(Special to New Era.)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 2.—The damage caused by Monday's hail storm in the Dakota and Minnesota is worse than reported. The loss will exceed 2,000,000 bushels of wheat. Heat and wind have damaged much of the crop and a great many fields have been abandoned in Minnesota.

FARMERS

Feeling Good Over Stiffening Prices.

WHEAT IS NOW FIRM.

Tobacco Still Holding Its Own At Good Figures—The Local Market.

Those farmers in this section who have held their wheat believing that conditions would sooner or later tend to advance the price are likely to have their judgment vindicated. Reports from our chief foreign competitors show a falling off from the yield of 1898. The Courier-Journal says:

One thing seems to be quite sure and that is, while there are large surplus stocks of old wheat in this country, there is going to be a demand for every bushel. The price has been held down by the absence of speculation, but there is a seemingly little danger of the dropping below the 70 cent mark. Foreign crop conditions are mostly bad and are getting worse with every report. Commercial authorities are estimating that the French harvest will fall off 30,000,000 bushels from last year. Our greatest competitor in exports, Russia, is in a bad way. Estimates are freely made that the crop will be 85,000,000 to 120,000,000 bushels short of 1898, and the price crop is also poor in many provinces. Rumania, Italy, Bulgaria and Spain are 70,000,000 bushels short of last year, and India's crop, harvested last March, fell 17,000,000 bushels below the 1898 yield. The Hungarian, German and Austrian product will be good, but Hungary is the only large exporter of all of these.

The estimate indicates a falling off of European and Indian crops. This ought to be quite enough to keep up the demand for our surplus and perhaps to advance prices very handsomely. At any rate, it is difficult to see how they can be forced lower.

HOPKINSVILLE TOBACCO.

Monthly Report Showing Conditions of the Market.

Reports received from the Board of Inspectors and warehousemen of this city show the Hopkinsville tobacco market to be enjoying an unusual degree of success and activity just now, with a strong demand for all the better grades of the weed and the very highest prices of the season prevailing. Everything in good condition is disposed of as fast as it is offered, and the upward tendency in prices, while affecting all classes, was especially noticeable in the darker grades of leaf and leaf, on which there has been a steady advance. These have lately been a great demand for good leaf and all kinds of tobacco suitable to the foreign trade.

There was a full board of buyers present at all the fair sales, with representatives from Louisville, Clarksville and other points and agents representing the foreign market. As a result, bidding was lively and sales large. Agents are on the alert for such classes of tobacco as they want, and there will be larger shipments abroad this year than for a long time past.

All the conditions are favorable to a good crop this year. Heavy rains have fallen, and the yield will be much larger and of finer quality than was expected until recently.

The monthly report of the Inspectors is as follows:

Receipts for past month 100,000
Sales for past month 120,000
Stock on hand 100,000
Total 320,000

HOOPER DISAPPEARED.

Mr. Marlow came down this morning to see about his horse and buggy. He found the horse in Tom Clark's livery stable.

LAST SAYS RITES.

The remains of the late Charles L. Munford arrived in Clarksville from Christian county, Ky., at 6 o'clock last night, having come overland. It was originally intended that they should be carried to the Franklin house and kept there until 6 o'clock this morning, at which hour the burial was fixed. It was found necessary, however, to change this plan and the remains instead were carried to the receiving vault at Greenwood and left until this morning. Shortly after nine o'clock, in the presence of the large delegation of relatives and friends who came from Christian county, together with Clarksville friends, the burial service took place. Rev. J. H. Levy, of the Presbyterian church, read an appropriate selection of Scripture, after which "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung, followed by a prayer, then another song. After the grave was filled, loving hands deposited upon the mound beautiful flowers, which ministered to the esteem and affection of surviving friends for the departed one.

The Garrott brothers, of Christian county, and W. P. Harbaugh acted as pall-bearers—Leaf Chronicle.

KENTUCKY POLITICS.

From Thursday's daily.

The Bolters.—The Lexington conference of Democrats who intend to oppose the regular Democratic ticket named by the Louisville convention was attended Wednesday by several hundred men, who called a State convention to be held in Lexington on August 16, when a full ticket will be nominated, says the Courier-Journal. The manner and time of selecting delegates were left to the judgment of the promoters of the movement in each county. A speech from Gov. Brown, who will be the nominee of the convention for Governor, was an interesting feature of the conference.

PROHIBITION TICKET.—The Kentucky Prohibitionists Wednesday nominated a full State ticket as follows:

Governor—O. T. Wallace, Garrard county.

Lieutenant Governor—William H. Ziegler, Jessamine county.

Auditor—Rev. Samuel M. Bernard, Jefferson county.

Treasurer—J. R. Pile, Davies county.

Attorney General—James H. Bannach, Fayette county.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—G. E. Hancock, Knox county.

Commissioner of Agriculture—A. W. Carpenter, Lincoln county.

They adopted a platform denouncing the present election law and favoring woman suffrage and the abolition of the liquor traffic. Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, of Lexington, a sister of Mrs. T. E. Barbour of this city, was temporary chairman of the convention.

PEMBROKE'S BIG DAY.—Christian county Democrats are going to have a glorious Democratic demonstration at Pembroke, Ky., sometime in September. The exact date has not yet been decided upon, but the preliminary arrangements are being made and the day will be made public in a few days. Billie Bryan will be there and Billie Gooch will be there, but John Young Brown will not be there—Springfield Herald.

NOT AN AGNOSTIC.—Editor Mott Ayres, of the Pitts Leader, wrote to Mr. Gooch a few days ago and asked him if there was any truth in the report that he was an agnostic.

Mr. Gooch's reply follows:

"MY DEAR MR. AYRES:

"In response to your inquiry, I have to say: [and from my childhood have been, a member of the congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran church of this city—the church to which my parents belonged in their lifetime. I am a believer in the Christian Religion and the divinity of Jesus Christ.

"Very Truly,

"WM. GOOCH."

WHAT PRYOR SAID.—When it was suggested that he might be a compromise candidate for governor, ex-Chief Justice W. S. Pryor, promptly responded: "I am for Senator Gooch. I know him, and, therefore, I am for him. I had rather see him governor than to be governor myself. Such a man is needed. He would make an able governor."

THE CAT DIED.—I want to see Gooch defeated because his defeat means the prolonging of the Democratic party's life," said a prominent local Republican politician the other day. And the cat stroked his whiskers in bewilderment, cast one lingering, fateful look at the heavens of nature and was gathered unto his daddies—Ekton Times.

MR. BRYAN.—There never could have been any doubt in the minds of genuine Democrats that Bryan would hesitate a moment to give to the ticket nominated by the Democratic convention at Louisville, the benefit of his services. His prompt offer to speak at such points in the state as the party authorities may name for one week for the benefit of Gooch and the entire ticket gives the lie to the ridiculous statements made by the lying dupes that the election of Gooch means the overthrow of Bryan and Blackburn in this state. Bryan fully and completely sized up the situation when he declared that the defeat of the ticket headed by Gooch this fall meant the defeat of Blackburn for the senate and the loss of Kentucky in 1900 in the presidential race—Bardonia Record.

MASSACRED

Was The Hopkinsville Base Ball Team.

NINE HUGE NAUGHTS.

Louisville Club Played A Snappy Game And Won With Greatest Ease.

From Thursday's daily.

It was as off-day yesterday with the Hopkinsville base ball team. They put up about the rockiest article of the national sport ever witnessed on a local diamond. Some games have been seen here so bad that they were funny, but Wednesday's contest was really pathetic. Hard-working "rooters" like Jake Samuels, Owsin Stelshagen and Bill Brannham forgot how to "root."

There was scarcely a dry eye among the faithful "fans," and Dick Holland, rather than display his grief in public, gathered himself together before the game was half finished and howled and gnashed his weary way. To tell the truth, there was a considerable distinction in the crowd before the contest came to its sorrowful close.

Louisville came down like a wolf on the fold. It was a slaughter of the innocents. The visitors played almost a faultless game. It was full of snags. George Stultz, who several seasons ago was a member of the Hopkinsville, was in the box and his work was excellent. Only two hits, one a scratch, was made of his delivery, and he had nine strike outs to his credit. Russell, the local pitcher, secured for the occasion from Allensville, pitched creditably, as did Ashford, who relieved him in the sixth inning, but neither received any support worth mentioning, except from Williamson and Blythe who made the most of limited opportunities.

The Hopkinsville took the bat first. Two flies and a short field grounder sent them to the field. The visitors should have been routed quite as quickly, but Ab Eggleston in right misplayed one fly and muffed another, and these misplays, followed by two passed balls and Eggleston's muff in left, let in three unearned runs.
