DATES CHANGED FOR WORKING MURRAY-BENTON-PADUCAH ROAD

Owing to the fact that several day's time must be consumed in advance of the days for actual work on the Murray-Benton-Paducah gravel road in order that the gravel pits along the road and in the road must be opened with dynamite, the Calloway County Executive Committee has ordered that the dates for working this road be changed from October 8th and 9th till October 15th and 16th. The work of dynamiting the road could not be done this week on account of the heavy travel all along the road by persons attending the fair. The committee regrets the necessity of this action but feels that it will meet with the approval of the hundreds of persons who have agreed to assist in the undertaking. In addition to this condition of affairs many of those who have donated labor to the road have not yet finished cutting tobacco and before the 15th and 16th all tobacco will be housed and nothing can stand in the way of absolute success of the undertaking. The Ledger asks that everyone who has donated labor to please take notice of the change of dates and make preparations to be on hand early in the morning of the 15th and 16th.

Additional help is being subscribed daily and this week the secretary reports the following: B. M. Taylor, team two days. Flomari Brown, team two days. Jas. Thomason, team two days. Elmus Trevathan, team two days. N. P. Hendrick team two days. Dr. G. H. Covington, team two days. W. Y. Henson, team two days. Eld. South Hawkins, two days. Will Ryan, two days. Oatman Trevathan, two days. T. N. Nuckols, two days. It is the purpose of the Executive Committee to call another meeting of the overseers within the next ten days and assign the work and the road to each overseer and to also assign the teams and men. If for any reason an overseer can not act upon the dates set for work they are urgently requested to advise the committee at the very earliest date possible, but it is the sincere desire of the committee that every man appointed act if possible. Tell your neighbors about the change of dates and keep hustling for teams and men and come prepared on the morning of the 15th and 16th to do two days of hard work and Calloway will boast of an undertaking that will be a credit to its people and of vast material benefit. Remember, October 15th and 16th.

Our Highway.

In spite of the fact that one or two localities have tried to dip the star of the Paducah-Benton-Murray road enthusiasts by breaking into the game and doing their little patch of road first, we have every reason to believe that when the hordes from McCracken, Marshall and Calloway counties are turned loose upon that long-discussed highway in October, they will furnish an exhibition which will make the others second raters.

Calloway and Marshall both have a list of volunteers which resembles the reserve of a national army. Men, willing men, with sturdy teams by the hundreds have pledged their best efforts to the undertaking. Good housewives all along the line of action have promised substantial dinners and a grand jollification when all is over, and back of that we have the cash pledges of the three counties and the help of the three county governments which have done much in preparing the road for the workers' final touch.

Do not, however, let it be assumed that any of the triple alliance feels secure enough. There is need yet for more volunteers, need for more money. We can use in McCracken every ounce of muscle and every penny of the realm's coin that is donated. As ye give so shall ye receive, and the road will show our public spirit plainly reflected. Paducah Sun.

TOBACCO SITUATION

Conditions Unknown In The Trade For Half Century, Now Prevail—Crop May Be Cornered.

The dispatch given below was sent out from Lexington last Monday. They are the words of one of the best informed men in Kentucky, E. T. Roberts, tobacco expert and statistician. He says that manufacturers are confronted with conditions unknown in the history of the trade for half a century.

Tobacco raisers in the black patch can draw their own conclusions as to what the effect will be as to the prices of heavy tobacco. The crop this year has been estimated at 80 per cent of an average crop, some putting it at 90 percent. With the Burley tobacco all used up by January 1st the calling by the manufacturers for the lighter part of the black patch, will naturally effect prices very considerably.

Here is what Mr. Roberts says about the situation, but notice he does not say a word about future prices. He is speaking of the crop situation only:

Wide-spread drouth resulted in a short crop. He says that all the stock of Burley held by the Cincinnati and Louisville dealers will have been exhausted by January 1st, next, depriving the small manufacturer of his source of supply to a great extent. There is no old tobacco, he said, in the country and large manufacturers have only enough to run them for a year.

His report includes the significant statement:

"Beyond doubt the 1913 crop of tobacco is from 50,000,000 to 75,000,000 pounds short of absolute annual requirements, which will mean that there will be most strenuous efforts put forth by large manufacturers to corner the available supply, resulting in the keenest competition and soaring of prices."

Chronic Dyspepsia.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by Dale & Stubblefield.

Seasonable Suggestions On Seed Corn.

Just at this time it is highly important that the attention of all farmers be directed to the necessity of looking now for a supply of seed corn for next season.

If you have a reasonably good variety of corn on your farm, the place to look for seed is in your own field, but in case your neighbor has a better strain of corn than you have, it would be wise to bargain with him to let you go into his field and select sufficient seed for next season.

The seed corn test next winter or early spring will be an operation that you cannot afford to neglect, but it will merely be a sad disappointment if you depend upon selecting your seed corn from the crib, through the winter, since it will nearly reveal the fact that very little if any of it is fit for seed.

There are many things to take into consideration in selecting seed corn. These points concern not only the ear itself, but also the stalk upon which it grows, hence another reason for the desirability of selecting seed corn from the field, before the corn is cut.

Seed corn should be selected in the fall just as it is coming to maturity. Select well developed ears growing on well-developed and vigorous stalks, and of the same maturity. Mark them and allow them to mature. Do not select large ears from stalks that have grown in hills by themselves, that have been extremely favored in the way of rich spots or have been favored in regard to moisture present, but prefer those that have produced most heavily when growing under average conditions. Other things being equal, select ears from short thick stalks rather than from tall slender ones, as the latter is more likely to be blown down. Never select an ear that is extremely long of shank, but rather select one of a medium shank with the tip pointing downward at an angle of about 45 degrees. Prefer ears that do not have a gross, coarse heavy husk.

The vitality of seed corn is greatly injured if not destroyed by severe freezing while the grain contains a large percentage of moisture. This reminds us of the necessity not only of selecting in the early fall but also of drying the ears carefully before freezing weather.

This can be easily accomplished in many ways but perhaps no neasier or safer method could be suggested than that of drying several ears one above the other in loops in a piece of binder twine, and hanging the whole row in a well ventilated loft or attic. Care must be taken to provide safety from rats and mice.

This careful selection of seed corn will not do way with the necessity of testing the seed next spring, but that operation will then, in all probability, reveal more gratifying facts.

Remember that within the next few days we will largely determine the fate of next year's corn crop.

Simpson Candidate for Re-Election.

The Ledger this week presents the announcement of Judge S. P. Simpson as a candidate for re-election and submits his claim subject to the voters of the city of Murray as may be expressed in the November election. He will make the race as an independent candidate and his name will appear on the ballot under the above device. Judge Simpson has been serving the city of Murray as city judge the past twenty years and his official conduct is subject to investigation by every one, and upon his record as an official he will ask a final endorsement. Judge Simpson bears the distinction of being the only man in the history of the city or county who has made races for the primary and was defeated and was successful in the final election, mute evidence that his administration of affairs was satisfactory to the majority of the voters of the city. Judge Simpson has endeavored to administer justice, tempered with mercy, to all classes, and as judge of the city court asks the voters to carefully investigate his record and in the November election cast their vote for the man whom they believe will best serve the interests of the city.

Edgar Holcomb, of Perryville, Tenn., will be the guest of relatives in Murray this week.

FAIR OPENING

Indications Point to Most Successful Meet in the History of the Organization.

Wednesday was the opening day for the fourth annual meet of the Calloway County Fair, and with ideal weather every indication points to the most successful fair in the history of the association. While the crowd at the opening was not large the attendance for the first day was very satisfactory to the management and the prediction is that more people will attend the meeting this year than ever before. The exhibits in all departments are the finest ever shown and the grounds are covered with splendid attractions. The race program, the flying machine, together with many other novel features, promises to attract thousands to the fair this year who have not attended before.

This fair is a Calloway institution and worthy of the patronage of every loyal Calloway citizen and the Ledger predicts that the crowd for the remaining three days will be record breakers.

Convict Labor.

The Lyon county Herald is putting up a creditable fight against convict labor on the roads because it realizes that it would be disastrous to Eddyville to depopulate the prison. The motive is good from the standpoint of civic loyalty but in a broader human sense which deals with the elements of justice it is all wrong. The Herald goes too far in stating that convicts would be treated like beasts in road camps. This is not the case in Illinois where the scheme is in force. On the contrary the prisoners eagerly welcomed the chance to get out into fresh air, and they would in Kentucky. It gives them a chance to work like free men and regain their self respect.

Any attempt to stem the tide will be ineffectual because there is no right on the side of the opposition. Paducah Sun.

Mrs. Joe Ann Bowles, of Elkhorn, Tenn., arrived here Tuesday to be the guest of her cousin, Mr. J. H. Coleman, and family. Mrs. Bowles is one of the "Old South" ladies and is one of the most splendid characters that ever visited this city. She will be here for some several days.

A kiln of about 60,000 brick belonging to Geo. W. Slaughter collapsed Monday from the effects of the rains of the past week causing a loss of nearly one half of the material.

T. H. Stokes, of Cleveland, Tenn., arrived here the latter part of the past week and will spend several days in the county the guest of relatives.

Crouch Phillips and wife, of Stayten, Tenn., will spend a week in Murray the guests of her parents, Chas. Hood and wife.

COTTON CONDITION 65.1; LOSS OF 3.1

RAINS, WHILE DAMAGING GRADE, HELPED PLANT GROWTH.

DID SOME GOOD IN WEST

Cotton Opening Rapidly, but Rains Check Picking—Little Want of Labor—Few Localities Report Scarcity.

Memphis, Sept. 25.—Letters of average date of September 25 indicate a condition of the cotton crop on that date of 65.1 per cent of a normal. This is a loss from last month of 3.1 points.

The heavy rains that have recently visited the western section of the belt have just begun to fall at the date of this report, so that any damage they may have done is reflected but slightly in these figures. Rains earlier in the period covered by the report, while doing some harm to grade—were of some benefit to the growing plant, especially in Oklahoma, where a slight improvement over the low condition of the previous month is noted.

Cotton has opened rapidly and an unusually large percentage of the crop is open. Picking has gone forward fairly well, although interfered with by a certain extent by frequent rains. There are a few complaints of scarcity of labor, but as a general thing there are plenty of pickers and, with fair weather, the crop will probably be gathered in record time, except in the Carolina and Georgia, where much of the cotton is late, and the making of this crop will depend to a great extent upon the date of killing frost. However, there is much early cotton in these states and this is furnishing plenty of picking for the labor available.

Present prices are proving attractive and there is a general disposition on the part of farmers to sell, although the steady advance in price has not been so rapid as in the early part of the season. In Alabama, where there is a fair number who have announced their intention to hold for at least 12 cents. The staple is a rule good, except in some sections where heavy rains have fallen and have damaged the grade to a certain extent.

Following is the condition by states, and the figures of the government as of August 25:

North Carolina	70	78
South Carolina	71	77
Georgia	78	76
Alabama	68	72
Mississippi	65	69
Tennessee	74	80
Arkansas	67	72
Oklahoma	47	45
Louisiana	60	61
Texas	67	64
United States	65.1	68.2

TRAIN ROBBED IN ALABAMA

TEN ARRESTED—FIVE ARE JAILED AT TUSCALOOSA, ALA.

$100,000 BOOTY IS SECURED

Jim Bonner Killed Accidentally by Rifle in Hands of Deputy Cope of Montgomery, Another Member of the Pursuing Party.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Deputies from Birmingham and Montgomery and armed farmers from Tuscaloosa county have abandoned the search for the men who held up and robbed the express car of the Alabama Great Southern train at Bibbville, Ala., Thursday night. The case is now entirely in the hands of the railroad special officers. Five men have been arrested at Eutaw, Ala., below Tuscaloosa, none of whom is over 30 years old, and five others have been landed in the Tuscaloosa County Jail by Special Agent Hall. All of these men deny connection with the hold-up.

Mail Clerk Leander Poole gave out the following statement:
"The robbery was committed by three masked men, only one of whom appeared to me to be at all experienced. The other two were young and nervous. One of them did considerable profane swearing and cursing in the mail car. Bullets passing through the mail car narrowly missed four men. I am confident the robbers doing the shooting were drunk. While crouched under the counter I had the presence of mind to save a few registered letters.
The last charge of dynamite that blew the express safe was very heavy. It jarred us 100 yards away. They had modern appliances, equipped with lights that threw rays so they could see us, but we could not see them. As they were running back to the passenger coaches I fell into a cattle guard and sprained my ankle. One robber warned us of the cattle guard just as I fell.
"The fireman stated the robbers got off with mail sacks full of booty. My impression is they left the car before we reached Vaneau, letting the engine run wild to throw the posse off the track. I believe I can identify the robber who did the shooting and cursing. I got a good look at him. The smaller robber, who guarded the rear end of the express car, seemed experienced. The express messenger had no chance to defend himself.
It is estimated that the amount of booty secured by the robbers will reach $100,000.

WAS INDICTED IN NEW YORK

Jerome Springs Surprise—Thaw Counsel Not Prepared for Announcement That Client Had Been Indicted in Dutchess County.

Concord, N. H.—That the Dutchess County grand jury returned a secret indictment charging Harry K. Thaw with conspiracy in connection with his escape from Matteawan Asylum was the statement of William Travers Jerome, deputy attorney-general for New York state, when he opened his argument at the extradition hearing before Gov. Feltner. The announcement "greatly surprised Thaw and his legal staff, who up to that time had believed that the grand jury had adjourned without returning an indictment, and had based their arguments at the morning session on that belief."

In making his announcement Jerome said that he is endeavoring to secure an indictment against the man who conceived the plan for Thaw's escape, and for this reason had asked that the indictment against Thaw be kept secret as long as possible.

After hearing the arguments of counsel for both sides, Gov. Feltner reserved judgment and announced that he would not make public his decision until Monday at the latest.

DISAGREE ON FUTURES BILL

PORT WILL BE TAKEN TO FLOOR OF BOTH HOUSES.

Contracts for Delivery to Specify Government Grades and Difference to Be Paid at Regular Market Price.

Washington.—The tariff bill conference came to a final disagreement over the proposed tax on traps in cotton futures. It was found impossible to agree either on the Clarke amendment adopted by the senate or the compromise known as the Smith-Lever-Burleson plan. After a conference at the White House, participated in by President Wilson, Secretary Taft and Representative Simmons, a deadlock and a long debate in the conference, it was decided to report a disagreement to both houses of congress.

The conference report on the rest of the tariff bill will be completely harmonious when the measure gets back to the senate and house. It will be accompanied by a report that no agreement could be reached on the so-called Clarke amendment, imposing a tax of 50 cents per bale on cotton sold for future delivery but not delivered.

It was predicted that a strong movement in behalf of the compromise plan that has received general endorsement from southern senators and representatives would be started as soon as the disagreement is reported.

The compromise would compel all contracts for future cotton delivery to specify government grades and would compel deliveries of cotton to be at that grade or close to it, the difference to be settled at the prevailing commercial price.

The plan, modeled on the bill of Senator Smith of South Carolina and perfected by Postmaster-General Burleson, Representative Lever, Senator Hoke Smith and others, has the strong support of several of the house conferees.

"The senate conferees could not consider any modification of the Clarke amendment," said Senator Simmons. "The senate had not only adopted it, but had reaffirmed its support of the provision when it was referred back to caucus."

As a result of the conference with President Wilson, the committee also settled finally today the foreign policies involved in the tariff bill.

The World's Best By Test.

Just a minute to tell you that we wish to call your attention to the advertising of DR. DORAN'S FINE OLD WELL TRIED REM-EDIES in another part of this paper. Also the Doran Drug Co.
General Agent, Mrs. R. A. Howard, at Lynn Grove, postoffice address Farmington, Ky., Rfd. 1
Box No. 43.

We were at first surprised to learn how fast he has gained prestige with his remedies till we have now learned it is no dream or damnable old Indian story or faked cowboy, but simply a home raised boy being as he is sober and earnest in his efforts and keeping his best eye on purity of purpose and making the very best of everything not even allowing any cheap or in any way inferior constituents to come into the make up of his remedies at any time, and having also the experience of two generations as his father old Dr. Wm. B. Doran
M. D. began the practice of medicine in 1877 as a Botanic physician and surgeon. And out of the very wild woods of some of the greatest forests in those days, he procured his own buds, flowers, gums, herbs, roots,
barks, seeds, leaves and berries,
then with his teas and pills (home made) and other things effecting much relief and many wonderful cures from this very beginning in their work. Later he made a line of his own remedies which he also improved from time to time. In the year 1890 he transferred to his son Ulysses Doran, many of his favorite prescriptions together with the exclusive right to manufacture and improve upon them, which he has done with the greatest care and work, and now are being made in the strictest accordance, conformatory to the very latest rules in chemistry and pharmacy as well and have all rights reserved.

We also have twelve Registered Remedies medical and toilet preparations, with the proper authorities both in the State and

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines

If you wish to contribute directly to the occurrence of capi-tary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia, and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative.

What has been accomplished by the air men in ten years may be gathered from this summary:
Dec. 17, 1903, Wilbur Wright made the first man-flight in history. He toiled a heavier-than-air machine 852 feet. A little more than four years ago, on July 25, 1909, Louis Bleriot drove his monoplane across the English Channel, thirty two miles in all, less than twenty miles over water. Roland Garros yesterday traveled from St.
Raphael, near Frejus, France, to Bizerta, Tunis, 558 miles.

All you who have torpid liver, weak digestion or constipated

Would Bar The Bible From
The United States Mails.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Declaring that the Bible should be excluded from the mails on the ground that it contains obscene and immoral matter, a certain body of American citizens has sent in a petition to Postmaster-General Burleson urging him to take the action they desire.

Some of the department officials today pointed to the fact that the denial of the mail privileges to alleged objectionable books, pictures and other publications frequently has been the means of securing a great amount of free advertising and enormous sales for the government barred matter.

They laughingly refused to commit themselves when asked whether they thought it would help increase the sale of the Bible if its passage through the mails were denied.

Hopes for Lower Beef.

Washington, Oct. 3.—A message of hope for the reduction of the price of beef to less than one-half of what it costs today, which would be a big help in solving the cost of living problem, has been brought to the American people by Augusto L. Leguia, former president of Peru, who is now in this city. He made the declaration that with the opening of the Panama Canal and a reduction of 4,000 miles in commercial distance between the United States and Peru, beef could be delivered in New York for ten cents a pound from his country.

New Railroad.

Dover, Tenn., Sept. 27.—Judge J. M. Ragon, of Hastings, Neb., was here this week for the purpose of getting the people interested in the construction of a new railroad line. Judge Ragon is representing northern capitalists and proposes to build a railroad from Hopkinsville, Ky., to Paris, Tenn., crossing the Cumberland river at this place and the Tennessee river at the mouth of the Sandy. Judge Ragon was suddenly called home yesterday and did not get to talk his new railroad very much, but stated that he would return in a few days and bring his grip with him, and build the road before he left.

This road, if built, would traverse a part of Christian county, Kentucky, that is, without railroad facilities and would come through the middle of Stewart county and would furnish a means of transportation for the inexhaustible supply of iron ore in this county, the proposed line passing through a section of this county where the best ore banks in the county are located.

The father was given a trial before Judge Patterson Monday and fined $50 and costs.

Benton Stores to Close.

The Marshall county executive committee of the Paducah-Benton-Murray gravel road project has appointed a number of prominent farmers and business men of Benton and Marshall county to act in the capacity of superintendents on October 8 and 9 when the re-building of the road will occur. The superintendents were selected from residents residing along the road to the Marshall county line.

Merchants of Benton have entered into an agreement whereby all of them will close down on the two "working" days. Their stores will not be opened on either October 8 or 9. Enthusiasm in Benton and Marshall county is at its highest ebb and practically everyone is interested in the scheme.

MASTIC PAINT

A Lesson in Real Economy

Take two houses—both alike—Spend about $50 to MASTIC-PAINT one—Let the other go unpainted—

Offer them both for sale—You'll wonder why the unpainted house finds no buyer at even $500 less than the MASTIC-PAINTED house will bring.

At the beginning both houses represented equal value.

The Lesson: A few gallons of MASTIC PAINT properly applied at the right time greatly increases the value of your property.

Your building needs painting Right Now, but don't use keg-lead or hand-mixed paints. It may be cheaper at the start, but is costly and unsatisfactory in the end.

PET 'GATOR GOES OUT FOR A LARK

Reptile's Owner Says "Allie" Never Bites Anyone.

NEVER HAD A CHANCE

But Women Run, and Strong Men Shudder and Flee at Sight of Mrs. Hogan's "Baby"—Also Made Teetotalers of Two Men.

New Orleans, La.—Alligators make lovely pets. Mrs. J. J. Hogan, 5809 Quinby avenue, says so. And she has kept one around the house for 12 years.

His name is "Allie," and he is a mere child, as alligators go. But already he is about five feet long, and his teeth are very business-like.

"But Allie never bites anyone," explains Mrs. Hogan. "We've never given him a chance."

Allie lives in a little concrete tank in the Hogan's back yard. If there are no strangers about, he will climb out of the tank and waddle around the yard. But when a stranger invades his domain, Allie scuttles to the tank and vanishes beneath the murky water.

"He is afraid of strangers," says Mrs. Hogan. "He's only 12 years old, a little timid as yet."

No matter how timid Allie may be, a sight of those teeth is enough to make the average person unwilling to frighten him.

It is so much easier for Allie to frighten the stranger.

About a month ago Allie climbed over the back fence and began to tour the neighborhood. After seeing several children into spasms and making teetotalers of two men, he slid down the cellar steps of a home near by.

Early the next morning a cook came down into the cellar, singing under her breath. She was in search of some potatoes for breakfast. Once she was inside the cellar, however, she lost all thought of vegetables. Her mind was fully occupied with the animal kingdom.

Just as the entire neighborhood was thoroughly awakened by her cries, the owner of the house came down stairs with the family shotgun. He looked once at the alligator, and broke into laughter.

"Why, that's nothing to be afraid of," he said. "That's nothing but Mrs. Hogan's old alligator. He won't hurt you."

At this juncture the perfectly harmless alligator waddled a few steps toward the householder. He yawned carelessly, and described a lightning half-circle with his tail.

Lost All Thought of Vegetables.

The householder sought the outer air immediately, without stopping to inquire into the disposition of the animal with the teeth. He entered the kitchen two jumps ahead of the hired cook.

A few minutes later Mrs. Hogan's two sons, Charles and Homer, had arrived in response to a hurried telephone call. Allie was taken home and put back in his tank.

"Oh, yes, alligators make lovely pets, once you get used to them," says Mrs. Hogan. "But there are lots of persons who can never get used to them."

The householder and the cook are inclined to agree with the last part of Mrs. Hogan's statement.

How to Enjoy a Real Vacation

By JOHN D. ADAMS

tomed, yawl-rigged boat appropriately christened "The Bummer." She had every defect known to navigators, professional or amateur, and we were treated to a variety of experiences in every twenty-four hours which it would be hard to duplicate in six months of ordinary cruising.

Fortunately we were young and inexperienced in the ways of boats, and still more fortunately for the members of our families, who on the whole liked us, the sails of the Bummer were three sizes too small for her hull. Thus it happened that she was able to treat us to an unexampled program of minor mishaps without capsizing and this, in fact, she never did. The Bummer finally ran aground in the dark and on a falling tide and my last view of her was by the light of a common or barn lantern as she perched ridiculously high and dry on the summit of a rock while we escaped in the tender.

We cut loose from every care when we shipped our anchor and might have been sailing the South Seas, so remote were thoughts of work and of the nearby city.

That is the great point about a vacation, whether it is long or short; whether it consists in motoring across the continent or sitting on the end of a wharf waiting for a nibble. You positively must forget that there is a past or a future and live in the present. If you can't loaf—and some otherwise sane persons can't—don't carry your daily task into your vacation. Ignore it. Work like a slave if you must, but forget that you ever had to earn a living.

Everybody has to take his vacation with him when he goes to the country or the seashore. You can't buy insurance of a good time as you buy accident insurance with your railway ticket, nor can you purchase a vacation ready-made no matter how much money you have.

Neither do gimcracks count. A cheerful spirit is worth more than a complete sportsman's outfit and many bottles of rum. Just break away.

And, since a vacation is chiefly a state of mind, it isn't necessary to go anywhere. I have known men who obtained all the respite from workaday cares their bodies and souls required by cultivating a garden patch. The backyard in bloom, with a few tomato plants and early beans on the side, is a solace from pretty nearly every trouble except carache, and a window box will do very well if neighbors and cats discourage more ambitious stirring of the soil.

However, none of us is impervious to his surroundings, and a change of scene is a great help to a vacation. For those of us who ride home from work on the running board of an electric car the best possible way to shift the scene is to escape the crowd, even if you have to go to bed to do it. Go to the ball game, by all means, but don't imagine after eleven exciting innings that you have had an outing. If you have taken the thirty-third degree in wisdom you won't read the newspapers while you are on a vacation and you will be surprised on your return to find what a number of interesting happenings you have missed. You will then realize, after you get back, that you have been away.

You are a happy man if you have inherited a strain of gypsy blood and with it a genius for loafing. Yours is the real vacation. The world is open to you. With a rucksack on your shoulders, alone or with companions of like mind, you can trudge beyond the smell of gasoline, and the direction doesn't matter, for the destination is always pure satisfaction.

A thousand delights will stir your imagination and sweeten your temper, and when the time arrives that you must take up your daily drudgery again it will not seem quite so drudgery, for you will look forward to another perfect vacation, only eleven months and fourteen days off.

How Moisture Is Retained in Soil

By M. C. SEWELL, Agronomist

forces which are scientifically known as cohesion and adhesion, and the effects of which are very difficult to break. If we think of the soil as made up of layer upon layer of these little particles, surrounded by water, we can readily see that as the sun's rays shine down on the earth's crust the upper film of water will gradually evaporate.

As it evaporates it has the tendency to replenish its quantity from the layer immediately beneath or adjacent to it, and thus keep a layer of water-saturated particles on the surface.

If this was allowed to continue it would not be long before the earth would lose its moisture content, and plants would then be unable to live. Here is where our tilling operations are brought into use. By breaking up the top layers of the soil the connection is broken between the upper and lower layers, so that the water from one of the under particles cannot be passed to encircle the particle above it. In this way the dust mulch, continually stirred, keeps the water below the stirred layers and furnishes plants with the moisture they need. The contact between the particles is not restored until the area is visited by a substantial rainfall, which saturates the upper layers and renews the original processes of passing the water from particle to particle.

Great Economic Waste in American Plan

By R. G. WEATHERBY

Opinions differ as to the advisability of retaining in the service men whose years may have begun to put telltale signs on their features and general appearance. It may be said, however, that many employers in these days are thinking twice before they sacrifice the experience and intelligence of the long-time employee in exchange for the less well directed vigor of younger men. A trade publication presents an illuminating example with pertinent comments.

"One phase of the efficiency of a conservative policy that now is getting serious attention is that of conserving the skill and experience of employees," it says. "A remarkable example of this form of efficiency is to be seen in the leather factories of Cornelius Heyl, in Worms, Germany. Of 4,922 workers and officials in the Heyl factory 1,880 have been in the employ of the firm ten years or more, 892 in employ twenty-five years or more, 123 for forty years or more, and 21 for fifty years or more. More than one-third of the employees have been with the firm more than ten years and more than one-sixth for a quarter of a century or more."

"An American expert brought face to face with these figures for the first time would be apt to exclaim that if he were running the Heyl establishment he would throw out the dead wood and get in a lot of bright young men. This would be natural. It is a common American policy to discharge men in the middle years of life and to employ young men who are just starting, but there is a great economic waste in this American method."

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Adv.

Big Sleep.
A middle-aged couple were preparing to leave for a week-end with a daughter in the city, and their last instructions to their grown-up son, who was a heavy sleeper, were to be sure and wind his alarm clock, so that he would be in time for his work the next morning.

Monday noon they got back to the house and were surprised to find the blinds closed exactly as they had been left the Friday previous on their departure. As they let themselves into the house they heard their son's voice coming sleepily from his bedroom. "What's the matter? Did you miss your train?"

DIZZY, HEADACHY, SICK, "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

first recognized in modern times by Prof. Maedler, of Germany. What a depth of meaning, therefore, is conveyed in the words of Job, the ancient seer and philosopher, who lived about four thousand years ago, when he asks, "Canst thou bind the sweet influences of Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?" (Job 38:31). Divine inspiration must indeed have moved the prophet to express so concisely that which has required more than forty centuries of study for mankind to learn. The Wandering Jew.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Murray Citizens.

When a Murray citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Murray resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

W. R. Broach, ex-county assessor, Murray, Ky., says: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills once in a while and find that they do me a great deal of good. I have had attacks of kidney trouble occasionally and have always taken Doan's Kidney Pills. They have never failed to help me. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any one suffering from kidney trouble. Others have also told me what great good they have had from this remedy."

A Modern Miracle.

The Literary Digest says: "A newspaper editor who started twenty years ago with forty-five cents has, by living frugally and practicing rigid economy, managed to save $100,000, partly due to the fact that an uncle died and left him $99,999." What we want to know is how he managed to save the remaining fifty-five cents. It is passing strange. Birmingham Age-Herald.

Debs Defends Action Which Caused Talk.

Eugene V. Debs has issued the following statement regarding his action in opening his home as a shelter to a fallen woman seeking to reform:

"Every scarlet woman in the daylight is a living certificate of the Christian church's denial of Jesus Christ. He did not scorn and banish the erring sister. He loved and pitied her, gave her new life and new hope and rebuked without mercy the pious, heartless hypocrite guilty of her persecution."

"Jesus at the home of Simon, the Pharisee, where the sinful woman followed Him, turned in contempt from His church attending hosts to pour out His heart in compassion to the unwelcome intruder."

"No man who refuses to open his home and his heart to an unfortunate and persecuted woman is a follower of Jesus Christ. He may cry 'Lord, Lord,' but he is a hypocrite."

"The red light district is a direct challenge to the Christian church."

"The church of today is no less full of hypocrisy and false pretense. It does not rebuke rich hypocrites and pour out its love to poor sinners as Christ did, whom it falsely professes to follow."

"The sinful woman is, as a rule, not a wicked woman, but a sick and suffering woman. Instead of being persecuted, maltreated, preyed upon and driven to destruction, she needs care and kindness, sympathy and love, and that is what Christ gave her in the fullest measure and what the church cruelly denies her as it did in His day."

"As to our home, its door is open to the most sinful woman that was ever cast off by the Pharisees, who denied her while Obituary.

Jackie Hopkins was born Oct. 31, 1876, and died July 29, 1913. He was married to Miss Lizzie Graham January 13, 1901, two children blessed this union, a girl and a boy, who with the mother are left to mourn their loss which is his eternal gain.

He was a good christian man and those who knew him best are the ones who speak most highly of him.

The moral and spiritual elements of his character were the most observable, because most prominent of his many good qualities. His thoughts were pure and his words chaste; his piety was deep, but not obtrusive. In all the relations of life as husband, father, neighbor and friend, he was courteous and kind loving and true. For some months he was declining health. But at no time did he murmur or complain at his lot, but gave those about him to understand that to him death was but a going home where suffering would be at an end. The writer held the funeral at Coles Camp Ground in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, and we laid his body to rest in the old cemetery near by to await the resurrection.

To the wife and two children, Mary Francis and Noble, we would say weep not as those who have no hope.

My prayer is that this young man, with wife, children, mother and father may be reunited in the heavenly home.

J. M. Pool.
