Blind Man Hit By Automobile At W. Hickman

Claud Beard, 26, Is In Hospital With Concussion

SHERIFF INVESTIGATES

Sheriff A. G. Wynn told the Leader this morning that his office is investigating an accident in which Claud Beard, 26-year-old blind resident of Walnut Log, Tenn., was struck by an automobile Saturday afternoon at West Hickman.

No arrest has been made and no charges have been filed against anyone as yet, the sheriff added.

Beard is a patient at the Fulton Hospital, where he was taken immediately after the accident. He suffered a brain concussion and other injuries, but has regained consciousness.

Paul Houston Duncan, 18, Hickman, Beard's nephew, told this story of the accident: Beard had been visiting his sister (Duncan's mother) in Hickman Saturday. The two men were hitchhiking to Walnut Log, standing at the "eye" on Highway 94 in West Hickman, and solicited a ride from a Fulton county car occupied by two men.

The car slowed down as if to stop to pick them up, then suddenly swerved over to the shoulder of the road.

Duncan said he tried to pull his uncle out of the path of the car, but was unable to do so. He added that the car's wheels ran off the highway when Beard was struck.

Duncan said today that the men stopped and offered assistance when they found their car had hit Beard.

Beard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gean Beard, Walnut Log. In addition to the brain concussion, he received a large cut in the back of the head, cuts on the legs and hands, numerous bruises and is suffering from shock.

"Life Saved" By Firemen

Resuscitator Is Used On Bailey Binford In Demonstration At Pool

The fire alarm you heard this morning called the Fulton fire department to Sunny Dip Pool, where Harry Moss Latta used the Fulton Lions Club's resuscitator to "revive" a "drowning victim"—Bailey Binford.

The trial run came as a surprise to the firemen, who have the resuscitator on the city fire truck for use on all calls, if necessary. Mr. Latta learned to use the apparatus when it was presented to the city fire department.

A Red Cross swimming class conducted by Mrs. Russ Anderson and several other spectators watched the resuscitator demonstration. The "victim" recovered completely, it was reported, and immediately demanded an ice cream cone.

All residents of Fulton are reminded that they should call the fire department immediately if the resuscitator is needed.

BULLETIN

Washington, July 14.—(AP)—The Senate passed the $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill today, sending it to the White House where a certain veto is expected.

The vote was 69 to 32, which was two short of the two-thirds margin the supporters of the cut would have needed to run up in order to make the bill law over the President's veto.

Sailor Hurt In Collision

Dragged About 75 Feet By Auto After Motorcycle Hit Another Car Sunday

A Navy enlisted man stationed at the Millington, Tenn., Naval Air Base was dragged about 75 feet by an automobile Sunday afternoon on Highway 51 when the motorcycle the sailor was riding struck another car.

The injured man, AMM 2-C Edward Barnes, is in Haws Memorial Hospital being treated for a badly sprained left ankle and foot, bruises and cuts on the left arm and hand.

The accident happened about six miles north of Fulton, Barnes, who had been visiting friends in Illinois, was returning to Memphis. He started to pass a south-bound auto, but as he drew up abreast of the car he saw another automobile, headed north, directly in front of him.

Barnes tried to squeeze his motorcycle between the two cars, since he was going too fast to stop. The motorcycle hit the north-bound car, driven by C. H. Poe, Route 1, Sikeston, Mo., and Barnes was thrown in front of the other auto.

An estimated $50 damage was done to the motorcycle. Goodwin's wrecker was called to bring the damaged vehicle to Fulton.

Fulton Boy Wins Third In State With Model Auto

Burns Davis, Route 1, Fulton, won third in the model car competition, junior division, of the Fisher Body Craftman's Guild model car competitions in Kentucky.

Announcement of the award was made by Gen. John R. Killpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, New York City, where the judging was in progress for 10 days at R. H. Maer's Youth Center.

There were 24 awards in each state, and more than $10,000 in cash is being distributed in the eastern area in addition to 16 expenses-free trips to the national Guild convention in Detroit Aug. 1-2.

First place winner in the junior division of the contest was Ross Gray, Wisdom, and tops in the senior division was Ben F. Arnold, Louisville.

Joseph Kapilla, Louisville, was second in the junior division and Eugene Saunders, Meta, was second in the senior contest. Burns Davis will be a junior in Fulton high school this fall. He studies manual arts under Prof. J. B. Goranillo. His wooden model auto is streamlined to resemble the most modern cars, and is handpainted.

Lowlands Want Western Reich Included In Marshall Program

Paris, July 14.—(AP)—Dutch sources at the Paris economic conference indicated today that the Lowlands would advocate prompt inclusion of western Germany in the Marshall plan for European recovery.

A Dutch spokesman said western Germany inevitably must be added to the 16-nation organization, embracing all western Europe except Spain and excluding Russia and eight eastern nations under her influence.

One of the first consequences of including western Germany, the spokesman suggested, would be a merger of the French with the combined American-British occupation zones.

The conference rules committee set a meeting for 3:30 p. m. expecting to complete its work for a plenary session at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

The Dutch informant said representatives of Benelux—the Belgian, Netherlands and Luxembourg customs union—would ask for a general statement defining the lines along which the conference will work, including clarification of economic policy toward Germany, before starting any detail work.

The conference voted yesterday to request commanders in chief of all four German occupation zones, including the Russian, to supply statistics needed for any integrated recovery plan. (European union would ask for general statement defining the lines along which the conference will work, including clarification of economic policy toward Germany, before starting any detail work.)

Swedish spokesmen at the conference showed considerable interest in an article in Investia, the official government organ, asserting that "American capital penetrating Sweden is not limiting itself to industry and trade, but is extending itself to the questions of Sweden's political organization." The Swedes did not comment. Per-

Trial Of Ex-Sergeants For A-Bomb Secret Theft Need Not Disclose Hush-Hush Data, U. S. Thinks

Washington, July 14.—(AP)—Government legal authorities confidently predicted today that they will be able to try two former Army sergeants on charges involving atomic bomb secrets without disclosing any hush-hush data.

The ex-GIs—accused of taking highly confidential notes and photographs with them when they left the Los Alamos, N. M., A-bomb project and the Army more than a year ago—were scheduled to be arraigned in widely separated cities today.

Alexander Van der Luft, 23-year-old Princeton undergraduate, was ordered to appear before a U. S. commissioner in Pittsburgh, and Ernest D. Wallis, 34, was to hear a similar complaint read to him in Chicago.

The specific charge is willfully and unlawfully removing and concealing records and documents. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of a $2,000 fine and three years in prison. FBI agents arrested both men Saturday, nearly two and one half months after the Justice Department was called into the case by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The two previously had been described as simply "souvenir hunters," and Congressional Atomic Energy committee members as well as the FBI insisted that none of the secrets they are charged with possessing got into unauthorized hands.

In announcing the arrests, FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said his agency was told last April 30 that certain top-secret documents were missing from the Los Alamos files.

The investigation, he said, led first to Van der Luft, who had resumed his studies at Princeton after his discharge from the Army on March 9, 1946.

Three Injured In Car Wreck At 4th, Carr

Autos Driven By G. E. Allen, Gleason Man Hit

ONE CAR OVERTURNED

Three persons were injured painfully Sunday at 1:15 p. m. when two automobiles collided at the intersection of Fourth and Carr streets. One of the autos overturned.

The injured were Mrs. Gladys Allen, her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Beadles, and G. E. Allen, driver and owner of the overturned car. All were taken to Haws Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Allen received treatment for an injured shoulder and cuts on the arms and face, and was dismissed. Both Mrs. Beadles, who suffered back injuries, and Mr. Allen, whose left arm was broken below the elbow in three places, remain at the hospital.

Other occupants of Mr. Allen's car, who escaped injuries, were Mrs. G. E. Allen and Mrs. Beadles' baby.

The other auto was driven by Leonard Freeman of Gleason, Tenn. Freeman was making a right turn off Carr into Fourth street, and Allen was driving east on Fourth street. Freeman said he thought he had the right-of-way at the intersection.

Other passengers in the Freeman car were T. E. Bell, Harold Bradberry and James Harold Bradberry, all of Gleason. Bell received a cut on the forehead.

Mr. Allen was pinned under his car and it was necessary to lift the vehicle to remove him. Both cars were badly damaged.

CHARGED—The Department of Justice announced in Washington, D. C., the arrest and formal charging of Ernest D. Wallis (above) in connection with the disappearance of atomic bomb documents from the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic testing station. Wallis, a former Army sergeant, was taken in custody in Chicago by F. B. I. agents.

HELD IN ATOMIC BOMB CASE

Alexander von der Luft (above) is shown in the Pittsburgh, Pa. FBI office after being charged in connection with the disappearance of atomic bomb secrets.

The FBI hunt then turned to Chicago where Hoover said Wallis had been operating a photographic studio since his discharge from the Army a month earlier than Van der Luft. He had been an official photographer at the Los Alamos plant.

"Wallis was interviewed and his studio searched where some 200 photographs and negatives were located and seized," the announcement said. "These pictures showed the various phases of the atomic bomb and the test explosions and numerous of the photographs and negatives were classified as 'top secret.'"

Hoover's announcement emphasized that the Army was in complete charge of the A-bomb project at the time the material disappeared.

Florida Plane Crash Toll 21; 12 Victims Still Unidentified

Melbourne, Fla., July 14.—(AP)—Twenty-one persons were killed yesterday in the crash of a DC-3 chartered airliner in swampy waste-lands near here, and today 12 remained unidentified mainly because of a confusion in Spanish names.

The death toll was expected to mount with two of the 13 injured on the "critical" list. The plane, en route from New York to Miami with 36 persons aboard—a crew of five and 31 home-bound Puerto Ricans—cut a 300-foot swath through the scrub pine six miles from this Florida east coast town as it ploughed to earth shortly after 4:30 a. m. (EST).

Civil Aeronautics Authority investigators reached the scene early but would not comment on their findings.

The plane had last been heard from as it passed over Jacksonville, Fla., after leaving Augusta, Ga.

Similarity in the Spanish names of the Puerto Ricans, a number of whom were young children carried in the arms of parents and not listed as passengers, and the inability of the survivors to speak English, hampered identification of the dead.

A member of the Puerto Rican resident commissioner's office in Washington was expected here this morning to help with the identification, and Brevard Hospital, where 12 of the injured were admitted, were hopeful that one or more of the survivors might be able to leave their beds to help.

Two children escaped injury. One was a boy, Jose Rodriguez, 3, whose mother, Pura Rodriguez, is not expected to live.

Griffenhagen Report Criticizes Kentucky's School Tax System

Frankfort, Ky., July 14.—(AP)—Favoritism and gross unfairness in the "ridiculously low" assessment of property in Henderson county and the city of Henderson, which compel schools there to operate under an "unwarranted handicap," Griffenhagen & Associates report in a survey of the two school districts.

Both the independent (City) and county districts depend on the common school tax on general property for their major revenues. But property in the city is assessed at an average of 36 percent of its true value, the report said.

And "there appears to be unusual assessment weakness in Henderson county," Griffenhagen said, adding: "This situation is at the core of much of the financial distress of the schools of Kentucky."

Proper assessment procedure is "a fundamental necessity for adequate school financing," the report stated.

The reports on Henderson's city and county public school systems were among 12 made during the past year by the Chicago firm of consultants in public administration and finance on order of Governor Willis.

Henderson and Harlan counties were selected as the ones where the city and county school systems should be surveyed. The Harlan city and county reports are to come later, as are reports on the University of Kentucky, the four state teacher colleges and on higher education generally in the state.

The report on the state Department of Education was published Sunday. It said the local school districts were not doing their full share toward support of education. In today's reports on Henderson there was no recommendation of an increase.

FIRE

The fire department was called to extinguish a fire over Andrews Jewelry Store Saturday night at 9 p. m. The fire was started by a cigarette, which was dropped in a chair. The wallpaper later caught fire. No damage was done except to the chair and wall.

She has 12 broken bones. The other child was Ellen Acevedo, 5. Besides Pura Rodriguez, the other passenger on the critical list is Carmen Rodriguez who has a broken back.

The bodies of those killed were brought in trucks to the Browne Funeral Home where they overflowed into a garage.

Forty-six Democratic House members met in Louisville yesterday and agreed to reject the governor's proposal. Nine other Democrats either telephoned or telegraphed messages to the Louisville meeting, stating they would abide by the action of their colleagues.

Proven Farmers' Friend

If Ballard county rural people want the best type of leadership in Kentucky and a Governor who has demonstrated he has the welfare of rural folk close to his heart, they will follow the example of Ben Kilgore, Smith Broadbent Jr., and scores of their top agricultural leaders in supporting the candidacy of Harry Lee Waterfield in the coming primary election.

The Yeoman, like every other business in Wickliffe is dependent upon the farmers living in its community for and measure of prosperity it may enjoy. Even more, for if our farmers are not doing reasonably well, we suffer acutely.

It therefore behooves the Yeoman, we believe, to urge the farm folk of this county to bestir themselves and help create the interest in the election necessary to bring about the nomination and election of a proven friend of Kentucky farm people.

Harry Lee Waterfield's program for Kentucky and his solemn pledges of performance have won the commendation of many of Kentucky's soundest citizens since the official opening of the First District candidate's campaign at Murray, June 14. In fact, so impressive was Mr. Waterfield's pronouncement and so evident his sincerity of purpose, that many persons previously little affected by the efforts of politicians and candidates to stir interest in this campaign have become ardent supporters of this young Democrat.

This is no time to temporize with petty factional differences which have weighed heavily in other elections; for now Kentucky needs a Governor with courage and the proven ability, will and vision to tear from the body politic festering ills too long neglected.

No other candidate has, or in our judgment will, bring forth any such constructive and forward looking blue-print for Kentucky's advancement as that which now is Harry Lee Waterfield's platform.

It is greatly to be hoped the farm people especially will examine the records of all the candidates seeking the governorship before they decide which they will support at the polls; but even more important, we think, is that they make whatever sacrifices of time may be necessary when election day comes, to cast their ballots for the man who has proven himself to be the best hope of Kentucky at this hour.—Ballard Yeoman, Wickliffe.

The office was asked an opinion by Brown County Attorney David J. Morris in a case where a minnow farm operator was using a truck with a farm vehicle license carrying a lower fee than a commercial truck.

Red Bloc Unstable

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Now that the Russian "bloc" of satellite nations in eastern Europe has been designated clearly we shall find it illuminating if we pause to devote a bit of thought to the meaning of the term "bloc."

A bloc of nations, in its generally accepted sense, is a group which has willingly combined to achieve some objective of common interest. Membership in the bloc is voluntary. Now in examining the Russian bloc we find an interesting deviation from the ordinary definition. The element of willingness is lacking in much, if not all, of this association, that is, willingness on the part of the people as a whole in the various nations. For example, Hungary, Romania and Poland were among countries communized over protests by the United States and Britain that strong-arm methods were being employed so the will of the general public was being smothered.

The most recent demonstration—and it has drawn shocked expressions from the western world—is Czechoslovakia's withdrawal from the Paris economic conference on orders from Moscow. And in passing we can't overlook that Greek troops have been fighting at hot battle near the Albanian frontier against Red guerrilla forces which Greece charges are supported by her communist neighbors and are aiming to establish a Communist state. A majority report of the United Nations Balkan commission recently upheld the charge that communists Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria were aiding the Red rebellion against the Athens government.

So the Russian bloc is an unwilling and unhappy one. The mere fact that a communist government may be in control of a country doesn't necessarily mean that it speaks for the population as a whole. It means that the opponents of the government are, for the time being, either afraid to protest or are unable to register a useful opposition.

Moscow had several reasons for creating this bloc. One was to spread Communism. Another was to increase the political and economic prestige of the Soviet Union. A third, and very important one, was to extend its sphere of influence westward for military security.

When we consider that it is made up of unwilling units we see that it provides a highly unstable barrier between Russia and the western democracies which she distrusts so much.

It is unstable because it cuts across a section of Europe which includes countries that have been famous for their love of liberty and for their fierce defense of freedom. Among them are sturdy fighting folk like the Bohemians, the Serbs, the Poles, the Czechs, the Slovaks and the Finns.

KEA Directors

Discuss Session

To Meet At Frankfort

For Analysis Of Willis' Proposed Aid To Schools

Frankfort, Ky., July 14—(AP)—The Kentucky Education Association's board of directors will meet here today to consider the phase of Gov. Simeon Willis' proposal for a special legislative session dealing with education.

Yesterday at Lexington, approximately 30 educators representing various sections of the state met and reviewed the long range program of the K. E. A., with special emphasis upon the request of the K. E. A. for an emergency appropriation of $10,500,000 from the state surplus for the coming school year.

The group at Lexington urged the governor and members of the general assembly to "work together" for additional school funds.

John W. Brooker, publicity director of the K. E. A. who attended the Lexington meeting, said the group did not officially represent the K. E. A.

Brooker said he did not know whether the K. E. A. directors would be guided by the action of the group which met yesterday.

He said it was the judgment of the educators who met at Lexington that any partial appropriation of the $10,500,000 before the opening of schools will help relieve present critical conditions and reduce the loss of Kentucky teachers to other states.

The New York governor injected the seaway issue into a news conference last night just before the opening of the annual conference of governors.

"We've got to have it and it will come some day," Dewey said of the proposed waterway.

Political observers today interpreted Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's new declaration in favor of the St. Lawrence River seaway and power project as a move to strengthen midwestern support of his presidential aspirations.

Chicks Take Two Of Three From Egyptians Local Team Back In Second Place

By taking two games out of three from Cairo while Mayfield was winning only one out of three from Union City, the Chicks moved into second place in the Kitty over the weekend.

A single by Seawright in the bottom of the ninth Saturday night, following on the heels of safeties by Propst and Rhodes and a sacrifice by Pechous which he beat out for a hit, gave the Chicks a 4-3 victory over the Cairo Egyptians at Fairfield.

Cairo scored first in the top of the first inning when Lindsey was safe at first base on an error by Propst. King was out, Lynch to Propst, sacrificing Lindsey to second, Lindsey was hurt at second and replaced on the bases by Crain. Hahn then singled to send Crain to third and took second on the throw in.

Driskill fled out to Engel, scoring Crain on the throw in. Lynch next walked Powers, Egyptians' catcher and skipper, dubbed throughout the evening by fans as "Pharaoh", "King Tut" and "Ol' Mama Hen" as he fretted and sweated with his team trying hard to win. Bridges followed with a clean single to score Hahn and send Powers to second. Holt rolled one to third which Buck took to put out Powers and retire the side.

The Chicks tied it up in the second and third. Pechous, the first man up in the second, slapped the first ball pitched to him out of the park a little to the left of the score board about fence high—it was little more than fence high when it zoomed over second base. Rhodes fled out to left field. Seawright singled. Lie was called out on strikes. Seawright then stole second base. Engle was safe on first on an error by Burns and Seawright took third on the play. Engle stole second and Lynch then walked to fill the bases, but Buck fled out to center field to end the inning.

In the third Gray led off by grounding out to third. Propst fled out to left field. Pechous walked and took second on Rhodes' single and moved on to third on the throw in. Rhodes tried for second and Hahn, Egyptians' third sacker, threw the ball away over the second baseman's head. While the ball was being recovered Pechous scored and Rhodes raced to third. Seawright fled out to center field to retire the side.

The Egyptians came back in the fifth to go ahead 3-2. Hahn hit one to centerfield that looked like a single, but the official scorer called it an error on Pechous. Pechous did have difficulty with it and Hahn pulled up safely at second. Driskill was out, Gray to Propst, sending Hahn to third. Powers grounded out, Rhodes to Propst, and Hahn scored. Bridges was called out on strikes to retire the side.

Fulton won the ball game in the ninth when Propst singled, advanced to second on a sacrifice hit by Pechous which Crain fumbled. Rhodes beat out a bunt for a single, loading the bases. Seawright then singled to score Propst and Pechous and win.

The doubleheader Sunday afternoon saw Cairo get to Biggs in the first inning for two singles and a double by the first three men up. Corley singled. Crain doubled. Pechous whipped the ball to Lie to shut off the run at home and Lie, in turn, whipped it to Buck to get Corley. Hahn then singled to score Crain. Driskill fled out to Engel, and Moore made the third out, Rhodes to Propst.

The Chicks collected two runs in the second when Pechous hit to centerfield for a double. Rhodes scored Pechous with a single and Seawright fled out to right field. Rhodes then stole second and Moore, the catcher, trying to catch him, threw the ball away into centerfield and Rhodes came on in to score. Lie walked and Engel struck out swinging. Biggs walked and Buck singled to put three on. Gray fled out to short for the third out.

The third inning was noteworthy only because of Rhodes' homerun with none on.

The fourth saw the Chicks bat around with Biggs facing Tiek. The first time up he drew a base on balls. Buck, trying to sacrifice, was safe at first on an error by Tiek. Gray walked, Propst fled out to centerfield and Biggs scored on the throw in. Propst singled, sending Buck to third and Gray to second. Rhodes, who was having a good day at bat, with three for four to tie Pechous for top honors, then slashed out a double to clear the bases. Seawright followed with another double to score Rhodes. Lie then fled out to the second baseman for the second out. Engel was safe at first on an error by the shortstop and Seawright came home on the play when the first baseman also made an error. Biggs then fled out to second to put an end to the merry-go-round.

The Chicks came back in the fifth to pick up three runs more. Mathis took the mound for the Egyptians and was greeted by a triple off Buck's bat. Gray extended the welcome with a homer to score Buck ahead of him. Propst fled out to short and Pechous singled. Rhodes was safe at first on a fielder's choice, forcing Pechous at second. Seawright, who is beginning to look like the same Seawright we saw last year, then hit for three bases to score Rhodes. He then died on third as Lie grounded out, short to first.

Biggs weakened badly in the seventh and remained in the game only by virtue of the big lead the Chicks had piled up for him. The first four men to face him hit safely for singles. The Chicks were backing up their skipper, though, for the four straight hits netted only two runs. Holt, Burns and Mathis, although hitting safely consecutively, were unable to score.

Corley scored Holt and Burns with his single. Crain then fled out to Pechous and Hahn hit safely to score Corley. Driskill singled to score Hahn. Moore fled out to Engel and Bridges forced Driskill at second. The rally fell short and the Chicks found themselves on top 12-4.

The second seven-inning game saw Fulton take the field with a new battery, Hardestad on the mound and Litzelmeier receiving. It appeared that Hardestad had not even unpacked his bags. Corley, the first man up, was out, Buck to Propst. Then Hardestad put on the wildest pitching show Chicks fans have seen this year. He walked four in a row—Crain, Hahn, Driskill and Moore—with a wild pitch or two to score Crain.

King then rolled one to Buck and was safe at first on Buck's error while Hahn came home. A sort of combination wild pitch and passed ball let Driskill score and then Holt struck out. Burns then hit safely to score Moore and Hobbs doubled to score Pechous. It was enough, and too much for Hardestad, Biggs who had given him every chance on his first appearance in the local park and had lost a ball game doing it, pulled him and sent Williams to the mound. Williams made Corley ground out to Rhodes to end the inning. The mess added up to six runs and two hits.

In the third the Egyptians started off with a single by King. Holt then singled to send King to second. Burns was out at first on a bunt that moved King to third and Holt to second. Litzelmeier let one go by and King raced home with a tally as Holt moved to third. Williams then struck out Hobbs and walked Corley and Crain. Hahn hit to Gray who tossed to Propst for the third out.

Cairo scored once again in the seventh. Moore made the first out by lifting one to Pechous in centerfield. Bridges, who had replaced King in centerfield, drew a base on balls. Bridges stole second and came home on Burns' single after Holt had struck out. Tiek, pitching for Hobbs who had been thrown out of the game by the umpire in the third, grounded out, Rhodes to Propst, to retire the side.

The Chicks managed to put together six runs in the first and third innings, but never had a chance to win after Hardestad let them down in the top of first. Buck was hit by the pitcher in the first to get on base. Gray fled out to right field. Propst was safe at first on a fielder's choice that forced Buck at second. Pechous and Rhodes then drew bases on balls to load the sacks. Seawright hit safely for a single to score Propst and Pechous and send Rhodes to third. Litzelmeier on his first appearance at the plate connected for a double to score Rhodes. Engel, trying to fill Peterson's shoes, fled out to right field for the final out.

In the third Propst led off with a triple. Pechous was hit on the arm by the pitcher to take first. Pechous then took second on a double steal as Propst raced home with a run. Rhodes was out, second to first, as Pechous moved over to third. Seawright doubled and Pechous scored. Litzelmeier was out, short to first, as Seawright moved to third. Pitching to Engel, Hobbs balked and the umpire waved Seawright home. Hobbs sounded off and the umpire chased him from the field. Tiek went to the hill for the Egyptians. Engel fled out to short to retire the side, and it was the end of scoring for the day for the Chicks. The game ended 8-6 in favor of Cairo.

The Chicks go to Owensboro tonight for the first game of a three-game series with the Oilers in a battle for first place.

DEMOCRATS REJECT SPECIAL SESSION

The 1946 regular session of the legislature proved the sincerity of this statement.

"When you act under your constitutional right and call the legislature into session, the Democratic members of the House will provide for the needs for education and welfare under their constitutional rights."

On receipt of the telegram at Frankfort, the governor responded by sending a telegraphic reply addressed to Harry Lee Waterfield, et al. It said:

"Your wire received. Your caucus group evidently is not as greatly interested in helping the school teachers, the aged, the needy blind and dependent children as they profess to be when urging a special session of the legislature."

"Gave Opportunity"

"I have presented an opportunity for you, and have made the way clear and simple and easy, and at the minimum of time and expense to the state."

"I have intentionally barred the way to a political session of the legislature, which would result in an injury to the state and unnecessary expense to the taxpayers."

"If your group is acting in good faith and for the best interests of Kentucky, the terms I have outlined should have strong appeal to you."

"For you to say 'No' to this effort to help education, the aged and the needy blind in the present emergency, is a plain admission that your group is more concerned with politics than with the welfare of those in question."

"I have acted under my constitutional right and with no thought but the good of Kentucky. It is now up to the members of the legislature to adjourn politics and keep faith with the people."

"It is not a problem for a Democratic caucus, but for each individual member to determine for himself. The responsibility is his and his alone." (signed) Simeon Willis, Governor.

Before he sent the telegram to Waterfield, the governor had said that when the time limit is up on legislative responses to his call, he will go to the radio and announce the results.

The overall cost of living is more than double what it was 12 years ago

In the last 12 years we have used

2,979,320

Tons of Kentucky Coal

That is enough to provide 10 tons of coal for every dwelling in four cities the size of Louisville, enough to insure a full year's employment for 2,383 miners, enough to fill 59,587 coal cars whose hauling made thousands of man-days of work for Kentucky railroad employees.

BUT THAT'S ONLY THE BEGINNING!

During those same 12 years

1. We paid $14,216,021 to our stockholders. Of this amount $11,253,882 went to preferred stockholders—5,731 of them Kentuckians. Less than $3,000,000 (about $250,000 a year) went to common stockholders.
2. We spent $15,986,095 for new construction in Kentucky—not counting payroll or regular maintenance.
3. We paid $1,341,720 in employee retirement funds and insurance—voluntary contributions to employee security.
4. We paid $25,294,322 in salaries and wages to our employees. They, in turn, spent most of this locally.
5. We paid $20,457,092.61 in Taxes Federal, $11,412,090.85; City-County-Schools, $6,607,143.87; State, $2,437,857.89.

The dollars and cents story told by these figures does not begin to show the value of industry to Kentucky. The real story should be told in terms of human values—of employment, of the schools, roads, and state institutions made possible through the taxes paid by Kentucky industries and their employees. In addition to these millions of dollars poured into the economic life of Kentucky, we have also contributed, through electricity, to the comfort and conveniences of our fellow men. Because of these accumulative benefits, the governing bodies of our state should encourage and help the growth and development of Kentucky's tax-paying industries.
