H. M. Pewitt Resigns Post As ACA Head

Race For State Representative Given As Cause

HAD LONG SERVICE

H. M. Pewitt, who has been chairman of the local Agricultural Conservation Association since September, 1940, vice-chairman from 1937 to 1940, and community committeeman on the old AAA wheat program from 1933 to 1936, sent his resignation to the state office on July 17 to take effect immediately. Mr. Pewitt said, "having been drafted to run for Representative to represent both Fulton and Hickman counties makes it imperative that I do this."

He also stated that during these years of serving the farmers in the above capacity, no one has enjoyed the service more than he did. He gave his untiring effort generously to the work and always fought for the principles that meant so much to a successful farm program. No one can say "Harvey" ever shirked his duties when it came to performing unpleasant tasks.

A. G. McGeehe, secretary to the county committee since the farm program began functioning says, "Even though there's consolation to know the 'Harvey' will still represent us as well as the Hickman county farmers in the Legislature, this office and the Fulton county farmers are going to miss him, for his wide experience in administering a program that was needed so badly has meant much to the success that agriculture is now enjoying in this county."

W. H. Harrison, better known as "Bill," who was vice-chairman, now becomes chairman, O. L. Sutton, who was regular member, automatically becomes vice-chairman, and S. A. Jones, near Cayce, who was first alternate, becomes regular member. E. W. Yates, who was second alternate, now becomes first alternate.

Many friends hope Mr. Pewitt will be just as successful in his new role as he was in his past one.

Modern Theatre To Replace Ritz

Hickman—Within the next few months Hickman is to have a new theatre larger than the Ritz, which burned recently, according to W. J. Morrison, local manager for the Ruffin Amusement Co.

The new structure will be built on the site of the Price House, which the company has purchased and which will be moved from the lot as soon as a satisfactory bid has been received.

Mother Truman Recovers From Setback—Graham

Grandview, Mo., July 19—(AP)—Mrs. Martha E. Truman, the President's mother, is recovering from a setback she suffered last week. Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, the President's physician, reported after completing a three-day examination of her condition.

Kent Williams, Fulton Tenor, Tells Of Career Before MOAT

(Reprinted From Memphis Commercial-Appeal.)

It isn't often that both leading roles of a Memphis Open Air Theatre production are played by Mid-Southerners. But this week's show, "Robin Hood," which stars a long-time MOAT favorite and a newcomer, is the exception to that rule.

The newcomer is Kent Williams of Fulton, Ky., who plays the title role opposite Miss Frances Watkins, the Maid Marian from Dyersburg, Tenn.

Sports or Music
And MOAT fans who have been pleased by Mr. Williams' tenor voice will have a chance to know it better before the season closes, since Mr. Williams is making his Memphis debut with leading male roles in three productions this summer—Robin Hood, Lieut. Allen Clark in "The Deck," next week and Capt. Richard Warrington in "Naughty Marietta," which opens Aug. 4.

And three MOAT leads in the season is unusual, even for an oldtimer.

Mr. Williams comes to Memphis after a versatile career, which began when a small boy had to make a momentous decision between baseball and music.

His friends around Fulton still remember him best as a concert pianist—the same lad who won the Kentucky State High School Piano Contest some years back.

"But piano wasn't all I wanted," Mr. Williams explained yesterday. "I was just as interested in dramatics as I was in music."

Had to Give Up Piano
After finishing high school in Fulton, Mr. Williams studied for two years in the Chicago Conservatory of Music—piano, for the most part.

"I finally had to give up the piano—professionally, at least," he said. "I more or less got in the way of my ambitions to go on the stage."

For six months on Broadway. Then the show hit the road for 13 months, playing for the benefit of Army relief.

"We were scheduled to come to Memphis," he said, "but the show broke up before we got here."

After his discharge in December, 1945, Mr. Williams joined the Southern Opera Company in New York, where "my best shows" were "Abduction from the Harem" and "Faust."

He also did some work in radio and television. The latter caught his serious attention.

"It's really interesting, something to look for in the not-too-distant future," he said. "Like the stage, it combines your music with dramatics."

After he completes his MOAT contract this summer, he will go to Duke University for a concert, and then plans to do a series of operettas in England.

But in between, he also wants to have a long visit with his mother, Mrs. Barbara Pewitt-Williams in Fulton.

Hopes To Return Here
In the future, he hopes to return to Memphis.

"It's a genuine pleasure to play in the MOAT," he said, "and surprising how well the productions here are handled in every department. I've never seen anything like it."

"I'm also impressed by the interest taken by the Memphis people and the support they give the theatre. Summer seasons of this sort are doing much to promote American opera, sung in English. Naturally, I like to see that."

When Mr. Williams isn't singing, his chief hobbies are his farm near Fulton, where he plans to develop a big orchard some day, and sports. He is still an enthusiastic baseball fan and religiously follows Fulton's race for the Kitty League pennant.

His next favorite sport is possum hunting.

"Guess that really proves I'm a Southerner," he said with a grin.

Mrs. Betts Dies In Greenfield

Leaves Two Nieces Here Services This Afternoon

Mrs. Laura Betts died at her home in Greenfield, Tenn., at 8 o'clock last night.

She is survived by her husband, Jess Betts, one son, Allen Betts, a daughter, Mrs. Eva Thorpe, all of Greenfield; one brother, Walter Harrington, of McConnell, Tenn.; two sisters of Greenfield, Mrs. Andrew Baker and Miss Fannie Sedberry, several grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews. She was an aunt of Mrs. D. L. French and Mrs. Bessie McClannahan of this city.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at her home in Greenfield. Interment was at Brooks Cemetery.

UMT Moves A Step Nearer

House Group Approves Measure Similar To Plan Requested By President

Washington, July 19—(AP)—A House Armed Services subcommittee today approved a universal military training bill following closely the plan advocated by President Truman's special commission.

The committee is headed by Rep. Towse (R-N.J.). Its action is subject to review by the full Armed Services committee at a meeting next Tuesday.

Subcommittee members reported the vote as seven for the bill, one against it, one not voting and one absent.

The full 33-member committee reportedly is top-heavy in favor of the bill, although House Republican leaders said it will not be acted on by this session of Congress.

The bill approved by the subcommittee calls for six months of basic training for qualified male youths between their 18th and 20th birthdays, followed by six months of membership in an ROTC, National Guard, or other reserve component.

A youth would be allowed to have his induction deferred until he becomes 20 or completes his high school education.

The bill provides for dependency allowances of $50 monthly for one dependent and $65 for two or more.

The training program would be administered by a three-member commission appointed by the President.

Joe Brown, Family Are On Vacation

Joe Brown, popular manager of the Malco theatres in Fulton, will begin his summer vacation tomorrow, Sunday, July 20.

Accompanied by Mrs. Brown and their little daughter, Nancy Jo, the Browns will visit Mobile, Ala., New Orleans, La., and points in Texas. While in Texas they will visit relatives in Galveston.

During Brown's absence for two weeks, David Wigginton of Memphis will serve as relief manager.

Old 'Chain Gang' Could Prevent Georgia Prison Riot, Jury Says

Brunswick, Ga., July 19—(AP)—A county grand jury has blamed abolition of Georgia's ill-famed chain gang for the mass escape attempt last week in which eight negro convicts were slain by officers' pistol and shotgun fire.

In a special 900-word presentment yesterday, the jury contended the violence would have been avoided if the prisoners had been wearing chains and stripes.

The report absolved Warden H. G. Worthy and five guards for blasting away at the negroes sought to flee the 12-foot barbed wire prison stockade in southeast Georgia after a day of disorders.

"Georgia chain gangs, made famous by Robert Elliot Burns in his book and movie, 'I Am A Fugitive From A Georgia Chain Gang,' were outlawed after a storm of national criticism resulted in a penal reform movement under the administrations of former Governors E. D. Rivers and Ellis Arnall.

During the same period, several deaths in seven-by-seven foot 'sweat boxes' led to abandonment of that punishment.

The 23-member Glynn county grand jury late yesterday concluded a three-day investigation into the renewal of prison violence in the state.

The jury emphasized that Georgia prison guards are authorized by law to employ gunfire if necessary to prevent escapes and to take such steps as are necessary to maintain order.

It found the warden and guards were justified in opening fire "under the circumstances."

Inmates of the all-negro camp were labelled as "murderers, burglars, and rapists, the most unruly and undisciplined in the state."

Truman Signs Islands Bill

Gives U. S. Control Over Marshall, Caroline And Marianas In Pacific

Washington, July 19—(AP)—The White House announced today that President Truman has signed the agreement for United States administration of former Japanese islands in the Pacific.

Admiral Louis E. Denfeld was appointed temporary administrator of the trust territory.

Denfeld is commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet. He will serve as United States high commissioner of the territory pending its transfer for permanent administration by the civilian agency of the government.

The trusteeship agreement was approved in April by the United Nations Security Council and Congress then gave its sanction.

The islands—the Marshalls, Carolines, and Marianas—were captured by United States forces from the Japanese in the last war. They were German islands and were mandated to Japan after the first World War.

Fulton Lady's Mother Dies

Services At Chapel Hill For Mrs. F. D. Henderson

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Dora Henderson, 81, were held at 3:30 yesterday afternoon at Chapel Hill church by the Rev. Lonnie Parker, Highlands. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Henderson was the mother of Mrs. Willie Dedmon, Fulton. She died at her home at Harris Station at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon following a long illness. She was born in Calhoun county July 19, 1866, the daughter of Jack and Jane Neal Gordon.

Mrs. Henderson spent most of her life in Obion county. She was a member of the Methodist church at Harris.

In addition to Mrs. Dedmon, she had three other daughters, Mrs. Ellen Collins of Harris, Mrs. Martha Sedberry of Sharon and Mrs. Floyd Hastings of Detroit; two sons, Sam and Malcolm Henderson of Harris; two sisters, Mrs. Betty Darnell of Murray and Mrs. Ellen Norworthy of Paducah; four brothers, W. B. and Oscar Gordon of Paducah, Jack Gordon of Murray and Joe Gordon of Denver, Colo. She also leaves 22 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

US 31W Will Be Closed For Repairs In Simpson

Frankfort, Ky., July 19—(AP)—The Highway Department said today US-31W will be closed at Franklin in Simpson county for about three months, starting Monday. A detour over KY-383, for vehicles less than 15 tons gross, may be used during the construction work on US-31W, the Department said.

"Let Voters Decide On Taxes" Is Sentiment Of Both Parties After Senators Uphold Veto

Foreign Policy Fund Approval Due Partly To European Crisis

Washington, July 19—(AP)—Spurred by alarm over strife in Greece and a widening split between Russia and the western powers, the House shoved along to the Senate today a $1,603,199,094 appropriations measure carrying $1,353,024,900 to finance this nation's foreign policy.

House passage came last night by voice vote in just an hour's time—perhaps a peacetime record for a measure of its magnitude and international implications—amid cries for halting all aid to countries under Russian domination.

Assurance that such ban is intended came from Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations committee, speaking against the background of testimony—some secret, some public—from high ranking army and diplomatic chiefs.

He told the House that aid will be denied to countries ideologically and economically associated with the Soviet Union "unless they turn over a new leaf and show that they are willing to cooperate with nations which believe in freedom."

The foreign funds included the full $400,000,000 previously authorized to bolster Greece and Turkey against Communism; $332,000,000 for foreign relief; $550,000,000 to pay the costs of the Army's relief-government occupation program in Germany, Korea and Japan; and $71,024,000 for the United States share in the international refugees organization.

Consideration of the omnibus aid measure came in the midst of several developments bearing directly on the administration's present foreign policy program and upon future diplomatic moves in which Congress will have a powerful voice.

1. A decision by House Judiciary subcommittee to pigeonhole until next year a measure which would authorize immigration of 400,000 European war refugees over a four year period. Instead, House and Senate committees will study the problem this fall.

2. Approval by the House Rules committee of two Congressional inquiries into long range American foreign policy and its impact upon the nation's economy—one by a special 19-member committee, the other by the standing committee on foreign affairs.

3. An assertion by Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) of the House Foreign Affairs committee that "we are in sight of a shooting war at this minute" in Greece.

Police Radio Service Grows

52 Highway Patrol Cars, Seven Cities, Counties Use Eight-Station System

Frankfort, Ky., July 19—(AP)—Fifty-two state Highway Patrol cars and the police cruisers of seven cities and counties are hooked up with the state's new eight-station communication system.

The station at Elizabethtown, Mayfield, Morehead and Madisonville.

Frankfort police have installed two-way radio equipment and are using the patrol's facilities now in operation, the Highway Department said today, along with stations at Frankfort, Bowling Green, London, Hazard, Lites, The Laurel county sheriff is using the state radio system and the Henderson city police have established contact with the patrol tower at Madisonville, the announcement said. It did not list other local forces using the network.

Col. Hayward Gilliam, patrol director, invited other local police to take advantage of the communication system.

He said a drunken driver side-swiped a school bus 20 miles from Frankfort and was arrested and in jail within 12 minutes after the radio call went out.

All towers are in contact with Frankfort, J. C. Fisher, superintendent of communications, said. Except for 50-watt stations at Mayfield and Bowling Green, all stations are 250-watters, he said.

Murray, Ky.—J. C. Lawson, Hickman, is a nominee for class representative of the Murray College Alumni Association. He was graduated from Murray College in 1939.

Ballots have been mailed to members of the association by Mrs. George Hart, secretary.

Dr. Hal Houston, Murray surgeon, is president of the alumni. Guy Billington, Murray businessman, is vice-president.

GOP Five Votes Short Of Margin To Make Bill Law

BILL DEAD FOR YEAR

Washington, July 19—(AP)—Failure of the Senate to override President Truman's veto of the GOP tax-cutting bill, cost the issue into the 1948 political campaign today. Both sides expressed willingness to let the voters decide who was right.

Prospects for tax reductions at this session of Congress died last night when backers of the bill marshaled only 57 Senate votes against 36 supporters of the President—five short of the necessary two-thirds majority.

Earlier the House had voted to override with 27 votes to spare, 299 to 198.

"I'm not unhappy," Senator Millikin (R-Colo.), floor manager for the bill, told reporters. "There are 49,000,000 taxpayers who would have had some relief except for two vetoes by a Democratic president and administration."

Relief Must Wait
House majority leader Halleck said tax relief apparently must wait "until the country elects a Republican president next year who will cooperate with a Republican Congress."

Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the House Democratic leader, already had accepted the challenge. "If the Republicans want to throw this kind of tax bill into the campaign," he said, "we'll welcome the issue."

Although the Senate failure to override the veto was overshadowed by its 60 to 32 vote on passage last week—which also was less than the necessary two-thirds—the actual test was a lively political show.

Galleries were packed as the bill reached the Senate and House members crowded in the back of the chamber.

Millikin, bald and deep-voiced, made a point-by-point reply to the Presidential veto which termed the tax cut the "wrong kind" at the "wrong time," "unsound and unsafe," and "premature and faulty."

Senator Taylor (D-Idaho) pointed out that the President had promised lower taxes at the "proper time."

"The people can't cut proper time," Millikin shot back.

Barkley Gives Warning
Democratic leader Barkley of Kentucky warned of a possible "blow up in Europe" and said it would be wise to have some surplus funds available. He declared the second Republican move to cut taxes was just an attempt "to make political hay."

Then Senator Tydings (D-Md.), who had voted for the bill when the Senate passed it Monday, rose to announce that he would support the veto.

He said that small nations near Soviet Russia are "under fear and direction of Moscow" and that he favored keeping a "gun behind the door" in the form of some extra cash in the treasury.

Genius At Work

The search for new methods of producing newsprint is an excellent example of American inventive genius at work. Everyone is familiar with the newsprint crisis that has plagued publishers for several years. With the demand for newsprint at an all-time high, production is below normal and drastic box-car shortages delay movement of paper from Canadian and other mills. But, in the last few weeks, the Newsprint Corporation of Delaware has been formed to make paper out of old newspapers, de-linked and re-processed. A Mexican factory hopes to make paper from bamboo and banana stalks. New varieties of wood have been tried as newsprint sources, and manufacturers are experimenting with wheat and rye straw.

It's a safe bet that some day in the not too distant future there will be more newsprint at lower prices—the result of American imagination and efficiency. In the meantime, publishers will have to make out as best they can with what they can obtain.

Indifference

A state-wide opinion poll, results of which were announced this week, showed that 45 per cent of Kentucky's voters have not made up their minds on how they will vote on the calling of a convention to revise or amend their state constitution.

Forty per cent of those questioned said they had neither read nor listened to a discussion of the need for a revision of the state constitution.

At first glance this latter statement might seem to be an indictment of the state's press and radio stations for failure to present the pros and cons of the subject to the public. But the files of any newspaper in the state would reveal that considerable publicity has been given the question, both in the news and editorial columns of newspapers and on the radio stations.

The inescapable conclusion is that the 40 per cent who have not heard of read anything have only themselves to blame.

Their votes have as much weight as the votes of people who have carefully studied the need for a convention and formed their opinions. Certainly there is no way to compel a voter to familiarize himself with such matters though they be of great concern to him and to everyone in the state. But there is a need for all voters—and not just Kentucky voters—to give more time and thought to how they should vote in every election, local, state and national. Blind allegiance to any person, faction or theory is hardly less dangerous to the democratic process of government than indifference.

Our Readers Say—

On August 2nd you are to select the Democratic nominee for governor. You are going to have some of our best citizens to tell you certain things about Harry Lee Waterfield to get you to vote for his opponent. These people are looking at this campaign for their own selfish interests.

You have never had a governor from the First District. And what have other governors done for you and the people of the First District? I wish you would compare the money spent on highways and other projects in the district. We have just gotten enough to keep up our hopes that some day we might get more. This is our chance to get something for Fulton and the First District.

I don't see how any one could vote against Harry Lee Waterfield for governor. He is a native son of the First District and has been your representative for the past ten years. He has made a good and honest record while serving you at Frankfort, and was popular enough with other representatives from all over the state to be elected speaker of the House. He has made you a good public servant and you can show your appreciation on August 2nd by casting your vote for him for governor.

Harry Lee Waterfield is the people's choice in this campaign. Get out August 2nd and get with the neighbor next door to go with you to the polls. Let's get out the biggest vote in Fulton we ever have and give Harry Lee Waterfield the biggest majority any governor has ever gotten in

Germans Rejoice

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Washington's new policy for economic rehabilitation of war-ravaged Germany is being welcomed by her leaders, who interpret it as a step toward readmitting the country to world economy and saving the German people from idleness.

And well they may rejoice. This is a wholly unexpected visitation of good fortune and one to which they are not entitled, for they have sinned greatly, and probably thought they had been sentenced to economic and political death. Many of them have been in a state of despair, and I use that word deliberately because it connotes utter hopelessness.

The springs of compassion become sluggish when the question of easement for Germany arises. If you should suggest that all Prussians be put in solitary confinement for life, thereby exterminating the race, I wouldn't raise a little finger in opposition, for I have seen Huns in operation at close range in two wars now. They're no good.

However, the rank and file of Germans, whose blood does not carry the Prussian poison, are needed for reconstruction of shattered Europe. So we can forget the question (well, maybe we can remember a bit) and say with simple sincerity that we are going to put Germany on her feet because that is for the good of the world as a whole.

The well-being of Germany is the well-being of Europe. Germany is the economic heart of the continent, a fact which isn't altered because the heart is badly damaged.

General Lucius D. Clay, American zone commander, told a news conference in Berlin yesterday that European recovery couldn't be attained without the revival of German industry. He added that he would be very interested in any proposals for American and British big business men to underwrite western Germany's industrial recovery. Why western Germany? Because eastern Germany is under control of the Russians who have refused to cooperate with their allies in economic rehabilitation.

A striking example of the Soviet attitude was furnished yesterday during a meeting of the allied control authority in Berlin. The Russians asked that German steel plants capable of producing 13,000,000 tons annually be allowed immediately for reparations. The United States and British representatives refused to discuss the matter, since they held that the demand could be met only by stripping the great industrial area of the hour. The Russians claim that the steel capacity in question is "excess."

A German view of the American program comes from Dr. Hans Ehard, minister-president of Bavaria, who says:

"If the Germans are given more liberty, if they can dispose of their own raw materials and if the dismantling of our factories is stopped, I am convinced that better food and economic conditions for Germany can be attained before winter."

That is an important forecast, in light of the continued deterioration of the general economic situation in Europe.

Fulton and Fulton County.

I know Mr. Waterfield is an honest candidate and will serve all the people of Kentucky to the best of his ability. My interest is in Fulton and its people. I am asking you to come out and vote August 2nd for Harry Lee Waterfield for governor. BILLY BLACKSTONE

What We Believe

By Charles L. Houser

"Marriage is honorable in all." (Heb. 13:4). Our Saviour sanctioned marriage, by accepting an invitation to attend one at Cana of Galilee, where He performed His first miracle (Jh. 2:1-11). That God intended for marriage to be perpetuated, is evidenced by the following statement, "I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully." (1 Tim. 5:14) But, on three classes of people are, in the sight of God, eligible for marriage: (1) The single who are of legal age or who have parents' consent, (2) those whose former companion is dead (Rom. 7:2,3), (3) those who obtained a divorce on the ground of adultery (Matt. 5:32 and 19:9). God does not recognize divorce, when it is granted for any other reason.

Two people are joined together in marriage, when ever they legally and scripturally have the right to marry and the ceremony is performed by one who is properly licensed, and who performs the ceremony in harmony with both civil and divine laws. It is so absurd that it becomes ridiculous, and it causes some sincere people to become disturbed unnecessarily, when the ministers of one church claim that they ALONE have the right and power to unite people in holy wedlock.

The marriage of the apostles was not forbidden in New Testament times; even Simon Peter had a wife and a mother-in-law (Matt. 8:14 and 1 Cor. 9:5). No one today possesses the power or maintains the office of an apostle, and there have been no further revelations from God to men, since the completion of the New Testament, therefore, God does not forbid the marriage of anyone—even preachers.

"Backward Glances" At Fulton

By Ouida Jewell

"Samantha, do you mean to say that those biscuits are 42 years old?"

"But, why keep some old hard biscuits all that many years?" "Well, you see, I have always been a person who likes to collect things and see how long I could keep them. I cooked them biscuits on Christmas Day 1903, on the Will Terry farm. That was my first Christmas in Kentucky. I was 16 then. I cooked for Mr. Will six years—it was my first job."

Samantha is, at present, the colored dishwasher at the Steak House. She just loves to talk to white folks. Everyone gets a kick out of Samantha. Everyone likes her.

Samantha probably has taken up more collections than anyone else in town. She asks for donations for her church, for flowers when well-known colored or white people in town die. But what people are most often asked to contribute to is a fund to buy Samantha a new pair of shoes.

After looking at her sloppy, holey old shoes, everyone gives with a smile, knowing that tomorrow she'll be shuffling along in the same beloved foot-wear. Samantha was born and reared at Cottage Grove, Tenn., in Henry county. When? Well, Samantha said she didn't know. But if I can count right, she must be 58, as she said she came to Fulton at the age of 16 in 1905—when those hard old biscuits were cooked.

In the past 42 years, Samantha has cooked for several of Fulton's prominent families, such as Mr. Terry, Mr. Fate Davis, and Mrs. Mattie Atkins. She also cooked for a number of years for Mr. John Elliott of Water Valley.

Her husband, Elie Denning, who farmed for Mr. Will Whitnell died July 17, 1934.

Samantha is a member of the Water Valley Methodist Church. As Samantha shuffled off to the kitchen, she yelled back, "Don't forget to tell the 'white folks' that I need a new pair of shoes."

Our next meeting will be at the church Wednesday afternoon, August 6. At that time the W. S. C. S. from Clinton will meet with us and render the regular program.

Uncle Jeff Inman, who resides with his nephew, John Inman and family, was carried to Fuller-Gilliam hospital in a serious condition, probably a brain hemorrhage. Late message, "no better."

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gatewood had as their guests Wednesday, Mrs. R. C. Luten and grandson and Mrs. Mary Lou Trevathan, daughter and son, Forrest Nylon of Hickman, Mrs. Hooper Bowden and two children of St. Louis, and Mrs. Newsom Ray and daughter of Louisville.

Danny Lee Byrd of E. St. Louis is here for a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee.

Gene Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Henderson, is taking his vacation in Detroit. He has been a student at Murray college and will re-enter there this fall.

Miss Dicie Jones has been suffering with a throat and head infection for the past week or more.
