Bevin, Bidault And Molotov Open Talks On Marshall Plan

Paris, June 27—(AP)—The foreign ministers of Britain, France and Russia assembled here today to try to draft a common response to a United States proposal for European economic reconstruction with American aid.

The three statesmen—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, French Foreign Minister George Bidault and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov—were scheduled to meet at 4 p. m. to begin their talks on the plan of U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

Bevin arrived here by plane from London at 11:23 a. m. and was greeted at the airport by Bidault. Molotov arrived yesterday and received a similar welcome.

Speculation ran high as to whether the talks would result in closer cooperation between Russia and the western nations or would intensify disagreements between them evident since the war's end.

Official CIO Reaction To Taft-Hartley Bill Is Drafted In Capital

Golden Funeral To Be Saturday

Truman Cautions Labor, Employers To Abide By Law

LABOR LAWYERS MEET

Washington, June 27—(AP)—Leaders of 6,000,000 CIO members, cautioned by President Truman alone with all labor and management to live up to the new Taft-Hartley law, gathered today to draft a program of contest or compliance.

CIO President Philip Murray convened his 51-member executive board to hear an up-to-the-minute size-up of the new statute as compiled by the labor organization's entire legal staff. Attorneys for each of the 49 CIO unions met here yesterday with general counsel Lee Pressman.

Both the AFL and the CIO rejected the idea of general protest strikes, although AFL President William Green told reporters yesterday that unions throughout the nation were urging him to call one to last "until the act is repealed."

Instead, Green called a meeting here July 9 of the heads of the AFL's 10 unions, to go over the law and determine a program of policy—the same type of session fixed for today by Murray and the CIO.

President Truman made his appeal for compliance by employers and unions in a formal statement at his news conference late yesterday. He called upon both labor and management "to exercise patience and moderation in accommodating themselves to the changes made necessary by the act."

"In accordance with the constitutional progress of our government," he said, "we must all respect its provisions."

Mr. Truman formally pledged that despite the enactment of the Taft-Hartley law over his veto, he will do all in his power to make sure the act "is well faithfully administered."

"Insofar as management and labor are concerned," he declared, "there is a vital responsibility upon them to comply with the law in a spirit of tolerance and fair play. Neither management nor labor will achieve any long-range benefit by seeking to use the provisions of this act to gain unfair advantage or to sustain arbitrary attitudes."

In that connection, Murray was expected to recommend to the 49 union heads represented on his executive board that they seek immediate meetings with management representatives in their industries to discuss common obligations and problems under the law.

"Industrial strife at this critical time can result only in economic dislocation injurious to all of us. If it should reach serious proportions it would threaten the stability of our economic and endanger the peace of the world."

"We cannot afford such a result."

May-Garsson Case Near End

Final arguments open; Each Side Has 8 Hours

Washington, June 27—(AP)—Final arguments begin today in the bribe conspiracy trial of former Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.) and munitions makers Henry and Murray Garsson.

Attorneys agreed to limit the arguments to eight hours for each side and to hold night sessions in order to give the case to the federal court jury by the middle of next week.

The 72-year-old May, wartime chairman of the House Military committee, is accused of taking more than $50,000 from the Garsson brothers to use his War Department influence for the $70,000,000 string of Garsson arms firms.

The government has contended the arms manufacturers attempted to set May up in the lumber business by financing for him the Cumberland Lumber Company, a Kentucky concern.

The defendants have denied all charges.

Justice Henry A. Schweinhaut overruled a defense motion for acquittal when both the government and defense rested yesterday. The trial has been on since April 22.

U. S. To Give Kai-Shek 130 Million Pounds Of Rifle Ammunition To Combat Communist Armies' Drive In Manchuria, North China

Washington, June 27—(AP)—The United States has agreed to turn over to China 130,000,000 pounds of surplus rifle ammunition for weapons of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops.

State Department officials also told reporters that the Nanking government has been authorized to purchase other military supplies from American private manufacturers.

On the question of economic aid for the hard-pressed Nationalist government, the Export-Import Bank announced it will consider lending money to China for specific projects.

William Martin, bank chairman, said an earmark of $500,000,000 in funds for China will be allowed to expire June 30. However, the new promise of aid for specific projects leaves the door open for Chinese borrowing, either by government agencies or private enterprises.

Inability of China to settle its internal troubles and the resulting civil war were reported largely responsible for its failure to nail down any loans out of the funds which were earmarked 14 months ago.

Well posted officials said that Communist drive in Manchuria and North China, Nanking representatives have been making urgent overtures for weapons, ammunition and other military equipment—from both American Army and Navy surplus stocks and from commercial manufacturers.

At a time when Nanking officials have been charging—without confirmation—that Russia has supplied the Communists with ample arms, the ammunition supplies of Nationalist troops have been severely rationed.

While the United States since V-J day has supplied limited quantities of arms to friendly countries in Europe, Latin America and elsewhere, China has received none since Marshall halted all deliveries last year before he abandoned his attempt to close the breach between the Nationalist government and the Communists.

Lee Pressman (extreme left), general counsel for the CIO, and other CIO lawyers in a meeting in Washington study the effect of the new Taft-Hartley law on CIO unions. The group will report to the CIO executive board.

Destroy The Barriers

The wool price support bill vetoed yesterday by President Truman is more important as a soundings board of our future economic policy than most other tariff measures of recent years. The measure provides that the President may increase tariffs or restrict imports if foreign wool or wool products become so cheap that domestic prices must be lowered. The President pointed out in his veto message that this action would be "a tragic mistake" because it would counteract American and United Nations efforts to reduce all trade barriers.

To our way of thinking, we have little to fear from the economic effects of imported wool or other foreign products. We have the most efficient industrial machine in the world, our workers are the most highly skilled and use the best machinery, our per capita output in almost any line of endeavor compares favorably with that of any other nation.

World recovery is dependent upon the quick resumption of international commerce. If we, as the most powerful nation in the world, revert to economic isolationism, the future appears dark indeed.

General Strike Unwise

We believe AFL President William Green acted wisely yesterday in rejecting union demands for a general strike to protest the newly-enacted Taft-Hartley labor bill.

Green proposes to throw the political weight of his powerful organization into the next elections with the purpose of defeating every member of Congress who voted for this legislation, and to fight the measure in the courts. This is the constitutional and inalienable right of the AFL president and his followers, and the only proper way to attack the legislation. Congress is supposed to represent the will of the majority of the nation's voters, and it is assumed that most people favor the Taft-Hartley bill since it was passed overwhelmingly in both houses over the president's veto. If Congress acted contrary to the wishes of the people, it will be known when the next ballots are cast.

In the meantime, it behooves everyone—labor and management alike—to abide by the provisions of the new bill, which is now the law of the land.

About this time last year large advertisements were broadcast, prophesying a speedy drop in prices if government controls were removed. These advertisers should now get a second series, explaining why this did not happen.—Frankfort State-Journal.

The mink, whose fur is so highly prized among fastidious women, resembles an English pointer in size and, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, has a very disagreeable smell. Which is what men have been trying to tell their wives for years.

$101,000 In Cash Stored In Trunk

Florence, S. C.—(AP)—A battered old trunk here yielded $101,000 in cash to administrators of a $1,500,000 estate left by two business-minded sisters.

Working to liquidate the estate of Mrs. Susan J. Stackley Eucht and Mrs. Catherine Mary Stackley Berry, administrators found the trunk, inside, neatly packed away, was the cash.

The estate was divided among 24 nieces and nephews of the sisters, who for many years operated widespread business interests from a small dry goods shop here.

Standard Arms Needed

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Standardization of arms among the countries of the Western Hemisphere as a measure of mutual security is being made a matter of vital urgency by the heads of America's fighting services.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Army chief of staff, emphasized the need of speed in testifying before the Foreign Affairs committee of the House of Representatives which is holding hearings on President Truman's proposal to effect such standardization. Eisenhower declared that danger would threaten both North and South America, and he was emphatic in saying that now is the time to organize for defense.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, also supported legislation to authorize the U. S. A. to aid in standardization. They said if legislation was enacted the Navy proposes to trade new warships to Latin-American countries for obsolete vessels.

One of the most telling points at the hearing was made by both Eisenhower and Nimitz—that if the United States doesn't furnish arms and training to the rest of the Western Hemisphere, some other countries will. Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of War Patterson previously had said the same thing.

It was left to Eisenhower to make the disquieting disclosure that other countries already are trying to sell arms to Latin America. He declined to amplify.

Of course the point of wholesale standardization is that the United States would be the arsenal for the entire Western Hemisphere in event of an attack directed against both continents. No other nation is equipped industrially to cope with such an emergency. Any nation which wasn't a party to the standardization program would be unable to defend itself, and therefore would be a weak link in the chain.

Eisenhower said that complete cooperation between the United States and Canada is imperative. This is true because in the event of another war one of the first moves of the enemy would be an air attack on the industrial centers near the Great Lakes.

Military experts learned invaluable lessons regarding standardization during both World Wars. There were times when lack of coordination between allies like England and France was damaging. The same was true among some of the German allies, but in both conflicts Germany had a considerable degree of standardization among its followers.

Hitler achieved this through the simple expedient of forcing small countries to accept outmoded German armament in barter trade for the foodstuff which the Fatherland needed. Once a country was equipped with German Arms, it had to secure ammunition and replacements from the Fuehrer's arsenals.

Of course it takes more than standardization to turn the trick. You must have resources and that's what America still has.

State Medical Men Favor Voluntary Prepayment Plan

Louisville, Ky., June 27—(AP)—The Kentucky State Medical Association's executive council announced today its approval of a voluntary prepayment plan which would enable any Kentuckian to insure himself against costs of surgery.

Dr. P. E. Blackerby, state health commissioner and secretary of the council, said the plan also would include obstetrical care.

"There is no question but that as people adopt the plan it will become a great contribution to the health of the whole commonwealth," Dr. Blackerby said. Under the proposed plan, each participant would contribute monthly fees, the amount to be determined later, to assure payment of any surgical expenses. The participant could choose any doctor who was a member of the program.

Get A Horse? Not This Driver

40-Year-Old Buick Still In Good Shape

Charleston, W. Va.—(AP)—When Shelby Melton goes out for a spin in his automobile he evokes the old cry from curbstone hecklers: "Why don't you get a horse?"

That's because when Melton's 40-year-old car was a current model it was a "horseless carriage."

It is a 1907 model and Melton says it was one of the first Buicks ever built. He found it three years ago in a junkyard at Gallipolis, O., while foraging for spare parts.

Melton is in the automobile business, so it was natural that he should buy the ancient vehicle, tow it home and put it in running shape.

Prime difficulties, Melton has found, lie in finding tires to fit and starting in low gear without jerking the daylight out of the passengers. Once under way, Melton says, his car runs smoothly and comfortably.

Robinson Suggests Benefit Fight For Doyle's Parents

Cleveland, June 27—(AP)—Welterweight champion Ray Robinson, whose eight round technical knockout of Jimmy Doyle here Tuesday night resulted in Doyle's death, said today he wanted to appear in a benefit bout for the Los Angeles boxer's parents.

Robinson discussed the possibilities of such a bout with Paul Doyle, Jimmy's manager, and Louis Munala, long time friend of the dead fighter.

The fight would be held in Los Angeles, it was reported, with Robinson donating his purse.

Wall Street Report

New York, June 27—(AP)—Oils continued to touch new highs in today's stock market but many leaders ran out of rising steam.

The petroleum group again was buoyed by the brightening earnings outlook. A little buying elsewhere was based on more optimism over the business pictures and hopes that widespread labor dissension soon would fade.

Dealings tapered after a moderately active opening and the direction was somewhat foggy near midday.

At peaks for 1947 were Standard Oil (N.J.), Standard Oil of Cal., Shamrock Oil and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil. Occasional gainers of fractions included Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Deere, Sperry, Western Union "A", Anaconda, N. Y., General Electric and Baltimore & Ohio. Interim stumblers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, American Telephone, U. S. Rubber, Dow Chemical, J. C. Penney, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, Phillips, Dodge and Pennsylvania Railroad.

Bonds were uneven and cotton futures steady.
