cable Corporation, 475 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

Cleaner Cows

Less Labor with CONCRETE PAVED BARNYARD

A concrete paved barnyard is a big aid to dairymen producing high quality milk. Fall, winter, spring and summer it helps keep cows out of mud, dust, filth—cuts down work of cleaning cows before milking. A big factor now that farm help is short and every effort is being made to increase milk production.

When cows wade through mud they waste energy needed for producing milk. Owners say a paved barnyard soon pays for itself by helping produce more and better quality milk.

Paste coupon on penny postal and mail today for free instructions for paving your barnyard or building other durable, thrifty, sanitary structures with concrete.

COMMUNITIES OF CALLOWAY COUNTY APPRECIATE GOOD BOOKS

BOOKS IN FARM HOMES

Are books important in farm homes? some people ask. My answer to this question is YES.

Through books, farm people meet new and interesting people from all over the world. We find useful information in many books.

There isn't a Homemaker anywhere that doesn't get some new ideas from "Every Woman's Complete Guide to Homemaking."

Also "What I Do Until the Doctor Comes," which gives first aid treatments in general.

There has been a community library in my home since February. There are 26 people reading these books.

There have been 300 books read, many of these books were novels or mystery stories, although the Homemakers have been intensely interested in such books as "Fifty Things to Make For the Home," "Master Homecraft," "200 Sugar-Saving Recipes," "Fun With Flowers," and "Art of Living in Wartime."

There is nothing more peaceful at the close of a full day than a good book.

Mrs. Oran Wells, Pelletine Club.

HOMEMAKERS AND READING

Henry Van Dyke in his interesting little essay called "Who Owns the Mountains," explained that the mountains belong to those who can enjoy them. So it is with books and our libraries. No one really possesses a library; it matters how many books he may have, unless he can use it and appreciate it; and the humblest of us may own a wonderful treasure if we have learned to unlock the door.

The Homemakers Club at White Oak is using those master keys to open these doors and much pleasure and enjoyment have been derived. Most every member has used our library furnished by Murray State College and more each day are calling for certain books, pamphlets and magazines on certain subjects. We look forward to the days when the Bookmobile comes so we may have a new supply. If there is a book one member especially likes, the entire club will soon have read it. I keep the library in my home, and when I am to go to a certain place, I get many telephone calls, telling me they will return others. In this way we save gas and tires and still get books in different homes.

With the Book Week slogan "We Are Building the Future With Books," and since books and libraries really belong to us, let us use our possessions.

Mrs. Pat Thompson, White Oak Club.

CHERRY ENJOYS BOOKS

First, we boys and girls of Cherry school would like to take this opportunity to thank the Regional Library for making it possible for us to have high grade books to read.

We look forward each month for the arrival of the Bookmobile and new books.

In our reading chart, "Reading Army for Defense," some of us have read twenty books which entitled us to be a captain.

There are twenty-one enrolled in our school and every child has read two or more books which entitled him or her to the grade of Book Private.

We realize that by reading these good books, our knowledge will be increased in many ways.

Mrs. Freeman Harris, Teacher

BOOKS—ENTERTAINMENT AND GUIDANCE

Lynn Grove

From the time mankind first learned to write until the time the press put out thousands of books a day, mankind has looked to books as a companion. Our of every age, no matter how dark it might have been, there has come a steady line of books which has aided in the building of the future. From the time private libraries were few and books were a luxury, man has opened the pages of books to find comfort, laughter, and companionship. To the person who is confined indoors books give a picture of the outside world and the wonders therein. Books are a pastime and fill many lonely hours for the old whose companions are gone. From the aged to the youngest child who thrills at the pictures and stories in children's books, there are a great many hours of happiness to be spent in books.

Today when more than ever America is looking to books to guide her we feel the need of book week, and we appreciate the library just around the corner, and the work being done by Education.

Maxine Crouch
"Many times the reading of a book has made the future of a man."
Emerson

DEXTER

The Bookmobile Library is used at Dexter, the books are placed at M. T. Tarry's Store. It seems that everyone, particularly children, have some spare moments during the week to read. They can build their future in books. They cannot be spared all the facts about war, but books can be an influence on them and inspire in them an appreciation of our great heritage. They can read of other lands, stories of beauty and imagination that will help to guide them to that better world toward which we are looking.

Mrs. Merle Andrus

Bookmobile Serves Library Needs of Area

Getting Books From the Bookmobile

BOOKS DIVERT OUR LIVES

In this terrible crisis while the whole world is rushing over the rugged road of life, we should take time to think of our future world in which we and our children are to live, just what we should do to help build a world in which we can be happy God loving people.

Since the foundation of a nation is its homes, it behooves each of us to discipline our homes with that unselfish Christ-like love that refines and elevates, and I know of no better way of doing so than surrounding our children with good books.

They learn to read by being in the presence of books. The love of knowledge comes with reading and grows. Books are not a luxury; they are a necessity. No man has the right to deny his family the use of good books. No matter how poor, we should strive to own a few good books and master them. The influence of good books is remarkable—something of its truth and tenderness and inspiration will grow into our very soul and become a part of us.

The boy who reads deeds of manliness, of bravery and noble daring deeds, feels that spirit grow within him and the seed is planted which will bring forth fruit of heroic and exalted life.

No home should be without good books now since we can have them for a period of time without any charge to us whatever. We have a gold mine of knowledge right here in Calloway County. The Regional Library. It even sends out streams of gold throughout the county and neighboring counties by way of the Bookmobile making deposits in our schools and community centers. No excuse for not reading—just make up your mind what you should read and read it. In books we can meet great people and not even feel embarrassed even though we are not dressed in our best or our manners not just what they should be.

Parents should furnish the necessary means, opportunities and direction of a Christian education give them the proper books. Without books, says the quaint Bartholin, God is silent, justice dormant, science at a standstill, philosophy lame, letters dumb, and all things involved in Cimmerian darkness.

A reading people will soon become a thinking people and a thinking people must soon become a great people.

Some time ago a Bible reading man who had reached the three score and ten age, who had suffered many adversities, had risen above many obstacles in his path and in his last days, although suffering physically, he read the glad things of the Bible, which gave him new life and helped him to always look for something to be glad about, something to appreciate in everything that passed his way. What a blessing!

Everyone should make full use of our gold mine, the Regional Library, and build for the future with books.

Mrs. Eulis Goodwin, Palestine Club.

COLDWATER

"We're in the Army Now" We're in the army. Although we don't fight, We read books and read books, And like it all right.

There are privates and colonels (I'm Commander-in-Chief) And when I get a book I really am "deaf."

And then for a minute, The world doesn't count. Yes, then to a penny, It doesn't amount.

But still we are hoping To help win this war And as weeks go by, We help more and more.

And if you don't help us As much as you might, There'll be more than, Tojo and Hitler to fight.

Jean Evelyn Darnell, Coldwater School.

NATIONAL BOOK WEEK NOVEMBER 14-20, 1943

"Build the Future With Books" is the slogan for the 25th Annual Book Week.

In May 1919, Franklin K. Mathews, Chief Scout Librarian, asked the American Booksellers Association to start a campaign for better books for young people. The Association then planned the first Book Week, which took place the following November. The American Library Association and numerous other organizations, service clubs, women's clubs, and schools endorsed the idea and Book Week is now one of the major celebrations of the year.

There has been a great change in books for young people in the past quarter century. Now the United States have the most beautiful books in the world for children. The books are available through libraries and book stores every day in the year instead of just at Christmas. A child can have no greater privilege than to "build the future with books."

The Ledger & Times has been very generous in giving space for Calloway County's celebration of National Book Week. The articles and poems are from Homemakers, Community Correspondents, students from elementary and high schools over the county.

Calloway is one of three counties in the Murray State College Regional Library Program. The Bookmobile visits all the one- and two-teacher schools, the six high schools and 23 community libraries once every month on a definite schedule. The Regional Library has two services—and through these the College fulfills its obligations to the schools and to the adults in the service area. It assists in the formal education of the children and gives informal education to all adults.

The Calloway County Library Board, consists of Mr. Burton Jeffrey, president; Rev. Robert Blankenship, vice-president; Mrs. Leslie Ellis, secretary, and Mrs. McThomas Tarry, Mr. Rudy Hendon and Mr. Evin Wilkerson.

Mary Berry, Regional Librarian.

KIRKSEY

I Like to Read

Reading is the most interesting thing I can do. I get new ideas on things I've never thought of before. I make a picture in my mind of the scenes which take place in the book. By drawing these mental pictures, I can get better ideas of countries which I have never seen, and probably never will see, but still, if the subject of this country comes up I am able to talk more intelligently about it.

By reading books I have a chance to study people. By learning the ways of the characters in the book I get to understand people better in every-day life.

Ideals drawn from books may be either good or bad; however, I try to pick my books so the ideal given will help me.

Betty June Drinkard, Freshman, Kirksey High School.

It is a great joy to me to read books. Many happy days are passed away while reading stories of far away lands it seems as if I were there. While I read I increase my vocabulary. When I am tired there is nothing more comforting than to sit down and read. If we read while we are young it may lead us to a quiet future. When we are the men and women of tomorrow, some day I hope to have a large vocabulary because of my reading of many great books while I was young.

Lillian Suter, Kirksey School, Seventh Grade.

IN THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Alethea Alderson, Student New Concord High

I see them totter in, the very old, in clumsy, shapeless clothes and shabby shoes; With eager eyes they search the racks for news Or seek the magazines where tales are told; Strange tales of mystery and fairy gold, Romance, adventure, and the distant glow

Of that far land where dreams for gotten go, Where no one is neglected, hungry, cold.

Not all are old and poor; the young are here, With eager hearts they come to learn; 'tis plain, They have the faith of youth, and its disdain

Of failure, disappointment, loss and fear. Some day, they too, will watch the setting sun, And reading here, forget what life has done.

Comments Given On Book Week

Observing the National Book Week for Children, leaders of civic clubs and organizations here were invited to make statements concerning their opinion of this of this cause.

Their statements follow:

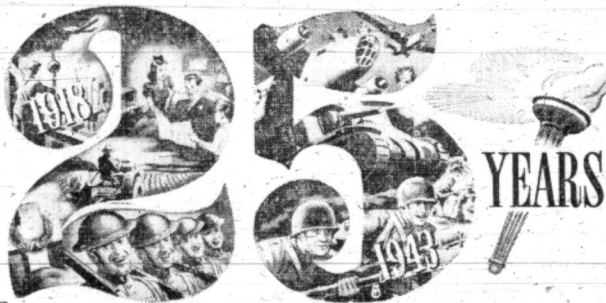

A. B. Austin, president of the Rotary Club, makes the following statement concerning the importance of books:

"National Book Week is of vital importance to the American people, for reading books not only gives us a rest from the cares and worries of these trying times, but it saturates us with the best that has been thought and written in the past. A person who consistently reads good books seldom gets in trouble."

Charlotte Owen, president of Zeta Club, says:

"In one European country it is a crime punishable by death to have in one's possession certain books denounced by the authorities of that country. We should be very proud and thankful to be able to live in a nation that observes Book Week—a week set aside in which we are encouraged to read ANY books, by any author, or any race, of any religion that we might choose."

Armistice Day Opens Calloway's National War Fund Drive --and we are doing our part to help raise the quota of $6,200.00

It has been twenty-five years since the end of World War I, and we commemorate that Armistice in the middle of another, more critical, world wide conflict. A whole generation has grown up since 1918. Never has there been more suffering in this world... Never have so many piteous broken peoples looked to America... Calloway... to YOU... to US... for HELP.

Give To The National War Fund

This fund includes: USO, War Prisoner's Aid, Help to the Refugees from War Stricken Countries, the Starving Greeks... and all the 17 different agencies.

When Taps Sound Today

Let us consult our hearts for the amount we are to give. If your budget feels it a little... then you have really given. May we determine in our hearts that the next Armistice Day will be a more glorious one, more secure than that of 1918. May it be here soon... before too many of our own are listed "AMONG THOSE MISSING!"

Thailand Missionary Speaks To Woman's Association

Miss Lucy Starling of Hopkinsville, returned missionary from Thailand, was the speaker at the meeting of the Woman's Association of the Presbyterian church which was held on Monday evening in the church parlor.

Miss Starling spent 34 years in Thailand and has been in California for the past two years. She spoke on "Fellowship Service."

An interesting story concerned her personal experiences in rearing 14 Siamese babies from infancy.

When Miss Starling arrived in Thailand her school for girls had an enrollment of 14, and at the time of her departure it had increased to 430.

Preceding the program Mrs. J. G. Wehling conducted the devotionals. Mrs. B. F. Scherffus, president of the association, conducted the business sessions and introduced the speaker.

On Tuesday evening from 7 to 9:30, Miss Starling was honored guest at an informal reception which was given by members of the Woman's Association at the manse.

Spanish Students Entertain Lions Club, November 2

Miss Emma Sanchez and Miss Margarita Estrada entertained the Murray Lions Club at their last meeting on Tuesday, November 2, at the Woman's Club House.

Miss Estrada gave a very interesting description of Mexico City. She also told a number of legends and superstitions which are attached to various buildings, monuments, and landmarks in Mexico.

After Miss Estrada's talk, the two girls added to the entertainment with a Spanish vocal solo by Miss Sanchez and a piano solo by Miss Estrada.

The club also reported on the success of the flag pole project and entertained the following men who contributed considerable time to the project: Rex Tabers, Glynn Wells, Dewey Jones, James Burns, T. Sedd, and Irvy Brewer.

Officers elected for the ensuing year follow: President, Chrystell Palmer; Vice-President, Mrs. A. J. Palmer; Recording Secretary, Mary Reid; Secretary of Christian Social Relations, Mrs. Madge Harris; Secretary of Literature and Publications, Mrs. B. F. Blankenship; Secretary of Supplies, Mrs. T. Waldrop; Secretary of Students Work, Mrs. Hugh Palmer; Secretary of Children's Work, Mrs. E. Carson; Chairman of Spiritual Life Group, Mrs. Ernest Hanley.

A. A. U. W. Meets Tuesday Evening

The American Association of University Women met at the little chapel on the college campus Tuesday evening with the president, Miss Ella Wehling, presiding.

Following a short business session, the committee on social studies of which Mrs. M. G. Carman is chairman, presented a program of films on "Food For Freedom."

The members answered roll call with "Why I Belong To A Garden Club."

Mrs. George Baker was program chairman and conducted a garden club quiz, "On Judge Yourself."

Mrs. A. F. Dwan discussed "The Mission and Organization of Garden Clubs," and Mrs. F. E. Crawford brought a morale building message on "Keeping Your Garden Club Going."

Mrs. Yezzer Anderson read ten ways to ruin a Garden Club, and Mrs. Baker gave five basic rules for caring for cut flowers. Plans were discussed for a party which the losers in the membership contest will give for the winners at an early date.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. B. Wilson, Mrs. George Hart, Mrs. Willie Linn and Mrs. Marion Berry.

THE WAR
DRIVE!

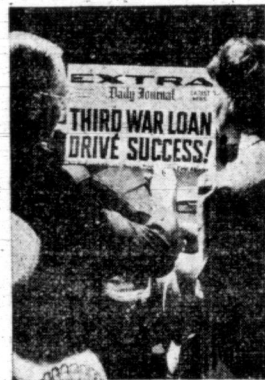

We must not let up in the continued and increased purchase of War Bonds. This continuity picture strip portrays the importance of increasing civilian War Bond buying through the Payroll Savings Plan.

"Yes, Mother, we've bought these extra Bonds and haven't missed the money, so there's no reason why I cannot increase my Payroll Savings deductions down at the plant and then we'll be sure of getting those extra Bonds. Keep on backing the attack with War Bonds."

"You are right, Dad, and I've figured how we can keep on buying an extra War Bond. The boys would want us to do it and we must put every cent we've got over and above our living into Uncle Sam's Bonds. Let me get our budget book and show you what I mean."

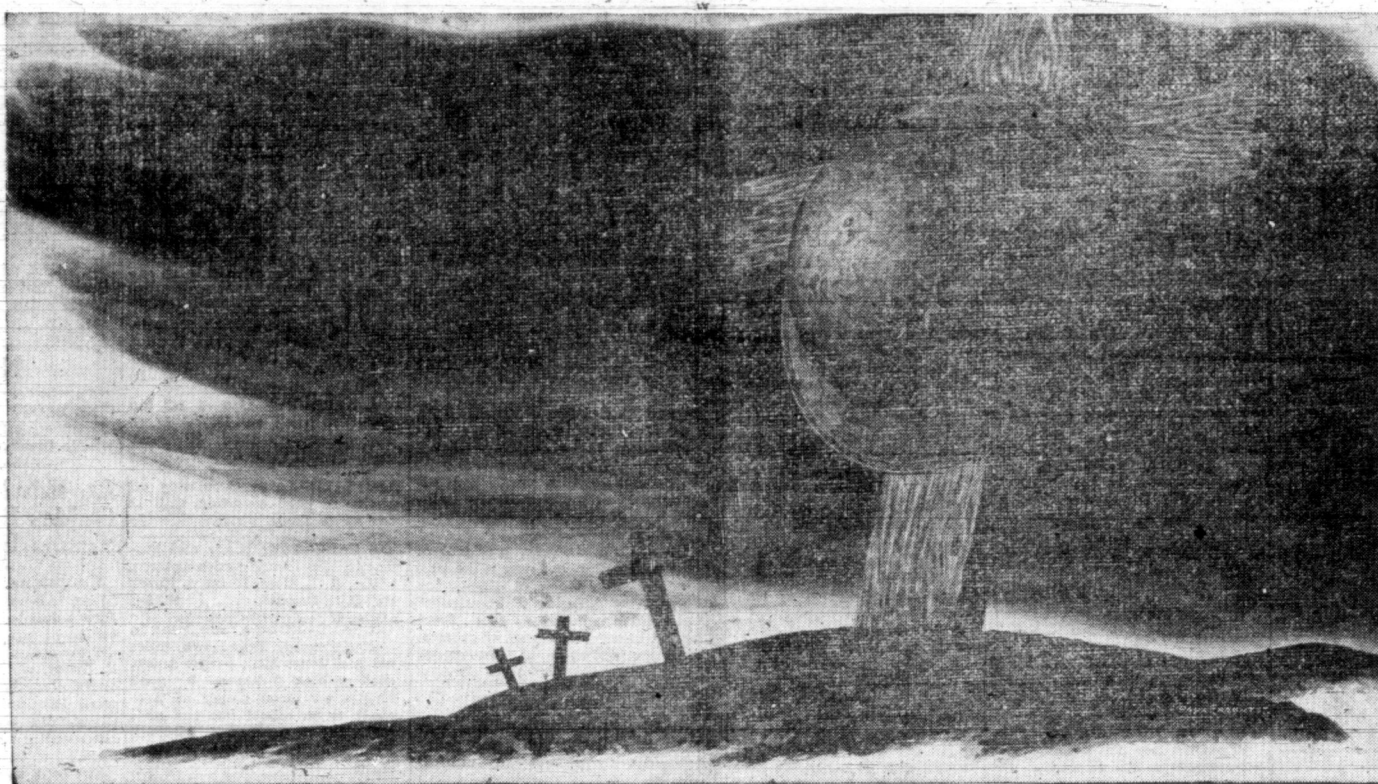

Mr. and Mrs. America thrill at the news that the fifteen billion dollar third war loan went over the top indicating that the American people at home are backing the attack on Hitler's European fortress. But the attack goes on, night and day, with increasing intensity.

"See there, we can cut out some of our recreation. We can get along very well without that trip we planned. We can cut out so much that's unnecessary, and you know, Dad, we're not so young as we once were. This additional saving will help us when peace comes."

Keep on Backing the Attack with War Bonds!

War Heroes Set Example For Civilian Home-Front--They Buy War Bonds!

"The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow."

"I'd like to tell you what the Japs did to some friends of mine"

I AM LIEUTENANT (J.G.) ANN B. BERNATITUS, U.S.N.—a nurse, back from Bataan. I have a message for you . . .

"Those American boys—who fought for you with their backs to the wall, waiting for help that never reached them—came from the land of plenty. But when their lives were at stake, all they had was . . . plenty of nothing!"

"They were outnumbered, outgunned, and out-supplied. They were so short of ammunition that anti-aircraft gunners often had to hold their fire until the enemy planes were on top of them. They were so short of bandages and gauze that we nurses had to wash out the old ones and use them again.

"But they were never short of courage. They never spoke of surrender. They just went on fighting, and hoping, and dying. And no sacrifice was ever too great.

"Let me give you an example. One terrible day on Bataan we had 285 patients on our operating tables in 8 hours—a new patient every two minutes of the day.

"A sailor was brought in with his abdomen blown to bits. He was a goner and I think he knew it. 'Doctor,' he asked, 'is there any hope at all?'

"The doctor wished to reassure him and replied, 'We'll do everything we can!' The sailor tried to roll over. 'Doc,' he begged, 'get me off this table and save one of those other fellows who still has a fighting chance.'

"That was the kind of men we had at Bataan. And they would want you to remember not only what they did, but what they did without.

"They would want you to remember it, but not with flowers and memorials. The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow.

"Remember them now—this month and every month—by buying War Bonds!

"Buy guns and planes and shells and ships and tanks—for those other countrymen of yours who are fighting so far from home. See to it that never again, any place in the world, will American fighting men be caught short as they were on Bataan! That never again will American wounded perish for the help your dollars might have sent!

"Certainly taxes are higher. Certainly the cost of living has gone up. But the men on Bataan were never ten-percenters!

"They gave everything they had. And now it's up to you to buy War Bonds not only if you can, but all you can! Please believe me, folks—that's the way the boys on Bataan would like to be remembered!"

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT --- NOW DO YOUR BEST!

These boys make our sacrifices at home seem puny in comparison. They have spilled blood for us, yet are buying War Bonds so their buddies still on the battle front may be assured the equipment they need.

Pvt. William E. Morris, Long Beach, Cal., is above draft age but has seen three years of service. He lost his left leg below the knee in Tunisia. He wears the Purple Heart and Good Conduct Ribbon and continues his War Bond purchases.

Pvt. Thomas Dellarossa, Trenton, N. J., 18th Infantry Patrol, was wounded by shrapnel at El Guitar, Africa, and now must wear a special brace for his left knee. He won the Purple Heart. He buys War Bonds regularly and urges you to.

Sgt. Carl Funk, 26, Cincinnati, lost his right eye and sustained a fractured left knee in Sicily. He has been buying War Bonds regularly. He will return to civil life as soon as he is discharged from Halloran Hospital, N. Y.

Pvt. Donat Cartier, Derry, N. H., suffered a fracture of the leg above the knee in Sicily when struck by an 88 mm. shell. He was held prisoner for two days by the Germans, traveling in a tank. He is a regular purchaser of War Bonds.

COMMENTS GIVEN
ON BOOK WEEK

President of the Business and Professional Club Mrs. Humphrey Key has this to say about National Book Week:

"We should take time off to pause and be grateful under the protection of the Stars and Stripes, that we have the opportunity to read books which inspire us to live up to high ideals. Educators have long seen that good books are an incentive to continuing education and thoughtful, joyful citizenship. One should make a habit of reading a book a month. Create in children a desire for entertaining and instructive literature."

County Judge C. A. Hale believes in books for children, and stated:

"The habit of reading and understanding good books is brought about only through contact with the people who write them."

W. J. Caplinger, Superintendent of Murray City Schools says:

"All that we learn in life we get from contacts with people, nature and books."

Mrs. A. B. Austin, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, says:

tional Book Week this year as in previous years is a heritage of a Free America. To be able to choose a book old or new and read it unmolested is one of the freedoms for which we are fighting."

"The theme for this week is 'Education for Victory.' The schools are making an indispensable contribution to the winning of victory on the field of battle, and at the same time they are making their contribution to the winning of peace, through the training of the boys and girls. I am in favor of any library system that might be established downtown."—Prentice Lassiter, Superintendent of Calloway County Schools.

Mrs. Graves Hendon, chairman of the Delta Club, stated:

"The value of good books can not be measured in dollars and cents."

Mrs. George Hart, president of Woman's Club, stated: "Many times the reading of a book has made the future of a man."—Emerson.

Mrs. L. R. Putnam, president of the Magazine Club, says:

"I would say create a good taste for good reading in your children by reading good books to them when they are too young to read for themselves; then when they are older, keep good books conveniently placed in your home. Good books like good friends are an inspiration, a guide and a blessing."

Mrs. W. S. Swann, president of the UDC, said:

"A home without books is like a house without windows."

J. I. Henick, vice president of the Lion's Club, believes in National Book Week and says:

"If more people could relax and read a good book occasionally, perhaps there would be fewer cases of nerves."

"Because books are always with us, we take them for granted. Try to imagine what the world would be like with no books. No Bible to tell us of man's successful attempts to find God; no poetry to record the glorious outbursts of man inspired by tremendous inner feelings; no history; no philosophy; no record of man's struggles to find scientific truth; no facts to portray for us the life of the past more vividly than other mediums. Life would be barren if each generation had to begin anew without this great heritage instead of being able to profit by the success and the failure of its forefathers."

Ellis R. Weiling, President of A.A.U.W.

Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray State College and president of the Kentucky Education Association, gave this quotation from Morley when asked about his opinion of books and libraries:

"The innocence and completeness with which the child's spirit is rendered up to the book, its utter absorption and forgetfulness and how moves me deeply. A child does not just to criticize and compare, but just in the unsullied joy of finding itself in a new world. And behind every such child is the heart and brain of some teacher, parent or librarian that makes the book possible."

"Good reading makes for good character, that is why mothers are strongly in favor of the contemplated reading room and library to be established in Murray. Wherever there is literacy and lack of reading, there is found ignorance and misgovernment."

Sam McKee, Representative, Murray, Ministerial Assn.

Mrs. G. R. McGovern, chairman of the Music Club believes:

"A down town library would indeed be a forward step for Murray."

George Hart, mayor, said: "We are experienced with the future of our children. It seems that good reading in our midst would be a guide for them, and with this in mind, the City Council voted Friday night to assist financially with the downtown library project."

A. F. Yancey, president of the Young Business Men's Club, makes a statement concerning the National Book Week:

"I like a book not only for what it says, but also for what it does and suggests."

Mrs. Walter Baker, president of the Home Department in the words of Shakespeare said:

"There is no darkness but ignorance—Therefore let us illuminate our lives with knowledge."

Mrs. Ben B. Keys, vice president of Arts and Crafts Club, says:

"He who loves books never wants for friends—He can always have by his side wholesome, cheerful companions, and one who will advise and comfort."

Mrs. Herschel Corn, president of Mother's Club, Training School, believes:

"The observance of National Book Week is very vital to a fast growing civilization. The need for a historical background and knowledge of good books is obvious if we are to progress with the times."

Mrs. G. B. Scott, chairman of the Garden Club, expressed her approval of the downtown library project and thought this would be beneficial to both youth and adults in Murray and Calloway county.

Mrs. C. S. Lowery, president of the Alpha Club, believes in the quotation: "The hope of Democracy lies in the diffusion of knowledge" and further believes that there could be no better way of promoting the diffusion of knowledge than by the establishing of libraries in accessible places.

"SPOOKY TAVERN" BY TRAINING SCHOOL

The author himself could have thought up no more appropriate weather than nature's thunder and rain accompaniment to the presentation of Jay Tobias' "Spooky Tavern" at the little chapel on the college campus Saturday night. Set in an atmosphere of pouring rain, dimmed lights and flashing lightning, the play was even the more successful because of the true storm which roared outside the auditorium walls.

The central feminine roll was carried by Rosemary Jeffrey. Other characters included Imogene Rigging as the heroine's sister, Florabelle; Bill Armstrong as Willie Worle; Billie Gingles as the colored mammy, Bedelia; Sam Elliott as Terry Tanner and Ed Dale Rigging as Ralph Channing, suitors and heroine; Duell Burken as Faron the gangster; Pat Trevathan and Betty Shroat as Nell Hacker and her sister, Lucy; J. R. Story as Blackie, another gangster; and Dorothy Nell Smith as the ghost woman. Lightning was adequately handled by Harry Russell and Pat Barker, and the set was built by Bill Armstrong, Pat Trevathan and Sam Elliott. The staging of the play was supervised and directed by Miss Lora Frisby, critic teacher of the training school, and Miss Marjorie Foshee, senior at Murray State.

Spectators agreed that it was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, and commented particularly upon the smoothness of the production—commonly smooth for a first-night amateur presentation.

HAZEL 4-H CLUB

The Hazel 4-H Club met in the auditorium Friday morning, October 22, with Theron Erwin, president, in charge.

The program opened with Bible reading by Frankie Grogan. The pledge to the flag and the 4-H Club pledge were led by Miss Rachel Roper, home demonstration agent. Leanne Ruffelt called the roll. An interesting short play was presented by members. Edith Nuffinger, county agent, discussed the district project achievement meeting held in Paducah recently.

Lt. Edwin James Guides Basketball Teams In China

Recognizing the truth in the old adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," this pioneer bombardment squadron in China under the command of Lt. Col. Morris F. Taber, of San Antonio, Texas, and stationed at a base in the Forward Echelon of Major General Chennault's 14th U. S. Air Force, has recently organized a basketball team.

The boys under the guiding hand of Lt. Edwin James of Murray, Base-Special Service Officer, who always plays forward on the quintet, have met a team of Chinese athletes from a near-by city three times and came out best but once. They have some consolation, however, in the fact that the local team is composed of former athletes from China's colleges and universities.

INCREASE CIVILIAN FOOD SUPPLY

More peas, beans, rice, and cheddar cheese are going to be available for civilian consumption.

ACT FAST WHEN A COLD THREATENS

At the very first sniffle, sneeze, or any sign of a cold just try a few drops of Vicks Vapo-Rol each nostril. If used in time, Vapo-Rol's quick action helps prevent many colds from developing. And remember this, when a head cold makes you miserable, or transient congestion "fills up" nose and spoils sleep—3 purposes Vapo-Rol does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes, (2) relieves irritation, (3) helps clear clogged nasal passages. Enjoy the relief it brings. Follow directions in folder.

Methodist Conference Opens Its 105th Session

Appointments To Be Announced Friday

Murray's doors opened wide in welcome to the 400 ministers, delegates, laymen and visitors who are attending the 105th annual Methodist Conference of the Methodist Church that is being held in the local Methodist church this week.

The business of the conference will be announced Friday. The business of electing delegates to the General Conference next year is the main business of the conference.

Mayor George Hart welcomed the Methodist Conference to Murray in the initial program Wednesday morning.

One more lay delegate will be elected and four clerical delegates. Assistant secretaries named were: Rev. W. H. Burnett, Hall, Tenn.; Rev. Dan R. Overhill, Ridgely, Tenn.; and Rev. E. V. Underhill, Bell, Tenn.

The Bishop's cabinet is composed of Dr. R. P. Dickworth, Browns-ville; Dr. Lud H. Estes, Dyersburg; Dr. C. N. Jolley, Jackson; Dr. John M. Jenkins, Lexington; Dr. C. C. Grimes, Memphis; Dr. J. E. Underwood, Paducah; Dr. Robert A. Clark, Paris; and they were all present at the conference.

Among the Methodist leaders of national repute who were present for the Murray conference were: Dr. George L. Morelock, Chicago; W. L. Sherman, Nashville; Dr. John O. Gross, St. Louis; Dr. C. K. Vliet, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Promoted To Lieut. Colonel, Stationed Somewhere in China

JOE T. LOVETT

Columbus, Ohio—Joe T. Lovett, former chief of the military personnel branch at Headquarters of the Fifth Service Command, who is now on duty as a personnel officer in China, has been promoted from major to the rank of lieutenant colonel, according to word received here today.

Last April Lieut. Col. Lovett left his post at Fifth Service Command Headquarters, Fort Hayes, for duty overseas. Prior to his present assignment in China he was stationed briefly in India.

The colonel, a native of Kentucky, served overseas in World War I as a sergeant in the Air Service. As a member of the Reserve Corps, he was ordered to active duty at Fifth Service Command Headquarters in February, 1942.

Before entering active service, Col. Lovett, a graduate of the University of Kentucky, was executive director of the Mid-South Chain Stores Council, Murray, Ky. He has also been managing director of the Kentucky Chain Stores Bureau at Murray.

From 1922 until 1928, the army officer, a past Kentucky Commander of the American Legion, was publisher and editor of the Tribune-Democrat, Benton, Ky. He later served for nine years as publisher and editor of The Ledger & Times, Murray, Ky.

Col. Lovett's wife, Laurine, lives at 2416 Southway Drive, Columbus, Ohio. They have two sons, Wells T. Lovett, who is in the navy, and John D. Lovett, a senior in high school.

P. P. Douglass Is Minister and Poet

Prentice Perry Douglass, native of Calloway county and son of Mrs. Thula Douglass, was in the Ledger and Times office this week renewing acquaintances. He is in Murray attending the Methodist Conference and is a ministerial student in Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn.

ARMISTICE DAY

A SOLDIER SPEAKS

So you're sick of the way the country's run, and You're sick of the way the nation's done,
And you're sick of standing around in a line,
You're sick, you say—Well, that's just fine.
So am I sick of the sun and the heat, and I'm
Sick of the feel of my aching feet,
And I'm sick of the mud and the jungle flies,
And I'm sick of the stench when the night mists rise,
And I'm sick of the siren's wailing shriek, and
I'm sick of the groans of the wounded and weak,
And I'm sick of the sound of the bomber's dive,
And I'm sick of seeing the dead alive,
I'm sick of the roar and the noise and the din,
I'm sick of the taste of food from a tin,
And I'm sick of the slaughter—I'm sick to my
Soul, I'm sick of playing a killer's role,
I'm sick of blood and of death and the smell, and
I'm even sick of myself as well.
Conquered lands where the wild beasts drool,
And I'm cured damned quick when I think of the day,
When all this hell will be out of the way,
When none of this mess will have been in vain,
The lights of the world will blaze again,
And things will be as they were before, and kids
Will laugh in the streets once more,
The Axis' flag will be dipped and furled, and God looks down on a peaceful world.

—This poem was contributed by Everett Jones, from his Collection of War Poetry material.

Late Returns Indicate Republicans Gain All State-Wide Offices

Complete official figures from 115 Kentucky counties and unofficial figures from the remaining five counties now indicate that the Republicans made a clean sweep of all state-wide offices in the general election.

The mixture of official and unofficial figures, still subject to further checking in the office of the Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher, showed the closest election in years for the offices of lieutenant, governor, secretary of state, attorney general and clerk of the court of appeals.

These official - unofficial totals gave Kenneth H. Tuggle, Republican, a lead of 804 votes over William H. May, Democrat, for lieutenant-governor; Mrs. Mary Landis Cave, Republican, a lead of 155 votes over Charles K. O'Connell, Democrat, for secretary of state; Eldon S. Dummit, Republican, a lead of 305 votes over A. E. Funk, Democrat, for attorney general; and E. E. Hughes, Republican, a lead of 782 votes over Brooks L. Hargerow, Democrat, for clerk of the court of appeals.

Johnson, Murray; Ed Filbeck, Murray; Vester Orr, Murray; W. G. Laseiter, Hazel; K. C. Frazee, Murray; Gray Dunn, Murray; Ralph Ray, Wadesboro; Eunie Smith, Concord; W. R. Furchess, Murray.

Misses Brandon and White Named Queens of Hazel High School

On November 5, Hazel High School crowned Miss Letia Grey Brandon as Junior Queen and Miss Benny White as Basketball Queen of 1943. Each was presented a beautiful loving cup by the director of the board of Hazel, Paul Dailey.

The march was led by the Herald, Kerrie Bailey, who was followed by the attendants, Miss Jessie Catherine Miller and Miss Faye Nell Craig. The crown bearer, Little A. W. Summons, Jr., followed the Junior Queen.

The stage was decorated in the school colors, blue and gold, with baskets of flowers forming the background of the throne. The lovely pastel colors which were worn by the attendants of the Queen were very becoming.

After the crowning of the Queens, the greatest ball game of the season was played on the floor of the Hazel gym with Faxon as the opposing team. The Lions were victorious over the East Side quintet.

LOCAL PEOPLE BUY REGISTERED JERSEYS

New York, Nov. 10.—A registered Jersey cow has been purchased by C. C. Jones of Murray from A. D. Stark. The name of the animal is Ky. Sybil Daisy Jean 145617. A registered Jersey cow has been purchased by O. S. Parks of Murray from Harvey Wood. The name of the animal is Raleigh Lovely Bouilliere and the registration number of this cow is 1287430.

The whereabouts of all registered Jerseys is known and carefully watched over by the American Jersey Cattle Club, with offices in New York City. This important job is made possible through registrations and transfers made by Jersey Breeders everywhere. Tattoo identification, somewhat similar to finger printing, keeps individuals of this dairy breed always known. Jerseys make up 42 per cent of all dairy cows in the United States. Because they produce the world's richest milk, and because there are more Jersey than any other breed in America, their role in National Defense is an important one. Increased production of Jersey milk guarantees the protective food needs of here and abroad.

MCINTOSH BABY DIES

Roley Cornelius McIntosh, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McIntosh, died Tuesday, November 9, and was buried in the city cemetery.

An organization meeting for the War Fund Drive was held in the circuit court room in Murray Monday night, November 8. A. B. Austin presided at the meeting. Dr. J. H. Richmond spoke briefly concerning the National War Fund Drive pointing out the urgent need for war relief fund. He gave a graphic account of what this fund will mean to Calloway county boys on the front in battle and in far off army camps. He said the relief it will give to starving victims of war in China, Greece, Russia, and other unfortunate peoples.

Committees were named for various communities in the county. The organization of committees in Murray was deferred until the campaign chairman, who had been suddenly called out of town, returned.

The chairman of the Large Gifts Committee reported that the drive for funds in the town of Murray had been thus far very successful. He stated that no person or firm thus far solicited had failed to make a liberal donation. Although less than half of those to be solicited for large gifts have been seen around $2,000 has already been subscribed. The big drive for funds began today, Armistice Day, November 11, and is to continue Thanksgiving Day, November 25. It is hoped that during this period, solicitors will be able to call personally on every man and woman in Calloway county. Due to gas rationing and the tire situation, it may be impossible for solicitors to call on everybody. Those wishing to contribute are urged to send their donations to Bryan Tolley, Treasurer, or to a member of the soliciting committee in their district.

Hazel community has her own quota of $500.00 to raise. Mrs. Kuska Jones is chairman of this special drive and is aided by Daise White, Melton Marshall, Mrs. Charlie Dunham, Mrs. Ernest Dick and Miss Marelle Orr.

The following is a list of committee members by districts named to date. Others will be added as the campaign progresses.

ARMISTICE — WAR FUND DRIVE

Twenty-five years ago today an armistice was signed, and the fighting nations laid down arms. You will recall how the bells rang, the fire whistles sounded, and peoples were wild with excitement.

Today as that group of men who returned from World War I, gathered with others in the College Auditorium and commemorated that armistice of 1918, they felt the penalty of that hasty peace, for today their sons and daughters are on another battle front, tasting the bitter gall of blood and death.

As "Tags" sounded at the eleventh hour of this eleventh day, our minds are filled with the thoughts of the dead and the living. It reminds us that there is only one thing that we can do about this sad state of the world and that is to give with all of our strength, heart, and love to the cause that will give the quickest relief.

Today opens the National War Fund Drive. This drive includes the giving of relief to seventeen different agencies — it will relieve our sons and daughters who are in the service by giving them entertainment and recreation in USO camps. It will feed hungry Chinese, starving Greeks, give cigarettes to fighting homes to the suffering, clothes to the homeless — perhaps the most of Europe, the babies left parentless in the shattered cities of Europe.

Today one veteran said he knew how it felt to be taken off the farm and transplanted into a foreign camp with not a soul he knew. He knew how it felt to be away from home the first time — to be in a uniform and know that he was being trained to kill or be killed. He remembers that first night in the army. He knows how it feels to sleep in the mud of a fox hole. He knows how it feels to climb through barbed wire on tanglements. He knows how it feels to be told that he is wounded for life. All these feelings are not new to the men in the service today.

If entertainment in the USO camps can in any way ease a tired soul and lift his thoughts from the tiring drudgery of a long day, and if he can make him great fun to give — and himself a while — it will be great fun to give to this great cause, and the least we can do.

Have a heart and give to this War Fund Drive until you feel the effect. Give it freely. Don't be accused of saying "I have been tired."

It may be too late to give to that one you love when the message comes through — "Missing in Action."

LIBRARY DOWN TOWN

Calloway County is fortunate to be living in the shadow of Murray State College. This institution gives many rich blessings to Murray, Calloway and neighboring counties in the direction of education, library facilities, speakers, and the unique thing to teachers' colleges, the competition with the T. V. A. Regional Library that is sending books to all sections of the county and Marshall and Graves. The T. V. A. has meant much to the lovely people in the service and will give to the lovely people in the line people and some of the offices are leaving Murray. Miss Mary Berry is Regional Librarian and is trying to get the service of books in the county and is trying to establish a library down town in Murray.

The City Council has voted to contribute toward the maintenance of this library provided the project can get additional financial help.

Books and access to them down town would be a contribution to the entertainment for both old and young.

COMMUNITIES OF CALLOWAY COUNTY APPRECIATE GOOD BOOKS

BOOKS IN FARM HOMES

Are books important in farm homes? Some people ask. My answer to this question is YES.

Through books, farm people meet new and interesting people from all over the world. We find useful information in many books.

There isn't a homemaker any place that doesn't get some new ideas from "Every Woman's Complete Guide to Homemaking." Also "What I Do Until the Doctor Comes," which gives first aid treatments in general.

There has been a community library in my home since February. There are 26 people reading these books.

There have been 300 books read, many of these books were novels or mystery stories, although the homemakers have been intensely interested in such books as "Fifty Things to Make for the Home," "Master Homemaker," "300 Sugar-Saving Recipes," "Fun With Flowers," and "Art of Living in War-time."

There is nothing more peaceful at the close of a full day than a good book.

Mrs. Oran Wells,
Pelee Club.

HOMEMAKERS AND READING

Henry Van Dyke in his interesting little essay called "Who Owns The Mountains," explained that the mountains belong to those who can enjoy them. So it is with books and our libraries. No one really possesses a library, no matter how many books he may have, unless he can use it and appreciate it, and the humblest of us may own a wonderful treasure if we have learned to unlock the door.

The Homemakers Club at White Oak is using those master keys

BOOKS—ENTERTAINMENT AND GUIDANCE

Lynn Grove

From the time mankind first learned to write until the time the press put out thousands of books a day, mankind has looked to books as a companion. Out of every age, no matter how dark it might have been, there has come a steady line of books which has aided in the building of the future. From the time private libraries were few and books were a luxury, man has opened the pages of books to find comfort, laughter, and companionship. To the person who is confined indoors books give a picture of the outside world and the wonders therein. Books are a pastime and fill many lonely hours for the old whose companions are gone. From the aged to the youngest child who thrills at the pictures and stories in children's books, there are a great many hours of happiness to be spent in books.

Today when more than ever America is looking to books to guide her we feel the need of book week, and we appreciate the library just around the corner, and the work being done by Education.

Bookmobile Serves Library Needs of Area

The above picture shows, first reading from left, Mrs. Dulcia Swann Douglas and Miss Mary Berry in the Regional Library office, Murray State College, and second, the Bookmobile that serves this area for book service. Miss Berry is Regional Librarian and Mrs. Douglas is her assistant. This service is through the cooperation of the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Kentucky Library Extension, and Murray State College.

tional Leaders of our nation to put in the reach of every American a book that will help him or her find their place in life. It is just such books that you will find on the shelves of your regional library. They are there ready to help you build the future, and it is your job to take them off the shelf and put them into use.

Maxine Crouch

"Many times the reading of a book has made the future of a man."

Emerson

DEXTER

The Bookmobile Library is used at Dexter, the books are placed at M. T. Tarry's Store. It seems that everyone, particularly children, have some spare moments during the week to read. They can build their future in books. They cannot be spared all the facts about war, but books can be an influence on them and inspire in them an appreciation of our great heritage. They can read of other lands, stories of beauty and imagination that will help to guide them to that better world toward which we are looking.

Mrs. Merle Andrus

Getting Books From the Bookmobile

BOOKS DIVERT OUR LIVES

In this terrible crisis while the whole world is rushing over the "jugged road" of life, we should take time to think of our future world in which we and our children are to live, just what we should do to help build a world in which we can be happy God loving people.

Since the foundation of a nation is its homes, it behooves each of us to discipline our homes with that unselfish Christ-like love that refines and elevates, and I know of no better way of doing so than surrounding our children with good books.

They learn to read by being in the presence of books. The love of knowledge comes with reading and grows. Books are not a luxury; they are a necessity. No man has the right to deny his family the use of good books. No matter how poor, we should strive to own a few good books and master them. The influence of good books is remarkable—something of its truth and tenderness and inspiration will grow into your very soul and become a part of us.

The boy who reads, deeds of manliness, of bravery and noble daring deeds, feels that spirit grow within him and the seed is planted which will bring forth fruit of heroic and exalted life.

No home should be without good books now since we can have them for a period of time without any charge to us whatever. We have a gold mine of knowledge right here in Calloway county. The Regional Library, it even sends out streams of gold throughout the county and neighboring counties by way of the Bookmobile making deposits in our schools and community centers. No excuse for not reading—just make up your mind what you should read and read it. In books we can meet great people and not even feel embarrassed even though we are not dressed in our best or our manners not just what they should be.

Parents should furnish the necessary means, opportunities and direction of a christian education—give them the proper books. Without books, says the quaint Bartholin, God is silent, justice dormant, science at a standstill, philosophy lame, letters dumb, and all things involved in Cimmerian darkness.

A reading people will soon become a thinking people and a thinking people must soon become a great people.

Some time ago a Bible reading man, who had reached the three score and ten age, who had suffered many adversities, had risen above many obstacles in his path and in his last days, although suffering physically, he read the glad book Pollyanna which gave him new life and helped him to always look for something to be glad about; something to appreciate in everything that passed, his way. What a blessing!

Everyone should make full use of our gold mine, the Regional Library, and build for the future with books.

Mrs. Eulis Goodwin,
Pakestine Club.

COLDWATER

"We're In the Army Now"

We're in the army. Although we don't fight, We read books and read books. And like it all right.

There are privates and colonels ("I'm Commander-in-Chief") And when I get a book I really am "dead."

And then for a minute, The world doesn't count. Yes, then to a penny, It doesn't amount.

But still we are hoping To help win this war— And as weeks go by, We help more and more.

And if you don't help us As much as you might, There'll be no more, than, Tojo and Hitler to fight.

Jean Evelyn Darnell,
Coldwater School.

NATIONAL BOOK WEEK NOVEMBER 14-20, 1943

"Build the Future With Books" is the slogan for the 25th National Book Week.

In May 1919, Franklin K. Mathews, Chief Scout Librarian, asked the American Booksellers Association to start a campaign for better books for young people. The Association then planned the first Book Week, which took place the following November. The American Library Association and numerous other organizations, service clubs, women's clubs, and schools endorsed the idea and Book Week is now one of the major celebrations of the year.

There has been a great change in books for young people in the past quarter century. Now the United States have the most beautiful books in the world for children. The books are available through libraries and book stores every day in the year instead of just at Christmas. A child can have no greater privilege than to "build the future with books."

The Ledger & Times has been very generous in giving space for Calloway County's celebration of National Book Week. The articles and poems are from Homemakers, Community Correspondents, students from elementary and high schools over the county.

Calloway is one of three counties in the Murray State College Regional Library Program. The Bookmobile visits all the one- and two-teacher schools, the six high schools and 23 community libraries once every month on a definite schedule. The Regional Library has two services — and through these the College fulfills its obligations to the schools and to the adults in the service area. It assists in the formal education of the children and gives informal education to all adults.

The Calloway County Library Board consists of Mr. Baron Jeffrey, president; Rev. Robert Blankenship, vice-president; Mrs. Leslie Ellis, secretary, and Mrs. McThomas Tarry, Mr. Rudy Hendon and Mr. Evin Wilkerson.

KIRKSEY

I Like to Read

Reading is the most interesting thing I can do. I get new ideas on things I've never thought of before. I make a picture in my mind of the scenes which take place in the book. By drawing these mental pictures, I can get better ideas of countries which I have never seen and probably never will see, but still, if the subject of this country comes up I am able to talk more intelligently about it.

By reading books I have a chance to study people. By learning the ways of the characters in the book I get to understand people better in every-day life. Ideas drawn from books may be either good or bad; however, I try to pick my books so the ideas given will help me.

Betty June Drinkard,
Freshman
Kirksey High School.

It is a great joy to me to read books. Many happy days are passed away while reading stories of far away lands. It seems as if I were there. While I read I increase my vocabulary. When I am tired there is nothing more comforting than to sit down and read.

If we read while we are young, it may lead us to a quiet future. When we are the men and women of tomorrow, some day I hope to have a large vocabulary because of my reading of many great books while I was young.

Lillian Suiter,
Kirksey School,
Seventh Grade.

NEW CONCORD

Building the Future With Books

Our democracy depends upon the education of our boys and girls' education. It means more than formal schooling. It is something that is going on all the time; not just between the hours of nine and three. Education is anything that develops skill and brings out latent abilities. But schooling facilitates education. The rapid decrease in school attendance is therefore of grave concern to the nation. By the thousands, boys and girls are leaving school before graduation to go to work. Why?

The motives are understandable — the attraction of high wages, the desire to help with the war, the example of their associates, and the arguments of those who are thoughtlessly exploiting the labor of youth. The boys and girls can render their greatest service by securing NOW the education which will surely be needed in the post-war years.

What chance has a child to lead a noble life when his first impressionable years are saturated with the suggestion of evil, when jealousy and hatred, revenge and strife, fill his ears and eyes? How important it is, that the child should hear and see and be taught that which will make for beauty and truth, for loveliness and grandeur of character! The minds of children are like the sensitive plates of a photographer, recording every thought and suggestion to which they are exposed. These early impressions make up the character and determine the future possibility.

What if there were no books? Can you imagine a world intellectually famine-stricken like that — a bookless world? We would stand stranded, so to speak, between the past and the future. But books are able to span that chasm as carriers of the accumulating heritage from generation to generation. They invite one to the mountain top into a new atmosphere and a new vision of the world. They lead children from the earliest age into the wonders of a full and beautiful bookworld of poetry, legend, story, science, making it dear and familiar to them in the years within which the tastes are formed.

The capacity to receive and be influenced through the symbolism of language constitutes one of the most potent opportunities for education. Through this capacity the great personalities of literature, history and biography may exert their ennobling influence on the lives of those other times and places. In this way the greatest of human qualities are made common property of the race, and the thoughts and feelings that actuated men and women of other ages, or even men and women who existed only in the mind of the writer, may come to serve as motives in the lives of our boys and girls of today.

Feed the imagination of youth with books. Let the magic of books help them overcome space and time and give the range of knowledge which belongs to him. Give them books, break the sight of war and horror, and the tethers that hold them down, those who hold the future in their hands.

I see them totter in the very old, in clumsy, shapeless clothes and shabby shoes. With eager eyes they search the racks for news. Or seek the magazines where tales art told. Strange tales of mystery and fairy gold. Romance, adventure, and the distant glow. Of that far land where dreams forgotten go. Where no one is neglected, hungry, cold.

Not all are old and poor; the young are here. With eager hearts they come to learn, to plain. They have the faith of youth, and its disdain. Of failure, disappointment, loss and fear. Some day, they too, will watch the setting sun. And reading here, forget what life has done.

Comments Given
On Book Week

"Observing the National Book Week for Children, leaders of civic clubs and organizations here were invited to make statements concerning their opinion of this of this cause.

Their statements follow:
A. B. Austin, president of the Rotary Club, makes the following statement concerning the importance of books:

"National Book Week is of vital importance to the American people, for reading books not only gives us a rest from the cares and worries of these trying times, but it saturates us with the best that has been thought and written in the past. A person who consistently reads good books seldom gets in trouble."

Charlotte Owen, president of Zeta Club, says:
"In one European country it is a crime punishable by death to have in one's possession certain books denounced by the authorities of that country. We should be very proud and thankful to be able to live in a nation that observes Book Week—a week set aside in which we are encouraged to read ANY books, by any author, or any poet, of any nation that we might choose."

Armistice Day Opens Calloway's
National War Fund Drive
--and we are doing our part to help raise the quota of $6,200.00

It has been twenty-five years since the end of World War I, and we commemorate that Armistice in the middle of another, more critical, world wide conflict. A whole generation has grown up since 1918. Never has there been more suffering in this world... Never have so many piteous broken peoples looked to America... Calloway... to YOU... to US... for HELP.

Give To The National War Fund

This fund includes: USO, War Prisoner's Aid, Help to the Refugees from War Stricken Countries, the Starving Greeks... and all the 17 different agencies.

When Taps Sound Today

Let us consult our hearts for the amount we are to give. If your budget feels it a little... then you have really given. May we determine in our hearts that the next Armistice Day will be a more glorious one, more secure than that of 1918. May it be here soon... before too many of our own are listed "AMONG THOSE MISSING!"

Women more than men apt to suffer SIMPLE ANEMIA

If Weakened From Lack of Iron Due to "Monthly Losses"

You girls and women who suffer from simple anemia or who lose so much blood monthly period that you feel tired, weak, "dragged out" due to low blood-iron—

Start at once—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound TABLETS (only added iron)—Pinkham's Tablets is one of the greatest blood-iron tonics you can buy to help build up red blood to give more strength and to promote a more refreshed and robust blood stream—in such cases.

Taken as directed—Pinkham's Tablets is one of the best and quickest home ways to get precious iron into the blood. Just try Pinkham's Tablets faithfully for at least 30 days. Then see if you, too, don't remarkably benefit. Follow label directions. Well worth trying.

Keep on Backing the Attack with War Bonds!

War Heroes Set Example For Civilian Home Front--They Buy War Bonds!

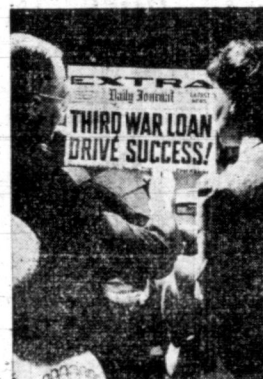

We must not let up in the continued and increased purchase of War Bonds. This continuity picture strip portrays the importance of increasing civilian War Bond buying through the Payroll Savings Plan.

"Yes, Mother, we've bought these extra Bonds and haven't missed the money, so there's no reason why I cannot increase my Payroll Savings deductions down at the plant and then we'll be sure of getting those extra Bonds. Keep on backing the attack with War Bonds."

"You are right, Dad, and I've figured how we can keep on buying an extra War Bond. The boys would want us to do it and we must put every cent we've got over and above our living into Uncle Sam's Bonds. Let me get our budget book and show you what I mean."

Mr. and Mrs. America thrill at the news that the fifteen billion dollar third war loan went over the top indicating that the American people at home are backing the attack on Hitler's European fortress. But the attack goes on, night and day, with increasing intensity.

"See there, we can cut out some of our recreation. We can get along very well without that trip we planned. We'll cut out so much that's unnecessary, and you know, Dad, we're not so young as we once were. This additional saving will help us when peace comes."

"The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow."

"I'd like to tell you what the Japs did to some friends of mine"

I AM LIEUTENANT (j.g.) ANN B. BERNATITUS, U.S.N.—a nurse, back from Bataan. I have a message for you . . .

"Those American boys—who fought for you with their backs to the wall, waiting for help that never reached them—came from the land of plenty. But when their lives were at stake, all they had was . . . plenty of nothing!"

"They were outnumbered, outgunned, and out-supplied. They were so short of ammunition that antiaircraft gunners often had to hold their fire until the enemy planes were on top of them. They were so short of bandages and gauze that we nurses had to wash out the old ones and use them again.

"But they were never short of courage. They never spoke of surrender. They just went on fighting, and hoping, and dying. And no sacrifice was ever too great.

"Let me give you an example. One terrible day on Bataan we had 285 patients on our operating tables in 8 hours—a new patient every two minutes of the day.

"A sailor was brought in with his abdomen blown to bits. He was a goner and I think he knew it. 'Doctor,' he asked, 'is there any hope at all?'"

"The doctor wished to reassure him and replied, 'We'll do everything we can!' The sailor tried to roll over. 'Doc,' he begged, 'get me off this table and save one of those other fellows who still has a fighting chance.'"

"That was the kind of men we had at Bataan. And they would want you to remember not only what they did, but what they did without.

"They would want you to remember it, but not with flowers and memorials. The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow.

"Remember them now—this month and every month—by buying War Bonds!

"Buy guns and planes and shells and ships and tanks—for those other countrymen of yours who are fighting so far from home. See to it that never again, any place in the world, will American fighting men be caught short as they were on Bataan! That never again will American wounded perish for the help your dollars might have sent!

"Certainly taxes are higher. Certainly the cost of living has gone up. But the men on Bataan were never ten-percenters!

"They gave everything they had. And now it's up to you to buy War Bonds not only if you can, but all you can! Please believe me, folks—that's the way the boys on Bataan would like to be remembered!"

These boys make our sacrifices at home seem puny in comparison. They have spilled blood for us, yet are buying War Bonds so their buddies still on the battle front may be assured the equipment they need.

Pvt. William E. Morris, Long Beach, Cal., is above draft age but has seen three years of service. He lost his left leg below the knee in Tunisia. He wears the Purple Heart and Good Conduct Ribbon and continues his War Bond purchases.

Pvt. Thomas Dellarossa, Trenton, N. J., 18th Infantry Patrol, was wounded by shrapnel at El Guitar, Africa, and now must wear a special brace for his left knee. He won the Purple Heart. He buys War Bonds regularly and urges you to.

Sgt. Carl Funk, 26, Cincinnati, lost his right eye and sustained a fractured left knee in Sicily. He has been buying War Bonds regularly. He will return to civil life as soon as he is discharged from Halloran Hospital, N. Y.

Pvt. Donat Cartier, Derry, N. H., suffered a fracture of the leg above the knee in Sicily when struck by an 88 mm. shell. He was held prisoner for two days by the Germans, traveling in a tank. He is a regular purchaser of War Bonds.

COMMENTS GIVEN ON BOOK WEEK

President of the Business and Professional Club Mrs. Humphrey Key has this to say about National Book Week:
"We should take time off to pause and be grateful under the protection of the Stars and Stripes, that we have the opportunity to read books which inspire us to live up to high ideals. Educators have long seen that good books are an incentive to continuing education and thoughtful loyal citizenship. One should make a habit of reading a book a month. Create in children a desire for entertaining and instructive literature."

County Judge C. A. Hale believes in books for children, and stated:
"The habit of reading and understanding good books is brought about only through contact with the people who write them."

W. J. Cappinger, Superintendent of Murray City Schools, says:
"I would say create a good taste for good reading in your children by reading good books to them when they are too young to read for themselves, then when they are older, keep good books conveniently placed in your home. Good books like good friends are an inspiration, a guide and a blessing."

Mrs. A. B. Austin, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, says:
"The privilege of observing Na-

Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray State College and president of the Kentucky Education Association, gave this quotation from Morley when asked about his opinion of books and libraries:
"The innocence and completeness with which the child's spirit is renewed upon the book is a unique absorption and forgetfulness always moves deeply. A child does not read to criticize and compare, but just in the unselfish joy of finding itself in a new world. And behind every such child is the heart and brain of some teacher, parent or librarian that makes the book possible."

"Good reading makes for good character, that is why ministers are strongly in favor of the contemplative reading room and library. The book is a unique absorption and forgetfulness always moves deeply. A child does not read to criticize and compare, but just in the unselfish joy of finding itself in a new world. And behind every such child is the heart and brain of some teacher, parent or librarian that makes the book possible."

Mrs. G. R. McGovern, chairman of the Book Week Committee, said:
"A downtown library would indeed be a forward step for Murray."

George Hart, mayor, said, "We are concerned with the future of our children. It seems that good reading in our midst 'would be a guide for them, and with this in mind, the City Council voted Friday night to assist financially with the downtown library project."

A. F. Yancey, president of the Young Business Men's Club, makes a statement concerning the National Book Week:
"I like a book not only for what it says, but also for what it asks and suggests."

Mrs. Walter Baker, president of the Home Department, in the words of Shakespeare said:
"There is no darkness but ignorance. Therefore let us illuminate our lives with knowledge."

Mrs. Ben B. Keys, vice president of the Arts and Crafts Club, says:
"He who loves books never wants for friends—He can always have by his side wholesome, cheerful companions, and one who will advise and comfort."

Mrs. Herschel Baker, president of the Book Club, Training School, believes:
"The observance of National Book Week is very vital to a fast growing civilization. The need for a historical background and reading of good books is obvious if we are to progress with the times."

Mrs. G. B. Scott, chairman of the Garden Club, expressed her approval of the downtown library project and thought this would be beneficial to both youth and adults in Murray and Calloway counties.

Mrs. C. S. Lowery, president of the Alpha Club, believes in the quotation: "The Hope of Democracy lies in the diffusion of knowledge" and further believes that there could be no better way of promoting the diffusion of knowledge than by the establishing of libraries in accessible places.

"SPOOKY TAVERN" BY TRAINING SCHOOL

The author himself could have thought up no more appropriate weather than nature's thunder and rain accompaniment to the presentation of Jay Tobias' "Spooky Tavern," at the little chapel on the college campus Saturday night. Set in an atmosphere of pouring rain, dimmed lights and flashing lightning, the play was even the more successful because of the true life storm which roared outside the auditorium walls.

The central feminine role was played by Rosemary Jeffrey. Other characters included Imogene Riggs as the heroine's sister, Florabelle; Bill Armstrong as Willie Worle; Billie Gingles as the colored maid, Bessie; Sam Elliott as Terry Tanner and Ed Dale Riggs as Ralph Channing, suitors and heroine; Duell Burken as Faron the gangster; Pat Trevelan and Betty Shroat as "Lion Harker" and his sister, Lucy; J. R. Story as Blackie, another gangster; and Dorothy Nell Smith as the ghost woman. Nighting was adequately handled by Harry Russell and Pat Barker, and the set was built by Bill Armstrong, Pat Trevelan and Sam Elliott. The staging of the play was supervised and directed by Miss Lora Frisby, critic teacher of the training school, and Miss Marjorie Foshee, senior at Murray State.

Spectators agreed that it was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, and commented particularly upon the smoothness of the production—uncommonly smooth for a first-night amateur presentation.

HAZEL 4-H CLUB

The Hazel 4-H Club met in the auditorium Friday morning, October 22, with Theron Erwin, president, in charge.

The program, opened with Bible reading by Frankie Grozan. The pledge to the flag and the 4-H Club pledge were led by Miss R. A. Rhodes. Home demonstration agents, Lonnie Ruffell, called the roll. An interesting short play was presented by members. Estel Noff, senior, county agent, discussed the district project achievement meeting held in Paducah recently.

Edwin James Guides Basketball Teams In China

Recognizing the truth in the old adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," this pioneer bombardier squadron in China, under the command of Lt. Col. Morris F. Taber, of San Antonio, Texas, and stationed at a base in the Forward Echelon of Major General Chennault's 14th U. S. Air Force, has recently organized a basketball team.

The boys, under the guiding hand of Lt. Edwin James of Murray, Base Special Service Officer, who always plays forward—the quintet have met a team of Chinese athletes from a near-by city three times and came out best but once. They have some consolation, however, in the fact that the local team is composed of former athletes from China's colleges and universities.
