Start Special Session Monday Or Earlier, K. E. A. Suggests; Want More Money For Schools

Gov. Willis And Democrats Still Unable To Agree

DEADLINE THURSDAY

Frankfort, Ky., July 15.—(AP)—The hot-potato issue of a special session of the Kentucky legislature was tossed back and forth today in the summer heat of the state's Aug. 2 primary campaign.

There were politicians, both Democratic and Republican, quick to cry there is need for an emergency session. In fact, many already were on record voicing their views on that.

But there were differences as to the amount of money that should be spent and exactly for what purposes, although there seemed to be some agreement education and welfare should receive the largest lump.

The major stumbling block, however, to a special session was over the conditions under which it should be called. Gov. Simeon Willis, in the fourth year of his Republican administration, proposed one way. The majority Democratic House group already has rejected it.

Start Next Week
The latest proposal came from the Kentucky Education Association, which is avowedly non-partisan. Directors of the K. E. A. proposed that Willis modify his restrictions on his proposed call. And, the K. E. A. directors said: Begin the session by next Monday.

The K. E. A. expressed concern chiefly about $10,500,000 which it last February proposed be appropriated from the present state treasury surplus for the 1947-48 school year.

The directors asked the governor to call together legislative leaders to consider a session to spend up to $10,000,000 for education, welfare and other subjects Willis says need attention.

Actually, the K. E. A. directors put no ceiling on individual appropriations. But they asked for a "substantial portion" of the $10,500,000.

Limit the session to 10 days, the educators said. Willis had asked for such a time limit. He also requested legislators to agree in advance to stick within the $8,925,000 he said should be appropriated: $5,500,000 for education; $3,300,000 for old-age pensions, needy blind and dependent children; $100,000 to investigate gambling conditions; and $25,000 for the Kentucky School for the Blind at Danville.

Thursday midnight is the deadline set by the governor for the legislators to let him know, individually, whether they accept his terms for a session.

Sensors to Reply
Twelve of 19 state Senate Democrats agreed yesterday to reply to Willis' request on an individual basis. The House Democrats earlier rejected Willis' offer of conferring their constitutional rights as legislators were blocked by Willis' rules.

Thus, some observers said that if Willis sticks to his proposal, a special session to make appropriations appears "out," since appropriation bills must originate in the house.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Wreck

Sideswiped On Martin Road Sunday Evening

Union City—Charles Posey, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Posey, Union City, was injured seriously at about 8:30 Sunday night when the motorcycle he was riding was sideswiped by a hit-and-run automobile on the Martin highway east of Midway in Weakley county.

Posey and other young motorcyclists were returning home after a trip to Paris Landing Park, Kentucky Lake. Posey said he was riding on the right side of the highway, and that the auto which sideswiped his cycle was on his side of the road.

Witnesses said the auto speeded up immediately after the collision and turned south on a gravel road just east of the scene of the accident. One of Posey's companions attempted to overtake the car, but was unable to do so.

International Brigade Reported Invading Greece As Small-Scale War With Guerillas Continues

Athens, July 15.—(AP)—Air Minister Panayotis Canellopoulos announced today that "The situation has radically changed in favor of national forces" in Epirus, where Greek army troops were reported snapping a pincer on strong guerrilla units driving south on the key city of Ioannina (Janina).

Army sources said two important engagements with guerrilla columns were imminent in northwestern Greece. The government changed that the guerrillas had "invaded" Greek soil from Albania. Informants close to the Greek general staff said a new "invasion" was possible from the direction of Yugoslavia.

The informants quoted headquarters of the second army corps and the army of northern Greece—both of which are involved in the current operations—as saying: "We've got the invading forces in a difficult position." Unofficial estimates said eight battalions—about 2,500 men—were in the guerrilla forces in the areas where the two battles impended.

Two guerrilla columns were said to have started moving southward toward Ioannina, capital and largest city of Epirus, after the attack on Konitsa two days ago. Konitsa is about six miles from the Albanian frontier and 25 miles north of Ioannina.

One large force, estimated at more than 1,400 men, was reported caught between the reinforced Greek army units at Konitsa and replacements moving north from Ioannina.

West of Ioannina at the village of Kalpaki, where a skirmish took place last night, leftist forces were reported holding strategic heights. A new clash apparently was expected there.

New Coal Contract Called Aid To Production, Foe Of Inflation

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—George M. Humphrey, Pittsburgh coal and steel executive, said today the new coal wage contract "will do more to stabilize the economy and retard inflation" than settlement of any controversy in the industry in several years.

Humphrey, who played a major role in negotiation of the agreement with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, told the joint congressional committee on the economic report that the contract will spur output of coal, and added:

"Production and only production which creates a balance of supply and demand is the only sure cure for the increasing wage and price spiral."

Humphrey said the contract retards inflation "by avoiding a strike and all of the resulting damage that would surely follow" from deadlock.

Humphrey testified after Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the committee that the nation should be able to absorb this year's "second round" wage without going on an inflationary spree.

The NAM head also declared that the key to continued economic growth and prosperity is a united effort for greater production, plus tax cuts to provide "venture capital" for expansion of industry by 600,000 new jobs a year.

Man, 80, Leaps Off Bridge

Brookport, Ill., Resident Lives To Tell Story Of His Attempted Suicide

Brookport, Ill.—Eighty-year-old Robert McCormick leaped from Irvin S. Cobb bridge yesterday, plunging 60 feet into shallow water and knee-deep mud, and lived.

Brookport Police Chief Rufus Dye said McCormick apparently struck the mud and water feet first. He walked and crawled out of the stream moments after the plunge. Dye found him lying beside the river on a pile of brush, coated from head to foot with mud.

Dye said McCormick told him he "had hoped this would end it all." He has not been in good health.

At Fisher Hospital, Metropolis, where McCormick was taken shortly afterward, authorities said his condition was poor. The extent of his injuries had not been determined, they said making it difficult to give a statement about the aged man's chances to live.

Waterfield Says Kentucky Must Join U. S. In Hospital Program

Manchester, Ky., July 14.—Kentucky must join the federal government in a program for a state-wide network of modern health centers and hospitals, Harry Lee Waterfield said in a campaign speech here this afternoon.

The federal government, Waterfield said, has offered to pay one third of the construction cost of hospitals and medical centers for local communities would pay the other two thirds.

Under provisions of the Hill-Burton Act, the speaker of the House explained, Kentucky stands ready to receive $2,500,000 a year for the next five years from the federal government to help finance community hospitals.

Waterfield, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, pointed out that an advisory committee already had been set up in the state Department of Health to administer such a hospital program.

"I shall recommend that the state provide one third of the cost of construction of these hospitals and health centers," Waterfield promised.

"This will mean that any community in our state can have a health center or hospital by providing one third of the cost of construction," Waterfield said.

Waterfield also said he favored the State taking a hand in solving the problem of a medical school, capable of educating enough doctors for Kentucky's needs. To do this, he said, "state aid is necessary." He added that the state also must tackle the problem of training hospital personnel.

Waterfield also declared he would aid the negroes of the state with a plan for training of negro physicians and better hospital facilities for negroes.

Wheat Harvest

Long lines of wheat-laden farm trucks waiting to unload at Browder's Mill stir nostalgic memories in the transplanted farm boy who will never forget wheat harvests on the Kentucky farm where he grew up.

Wheat cutting time afforded a welcome break in the early drudgery of starting a tobacco crop. A fellow had a chance to straighten up and work without standing on his head like he did when he was weeding plant beds or setting tobacco by hand. Before the day of the combine, the younger boys raced with the horse-drawn binder, trying to shock the golden bundles as fast as they were cut and dropped in windrows. They learned to tie by hand bundles that the fallible machine missed—drawing from the experience of oldsters who once swung a cradle all day and tied bundles by hand far into the night.

There was excitement and adventure aplenty when the threshing crew sent their huge metal monster lumbering over the rutted roads into the wheat field. Then, as now, small landowners helped one another at threshing time—hired hands were hard to find, and unnecessary anyway with the friendly visits from farm to farm of wheat workers riding in on the hay frames of their best wagons.

The boy who has never followed the binder in its last rounds through the middle of the field to chase the rabbits that scurried out when their last hiding place was discovered—the boy who has never used his pitchfork to spear field mice and rats that bedded down in the wheat shocks and were roused out at harvest time—has missed thrills that no city amusement park can provide.

The trip to the mill with the bulging sacks of wheat was the climax of the harvest season. Perched high on the topmost sack, you could tilt back your straw hat and revel in the envious glances of the town boys who never had a chance to ride in so elegant a manner. You gaped in wonder at the complicated machinery of the mill, grinned at the flour-white millers, and glowed with pride when the older men told the folks at the mill that they just couldn't have gotten the wheat there without your help. How important you felt then!

Forgotten is the scorching sun that beats down on the wheat fields at harvest time. One is the memory of the prickling beads and chaff that made you button the sleeves and collar of your blue-faded-white work shirt. Wheat cutting time was a great event in the farm year. The city bred man may scoff at the remembrance of these simple joys, but they came as the result of a hard job well done and were ample payment for the work and sweat occasioned by getting the wheat to the mill.

A Life Saver

Yesterday we headlined a story on the demonstration of the city fire department's rescuator "Life Saver." The quotes were used because there was no real victim in need of the rescuator. The device has never been used on a real victim since the Lions Club purchased it, and we hope the occasion never arises when it must be used in earnest. Like accident insurance, it is something that is advisable to have and which we hope we won't need.

However, it's reassuring to learn that the city firemen are proficient in the use of the rescuator. There has been at least one drowning in Kentucky Lake, to our knowledge, in which the victim died because nobody knew how to save him—although a similar inhalator was nearby. We hope it won't happen here, and we were shown yesterday that any future victims can be saved if the fire department is called promptly.

Fiscatorial Payment

Albany, N. Y. (AP)—City Treasurer Frank J. O'Brien received in the mail a check for $100, marked "money for stolen time." "Someone must have taken the time off to go fishing and his conscience bothered him," O'Brien said. "But for $100, he must have done a lot of fishing."

Typical Russian Tactics

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

As the battle of the European bloc gets under way it is producing some strange though typical tactics on the part of Russia and her satellites.

The Moscow press is maintaining a violent barrage of propaganda against the Marshall economic program and the Paris conference, which it declares is doomed to failure. At the same time the Communist newspaper Pravda records that the eastern European nations are interested in getting United States credits, though directly from America and not through Britain and France. This follows the announcement by Poland, after she had turned down on economic cooperation, that she expected help from the U. S. A.

From this distance that would seem to be about like saying: "We are going to fight your economic project to a finish, but we expect you to furnish us with the wherewithal to do the job."

Still, the western democracies are taking all this in stride, with unruffled tempers. The door remains open for Russia and her followers to participate in the economic program.

However, informed sources in Washington have made it clear that the countries of eastern Europe can benefit only to the extent of contributions they make to the general European economic revival. In short, there must be a quid pro quo.

Thus far the signs have been that while Russia is uneasy she hasn't the slightest intention of cooperating with the western democracies, or of allowing the members of her bloc to do so, if she can help it. That "if," by the way, is a very big one, and for two reasons.

In the first place the eastern bloc of nations isn't economically self-contained or anything like it, and it therefore badly needs cooperation with the rest of Europe. Secondly, as pointed out, in a previous column, the Soviet bloc is a very unstable one because it is made up of liberty-loving countries which always have fought infringement of their independence. There is no doubt that Czechoslovakia and some other members of the Russian bloc are most unhappy over the trend of affairs, and want to participate in the Paris conference.

Of course, much will depend on the economic trend in Europe in the immediate future. The situation as a whole is mighty bad, but the consensus of the experts is that things will get worse before they get better. Then the question arises of what parts of Europe are going to be hardest hit.

In this connection we mustn't overlook the possibilities of deliberate economic sabotage in some countries where the battle of the isms is hot. Take Italy and France, for example. These—and especially France—are key positions, and the governments of both countries are undergoing heavy attacks from big Communist parties which have been fermenting labor trouble to further their economic recovery in these two hard-hit nations, and the same is true in less degree in some other states. Communism thrives on chaos, you know.

Bomb Proof

Possibly H. E. Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, Secretary General of the Arab League, is spokesman of the most nearly bomb-proof grand-scale organization on earth.

He says: "I should like to make it clear that the world has changed and that the rising East in Asia and North Africa will no longer tolerate a dominating and dictating West." He does not speak as one who considered the atomic bomb, which every great nation soon may possess.

The western nations are huddlers dependent upon the water pipe, the electric wire, milk trucks, beer trucks, various delivery services. Their citizens hardly know how to eat without huddling. Arabs remain independent of services, conveniences, essentials of civilized life—a western term—and are able to live in deserts.

Possibly the peoples of the future—the regnant ones—will be those who can live in deserts.—Louisville Times.

The FBI said the men were accused of forcing a 43-year-old waitress to accompany them from Covington to Cincinnati.

Pitman pleaded guilty. Ray McHenry pleaded guilty to house breaking and was given a one year sentence. He also received sentences of two years each on charges of breaking into a railroad car and of setting fire to a car.

Covington—Five-year sentences and $100 fines were imposed by Federal Judge MacSwain on each of three men who pleaded guilty to burglarizing Kentucky postoffices. William Necamp, 25, and Robert Johnson, 24, were charged with breaking into the Erlanger post-office and taking a mail bag. King Harvey of Menifee county was accused of taking $125 in cash and $285 in stamps from the Frenchburg postoffice.

Louisville—Damage estimated at $75,000 was caused when lightning set fire to a partially filled oil storage tank of the Louisville Refining Co.

WE SPEND $100,000 TO HELP

Smooth your Travels

Swift, comfortable, reliable travel by rail is no news. Even the vast forces of Nature seldom ruffle the smooth flow of passengers and freight.

These virtues are no accident. For under the wheels of your speeding train and along the right-of-way that rushes silently past your window, the Illinois Central last year spent $100,000 every 24 hours for up-keep of rails and ties and signals, bridges and buildings and ballast, and many other items that stand still that the trains may move swiftly and safely.

The Illinois Central, and other railroads, pay their own highway up-keep and for all other facilities, besides, and still contribute their full share of taxes that keep governments, both state and local, going.

Last year the Illinois Central spent 36 million dollars on maintenance of way and structures. We know this money is well spent. For the steel highway is the foundation of our firm determination to continue to earn your friendship and patronage.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, July 14—(AP)—Struggling into the subway after Rocky Zale knocked out Rocky Graziano last fall, a veteran boxing writer remarked: "It doesn't matter if I don't get six rounds, anyway." It was that kind of a fight—a thriller to be remembered for years—with two deadly punchers hammering away at each other; Zale going down, battered and apparently helpless and struggling to his feet again. You were just admiring his futile gameness when Tony suddenly sank his right into Rocky's body and it was Graziano sitting helplessly on the canvas while he was counted out. It wasn't any wonder that the supposedly calm occupants of the press rows stood and screamed along with the cash customers. It doesn't seem possible that they'll repeat this blood-and-thunder brawl in Chicago Wednesday. Somebody must be wiser or more cautious as a result. . . but if they should, you'll hate to miss it.

KING FOR A DAY

The Boone county, Missouri, horse show is making elaborate plans for a day for Stonewall King, 27 years old, who sired such famous show winners as Oakhill Chief, Invasion, Stonewall Lee and Highway Patrol and still is at stud. . . his own farmer Murray Eason who bought him as a yearling for $65, still treats Stonewall King like a $65 horse, although he is daddy of colts that have sold for over $10,000. . . in Boone county they're proud of their horses but don't pamper them.

MONDAY MATINEE

Although Whitey Lockman, who is tabbed as a great outfield prospect in spite of his being out since spring training with a busted leg, is able to do a little running now, Giant man him soon. Mel doesn't believe in him soon. Mel doesn't believe in taking chances with valuable property. . . Billy McCanney, veteran boxing manager who will be 75 years old Thursday, flew to Chicago in response to a hurry call in connection with Zale vs. Graziano—the fight mob always has said you could write a book about Billy and Ray Hill is doing just that.

Seawright's Homer Only Score For Fulton As Oilers Get Six

The Chicks lost to the Oilers at Owensboro last night 6-1. The loss cost them their second place standing in the league as Mayfield won over Hopkinsville 14-3. Although the percentage points show the Chicks ahead of the Oilers by a few points, the local team is tied with them in games out of first place with four apiece.
It would have been a shutout for the Oilers over the Chicks last night but for Seawright's mighty blow in the ninth. He hit for the circuit with none on for Fulton's lone tally. Gray, Hardcastle and Rhodes each hit for two baggers, Gray doing it twice. Hardcastle was playing right field in the absence of Pete Peterson. Pete's foot is coming along fine, but he is being treated for a bad tonsil at Bushart's hospital.
Gray had the best stick average for the Chicks for the night with three for four. Pechous also hit safely once in three official times at bat. The other Chicks went hitless for the night.
Eldridge went the entire distance for the Chicks and gave up 13 hits, three of them by Browne, slugging Oilers' manager and first sacker. However, not one of Browne's hits produced a run.
The Chicks remain at Owensboro tonight to take on the Oilers in the second game of a three game series. They return to Fairfield Thursday, July 17 to engage the fourth place Madisonville club.

In making the announcement, Hall urged all Boy Scouts who wish to caddy on that day to be present before play starts at 1 o'clock. He added that at least 40 caddies would be needed.

Races Planned At Paris Dock

Southern Speed Boat Event To Be July 20

Paris, Tenn.—Forty speedboat drivers are expected to participate in the Southern Speed Boat Regatta at Paris Landing dock on Kentucky Lake Sunday, July 20. The race will be a regatta event of the Dixie Motorboat Association and only registered drivers will participate.

The races will be held at the scene of last year's National Outboard Motorboat Races, held within plain view from U. S. Highway 79 at Scott Pittsburgh Bridge, 18 miles east of Paris. Although actual racing will not get underway until 1 p. m., spectators who come early will see plenty of action as the speedsters will spend the morning in qualifying races and trial runs.

Ample parking space will be provided and food and drink will be available. Spacious picnic grounds are available for families who bring their own lunch. Those desiring to make the trip by boat from other points on Kentucky Lake will find suitable dock space and service at Paris Landing boat dock.

Prisoner Escapes

Newport, Ky., July 14—(AP)—Police today continued their search for James Black, 33, of Grayson, Ky., who escaped from Speers Hospital in nearby Dayton Saturday night.

Campbell county Sheriff James G. Lang said Black apparently fled through chains which shackled him to a hospital bed. He said steel filings and soap were found in the bed. Black was under indictment on a charge of armed robbery.

HOSTESS—Terry Carroll, 20, has been chosen to act as hostess to visiting bathing beauties at Atlantic City during "Miss America Pageant" next September.

KEA Considers Revenue Source

Sales Tax, Parimutuel Tax, State Liquor Stores Discussed By School Men

Frankfort, Ky., July 15—(AP)—The Kentucky Education Association has a special committee studying revenue sources, John W. Brooker, K. E. A. public relations director, said yesterday.

The possible sources of revenue being studied include a general sales tax, a parimutuel tax and state-operated liquor stores.

Brooker's statement was made in a discussion with newsmen on the 2 per cent sales tax which became effective July 1 in Tennessee.

That tax was advocated by the Tennessee Education Association to help meet new appropriation for Tennessee education.

Brooker said the K. E. A. committee is studying new tax possibilities in connection with the K. E. A. request for a $4,500,000 appropriation for education from the 1948 General Assembly.

Wall Street Report

New York, July 15.—(AP)—Stocks generally gave ground today as light selling appeared in virtually all departments. Offerings were based mainly on the belief that a technical correction of the lengthy climb was overdue. The advance through eight weeks had put the industrial average at a new high since last August.

Trends wavered at a moderately lively opening. Dealings then slowed but declines of fractions to a point or more were in the majority near mid-day.

On the offside most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, International Harvester, Anaconda, Kennecott, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, J. C. Penney, Western Union "A", Electric Power & Light, Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co. Occasional gainers included Santa Fe, Great Northern Railway, Goodrich, Deere and Cerro de Pasco.

Bonds and cotton futures were uneven.

Cox Will Head County Exhibits At Ky. State Fair

Louisville.—With the naming of John H. Cox, special field representative of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, as supervisor of county exhibits, J. O. Matlick, manager of the Kentucky State Fair, expects at least 100 counties to participate actively in making these displays the largest single exhibit at the 1947 State Fair.

Cooperating organizations will be local farm bureaus, county agents, Future Farmers, chambers of commerce and civic groups.

In an effort to make the Fair more representative of the State and to encourage interest in attendance at the Fair, emphasis is being placed on the county exhibits. These exhibits will be made up of individual county exhibits from throughout the State and will represent the agricultural, industrial and natural resources of each county.

The word "carat," the name of the weight unit for jewels, derives from the Mediterranean carat tree, the seeds of which are of very uniform weight and were used in ancient times as a measure of weight.

LUCKY STRIKE presents THE MAN WHO KNOWS—

THE TOBACCO AUCTIONEER!

"I'VE SOLD well over 350 million pounds of tobacco at the auctions down South, and year after year, I've seen the makers of Lucky Strike buy quality tobacco... fine, light, fragrant tobacco that makes a grand smoke."

J. H. BURNETT, INDEPENDENT TOBACCO AUCTIONEER
of Buffalo Springs, Virginia
(16 YEARS A LUCKY STRIKE SMOKER)

FINE TOBACCO is what counts in a cigarette

JOE BURNETT IS RIGHT!... And like him, scores of other experts... who really know tobacco... have seen the makers of Lucky Strike buy the kind of tobacco that makes "a grand smoke."

After all, that's what you want in a cigarette... the honest, deep-down enjoyment of fine tobacco.
