Country Girl In The City

That old saw about taking the girl out of the country, but not taking the country out of the girl, was written by a genius. Never did it make itself more apparent on Monday when this country girl-editor spent the day in St. Louis, just relaxing a little until Mary Jo completed her classes at the Academy of the Sacred Heart in St. Charles, before coming home for the Christmas holidays on Tuesday.

Paul and I drove up on Sunday for the annual Christmas program that day. He returned home Sunday night by train, and I stayed in St. Louis with the car, so that I could bring home Mary Jo's vast accumulated paraphernalia for rejuvenating at mid-year. What with the Christmas shopping she had done, and the laundry bag she had stuffed to choking, and the clothes she needed for the holidays, we barely escaped renting a trailer for the trip home.

Anyway on Monday, with nothing to do but read, relax and kill time, I decided to drive over to the neighborhood shopping center called Northwest, in the afternoon, mostly to get the feel of Christmas and to get an item or two for the children and Paul that I was unable to get here. The shopping center is a nice walk from the Parkway House where I was staying, but I decided to drive, to save the wear and tear on my poor aging feet.

I had seen the shopping center several times on our previous visits there, and marvelled at the amazing convenience of all that parking space, that looked like it was just a stone's throw from every store on the mall. And that's where I made my great mistake. It's an optical illusion. Either that or I am countryier than I think!

Well, I drove over to the shopping center, parking opposite the entrance of Famous-Barr Department Store. I felt great! I walked into the store at about noon, strolled around, and then found that all I had to do was walk out of that store, onto the mall, where the glittering appeal of dozens of shops made walking in and out of them something like a panacea for the Christmas shopper. I was enjoying it all, until my poor old feet told me that it must be getting late. It was indeed! When my feet start hurting, they start HURTING, and when they start hurting my whole mind and body collapses.

So I decided I would go on back to the car, and to the hotel, for a quiet dinner and to read Paul Fay's "The Pleasure of His Company," a story of Fay's 21-year friendship with the late President John F. Kennedy.

By now you know my amazing ignorance about directions. I went back to Famous-Barr, walked out of what I thought was the door I came in, and toward the direction of where I thought I had parked the car. It was wishful thinking at its very best. When I didn't see the car, which I had parked third down from one of the hundreds of parking lanes, I decided I must have come out of a different door from the one I went in.

Jottings From

Jo's

Knowing that just the smallest amount of walking would paralyze me, I panicked. I asked a gent walking near me how many entrances there were to Famous-Barr. He said "four." Ye gods, I thought, I had three other areas to look before I could be sure I would be in our car. But I did just that, walked all around that vast, immense, gigantic area, (at least it seemed so) but the more I looked, the more distance I seemed to be making away from Famous-Barr and that beloved, dirty, old car that I wanted to see so much.

I walked around for nearly an hour. I felt like that little fellow in the first reader who marked a pine tree to come back to his treasure, only to find as I did, that 20-acres of trees is about as bad as 20-acres of parked cars. By now I was so tired, so confused and so forlorn, I would have gotten in a car with anybody, abandoning the car until the next day, I really should have felt complimented, as old and haggard as I looked, for a couple of long-haired young fellows said, "hey, you want a lift? Just get in." They seemed too eager, so I refused, but their invitation gave me an idea.

Standing there, lost and almost in tears, I saw two nice-looking teen-age girls getting into their car and I approached them with my problem. They looked at each other, asked me to repeat my story, then reluctantly told me to get in their car and they would help me find my car. The spirit of Christmas, you know. They both kept talking to each other animatedly, about nothing at all, just wondering whether they had picked up some devious holiday bandit. As if I cared what they thought. For when I did find the car, on the very opposite side of where I had parked, those young ladies looked like little angels to me. They wouldn't take a gratuity; I think they were glad to get rid of me.

But that's not the end of the story! In my hurry to get in my car, I left my rain-coat in their car. Did I get it back? Of course not! Those poor kids didn't know what insane asylum I had escaped from.

Merry Christmas from "ole aching feet with the lame brain."

Urban Renewal Project Planning Begins Immediately, City Manager Shaw Reveals

The following is an article concerning Urban Renewal from City Manager, Rollin R. Shaw

Within the next few days the actual planning work for the Urban Renewal Project will begin.

The first phase of this planning involves the gathering of necessary information. There will be a survey made of all families living in the area to determine their actual existing housing conditions, family income, expenses and a determination of the type of housing that this family can afford. There will also be a business survey to determine the amount of square footage now in use, amount of square footage needed, parking facilities available, parking facilities needed, etc.

At about the same time there will be two additional surveys being made. One is called an acquisition Appraisal. This does not mean that this property is going to be purchased immediately. This survey is merely made to determine the value of the land and exactly how much it would cost to purchase the land should the project prove feasible. The other survey will be a preliminary Title Survey, which determines the actual owners of each parcel of land. Again this survey is necessary to determine that all parcels of land have been included and that an appraisal has been made of the entire area.

The primary emphasis at this time is towards planning. In order to adequately plan this area it is necessary that this basic and preliminary information be obtained. We therefore ask that you cooperate in obtaining this information so that these plans as developed reflect true and accurate information.

Again let me emphasize that this planning phase will take from 12 to 15 months. At the present time no one can say what the outcome will be. The Urban Renewal Agency will explore all ideas and attempt to develop the best plan for the community, for this particular area, and for all of the people. Again let me emphasize that the planning phase is scheduled to take 12 to 15 months. Once the plan is developed it must be approved by the Federal Agencies, and once this plan is approved then execution of the plan can commence. It will be at least two to two and one-half years before any acquisition of land will commence. Between now and that time the Urban Renewal will make every attempt to keep the community, and in particular the people located within this area, informed regarding what has happened, what is now being done, and what is planned for the future.

This area was selected for Urban Renewal for many reasons. The deteriorating condition and a number of substandard dwellings in the area, the mixing of business, light industrial and residential uses in the area and the drainage problem were the prime factors for considering this area for Urban Renewal.

At the present time it is impossible to determine what structures will remain in the area and what structures will be removed. It is known that all substandard dwelling units will be removed. Again the determination of what to do within this area will depend upon the plan, and this is what we are beginning to develop.

If you own property within this area the determination to sell now or to keep your property is entirely up to you. When the time comes, Urban Renewal Agency will negotiate with the property owner of record and offer a fair price for the property. It is our recommendation, though, that property owners make only repairs that are absolutely necessary but we do not recommend major renovation or remodeling. If you are a renter you will be given ample time on any action that will affect you. Therefore, we ask that you not move now because of Urban Renewal. When the time comes the Urban Renewal Agency will do all it possibly can to help you in securing standard housing.

In addition to this assistance you will be aided in paying your moving expenses.

Under the law families or individuals of low income will be given preference in vacancies in Public Housing. Certain families whose income is sufficient and who now own their own homes and desire to purchase a new home will be entitled to what is called a 221 FHA Eligibility Certificate. This certificate can be used for buying a new home or buying an older home that will meet FHA specifications or if interested in building a new home. This certificate also entitles you to a special low interest loan, a long term retirement of the loan and other considerations. Again the Urban Renewal Agency will assist these people in obtaining the necessary information and meeting with the proper people.

After the land is cleared and the building sites prepared the land will then be sold to private parties for development. A great percentage of the land will be used for the construction of homes, either Public Housing, housing for the elderly, private rental, and privately owned. The purchasers of the land will be required to enter into binding agreements to construct the new homes and businesses in accordance with the Urban Renewal Plan, adopted and approved by the Urban Renewal Agency and the City Commission. Every effort will be exerted to provide families displaced from the area first opportunity to relocate in the same neighborhood after redevelopment has taken place.

Interest and support is needed from all individuals, clubs and groups in order for this program to be a success. Therefore, we again ask your cooperation in furnishing us with accurate information when you are called upon in order for the plan to reflect true conditions.

Truck Rams Line Of Stopped Autos; Ten Narrowly Escape Serious Injury

A Sunday afternoon pile-up of four cars and a truck on West State line in Fulton resulted in near-total demolition of two of the vehicles, hospitalization of one of the drivers, and hospital treatment of ten drivers and passengers.

Miss Beverly Overby, 16, driver of one of the cars, was in Hillview Hospital for two days, being discharged Tuesday.

According to the Fulton police report, a car driven by Calvin B. Evans, 55, of 629 South First street, Union City, travelling east, stopped to make a left hand turn into Edgings street. Three other cars, driven by Wendal Butts, 17, of Fulton, Route 4, Beverly Overby and Brenda K. Sams 17, Fulton, Rt. 4, were stopped waiting for the Evans car to make the turn. A tractor-trailer, driven by Danny R. Faulkner, 105 Bates Street, South Fulton and owned by Trans Company Express of Dallas, Texas struck the Sams car, knocking it into the car ahead and causing a chain reaction with each of the cars hitting the car in front. The cars were knocked about 8 or 12 feet, according to the police.

Others in the Sams car were Janet Phipps and Kaye Bradley. Passengers in the Butts car were Jimmy King, Eugene Dunavant, Eddie Williams and Umphrey McKendree.

NARROW ESCAPE: Giant express truck nearly climbed over Sams car in Sunday afternoon accident on West State line.

Not all traffic fatalities are caused from drinking while driving or speeding. But too many of them are. Even if you don't have an accident, you could be arrested... heavily fined... lose your license (and maybe your job?). You know all of the arguments against speeding or drinking while driving. If you still want to do it... remember: life will go on without you.

State Enters Second Phase Of Hunting

Kentucky hunting enters its second phase on December 1 when the season opens, for grouse and for waterfowl on the Ballard County Wildlife Management Area, and the second parts of the squirrel, dove and archery deer seasons are resumed.

In full swing right now are the statewide seasons on rabbits, quail and waterfowl.

Squirrel hunters will have 31 more days of hunting, throughout the month of December, as will the archery deer hunters in 78 counties, and the dove hunters will have the first nine days of December in which to try for this species. The same bag and possession limits and regulations apply to the second part of the season as for the first part.

Grouse hunting will begin on December 1 and continue through February 28 with a bag limit of four and eight in possession after two or more days of hunting.

The goose and duck season opens on December 1 on the Ballard County Wildlife Area where only morning hunting is permitted in a controlled hunt. Those who wish to hunt there must have reservations with the refuge manager at Box 100, LaCenter, Ky. No Sunday or Christmas Day hunting will be permitted. The duck season on this area ends on January 8 and the goose season on January 15, with the bag and possession limits the same as for the statewide season.

Night Before Christmas In Verse And Caution

'Twas the night before Christmas
And over the street
The traffic was heavy;
There was some snow and some sleet.
But drivers were careful
To keep their speed slow,
They practiced safe driving —
Let their courtesy show.
So it happened that on this
Most hallowed night
Everyone arrived safely
And Christmas was bright.

* * * * *

Don't be rash in the Christmas rush,
Don't get caught in the New Year crush,
Make highway safety really pay
And death won't take your holiday.

* * * * *

The mark of a killer —
The guy full of foam
Who knows he can't walk it,
But tries to drive home.

* * * * *

I'll tell you the tale of Samuel Day,
Who died contesting the right-of-way.
He was right, dead right as he sped along,
But he's just as dead as if he were wrong!

Your chances to remain alive,
Depend a lot on how you drive!

'Tis The Season To Be Jolly. Christmas Is Time For Fun and Laughter And For Prayer!

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly; 'tis the season to be jolly." Christmas is for joy and laughter; Christmas glows with merriment. Throughout this community, families are putting the finishing touches on plans for holiday get-togethers. Hide-aways bulge with mysterious packages; kitchens are fragrant with the scents of special treats; homes are bright with gala decorations. Schools and clubs finish their annual Christmas programs. Holiday party plans go forward. It is, indeed, the season to be jolly.

"Silent Night, Holy Night, all is calm, all is bright." Christmas is for prayer and peace; Christmas gleams with the light of the Star that shone so brightly, nearly two thousand years ago. And throughout this community, the deep spiritual significance of the holy season spreads comfort and cheer. In churches, the hours of worship reflect the coming joy as, during the weeks before Christmas, the story of Christ's coming is the subject of study, sermon, song and prayer, all building toward the special services of Christmas weekend.

Christmas is a joyful season; Christmas is a prayerful season. Since the earliest celebrations of this Christian holiday, it has ever been so.

The twin spirits of Christmas — festive celebration and reverent worship — are woven together in all the lore of the season. History says that when the time now celebrated as Christmas was designated, in the fifth century A. D., early Christian leaders felt that the traditional winter merry-making of pagan festivals such as the Roman Saturnalia might be hallowed by association with the Nativity.

Thus, pagan peoples who had once looked to mythical sun gods as the source of the rebirth of life began to turn to religious observances of the Saviour's birth. Christmas lights — symbolized faith, hope and life eternal.

Today, the glow of the tiniest candle—or the twinkling of the smallest electric bulb — still reflects, however humbly, the Light that Christ brought to the world.

that requires sudden, intense exertion, shoveling may be the most physically demanding job you tackle all year. As you shovel, your heart requires more blood to work faster and harder. If the arteries to your heart muscle can't supply enough, heart trouble strikes.

This health danger increases if you attack that snow drift in anger. Your excited emotional state liberates adrenalin that forces your heart to pump even faster. And, your anger may cause you to shovel too hard, too fast.

An insurance company suggests that if you have any doubts about your health and are middle-aged, don't shovel under any circumstances. Get someone else to do it or use a mechanical snow remover.

If you're healthy and must shovel, exercise self control. First, calm down, then pause frequently while shoveling. Should you tire, finish the job later. If you develop a chest pain, call a doctor, then lie down.

It's better to be late for work than to risk a heart attack.
Get the drift?

If It's A White Christmas Smile At Snow Shoveling

Smile the next time you have to shovel snow.

It may help you live longer.

Emotional frustration that erupts into anger at the prospect of shoveling can increase your chances of a heart attack.

They point out that snow shoveling is dangerous in itself if you're over 40, especially if you have a tendency toward heart problems. A task

GOD'S GIFTS UPON THE CHRISTMAS TREE

I think that we shall always see
God's gifts upon our Christmas Tree;
You cannot touch them with your hand,
Yet they are there at your command.

There's a joy and faith and hope renewed,
There's laughter for a happy mood,
There's gratitude for each new day -
A time to think, a time to pray.

Christ's Spirit there in holy light
Shines clear to make your pathway bright.
These things are yours if you can see
God's gifts upon your Christmas Tree.

Our Christian Heritage

TWO THINGS WHICH LIE IN THE FUTURE

We believe that, from His present position at the Right Hand of Almighty God, the Sovereign Power and influence of Jesus Christ can become the decisive spiritual element in the pivotal nation of the world - the United States. To exercise this power in the Name of the Son of God is the responsibility which has been committed into our hands, and is the reason under the Hand of the Lord why the Christian Heritage movement can itself become the decisive element in the future of the battle for the soul of America and for the recovery of our Christian faith as the guiding force in American decisions.

The first great fact which we can expect the Lord to deal with in making His Power felt in our country is the BRINGING OF JUDGMENT. America's guilt before God is very grievous and very great. Our nation has been the major factor in recognizing, supporting, and financing the world Communist movement since it came into power in Soviet Russia in 1917.

The blood of Hungary, China and Cuba lies on our hands. The burden of a faithless and godless religion is abroad in the land and is

by
Theda Pearson Hedden

It was the day before Christmas, and Micky, Nicky, and Dicky, the three fat elves, were writing letters to Santa Claus. "How do you spell 'hall'?" asked Micky.

"Everyone knows that," said Nicky. "It's h-a-l-l, of course."

Scratch, scratch, scratch went three little pencils. Rustle, rustle, rustle went the letters to Santa Claus.

"I'm not writing a regular letter," said Dicky, "for there are a number of words I can't spell. I'm just making a list of the things I want Santa to leave in my stocking."

"My list is as long as my stocking," said Micky. "Do you suppose Santa Claus will mind?" "Of course not," cried Nicky. "Santa loves to fill stockings for everyone."

Mickey jumped to his feet excitedly.

"Oh, I say!" he cried. "I've just thought of something. Who fills Santa's stocking? Who trims Santa's tree? Who cooks his Christmas dinner?"

"Well," said Micky, as he pinned his Christmas list to his stocking, "perhaps Santa Claus has never had a Christmas tree. I'm going right out to the Green Woodlands and hunt for a Christmas tree. I'll trim it and leave it here for Santa."

He went to the clothes closet and began putting on his outdoor things.

"Well," said Dicky, as he pinned his list to his stocking, "perhaps Santa Claus never hangs up his stocking. I'm going to take our red pocketbook and buy some presents at the store. I'll put them in a stocking for him here by ours."

He went to the clothes closet and put on his very best clothes.

Bang! went the kitchen door, and Micky began murmuring to himself as he stirred up the fire.

"I'll roast the little gray goose and stuff some celery and bake some cookies and . . ."

Bang! went the side door, and Nicky began murmuring to himself as he went through the Green Woodlands.

"I'll hunt for the tallest, greenest, straightest, prettiest fir tree. I'll trim it with tinsel and candles and popcorn and . . ."

Bang! went the front door, and Dicky began murmuring to himself as he entered the Green Woodlands' store.

"I'll buy some books and neckties and shirts and . . ."

"Woo-oo-oo!" shrieked the North Wind as it chased the snowflakes across the fields.

It was much, much later, and 'way past the little elves' bedtime when they came again to the big living room. "Well, well," cried a deep voice. "I thought you were in bed and fast asleep."

The elves turned quickly from the fire, and there at the door was Santa himself.

The elves didn't know how to explain to Santa, but Santa promised not to be cross.

Micky told Santa how they had wanted to do these good things for him and that Micky had given the dinner to a family who would otherwise have no Christmas dinner. Nicky had left the tree decorated for the birds to eat the popcorn for the snow had covered their food, and Dicky had given the presents to a family of children who would have otherwise had no toys.

The elves sat down and began to cry. "Come! Come!" cried Santa. "I want to thank you for the dinner and tree and other gifts." "But we gave them away!" cried the elves, wiping their eyes vigorously.

Surely," said Santa, "you've heard this rhyme:

"To make a gift for Santa Claus
Is plain as one and one;
You make a gift for someone
Who'd otherwise have none."

"Do you really mean it?" cried the elves. "Certainly, I do," Santa replied. "Now skip off to bed and don't peep to see what I'm putting in your stockings!"

The three elves squinched their eyes tight shut and skipped off to bed.

Girls Return from Trip to 4-H Congress in Chicago

Ellen Watson

Mary Casper

Two girls who are handy with a needle have returned from their award trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Mary Casper, state dress revue winner, modeled her formal ensemble in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton for the more than 2,000 persons attending the congress. Ellen Watson, state home improvement champion, was treated to a tour of the Merchandise Mart. Their sponsors were Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc. and The S&H Foundation, Inc., respectively.

Miss Casper, 18, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Casper of Paducah. In her eight years of clothing projects she has made 134 garments, winning many purple and blue ribbons in McCracken County, district and state contests.

Her winning costume was made up of a floor-length silver and green satin brocade evening coat and an empire dress with a bodice matching the coat, a skirt of white crepe with a metallic thread, and green satin accents.

A freshman at Paducah Junior College, she is studying business and plans to continue with studies in home economics. She has been president of her 4-H Club four times.

Miss Watson, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Watson of Lynn Grove, has carried a home improvement project each of her five years in 4-H. She has re-done her brother's room, the kitchen, and her own room twice. The articles she has made or refinished have won 22 blue ribbons at county, district and state fairs.

Each girl has her mother for a 4-H leader and each has given junior leadership herself. They were selected for their honors by the Cooperative Extension Service, which directs 4-H work.

Berea Revives Old Dances; Virginia Reel Is 'In' Again; Frug Is 'Out'

If the frug still has you befuddled, here's welcome news — the Virginia reel is "in" again.

It is, at least, at Berea College, in Berea, Ky., where the Christmas Country Dance School swings into session Dec. 26. From then until Jan. 1, folk dance connoisseurs will resurrect the reel and other country dances, including some that date back to the first millennium A. D.

The climax comes when the participants — all over 18, some from as far away as California — present a free public program to demonstrate what they have learned.

This year's presentation is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 31 in the Berea gymnasium.

The Christmas Country Dance School, embarking on its 28th annual session this month, is sponsored by Berea College and the Council of the Southern Mountains in cooperation with the Country Dance Society of America.

Participants in the program arrive at Berea College soon after the undergraduates leave for Christmas vacation. They bring with them innumerable energy and enthusiasm, and simple, colorful costumes that add to the gaiety of the occasion.

Energy, perhaps, is their most important asset. They learn and perform traditional Appalachian square dances, Danish folk dances, and country dances that contain the original seeds of English drama.

Berea's dancers, for example, study the sword dance, oldest of English folk dances and distant ancestor of the English theater. It calls for participants to wield three-foot sticks, or "swords." Then, at the climax, one of the dancers is "slain" in a ceremony that relates to an ancient pagan sacrifice for fertile soil.

In addition to dancing, there are special sessions for those interested in folk songs, mountain hymns, singing games, story telling, puppetry, folk rituals, or playing the dulcimer or the recorder. Each night there is a party featuring live music, refreshments and entertainment.

Ethel Capps, associate professor of recreation at Berea College, is director of the Christmas School. Her staff is made up of men and women prominent in American folk schools and in the Country Dance Society of America.

A small number of openings remain for this year's Christmas Country Dance School. If you're interested, write the School at Berea College, Berea, Ky. 40403. There is a $2 registration fee and a small tuition charge. Room and board are available at modest rates.

a reproach to the True and Living God. We need to remember that in the Bible the only cities which were ever judged and condemned of Almighty God were the rich, wealthy cities laden with luxury and shot through with false religion.

If there is any civilization on the face of the earth which is ripe for judgment, it is right here in the United States. Washington today more nearly resembles the whore of Babylon described in Revelation 17 than any city in the world, and for there to be any relief or hope for the peoples of the earth, the evil powers which now encompass our nation must be broken.

IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Citizens of Newfoundland show their Christian ethics with the Christmas custom known as "Fishing for the Church." On this day huge quantities of fish are caught and brought by the parishioners of a village to the church, where they are sold. Proceeds of the sale go toward buying firewood for the curate.

Mt. Carmel Women's Society Has Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nethery on Thursday, December 15, for the regular meeting. Seven members and four visitors were present.

Christmas decorations throughout the house added a festive air. A turkey dinner was served by the hostess at the noon hour, after which gifts were exchanged.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles Bennett. The opening prayer was by Mrs. John Shepherd, and the call to prayer and devotional, "Day by Day" from the sixth chapter of Isaiah, was given by Mrs. Bennett. Mrs. Luby House gave a Christmas prayer and Mrs. Hiram Brown read a recipe for a "Happiness Cake". Following a general discussion by members, "Are You Ready For Christmas?" The meeting was dismissed.

The publicity chairman informed the News that "this was a meeting of delicious food, wonderful fellowship and enjoyment."

Worship at the Church of your Choice

the Star

CHRISTMAS tree ornaments are made to resemble snow, unusual patterns of ice, and frost; however, the most beautiful ornament and symbol is the star for the top of the tree. This is to remind us of that wonderful day when the child Jesus was born in a manger and the star shown the way... "for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him." Let the star on the tree remind you to attend church and worship him too.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Rev. Russell Rogers filled his appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 a. m. The Christmas program was presented at the evening worship, with the exchange of gifts. On next Sunday there will be worship service at 11 a. m., but the evening service has been called off, according to announcement by Pastor Rogers. Every one is invited to this Christmas worship.

Tom Stephenson has recently purchased a new car.

Bobby Rickman and Dayle Berry, students at the University of Tennessee at Martin, left Friday for St. Louis to be house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bell Farmer. They will return home today (Monday).

Randall McClain is recovering from injuries sustained in a car collision several days ago. He is up and around at his home in this District No. 1.

Mrs. Ola Maupins, of Phoenix, Ariz., is here on a visit with her sister, Mrs. Maud Vincent, and all her other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Berryman held open house at their home near here the past Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 5, in observance of their Golden Wedding. A large number of relatives and friends gathered for the celebration. The Berrymans have three children, W. C., Cavita and Granderson Berryman, who were present. They were recipients of many lovely gifts. Congratulations are in order. Refreshments were served to all guests throughout the afternoon.

Grant Bynum and daughter, Margaret, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mathis the past Sunday, as were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bynum, Gloria Ann and Hal and T. T. Harris. 'Tis the first visit since the illness and surgery of Mr. Bynum.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lassiter and son, Richard Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. David Lassiter and children, Jackie and David Keith of Akron, Ohio, will arrive this week end for a holiday visit with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buton Lassiter here, Mr. and Mrs. Mancel Wright and Mr. and Mrs. James Carroll on Dresden Route.

New Salem Baptist Church was the setting for the impressive and beautiful wedding the past Saturday night of Miss Debra Canter and Mr. Sam Winstead, uniting two of our nice and beloved young people. Rev. Russell Rogers officiated, in the presence of their families and friends. The church was decorated in arrangements of white gladioli forming a nice background for the ceremony. Every good wish is bestowed upon the couple for a long life of wedded bliss.

Wess Jones is feeling some better at this writing, but is indisposed. Get Well wishes are sent by all friends around about this section.

All over this territory you will find we do have the Christmas Spirit, with homes all decorated and also a friendly atmosphere. Most every family will have guests throughout the holidays. Children from afar will be here with parents and relatives and all the Christmas goodies that are being prepared.

I wish the News staff, correspondents and readers everywhere a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Better Quail, Rabbit Hunting Season's Forecast

Cautious optimism is the guideline for Kentucky's quail and rabbit hunters as the opening date, November 17, approached. Farmers, hunters, mail carriers, biologists and field men of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources are timidly predicting better quail and rabbit hunting for this season than was available last year. They believe the populations of both species are up. If the weatherman cooperates they predict Kentucky nimrods are in for some good hunting.

As usual the season for these two species opens on the third Thursday in November and continues through January 31, an extension of 15 days over previous seasons. This longer period is expected to allow the weatherman more leeway in furnishing favorable rabbit and quail hunting conditions.

The bag limits are unchanged from last year. The rabbit hunter may bag eight per day or have 16 in possession after two or more days and the quail hunter will be able to take 10 per day or have 20 in possession after two or more days in the field.

Our best wishes to everyone for a joyful Holiday brimming with good fellowship and glowing with gladness.
And "Thank You," for your loyalty and trust.

LET'S LOOK IT OVER

By Gov. Edward T. Breathitt

FRANKFORT—

Joint state and federal medical care has grown so much since 1961 that I believe it is entirely possible that by 1975 help will be available for all Kentuckians who are medically needy.

Presently, as many of you know, we are restricted to medically needy persons who are either entitled to public assistance or are closely related to one of its categories—old age, disability, blindness or family deprivation.

A comparison of total expenditures for the calendar year 1965 with the present and the next calendar year will give an idea of expansion to be undergone in the future.

In 1965, an estimated 127,000 needy Kentuckians received medical care at a cost of $22 million. Of this, 76.5 per cent was federal funds and 23.5 per cent was state funds.

The total for medical care this calendar year is expected to reach $35 million and expenditures for the same purpose in calendar 1967 are estimated at $42 million. What Kentucky receives in federal funds is based upon Kentucky's appropriations.

Kentucky today is offering physician, dental, hospital, pharmaceutical and nursing home services, and is adding home health services and care for the elderly in mental and tuberculosis hospitals.

The scope of care was increased by Kentucky with its adoption of the new medical assistance program and a decision to add $3 a month to state public assistance checks to pay for Social Security supplementary medical insurance.

I think it is entirely to the credit of the medical, dental and related professions that their leaders are working closely with pertinent State departments and agencies to see what best can be done for all those qualified for assistance to the needy.

Since the day I took office, I have made a strenuous effort to increase the number of vocational schools to provide job training for more people. The need for this type of training was dramatically demonstrated at Hazard on Nov. 21.

Ironic as it may seem, the new $509,000 vocational and technical school expansion I was there to dedicate that day is already overcrowded. However, I had the great pleasure of announcing that the state will add another $400,000 expansion there to provide for an additional 300 students.

The just-dedicated expansion, with its nine shops and three classrooms was built to accommodate some 218 daytime students with courses in 12 occupations. Already, some 700 students receive training there with the school operative day and night.

The new expansion was made possible by the 1965 state bond issue and federal funds. The same goes for the expansion now planned, with approval pending of $320,000 in federal funds. The state will put up $80,000 from the bond issue.

Also pending is approval of federal funds for construction of new extension vocational schools in Greenup, Carter and Clinton counties, each to cost some $350,000. These extension schools and the Hazard expansion are tentatively scheduled for completion by September 1967.

We intend, during the next two years, to construct 24 new vocational schools, expand eight existing ones, and relocate five others in a $20 million building program.

By the end of the 1967-68 fiscal year, we anticipate a total enrollment of 60,000 students—triple the present enrollment in Kentucky's vocational education program.

FHA Sponsors Christmas Tree

The yearly Christmas tree on the stage of the study hall decorated with glitter and balls is put up each year for the enjoyment of the students. This tree adds Christmas excitement to every member of the school.

The FHA members are responsible for it and each year the sophomores decorate the tree. All students are asked to bring canned goods which are then donated to the civic club for Christmas baskets to the less fortunate.

Last year 250 canned goods were collected under the tree. All of this food was used well and wisely because the givers knew that others would need food for a merry Christmas. Every FHA member is hopeful that more will be collected.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry C. Warren of Fulton on the birth of a son, Tuesday, Dec. 13, 1966 in the Methodist Hospital at Memphis. The baby weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces and has been named Jerry C. Warren II. Mrs. Warren is the former Joanne Neely, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Neely of Union City.

J. H. Lowe, First Mayor Of South Fulton, Will Celebrate 95th Birthday

SOUTH FULTON, Tenn., —J. H. Lowe, who served as mayor when South Fulton put in its water works and got its first hard-surface streets, will be honored on his 95th birthday on Wednesday, Dec. 21.

On open house will be held at the Lowe home at 115 West State Line, and friends may call between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. Hosts will be Mr. Lowe's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kellie Lowe.

Although, Mr. Lowe, known by everyone as "Mr. Jim," is in very good health, he spends most of his time in a wheelchair, due to a broken hip four years ago.

Mr. Lowe keeps up with what is going on in town by reading the local newspaper each day, and he sometimes joins with his son in watching ball games on television.

The former mayor was born Dec. 21, 1871 in Pierce, Tenn., about five miles southwest of Fulton. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tobie Lowe, were pioneer settlers of that community, and his father established the first store there. He operated the store and post office at Pierce for many years.

He moved to Fulton in 1901. Mr. Lowe was one of the first U.S. mail carriers out of Fulton. This was in 1902, when he was 30 years of age and the first mail routes were established.

Mr. Lowe recalled that to establish the rural mail routes a certain number of signatures had to be secured. He said he approached a man, who said, "I'll sign, but the mail routes will never last—they won't last over six months."

Mr. Lowe retired as a rural mail carrier in 1933, then served two terms as mayor of South Fulton.

He is a member of the Methodist Church and didn't miss Sunday School and church for years, until he became disabled.

Mr. Lowe's wife, the former Rilla Stubblefield of the Walnut Grove community, died in 1950. He now lives with his son, Kellie and his wife, Nelle.

He has another son, Odie R. Lowe of Wichita, Kans. Two sons, Herbert A. and Floyd Lowe are deceased.

Other members of his family are a brother, Robert "Doc" Lowe of New York; 16 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren and a great-great-grandchild.

TOM SILER

JACK JACKSON

Tom Butler, news director of WPSD-TV, Saturday announced the appointment of Tim Siler as a full-time newsman and Jack Jackson as newsman-announcer. The increase in news personnel is the result of WPSD-TV's increased coverage of Paducah and the four-state viewing area served by the station.

Butler also announced that the station's 10 p.m. news program will be lengthened to 30 minutes beginning Jan. 2.

"While the emphasis will continue to be on local news coverage," Butler said, "the expansion of our news staff will also mean more comprehensive coverage of events outside Paducah. We also plan to do more in-depth studies of local and area problems."

Siler, 27, a native of Pleasant Plains, Ark., formerly was news director at KTVE-TV, Monroe, La. In addition, he was program director at WMPD-Radio, Memphis, Tenn., and KAJI, Little Rock, Ark. In his new capacity, he will write and edit WPSD-TV's 10 p.m. news, in addition to his general reporting duties.

Jackson, 29, from Cardwell, Mo., joined the Channel 6 staff in November, from WELQ in Tupelo, Miss. In addition to preparing and announcing commercials, Jackson will prepare and present the station's two morning newscasts.

The announced elimination by NBC of the first 15 minutes of the "Tonight Show" hastened the move, he added.

Post Office At Hickory Is Burglarized

Thieves broke open the safe in the U.S. Post Office at Hickory, Ky., sometime Friday night and made off with an undisclosed amount of stamps and cash.

Hickory Postmaster Jett Allen reported today that the amount of loss is still under investigation.

The thieves pried open both the front and rear doors of the building in Hickory, then apparently used a pry-bar to strip open the post office safe, Allen said.

Authorities at the scene today said at least two persons were involved in the burglary which is believed to have occurred during the early morning hours.

The theft is being investigated by Paducah postal inspector W. L. Nelson together with law enforcement authorities from the State Police and the Graves County sheriff's department.

Walt Disney Buried In Quiet Ceremony Friday

GLENDAL, Calif. Walt Disney, whose cartoons and fantasies entertained millions throughout the world, was buried Friday with only members of his family in attendance.

Funeral services for the famed film maker were not announced until after they had been concluded at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

"The company wanted attention to remain with the man and what he stood for, not on his death," a spokesman for Walt Disney Productions said later.

Disney, 65, died Thursday in a hospital across the street from his sprawling studios, where his drawing board had created Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and a host of other cartoon characters beloved by three generations.

Studio and cemetery officials did not disclose details regarding the funeral, including disposition of the body.

Disney wanted it that way. "Mr. Disney's wishes were very specific and had been spelled out in great detail," a Forest Lawn spokesman said.

West Ky. Farmers To Get New Help

A far-reaching project of the University of Kentucky extension service—announced yesterday at Hopkinsville—is expected to be duplicated in the Purchase counties by 1968, extension service authorities said Friday.

The move produced the Penny Royal Area Association, a farm analysis group, which will cover 14 counties — including Caldwell, Crittenden, Trigg, Christian, Muhlenberg, Butler, Todd and Logan.

Preliminary steps have been taken for an identical organization in McCracken, Marshall, Hickman, Fulton, Ballard, Carlisle, Graves and Calloway counties, extension officials reported.

The association will begin operation Jan. 1 in an effort to increase agricultural income in the area.

The group will hire a farm management specialist who will be a part of the extension service. Part of his pay will come, however, from the $100 each farmer-member pays into the association each year.

The specialist will analyze the records of each association member and recommend alternate methods if weaknesses or inefficiencies are discovered.

"The findings of the specialist will enable farmers to make decisions based on actual records instead of guesses," said J. R. Davis, former Carlisle County agent who, as Christian County agent, helped organize the association.

Davis said the association specialist will dig deeply into the technical side of production in an effort to show farmers how to produce more with less cost.

The association is modeled after successful organizations in Ohio and in Henderson and adjacent counties in Kentucky.

An example of profitable analysis reported by the Kentucky group—The Ohio Valley Area Association — was discovery that grain used to produce market hogs varied widely as to use.

One group of farmers used an average of 438 pounds of grain to produce 100 pounds of pork. Another used 352 pounds of grain for the same amount of pork. Still another group averaged only 308 pounds of grain for 100 pounds of pork.

"This is the kind of thing we hope to bring out; the results will be of great help to farmers because they can see what is going wrong and take corrective steps," said Davis.

Other counties in the Pennyroyal group are Barren, Butler, Simpson, Warren, Hart, Metcalfe and Edmundson, all big farming counties.

The minimum membership requirement for the first year is 80.

"We have the 80 and other farmers are wanting in, so we may have to go to 90 and stop. That is about all one man can handle," said Davis.

He said other technicians would be added if membership demanded.

The program is a part of the extension service's new organization. The old county agent program has been revised to operate in new fields created by changing times.

One part of the program was the designation of all agents as specialists and allowing them to operate on an area basis instead of on a county basis as "generalists," Davis pointed out.

Elvis Contributes $105,000 To Charity

MEMPHIS — Entertainer Elvis Presley, who once received aid from a Christmas charity fund, Tuesday sent checks totaling $105,000 to 39 charities in five states. "I am happy that I am today in the position to give," said the 31-year-old singer in a note read at presentation ceremonies here. "It was not always the case."

Buzzing with Holly

An English tradition of long ago says that sprigs of holly should be placed in beehives at Christmas. This stems from a legend that, at the Manger, bees gathered to hum a hymn of joy.

Kentucky Parks Braced For Annual 'Reservation Rush'

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Kentucky's department of parks is bracing for the annual "reservations-rush" — a flood of requests early next month for choice overnight accommodations next summer at the 13 resort-type parks operated by the department.

Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell said today that a new policy has been adopted which is aimed at "a more equitable processing of early reservations."

Bell said all reservation requests made by letter, postmarked Dec. 30 or later, will be honored on a first-come basis. The processing of the mail, however, won't begin until January 1.

All reservations received with a postmark earlier than Dec. 30, the commissioner said, will be returned to the sender with a notice explaining that Dec. 30 is the earliest date the department may accept reservations by mail.

May Be Made By Phone

Telephone reservations will be accepted at all parks beginning Jan. 1, Bell said.

"Those parks which are open year-round (Jenny Wiley, General Butler, Cumberland Falls and Kentucky Dam Village) will accept telephone reservations on a 24-hour basis. Other parks will be staffed to accept calls from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., the commissioner said.

The dates for the reopening of overnight accommodations by parks which close such facilities during the winter are: Audubon, April 1; Buckhorn Lake, May 1; Carter Caves, April 1; Kenlake, Feb. 24; Lake Cumberland, March 10; Natural Bridge, March 1; Pennyroyal Forest, April 14; Pine Mountain, May 5; Rough River Dam, March 24.

DERBY RESTAURANT

Fulton, Ky.

There's a song in the air!
There's a star in the sky!
There's a mother's deep prayer and a baby's low cry!

And the star rains its fire
while the beautiful sing,
For the manger of Bethlehem cradles a King!

Two thousand years ago, while Shepherds watched their flocks on the hills of Judea, a song rang out which changed their whole lives. It was the angels' song of peace on earth, good will to men. . . . a song of hope for a new day. . . . a song of joy in the birth of a Savior. . . . and a song of God's redeeming love.

The star, shining over Bethlehem's manger, was the guide for those wise men who were searching for their King! And they followed the star until it brought them to Him whom they were seeking.

The angels' song is still ringing. . . . Bethlehem's star is still shining. . . . If we but listen, we shall hear! If we look up, we will see His star! May His song find a place in our hearts, this Christmas, and may we follow His star to the feet of our King!

500 Students At MSU Involved In Campus Brawl

MURRAY, Ky. — They started out singing Christmas carols, but it soon became evident there would be no "Silent Night" on the Murray State University campus.

What followed was a three-hour brawl involving approximately 500 students, 13 of the city's 14 man police force, and a number of state and county police.

Some blamed Thursday night's demonstration on a school rule placing off-campus men's residences off limits to female students.

Police Chief Brent Manning called it the equivalent of a "party raid, adding that four students, with a little too much enthusiasm, were arrested and charged with public drunkenness.

The carol singing began about 10 p.m. when a small group of students gathered outside a men's dormitory.

"In a little while," the chief said, "the situation got beyond carol singing. A couple of rocks were thrown, and the group started to swell in size."

Within an hour, approximately 500 students were roving the campus, shouting and throwing rocks.

The campus security force called for help from Manning's men.

"We would have had all our men out," the chief said, "but our fourteenth man was home sick."

His patrolmen brought tear gas canisters with them but they weren't needed.

Manning said the students "dispersed when we talked to them. I guess they were just feeling frisky."

He reported damage was light — a few broken windows, and a broken glass door at a girl's dormitory.

Ed Jennings, editor of The Murray Democrat, also witnessed the demonstration. He credited state trooper Charles Stephenson with breaking up a disturbance in front of a girl's dormitory, where 300 male students had gathered.

"Stephenson saw what was happening," said Jennings, "and used his cruiser as a flying wedge between the students and the dormitory."

"Stephenson scattered the youngsters like quail, driving over the curb and through shrubs to keep them moving."

Teasing Causes Poundage Drop

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Teasing and vanity were recently reported to be powerful agents causing some obese people to shed poundage. According to researchers at the University of Pennsylvania adults who had managed to slim down after being obese from childhood to adolescence did so because they had been teased into going on diets and because they were concerned over their appearance.

Others reported that their weight loss "just happened" during adolescence.

Men and women who remained obese reported, on the other hand, that there had been no pressure on them during adolescence to lose weight. Nor had they been concerned about their appearance. Their fat did not just disappear.

By the way, all those who lost weight as a result of teasing or because of a strong desire to look more attractive were women.

Frame in Holly

Spread Christmas cheer all through the house by adding holiday color and greenery to pictures on the wall. The Picture and Frame Institute suggests decorating pictures with traditional boughs and cones, holly or mistletoe, strings of lights, or your own combination of favorite Christmas decorations. Or, "frame" pictures with holiday wreaths. Attach decorations to frames or the wall with masking tape.

The Right Toy

At Christmastime, toys do more than gladden the hearts of preschoolers. They can, if chosen wisely, point the way toward new skills, new discoveries, new interests. According to Playkool Research, a child discovers himself and the world around him through play. Because the child depends on toys to help him grow, learn, and experiment, one of the most important responsibilities of the parent is to select the right toys at the right time.

'White Christmas' Is Traditional As Plum Pudding

For a quarter of a century people have been sentimentally dreaming their way through a "White Christmas."

It was in 1941, the black-clouded war years had already begun, when Hollywood released a motion picture entitled: "Holiday Inn." The star of this movie was the ever-popular crooner, Bing Crosby. But perhaps the real star of "Holiday Inn" was the song written especially for the movie by Irving Berlin: "White Christmas."

Through the ensuing 25 years, over 100 versions of the song have been recorded by almost as many artists, yet "White Christmas" is synonymous with the name of Bing Crosby.

The poignant Christmas message that's found in the song has made it popular 'round the world. It has been translated into Italian, French, Chinese, German, Spanish, Hungarian, the Scandinavian languages, several Polynesian tongues and even Swahili.

Trees Live and Bloom In Legends of Yuletide

Almost every kind of tree has a legend relating it to the Nativity or the life of Christ.

The cherry tree, says "The Cherry Tree Carol," bent down its boughs for Mary to pluck the fruit.

The Glastonbury Thorn blooms at Christmas because, legend says, St. Joseph of Arimathea, on his arrival in England, drove his staff into the ground, while he was carrying the Holy Grail, the chalice used at the last supper.

The staff took root and grew into a thorn tree.

Across the Years, Music Reflects Holiday Joy, As Carolers Sing Traditional Songs of Christmas

66-Mat Page 27

"Carol, brothers, carol. Carol joyfully. With the coming of Christmas, almost everyone accepts the injunction of the old song to 'carol joyfully.' From special church services to family gatherings, a 'carol sing' is a traditional pleasure.

The custom of singing carols at holiday time is an ancient one — begun, perhaps, even before the first Christmas, at celebrations such as the Roman Saturnalia. Modern interest in music, and in learning to play musical instruments, has given carol singing a healthy boost. In most homes, at least one member of the family can be depended on to provide instrumental accompaniment for carols — and the instrument may vary from the old favorite piano to the currently popular guitar.

Music in any form has long been especially beloved as a means of expressing Christmas joy. Early Christian believers were forced to worship in secret — and therefore, quietly. Then, in the fifth and sixth centuries, Christianity came out of the catacombs — and exultation for freedom of worship was expressed in the glad ringing of church bells.

Early hymns and carols, however, were in Latin. Carol singing in its modern form — in the common language of the country — probably originated in 1223, when St. Francis introduced the first realistic replica of the manger scene, in the little town of Greccio, Italy.

From this beginning, the practice of erecting a creche or crib soon became a Christmas tradition in many towns. Around the representation of the first Christmas, villagers gathered to marvel, pray and sing. Often, the creche was constructed in a churchyard or on a public street. Thus it was natural for the worshippers to stroll away from the devotional service — formal or informal — and continue singing the beloved carols as they made their way home.

This spontaneous action may well have led to the custom of going from place to place to sing carols. And the more music, the better, was the rule. Any musical instrument, however humble, was a welcome addition and accompaniment.

In later centuries, the "wassailing" or "gooding" expeditions helped the growth of caroling. Singers went from house to house, receiving treats as rewards for carols.

Even oppression could not put an end to carol singing. When the Puritans abolished Christmas observances in England, printed sheets of carols were bootlegged for a penny. And poets and musicians went right on composing carols, as they do today.

INCREASE — Southern Bell Telephone Co. and its employees have increased their contributions to the Community Chest. The company gift of $1,000 was added to employee gifts, including those of members of Local 3315 of the Communications Workers of America, to make a total gift of $4,322, Marvin Orgill, district manager of Southern Bell, reported. The figure is an increase of 35 per cent over the gift of last year by the same group. H. D. Hayes (right) served as company-employee solicitation chairman. Mrs. Mary Louise Edwards presents check to W. D. Sullivan, executive secretary of the Chest.

Something Different for Holidays — Fruitcake Cookies

Holiday Fruitcake Cookies

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup buttermilk or sour milk
1 package (8 ounces) Bordo imported pitted dates, cut; or 1 package (8 ounces) Bordo diced dates

1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup chopped candied cherries
1/2 cup chopped candied fruit and peel

Sift together dry ingredients. Cream shortening; add sugar and egg, beating until fluffy. Add milk alternately with sifted dry ingredients; mix well. Fold in dates, nuts, cherries, and fruit and peel. Chill dough. Drop by teaspoonfuls, about 2 inches apart, onto a lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in a 375° oven about 8 to 10 minutes, or until lightly browned. Yield: 4 dozen.

Fruitcake . . . chock full of luscious dates, nuts and a variety of other fruits . . . has long been one of the most traditional of all our holiday foods.

Although there are scores of different ways of preparing fruitcake, have you ever thought of baking fruitcake cookies? It's a festive and different idea for holiday cooking . . . one your family will certainly enjoy. Some may like the cookies better, for they are less rich than most fruitcakes.

Holiday Fruitcake Cookies can be easy to prepare, too, for many of the ingredients may be purchased already diced or chopped. Perhaps the newest is the packaged Bordo imported diced dates just recently introduced.

Remember to select imported dates when purchasing dates for cooked or baked dishes. Under the heat of cooking, imported dates retain their flavor and texture far better than domestic dates.

For an additional collection of favorite date recipes, send 10c for postage and handling to Bordo Dates, Box 214, Deerfield, Illinois.

RECEIVES GOLD MEDAL AWARD—Dentis McDaniel (right), a native of Clinton, receives the Air Line Pilot's Association's gold medal award from Capt. Charles H. Ruby, president of the ALPA. McDaniel was cited for his heroic action in subduing an armed hijacker in the cockpit of the plane of which he was co-pilot. The incident, which drew national attention, occurred on Oct. 26, 1965. McDaniel is one of the first men to receive the award, inaugurated in the early 1950s.

Clinton Native Honored For Heroic Act In Plane Hijacking

CLINTON, Ky. — A Clinton native has been honored for heroic acts during the hijacking of the National Airlines plane of which he was co-pilot.

Dentis S. McDaniel, son of Hickman County School Superintendent Dentis McDaniel and Mrs. McDaniel, recently received the Air Line Pilot's Association's gold medal award for "heroic action in subduing an armed hijacker in the cockpit of National Airlines flight 209 en route from Miami to Key West on Oct. 26, 1965."

He is one of the first recipients of the award, inaugurated in the early 1950s to recognize such acts.

This was the first year actions by commercial crew members were deemed worthy of gold medals, said Capt. Charles H. Ruby, president of ALPA, who presented McDaniel with the award.

McDaniel expressed his appreciation for the award, but said he'd rather not compete again.

During the hijacking, which drew national attention, McDaniel flew the aircraft and kept constant radio contact with Miami's flight tower during a struggle in the cockpit.

McDaniel is a graduate of Hickman County High School and the University of Kentucky, where he was president of his social fraternity Delta Tau Delta and a member of the senior men's honorary, Lambda and Cross. After graduation from UK, he was employed as an electronic engineer for Convair, a division of General Dynamics in Pomona, Calif.

In April of 1960, McDaniel entered pilot training in the Air Force as a second lieutenant. During his tour, he flew the KC 135, the military version of the Boeing 707 jetliner. He left the service as a captain in April, 1965.

McDaniel joined National Airlines in May, 1965, and presently resides in South Miami, Fla., with his wife and three children. He is married to the former Jean Weatherford of Barlow. The three children are Melanie, Michael and Monty.

Honoring Christmas, In Poetry and Prose

"I will honor Christmas in my heart, and try to keep it all year."

So wrote Charles Dickens, for whom Christmas was a favorite topic — so much so that most people, asked to name someone who wrote about Christmas, would immediately answer, "Dickens."

Not only Dickens, but almost every writer, from the little-known to the famous, has been inspired at some time in his career to "honor Christmas" in prose or poetry. For instance —

At Christmas I no more desire a rose

Than wish a snow in May's new-fangled mirth,
But like of each thing that in season grows.

William Shakespeare

At Christmas play and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year.

Thomas Tusser

So shall we learn to understand
The simple faith of shepherds then,
And clasping kindly hand in hand,
Sing, "Peace on earth, good will to men!"

James Russell Lowell

"Happy Christmas to all,
and to all a good-night."

Clement Clarke Moore

For a surprise addition, add diced candied fruit to a casserole of mashed sweet potatoes. Good served with ham.

For somehow, not only at Christmas, but all the long year through,
The joy that you give to others is the joy that comes back to you.

John Greenleaf Whittier

England was merry England, when Old Christmas brought his sports again.

Sir Walter Scott

I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play,
And soft and sweet the words repeat,
"God is not dead, nor doth he sleep!"

Rabies Appears In West State

The Tennessee Health Dept. has placed a quarantine on animals in four West Tennessee counties, Benton, Henderson, Decatur and Carroll, because of what has been described as the worst outbreak of rabies in the west state area in 20 years.

"We have had more positive rabid animals reported in West Tennessee in the past few weeks than we have had in the past 20 years," Dr. Luther Frederickson, state veterinarian, said Wednesday.

He said 15 animals, most of them foxes, have been confirmed as rabid in 10 West and Middle Tennessee counties since Nov. 1. He said the Middle Tennessee counties, for the most part, border West Tennessee.

Dr. Frederickson said he had called on the Game & Fish commission to help reduce the fox population in the west state area through the use of poisons.

Clinics are being set up in the four counties to vaccinate pets because he said, rabies in dogs would be a greater hazard to humans than rabies in wild animals.

Local Veterinarian Alfred Creswell said today that in the past rabies outbreaks have been confined to East and Middle Tennessee. "The disease hadn't crossed the river in past outbreaks but this time it has come close to us. It seems to be migrating farther west all the time," he said.

Dr. Creswell encouraged dog owners, especially those living in the county, to have their pets vaccinated against the disease. He said the shots need to be given right away as it takes a dog about 14 days to build up a strong immunity to the disease.

Local veterinarians last spring conducted rabies immunization clinics throughout the county but vaccinated a total of only 400 dogs, half of which live in Union City. This represents only about 20 percent of the dog population of the county.

In the four quarantined West Tennessee counties, one fox each has been found to be rabid.

A third of today's new mothers are under 20 years old, according to the makers of Enfamil Nursette, a pre-mixed, pre-sterilized formula in a disposable bottle.

Negro Woman Dies Sunday At Age 111

A Negro woman who was born in slavery 111 years ago died about 5:30 Sunday afternoon at the home of a friend, Johnny Fowlkes, where she and her only surviving son had been making their home since fire gutted their home last Nov. 19.

Mrs. Lou Taylor, who was born in Giles county, Tenn., on March 18, 1855, had been a resident of Union City for 63 years.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Pilgrim's Rest Baptist Church. Burial will be in East View Cemetery with Beard Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Taylor and her husband, Charlie Taylor Sr., had nine children but only one, Charlie Taylor Jr., survives. He is 75. Her husband died nine years ago at the age of 101. He, too, was born in slavery in Maury county, which adjoins Giles county. They had been married 72 years at the time of his death.

Her son said today Mrs. Taylor and his father "didn't remember too much about the slavery. They were real young when it ended. But until about a year ago, her mind was very sharp and she could recollect many things from many years ago."

In addition to her son, she leaves six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

NUCLEAR REACTORS

Only 15 of the 280 nuclear reactors in the U.S. produce electricity, according to the Atomic Industrial Forum; others are used for projects as unusual as producing new strains of flowers!
