With the first floor of his home flooded, James L. Gore of Des Moines, Ia., sought to keep dry by climbing to the roof-top. With him on the roof are his dog and a chicken (near chimney). He let his ducks swim about in the kitchen to avoid having them swept away by the current.

Kentucky Fifth In Giving Jobs To Disabled Vets

Kentucky ranked fifth in the nation in the latest national comparison of placements of disabled veterans with placements of all veterans, it was announced today by B. J. Madden, veterans employment representative for Kentucky.

Of the 1,251 veterans placed in local, non-agricultural jobs through the facilities of the Kentucky State Employment Service in April, 1946 or 1947, 16.8 per cent were disabled veterans. During that month the national average percentage of disabled veteran placements compared with total veteran placements was 8.4 per cent.

Mother, Daughter To Be Reunited After 28 Years

Madame Chael Plevost of Beauvais, France, is expected to arrive in New Orleans, La., early next month. She is on her way to Fulton to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Conn of Route 5.

Mrs. Conn has not seen her mother since World War II, more than 28 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Conn met and were married in Beauvais during the first World War while Mr. Conn was serving in the Army there. At the close of the war the Conn family returned to America to make their home near Fulton.

Two brothers of Mrs. Conn were killed in World War II, leaving Madame Plevost alone in France except for a daughter who is a nurse in Paris. It is for this reason that Madame Plevost is coming to America to make her home with her daughter.

Madame Conn does not speak a single word of English. She will be met at New Orleans by her daughter who will bring her on to Fulton.

Mr. Conn works at the Illinois Central shops here.

Clements Opens His Campaign

Says His Platform Is "Practical And Possible"

Glasgow, Ky., June 28—(AP)—U. S. Rep. Earle C. Clements advocated "a program that is practical and possible" for Kentucky as he formally opened his campaign here today for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Clements compared his public record with that of Harry Lee Waterfield, whom Clements referred to generally as "my opponent" or "speaker of the House," rather than by name.

Kentucky education, he said, "needs, not more promises, but a program—a balanced, rounded practical program which can endure." He said, "I pledge now every dollar that can be made available in a round road program for allocation to the building of rural roads."

The state Highway Department, Clements continued, "must be devoted to building roads rather than building political fences."

Clements termed local option "the democratic way" of controlling sale of alcoholic beverages. He recommended creation of an agricultural and industrial board to attract new industries and a research department.

He again called for a deficiency appropriation for this fiscal year "to permit a substantial increase in teachers' salaries." He repeated his endorsement of objectives of the Kentucky Education Association program.

Clements said: "I do not favor any tax proposal which would double the total amount of taxes now being paid in Kentucky."

British, French Discouraged After First Talk With Molotov

Paris, June 28—(AP)—A gloomy atmosphere pervaded both British and French quarters today after a private conference between Ernest Bevin and Georges Bidault, prior to their second meeting late today with Soviet Russia's V. M. Molotov.

French sources reported the preliminary meeting of the British and French foreign secretaries, and one informant said: "The success of the conference is in doubt."

There were indications that the Russian position at this afternoon's three-power session might be one of a continued request for more information.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, said the conference's "foremost task" was to "clarify the actual meaning" of the Harvard University speech June 5 in which Secretary of State George C. Marshall offered

Baptists To See 'Blind Beggar'

Sound Motion Picture Will Be Shown Sunday Evening, Pastor Says

A sound motion picture "The Blind Beggar of Jerusalem" will be shown during the Sunday evening service at the First Baptist church, according to announcement by the pastor, Rev. Sam Ed Bradley. The service will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

This film is based on the 8th Chapter of John. Outside the gates of the temple at a beggar who was blind from birth, he was healed by Jesus. This story gives a vivid presentation of the growing hatred of the temple authorities for the Master. The attempt of the temple priests to force the beggar to deny the miracle and discredit the power of Jesus fails. He is cast out of the temple, and when Jesus hears of it he goes immediately to him.

This gripping film helps explain why Jesus so vigorously opposed the religious leaders of his people. It will give a new insight into the bitter opposition of the temple authorities to Jesus.

"The Blind Beggar of Jerusalem" was made by Cathedral Films of Hollywood, leaders in filming scriptural subjects.

7 From County Choose Army

Don Samons Most Recent Recruit From City, Says Paducah Army Officer

Captain Philip L. Stern, commanding officer of Army recruiting in this area, announced this week that of the 151 men who enlisted voluntarily in the regular Army this year, seven were from Fulton county. Don Samons, of 500 Fourth street, Fulton, joined this month.

"Most men enlisting in the Army today," said Captain Stern, "are high school graduates, because members of this year's high school graduating classes still have an opportunity to get credits for a college education under the G. I. Bill of Rights if they enlist one day before Congress declares the war officially over. In addition they receive good pay, training, travel and the opportunity to qualify for Officers Candidate School."

Interested young men may contact their Army recruiting officer for complete details concerning the new regular Army. Offices are located at First National Bank, Mayfield; court house, Princeton; and post office, Paducah.

Rash, Henderson, president of the Kentucky State Fair Board, states that plans are under way to build a good state fair this year. Emphasis is being placed on good exhibits and good treatment of exhibitors and patrons.

Advisory meetings are being held which include horse show people, livestock exhibitors and representatives of such organizations as the Kentucky Purebred Livestock Association, Louisville Area Development Association and the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

Labor Dept. Plans Last-Minute Talks To Stop National Coal Strike July 8; CIO To Fight Bill In Courts, Elections

AFL, Rail Unions' Aid Is Solicited By CIO Directors

REJECT STRIKE IDEA

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The CIO high command passed the word to member unions today that the battle of the Taft-Hartley labor act will be fought in the courts and in the 1948 national elections.

Rejecting all suggestions of a general protest strike, the 51-member CIO executive board decided to (1) attack the new law's constitutionality and (2) call on the AFL and railroad unions for a united attempt to beat the Congressmen who voted for it.

Invites Leaders
Meanwhile CIO unions will be advised to make their own decisions on whether to involve themselves with the new National Labor Relations Board in any way.

As a starter in the court fight, President Philip Murray said, the CIO will take aim on the Taft-Hartley bill's ban against union political contributions or editorial expression for or against Congressional candidates in newspapers supported by union funds.

"We will not comply with the unconstitutional limitations on political activity which are written into the Taft-Hartley bill," Murray said in a formal statement late yesterday the executive board ended its one-day session.

Murray proposed a meeting of himself and leaders of the other big unions to work out joint strategy for the court and election fight.

Make Own Decisions

He sent invitations to William Green, president of the AFL; Alvin Karpis, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; A. F. Whitney, chief of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and Arthur Lyon, secretary of the Railroad Labor Executives Association, which represents the other railroad brotherhoods.

The AFL claims 7,500,000 members, the CIO more than 6,000,000 and the railroad brotherhoods about 1,500,000.

"We propose," Murray said, "to exercise our political rights for the purpose of mobilizing the American people for the repudiation not only of the Taft-Hartley bill but of the entire reactionary program of which it is a part."

Tennessee Drivers Given Extra Week To Buy Licenses

Nashville, June 28—(AP)—The Tennessee Department of Safety today extended the deadline for renewal of drivers licenses one week to July 8.

Under state law the deadline is Tuesday, July 1. Because of a printer's delay in providing new licenses however, they went on sale a month later than the May 10 date originally intended by the department.

J. J. Dolan, head of the drivers license division, said he had written county court clerks, who issue the licenses, to grant the one-week extension.

Mayfield Milling Strike Ends When Union-Company Agree

Mayfield—An agreement ending a four-day walkout at the Mayfield Milling Co. was announced by a union representative, Glen Smith, of the Paducah Local 236, AFL Teamsters and Chauffeurs union.

The agreement, Smith said, sends all employees back to jobs held at the time of union organization within the plant. He assisted in organization of the plant workers last month.

Fourteen workers left their jobs Tuesday night charging "discrimination among the men" following the union organizational activities.

Smith said that five men, allegedly discharged because of Jimmy Varju, a coal loader, who stopped mining with thousands of others in southern West Virginia in protest against the Taft-Hartley law, finds his time well used, as Mrs. Varju (right) gets him to help hang up clothes at Bradshaw, W. Va. home.

50,000 Kentucky Coal Miners Start 10-Day Vacation With Pay

By The Associated Press

An estimated 50,000 Kentucky coal miners, members of the AFL-United Mine Workers union, started an official vacation today. The 10-day vacation period extends to July 8.

However, coal production in the state already had been cut earlier this week. More than half of the total left the pits in a series of walkouts described as in protest to passage of the Taft-Hartley labor control bill.

Hundreds of independent miners in the state, chiefly in the West Kentucky field, will remain at work, reports showed, except for normal week ends and July 3-5 in observance of July 4.

Some of these miners are independents unaffiliated with any union while others are members of the Ind-Progressive Mine Workers Union.

The United Mine Workers are to receive $100 for the vacation period and extra pay for any work actually done during the 10-day period.

Monday federal control of the mines expires. Some industry spokesmen have forecast UMW-manned mines will remain idle until a new contract is signed with the coal operators by UMW president John L. Lewis.

The new law provides for an injunction against a national emergency strike, but Krug asked if the miners simply stay home July 8 instead of reporting to work without a contract "whom can you enjoin?"

Asked how long the country could stand a coal strike, Krug replied: "How long can you stand on your head? It's a question of how long you have to."

Federal Control Of Mines To End Midnight Monday

DIGGERS ON VACATION

Washington, June 28—(AP)—Labor Department officials said today Secretary Schweikert will try next week to bring John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators together and head off a full-scale national strike July 8. Secretary of the Interior Krug estimated that after Sunday there will be only 48,000,000 tons of coal in storage above ground, or a 32-day supply.

As the last miners filed out of the pits early today for a 10-day vacation, Krug prepared to give the mines back to the owners when federal authority to run them expires at midnight Monday.

The vacation was provided for in the government contract signed by Lewis and Krug to end the strike 13 months ago. That contract runs out along with federal operation of the properties.

May Stay Out
The miners' vacation—shared also by the 75,000 Pennsylvania anthracite workers—may develop into an indefinite holiday if no agreement is reached in the next 10 days.

Labor officials expressed the belief there is still a chance that a contract can be obtained before the deadline, at least by operators from the northern and western coal fields. They represent 75 percent of the industry and are bargaining together.

The southern operators, who waited to negotiate separately, are even farther away from settlement than the north-west operators in their bargaining to date.

Both negotiating conferences broke off while the Taft-Hartley labor bill was pending before President Truman.

The north-west operators returned to the capital a week ago. There was one visit with Lewis which the industry representatives described as "social." After that they talked with Vice-President John O'Leary, Lewis' chief lieutenant in the current negotiations.

The southern operators have made no move to resume, although they contend their bargaining talks still are technically alive. They only called a recess, they said.

Would Test Bill
Krug told reporters a strike would "afford an opportunity to see what, if anything, the Taft-Hartley act can accomplish."

The new law provides for an injunction against a national emergency strike, but Krug asked if the miners simply stay home July 8 instead of reporting to work without a contract "whom can you enjoin?"

Asked how long the country could stand a coal strike, Krug replied: "How long can you stand on your head? It's a question of how long you have to."

We'll Take Peppermint

We see by the news columns that three Denver barbershop quartets are flying to Scottsbluff, Neb., today to compete in a two-state sing. The winner will go to Milwaukee in June, seeking the international barbershop quartet championship.

Junior, in his hepcat ignorance, may ask us, "What is barbershop?" What shall we tell him? Son, we shall say, barbershop harmonies are the peppermint drops of American song. They last and last. You roll them on your tongue and they are sweet but not sticky-sweet. Their flavor has a pungent power that brings mist to the eyes. That's the peppermint in them.

You boogie-woogie bumpkins are sons savages, Junior. You gulp your melodies whole, never pausing to savor them. Be they sweet or sour, after two weeks on the radio they are gone, consumed, and you are sick of them.

We, your fuddy-duddy elders, prefer peppermint to hotcha-cha. In the evening by the moonlight, we still love strolling down Melody Lane with Sweet Adeline. Shine on, harvest moon.

We don't care if Richard never opens the door. Does he plead for five minutes more with Sioux City Sue? We can't hear him, for Caroline is calling down by the old mill stream. Dear old gal, she's got peppermint drops. Some day you'll understand.—(The Denver Post).

Perfecting Democracy

In an editorial on America's position in the world, The New York Times recently said: "Our strength is not in our wealth, manpower or technology alone, or chiefly. It is in perfecting democracy at home and helping to make it possible elsewhere."

It has often been observed that this country does not possess anything resembling a monopoly of the world's material wealth. Other nations have natural resources and an industrial potential which are comparable to ours. They, too, have the riches which would make possible a high standard of living for their people. But the United States has been almost alone among the powers of the world in developing these resources for the benefit of the ordinary man and woman. The very essence of democratic capitalism, as we know it, has been to make our material wealth work for the benefit of us all—and equitably to share the rewards among all producers.

We have not reached perfection. But nowhere else on earth does the ordinary man or woman receive so much in return for his or her labor. Nowhere else on earth does opportunity go ahead exist on so great a scale. The leaders of America industry today were the clerks of yesterday. It is perfectly possible that the American president in 1952 or 1956 will be someone who is unknown to the country at present. That is the heart and soul of what we term the American system. Opportunity to go to the top is open to all—and man's rewards are commensurate with his contribution to our society.

This is what American freedom stands for. The perpetuation of our democracy, and its defense against all enemies within and without, is the greatest contribution America can make to a troubled world in which whole nations have sunk into totalitarian slavery.

Should We Interfere?

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

When I was in China four and a half years ago this column recorded that impartial observers generally believed the terrible civil war between the Communists and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's nationalist government must run its bloody course—until one side or the other was knocked out.

It seemed clear that the divergence between Communism and any other form—political, economic or religious—was too great to be bridged by negotiation. It was the old story that oil and water don't mix.

That was during the World War. The United States then was giving the Chinese government material help in the struggle against Japan.

Later General George Marshall, aided by other American officials, spent long months trying ineffectually to compose the internal differences which rapidly were wrecking the world's most populous nation—one of the Big Five.

Since then things have raced madly from bad to worse. And now, having explored every visible avenue in an effort to aid our friend, Washington today is facing a dilemma. Trying to move either side in the civil war with advice or argument is like hollering down an empty rain-barrel. Loans of money are snow on a hot stove.

What more can America do to save a nation which not only is her friend but whose welfare is vital to world peace and prosperity? Bestowal of further credits and loans apparently would be the only feasible offering which could be made. But would additional money achieve the desired ends at this juncture?

The position in China is truly catastrophic. Fierce fighting continues between great Communist and Nationalist armies in Manchuria, and the government forces are hanging on by their teeth to this richest section of the empire. The conflict is flaming across Northern China proper as well.

Far south in Hong Kong Marshall Li Chih-shen, one time chief of staff for Chiang Kai-Shek, says he favors a "democratic" secession of South China, and he asserts that this movement already is in progress. Marshall Li had a falling out with the nationalist government and then made his peace with the Communists.

But that's only part of the story. Family has been taking a toll of millions in various parts of the country. The black marketeers are perched like carrion crows on the back of the stricken nation, and a crazy inflation has carried the national currency to the staggering figure of 53,000 Chinese dollars (yuans) to the American dollar, whereas the yuan normally is about fifty cents in U. S. money.

What Washington now has to decide is would it do any good to dump more millions of dollars or other aid into such a morass which instantly swallows everything that touches it. That's a tough question to answer.

Suitably cut jade emits a very clear musical tone when struck, an encyclopedia says. If we remember correctly, a silver dollar also emits a pleasing sound when tapped, but we can't hang onto one long enough any more to play chimes with it.

MISS RHODES IS BRIDE OF RICHARD MCCLURE

In an impressive double ring ceremony, Miss Betty Jean Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rhodes, was wed to Richard Dale McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy McClure of Water Valley, Thursday evening, June 26, at 6:30 at the First Christian church, with Elder Charles L. Houser officiating.

The Gothic style of the church was emphasized by the tiers of white tapers burning in branch candelabra. Floor baskets of white lilies and carnations mingled with fern balls completed a picture of nuptial beauty.

Proceeding the ceremony, a program of wedding music was given by Miss Joyce Rhodes, sister of the bride, vocalist, and Mrs. Walter Voelpe, pianist. Miss Rhodes sang "You Belong To My Heart" and "Always."

The piano selections were Schubert's "To a Wild Rose" and "Ave Maria," MacDowell, with the wedding hymn "Oh, Perfect Love" played directly before the processional. The traditional wedding marches were used and during the ceremony, Debussy's "Clair de Lune" was played softly.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an afternoon frock of white jersey, simply styled and accented by a gold belt. She wore a small white straw hat encircled with orange blossoms and white veil, white lace mitts and other white accessories. Her only ornament was a gold link necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried a tailored bouquet of white carnations against a background of moline and tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Sammie Williams, maid-of-honor, wore an aqua eyelet dress with white accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow summer chrysanthemums tied with matching ribbon.

Mrs. Stanley Parham, bridesmaid, wore a pink spun rayon dress with white embroidery and white accessories. Her colonial bouquet was of blue summer chrysanthemums tied with blue ribbon.

Miss Joyce Rhodes, vocalist, wore a yellow afternoon crepe with a crown of yellow and white daisies in her hair and a matching wrist corsage.

Mrs. Walter Voelpe, pianist, wore a dress of black and white sheer with a black picture hat and a corsage of red carnations. William Ervin Wilson served Mr. McClure as best man. William R. Reid, Jr., and Stanley Spencer Parham were ushers.

Bowling Green's G. E. Radio Plant May Be Sold Soon

Washington, June 28—(AP)—The War Assets Administration today reported "good prospects of a negotiated sale" of the surplus General Electric radio tube plant at Bowling Green, Ky.

"Three parties are showing an active interest," a WAA spokesman said. "We are not free to mention any of the names now, but the situation shows promise."

The Electra Voice Corporation of Chicago, successful in the bidding last February, withdrew from the purchase earlier this month. The company had offered $781,000 for the plant and equipment, but found it would be unable to take over on July 1, as scheduled.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Kalamazoo, Mich.,—June 28—(AP)—There's a movement on in the National Collegiate Athletic Association, partly as a result of preliminary events in the current baseball championship, to overhaul the entire system of districting. Navy, for instance, is in District Three, the Southern group, but through a misunderstanding Coach Max Bishop was invited to attend the District Two selection meeting because the Midshipmen play mostly an eastern schedule. The result was that Navy, which was eager to bust into the tourney, was left out entirely. There are a few other cases around the country where schedules and geography don't agree and the colleges suffer by losing chances to shine in national tournaments. The loss of Navy probably cost that Southern tournament at Charlotte, N. C., a few bucks at the gate, even though it took in $4,500 in three days.

CLOSE-UP

One of the ticket applications that reached the Green Bay Packers office recently was accompanied by this note: "Instead of giving me my regular ten tickets in Section H, this year, please give me only six there and four on the bench. I have been coming to Packers games for years and never got a good look at the players." If the gent even did see them in action from that close, he'd probably ask for seats in the last

CLEANING THE CUFF

Iowa football followers are a trifle peeved because three good Sioux City prep footballers followed Marchy Schwartz to Stanford. Vic Heyliger, Michigan hockey coach, is heading west to operate a boy's camp in Wyoming. Ashland, Ky., high school nominates for hard-luck champ Chuck Dickinson, who pitched two no-hit games in tournament play the last two years and lost them both. Peterson's 8th Inning Single Gives Chicks 1-0 Win At U. C.

Fulton's Chicks are in undisputed possession of third place in the Kitty League race today after their too close for comfort 1-0 win over the Greyhounds at Union City last night.

The lone score of the game came in the eighth inning with two out. The rest of the way, the tilt was a tight pitcher's duel between Ed Engel, who let the Hounds down with only four hits, and Cooper, who was nicked for five safeties by the Chicks. Dutch Gray was the first man up for Fulton in the eighth, and drew a base on balls. Jake Propst sacrificed Gray down to second, and Pechous hit a pop fly for an out. Clutch-hitter Pete Peterson then smacked a sizzling single between short and second base to score Gray. The Hounds came dangerously close to forcing the game into extra innings in the ninth when they got three men on with one out. Horner, Union City catcher, netted was safe on first after Rhodes' error, only one of the evening, and Simpson singled to right field. Kustich walked to load the sacks. Newman, Hound pinchhitter, hit a fly to third base, and Godfrey struck out.

Last night's win puts the Chicks 1-2 games behind the Owensboro Oilers. The Mayfield Clothiers, who whipped Cairo 8-3 last night, are 2-1-2 games behind the league leaders.

Hopkinsville took an 8-5 decision over the Clarksville cellar club, and the Owensboro-Madisonville game was called because of rain.

The Chicks play at Union City again tonight and Sunday, and Mayfield comes to Fulton for three games starting Monday, June 30. The Fulton players will be all dressed up in their new jackets this evening. The crimson and blue jackets were contributed by local merchants and other friends of the Chicks.
